Jewellery Crafts Developing Says Designer

"Human beings wore jewellery before they had clothes," said Miss Nancy Meek of Toronto Friday afternoon as she traced the "Romance of Jewellery," through the age, for an interested audience of Women's Art Association members attending the studio meeting in the YWCA. Miss Meek has been designing and making jewelery from silver, gold and precious stones for some years and says she never fails to find the craft fascinating. While in Paris she studied with a famous goldsmith and now she imparts her knowlege of the technique to others. Her pupils are often able to make wearable pieces after several hours' coaching, but they should never stop at that point for Bracelets were once a symbol of what can be done with metal.

Braceles were once a symbol of royalty, Miss Meek explained, and the diadem probably originated when primitive women stuck flowers in their hair, and the wreaths of laurel leaves that crowned the heads of victorious warriors were an outgrowth of this practice. Ear rings too have been an ornament for many eras when women discovered they gave them a more interesting appearance. The Greeks make the finest ear rings in the world, the speaker said. The only practical piece of jewellery is the brooch and it had its beginning when a thorn was thrust through a blanket to hold it about a naked body. Later a metal spike was used for the purpose.

Rings have been worn universally through the centuries, but they were first used as a marriage symbol in Rome. Medieval hoops of plain gold such as are used today were called "posy rings" and were delicately inscribed. In the 18th century designs got more elaborate and a favorite marriage band used an Egyptian scarab with names and initials stamped on the back. From this practice the signet ring has come.

The study of gems is very interesting, especially concerning the stones which were believed to have magic powers. Processes used in cutting and setting are much the same now as in the olden days. However, the artist has not expressed himself in jewellery until the past few years when craftsmen have begun working with the precious metals and stones. Tourists are constantly asking for Canadian crafts, the speaker said, but Ontario stores have only been interested in imports until recently when a definite trend to Canadian manufacture and design has developed.

"Metalcraft is proving invaluable in the treatment of mental illness and is becoming increasingly popular as a hobby. Copper is used mostly by beginners as it responds to the same treatment as silver, but is much cheaper." Miss Meeks displayed some pieces of her work and showed unmounted stones found near Bancroft and other places in Ontario which make handsome pieces of jewellery. One was a pretty green called Amazonite and the other a mottled blue called Sodalite. Another beautiful stone she showed is found only in Labrador and is appropriately named Labradorlite.

Mrs. H. A. Mitchell, vice president, introduced the speaker in the absence of the president. Miss Meek is a graduate of the Ontario College of Art, and operates a studio of her own. In private life she is Mrs. John Pocock.

Woman Bosses Ships' Stores

MONTREAL, Feb. 7 (CP). — The "right hand man" to the Canadian administrator of ships' stores for the Prices Board is Marion McKeown, the only woman ever to hold the job of assistant deputy administrator.

Her first position was secretary to D. R. Townsend, chief administrator for ships' stores. Then she was appointed office manager in charge of personnel and finally became Mr. Townsend's assistant in all the department's duties.

All seaport cities in Canada have branch offices of the ships' stores administration which work directly with ship captains and stewards.

"Our work is winding up now," she said in an interview. "We have been dealing with bulk purchasing of ships' supplies, the recovery of subsidies, price ceilings enforcements and investigations. One by one, with the removal of price control, these activities have stopped."

Checks and Stripes Feature London's Wool Exhibition

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 7 — (CP) — The variations in color, texture and weight of which wool is capable were demonstrated at the International Wool Secretariat's Exhibition.

The secretariat has developed new uses for wool and new processes such as moth-proofing and shrink-resisting. It has also devolved methods of modifying its affinity for waters and dyes.

Checks and stripes of every description including clan tartans and the personal tartans of Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret were feature of the exhibit.

The plaid check too was back in black and white, with many variations. Every description of check was used, and the conservative pencil-thin ones like the Scotch Glen Urquhart contrasted with gay colors combined in the looser woven tartan styles.

Stripes of every style were on dsiplay from the old boater stripe to the wide panel strips used in a new material called "crepe tweed." This can be made in light weights and in such combinations as grey with brown and black, grey and white and brown and white. The herringbone and diagonal are given new life with two colors making, respectively, a horizontal and diagonal stripe.

Peachskin Wool

One of the loveliest of the materials was the peachskin blue wool fabric worn in Princess Elizabeth's going-away outfit. This is well named as, to the touch, it feels exactly like the skin of a peach.

Heavy reversible overcoatings also included tartans, checks and stripes. Jaeger's latest show gave examples of attractively-designed tartan skirts, with the "new look" under coats lined with the same tartan. Checks were used in many other styles.

New light-weight wool fabrics using an alginate rayon thread or a nylon fabric have been produced to take the place of silk for evening dresses, dinner dresses and two-piece, and evening coats. These light fabrics can be draped and designed in all styles so successfully that from even a short distance it is difficult to tell them from silk.

A mist-blue wool lace in "Naughty Ninety" style with underskirt and piping silver lame for accentuation, had a scarf of the same lace.

20 Senior Nurses Win Red Cross First Aid Pins

Twenty senior student nurses who passed the Red Cross first aid examinations, were presented with certificates and pins by Mrs. Charles Ray, president of the local branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society, at a special ceremony marking the occasion in Civic Hospital on Thursday night.

Dr. R. Clark and Dr. Robert Bell of Peterborough, with Mr. Davy, Director of First Aid, and Mr. Batten, Field Suervisor of the Canadian Red Cross, were the examiners.

Miss Ethel Fenwick and Miss Mary Pickens, both graduate nurses, took the special Red Cross First Aid Course for instructors qualfiying them to teach trainees similar to the class of 20 nurses receiving awards at the same ceremony.

Miss A. L. Thomson, principal of the School of Nurses at Civic Hospital introduced the course for student nurses.

Graduates are: Willa Lobb, Mae Goodfellow, Elsie Crawford, Eula Rosenburg, Mary Crichton, Helen Wupori, Ruth Bushey, Jeanne Metcalfe, Elizabeth Watson, Kathleen Quirt, Muriel Buckerfield, Shirley Curtis, Iva Camelon, Lorna Mitchell, Kay Black, Constance Elliott, Miss Ethel Fenwick (science instructor), Miss Mary Pickens (nursing arts instructor), Alice Woldnik, Audrey Austin, Mabel Hockaday, Anna Hubel.

Sparkling Music, Comedy Highlight Normal 'At Home'

Students provided a highly entertaining evening for guests at the annual Normal School "At Home" given Friday evening in the school by members of the Literary Society. Miss Margaret Rutherford, soprano soloist, showed exceptional talent as she played the lead in a comic operetta entitled "The Maid and the Middy" with Lloyd Sills, sailor, and a fine supporting cast. Realistic stage settings, done by the art department, set the scene for the annual regatta of Lakeville Boat Club and, in the second act, for a gathering in the clubhouse. There was a mysterious "Anita" in the story that kept the audience guessing as to her identity and more than somewhat annoyed because she threatened the heroine's romance. Presence of Captain Dasher (Orville Reynolds) of HMCS "Normalite" and his sailors made the race particularly interesting to the village girls who crowded the dock.

Music throughout was sparkling, in keeping with the unusually gay humor of the dialogue. "Children of the Snow," a quartette of pretty maidens in furred bonnets, highlighted the program with song and dance, and Thelma Genge delighted everyone with the "Hornpipe Dance," adding the final nautical touch. Decorations gave the effect of a boat deck where blue and white streamers criss-crossed the hall hung with dark blue balloons and cardboard anchors and floats were around the rail.

Cast of the operetta also includes Christine Roberts, Margaret Garrison, Peggy Brown, Muriel Andrews, John Lewis, John Gordon, Russ Weir, John Carswell, Fraser Howes, Gerry Hubbard and Fred Allore. "Children of the Snow" were Madeleine Davidson, Peggy Real, Mildred Jackson and Ramona Douglas.

In the chorus, sopranos were: Ramona Douglas, Merla Braithwaite, Rita Sproule, Verna Meldrum, Peggy Real, Margaret Sargent, Margaret Watson, Madeleine Davidson, Thelma Genge; altos: Verna May Burnett, Eileen Hellstern, Mildred Jackson, Ruth Sproule, Ruth Wilson, Isobel Bewins, Mary Curtis, Doreen Crough: tenors: Fraser Morton, Gregory Knox, Frank Wilkinson, Cyril Peister, Vernon McCaw; basses: Clifford Votary, Bert Whtifield, Bob Galbraith, Frank Moloney, Douglas Wallace. Members of the school choir assisted offstage.

All singers were trained and directed by Mr. Quirt McKinney. Miss C. Wagar supervised the stage settings and costumes, and Marion Sedgwick was stage manager, assisted by Leo McKenney and Clare Johnson. The pianist was John Grylls.

Mr. Leo Copp, principal, was chairman and spoke briefly in welcome to the guests who filled the assembly hall. Following the operetta, dancing commenced with music supplied by Gallagher's orchestra.

Delightful refreshments are always a feature of Normal School "At Homes" which their friends particularly enjoy. Sociability reigned in the reception room where the tea table was centred with a model ship and decorations were in "navy" blue. Tea room hostesses were Misses Doreen Crough, Eileen Helstein, Joan Hoard, Ellen Murphy, Rosemary Parker, Betty Rutherford, Margaret Sargent, Ruth Sproule, Ann Walsh, Lois Weaver, Sheila Wilson, Jean York, Gwen Gourlie, Joyce Grills, Merla Braithwaite, Luella Homan, Rosemary Jordan, Rowena Leonard, Verna Meldurm, Anne Reid, Marion White, Margaret McColl, Mararet McGee, Mary Ames, Isobel Bowens, Marguerite Hickey, Margaret Buck, Madeleine Davidson, Marjorie McBride, Thelma Mullett, Evelyn Preston, Ester Perrin, Susan Powell, Mary Spencer and Ruth Wilson. Miss Rita Sproule was in charge.

Among those present were:

Eastern Star LOBA 525 Marks Silver Anniversary

Eastern Star LOBA No. 525 marked the 25th anniversary of its founding in Peterborough Thursday evening, with a well attended banquet, in the green room of the YWCA. Mrs. Melville Moncrieff, WM, as chairman, extended welcome to guests on behalf of Eastern Star members and gave an appropriate address.

Guests included Bro. Robert Ritchie, Most Worshipful Master of the Grand Black Chapter of British America; Sister Pilling, RWPG deputy mistress of Ontario East, Sister Benton, RWPG director of ceremonies of Ontario East; Sister Sexsmith, RWPG deputy secretary of Ontario East, Rev. Bro. M. J. Aiken and Mrs. Aiken of St. Andrew's United church.

White linen was the basis for a color scheme of red and silver on the tea tables, which was very effective. A beautifully decorated birthday cake, on a glass pedestal, set on a red and silver reflector adorned the centre of head table; silver candle holders holding red tapers, silver doilies, red hearts and cupids all added to the beauty of the scene. Red cupids nestling in rosettes of red cellophane enriched the splendour of the side tables, with crossed Union Jacks making a background for all. Place cards were in and silver and favors were silver baskets containing homemade candy.

RW Sister Rose Sexsmith, only charter member, cut the cake and an appreciatnon was spoken by the WM to Sister Sexsmith for twenty-five years of faithful service to the lodge, and Sister Olive Price, DM, presented a silver bread tray.

When all had partaken of a bountiful chicken dinner the chairman called for a toast to the King. The toast to Grand Lodge was proposed by RW Sister Benton, and responded to by Most Worshipful Bro. Ritchie; to the visitors by Sister S. Lowe and responded to by RW Sister Pilling of Vimy Ridge LOBA.

Rev. Bro. M. J. Aiken, guest speaker, urged all Protestants to stand by their faith and their hard fought blessing of liberty. He stated that one can join other organizations for financial, social or political gains, but the Orange Order stood solely for the open Bible and is the most religious order of all. He challenged all LOL and LOBA members to live up to their principles.

Guest artists for the evening included: Miss Judy Hood who sang "The Glow Worm," and "Mighty Lak a Rose"; Mr. Norman Harris, who favored with two piano instrumental numbers; and Miss Jean Fairbairn gave two humorous monologues.

Greetings were brought by the Mistress of Vimy Ridge LOBA and Star of Bethlehem LOBA both of the city of Peterborough. Sister O. Price, on behalf of the courtesy committee, moved a vote of thanks to the artists. The decorating convener was Sister F Edmison. Two contests were enjoyed after the banquet.

Knights of Columbus Dance Is Held Friday Evening

Highlighting the annual Knights of Columbus "At Home" Friday evening in the K. of C. Hall, a most delicious meal was served to the guests after midnight. Music for dancing was supplied by Paul Minicola and his orchestra, and tables were set for bridge in the lounge.

Outline Purposes Of Conference

Tables for the Friday Night Supper Club meeting in the YW recreation room were decorated with place mats in keeping with "health week" observance. Miss Jane Wharry, president, announced the coming Teen Age Conference to be held here April 1, 2 and 3, and asked all the members to report on billets available at the next meeting. Miss Louise Leslie read minutes and Miss Vevey Jameson took roll call.

Miss Jean Campbell, teen age secretary of National YWCA, addressed the girls, speaking on the purpose of the conference. She congratulated Peterborough girls on being hostesses to the first gathering of this sort in Ontario and Quebec. Main purposes pointed out are: a means of girls from all provinces and countries meeting each other; a means of promoting better feelings between these different places; acquiring useful information in exchange of program ideas; enabling a club to gain recognition. An over-all name and purpose is to be discussed at the meeting.

Miss Campbell gave an interesting description of a Girls' Friday Night Tea Club with which she was affiliated while working in New Zealand, and compared it with the local group for similarity.

DANISH PRINCE WEDS COMMONER—Prince Oluf of Denmark, first cousin of King Christian, is shown with his bride, the former Annie Puggard-Mueller, following their marriage at a simple ceremony in a small suburban church near Copenhagen. The prince, who in marrying a commoner renounced all royal rights, including possible succession to the throne, will in the future be known as Count of Rosenborg.

DOROTHY DIX

DIVORCE SPURT

Today's Marriage No More Than Option To Newly Wedded Pair

Statistics show that one marriage out of three ends in divorce, and those who keep tab on the matter gloomily prophesy that soon half of the marriages will go on the rocks. And it makes one wonder why entering the holy estate has gotten to be such a risky adventure, for human nature hasn't changed. Romance hasn't petered out. Youths and maidens still fall in love just as they have always done and they still expect their weddings to have the fairy tale ending, "and so they were married and lived happily ever afterward."

Dorothy Dix

But whereas in the past marriage was a binding contract in which a man and woman swore before the altar to cleave to each other so long as life lasted, now it has become little more than an option that each takes out on the other and that they feel free to break whenever they please. Divorce, once looked upon as a disgrace, has become merely an innocuous swapping of partners that calls for no hard feelings, and it is quite the proper thing for exhusbands and wives to remain on the most friendly terms with each other.

Leaving out of the discussion the moral aspects of the case and whether husbands and wives who live a cat-and-dog life together serve any good purpose in sustaining a relationship in which they are both unhappy and which brings out all the worst characteristics in each of them, it raises a number of questions to which we do not know the answers.

Worthy Persons Also Fail

Of course, in a case where a man discover that the angel of his dreams is a virago and a nagger, or a woman finds out that her fairy prince is a heel, it is easy to understand why their love would turn to hate. But it is not easy to comprehend why so many worthy men and women, who have no real grievance against each other and who thought themselves so much in love that they could not live apart, so soon discover that they cannot live with each other.

Why do so many husbands and wives lose their taste for each other? Why do so many husbands and wives bore each other to tears? Why are there so many husbands and wives who never speak except to quarre? There are many answers to this sad conundrum of why there are so many unhappy marriages that end in divorce, or just being an endurance test.

There are the boy and girl whose tastes are changing every day as they grow up and who find that they have nothing in common with the child they married. There are the marriages of youngsters who mistook a passing fancy for a deathless passion. The optimistic marriages of those who believed that they could live on love and bread and cheese and kisses. The marriages of those who thought they could reform drunkards and nagers. And so on drunkards and naggers. And so on man blunders.

Probably there were always just as many uncongenial marriages in the past as there are now. Probably Grandpa got on Grandma's nerves just as much as any husband of today gets on his wife's once the honeymoon has set. Both Grandma and Grandpa didn't take their troubles to the divorce court. They stood by their bargain.

And that is why marriages lasted, instead of one out of three ending in divorce.

For Quick Cough Relief, Try This Home Mixture

You'll be surprised how quickly and easily you can soothe a bad winter cough, when you try this well known recipe. It gives you four times as much cough medicine for your money and you'll find it very pleasant and dependable, for real relief.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed—no trouble at all. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup. Then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (obtained from any druggist) into a 16 oz. bottle. Fill up with your syrup and you have 16 ounces of medicine that will surprise you by its quick action. It never spoils, lasts a family a long time, and tastes fine—children love it.

This home mixture takes right hold of a severe cough. For real results, you'll say it's splendid. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and quickly eases soreness and difficult breathing.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for its soothing effect on throat irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Pinex Saves Money. Comforting Relief. Easy To Mix.

A child born on this day is blessed with many talents, charms and skills for a notable career, assuring pleasant and prosperous relations and personal gratifications.

For Monday, February 9

Monday's astrological forecast holds omens of conflict, contradictions and reversals, some in the direction of failure, frustration and disappointment and others breaking into the picture with surprising swiftness and grand flourish for notable success and attainment. A dramatic event, coming with sudden force and insistence, could yield spectacular results if carefully sagaciously and constructively managed. Romance and adventure are assured.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a strange year, in which seeming frustration, defeat and disappointment, bearing an aspect of "Dead Sea Fruit," may suddenly enjoy an about-face of spectacular and far - reaching denouement. Meeting this unpredictable visitation with sound, practical and sagacious and well-organized tactics should turn the scale in the direction of profit, inner satisfactions as well as outer adventure and romantic experiences.

A child born on this day has a many-sided nature, with many forms and conflicts to compose, for a fruitful and progressive career.

Of Interest to Women

St. Mark's WA

St. Mark's Women's Auxiliary of Otonabee met at the home of Mrs. Bert Armstrong and welcomed two new members. The meeting opened with a hymn, Mrs. Vernon Stanley-Jones at the piano. Mrs. Whitfield Robinson, president, read the Litany followed by a short reading by Mrs. Freeman Ingleton.

Mrs. Frank Graystock read the minutes of the January meeting and mention was given to the euchre party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Stanley-Jones on Jan. 14 attended by members of both St. Mark's Anglican and those of Zion United churches. Proceeds totalled $8.

Miss Jennie Pickell gave the scripture reading after which Mrs. Arthur Blodgett read one chapter from the study book.

Gas Department Operating Loss Is $3,294.75

Gas consumers of the city must face the possibility of an increase in gas rates, is the prediction made in the annual report, published today of the Gas Department of the Peterborough Utilities Commission.

The department plans to instal a plant to use propane gas for the making of the gas. The move has been forced because the department has been unable to obtain fuel oil since December, when they were advised of this by their suppliers.

The report quoting figures which make the pending increases necessary, showed an operating loss of $3,294.75 last year, compared to a profit of $7,311.30 for 1946.

Total expenses for the year were $109,553.16, an increase of 12½ per cent over 1946. Revenue was up 11 per cent to $106,258.41.

Interest on $45,000 investments in the reserves amounted to $1,804.83, reducing the net loss to $1,489.92.

The report stated that one of the main causes for the increased cost was the boost in wages, in line with the general pattern.

An increase in the price of all materials used was also an influencing factor. It cited that the cost of generator coal was up $5.45 per ton, with boiler fuel up $2.40 per ton as well. Greatest increase in costs were due to the nickel jump in the cost of fuel oil, leaping in the one year from 9.3 cents per gallon to 14.54

Total number of consumers at the end of the year was 3,382, a loss of 13 during the year.

Total gas sold in 1947 was 71,702,400 cubic feet, as compared to 62,493,600 in 1946. Industrial sales doubled and commercial consumers remained the same. There was a reduction in domestic consumption of about a million feet.

The average revenue per 1,000 feet was $1.48 and the cost, $1.53, as compared to $1.56 and $1.44 respectively in 1946.

No extensions were made to mains during the year and few services laid, accounting for the small capital expenditure of about $3,000. Only maintenance and repairs were done at the plant.

LAY FOUNDATIONS FOR GIANT POWER PLANT—Air view looking toward the Quebec side of the Ottawa River shows construction camp and site of $50,000,000 Ontario Hydro development at Des Joachims Rapids where 480,000 h.p. will be generated, exceeded only by the 500,000 h.p. output of the Queenston-Chippawa plant at Niagara. Main dam will close the three river channels shown.

Machine Gauges Speed Of Stars

VICTORIA, B.C., Feb. 7 (CP). — A machine to determine the speed of stars has been developed by Dr. R. M. Petrie, assistant director of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory here.

Known as a projection comparator, the instrument is claimed to be much more efficient than any previous device and is the only one of its kind to be constructed and use in astronomical work here.

Dr. Petrie designed the machine and it was built by S. S. Girling, observatory instrument maker.

The original negative of a star is projected under high magnification onto a screen which is ruled with a standard scale. The photographed starlight is compared directly with this standard, thus eliminating many laborious and time-consuming measurements.

An accurate micrometer then makes direct measurements of the speed of approach or recession of the star upon the projected photograph.

Displacements as small as one ten-thousandth of an inch are easily and accurately measured by this method.

Just Too Old

TIMMINS, Ont. — (CP). — When a horse fell down on the street here a veterinary said the animal was suffering from "blackwater," or paralysis from inactivity. But a bystander had a different diagnosis. "He's old enough to vote," was the comment.

Quebec Likely Back Arbitration Board

QUEBEC, Feb. 7—(CP)—Sanction of a government measure for an arbitration board inquiry into Montreal tramways is due today in the Quebec leigslature after sittings yesterday of both its houses.

The legislative council, provincial upper house, passed the bill with a minor amendment while the legislative assembly, the lower house, approved a bill for an inquiry into seasonal gluts of farm produce.

The tramways measure, which will suspend until completion of the arbitration board inquiry proposals to increase tramways fares, was adopted on division by the upper house. The technical amendment will have to be approved by the legislative assembly prior to sanction by Sir Eugene Fiset, Quebec's lieutenant -governor.

Minstrels Hit At Bancroft Sponsored By Lions Club

BANCROFT, Feb. 7—(ENS)—One of the best minstrel shows staged in Bancroft was held on Wednesday by the Bancroft Lions Club, under the supervision of Rev. C. S. Wright. More than 25 persons were connected with the show, and were arranged in the usual costumes from dress suits to comic arrangements.

At the curtain the entire chorus sang "Oh Dem Golden Slippers" and "The Dark Town Strutters Ball," the second chorus being sung by Jack Gordon, Ed. Alexander, and LeO Flaglar. Following the singing Mike Burns and Jack Follis were featured in a short comic dialogue involv-involving local citizens. The next act was an exhibition of tap dancing by Miss Donna Turner, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Turner of Bancroft. She was accompanied at piano by Miss Barbara Diment, of Belleville. A step dance act was given by two sisters and a brother, Miss Ethel Sears, Mrs. Etta McCormick, and Bud Sears. They appeared separately and for an encore danced as a trio. The acompaniment was played by Ellis Mather, and Reg Blatherwick.

"Sweet Adeline."

Bert Ellerbeck, Jack Gordon, Ed Alexander and Barney Fortin —the Old Dark Quartette—sang "Sweet Adeline," "Down by the Old Mill Stream," and "My Wild Irish Rose." One of the highance came when Miss Barbara Diment of Belleville came on the lights of the evening's performstage to give an outstanding exhibition of top dancing. She was acocmpanied by Reg Blatherwick sang and tapped to "I'll Dance at Your Wedding," and then tapped the next two choruses. The applause was thunderous. The audience was given a view of how the Minuet, Straus' Waltz, and the Polka were danced. This arrangement was carried out by Jack Field, Jim Brown, Whitney Martin, Don Russell, James Brown, and Jack Gordon respectively.

Mike Burns was master of ceremonies and appointed a five-man "board of experts" from the Chorus for a quiz contest. After declaring the experts "As the dumbest experts he had ever met" the contestants were awarded their prizes, a Grand Piano, Refrigerator, Washing Machine, China Cabinet and Floor Lamp (all in miniature of course). There was another tap dance by Miss Diment who performed gracefully a dance arrangement as played by Reg. Blatherwick. The quartet sang "In the Evening By the Moonlight," "Shine On Harvest Moon" and "I Want a Girl." A dialogue was given by Bill Morrison and Don Russell, involving Don Wilson and Cecil McAlpine as prexy.

A reminiscing note was introduced with the chorus singing "There's A Long Trail Awinding" after which Bert Ellerbeck sang "My Buddy." The final chorus of the evening's performance was "My Old Kentucky Home," "John Brown's Body" and "Good Night Ladies."

Large Cast

Rev. Clarence Wright introduced those who had participated: Rev. Clarence Wright, Jack Brown, Cecil McAlpine, Cecil Wiggins, Stanley Walker, Jack Follis, Leo Flaglar, Ed Alexander, George Calbeck, Bert Ellerbeck, Ellis Mather, Reginald Wiggins, Theodore Tryon, Reg. Blatherwick, Jim Brown, Jack Gordon, Barney Fortin, Mike Burns, Hugh Loucks, Wm. T. Hopper, Miss Barbara Diment, Miss Donna Turner, Miss Ethel Sears, Mrs. Etta McCormick, Bud Sears, Clarence Marston, Don Russell, Don Wilson, Don Field, Whitney Martin, Margaret Kellar and Bill Morrison.

A repeat performance was staged Thursday evening and the cast played to a full house again. Jack Brown and Cecil McAlpine were responsible for the special lighting and signalling devices.

Temperance Talk Given By Mrs. J. Mann

FAIRVIEW, Feb. 7—(ENS)—Mrs. J. Gordon Mann, president of the Smith and Lakefield WCTU, was guest speaker at the meeting of the Fairview Women's Association at the home of Mrs. Wesley Bell.

The president, Mrs. W. A. Poast, was chairman.

Mrs. Wesley Bell, leader of group one, led the worship period. Mrs. R. Harrison read the scripture and prayers were given by Mrs. Cephas Heard and Mrs. Fred Bell. Mrs. A. Armstrong read a poem. The worship period, based on temperance, was followed by a splendid address on temperance by Mrs. Mann. Mrs. Poast gave a reading.

Mrs. Poast announced the World's Day of Prayer to be held in Bridgenorth church Friday, Feb. 13. The Fairview ladies will take part.

Here is a RECORD that speaks for itself

Nearly one-seventh of all the life insurance bought in Canada is purchased from the London Life.

This fact shows how generally Canadians are using the facilities of the London Life in the vitally important matter of providing funds for the future of themselves and their families.

—Low cost insurance —Service by high calibre, well-trained representatives
—Financial strength

These factors largely account for the volume of life insurance being purchased from this Company.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

KIND HEARTS ABSENT

WHEN a couple of able and tricky defenders go to work on you, it is not out of order for you to consider that they are totally lacking in kind-heartedness. They create all manner of illusions to trap you into plays which make you beat your own contract, whereas you might have sailed along into the harbor of success if they had not mixed you up as badly as the metaphors are scrambled in this sentence. All that you can hope for, when they do that, is a chance to get even with them on some later deal.

(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 ♣	1 ♥
2 ♦	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
3 ♦	Pass	4 ♠

Leading the diamond 8, West made it impossible to read his holding accurately and caused South to count East for the K. So he went in with dummy's A and brought the spade Q through to the K. The diamond 7 then made it appear as if he might have had the J, but not the K, so the declarer played dummy's 10, which the J covered, forcing a ruff by the spade 7. The heart 6 was given up to the 10, the heart A scored and the spade 9 led to the 10.

Next came the club 9 covered by the 10 and J, the club A and the club 2 ruffed by the spade 5. South then led the diamond 6 from the dummy. But if you will study the remaining cards you will notice that South could score nothing more except one trick with the spade A. He was therefore defeated three tricks by the mean defense put up against him, especially by West's monkeyshines in the diamond suit.

GASH—In loving memory of Dennis Gash, who died one year ago today, February 7, 1948.
His smiling way and pleasant face
Are a pleasure to recall
He had a kindly word for each
And died beloved of all
Some day we hope to meet him
Some day we know not when
To clasp his hand in the better land
Never to part again.
—Ever remembered by loving wife Muriel and Kenneth.

WILSON—In loving memory of father Joseph H. K. Wilson, who passed away February 7, 1934.
God knows how much I miss him,
Never shall his memory fade,
Loving thoughts shall always wander,
To the spot where he is laid.
It's only a grave but still needs care,
For the one I love is sleeping there
Some may forget him, now he's gone
But I'll remember him no matter how long.
—Ever remembered by daughter Violet.

Says Diefenbaker Can Take Case

OTTAWA, Feb. 7 — (CP). — Harold Dingman, Ottawa editor of New Liberty Magazine, said here last night that he "would welcome" having John Diefenbaker enter the Edmonton conspiracy-to-libel case as a defence lawyer, Mr. Diefenbaker is Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Lake Centre, Saskatchewan, and a lawyer.

"He is the logical man to defend this case of press freedom," said Mr. Dingman, who is charged along with Jack Kent Cooke, publisher of the magazine, and Charlotte Whitton, Ottawa welfare worker, by the Alberta Government, as result of an article Mr. Dingman wrote in New Liberty criticizing child welfare in Alberta.

Last week Mr. Diefenbaker offered his services free of charge on the grounds that Alberta's action violated a fundamental freedom of the press.

Superior Attitude Of Canadians Rapped

TORONTO, Feb. 7 — (CP). — Dr. G. S. H. Barton, Federal Deputy Minister of Agriculture, yesterday warned against the "superior attitude" many Canadians have adopted toward starving peoples of war-ravaged countries.

He told the Ontario Cattle Breeders' Association that the people of Europe and Asia are determined to get a better standard of living, no matter what the method.

He termed the outlook for agriculture good.

Officers elected were: President, W. J. Gardhouse, Weston; vice-president, R. Brodie Ness, Portsmouth; executive council, George Rodanz, Stouffville, Maurice Beatty, Milton.

Keene In 4-4 Draw

NORWOOD, Feb. 7.—(ENS).—Westwood and Keene staged a clean, hard-fought game in Norwood arena Thursday evening, ending a tie, 4-4.

Keene's sub-goalie, Musgrave, played a splendid game and goaltender Renwick, of Westwood, staged his usual sterling performance.

Keene scored the only goal in the first period, Thomson from Dalton. Thompson of Westwood, with Woods getting an assist, tied it up after 30 seconds of play in the second period. Neil Poudash from Kempt, and Houle from Wright put Keene ahead. Neilson from Bruce Warr and Terry Woods unassisted, both goals in the last two minutes of play, again tied it up, to end the second period 3-3.

Woods from Thompson and Mason put Westwood in the lead after four minutes of play in the third. Jeff Stock from Wright got the tying goal at the halfway mark. In the last 10 minutes of the game, both teams tried desperately to break the tie. Line-up:

Westwood—Goal, Renwick; defence, Mortlock, V. Warr; centre, Mason; wings, Thompson, Woods; alternates, Sargent, Graham, Bruce Warr, Bill Warr, Morris, Neilson.

Keene— Goal, Musgrave; defence, Anderson, Adamson; centre, Dalton; wings, Wright, Houle; alternates, B. Thomson, J. Stock, Kempt, Poudash, Whalen.

Referee—Jack Crowley; linesman, Hartley Morrison.

Sunday Evening Uplift Program Big Attraction

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY

CHICAGO, Feb. 7 (AP). — Shows move in and out of other theatres, but one attraction has been running at Orchestra Hall for 40 years.

Crowds have been going to the spacious auditorium on Michigan Avenue for the Chicago Sunday Evening Club's weekly programs of music, prayers and talks since Feb. 16, 1908.

The club was founded by Clifford W. Barnes, a great-grandson of Daniel Webster, as a convenient source of "Christian inspiration in the business centre of the city."

The idea of turning a house of entertainment into a house of worship one night a week arched eyebrows at the time. But the first audience of 800, and subsequent attendance averaging 1,400 and ranging as high as 3,000, gave ample evidence of popular support.

The services are non-denominational, and are free. The rostrum—sometimes called "The Nation's Pulpit"—has been occupied by a wide variety of Protestant clergymen and laymen, Jewish rabbis and Catholic laymen.

There is a different featured speaker each Sunday. Among them have been William Howard Taft, Jane Adams, Cordell Hull, the British Archibishops of Canterbury and York, Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, Booker T. Washing, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Marshal Joffre, Charles Evans Hughes, William Jennings Bryan, Josephus Daniels, Ballington Booth

Informal Atmosphere.

They are booked for addresses, not sermons, although a religious thread runs through all the remarks. The people laugh at the humorous passages and applaud the orators, soloists and 75-voice choir.

The two-hour programs include music, a 15-minute talk on a Biblical topic, a couple of prayers, the main address and a benediction.

Expenses are met by a collection, box seat rentals, endowment funs and annual contributions of $5 to $100.

The majority of those who attend are men. The audience consist of a nucleus of regulars, residents of the Chicago area and out-of-towners from Loop hotels.

Dr. Albert J. McCartney, the director, reports the club has had to cope with the "increased secularization of Sundays, the movies and radios" in recent seasons.

But as the organization prepares to celebrate its 40th anniversary February 15, he predicts it will "carry on quite as vigorously in the foreseeable future."

Peterborough's

there in its finery, and that one night will ever remain fresh in Mr. Devey's recollections.

Today in his eighty-second year he is as vigorous and enthusiastic as ever, though on raw days he does not needlessly venture out of the house. A partial paralysis of the left arm makes piano playing no longer possible. But as we were sharpening our pencil in the midst of notes for this story, he broke out into a robust tenor on "Tit-willow", the pretty tune from "The Mikado."

What has happened to the royal coat-of-arms? It is fortunately preserved. Mr. Harold Devey had the foresight to go down to the Opera House when it was being reduced to rubble, and rescued the memento.

How did the Command Performance work out financially? Mr. Devey said: "It wasn't really a command performance. In a real command performance the King pays all the expenses."

"But did you lose money on it?"

"Oh, no. The house was full. We had a great job to get through that night because of the encores. And we made up the $300 I had lost in Toronto."

"I would have been better off financially if I hadn't bothered with light opera. I never gained money from them. I could have spent my time more profitably in giving music lessons to pupils. But I liked attempting them, in spite of the difficulties. There were very few people in Canada then who knew anything about producing light opera. In Toronto Earl Grey said to me: 'You must be a Savoyard.' I wasn't, but I learned from the Savoy theatre and the Daley theatre, and have done my best to bring light opera to Canadian amateurs. Dr. Vogt in 1910 was delighted with Peterborough's efforts and wished for something like that in Toronto. But it was only last year that his conservatory (the Toronto Conservatory) began to teach musical drama."

Police Plan Appeal

TORONTO, Feb. 7—(CP).—The Toronto Board of Police Commissioners yesterday announced it would appeal a decision of the Ontario Supreme Court awarding $4,250 damages to the parents of 14-year-old Donald Robertson, killed by a policeman's bullet July 30, 1946.

News . . . . In Brief . .

By Canadian Press

NEW DELHI.—Home Minister Sardar V. Patel told Parliament Mohandas K. Gandhi rejected his entreaties to have persons attending his prayer meetings searched. "My life is in the hands of God and if I have to die, no precautions can save me," Patel quoted Gandhi as saying. "I will not agree to anyone being restricted from coming to the prayer meeting or for anyone to come between me and my audience."

ST. BERNARD, Que. — Abbe Joseph Victorien Legendre, who served as curate in several parishes in the Diocese of Hearst, died. He was 66.

MOSCOW.—Decisions of the Supreme Soviet (Parliament) disclosed Russia has a new Minister of Justice, appointed, because the old one "did not deal with his work." N. M. Ruchkov was supplanted in the Justice post by the former Attorney-General, K. P. Gorshenin.

DAYTON, O.—A letter authorizing the return of the Kitty Hawk from London was found in the effects of the late aviation pioneer, Orville Wright.

LONDON.—The Duke of Edinburgh, husband of Princess Elizabeth, will not take his seat in the House of Lords before April or later. The Duke probably is awaiting the return from India in the summer of his uncle, Earl Mountbatten, Governor-General of India, to introduce him to the House.

OTTAWA.—Canada will have to allow the importation of oleomargarine if Parliament ratifies the Geneva trade agreements due for study at this session, but there is nothing to stop her from making its cost prohibitive by heavy tariffs.

Factory Damaged

HAMILTON. — Fire of undetermined origin caused damage to the Lloyd Glass Company three-storey plant in East Hamilton. Firemen said it appeared to be fairly well under control. One fireman suffered glass cuts on his hand.

BRANTFORD. — Rev. Harold A. Vaughan was inducted as minister of Zion United Church at an impressive ceremony conducted by the Brantford Presbytery. Rev. M. C. Parr of Galt, chairman of the Presbytery, was the presiding officer and Rev. Robert T. Young, interim moderator of Zion conducted the actual induction.

TORONTO. — Norman Freed, a Communist, remains alderman in Toronto's Ward Four, as a result of an official recount completed by Judge J. T. Barton in which the alderman increased his majority by two votes. During the recount 80 votes were ruled out for improper marking.

FORT ERIE. — Heather Truckenbrodt, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Truckenbrodt of nearby Ridgeway, is back home from the Toronto Hospital For Sick Children after having a part of a walnut removed from her lung. She fell backwards from her chair at home and swallowed part of the nut she was eating.

Oakville. — Albert Gittings in charging his brother-in-law, George Reid of St. Catharines, with assault, testified that Reid invited him into his automobile for a "confidential chat" but he decided not to accept when he saw three men in the car. Reid was fined $20 while sentence was suspended on two of the men and the charges against the third were dismissed.

CAMBRIDGE, England. — Konni Zilliacus, labor member of parliament, pictured Winston Churchill as "steaming full-speed ahead, for Armageddon with all his ideological guns firing and Mr. Bevin wallowing and threshing in his wake like a harpooned whale towed by a destroyer."

Found Innocent

TORONTO. — An Ontario Supreme Court jury found Harry John Letby, 27, former hotel waiter, innocent of a manslaughter charge at his second trial in connection with the fatal bludgeoning of William Morris, 27-year-old sailor, last July 18. The first jury disagreed Sept. 30.

LONDON, Eng. — The British Communist party, several of whose leading members hold responsible positions in Britain's major trade unions, called on organized labor to reject the government White Paper on wage stabilization.

Bakery Strike

NEW YORK — A strike of several thousand bakery employees curtailed production of dark breads and specialty products here. The over-all supply of white bread was unaffected, however.

Waukegan, Ill. — Three young sisters perished and three of their brothers suffered burns, one severe, in a fire in the basement of their home as they celebrated a birthday party for one of the victims. The dead were Doris Elaine Jones, nine, who was the guest of honor at the party, and her sisters, Victoria two, and Rebecca 14.

CHICAGO—Otto Kennrich, 33, was shot and seriously wounded by a policeman after, officers said, he resisted arrest in his home where he had shot and wounded his wife, Jennie 32. The couple's four children, ranging in age from 9 to 15, were not at home at the time of the shootings.

HOLLYWOOD.— Film actor Wayne Morris was confined to his home with pneumonia. He was stricken on a movie set, and hsi physician said the actor would not be able to return to work for at least two weeks.

LONDON — Russia asked Red Army soldiers to guard undisclosed military secrets now just as they would in a war. Soldiers and youths who are liable to military service.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, Alta. — A mother and her baby were burned to death in a fire that destroyed their farm home near Caroline, Alta., about 20 miles south of here. The mother was identified as Mrs. W. Benz. Full details of the fire were not known because of disrupted telephone communications in the district.

VANCOUVER— Magistrate Oscar Orr came up with a new angle for the solution of an old problem yesterday — was the "drunken" driver actually drunk? Magistrate Orr suggested that moving pictures—with sound effects—be taken of the allegedly drunken automobile drivers immediately after their arrest.

Report Mr. King Interested In Governor-General Post

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, Feb. 7—(CP).—Speculation about the future of William Lyon Mackenzie King has enveloped two great Houses that have long been the most famous if not the most pretentious in Ottawa. One is Rideau Hall, rambling home of the Governor-General, a grey, fence-girdled mass of stone whose lawns reach towards the edge of a bluff over the Ottawa River. The other is Laurier House, a sand-colored, three-storey, brick residence where the Prime Minister has lived a bachelor's life for the last 25 years or so.

Conjecture has singled them out, first, because Mr. King has said he will offer his resignation to a Liberal convention in August and, second, because he has not turned a cold shoulder to suggestions that he become the first Canadian-born Governor-General of the Dominion.

In fact, sources close to him think that if sufficient public support swung behind the proposal made in the Commons by Bona Arsenault (L-Bonaventure), the Prime Minister might be swayed.

The twist of events that followed his retirement statement finally came to Laurier House itself, a tall, tired residence in the Sandy Hill area which has yielded its social pre-eminence to newer districts such as Rockcliffe.

Old Argument.

It revived an old argument as to just who owns the home. There is little doubt that is was left to Mr. King as his personal property by Lady Laurier, who died a few years after Sir Wilfrid, the great Liberal Leader of the early years of the century. But there are those who still harbor the old impression that it was left him as Liberal Leader and that it actually is the property of the party.

It is possible Mr. King will move out whe nhe retires and turn over the old-fashioned house to his successor. But men who know his ways predict he will remain there for the rest of his days, puttering up to nearby Kingsmere his summer home in Quebec, when the warm season comes each year.

That is, unless he becomes Governor-General. That question, for the present, is entirely speculative.

"Hands off, Eric, this train's not nationalized!"

Dionne Quints Become Aunts

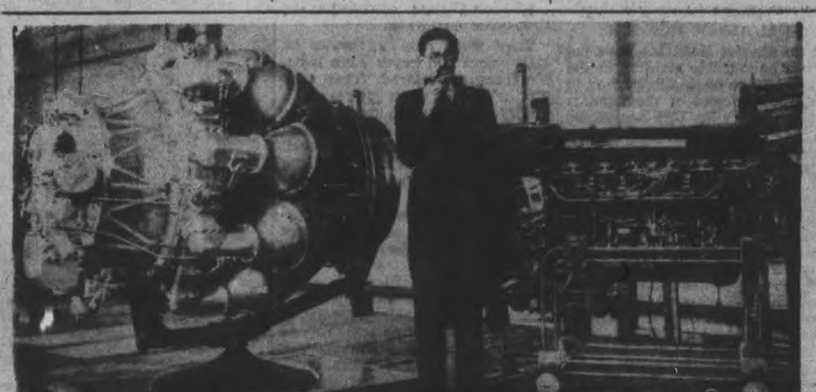
NORTH BAY, Feb. 7 — (CP). — The Dionne quintuplets from nearby Callander became aunts yesterday.

A seven-pound daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dionne at St. Joseph's Hospital here — the first grandchild for the quintuplets' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliva Dionne. Hospital officials said late last night both mother and daughter are "doing well."

The mother is the former Jeanette Guindon, daughter of Mrs. Burgess Guindon of Hammond, Ont., near Ottawa and the late Mr. Guindon. The quintuplets, 14 next May 28, were bridesmaids when their elder brother married the former schoolteacher from Corbeil last April 7.

W. J. Heffernan Bandmaster Quits

LINDSAY, Feb. 7—Bandmaster W. J. Heffernan has resigned as bandmaster of Lindsay Citizens Band.



Mr. Heffernan tendered his resignation to the Band Association Thursday night. He has been bandmaster at Lindsay at different times over a period of 46 years, having first come to town back in 1902.

In his resignation Mr. Heffernan said he was quitting so as not to stand in the way of the boys going into the militia. He said as he was over-age for signing up he thought it as well that he resign so as not to hamper the boys if they wished to join the local unit for band training. His resignation was accepted.

Mr. Heffernan's proficiency as a bandsman goes back to the days of the first World War when he was awarded a medal overseas during a soloists' contest.

Smoke Peace Pipe

LAKE SUCCESS, NY, Feb. 7—(CP).—The peace pipe was smoked yesterday at Lake Success. As television and movie cameras whined, Chief Clinton Rickard of the Iroquois Indians presented Wampum belts in the name of peace, friendship and liberty to Benjamin Cohen, assistant secretary-general of the United Nations, and to Tor Gjesdal, director of the Department of public information.

THE NEW, THE OLD — Probably the finest engines of their kind in the world are the two Rolls Royce units above. At left is the gas turbine "Nene," at right the famous "Merlin." The former is on loan to McGill University in Montreal, and the latter a gift to the university from Rolls Royce. Seen with them is Prof. Donald Modell, MA (Cantab), jet and turbine authority. Before coming to McGill Prof. Modell, six years with Rolls Royce, himself worked on the Nene.

Canadian Holstein Association's Award to Joseph T. Tully a Tribute to His Industry and Sound Judgment

M. McIntyre Hood to Address Junior Farmers.

Joseph T. Tully of Otonabee, received the highest honor that is within the power of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada to bestow when he was presented with a Master Breeder Shield at the annual meeting of the association Feb. 4 in Toronto. The presentation was made by W. R. Reek, President of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph. Since the first such shield was presented in 1930, only 33 Holstein herds in Canada have received this coveted award.

To qualify for the title of Master Breeder, Mr. Tully has bred 7 Class XX bulls, 7 very good, 1 gold medal, 9 good plus and 2 excellent cows. All the females have production records at least twenty percent above the amount required to qualify in the Dominion Record of Performance. In addition, he has bred 1 very good and three "good plus" cows that have not yet fulfilled the stringent Master Breeder production requirements.

"Joe" Tully is the youngest man ever to qualify for a Master Breeder award, having been born just 38 years ago on the farm where he now lives which consists of 155 acres. Joe provides an excellent example of what can be accomplished by any young man starting from scratch by hard work and perseverence. His father maintained a grade herd and Joe was subject to considerable criticism when in 1927 he sold a grade cow he had raised from a calf and adding to the sale price his meanger savings, purchased a purebred cow from W. R. Shields of Peterboro. Additional foundation animals were purchased from Matchett Bros. and W. Finnie, Peterboro in 1928 and a large part of the present herd is descended from two daughters of Alcartra Vale King, a bull bred by Fred Hubbs, of Bloomfield, which he purchased at that time.

From this family came Otonabee Supreme Ormsby Lady who Junior Champion Female at the C.N.E. in 1938 and Reserve All-America, and Mutual Echo Alcartra the dam of James R. Henderson's noted Supreme Alcartra Marina. Two daughters of Otonabee Supreme Ormsby Lady were second prize Progeny at the 1946 Peterboro Championship Show and one of them is the dam of Otonabee Supreme Colanthus, the All-Canadian Junior Yearling bull in 1944 for Ransom Stock Farms and W. J. Murphy, Lindsay.

Another cow that has had a profound influence on the Tully herd is Woodland Pabst Johanna, a gold medal daughter of the Extra sire Montvic Rag Apple Paul, who was purchased form George M. VanPatter, Aylmer, in 1938. She made a record of 779 lbs. fat in the Tully herd and is the dam of Supreme Pabst Johan, one of the top breeding bulls in the Peterboro district, at the present time.

Daughters of Sir Philip Pabst Posch purchased from George Burnside and Sons, Madoc, in 1938 have also played a big part in the development of this herd. The great show bull Hays supreme was purchased jointly with Matchett Bros., Peterboro, in 1935 and bred to Ruby Pabst Posch a daughter of Sir Philip Pabst Posch owned by Norman W. McConkey, Peterboro, produced Supreme Grand Slam who was Sired many of the best cows in the Peterboro district including a number in the Tully herd. Joe plans to stick to the Rag Apple-Posch strain in his breeding operations.

He placed his herd on R.O.P. test in 1929 and has not missed a visit from the inspector since. The best producer developed in the herd was Alcartra Pontiac Inka, a Gold Medal cow has three times given better than 800 lbs. fat on 2x.

In commenting on the progress that he has made Mr. Tully stated that his greatest initial handicap was ignorance since at that time there were no Calf Clubs or Junior Farmer organizations to educate boys and girls as to the approved type of the dairy cow or proper management of a herd.

Mr. Tully served as Director of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada form 1938 to 1942.

ALL-CANADIAN HONORS

Two district Holsteins have received honourable mention in the All-Canadian contest according to an announcement of the winners just made. Twins Elm Snowflake owned by N. W. McConkey, Peterboro, who was awarded second prize two-year-old at the Royal Winter Fair has received honourable mention in the two-year-old class. Lucky Supreme owned by Craig Wilson of Campbellford, has been given "honourable mention" as a senior yearling bull. He was grand champion at the Northumberland Black and White Day, second at the Peterboro chamionship Show and third at the Royal Winter Fair.

The All-Canadian Contest is the climax of the show season for Holstein breeders in Canada Prize winners at the various fairs and exhibitions of Provincial Championship calibre compete for national honours through the medium of photographs, the actual selections in the various classes being made by a committee composed fo the various judges at these fairs. In each of the regular show classes, an All-Canadian and a Reserve All-Canadian are chosen. In special cases, Honourable Mention is also given. This year forty-five breeders in various parts of the Dominion majority came to Ontario. The contest is sponsored by the Holstein-Freisian Journal.

KINSMEN HORSE SHOW

Mr. E. V. O'Toole and Mr. G. E. Putnam of Peterborough Kinsmen Club were guests at the Ontario Horse Breeders' convention dinner at the Royal York Thursday evening. On the side they were doing missionary work in promotion of the local horse show which Kinsmen are planning for June 11 and 12. At each plate they had placed a neat little announcement in attractive printing as a bid for a larger list of entries from members of the association than the club's successful venture last June. The two Kinsmen put in several days in Toronto in the interest of the show.

FARMERS AND PRICES

Approximately 90 p.c. of Ontario farm forum comments on the subject, "The World Is Our Market" expressed disapproval of a proposal for the opening of the United States market for agricultural produce. Their consensus indicated the opinion that it would only temporarily benefit farmers and in the long run become disastrous, as reported from Forum headquarters.

If the neighboring market was made available, the eventual result would be strong opposition from the American farmer, the Canadian consumer and the European consumer. "The latter, in the opinion of most groups, would likely have to buy a lot higher price range, or starve, and in present conditions severe hunger would likely ensue."

Possibly, the attitude represents realistic rural thinking, but at first glance it suggests an unselfish and idealistic sentiment among farmers, separated in their forum groups, but almost unanimous in their collective opinion. It tends to refute any notion which may exist here and there beyond the rural community of this province that farmers are chiefly concerned about high prices for their own products, and particularly of immediate effect and advantage.

The aims and desires of the Canadian farmer in regard to prices was vigorously stated by Herb H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, at its convention in Brockville last week.

They were not advocates of high prices and never have been, Mr. Hannam declared. "Their policy is one of farm prices in a proper balance wtih those of the other groups of the nation, and preferably on a moderate level. This has been the policy of the C.F.A., and has been adopted unanimously as the policy of our international farmers' organization. They want prices that are fair alike to producers and consumers.

"The farmers' belief in a moderate price policy was amply demonstrated in their support of the nation's wartime price ceiling program," said Mr. Hannam, "and secondly, organized wheat producers have been staunch in their backing of a wheat stabilization plan. They believed this was the soundest and wisest program both for the producers of wheat and consumers of bread.

"Where is there a more outstanding example of economic statesmanship on the part of a national group of farmers than to support and promote such a policy, especially in the face of propaganda by private grain trade interests that has been shamefully unfair and unethical."

Mr. Hannam stated anew the Federation's independence, a pronouncement that merits repeating for its virtual renewal of pledge of policy. "The Federation is in the hands of its members. It is built and financed and directed by them, with officers elected dmocratically and policies shaped according to their views. The Federation has no ties and no entanglements, or alliances or gentlemen's agreements with any group or party or government. It stands independent, and ready to co-operate with all who share its ideals and believe in its program. It is likewise ready to do battle if need be with those who oppose its fundamentally democratic procedure, its co-operative methods, and its march toward a better order of service for mankind."

NITROGEN AND PHOSPHORUS

Nitrogen is essential for the development of rapid growth and an abundance of foliage. Soils lose nitrogen very rapidly through crop removal, and leaching due to heavy rainfall, which must be replaced through legume crops, manures, and nitrogen-carrying fertilizers. Phosphorus is one of the principal plant foods and low crop production is more frequently due to lack of phosphorus than to any other element. Phosphorus starved plants tend to have a stunted root system which decreases their feeding zone and lessens their ability to withstand adverse conditions. Phosphorus is required for productive pastures, which are the mainstay of the dairy industry. It is important to maintain potash in all soils and especially in lighter soils which have a tendency to lose potash as well as other nutrients very rapidly. An adequate supply of potash adds to the general tone and vigor of plants.

FOOD VALUE OF THE EGG

There is no question concerning the inherent food value in eggs. They belong to that elite group of foods known as protective foods, because they are rich in the highest quality proteins, in many vitamins and in certain required minerals somewhat deficient in foods not of this class. Furthermore, in a high quality egg is found every food element required to produce a live, healthy chick without aid from any outside source, While this food value in eggs is determined to a degree by the feed fed to the layers, most flocks are now fed rations properly balanced for this purpose. Moreover, the usual handling of market eggs subsequent to laying does not seriously affect food value. Relatively high quality in this respect is therefore assumed.

CROP IMPROVEMENT MEETINGS

The annual meeting of the Ontario Crop Improvement Association opens in the King Edward Hotel, Toronto, Monday, Feb. 9 at 9 am., concluding Thursday afternoon. The potato branch is meeting Monday, registered seed growers and seed cleaners also that first day. A joint meeting Tuesday afternoon is held with the Ontario Plowmen's Association.

The general subject for Tuesday evening is hay pasture; winter wheat is Wednesday morning; and the dinner will be at 6:30 with C. D. Graham, deputy Minister of Agriculture guest speaker. Forage crop seed production is the subject for Thursday morning.

HOLSTEIN CLUB DINNER

The annual dinner of Peterborough Holstein Breeders Club will be Tuesday, Feb. 10 in the Canadian Legion Hall, beginning at 6:30 p.m. The guest speaker will be John W. Hamilton, author and lecturer of Ancaster, Ont.

The club's committee has some surprise features on their program, so it is said, and has engaged Graydon Sheldon's orchestra for the evening. The women of Stewart's Hall, Otonabee, have undertaken the catering, and with the tickets $1.50 for this social affair it should be largely attended.

Rundown Feeling May Be Often Caused By Nervous Trouble

Strained, tense nerves are often the cause of restless nights. Improper rest, night after night, is quickly followed by loss of appetite, irritability and a tired, run-down condition.

For disorders such as these, Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills are highly beneficial. The iron and other ingredients they contain help to improve the blood content, stimulate the nervous system, and the appetite, aid digestion, thus helping to promote sleep. Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills are sold at drug counters everywhere.

Find Weapons Hidden In Synagogue

Church Is Damaged As Nearby House Blasted For Snipers

JERUSALEM, Feb. 9 —(AP)— The British Army announced today that a synagogue in the Tel Aviv-Jaffa border area was damaged when the military blew up an adjoining house suspected of being a snipers' nest.

The army said:

"The demolition caused some damage to the snyagogue, the adjoining wall of which was found to have been reinforced.

"On searching the synagogue, four Sten guns, 11 magazines and four grenades were discovered underneath a rostrum."

The announcement said the house was blasted because shots were fired from it at a police station.

"Before being blown up, the house was searched and six armed Jewish settlement police were discovered, who claimed that they were guarding the adjoining synagogue," the announcement said.

The army first denied reports that the synagogue had been blasted.

Great Indignation

A Tel Aviv dispatch reporting he blowing up of the synagogue said Jews of the city were stirred to great indignation.

An Arab was shot to death today in an Arab suburb of Jerusalem. One Jew was killed and two others wounded when an armored bus was stopped at a roadbloc in upper Galilee and fired upon.

Hans Pinn, Tel Aviv news photographer and Associated Press representative, was wounded. Four men entered his home, shot him in the arm and fled.

Five Jews and four Arabs were shot to death yesterday. Three of the Arabs were slain by British soldiers shooting back at both Arab and Jewish snipers in Haifa.

Some persons watching the Jewish-Arab strife estimate that about 15,000 volunteer troops with uniforms and equipment have gathered in Palestine from surrounding Arab states.

Cabbie Drinking Witness Says

BELLEVILLE, Feb. 7 — (CP). — Witness Loreta Ryan told a coroner's jury that taxi-driver Robert Gannon and two women companions had been drinking shortly before the highway collision early Christmas morning that killed Gannon, 26, and Hilda Berry, 23, both of Belleville.

Seriously injured were Helen Munroe, 19, a passenger in the Gannon car, and those in the other automobile, Dr. Ralph Vandervoort, 23, Stirling dentist, and Mrs. Vandervoort.

On the trip from Belleville to nearby Wellman's Corners, Miss Ryan and her niece, June Dunham, who were paying fares, said they saw the driver and the two young women take an "occasional drink."

13 Jap Nationals Refused To Move

MOOSE JAW, Sask., Feb. 9 — (CP)—Thirteen Japanese Nationals quartered at the former Japanese relocation centre have defied sub-zero weather for nearly two days and refused to move from an unheated barrack hut because they feared they could not "get along" with other residents of the camp, it was learned last night.

Labor department officials cut off heat and light yesterday to conserve dwindling coal supplies and asked the occupants to move to another but a few hundred feet away, occupied by 33 employed Japanese.

The 13 people—all of them unemployed and ranging in age from 19 to 67—refused to move because there "might be trouble." One of them, 26-year-old Kunio Isomura, said they would not be able to get along with the other residents because "they were employed."

Whistle Kills Flies And Mosquitoes By Sound Waves Overheating Bodies

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 — (AP). — A siren whistle that kills flies and mosquitoes in 10 seconds is described in the journal of the Acoustical Society of America today.

The whistle is hooked to a horn that directs the sound. It has to be almost as close to the fly as a swatter.

The human risks of this whistle are new to science. They are reported by doctors C. H. Allen, H. Frings and I. Rudnick of the Pennsylvania State College. The scientists are hunting for some sort of a loud-speaker to kill crop insects.

The siren makes a noise too high-pitched for human ears to hear. But after a little while a person close to it gets dizzy. He does not have to be in the sound stream — in fact, if any part of him is directly in the beam of sound, close up, that part gets very hot.

If a hand is placed in the stream, with fingers touching, the places where they touch get burned.

Those who open their mouths while the whistle is blowing, feel a cool tickling sensation in their mouths. Some like it, others don't.

The reasons for these effects are not known, except the burning. The whistle kills the insects because the sound waves overheat their bodies. It heats anything the sound blast touches.

Canada's Foreign Trade Sets 5 Million Record, But Balance Down 50 PC

OTTAWA, Feb. 8—(CP).—Topping wartime record years, Canada's 1947 foreign trade spiralled past the five billion dollar mark, but her over-all favorable commodity trade balance slumped to almost half the 1946 level. Figures released by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics yesterday showed Canada's foreign trade for 1947 totalled $5,385,700,000, compared with $4,266,400,000 in 1946. The previous high was in 1944 when war materials formed the bulk of the total of $5,241,000,000.

Yet at the end of the year Canada's over-all trade balance with all countries was only $237,800,000, compared with $411,900,000 in the preceding year. On the debit side in favor of the United States was the sum of $918,100,000, compared with $496,700,000 in 1946; and on the credit side was a favorable balance with the United Kingdom of $564,300,000, compared with $397,400,000.

Importation of merchandise reached record values in 1947, totalling $2,573,900,000, compared with $1,927,300,000 in 1946, the previous peak year.

During 1947 Canada imported goods valued at $1,974,679,000 from the United States, compared with $1,405,297,000 in 1946 — a jump of almost 30 per cent. Similarly, imports from the United Kingdom were valued at $188,531,000 in 1947, against $141,341,000 in 1946— jump of about 26 per cent.

In the export field, 1947 showed up as the highest peacetime year, totalling $2,774,900,000, and topping the 1946 total by $462,700,000. Only three war years, 1943, 1944, and 1945, averaging $3,209,900,000, exceeded the 1947 level.

Stop Drinking In Lent Cardinal Asks

TORONTO, Feb. 9 — (CP). — A call to all Roman Catholics of the Toronto archdiocese to abstain from alcoholic beverages during Lent was made Sunday by James Cardinal McGuigan, Archbishop of Toronto. Catholics here said it was the first time the point had been so strongly stressed in the traditional Lenten appeals.

Reports from elsewhere in the Dominion indicated that it was not a general appeal. The call from His Eminence however was read in Catholic pulpits here in the form of a pastoral letter and was published in the Canadian Register, official church organ, drawing expressions of approval from leaders of other demnominations.

The call was made on the eve of Ash Wednesday which this week opens the Lenten season.

His Eminence declared in the message that "the ever-increasing consumption of such (alcoholic) beverages together with the growth and spread of so-called 'social drinking' are the causes of serious injury to individuals and to families."

He declared further: "The story of sin and misery directly attributable to excessive indulgence in intoxicants shows the need for united, earnest effort to better the situation."

Cardinal McGuigan's appeal brought immediate support from Rev. Dr. C. E. DeMille, general secretary of the Ontario Temperance Federation, who said at Toronto "I am thrilled to hear it." Rev. J. W. Macnamara, secretary of the Presbyterial church board of administration, said "I would go further than merely abstaining for Lent, but it is a move in the right direction."

Canadian Cancer Victim Urged To Postpone Trip

SYDNEY Australia, Feb. 9. — (CP) — Dr. Mossis, director-general of Public Health, today warned cancer sufferers overseas to await the outcome of investigations into the cancer cure claims of John Braund before coming to Australia for treatment.

Braund, Sydney layman whose claims of having cured the disease, has caused a world controversy, has had a telephone call from the husband of a 36-year-old Vancouver mother of two children who is said to be dying of cancer of the lungs.

Braund said he received the trans-Pacific call but told the husband that he did not wish to treat patients from overseas because he had a long waiting list in Australia.

He said he tried to dissuade the man from selling his home to finance the trip but assured the Canadians he would do the best for them if they arrived here.

Members of the medical committee investigating Braund's treatment met today to decide the standards by which the committee may examine the claims. The full committee meets tomorrow to begin an official investigation.

Prepares For Trip

Mrs. Jack Northam of Vancouver, 36-year-old cancer patient who has undergone four major operations for a lung condition, last night was reported preparing a trip to Baund's "clinic" in Sydney.

Doctors were said to have termed Mrs. Northam's life "a matter of time," and her husband was quoted, saying:

"After 17 years of marriage I cannot see her die before my eyes. If necessary I will sell everything I have in a gamble to save her."

Tweed Man Shoots Self After Chase

39-Year-Old Farmer Fled To Swamp As Constables Came

TWEED, Feb. 9 —(CP)—Shot through the head, the frozen body of Dearland Fraser, 39-year-old farmer, was found yesterday in a swamp a few hours after he fled from two police officers who sought to execute a warrant charging sex offences. Dr. D. M. Dales, district coroner, decided the man killed himself.

According to Const. John Hatch of the Ontario Provincial Police at Madoc, Fraser bolted through the back door of his home when two policemen rapped at the front to execute a warrant charging sex offenses.

Const. Hatch and W. H. Gould of Marmora drew their revolvers and yelled for Fraser to stop. The suspect, a rifle slung under his arm, sprinted through the fields and disappeared into the bush before the pair could catch him.

All district roads were guarded and a posse of policemen scoured the area through the night, but it was not until early Sunday that two officer on snowshoes found the body, slumped in a swamp three miles from the Fraser home. Consts. Hatch and Thomas Lummis made the discovery which brought the manhunt to a close.

Tough Life

Fraser, who lived at Stoco, four miles east of here, was given three months' suspended sentence when he appeared on Oct. 19, 1944, before Deputy Magistrate A. B. Collins in Belleville police court on a charge of indecent assault.

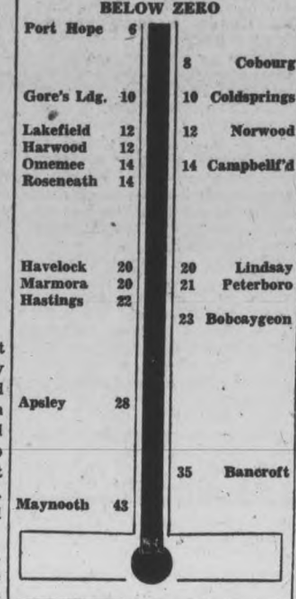
Although Fraser had $65 in his clothing when police found him, Mrs. Fraser reported that her only income for raising the children came from monthly Family Allowance cheques.

The wife told of threats against the life of a daughter and herself if the police ever learned about conditions. Her husband, she wrote Reeve Rush, had added force to the warnings by brandishing his rifle.

After the body was taken from the swamp, the finding of suicide was disclosed by the district coroner, Dr. M. G. Dales of Tweed and Crown Attorney B. C. Donnan, who said no inquest would be necessary.

Peterborough Hits 21 Below

It did not take the weather long to change from Saturday's wet snowstorm to skidding temperatures that hit the all-time district low for the year with Maynooth at -43. With two storm centres intensifying on both coastlines an outbreak of Polar air streamed south causing clear skies and low temperatures over most of the continent. The forecaster promises that this condition will continue throughout the day, maybe longer.



Bancroft was the next coldest spot in the district with -35 through the night and Apsley next with -28. Bobcaygeon stood -23, Hastings -22, Peterborough -21 and Havelock, Marmora and Lindsay, -20 each. From this point there was a skip of six degrees where nothing happened until the recording of -14 at Omemee and Roseneath. The low at Lakefield, Harwood, Norwood and Bewdley was -12, with -10 at Gore's Landing and Coldsprings. Cobourg showed only -8 and the warmest at Port Hope with -6 degrees.

Factory Fire Threatens Town; Seek Fire Bug

GRIMSBY, Feb. 9 —(CP)—The Ontario Fire Marshal's Department was called in to investigate the possibility of incendiarism in a blaze that early today destroyed the rambling William Hewson Basket Factory and for a time threatened this town of 2,500.

Firemen from nearby Hamilton and Beamsville joined in fighting the blaze which caused damage estimated by firemen at between $100,000 and $125,000.

"We thought for a time the whole town was doomed," said Fire Chief Alfred Le Page. "When we reached the factory a few minutes after midnight, the whole building was ablaze."

The fire sent columns of smoke and flame towering on the Lake Ontario shore, visible in St. Catharines and Hamilton. A large part of the town was without hydro service for most of the night after wires were cut near the scene.

The cause of the fire was unknown but it was believed to have originated in the factory storage area where thousands of newly-made baskets were stacked.

Later in the morning firemen were still directing three lines of hose into the ruins.

While the fire was at its height sparks carried over a large section of town to the northeast and roofs of two homes on Adelaide street were set ablaze. Residents of the area, fearing their homes were doomed, moved their furniture out and took children to homes in other districts.

47 Killed In Korea As Sabotage Spreads

SEOUL, Korea, Feb. 9—(AP)— Forty-seven deaths were attributed today to widespread sabotage in South Korea. The riots were aimed at forcing the United Nations Commission for Korea to leave the country. An anonymous report to national police headquarters warned "riots in Seoul tonight." United States army authorities reported all was quiet however.

Among those slain in Saturday's demonstrations and disruptions of rail and telegraph service were 36 civilians and 11 policemen.

The UN commission was sent here to plan country-wide elections preliminary to establishment of Korean self-government.

Lose One Propeller One On Plane Killed

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 9—(AP)— Loss of one propeller blade in flight caused the freak mishap which killed one crewman and imperilled 68 others aboard an Eastern Air Lines Constellation over the Atlantic Saturday, the Air Transport Company reported today.

The company described the dramatic incident in this way:

One blade flew off the propeller on No. 3 engine and ripped through the cabin, killing Gilbert Folz, flight attendant. The plane then was 130 miles at sea from Brunswick, Ga., and 300 miles from the field at Bunnell, Fla., where it made its landing.

2000 Raiders Killed In Kashmir

Say 11,000 Attackers Strike In Waves, In Day, Night Battles

NEW DELHI, Feb. 9.—(AP).— The Indian army said today 2,000 Moslem raiders were killed Friday in the greatest battle of the Kashmir campaign.

Another 2,000 were declared wounded in the engagement near Naoshera, 50 miles northwest of Jammu, capital of the southern Kashmir province of Jammu.

The predominantly Hindu and Sikh forces of the Indian army were led by a Moslem, Brig. Muhammad Usman.

An official spokesman said 11,000 attackers struck in waves, using very heavy automatic weapons. They were repulsed in daylight but came back at night for hand to hand combat featuring sword play. The spokesman did not report Indian losses. Newspaper dispatches said two of the slain appeared to be foreign officers.

The army said it captured quantities of munitions and was heavily shelling Moslem positions. Machine-gun and mortar fire were returned.

Indian and Kashmir-state forces have been fighting Moslem tribesmen in Kashmir since last October. India, in which the state now is included, has accused neighboring Pakistan of supporting the tribesmen. The dispute is before the United Nations Security Council.

In India, two rival Moslem organizations were under government ban today in the latest aftermath of the assassination of Mohandas K. Gandhi.

Outlaw Two Groups

The Khaksars and the Moslem League National Guard were outlawed throughout India yesterday. The home industry said the reason is that they have contributed to communal strife. It accused the guard also of aiming at "disintegrating the country." They are the first Moslem groups declared illegal in Hindu-led India.

The Hindu Rashtriya Swayam Sevak Sangh (RSSS—National Volunteer Corps) was outlawed last Wednesday. The government explained its "cult of violence has claimed many victims," including Gandhi. That was two days after announcement of a

Dollar Shortage Limits Help From Canada

MONTREAL, Feb. 9 — (CP)— Finance Minister Abbott said today the Canadian shortage of United States dollars imposed "very real and immediate limitations upon the financial assistance we can provide" under the Marshall plan for European recovery.

In a speech prepared for delivery before the Canadian Lumbermen's Association, he reaffirmed that "in relation to population and national income Canada's contribution to world recovery probably exceeds that of any other country," but it was "by no means out of proportion to our national stake in the economic restoration of our overseas customers."

Mr. Abbott told the meeting Britain had exhausted $978,000,000 of her $1,250,000,000 post-war credit by January 31 and that other countries had used up $456,000,000 of $607,000,000 in the guarantees and credits advanced under the Export Credits Insurance Act. Thus, since the war, $1,434,000,000 in goods and services had been provided out of a contemplated total of $1,857,000,000.

Canada's massive contributions had looked to the day when trade could be resumed on a cash basis. The government has "hoped that before now there would have been a sufficient measure of recovery to enable European countries to export enough goods to ease their dollar shortage." Unfortunately, due to crop failures and Russian conduct, these hopes had been disappointed.

Instead, Canada now was plagued with her own shortage of US dollars.

Some Limitations

Canada could take heart from the Marshall plan, although "it would not be appropriate for me to indicate at this time how Canada will fit it."

"On the basis of our past record, I am confident that we will be prepared to continue to help within our capacity to do so. However, we have now our own dollar problem and there are very real and immediate limitations upon the financial assistance we can provide.

"One thing is clear — Canada will play an important role in the ERP as a major source of supply of essential foodstuffs, materials and equipment. Beyond that, our assistance in one way or another must inevitably be limited by our capacity."

Had $100,000 Estate Spinster Dies In Squalor

LYNBROOK, N.Y., Feb. 9. — (AP).—A rag-wrapped 400-pound spinster — one of two reputed wealthy sisters—died yesterday in the barricaded and junk-filled house where they had retired from the world 10 years ago.

A doctor had to climb through a kitchen window to reach the body of Elsie Wolff, 43, who apparently died of a heart attack.

Police then battered down the nailed and bolted rear door of the crumbling, two-storey, five-room house.

"Mother wanted us to live here," said the surviving sister, Edith, 47, who had cared for the semi-invalid Elsie.

The sisters, their neighbors said, locked themselves in the kitchen after the death of their father, a merchant. Their mother, Lena, died about 20 years ago.

Stacks of tin cans, boxes, newspapers and other debris littered the kitchen. The other rooms were crammed with junk and with merchandise mostly unsaleable—which they had moved from their father's store.

The house was without electricity, gas or water. A kerosene stove in the kitchen was the only comfort.

A relative estimated the sisters' total wealth at $100,000. Yesterday, the elder sister leaned out the kitchen window and called to a passing boy to summon a doctor for Elsie. Six men were needed to carry out the body.

One Captured At Hotel By Policemen

Passer-By Noticed 3 Men Loading Safe Into Auto

TORONTO, Feb. 9 — (CP) — Arrested during an alleged attempt to hold up an east-end hotel David Nolan, 22, will be charged with armed robbery and shopbreaking, police said today.

Nolan was trapped early today by a squad of police which surrounded Voxwell Inn on Danforth Ave. Three others escaped with a safe containing $1,800.

Police responded to a call from a citizen who said he saw the safe being loaded into an automobile. Police said Nolan was holding at gunpoint John Higgins, a watchman, as his accomplices fled at the sight of approaching police cars. The trapped gunman threatened to use Higgins as a hostage but had no opportunity as a squad of officers dashed into the hotel.

Higgins told police that he was washing the floor at 3 a.m. when he heard a noise behind him. As he went to get up a gun was pressed into his back and he was "wheeled into a corner."

When police arrived the gunman told Higgins "I think I'll make you go out first and then I'll come out behind you."

He failed to do so, but made Higgins promise he would not identify him in court.

Flier's Romance Ends Happily

ST. MORITZ, Feb. 9 (CP)—A romance, begun in Copenhagen four years ago, reached a happy ending today with the marriage of Flying Officer Hubert Brooks of Montreal, a member of the R.C.A.F. hockey team which won the Olympic championship yesterday, and Birthe Grontved, 26-year-old Norwegian.

Bridesmaids for the ceremony in the chapel of the Roman Catholic church here, included Barbara Ann Scott, Canada's other Olympic winner, filling that role for the second time in her 19 years.

The romance started when Brooks was shot down in Europe during the war and made his way to Copenhagen where he met the five-foot two-inch Birthe and fell in love. He had returned to Canada and was trying to arrange his fiancee's entry when the fifth winter Olympics, which ended yesterday, gave him the opportunity of coming back to Europe.

Players on the R.C.A.F. Flyers formed an honor guard with upraised sticks. The bride was given away by Group Capt. Robert Cameron of Toronto and Winnipeg, air attache at Prague. Sqdn.-Ldr. A. G. (Sandy) Watson, manager of the Flyers, was best man.

Miss Scott, who won the Olympic women's figure skating crown, was dressed in black chiffon and stole the spotlight after the ceremony when photographers insisted that she pose kissing the bridegroom.

Find Dog In Well After 37 Days

PERTH, Feb. 9 — (CP). — Nigger, a black spaniel, was back in the home of his master, Garnet King, today, quite a bit thinner but otherwise none the worse for spending 37 days in an abandoned well.

The dog disappeared on New Year's day and for the last two weeks, children and residents had heard a dog barking but had paid little attention.

Then two children approached a half-demolished stone house following the dog's bark and discovered the dog at the bottom of an old uncovered 10-foot-deep well, still alive.

Nigger was brought up by a young lad who was tied to a rope by Provincial Constable J. E. Grubbe and lowered into the well. The dog trotted to the road and made his way back to his master's house — a mere 17 pounds of his former 55

Lands Airplane In Backyard; No One Injured

BARRIE, Feb. 9. — Lynn Bosworth of Toronto, RCAF veteran, and former instructor at the Barrie Flying Club, made the 13th forced landing of his career here Sunday, but it wasn't an unlucky one for the pilot and his passenger. They walked away without a scratch.

Doing some fast thinking when the engine of the two-seater died at an altitude of about 300 feet, Bosworth picked the backyard of Mrs. Marjory Hamilton's home on High St. for a landing field. With him in the light plane was Russell Londry, local garageman.

The plane came down between the Hamilton home and the Gospel Hall on Parkside Dr., where a service was in progress, and Bosworth purposely guided the machine toward a pine tree, hitting it with one wing. This served to break the speed and spin the plane around in the direction of the backyard. The forced landing was simple after that.

About four inches of snow helped to cushion the jar as the plane came down on its skiis. The congregation at the Gospel Hall service was unaware of what happened.

The wing which hit the tree was badly damaged, and the propellor was smashed. Bosworth and Londry, emerged without even a shaking up.

Visitor Takes Wrong Turn Dies In Flaming House

PORT COLBORNE, Feb. 9 — (CP). — A wrong turning in a strange house was blamed today for the suffocation death of Mrs. Mabel Glaser of Williamburg, N.Y., and of her hostess, Minnie Boneberg, who tried to rescue her from a blazing house and was trapped with her. A third occupant, Mary Smith, escaped.

Firemen said the fire started early Sunday when an automatic stoker kept feeding coal to the furnace of the two-storey brick building until the extra load forced open the furnace door and spilled live coals onto kindling wood spread on the floor.

Miss Boneberg, organist at First Lutheran Church, was awakened by the smoke and turned in the alarm. Clad in pyjamas and slippers, she and Miss Smith reached the street but Miss Boneberg turned back to assist Mrs. Glaser, who was groping through the house at which she arrived the previous day for a visit.

Firemen who smashed in the front door found the two bodies a few feet from the threshold. Mrs. Glaser's body lay near the living room doorway. Her hostess was huddled in a hallway at the foot of the stairs. Firemen used inhalators 90 minutes in an effort to revive the victims.

It was the second case of multiple suffocation here in two weeks. Three young children were asphyxiated Jan. 25 by a ventless gas hot water heater at the home of Wilfred Eden at nearby Humberstone.

Just west of here, fire destroyed the 50-year-old Wainfleet Baptist Church with loss estimated at $25,000. Roswell Bailey, a member of the board of deacons, said the fire might have started from a defective chimney.

Flyers Take Olympic Hockey Crown

By JACK SULLIVAN

ST. MORITZ, Feb. 9.—(CP).—The fifth winter Olympics were ended but the discord of an unprecedented hockey row lingered on today as the athletes, with the exception of the figure-skating contingent led by Canada's Barbara Ann Scott, headed for their homes in 28 countries.

Miss Scott, who became the first Canadian woman to win an Olympic figure skating crown, will defend her world title this week at nearby Davos, competing against much the same field she whipped last week.

Canada made a creditable showing in the games, finishing ninth with 24¼ points. Thirteen of the 28 countries failed to score a point.

While Miss Scott's victory in the women's skating has been taken for granted days before the games began Jan. 30, the biggest surprise of the Olympics was the outstanding victory the Dominion scored in hockey.

RCAF Flyers, Canada's representatives, were given little chance to defeat the top-notch Czech and Swiss teams. But the Flyers showed a biased Olympic hockey crowd that they were the best of the nine countries competing by going undefeated in nine games.

The Canadians clinched the hockey crown yesterday by shutting out Switzerland 3-0 while Czechoslovakia was hard-pressed by the United States who finally succumbed 4-3, thus preserving the Czechs undefeated record.

Canada, although tied for first place by the Czechs, won on the basis of a better goal average.

Get 10 Points

The RCAF got 10 of the Dominion's points, Miss Scott 10 more, four were for a third place in the mixed pairs figure skating and a quarter of a point for speed skating.

Canada's third place in the mixed pairs came when Suzanne Morrow and Wally Distelmeyer, both of Toronto, placed third behind world champions Micheline Lannoy and Pierre Baugniet of Belgium.

Frank Stack of Winnipeg got the quarter point for Canada by finishing in a four-way tie with sixth place in the 500-metre speed skating.

The IOC president, J. Sigfrid Edstrom of Sweden said of hockey now:

"I do not think the crisis will have any effect on the summer games in London," he said.

The I.O.C. struck boldly to prevent future disputes. It made a draft rewrite of the Olympic regulations, which Edstrom acknowleged were "contradictory." After final polishing, they will be published, probably next summer.

Won't Lease House For Long Term

Lease of Trafalgar House at Nicholls Oval to the Optimist Club for a youth training and recreation centre has been granted by the city council on the recommendation of the parks committee of which Ald. Herbert Young is chairman. In the discussion of the club's request, the only hesitation by the committee was caused by the term of lease.

Optimists had asked for five years with the intention of expending a substantial sum in improving the building, with option of extension of the lease for a second five years. In a period of ten years something might arise, it was said, by which city would require the property, and for that reason a ten year lease might be too long.

LAWYER'S CAR SLIDES TOO

During cross-examination of PPC Joseph Hanson in a traffic case in court this morning, defence counsel William Grant was sure of his ground from personal experience, as he asked the police witness the effects of a slight slope of the road when driving in icy weather. "I'll give you two dollars if you can start your car from my driveway without assistance," said Mr. Grant, adding "I've already pushed my heart out with guests' cars so far this winter." The constable agreed a slope did make a difference.

NO WEEK-END FIRES

Firemen had an exceptionally easy week-end as no fires were reported. Early Saturday afternoon sparks were observed coming from the chimney at Hood and Cumming Motors Ltd., 276 George St. When checked both furnace and chimney proved satisfactory. High and low pressures in the sprinkler systems caused automatic alarms on Sunday from B. F. Ackerman and Son Co., George St., and Canadian Sealright Co. Ltd., 25 Aylmer St. N., respectively.

Worthless Cheque Charge Dismissed

Lack of evidence that there was not an account in the Cooksville branch of the Bank of Montreal, was the main feature in dismissing the charge against George Douglas, 330 Water Street, who faced a charge of passing a cheque for $8.50 which 'bounced' when presented for payment.

Richard Jones, assistant accountant at the Bank of Montreal here, testified that the account could not be traced at the Cooksville branch on which a cheque had been drawn. It had been signed "George Green." Magistrate Philp KC said that this was not sufficient evidence that such an account did not exist.

Accused alleged that the cheque had been posted to him from George Green who owed a certain sum of money to accused in payment for a radio. Douglas tried to cash the cheque and said that he had no idea that the signee had not an account in the bank.

Select Halifax Synod Locale

OTTAWA, Feb. 9 — (CP). — Most Rev. George Frederick Kingston, Anglican Archbishop of Nova Scotia and Primate of All Canada, announced today that the general synod of the Anglican Church will be held in Halifax in early September, 1949.

At a press conference, the Primate said it was decided this week by church authorities to hold the synod in Halifax where the oldest Anglican Church in Canada, St. Paul's, will celebrate its 200th anniversary.

This will be the Primate's first general synod since his election to succeed the late Primate Derwyn T. Owen.

Archbishop Kingston said that the general synod will present a memorial to mark the 200th anniversary of St. Paul's which was established as a royal foundation in 1749. The ancient wooden church is still intact and it is believed to be one of the oldest Protestant churches in the British Overseas Dominions.

Turning to the question of union of Protestant churches in Canada. The Primate said all parties believed in the ultimate accomplishment of union but "would admit it will be a long time" before complete union is possible.

He said at present the Anglican Church and the United Church are discussing the matter in relation to "a mutually acceptable ministry."

Diamond Ring Case Tossed Out

Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, dismissed the charge against William Joslin, Douro, an employee at the City incinerator plant, who had been remanded to Saturday's court on a charge of stealing a diamond ring.

Previous evidence showed that the accused said he found the ring on January 17 among some garbage being processed at the incinerator. According to evidence given, Thomas Medland, a fellow worker, said he accompanied accused to two city jewellers to have the ring appraised.

Accused took the ring to Toronto where one jeweller appraised it at $200 and another at $180. Accused requested the appraiser to advise him if anyone reported the loss of the ring. One jeweller, Frank P. Gishman, 630 Reid St., Toronto, who appraised the ring at $180 said accused offered to sell it to him for $65. The jeweller refused to buy the ring and advised Joslin to report the finding to the police.

On his return to Peterborough, and upon being questioned by Roy J. Thompson, superintendent of the city sanitation department, accused told him that the ring had been lost.

Magistrate advised the accused that he was a very lucky man in having the charge dismissed, and though there was no proof that the ring had been stolen, he had had a very close call.

Deny School At Cobourg Has Improper Conditions

TORONTO, Feb. 9. —Officials of the Ontario Department of Reform Institutions said Sunday night they are able to refute by their own records, criticism of the Ontario Training School for Girls at Cobourg made by Toronto free-lance writer Gwenyth Barrington. They also produced material from statements written by Mrs. Barrington on her return from the school in August, 1947, which, they said, contradicted her more recent charges "of improper conditions in the schools."

Part of her report to Minister of Reform Institutions George Dunbar reads: "During my four days' stay at the school I felt exactly as if I had returned to my own boarding school as a young girl and was no longer an adult, but a child rebelling and at times approving of the disciplines which I saw imposed."

Less than two weeks ago, before the annual meeting of the Local Council of Women, Mrs. Barrington condemned "flogging of the girls who are fed on bread and water." She declared that "terrible things would happen if the girls are not segregated and properly trained into the social life of the nation"; she found "unwanted girls living with delinquents and incorrigibles."

Last night, these statements were declared 'fantastically untrue" by Mrs. Isabel Ross, former chairman of the Toronto Board of Education and a social worker of wide experience. She said: "It is fantastic to think that a woman, entirely inexperienced in institutional work for delinquent children, would come to such a conclusion after four days' association with the girls at Cobourg."

She's Confused

A. R. Virgin, director of Reform Institutions for the province, said: "Mrs. Barrington has confused much of her information with conditions at Mercer Reformatory, where hardened women criminals are placed and there is a definite custodial problem."

The annual report of the school shows that 52 per cent. of the commitments were below the normal range of intelligence.

Mrs. Barrington is reported to have said: "I couldn't stand it after four days." One of her reasons was: "One girl had to squat on the floor for 12 hours and eat only bread and water."

Mr. Virgin said the Cobourg school was inspected by its advisory board on Sept. 24, 1947, and the following report was made: "We were impressed first of all by the definitely general atmosphere of happiness in the school. We met quite a number of the girls personally, but in not any single case did we have any complaints."

Warkworth Doctor Dies In Church

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 9. — (Special)—Death came to Dr. Claude C. Armstrong, Warkworth physician, while attending services at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church here Sunday morning. Rev. C. A. Mullin had just finished his sermon and Dr. Armstrong, a member of the board of stewards, was moving a vote of thanks to Robert Walker for his recent donation to the church when he was seized with a heart attack and died before arrival of Dr. F. B. Britnell.

Dr. Armstrong was active in Masonic circles and was a member of Warkworth Chapter, RAM, and Percy Lodge, AF and AM, and also took a keen interest in lawn bowling. He was a native of Deseronto and had practiced in Warkworth district for 40 years.

Surviving are his widow, the former Alice Dinwoodie of Campbellford; one daughter, Mrs. John Layton of Belleville and one son, Alexander, at home.

Low-Cost House Plan

MONTREAL, Feb. 9. (CP) — A low-cost housing plan, calling for use of substitutes for building materials in short supply and modern construction methods to eliminate high-priced skilled labor, was placed before the provincial command housing committee of the Canadian Legion at a special week-end meeting.

Oshawa Skier Fractures Leg

COBOURG, Feb. 9 (ENS). — William Harris, 13-year-old TCS boy, whose home is in Oshawa, was taken to Cobourg General Hospital with a broken leg received in a skiing accident on Saturday. It is stated that Harris was going up the tow when he failed to let go of the rope when it neared the top and made the ascent towards the post which holds the rope pulley. Harris did not reach the safety gate which is used to stop the tow, but let go and dropped to the snowy surface. His momentum carried him on and he collided with one of the posts which braces the terminal of the tow. Members of the Northumberland Forest Ski Club ski patrol set the leg in splints and removed him to a doctor.

Cider Douses Fire

CORLAND, NY, Feb. 9—(AP).—When fire broke out in a gasoline engine used to pump water farmer Frank Harris grabbed for the cider barrels nearby. "I hated to have it (the cider) go to waste," he said, "but I didn't want to lose my house. It (the cider) was really good too." He said he used 70 gallons to douse the flames before a fire truck arrived.

Two CNR Assistant Secretaries Named

MNOTREAL, Feb. 9.— D. I. Grant, K.C., of Toronto, and J. M. Young, of Montreal, have been appointed assistant secretaries, Canadian National Railways, it was announced here today.

D. I. GRANT

Douglas Irving Grant was born at Orillia and joined the Law Department of the National System as a solicitor at Toronto on August 1st, 1930. He matriculated from St. Andrew's College, Toronto, following which he attended the University of Toronto, in 1919-20. He graduated from Osgoode Law School, Toronto, in 1926. His father was the late Hon. Mr. Justice David Inglis Grant, Justice of Appeal of the Supreme Court of Ontario.

John McLaren Young was born at Kilmarnock, Scotland, and started his business career at Montreal in 1919. The following year he moved to Cornwall, where he joined the Canadian Linoleums and Oilcloth Ltd. He returned to Montreal in April, 1923, and entered the service of the Canadian National Raailways.

However, creamery butter production showed an increase of 44,224 pounds over 1946, the total being 184,502 pounds.

December butter production was 13,083 pounds, 1,110 pounds more than in December, 1946.

Held For Murder

THREE RIVERS, Que., Feb. 9. (CP)—Fernand Grenier, 25-year-old business man held criminally responsible Friday by a coroner's jury of the death of 15-year-old Rita Lafontaine, was arralgned Saturday before Judge Douard Langlois on a charge of murder. He is alleged to have strangled the girl with her own scarf and to have hanged her from the fire escape of the suburban St. Angele school.

Hit, Run Victim Has Leg Broken

COBOURG, Feb. 9 (ENS). — Eighteen-year-old Danny Parsons of Cobourg received a broken leg on Saturday morning at 12:30 when struck by a hit-and-run driver. The youth was escorning Miss Geraldine Frichette of Toronto to the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. McAnerin on William Street, where she was a guest. The couple were walking on the west side of the street, proceeding north and just in front of the McAnerin home, a north-bound car, which was passing another car, struck Parsons.

Miss Frichette said that they had been walking arm in arm, and the car yanked him forward about 125 feet. The force of the impact tore a golosh and shoe from one foot. His companion ran into the nearby McAnerin home for help and Tom Hogan and Joe Lavis went to the aid of the accident victim. Chief W. J. Carey is investigating.

The Dominion Of Ceylon

The British Crown Colony of Ceylon was granted independence on December 11th and on February 4th, when the Ceylon Independence Act became effective, Ceylon became a Dominion. Prime Minister King cabled a goodwill message to its Prime Minister and our High Commissioner to India is representing Canada during the week's festivities in Colombo, the capital of the island Dominion.

• • •

Ceylon is a 25,000 square mile island south and east of the south tip of India. It has a population of 6,500,000. Its new flag is the traditional Singhalese banner in use for 2,000 years before the Portuguese established overlordship in 1517. In the next century the Dutch deposed the Portuguese authority. In 1759 a British force defeated the Dutch garrisons and began the British rule which lasted until this week. Many Dutch burghers remained and their descendants still do most of the clerical work in government departments.

• • •

Ceylon will be cordially welcomed into the British Commonwealth of Nations., and as self-government develops will have equal partnership with other Dominions. It is the third Indian Ocean colony to achieve self-government this year. Burma became an independent nation outside the Commonwealth on January 4th and on February 1st self-rule was proclaimed in the Federated Malay States. The extension of self-government in Indonesia—from British India to the Dutch colonies in the south—has been greatly accelerated by the war. Colonialism has become an archaic term.

Friction In The U.S. Republican Party

An indication of the growing friction in the United States Republican Party was the recent announcement by Harold E. Stassen, candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination, that he would enter the Ohio primaries in May, in opposition to Senator Robert Taft. Ohio, Senator Taft's home state, had hitherto been regarded as his unassailable stronghold, and Mr. Stassen's bold challenge changed the appearance of the entire race for the Republican Party nomination for President.

Senator Taft answered Mr. Stassen's announcement bravely, describing the move as "a great mistake from (Mr. Stassen's) own standpoint", adding "I am delighted that he has selected Ohio, where he has no chance of success". It is possible, however, that Senator Taft was not as delighted as he claimed to be. A few days before the Stassen announcement, the senator heard of the Stassen plans and asked for an interview. The two men met in Stassen's hotel suite in Washington. No report of what they said is available, but it is reliably reported that they did not part amicably. Mr. Stassen next day announced that he would contest the Ohio primaries.

For the benefit of readers unfamiliar with U.S. party political procedure, a primary is a state election to determine the candidate or candidates to be supported by the state's delegates to a national convention. Ohio, for instance, has fifty-three seats in the Republican national convention; these seats have hitherto been regarded as fifty-three solid votes for Senator Taft. Mr. Stassen has expressed the hope that twenty-three of the seats will endorse his candidacy at the convention—probably an unduly optimistic expectation. Nevertheless, supporters of Senator Taft are worried by the situation, for even a partly successful showing by Mr. Stassen in Ohio could seriously affect the senator's chances of winning the Republican nomination.

If Mr. Stassen proves strong enough to capture the number of Ohio seats he hopes to win, his chance of success would improve at the expense of the Ohio senator. But even if Mr. Stassen won only a third of that number of seats, it would dim Mr. Taft's hopes, although the candidate likely to benefit in that event would be Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, who has proved his ability to get votes and whose platform on domestic and foreign affairs is roughly half-way between those of Stassen and Taft.

The Ohio primaries may thus become almost a preview of the Republican national convention. In the meantime, Mr. Stassen will continue his aggressive campaign, the most vigorous waged by any of the four candidates to announce entry in the race to date. He represents the progressive element in the Republican Party; conservative in domestic affairs, he is an internationalist and a stronge supporter of the Marshall Plan. Lack of long political experience may handicap him, although he has served three terms as Governor of Minnesota. One thing is now certain, however, and that is that Mr. Stassen has made himself sufficiently important as a candidate to alter the course of all other candidates in the race for the Republican nomination.

Two And a Half Years After Potsdam

On July 17th, 1945, President Truman, Generalissimo Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill (replaced after the elections by Mr. Attlee) met with their Foreign Secretaries (Byrnes, Molotov and Eden—later Bevin) in the Potsdam district outside Berlin to determine policy after the German surrender on May 8th, 1945. The terms agreed on at Potsdam have been ignored or abrogated, except for the denazification of Germany and the destroying of the German General Staff—the last of the trials are now taking place.

The Council of Foreign Ministers which it established (including the U.K., U.S.A., U.S.S.R., France, China) has not accomplished its "immediate important task" of drawing up peace treaties, except for Italy, and it has become almost extinct. The setting up of the four zones of occupation planned at Yalta in February of that year was carried out, but the central organization of finance, transport, communications and foreign trade has been a fiasco. One sentence in the document which Stalin signed has been ignored: "So far as is practicable, there shall be uniformity of treatment of the German population throughout Germany". Russia has not allowed free elections, a degree of free speech, press and free trade unions as promised. It has seen fit to ransack Germany and its former satellites for reparations, contrary to limiting clauses in the Potsdam Agreement.

Since unanimity of purpose does not exist and Russia has drawn the "iron curtain" across Germany, Britain and the United States have united their zones of occupation into what journalists call "Bizonia". France has been invited to add her zone, but is unlikely to do so until agreement is reached about the Ruhr.

Germany is at the core of Europe's problems. Russia has been unwilling to assist in its rehabilitation except on her own terms, which are far removed from the clause in the Agreement which states: "It is the intention of the Allies that the German people be given the opportunity to prepare for the eventual reconstruction of their life on a democratic and peaceful basis". Division of Germany is not desirable, but it is better than having the whole country organized according to Russia's theory of democracy.

NOTE AND COMMENT

"Pensioners Now Enjoy Push Tourist Hotel" reads a headline in the Globe and Mail. We think that our elder citizens should not be pushed around like that, even in a posh hotel.

Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh have announced the appointment of Lieutenant John Parker as their personal aide. Lieutenant Parker is an Australian. We do not expect that this will lead to any down-under power behind the throne.

St. Moritz, Switzerland, is in as humiliating a position as Peterborough which has no artificial ice, no enclosed rink. Barbara Ann Scott had to skate on soft ice melted by the sun before the day's Olympics ice events were postponed. That is almost as bad as having to postpone a local Midgets' game because of the weather.

We wish people would stop inventing rumours. Mr. Mackenzie King announced his retirement; the rumour gets about that he doesn't mean what he says. Now the rumour is that he may become the next Governor-General. Mr. King is still Prime Minister and Viscount Alexander has been in office fewer than two years.

"Of Cabbages and Kings"

By PETER ELIOT

SIDNEY Dark—he died last October at the are of 71—wrote more than fifty volumes, most of then worth reading. Fortunately he has given us his own story in "Not Such a Bad Life" (a book of engaging anecdotes, portraits and goings-on in London over the past half century). His acquaintances were not always types known to the average writer.

"Ray Lankester", he says, "was an extremely rude old man, except to the few people whom he liked. I first met him when I was editing "John o' London Weekly", and arranged for the republication in its columns of the admirable popular scientific essays which first appeared in the "Daily Telegraph" and were published in book form with the title "Science from an Armchair". The old man always remembered this not unprofitable transaction, and we were very good friends.

"When he was curator of the National History Museum he ordered one of the rooms to be repainted without consulting the trustees, who, at their next session, severely censured him for going outside his powers.

'We don't like the new paint', said the chairman, 'and we must ask you to arrange to have it taken off.' 'I thought you'd say that,' growled Lankester, 'but it won't come off.'

"One afternoon, when the Savile was in its old location in Piccadilly, Lankester caught his foot in a piece of torn oilcloth and fell with a crash. All sorts of people rushed to his help, and one man was particularly insistent. 'I hope, Sir Ray,' he said, 'you are not hurt. I had a very similar accident some time ago....' And the old man interrupted, 'Brown, I'm in no mood for anecdotes.'

❖ ❖ ❖

"TOWARDS the end of his life, his brother, Owen, took Sir Ray Lankester to the Zoo, and he was drawn round the grounds in a bath-chair. The bath-chair man was chatty, and of course not knowing that his passenger was a distinguished naturalist, was full of useful information. 'That's the eagle, Sir, very fierce bird', and so on. Lankester said nothing until the man was drawing him down the inclined plane for the aquarium. 'Don't be afraid, Sir, I shant upset you,' he said, reassuringly. 'And you bloody well better not,' was the reply.

FORBES Lankester, the police magistrate, was as rude as his elder brother, without his distinction. Owen, the youngest, a genial mountain of a man, was a doctor, and to Ray's disgust a keen churchman and one of the churchwardens at St. Martins-in-the-fields. 'They tell me', Ray once said, 'that my brother has quite a good medical practise. God help his patients!'

Dark continues: "The late Canon Hepher, of Winchester, was a mimic of genius — he would have made a fortune on the variety stage — and one night after dinner at the deanery he gave a perfect imitation, in manner and matter of Mackay preaching a sermon on the Prodigal Son. It went something like this: 'George, the elder brother, was out shootin'. When he returned home in the late afternoon he found some unexpected luggage in the hall. 'To whom does that luggage belong? he asked the second footman. And the man replied 'To your younger brother, Sir, who has arrived unexpectedly.' 'Oh, indeed,' said George, 'and where is he now?' 'With his lordship, your father, and we have been busy telephoning to your friends and relations, arranging a dinner party to welcome your brother home.' 'Very well,' said George, 'bring me a sandwich and a glass of claret into the library.'"

SPEAKING of journalists, James (better known as) "Jimmie" Dunn, gives a vivid account in "Paperchase" of the newsman's calling.

"Memories that make newspapermen grin? I knew a 'runner' in Wolverhampton. In newspaper jargon a 'runner' is a man who brings in odd items of news, accidents, fires, anything: and according to the value of his information he is given a few shillings.

"This runner brought in news of a man who had had an accident in an alley. This was somewhat unusual and the runner was given a little extra. The next night another man had an accident in another alley. The runner was given a little extra. But when, on the next night, a third man had an accident in an alley, the police began to take notice. They had a shrewd suspicion that the runner was manufacturing his own news. The next time he was picked up by them, and he was always being picked up by them, he undoubtedly got a little extra. But he sold the news of his arrest for half a crown. A philosopher."

His final scholastic appearance was sensational. Appointed to deliver a commencement recitation he selected that passage from "The Cloister and the Hearth" where Gerard escapes on a silken cord from the window of the donjon keep, lowering himself dizzily (and recurrently) 'down—down—down'. The first two repetitions passed uneventfully, but the secret telegraph had been operative in the audience and his schoolmates were ready and waiting for the next time. The unconscious orator, warmed to his theme, continued:

"He passed a rusty, slimy streak on the wall; it was some ten feet long. The rope made his hands very hot. He stole a look up. The prison window was a good way off now. Down—down—down"—

The whole auditorium caught the theme on the beat. In joyous antiphony they thundered:

"Down, down, DOWN, where the Wursburger flows, flows, flows" and so on until the thwarted elocutionist was washed completely out on the waves of harmony. Due to the chagrin of this contretemps, his academic pride and loyalty were so effectually quashed that he sold his gold medal, awarded as an essay prize, to a pawnbroker for $3.40."

SIR Phillip Gibbs was one of the most charming, as he was one of the cleverest, of newspapermen, and with Ashton of the "Morning Leader", and Kennedy, of the "Daily Chronicle", formed a trio unequalled in the Fleet Street of today. He made little money out of "The Street of Adventure", the manuscript of which, by the way, he once left in a tram-car, but that book has been responsible for scores of young men and women taking up journalism as their trade.

Gibbs shares the dubious honour, of leaving manuscripts ungarded, with Lawrence of Arabia, except that Lawrence was not as fortunate as Sir Phillip. He put his first manuscript on a seat in Reading Station and it vanished. At first he declared that he would never rewrite it but his friends persuaded him. So intense was his belief in his mission that he once wrote for forty-eight hours at a stretch.

NOT A REAL GHOST —JUST THE BOYS DRESSED UP AGAIN

Letter To The Editor

CENTRE PRIMARILY A RINK

Sir: Members of the Memorial Centre Committee have shown a remarkable degree of forbearance in the face of much criticism lately. Most opinions expressed by the various correspondents to your columns however, are destructive in nature while few seem to have any constructive suggestions to offer.

This is quite natural, since the men selected for the work were the best in the city and it follows that if they are unable to complete the project as soon as most of us would like to see it done, it is a safe bet that no critic writing in these columns can show how such a project can be finished in less time.

Don't let me give the impression that all the correspondents have bad intentions as they direct shafts at the committee. Most of them mean well no doubt but their remarks indicate they are ignorant of some of the facts.

The committee has been faced from the outset with a gigantic task impossible they believe of immediate accomplishment. Funds have been insufficient with rising costs, material such as structural steel is at a premium, the matter of a site has led to no end of controversy and the original plans have proven enigmatical to many in that some folks apparently felt that a rink was to be the principal feature of the project whereas now it has been revealed that there is to be much besides an ice-surface for hockey, included in the plans.

Naturally, all this and more has to be ironed out and more money made available before the committee feel confident to proceed with the work. It would seem they are on firm ground when they ask for further time.

It is true many communities around here have natural-ice rinks for hockey. Most of these are the old shacks whereas we want a rink in keeping with the dignity of a city of this size and with an artificial-ice surface.

However, in view of the fact that the original Centre cannot be built immediately, according to the committee and due to a very pressing need for a closed rink of some kind, the idea of a secondary rink seems to meet with a measure of popular favour. It is to be hoped though that in our haste and anxiety to do something quickly, to alleviate a desperate need, we do not end up with two mediocre rinks—instead of one good one.

It will cost considerable to maintain these buildings even after construction costs and if a secondary rink proves attractive enough, it may give the Centre more than a run for its money, after the latter has also been erected. Hockey will attract big crowds and if one rink had a monopoly on the games, the revenue of the other would be sadly depleted indeed. Sportsmen will be partial to the first rink built and who can blame them?

Another possibility—all contributors to the original fund should consider at this time, is that of a change in Memorial plans, once a rink has been erected. Later on, a move might be attempted to defeat the inclusion of a rink at all in the new Centre and substitute other attractions using the argument that one rink of any kind is enough for the city. Therefore, I point out the possibility to sportsmen here and would suggest that for the sake of the future of Peterborough as a whole in the realm of sport, they should know exactly where they stand, right now.

In my opinion, it would be ten times better if the Centre could be built first. If it were to be, I doubt if a secondary closed rink would ever be built because it would not be needed.

One final word: If the committee make the error of erecting this auditorium either in a corner of territory not readily accessible, or near the river, they will make the mistake of their lives.

To facilitate the reception and dismissal of crowds the auditorium should be situated on a piece of level ground accessible for some distance, in all directions. King Edward Park is the ideal site, of course, if the ground itself is suitable and an alternative location would be the present site of the Children's Shelter. The tract of land south of Lansdowne is also a good piece of territory.

If it is true, as has been stated, that this territory was ceded to private interests, I believe the municipality should attempt to gain control of it through a Private Bill at Toronto as has been suggested by Mr. Gordon. I cannot think of a single piece of land which it is more essential for the city to have control over for expansion plans, than this same territory. Nothing worthwhile can be done south of Lansdowne until this area is opened up.

A fine auditorium will mean more to this city than most people realize and that is why I say it would be lamentable if in our anxiety to build too quickly we end up with two mediocre structures rather than one outstanding auditorium. My dear fellow citizens:

If we can't erect a primary rink (call it a Memorial Centre if you will, but it is till primarily a rink building and don't forget it) how can money enough be raised for a secondary rink? And if this latter aim can be accomplished, why not force the committee to begin the Centre now and use all available funds to make it the creation it should be?

The public and those who have contributed, as well as the boys who have returned, are waiting and anxious to see the committee do the right thing.

Yours respectfully,
FRED W. MAYBEE.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Praise ye the Lord. Praise ye the name of the Lord; praise him, O ye servants of the Lord. Ye that stand in the house of the Lord, in the courts of the house of our God, praise the Lord; for the Lord is good: sing praises unto his name; for it is pleasant. (Ps. 135: 1-3.)

❖ ❖ ❖

Trust ye in the Lord for ever: for in the Lord JEHOVAH is everlasting strength....

Yea, in the way of thy judgments, O Lord, have we waited for thee; the desire of our soul is to thy name, and to the remembrance of thee.

With my soul have I desired thee in the night: yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee early: for wnen thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness....

O Lord our God, other lords beside thee have had dominion over us: but by thee only will we make mention of thy name. (Isa. 26: 4, 8, 9, 13.)

Plan To Fly Cast For Play In Ontario

TORONTO, Feb. 9.—(CP).— A flight scheduled to arrive in London, Ont., from London, Eng., next month will mark two firsts in Canadian theatre history. It will be the first time a complete cast has been flown from England to Canada to appear in a stage production and also the first time stage and screen actor Michael Redgrave wil be seen on a Canadian stage.

Tall, handsome Redgrave, an Englishman in his mid-thirties, has done several movies — two in Hollywood—in addition to a tightly-filled stage schedule.

On this tour, which begins in London, March 8, he will do MacBeth only. With him as Lady MacBeth will be Flora Robson, whose most recent stage success was in the New York production of Ladies in Retirement.

Life And Education Of A Prince....

By H.R.H. DUKE OF WINDSOR

CHAPTER 25.

Armistice Day found me a major attached to the Canadian Corps at Mons, where the British Forces had met their initial reverse in 1914. My mind had already begun to turn to other matters:

November 5, 1918.

"Dear Papa,

". . . . There seems to be a regular epidemic of revolutions and abdications throughout the enemy countries which certainly makes it a hard and critical time for the remaining monarchies; but of those that remain I have no hesitation in saying that ours is by far the most solid, though, of course, it must be kept so, and I more than realize that this can only be done by keeping in the closest possible touch with the people, and I can promise you this point is always at the back of mind and that I am and always shall make, every effort to carry it out, as I know how vitally it will influence the future of the Empire! . . .

"I'm sure you won't mind when I tell you that I'm out the whole of every day seeing and visiting the troops, i.e., 'the people'!"

With the end of the war I did not leave the Army at once, but remained fairly steadily with the troops in Franee and Belgium and the bccupation forces in Germany until the spring of 1919.

And when we of the Army did return home after four years of war it was with indescribable relief.

Britain is unfailingly beautiful in the spring, and we thanked God that we had been spared to see it again.

The pomp and show of imperial habits remained. Opulence still surrounded the great families.

Confidence and affluence exuded from the financial and commercial houses of the City of London, and, perhaps because of this outward solidness, we Britons were slow in discovering how much the war had really cost us.

NURSE'S AID—While the Duke of Windsor was at the front, his sister Mary (shown here with Dowager Queen Mary) was a nurse's aid throughout the war.

It had been a heavy drain upon our capital, the money kind. More seriously still, it had wiped out much of the bravest and most spirited of our youth. That is another form of capital, the most important.

Well, history can make only so many calls on the bank, and in both the great world wars the British nation has met the claims of Western civilization in full.

I do not know that historians or economists would agree with me, but I feel in my bones that the running-down process which has led to the present British crisis began in 1914.

I was nearly 25 when I returned to London, and the time had come for me to set up my own establishment.

Giving up my room on the third floor of Buckingham Palace, I moved into York House, one of the picturesque group of old buildings at the foot of St. James Palace.

This meant leaving our little family circle, although it had pretty much disintegrated by then.

Only my sister Mary, who had worked through the war in hospitals, as a nurses' aid, remained at home. Bertie had transferred to the Royal Air Force, and after the Battle of Jutland and long spells on the sick list in the Navy.

Harry, a "gentleman cadet" at the Royal Military College, Sandhurst, had by then taken the first step in his Army career.

George was in his first year at Dartmouth, standing much higher in the order of his term than either Bertie or myself ever had. And my youngest brother, John, had died a few months before.

Our old tutor, Henry Peter Hansell, his long and painstaking task completed, had retired, although I saw him occasionally thereafter.

Finch followed me to York House, as major-domo, a step which he was afterwards heard to describe as the beginning of "his" education.

My return from the war meant helping my father in the business of kingship. He had a perfectly clear idea of what he expected of me.

It was that I should step without delay into the customary duties devolving on the heir-apparent — the laying of cornerstones, the ceremonial tree-planting, the opening of new highways; appearing before civic groups and assuming the honorary chairmanships of worthy charities and other institutions.

In short, I was required to show myself to the British people in order to make my character known and at the same time to fill the Prince of Wales's traditional role of the leader of society.

The Prince of Wales has more liberty than the King; he can move around more, travel, mix freely with all kinds of people, and in general act as agent for the monarch.

At my father's suggestion, I began to visit the great industrial cities of Britain — the factories and slums of Glasgow, Birmingham, Cardiff, Plymouth, Newcastle, the East End of London.

How different was this other world from Windsor, the Norfolk fens, the stately palace rooms, the Cairngorm Mountains, and the Bath Club.

For me to say that these first hard looks at Britain's strength and shame fired my social conscience immediately would be pretentious. That came later with fact-finding and further enlightenment.

The precepts of my upbringing had been too firmly fixed for me to feel that poverty and bad housing conditions called for any spectacular or creative action by either my august father or myself.

We could by all means evince sympathetic concern over such distressful conditions.

But these were matters bound up in partisan politics, and it had been drilled into me almost from my first days in the little schoolrooms of Marlborough House and Sandringham that while I was free to think as I pleased, if my ideas touched politics they must be kept to myself.

Yet I had been too long removed from palace restraints and was already too much a part of my iconoclastic generation to fit readily into a cautious and submissive role.

As I moved around Britain it dawned on me that the country was discontented, restless, and disillusioned. There was rising unemployment.

The servicemen not yet discharged were angry over the clumsy demobilization program; those who had been demobilized were disgruntled over the lack of jobs and homes; the disabled were bitter over inadequate disability pensions.

There were strikes and demonstrations, nothing big or dramatic, but disturbing in their frequency and prevalence.

And the trouble had infected the armed forces, leading to small, local, Socialist-inspired mutinies at certain supply ports.

My father first came face to face with the new discontent one day in London.

8 Men Die In Blast At Sunshine Coal Mine

GREENWOOD, Ark., Feb. 9. — (AP).—Eight miners died in an explosion in the Sunshine coal mine near here yesterday.

Bodies of the last three victims were recovered last night nearly six hours after a blast occurred near the bottom of the 4,000-foot sloping shaft.

Cause of the explosion has not been determined.

The last bodies recovered were those of Frank, Louis and Albin Grilc. Previously the bodies of mine foreman Joe Williams, 32, Matt Denne, 50, Earl Fish, 30, and John Winters, had been recovered.

Lindsay	2	0	2	0
Port Hope	2	0	2	0

Note — Lindsay played at Port Hope Feb. 6, score unknown.

Friday night at the PCVS gym the most important high school basketball night in the district resulted in three victories for the home teams and one for the visiting Oshawa teams. The first game was a 16-14 win for PCVS Junior B's over Oshawa Junior B's. The second also was a win for PCVS, this in the Senior B, 36-19. The Junior A's then took the floor and again PCVS was victorious 32-22 over their Oshawa opponents. The final game, the lone Oshawa victory, was a 30-27 first game of a points to count two-game series between the two Senior A teams in the district.

By the time this last game started the crowd had reached the 400 mark and witnessed a close exciting contest that did not however produce good basketball. PCVS rushed into an early lead on baskets by Richardson and McKee but could not continue the pace and though in the lead 8-5 at the quarter, fell behind in a rather disastrous second quarter to go to the dressing room at the half, down 14-11. The last half was very even with first Oshawa pulling slightly ahead and then PCVS finally narrowing the gap to the original three point margin from the first half.

Oshawa could count but 13 times on 56 shots. PCVS was even worse, scoring only 11 times on 61 tries. Both teams are overdue for a better brand of ball in the return game in Oshawa Friday.

Off Shooting

The Junior A game found the strong PCVS team off shooting form and though Oshawa's scoring chances were restricted by a tight defence, the home team had difficulty in finding the mark consistently. PCVS led 13-12 at the half but only because of accurate foul shooting, counting five times in seven tries. The second half was a little better from a PCVS point of view as Griffin and Thompson finally found the mark, twice each. However consistent foul shooting again made the difference as

Norwood Victors

NORWOOD, Feb. 9 (ENS). — Hastings and Norwood played a close game on Saturday, Norwood edging the visitors 3-2. F. Lynch put in a nice one to beat Mullins from the Fairman brothers. Bud Wrightly was gated for boarding.

In the second frame, Norwood got three in a row, Wrightly from McNulty, Davis alone, Davis from E. Spencer. Donald Fairman of Hastings scored on a nice pass from D. McMillan. No penalties.

The line-up:

Hastings — Goal, D. Condon; defence, D. McMillan and J. Warrington; centre, P. Stevenson; wings, D. Fairman, W. Dodds; alternates, G. Dodds, K. Kumpf, F. Lynch.

Norwood—Goal, Billy Mullins; defence, B. Spencer and D. Morrison; centre, Bud Wrightly; wings, M. Scott and L. Peoples; alternates, E. Spencer. Jack Stackhouse, C. Davis, Jim Feeley, B. McNulty.

Referee, Boyd Kelly.

Curling News

By Herb Martin

Curling news seems to be rather scarce today.

We expect our lady curlers arrived home early this morning from the Seigniory Club, Que.

We have a full house entry for the next open bospiel. It is for the Walker trophy, Wednesday, Feb. 11.

We had to turn them away again on Saturday afternoon. These week-end bonspiels are becoming more popular as time goes on. The draw was completed before noon—a record. The winning skips were H. Clegg, J. Richmond, C. Giroux, W. Harvey and D. Grant.

The Saturday night mixed bonspiel went off as usual. They enjoyed themselves and were all through in good time. The winning rinks were skipped by C. Giroux and O. Price.

Tonight we continue with the men's schedule. Two draws, 7 and 9.

Canadiens Winners To Go Into Finals

Canadiens outscored Maple Leafs 3-2 Saturday at Turner rink to take two straight and enter the finals with Detroit.

Canadiens and Detroit play for the championship, best 2 out of 3, the first game to be at 7.00 p.m. Feb. 11 at Turner rink.

Ron Dunn, Dan Griffin and goalie Pete Carveth were outstanding for the winners and Eddie Dunn, Jerry Frizzelle and goalie Paul Doris were outstanding for the losers.

Rangers Win, 2-1

NORWOOD, Feb. 9 (ENS). — Hawks and Rangers game was the only one of the Peewee League played on Saturday. The Leafs failed to have a full team show up, so the paints were awarded to the Red Wngs. Carl Davis, Rangers centre, tossed one in unassisted at 7 minutes in the first period, which ended 1-0.

Doug Vallin tallied at the four-minute mark in the second, and Lawrence Peoples shot in a hard one 60 seconds later, to end the game 2-1 for the Rangers. The line-up:

Rangers—Goal, B. Mullins; defence, D. Vallin and N. Telford; centre, C. Davis; wings, C. Burtt and B. McNulty; alternates, J. Ferguson, C. Mainland.

Hawks — Goal, Jack Stackhouse; defence, D. Lochhead and H. Scott; centre, Marvvyn Scott; wings, D. Rusaw, L. Peoples.

Referee, Ken Cuthbertson.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Quite a crowd, something like 2,000, took in the ski jumping championships at Nassau on Saturday afternoon. No records were broken, and conditions weren't quite ideal, but 'twas a good show anyway. Toronto exports proved their ability both in the jumping and the a.m. cross-country competitions, and Harale Bakke, Toronto Ski Club, demonstrated in both why he is a provincial champ. He was third in the cross-country, as two U. of T. aces led, but second place was almost a dead heat. And he was the pick of the jumpers. The slalom and downhill events for the Southern Ontario zone ski meet were run off yesterday in Collingwood. Local club rates orchids for the show here.

Referring back to the crowning of Crowley in Kingston last week, Scribe Carver of Belleville says: "According to Referee St. Louis' report: 'It was one of the worst incidents I have ever seen in hockey. Goodfellow claimed he was cross-checked at the blue line. This was untrue. He was checked and he deliberately turned and, using his stick like an axe, struck Crowley over the head'. St. Louis clamped a match-misconduct penalty on Goodfellow but admitted later that he should have given him a match penalty. A full report was forwarded to the OHA. Goodfellow, or any other player for that matter, if guilty of the offence as charged, should feel the full weight of the disciplinary hand of the governing body."

Time To Clamp Down

We fully agree, and the OHA and most referees are starting now, if belatedly, to clamp down on dirty hockey. The game is so fast now that a player runs enough risk of injury without having to watch rival players so that they won't cut his head open with a stick. Any dirty player should be dealt with most severely — and a few local chaps who blow up too quickly when bumped had better harness their tempers. Else someone is going to be maimed and someone else is going to be suspended for life. That, too, has happened here in the past. Play hard but keep within the rules. Remember, hockey is just a game.

Dick Ouimet and Johnny Russelle late last week looked over rinks in Guelph, Georgetown and Hespeler. The Georgetown rink, by the way, has an artificial ice plant but hasn't had to use it so far this cold semester. They liked the new Hespeler rink a lot and brought back blue prints of it to show at a meeting tomorrow night of the rink committee here—dealing with the secondary rink. Such a rink would cost about $140,000 now, but Johnny felt certain features of it could be eliminated for the time being to bring the price down to maybe about $100,000. Which we are in favor of as 140 G's is quite a bit of dough even these days.

* * * * * *

In Five Weeks' Time

A prominent Preston contractor put the Hespeler rink up for $130,000 — complete with everything — and says he could erect a similar one here in five weeks after the foundation was laid. It would have a laminated arch roof (wood covered with asbestos shingles, we understand), cement block sides and a front of pressed brick. Contains a floor perfect for every use and fine large rooms. Overall size of 226 feet by 110 with ice 180 by 80. Having 1,800 seated and 1,200 standing, or change the style of seats and have more sitting, but about 3,000 altogether. The rink has no obstructions in vision for fans and is well made, this contractor having put up about 40 all over the country.

Not too much effort required for Marines "A" cagers to knock off Toronto Moss Park 50-29 here Saturday. Joe Stewart again strutted a lot of nifty stuff for the Clark crew to count 16 points. In a prelim, the lasses wearing Towne Togs' uniforms gave the junior "Y" boys a real scare ere bowing 20-17. Knox Trophy men's shoot will be on again Friday at 6.30 p.m., and Burlington Lakesides will be here next Saturday to play Marines. Three PCVS teams were successful over Oshawa outfits while our senior "A" chaps dropped a 30-27 number to the Motor Citizens. Junior "B" crew eked out a 16-14 verdict, junior "A" lads won 32-22, and senior "B" squad were victorious 36-19.

McCready And Mask

Main bout of the pro mat card at the Brock this Wednesday eve ought to be a sizzler. It has the huge Masked Marvel matched with Earl McCready in an hour time-limit. They had a briefer brawl here a week ago when the boring-in McCready actually outpointed his rough oponent and once unmasked him for a few seconds. He says he can pin and unmask him over the longer route—so it should be a torrid tussle throughout. Semi-final has Ken Kenneth in against Wee Willie Davis, the man mountain from Hollywood. In the prelim, it'll be handsome Ben Sharpe against Lee Henning. A promising program for the grapple fans.

Toronto-born Bob Goldham, star defenceman with Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League, may be through with hockey. Goldham suffered a fractured left forearm when he collided with a Montreal Canadiens player sin game at Montreal last Thursday, enough to put him out for at least the rest of the season.

The Ottawa and District Amateur Hockey Association has decided to recommend to the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association that the Olympic champion RCAF Flyers be given an opportunity to challenge for the Allan Cup and Canada's senior amateur hockey championship if they so request.

Mile champion Gil Dodds won his 21st consecutive indoor mile victory at Boston Saturday night. Turning in a 4:08.1 stint, the fastest that distance has been run indoors in Boston.

Ted Atkinson, 32-year-old Toronto-born jockey, soon will have won $5,000,000 in the saddle. Currently riding at Hialeah Race Course at Miami, Fla., he is leading the meet with 33 winners in 20 days.

Silent Sammy Snead yesterday tied the 72-hole record in the Texas open at San Antonio with a last round 68 that gave him a total of 264 and $2,000 first money in the $10,000 tournament. Jimmy Demaret was second with 266 and Dick Metz finished third with 269.

Enrique Tirabocchi, Italian swimmer who swam the English Channel in 1923, died in Buenos Aires yesterday yesterday. Long a resident of Argentina where he first arrived in 1913, he was in the water 16 hours 33 minutes on the Channel Crossing.

Betty Mitchell of Winnipeg and Ken Bartholomew, Minneapolis Olympic speed skater, ran off with senior titles in the Ten Thousand Lakes skating meet at Minneapolis on Saturday, when the two-day races ended.

Lakefield High School Defeats Norwood

NORWOOD, Feb. 9.—(ENS).—Lakefield High school were victorious in their home game with Norwood High in Lakefield on Thursday evening, by a score of 5-2. Fennell from Wright opened the scoring with Birch and Knox each counting one for Lakefield. Play was rugged from start, Sabatino and Edwards drawing minor penalties and Fennell and Birch were off for five minutes for roughing.

Brown got one on a solo rush, with Batten and Calberry goal getters for Lakefield, and penalties going to Knox and Starke.

The lone tally in the third period was made by Batten. Edwards and Starke served time in the box.

Referee—Dean Wasson; linesman, C. Wodruff.

Line-up:

Lakefield—Goal, G. Blake; defence, T. Birch, R. Hockaday; centre, H. Knox; wings, P. Calberry, Joe Sabatino; alternates, A. Morrison, B. Batten, Kelly, Crawford, Deck, Calberry.

Norwood— Goal, Parcels; defence, Fennell, Wright; centre, Brown; wings, A. Parcels, L. Starke; alternates, B. Edwards, T. Starke, B. Kelly, H. Kavanagh.

Morrow Park Wins

Morrow Park puckists took the Northenders into camp in their PMHA tussle on Bowl ice by a 10-1 count. Marshall got the losers' lone tally from Rowley in the third. Batley counted twice in the first, with Strickland aiding on both. Daniels and Strickland each scored twice in the second, while Corbett and Batley got one apiece as assists went to Daniels (3), Strickland (2) and Holden, Daniels added one in the third and Batley had a goal and assist.

It was a clean game but one-sided, with the Strickland-Daniels-Batley line shining. Tyndal was strong in goal for them, too. Marshall and Rowley were pick of the losers, and Russelle kicked out a flock in the cage, despite the score. The teams:

Morrow Park— Goal, Tyndal; defence, Parry, Nixon; centre, Daniels; wings, Batley, Strickland; alterntaes, Corbett, Holden, Turner, Downer, Breadman, Ball, Bryan.

Northenders— Goal, Russelle; defence, Nicholls, Armstrong; centre, Stewart; wings, Hempstead, Kelley; alternates, McFadyen, Rowley, Marshall, McIlwain, Woods.

Rangers Get Title

The Peewee league championship of the Morrow Recreation Club, held at the Confederation rink on Saturday morning, was a hotly contested game.

The Rangers became the league champions by defeating the Maple Leafs by a score of 3 to 2. For the Rangers, P. Gerard netted two, R. Crowe one, with assists from B. Floyd, Jack Rose sparked in the nets.

For the Maple Leafs, E. Post scored two, with assists from M. Parry and B. Bryan. P. Wright played a steady game in goal.

Teams:

Maple Leafs — P. Wright, D. Parry, M. Parry, B. Bryan, E. Post, D. Sanders, D. Goldie.

Rangers—J. Rose, B. Floyd, R. Crowe, P. Gerard, D. Gerard, R. Jones, V. Hamilton, P. Masterson, D. Masterson.

A round-robin series, goals to count, will commence Tuesday evening at 7.00 p.m. with the Canadiens and Rangers leading off, with the Maple Leafs and Detroit following at 8.00 p.m.

Junior Boys Win

NORWOOD, Feb. 9 — (ENS). —A team of junior boys from East Peterborough played with a mixed team of Norwood Peewee League and High School boys here Saturday morning. The visitors skated off with an 8-2 victory over the homesters. Jenson was the star of the Peterborough crew, getting six of the eight goals. Bob Edwards and Fred Waldon scored for Norwood in the first period which ended 2-2.

In the second Jenson opened the scoring early with Telford getting one, Jenson getting the next three. D. Ferguson scored the only counter in the third. The line-up:

East Peterborough (mostly PC VS) — Goal, B. Batley; defence, R. Ferguson and D. Bedford; centre, B. Jenson; wings, E. Jones, R. Douglas; alternates, J. Shearer, J. Telford, B. Robson, D. Ferguson; B. Gandy, E. Gooley.

Norwood — Goal, Ralph Parcels; defence, H. Scott and Bob Edwards; centre, Ken Cuthbertson; wings, E. Spencer and Carl Davis; alternates, Boyd Kelly, A. Parcels, J. Rork, Fred Waldon, John Rae, Bud Wrightly. Referee Hartley Morrison.

Boxing Champ Dies

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 9.—(AP). —Frank Klaus, 61, former world's middleweight boxing champion, died yesterday. Klaus won the middleweight title at Paris March 5, 1913, losing it to George Chip the following December in Pittsburgh.

Marines Defeat Moss Park 50-29 In Cage Exhibition In The YMCA

Outboard Marines "A" squad took a 50-29 exhibition cage win over Toronto Moss Park team in the "Y" Saturday night to even up a Toronto win a year ago. The champs played a tight zone defence which Moss Park failed to penetrate to any extent. The line of Nicholls, Edger and Stewart was most effective both in breaking up plays and breaking away for lay-ups. Tight checking resulted in a lot of body contact and tempers flared at times. Marines built up a 13-2 lead early with Edger throwing in three swell goals. Moss Park came back to pare the margin and it ended 18-13 for the Clark crew at the half. Marines outplayed Toronto in all departments the second half. Joe Stewart broke loose with right and left hand hook shots to rack up 14 points as Moss Park looked quite mediocre. Levantis supplied most of their punch until he was banished for unnecessary roughness. While J. Stewart, Edger and Nicholls led the scorers, all Marines looked good. The teams:

Mos Park — Wedley 4, Murphy 4, Levantis 12, Acomb, Letcher 2, Wagman 1, White, Samme 6.

Marines— J. Stewart 16, Edger 10, Nicholls 10, Gillespie 2, Burns 4, MacPherson 2, Menzies 2, A. Stewart 1, Kidd 3.

Referee, R. Dyer. Timer, L. Grose.

First Game.

Y Junior boys eked out a 20-17 win from Towne Togs girls in a neat prelim number. It was a keen exhibition all the way, with the lasses making it close on the small Y floor. With more accurate shooting they might have won. The boys had an 8-7 nod at half-time, with Cranfield, Ackford and Young tallying, while Bev Pringle and Ruth Hewitt supplied the punch for the girls. It was close in the second and in doubt till the end. Bev Pringle, Jean Vass, and Ruth Hewitt, stood out for the maidens, while all the boys turned in a fair chore. The teams:

Towne Togs — J. Caverly, R. Hewitt 4, M. Kennedy 1, B. Pringle 6, V. Rose 2, J. Vass 4, B. Csumrik.

Y Boys — Cranfield 7, Ackford 5, Young 4, Grafstein, Jamieson 2, Graham 2, Noble.

Referee, R. Dyer. Timer, J. Payne.

Davis To Battle Ken Kenneth

Earl McCready and the Masked Marvel meet in a full-length main bout in Brock Arena ring on Wednesday night and the result may make some wrestling history. Unbeaten in a long campaign the Mask is risking plenty when he takes on the Iron-armed Aurora Farmer who gave him such a complete going-over in their abortive bout last week. McCready did not completely pin the secretive grappler but he did whip the mask off, only to have the referee rule that it must be replaced, as no fall had occurred. "This time" says Earl, "I'll pin him first and then he'll have to stay unmasked."

Ben Sharpe

An all-star supporting card consists of matches between Wee Willie Davis and New Zealand's Ken Kenneth and Ben Sharpe and Lee Henning the large cornhusker from Iowa.

Toronto Granites Sweep 'Spiel

SEIGNIORY CLUB, Que., Feb. 9. (CP)—Mrs. L. E. Woolley led her Toronto Granite rink to a 12-5 victory over a Toronto High Park team skipped by Mrs. M. C. Code in the finals yesterday of the 17th annual Sewell Trophy Bonspiel here. This marked the seventh time that Mrs. Woolley has skipped a winning rink here since the trophy was first competed for in 1932.

The two Toronto teams were evenly matched for the first seven ends. They entered the eighth end with the score at 4-3 with Granites one up. Then Mrs. Woolley the Granite team's able left-handed skip, scored a six end. Toronto High Park players took the ninth end with two points but Granites continued their winning streak and played the tenth and final end to gain two spots.

In the second consolation event, Miss O. Rogers, Montreal, Outremont defeated Mrs. D. D. Findlay, Carleton Place, 10-4. A Pembroke rink skipped by Mrs. J. A. Supple won the third consolation event with an 11-8 victory over Miss H. Munro, Peterborough.

Mrs. M. C. Code, Toronto High Park, deafeated Mrs. S. J. Kirkland, Perth, 17-4.

Mrs. L. E. Woolley, Toronto Granite, defeated Miss H. Munro, Peterborough, 13-4.

Results of third round matches Saturday included:

Mrs. C. Westbrooke, Peterborough, defeated Mrs. D. A. F. Robinson, Toronto Ladies, 8-6.

Mrs. J. Medland, Toronto Granite, defeated Mrs. G. A. Wood, Peterborough, 12-6.

Barons Take 2 Games

By The Canadian Press

Cleveland's rejuvenated Barons today are only three ponits out of second place in the American Hockey League's western circuit, thanks to a recent winning streak. The Barons, tail-enders earlier this season, have lost but one game in their last 14 outings. Saturday they tripped St. Louis 3-1 and came back last night to tie Indianapolis 4-4.

Leafs Blank Rangers 3-0 As Bruins Upset Wings 3-1

By HARRY ECCLES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

A bob-tailed week-end of four games in the National Hockey League today resulted in only one change in the standings—Boston Bruins were alone in fourth place and Montreal Canadiens were down in fifth again. The leading Detroit Red Wings defeated Montreal Canadiens 5-3 at Montreal Saturday, while Toronto Maple Leafs were blanking the New York Rangers 3-0 at Toronto. On Sunday the Bruins achieved the week-end's only surprise by defeating Detroit 3-1, right at Detroit, and the third-place Rangers were tied to a 2-2 tie at Chicago.

That leaves Wings still enjoying a three-point margin over Toronto, and Rangers now a full 12 points further down in the third spot. Boston is within five points of the Rangers and a game ahead of Canadiens.

The Rangers made good use Saturday of Billy Taylor, acquired from Boston in exchange for Grant Warwick. But the New Yorkers were up against a fast-skating and hard-checking Leaf outfit with Turk Broda in the Toronto nets at his best as he chalked up his fourth shut-out of the season. Max Bentley, Gus Mortson and Ted Kennedy were the Toronto goal-getters.

Weak Defence

The Wings didn't have much trouble winning Saturday's game at Montreal, but the Canadiens never quit trying and they were within one goal of the wings until the final minute, when Goalie Bill Durnan was yanked for a six-man Canadien attack that backfired. Canadiens had the edge in shots on goal, but the Montreal defence looked full of holes.

Detroit's scorers were Rod Morrison, Bep Guidolin, Jim McFadden, Leo Reise and Syd Abel, while Jackques Locas scored two for Montreal with Elmer Lach getting the other.

The Wings were playing their sixth game in nine days in the Sunday encounter with the Bruins, and Boston was ahead all the way. Pete Babando scored in the first period, Jimmy Peters in the second and Grant Warwick tallied his first goal in a Boston uniform in the third period. Meanwhile Jim Conocher spoiled a shut-out for Frankie Brimsek with his second-period goal for Detroit.

The Chicago Sunday game was bad luck for Rangers all the way. It was superb goal tending by Sugar Jim Henry in the Ranger net that earned them the tie, but the Rangers lost Rene Trudel for an indefinite period. He suffered a skate cut on his left foot in which six stitches were taken.

Hockey's Big Seven

By The Canadian Press

Buddy O'Connor of New York picked up one goal in Rangers' two week-end games to retain his five-point margin at the top of the National League point parade. Runners-up Max Bentley of Toronto and Canadiens' Elmer Lach also earned single goals to remain deadlocked for second spot. Jim McFadden of Detroit edged into fourth place with a one-and-one week-end performance.

Belleville Vets Tie Saints 5-5

KINGSTON, Feb. 9.—Kingston Saints' playoff outlook is not too bright following the 5-5 deadlock they waged against Belleville Vets in the Harty Arena Saturday night. With the Vets playing their two remaining group games at home and the Saints' winding up the series in Omemee against the leading, Peterborough Petes next Friday, the odds favor Belleville. The Vets are now only two points behind the Saints.

Belleville — Goal, Hayes; defense, McNaught, Williamson; centre, V. Goyer; wings, Williams, Gerow; alternates, Barrett, Day, McDonald, Semark, Murphy, Stewart.

Kingston—Goal, Udall; defence, Stephenson, Mortimer; centre, Catlin; wings, Cameron, Ohlke; alternates, B. Goodfellow, T. Goodfellow, Jarrell, Jack Aitken, Joe Aitken, Harrison.

Officials — Referee, Chuck Good, Toronto; linesman, Bill Reason, Kingston.

Bengals Trounce Redmen 7-2; Leading League

By The Canadian Press

Hamilton Tigers are home free again—in first place in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A race for the 1947-48 season, their third in a row.

The Bengals defeated the tail-end Brantford Redmen Saturday night 7-2 at Hamilton and moved into an eight-point lead over the second-place Toronto Marlboros with only three games remaining to complete the regular schedule. It was their 25th victory in 33 starts.

In the week-end's other senior tilt, new-found scoring power by defenceman Tommy Pollock helped pace Owen Sound Mercurys into fourth position as they defeated the sixth-place Hamilton Patricias 9-6 at Owen Sound. With 17 wins in 33 tries Mercurys are one point behind Stratford Indians on the third rung.

Stay In Fight

Windsor Spitfires stayed in the fight for final first-place standing in the junior race with a 4-1 victory over Joe Primeau's ninth-place Toronto St. Michael's Majors at Toronto. Windsor and Oshawa are again tied in top berth with 53 points each.

Oshawa Generals lost their chance for a single hold on top of the ladder by losing to the third-place Barrie Flyers 4-3 at Oshawa Barrie and Stratford Kroehlers are now in a third-place tie, with 38 points each.

Stratford Kroehlers were held to a 1-1 tie by Ed Wildey's cellar-dwelling Toronto Young Rangers until the final period at Toronto when a six-goal splurge by Stratford gave them a 7-1 win.

As a wedding gift to Coach Alfie Moore who was married Saturday afternoon, Galt Rockets swamped St. Catharines Teepees 11-2 at Galt to avenge Friday's 4-3 defeat by the sixth-place Teepees. Rockets are in fifth-place one point behind Barrie and Stratford.

Tigers did not have things their own way until the third period at Hamilton when they ran in four goals to clinch the game.

10 Fatalities Reported Over Weekend

By The Canadian Press

Two more Ontario fire deaths were among the total of 10 fatalities in eastern Canada recorded by The Canadian Press during the week-end.

Latest victims in a long series of fatal Ontario fires were Mrs. Mabel Glaser, a visitor from Williamsville, New York, who died with her hostess, Miss Minnie Boneberg, in fire at the latter's home in Port Colborne.

The body of Dearland Fraser, 39, was found with a bullet wound in the head in a swamp near Tweed by police who held a warrant for his arrest.

Mrs. Gibson Williams, 43-year-old Walpole Island Indian woman, was found frozen to death Sunday on the ice of the St. Clair River near Wallaceburg. She had been crossing the ice with her husband and child late Saturday when she became separated from them.

3 Other Fatalities

Three other week-end fatalities in Ontario were the result of traffic mishaps. Two-year-old Reginald Dease was killed at Hamilton when he fell in front of a motorbus. Mervyn Byers, 13, was fatally injured when knocked off his bicycle by a motorcar at Barrie. Daniel Smith, 34 died in hospital at Toronto from injuries received when his motorcar hit a tree on Jan. 31.

Another traffic victim was Marie Legendre, six, fatally injured by a motor-truck at Noranda, Que.

Mrs. Ida Bouchard, 59, died in hospital at Montreal Sunday after drinking part of the contents of a bottle found in a pool-room and presented to her by her son-in-law, who was in serious condition.

At Halifax Thomas S. Todd 42, who was out on bail on a charge in connection with the $5,000 hold-up of a bank messenger, was found dead in his home.

Children Escape Fire

MONCTON, NB, Feb. 9. —(CP) —Fire during a matinee performance caused damages estimated at $100,000 when it destroyed the Kent Theatre Saturday, a few minutes after 250 children had been evacuated in orderly fashion. When heavy smoke poured into the theatre from the basement, Manager L. R. Conrad stopped the film and announced a fire drill would be held. No one was injured.

EX-CHANCELLOR DIES — Viscount Sankey, Lord Chancellor of Great Britain from 1929 to 1935, who died at his home in London. He was 81.

6 Killed In Blast

MT. PLEASANT, Mich., Feb. 9. (AP)—A mother and her five children were killed and her husband was critically injured when a gas stove explosion and fire flattened their home here yesterday. Police identified the dead as: Mrs. Margaret Wohlscheid, 27; two daughters, Beverly Jean, nine and Patricia, two, and three sons, Roy, Jr., 10; Richard, seven, and dale, five.

Band Leader Cugat Fights Man Dancing With Wife

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 9—(AP).—Hollywood's glittering sunset strip—scene of many a movieland fight—was the arena early yesterday for a brief and wild fistic exchange between band leader Xavier Cugat and Oleg Cassini, former husband of actress Gene Tierney. The short—and by all descriptions, inexpert—battle started in the lobby of the Mocambo, one of the strip's swankier spots, and continued outside before spectators broke it up.

Cugat, the rhumba king, admitted he was the aggressor.

The band leader said he stepped across the street (Sunset Boulevard) from Ciro's — where he is currently playing — to inquire about his wife.

"I found her dancing with that dress designer," said Cugat.

Cugat invited Cassini to step outside, he said, but the dress designer "started scuffling with me" in the lobby.

Neutral observers said that each landed one punch outside before the fracas was halted.

Cugat, asked whether he and Mrs. Cugat had separated, replied, "not yet."

Later, Mrs. Cugat, the former actress Lorraine Allen, said:

"I can't figure it out. It was the first time I had ever talked to Mr. Cassini. He came up to our table and we were introduced. Then he asked me to dance.

"We were dancing, and Mr. Cassini was saying nice things about Cugie, when all of a sudden I was pulled off the floor."

She and Cugat were married in Philadelphia last Oct. 15. It was the second marriage for both.

4 Die, 6 Hurt In Plane Crash

SALUDA, N.C. Feb. 9—(AP)—Four soldiers were killed and six other men were injured Saturday when a United States Air Force two-engined cargo-type plans crashed into a fog-shrouded peak on Mount Page two miles from here.

The accident occurred as the plane, bound from Washington's Bolling field to the Greenville, S.C., air base, dropped down on the Greenville radio range for an instrument landing in the thick weather, Capt. Norman S. Bayliss, base public information officer, related.

The injured were taken to hospital. Two were badly burned.

Neighbors in the vicinity pulled some of the injured men from the wreckage.

Seaman Thomas Gamble, 19, of Columbia, Ala., en route home after discharge from the navy, was thrown clear as the plane struck and escaped burns suffered by the others, all army or air force personnel.

Sheriff Roy Wall, among the officers who investigated the crash, reported the big ship sheared through trees on the mountainside for 300 feet before plowing into the ground and bursting into flames.

One wing was dropped 150 feet before the plane landed and one motor was tossed another 50 feet by the impact.

Primate In Ottawa

OTTAWA, Feb. 9. (CP)—Most Rev. George Frederick Kingston, Anglican Archbishop of Nova Scotia and Primate of all Canada, arrived here last night for his first formal visit to the Canadian capital. His arrival marks the opening of a week's religious services and functions.

Special Operation

SAINT JOHN, NB, Feb. 9. (CP) A Saint John father waited at home today as Montreal brain surgeons battled to save the life of his youngest child, given a 100-to-1 chance of survival after being stricken with a rare brain cancer. The child, 14-year-old Alice Watters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Watters, was taken to Montreal Friday after doctors here said she would "have a chance there . . . nothing more can be done here."

DRAMA FESTIVAL AWARD GIVEN — Dr. Alan Skinner, honorary director of the Dominion Drama Festival at Guelph, presents the Jamieson Shield for best presentation of a Canadian play to Mrs. G. A. P. Brickenden, whose farce-comedy, "A Pig in a Poke," was given by the Simcoe Little Theatre.

U. of T. Has Too Many Students Plan To Make Course Stiffer

TORONTO, Feb. 9 — (CP). — Dealing with the "major problem" of over-crowding at the University of Toronto, President Sidney E. Smith in his annual report last night said that a suggestion to limit enrolment to 10,000 students might be realized by raising the entrance requirements.

He reported that in 1947 "the extraordinarily large registration of 17,007 students" were taking courses at U. of T.

His report continued: "There is an inherent limit to the size of the student body" and warned that beyond this limit there must of necessity be a sacrifice of the standards of excellence. Successful methods of mass production used in some industries must not be adopted.

"Undoubtedly there are students in Canadian colleges and universities who are receiving little if any benefit from their courses. Would they not be better equipped for useful careers if they had gone directly from high school to technical institutes and then to industry?"

"While we assert that there should be an equality of opportunity for youth who have the talent and capacity to pursue with distinction higher education, we must take the stand that a university course is not the inalienable right of every boy and girl. In making that statement I am not indulging in academic snobbishness non-university men and women are truly as essential for the common veal as the holders of degrees."

Euchre And Dance Planned At Harwood

HARWOOD, Feb. 9 (ENS). — The Women's Institute met Friday at the home of Mrs. Frank Shearer. There was an exhibition of home made Valentines. Judges were Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Milne. The prize was won by Mrs. R. E. Drope. Euchre and dance was planned for Feb. 10.

Thanks were received from England for food parcels. The legislative grant was received. A pie social was planned for March 4, when the members will hold their open meeting. The program committee is Mrs. T. Callahan, Mrs. R. S. Johnson, Mrs. J. Robson, and Mrs. Walter Johnstone.

The program was in charge of Miss Dennison. A musical selection was given by Mrs. J. Minifie and a reading by Mrs. Crick.

BREAKS LEG SKIING

While skiing at Kemp's Hill on Saturday, Miss Bernice McMullen, 21, 364 Grady Ave., broke her right leg. She was taken to Civic Hospital where the break was diagnosed as not a serious one.

GOOD MARKET SATURDAY

Milder weather resulted in a bigger market on Saturday. For the first time this year a large quantity of vegetables were for sale. Apples, potatoes, and other vegetables were on the stands at the outside market. Poultry, eggs, pork and beef were all plentiful and sold well.

PROVINCIAL POLICE RECRUIT

Leonard Brown, 660 Park St., left Peterborough Monday for Toronto, where he will attend a six weeks training course for the Provincial Police. Prior to leaving Peterborough he was a salesman with the Wonder Bread Company. Mr. Brown has five years service in the Royal Canadian Tank Corps to his credit, four of which were served overseas.

HERE WE GO AGAIN

The long-awaited mild spell certainly didn't last long. After a bare two-day visit it bowed out to another blast of Arctic breath. On Sunday morning the temperature began to drop and the now-familiar sensation of a tingling nose and numb ears had returned to plague the main street pedestrian. Later at night the sound of contracting boards from wooden porches and steps echoed through the residential sections of the city like pistol shots.

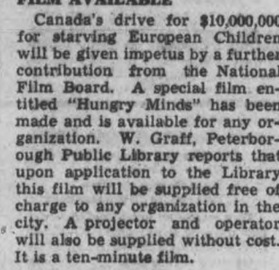
TO ATTEND CONVENTION

Major William Hale, secretary of the Ontario Liberal Association is expected to be here tonight for the annual meeting of the Peterborough Provincial Liberal Association. In recent months he has accompanied Farquhar Oliver, the Ontario leader, in a speaking tour embracing more than 50 ridings since the convention in May 1947. Dr. Ralph Honey will be chairman. Mr. J. G. Allan is secretary of the provincial association in this riding.

WHITE CANE WEEK

White Cane Week starts today. The Canadian Council of the Blind and The Canadian National Institute for the Blind are once again sponsoring this nation-wide campaign to promote better public understanding of the needs and activities of blind Canadians. The Council and the Institute feel that last year's campaign brought most beneficial results, particularly for White Cane users who require assistance in traffic. This year the sponsors wish to remind the public that their continued assistance will be welcomed with gratitude.

FILM AVAILABLE



Canada's drive for $10,000,000 for starving European Children will be given impetus by a further contribution from the National Film Board. A special film entitled "Hungry Minds" has been made and is available for any organization. W. Graff, Peterborough Public Library reports that upon application to the Library this film will be supplied free of charge to any organization in the city. A projector and operator will also be supplied without cost. It is a ten-minute film.

Cut Flicker Light As Safety Measure

"In accordance with your instructions," Mr. R. L. Dobbin, manager of Utilities Commission, recently wrote the council, "we have turned out one of the lamps in the traffic flasher signal at McDonnel and Reid Streets. The result is that motors driving north will not see the usual amber warning signal at McDonnel St."

This is a tentative action by the council until the Reid St. CNR crossing conditions are examined by some representative of the Dominion Board of Transport. Opinion in the council was that the signals at Reid and McDonnel Streets tended to distract northbound attention from the automatic warning at the railway crossing on Reid St.

2,000 Watch Ski Jumping Norwegian Retains Crown

Two thousand ski enthusiasts from all parts of southern Ontario faced knee-deep snow and a biting wind at the Nassau jump on Saturday to watch Harale Bakke of the Toronto Ski Club, bespeckled jumping champion of the province, retain that title with a brilliant display of ski mastery at the Southern Ontario Ski Meet competitions. Bakke was the outstanding feature of the day's events, which began in the morning with a five-mile course from and returning to Jackson Park, for the cross-country title, and which continued into the afternoon with 26 expert jumpers fighting hard for the jumping crown.

Bakke's 100-foot jump, the longest of Saturday's attempts, fell far short of the hill record of 127 feet, established in a clear jump in 1938 by Celius Skavus of the Toronto Ski Club.

Entrants from the University of Toronto and Toronto Ski Club dominated the contest, highlighted by Bakke's first place in the jumps and third spot in the cross-country, which united to give him the combined title for both events.

Top spot in the cross-country went to another Varsity student, Hugh Popham, who plowed through the five-mile course in 39 minutes, seven seconds.

Skiers reported skiing conditions for the morning cross-country to be "ideal." In the afternoon at the jump, jumpers as well as spectators complained about the driving snow which hampered vision on the steep drive. There was a slight tendency for the snow to "stick" as well, they reported.

Ski clubs represented at the meet were from Peterborough, the University of Toronto, Northumberland Forest, Midland, Toronto, Huntsville, Oshawa, Cedar Springs.

Peterborough's entrants were not successful in gaining any points for the host city, falling badly short of the two leading teams from Toronto.

Because of his high showing, Bakke automatically won the Toronto Ski Club title.

Top points of Peterborough skiers, and therefore the club championships, goes to Kristen Olsen, a newcomer to the club from the Maritimes, and the "dark horse" hope of the locals. Other city contests were Robert Currie, "Duke" Logan, A. Bianco, Otto Laderach.

A refreshment booth was operated at the jump by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Peterborough.

Most of the skiers moved on Saturday to take part in the slalom and downhill events run off at Collingwood on Sunday.

Here is a complete list of entrants in the ski-jumping competition, with the club represented and number of points awarded from a possible score of 150: Harale Bakke, Tor. Ski Club, 136; Gordon Fillman, Northumberland Forest, 130.2; Alf Brenner, U of T, 129; P. Petterson, Midland, 126; O. Michaelson, Toronto, 125.4; Denis Hutcheson, Huntsville, 124.2; Alf Hansan, Huntsville, 121; Arn Bjerkseth, U of T, 120.9; Kristen Olsen, Peterborough, 115.2; John Robinson, Toronto, 113.9; John McCamus, Toronto, 109.5; Lorne Rayfield, Huntsville, 106.8; "Duke" Logan, Peterborough, 104.3; L. McIntyre, U of T, 101.6; O. Ball, Midland, 98.7; Hugh Popham, U of T, 97.3; John Krapek, Huntsville, 86.8; D. Toole, Midland, 85.1; Jack Woodcock, Huntsville, 77.8; Russell Smith, Toronto, 71; A. Bianca, Peterborough, 68.2; Otto Laderach, Peterborough, 57; N. Blom, U of T, 50.7; Egil Norstrand, Toronto, 48; J. Tache, Northumberland Forest, 45; Murray Green, U of T, 36.

In the five-mile cross country, Hugh Popham, University of Toronto, 39 minutes, seven seconds; Lorne McIntyre, U of T, came second in 41.036, a shade ahead of the champion, Harale Bakke, at 41.042. Order of finishing of other racers was: Alf Hansan, Huntsville; J. Harris, Oshawa; N. Blom, U of T; J. Woodcock, Huntsville; J. Robinson, Toronto; D. Toole, Midland; O. Ball, Midland; P. Petterson, Midland; Otto Laderach, Peterborough; P. Christenson, U of T; A. Brenner, Toronto; A. Jones, U of T; B. Marsh, Oshawa; J. Gall, Toronto; J. Logan, Peterborough, and J. Torswick, Cedar Springs (tied); J. McCamus, Toronto; Robert Currie, Peterborough; Austin McPherson, Toronto; J. Emery, Cobourg; G. Charles, Cobourg; G. Lang, Peterborough.

At Collingwood the downhill race, most treacherous of the four events in the Southern Ontario championship meet, was won by Bill Robinson, TSC. Bill Georgas of Owen Sound was carried away on a toboggan after cracking his head open when he hurtled into a tree on a steep turn.

After attention in the Collingwood Hospital, Georgas was again out on his skiis. The same fade-away corner, on a steep hill halfway down the course, flanked by trees, caused many other bad spills. Ski patrolmen were on hand as the skiers catapulted through the bush.

Downhill — 1, Bill Robinson, TSC., 1:11.3; 2, Arch Jones, TSC, 1:13.3; 3, Russ Stuart, TSC, 1:13.4; 4, Don Firstbrook, TSC, 1:13.5; 5, Jack Woodcock, Huntsville Ski Club, 1:14.4.

Slalom—1, Ted Hill, U of T, 1:53; 2, Russ Stuart, TSC, 1:54.2; 3, Bob Hutheson, TSC, 1:56.3; 4, Jim Buck, TSC, 2:00.0; 5, Don Firstbrook, TSC, 2:00.1.

Combined downhill and slalom —1, Russ Smart, TSC; 2, Ted Hill, U of T; 3, Bill Robinson, TSC; 4, Bob Hutcheson, TSC; 5, Don Firstbrook, TSC.

40 New Houses Unable To Secure Sewer

Septic tanks will probably have to be used for the proposed subdivision of some 40 houses at the southeast corner of Monaghan and Cameron St. as contemplated in a report to the city council by City Engineer Chalmers.

Schofield Insurance Co. wrote the council on behalf of the two young contractors, Arnold Steele and Don Ephgrave, asking for approval of the subdivision plan, and also "that you will supply the necessary services in the way of sewer, water, sidewalks and so on." The city's approval was to be forwarded to the Central Mortgage And Housing Corporation and to the Ontario Department of Planning and Development.

City Engineer Chalmers examined the property which, it is understood, has been owned by Alex W. Archibald and Bruce Johnston, who laid out the river front stretch and sold lots upon some of which houses have been built.

Layout of Street Made

Mr. Chalmers replied that he found the layout of streets satisfactory, but there was no present outlet for sewers from that area. If a deep sewer were constructed along Cameron St. from Park St. to the proposed subdivision a system of gravity sewers could be installed. "Sewers in the southerly part of the area will not be deep enough for cellars unless the houses were kept abnormally high. Until such time as a petition is presented to council requesting a sewer on Cameron St., petitions for sewers in the proposed subdivision could not be acted upon."

Cost of street work in the area was estimated by Mr. Chalmers at $1,800.

In the face of the element of doubt in Mr. Chalmer's letter, the council is suggesting that the proposed group of houses be permitted to instal septic tanks, and to that end it was proposed that the size of the lots in the subdivision be enlarged.

Fine Lakefield Man For Traffic Offence

Lloyd Lowry, R.R. 2, Lakefield, was fined $10 and costs of $2.50 when he appeared in magistrate's court this morning and pleaded guilty to a charge of careless driving.

The charge was laid as the result of an accident Saturday night about 10.30 in the centre of the Hunter St. bridge in Peterborough, in which the accused's car, travelling west, struck the car of Kenneth H. Maunder, 167 Sophia St., crumbling and ripping fenders on both cars and knocking off a hub cap on the Maunder vehicle.

Investingating were PC's Douglas Farthing and Traffic Officer C. J. McGillen.

McIntyre, second place with 41.036; winner Hugh Popham, 39.07, both of University of Toronto Ski Club, and Harale Bakke, third, Toronto Ski Club, with 41.042. Bakke was winner of combined cross-country and jumping events. —Examiner Staff Photos

Livestock Lost In Barn Fire

BELLEVILLE, Feb. 9—(CP)—Twelve head of cattle, four horses and 11 pigs were burned to death on the farm of Kenneth York near here last night during a fire of undetermined origin which gutted the barn.

Mr. York said he had completed his evening chores on the farm in the fifth concession, Sidney Township, when a neighbor told him his barn was ablaze.

"When I rushed out the entire basement was afire," he said. "I attempted to get into the horse stable to save the horses but when I opened the door the flames struck me in the face."

Father Beaten By Son, 19 Youth Jailed For 3 Month

The story of "a brutal beating" given by a youth to his father was told in police court this morning. It resulted in Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, sentencing 19-year-old Gerard Clancy, 306 Mark Street, to three months hard labor. The accused had pleaded not guilty to a charge of assault occasioning actual bodily harm to his father, Joseph Clancy.

The accused's father, a widower, appeared in court with a badly bruised face, showing swollen jaw, lips and ears. He related that the accused had come into his bedroom last Friday night and started to fight.

"He went haywire," said the witness, adding that another of his children had telephoned for the police.

"He gave me a good beating," he said, stating that his son had kicked him in the chin, blackened his eyes.

"I wanted him to get out and work like any other boy," he told the magistrate. The accused paid no board at his home, he said.

"Why do you keep him around at all?" asked Mr. Philp.

"I hoped he might turn into the boy I'd always hoped he'd be," replied the father.

PC Gordon Trennum corroborated the evidence of the first witness, saying that the father's face had been so bloody that it had not been possible to ascertain the exact extent of his injuries until a doctor had washed and treated him. He added that the home had been "a mess" because of the fight —the dining table sagged to its side on broken legs, several chairs smashed, the stair bannister broken at the top.

The accused, in the witness box, said that he "couldn't remember anything that happened," and admitted to V. J. McElderry, crown counsel, that the reason for this failure of memory was the result of being intoxicated.

In passing sentence, the magistrate told the accused: "It is very fortunate for you that your father did not return some of this punishment to you. It is hard to believe that a boy of your age would beat up your father in this way."

Perry Jopling Dies At Age 34

Perry Wade Jopling, 34, of Bridgenorth died Saturday at St. Joseph's Hospital after a short illness. He was born in Bridgenorth, son of Frederick W. Jopling and Edith Ruth Elliott, and lived all his life in the village.

He is survived by his parents, one sister, Mrs. Clifford Hartman (Phyllis) and one brother, Frank (Drake), all of Bridgenorth. He was employed by the Western Clock Co., and was a member of Bridgenorth United Church.

Mr. Jopling entered hospital a week ago, suffering from severe stomach pains, and at first it was believed to be acute appendicitis. Surgery failed to reveal any disease in this organ. A post-mortem was performed but the result has not been announced.

The body is resting at his residence from where the service will be held on Tuesday at 2 p.m. Rev. E. W. Rowland of Bridgenorth United Church will officiate assisted by Rev. Dr. B. Gordon and burial will take place at Little Lake Cemetery.

Detroit Company Decides To Postpone Indefinitely Plans To Locate In City

Timken Detroit Axle Company are postponing indefinitely their plans to establish in Canada a branch of their division for the manufacture of silent automatic oil burning equipment. That decision leaves the way open to the City Council to approve lease to the Canadian General Electric Company of that section of the factory buildings owned by the city at Aylmer and Perry Streets and recently vacated by Canadian Nashua Paper Company.

"Because of the oil situation both in Canada and the United States, the sale of oil burning equipment has been drastically curtailed," Mr. Charles A. Cooper, assistant general manager of the Detroit Company, wrote to the City Council last week. His letter was dealt with by the council's industrial development committee.

"The oil situation, as you know, is very much confused, and it could become much more serious, especially in Canada, were any export restrictions put into effect by the Congress of the United States.

"Without doubt, Timken Silent Automatic will manufacture oil-burners and oilburning equipment in Canada. However, because of the critical oil situation, it has been deemed inadvisable to attempt to do so at this time. It seems to us good business to postpone our Canadian manufacturing plans for Timken Silent Automatic until the oil situation is clarified.

Express Regret

"We are indeed sorry that conditions during the last six months have so completely changed our plans, and that such a decision is necessary. When conditions change and we are in a position to establish a manufacturing plant in Canada, you may be assured that you and our other friends in Canada will be asked to aid us, and because the city of Peterborough was our choice in 1947, certainly that should indicate our desire to locate in your community. We do not feel that the advantages you are able to offer can diminish because we are forced to postpone our Canadian plans until some future time."

City Clerk Outram was instructed by the industrial development committee to reply to Mr. Cooper expressing regret that present circumstances prevent the Detroit company from proceeding with the lease of the former Nashua Paper building for a branch of the Timken automatic oilburning division. The following is quoted from Mr. Outram's letter:

"Although the building in which you were interested will be taken over immediately on a temporary basis by a local industry, we assure you that we will be glad of the opportunity to offer you every co-operation when conditions merit your company again giving consideration to this undertaking.

"The Mayor and Council were impressed particularly by the kindly assurances of your continued confidence in Peterborough as a location for your Canadian operations, and we promise that we will not permit Peterborough's advantages as a manufacturing centre for your company to diminish, but rather to be extended and strengthened.

"We appreciate greatly the opportunities these negotiations have given us to meet Mr. Crawford and yourself, and we trust that we may meet again soon. There is always a welcome in Peterborough awaiting Mr. Crawford, yourself and your associates."

It is understood that permission for Canadian Sealright Co. to lease the Perry St. section of the factory of which Nashua Paper were the controlling tenants will be dealt with tonight by the finance committee of the council.

All White Canes Silent Appeals For Assistance

White Cane Week, designed to bring to the public's attention the activities and needs of the 82 registered blind people in Peterborough County, is being observed from Feb. 8-14.

Public education and not a financial campaign is the aim of White Cane Week. Officials of the local branch of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind say not sympathy but understanding, courtesy, and assistance are wanted from those who have not lost the gift of sight.

When used by a blind person the White Cane becomes a silent appeal for friendly assistance in crossing busy streets, regaining a sense of direction temporarily lost due to snow or any change disturbing familiar landmarks. The cane is described as "a practical method of assisting the blind to greater independence through the intelligent co-operation of the sighted public.

A few tips laid down as a guide to more effective co-operation are: 1—Allow a blind person to follow you when guiding him off or on a bus; 2—Assist the blind person to locate entrances to such things as homes, stores, or buses; 3—Remember that the steady tapping of a white cane signifies that a blind person wishes your assistance; 4—Ask a blind person where he wishes to go and be sure he has his bearings before you leave him; 5—Remember never to push or forcibly steer a blind person; 6—Remind the cyclist that his approach is silent and to allow the blind person to pass in front of him; 7—Always speak before touching a blind person; 8—Give him your arm when accompanying him, do not take his; 9—A handshake is the same as a smile to the blind; 10—Do not race your motor while waiting for a traffic light when a blind person is crossing in front of you, as this may confuse him; 11—Don't leave obstacles such as bicycles or children's toys on the sidewalk. They cannot be seen by a blind pedestrian and may cause serious accidents; 12—Don't leave your car door open while parked. It may cause a serious accident to a pedestrian, and especially to the blind pedestrian; 13—Don't back out of a driveway until you make sure the sidewalk is clear of pedestrians.

Organized in 1918, the CNIB is officially recognized by the Canadian government as the official administrative agency for the blind. Blind people are included on its staff.

A six-point legislative program has been advocated including a Blind Persons' Act separate from the Old Age Pensions Act; use of term "blindness allowance," and elimination of term "pension"; elimination of the means test; an adequate rate of blindness allowance tied to the cost of living index; reduction of the present 25-year residency requirement before the blind person becomes eligible for benefits; and provision for medical or surgical treatment for eye conditions—to conserve, restore vision and prevent blindness.

Peters-Williams Wedding Observed at St. George's

A pretty double ring wedding took place in St. George's Anglican church when vows were exchanged by Viola Lorine Williams and Leslie Anthony Peters, with Rev. E. C. Moore officiating. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Williams of Peterborough, and the groom is a son of Mrs. B. Peters, both of whom arrived from England eight months ago to make their home here. Wedding music was played by Mrs. Ray King.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother Mr. Delbert Williams and wore a gown of white sheer. It was made with a high round neckline, long sleeves and a very full skirt. Her full length veil was of embroidered net and fell from a halo of orange blossoms and her bouquet was of red roses. Miss Joan Williams was her sister's bridesmaid, wearing powder blue silk jersey with head dress of matching flowers, elbow-length gloves of white and carrying pink roses. Mr. George Hanson attended the groom.

A reception was held afterward at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. D. McIntosh, McGill St. Mrs. Williams received, with the bridal party, wearing a suit-dress of turquoise blue with white trim, black accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

The bride and groom left later for Toronto, the bride travelling in a suit of black check with matching accessories and topcoat.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Tuesday, February 10

A fresh start in the launching of new enterprises should move rapidly in the direction of fulfilled hopes and wishes, as keen ideas are quickened to brilliant performance. Any form of commercial ventures, or in lines in which travel, change, transportation or communications are considered and with fast moves. All pertaining to writings, advertising, publicity and public relations should flourish. Affairs of youth should progress.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate new ventures, with wits sharpened, mentality versatile and energies under fine stimuli for past action. Quick changes, travel, writings, publicity, all forms of public relations invite to new fields of endeavor. New contracts and agreements are in order for ready manipulation. Affairs of youth and all youthful aspirations should thrive spectacularly.

A child born on this day should be keen, versatile and fast-moving, for fresh adventure and novelty.

Hemline Stays At 13 Inches 'Look' Unchanged

PARIS, Feb. 9. (AP)—Christian Dior, Paris fashion designer who launched the "new look" last season, now has decided to let well enough alone.

Opening his spring showing on Sunday, he refused to exaggerate his original theme of sensational lengths of skirts. He has retained last season's successful silhouette but has added enough new spices to make the dish more palatable.

He uses waist-restricting corselets, very little hip padding, but makes his skirts full enough to cover three subway seats by setting full-length buckram petticoats beneath them.

He has kept his hemline the same length as last season—13 inches from the ground—and in many cases has even raised it to about 14. Bustles, extravagantly full skirts, hobble gait-restricting numbers were all presented by him last season. Now it's as though he has taken all of them and streamlined them to perfection.

For evening wear Dior either sets skirts at ground level or starts them at 13 or 14 inches in front and graduating sharply to train length at the back.

His hoblle and pencil-lined skirts, both for day and evening wear, put the accent on a real snake-hips silhouette.

Switchgear Party Is Huge Success

Switchgear division of the CGE held a dinner and dance Friday evening at the plant cafeteria and Kawartha Club with more than 250 in attendance. Special guests were Mr. J. Lynch and Mr. A. Prest, who have retired from the department on pension; also Mrs. Prest, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Girven and Mr. H. Rose of Toronto, manager of switchgear sales and apparatus.

After-dinner entertainment was highlighted with the magic tricks performed by Bob Hardie. Mr. Joe O'Donnell was chairman for the program and bingo games that followed. Later, the partyers went to Kawartha Club for dancing, with music supplied by Sevenaires.

Winners in the draw for door prizes were Mrs. K. Mackay, Mrs. C. Newman, Mr. R. Quinn and Mr. D. Walsh.

Bingo winners were Mesdames W. Grace, W. Dunford, Kelly, A. Hele, W. Booth, C. Mackay, E. Edmondson, Hartwick, C. Stone, Dunfield, Brown, L. Rowland and D. Baker.

Prizes were also given for two spot dances, the winners being Mrs. N. Robson and Mr. C. O'Donnell, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Hutton.

A committee in charge of arrangements included Messrs. G. Carroll, Walter Jackson, Pat Calladine, Don Hall, Jack Hicks and Al Drynan.

Webster-McElvena

A quiet wedding was recently solemnized in Norwood United church, parsonage, at high noon, when Rev. E. E. Pugsley united in marriage Norma Lenore, only daughter of Mr. Oliver McIlvena and the late Mrs. McIlvena of Peterborough, and Thomas, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Webster, of Cottesloe.

The bride chose a suit of aqua blue English suede, brown accessories and wore a corsage of white gardenias.

Miss Marie Cuffe, cousin of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a suit of burgandy English suede, black accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses.

Mr. George Webster, brother of the groom, was best man.

Following the reception, which was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. W. J. Cuffe, Peterborough, the couple left for a short honeymoon to be spent at Belleville, Perth and points east.

Mr. and Mrs. Webster will reside on the groom's farm at Cottesloe.

Effie Meeks Weds Albert E. Reid

At a quiet ceremony Saturday at the home of Major and Mrs. C. Watt of the Salvation Army, Effie Lillian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Meeks became the bride of Albert Everson Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everson Reid, all of Peterborough. Major Watt officiated.

The bride was wearing a gown of white slipper satin with lace inserts, fashioned on princess lines with long sleeves coming to points over her hands, and a sweetheart neckline. Her veil of white embroidered net was caught to a halo of orange blossoms and seed pearls and she carried a shower bouquet of red roses. Miss Betty Bestard was her bridesmaid, frocked in pale blue marquisette over taffeta. It was made with a low neckline and puff sleeves on a fitted bodice and full skirt. She wore a shoulder veil of blue caught with forget-me-nots, and carried a colonial bouquet of red roses. Mr. Kenneth Reid attended his brother.

A reception was held afterward at the bride's home where her mother received, wearing a dress of figured silk jersey with black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Reid left for Toronto, the bride wearing a grey wool suit with pink accessories and brown fur topcoat. They will reside in Peterborough.

WMS Presbyterial Reports Given

WMS of Knox Church met in the ladies' parlors for the February meeting.

First vice-president, Mrs. R. Laing, conducted the opening ceremony and worship with Mrs. H. Williamson as pianist.

Miss S. Summers read "thank-you" letters from Mrs. V. Grainger and Mrs. F. English; reported 40 calls made by the members.

Mrs. F. Milburn and Miss Summers gave an interesting account of the Peterborough Presbyterial meeting.

Mrs. Mary Sanderson gave a reading on temperance. An invitation from St. Andrew's WMS to hear Dr. Victoria Chung on February 18 at 8 p.m. was received.

Miss Summers conducted the study period, with Mrs. C. Weldon who told of the work of William Carey, first British missionary to India; Mrs. M. Lindsay for Henry Martyn who was sent to India as a chaplain to the East India's Company's officials and troops in 1806; Mrs. W. Collins for Karl Gutzlaff, a German pastor sent by the Netherlands Missionary Society into Chinese speaking Java in 1828; Miss Handbidge for Samuel Schereschewsky who used the middle finger of his right hand to translate the whole Bible into Easy Wenli for China during the 21 years he was stricken with paralysis and lived in a wheel chair. The Easy Wenli Translation is called "The One Finger Bible"; Mrs. E. Mesley reported for Adoniram Judson and his wife, first missionaries from America to give the Bible to Burma; Mrs. Hanscom for Robert Morrison, a missionary to Canton, China. Mrs. Laing closed the meeting with prayer.

Directions

For our Low-Calorie dinner I have a new trick—new to me: serving canned salmon heated in the can. Heat the salmon in the tin in boiling water to cover for one-half hour. This spurts steam when opened so cover top with pot holder. Break the hot salmon into about 4 pieces and place a section on unbuttered toast. (These amounts serve 4.) Cover with Egg Sauce: Melt 1½ tablespoons butter (or oil), add 1½ tablespoons flour and stir in 1½ cup boiling water until thick. Meanwhile cook an egg until it is hard-boiled. Beat another egg until it is foamy, and pour the thickened sauce over the beaten egg, stirring, until well mixed. Return to heat and stir for 2 minutes to cook egg. Force hard-boiled egg through sieve into sauce. Add ¼ teaspoon each paprika and salt, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, and ¼ teaspoon white pepper.

For the hot vegetable for the meal, drain a can of peas and can of kernel corn. Mix them and heat with ½ tablespoon butter in top of double boiler.

Sacred Heart CWL Holding Drive

Mrs. H. Connelly, president, opened the meeting of Sacred Heart sub-division of the CWL held Wednesday with 35 members present. A membership of 36 was reported by First Vice-President Mrs. M. J. Hallihan.

Official receipts were read by Mrs. F. Collins for $30 to St. Vincent's Orphanage, $25 for European relief, $32 to Rev. C. McCarney, $131.39 for installation of a new heating system for the club rooms, and $20 for diocesan scholarship.

A clothing drive will be held this week, and a shipment of articles sent through the Jesuit Missionary Fathers for European relief.

The work of the sick and visiting committee, under convenership of Mrs. Zberanousky, will be resumed. Eight visits were made in January to St. Joseph's Hospital and House of Providence. Two layettes were given to needy families. Circular letters were read on child welfare and lay retreats. Eight cards of appreciation were received and read.

Topics for the essay contest, sponsored by the diocesan executive, have been sent to teachers. Prizes to be awarded amount to $18, and the prize winning essays will be read at the diocesan convention in June.

Mrs. L. Lefley, treasurer of the Bowling League, reported a membership of 32 and a bank balance of $89.

Centreville WMS

Mrs. Ronald Isbister was hostess for the February meeting of Centreville Missionary Society, attended by 17 members and one visitor.

Mrs. Jay Whittington presided. During the worship service, Mrs. John Gainor led in prayer, and Mrs. Knapp read the Scripture.

The second chapter of the study book was given by the Mesdames D. Rutherford, James Whittington, Edwin Eagleson and Clifford Hall. An interesting letter from Mrs. Wm. Dickinson, a missionary in Formosa, was read by Mrs. Hall.

During the business meeting which followed, those present were reminded of the World's Day of Prayer to be held on February 13, and the next meeting at the home of Mrs. Harry Campbell, Bailieboro.

Mrs. Rutherford expressed appreciation to Mrs. Isbister.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Martyn and Mrs. Johnson.

Hold CGIT Week February 9-15

Every night this week groups of Canadian Girls in Training will highlight their weekly programs with special activities in observance of National CGIT week, first celebrated in Canada in 1935. The movement, begun by women of Protestant churches and the YWCA in 1915, has now spread to China, Trinidad, Newfoundland and Jamaica. In Canada there are 2,470 groups with a total membership of 27,490 girls. In Peterborough, CGIT groups are found in St. James', Knox, Murray St., Trinity, St. Andrew's, Mark St., St. Paul's and George St. churches.

Purpose of the meetings is to develop good Christian character in girls from 12 to 18 years of age. Their uniforms are navy skirts with white middies and black ties, knotted low in the "Friendship Knot" which has four parts, symbolizing their four-fold purpose: To cherish health, seek truth, know God and serve others.

Climax to the celebrations will be a city-wide get-together of CGIT Saturday afternoon, February 14, at the YWCA, when Miss Elizabeth Kerr of Toronto, Ontario Girls' Work Secretary, will speak. She will also be heard at the Sunday evening service of Trinity Church, February 15.

Local leaders in CGIT are Miss Catharine Hodgens, president of Girls' Work Board, Miss Marion Pogue, president of Leaders' Council, and Miss Joan Krogh, president of Girls' Cabinet. Miss Joyce McKenzie of Pakenham, Ontario, is provincial president of CGIT.

DEAD LOVE
Too Many Couples Kill Marital Affection, Then Try To Amend

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am married to a beautiful girl whom I love very much, and we have two small children. We should have been happy, but we have quarreled over every small matter during most of our married life, and my wife is particularly bitter because I took her to a small town where my mother lives, and that was no help. But I had a good job and refused to move, so our fights became more and more violent.

Dorothy Dix

Now she has appealed for a divorce, which I did not contest, hoping she would change her mind, as I realized that I had been a poor husband and not good to her and the children as I should have been. She tells me that she never loved me and will never live with me again, and that she is in love with another man and wants to marry him when the divorce is final.

I am brokenhearted over the thought of losing my wife and children and am trying to persuade her to come back to me and let us try it over again. Can you tell me any way that I can win back her love and establish a happy home again?

BEWILDERED HUSBAND.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: A dead love is the deadest thing in the world and no magician has the skill to breath life into it again. Your case is especially hopeless because your wife admits that she never loved you and only married you for a support. So I think you are wasting your time and energy in trying to get her to come back to you.

Both To Blame

Her memories of your married life are gall and wormwood in her mouth. You were not a loving husband nor a tender father. You didn't try to understand her, or to deal with her diplomatically, or to do anything to win and hold her. You lived in an atmosphere of strife and struggle and crimtnations and recriminations, so why should you think that your wife would want to come back into such a purgatory?

No doubt your wife was just as much at fault as you were. Evidently she tried as little to make your marriage a success as you did. But two wrongs don't make a right nor do a husband and wife, who are both fighters, make a peaceful home.

There is nothing more tragic in life than that so many husbands and wives throw away the love they have and then break their hearts trying to get it back when it is gone.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a girl 14 years old and have been married five months. My husband is 22 and he thinks I have to ask him for everything, even for permission to go to the grocery store. If I don't mind him, he spanks me. He says he has got to raise me and he is going to do it right.

I love him, but I have taken just about as much as I can stand. I think a wife should look up to her husband to a certain extent, but mine has gone too far. I want to be a good wife. What should I do? PUZZLED WIFE

ANSWER: I think what you need is to get a rain check on your marriage and go back to school, for certainly no girl of 14 is fit for the duties and responsibilities of marriage. She doesn't know enough about life, nor what kind of a woman she is going to grow up into being, nor what she wants in a husband. She isn't even capable of real love, and it is a crime that she should have been permitted to gamble away her future happiness.

Nor is any boy of 22 fitted to rear a wife in the way he wants her to go. He invariably develops into a tyrant, which shows itself in his spanking you whenever you don't grovel before him.

DEAR MISS DIX: We are two young men, aged 22 and 27. Our problem is with two older women who are very wealthy and who are in love with us and want us to marry them. They have bought us a new automobile and give us all the spending money we ask for. With all the security they are offering, do you think we should settle down with them, or should we refuse them?

TWO CONFUSED BOYS.

ANSWER: Two young men in the very prime of life who are willing to sell themselves for their board and keep evidently put a small valuation on themselves. They do not realize that when a young man marries an old woman for her money that he sells himself into slavery and will be nothing but his wife's handyman. For there is no tyrant on earth greater than a rich old woman who knows she has to buy all the attentions she receives from men.

"SHORT LOOK" HIGHLIGHTS—The new look in hairstyles has ten-inch locks combed into soft waves over the ears in the "White Gold" coiffure, left, which is redheads as well. Proof against gusty weather, "Windblown," especially modelled for blondes but is striking for brunettes and centre, is cropped short all around, with the hair parted in the middle and falling in loose bangs at the sides of the forehead. Designed for the silver-haired matron, the soft yet sculptured-looking coiffure, right, has a gently-waved bang and subtle, diagonal wave over the ear.

Battle of Hemline is Over With Style Experts Winning

By JANET BLAIR

NEW YORK, Feb. 9. — The spring fashion showings in New York have just been completed, and as far as style experts are concerned, the battle of the hemline is over — and is won! Or maybe it is lost, depending on which side you were on! However, no matter what stand you took on this world-shaking question—the hemline is down! And, fashion commentators state, down to stay, at least for a while.

The skirt which promises most success for spring is the one with the wonderful, wide hem . . . sometimes as wide as 200 inches. These whirlabout hems in wool, faille and taffeta now . . . cotton for summer . . . are as pretty and feminine a fashion as we've had for years.

Another hemline eye-catcher is the petticoat, as full as the skirt, and banded at the bottom with a crisp ruffle. All New York is wearing them in rustling taffeta under their wide skirts. They come in marvelous colours, too . . . paddy green, golden-yellow, bright-red, petunia-pink, as well as stripes, dots, plaids. Often the ruffle shows all around under your skirt; sometimes there's ust a flash of color as you turn; but always, when you swing your full whirling hem, there's the discreet rustle of taffeta or faille from your old-fashioned petticoat.

For the lady who can't wear the full, skirt, there were many slim styles shown. However, even here, the skirt is much longer, and there is frequently hemline interest in pleats, back fullness in the skirt, cuffs or ruffles at the skirt bottom.

Naturally, all this hemline interest highlights your stockings. Lovely sheer full-fashioned hose, which fits perfectly at your ankles, is an absolute "must" this season. Since all eyes will be on your ankles, you can't afford to wear anything else but the stockings that fit as neatly and snugly as possible—full-fashioned hose with their slenderizing back seam. And in the lovely new delicately feminine colors . . . shadowy beiges and greys, flattering neutrals, and the new warm golds . . . your full-fashioned hosiery really becomes an important part of your Spring costume.

ENQUIRY COLUMN
By MARY MOORE

QUESTION: I am a constant reader of your column and I have many of your fine recipes but this is the first time I have written to you.

You see we have a Jersey cow for our own fresh milk and cream, and the present time we are not churning the cream for butter, so you see. I have quite a bit of heavy cream. Is it possible to make a good plain or chocolate cake using heavy cream instead of butter? Have you a recipe for ice cream using gelatine (chocolate or vanilla). Also could I use cream in a fruited drop cookie?

Thank you for your reply.

Mrs. M. L.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: This letter comes at a good time for I have had letters from readers asking me how to extend butter with cream both by adding it to genuine butter and by susbstituting for it by filching a little of the heavy cream from the top of their bottles of milk, and using it plentifully on cereals in place of using toast and butter.

Whipped Cream Cake

One cup whipping cream, 2 eggs, beaten until thick and lemon-coloured, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1½ cups sifted cake flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder. Whip cream until it holds its shape. Add eggs and whip until light as foam. Add sugar and beat again. Sift, flour, salt and baking powder together 3 times and add to egg mixture. Bake in greased layer cake pans in oven of 350 deg. Fahr. 25 to 30 minutes. Cool and spread boiled frosting or whipped cream between layers and on top.

Sour Cream Cake

Note: You may leave out 2 tablespoons flour in this cake and add 4 to 6 tablespoons good quality cocoa and this will make a light chocolate cake.)

Two eggs, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup thick sour cream, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 cups sifted cake flour, 1½ teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon baking soda, ¼ teaspoon salt. Beat eggs very light, add sugar gradually and beat until fluffy. Add cream and vanilla and beat. Sift dry ingredients together 3 times and add to egg mixture, beating until smooth. Bake in a square pan lined with waxed paper, at 350 deg. Fahr. for about 35 minutes.

The two recipes for frozen desserts which follow I can recommend highly. The Maple Mousse is without doubt the best homemade ice cream I know.

Maple Mousse

One and one-quarter cups maple syrup, ½ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 5 cups cream, 2 tablespoons gelatine, ¼ cup cold water. Combine maple syrup, sugar and one cup of cream and bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Add the gelatine softened in the cold water and dissolved by standing it in very hot water and stirring until dissolved. Strain cool by standing in ice water until the mixture thickens somewhat, then add the remainder of the cream, whipped stiff, with a folding motion. Place in mould, pack in ice and salt and let stand 4 hours OR pack and freeze in trays of mechanical refrigerator. Do not stir this when freezing.

Charlotte Glace

Note: One or two squares cooking chocolate may be addde to this by melting it over double boiler and adding to the sugar. Increase sugar to ½ cup if chocolate is used. One-quarter cup powdered sugar, 1 pint thick cream, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ½ tablespoons gelatine, 4 tablespoons cold water. Dissolve the sugar by stirring it in the cream. Add vanilla. Soften the gelatine in cold water, dissolve over heat and combine the two mixtures.

This may be baked in any shape desired, but is usually packed in a cylindrical mould (a baking - powder can will do nicely) and pack in salt and ice for 2 hours or pack and freeze in trays of electric refrigerator. Turn out on platter, surround with lady fingers or strips of sponge cake, cover top with whipped cream, garnish with maraschino cherries.

If you would like further cream recipes please let me know.

P. S. For Fruit cookies using cream, reduce required butter by half, replace it with cream, also substitute cream for any milk, and add 1 tablespoon flour to recipe.

"SUNSHINE PILLS" — Books and pencils are stowed away for the moment as these Montreal schoolchildren enjoy "milk period" under the supervision of their teachers. Once a day in fifty-five city schools needy youngsters are given free bottles of milk and vitamin capsules by the Canadian Progress Club of Montreal, whose "School Children's Milk Fund" is supported by public subscription in annual campaigns. This year's plans call for the distribution of 410,000 bottles of milk and 350,000 vitamin capsules. Similar plans operate in other cities across the Dominion.

6-Point Plan For The Blind

"Blind Canadians want opportunity, not charity," said Col. E. A. Baker, managing director of The Canadian National Institute for the Blind in connection with White Cane Week, which starts today.

"The Canadian people," went on Col. Baker, "are known for their sense of fair play in all sports. Sportsmanship is inculcated in our children from their earliest days. We appeal to that sense of fair play in asking that the blind who are handicapped at the start of the race to earn a living, should receive certain assistance to enable them to compete on something like an even footing for a reasonable standard of living."

The CNIB in conjunction with the Canadian Council of the Blind is proposing a six-point plant for improvement in legislation relative to the blind, according to Col. Baker. The Council and the Institute feel that there should be a separate Blind Persons' Act completely divorced from the Old Age Pensions Act.

"The problems of the sightless young man differ greatly from the problems of old age,' 'said Col. Baker. "For him, Blindness Allowance—a term preferable to Pension—is not insurance against want in his old age but an encouragement and an investment in present and future enterprise."

Col. Baker pointed out the many additional expenses which blindness imposes and urged that the rate of Blindness Allowance be maintained at an adequate level, relative to the cost of living. Col. Baker said that members of the Council and of the Institute felt that the application of the means test in the award of pensions was discouraging to blind people to whom it is a negation of talents. "If a sightless person, through the development of his talents and with Blindness Allowance to give him further assurance, is able to earn a substantial income, he can have no objection if income tax deals with him fairly as it does with his sighted fellows," he said.

Col. Baker concluded by urging the public to consider the weight of these points and to give their support to the proposal for improved legislation for the blind.

Canada Empire's Main Source Of Lumber And Wood Products

MONTREAL, Feb. 9—(Special)—Canada stands today as the largest single source of lumber and wood products in the British Commonwealth of Nations, and Canadian lumbermen are alive to the need of striking a proper balance between production and conservation of the nation's greatest natural resource, it was indicated today by W. J. LeClair, secretary-manager of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association.

Presenting his manager's report to the Association's 40th Annual Convention, he said that information on British Empire timber supply conditions, resulting from last summer's conferences with Empire representatives in Britain, had done much to aid the Canadian lumberman in attuning business plans with current world needs for lumber. At the same time, in providing greater understanding of forest problems of the Commonwealth, the conferences made it clear that Canada must conserve as much standing timber as possible in order to assure future generations of sufficient supplies.

Heads Supply Committee

Reporting on his appointment as an official Canadian delegate to the Fifth British Empire Forestry Conference last summer, Mr. LeClair said he had been honored by a further appointment as chairman of the Conference's Empire Timber Supply and Marketing Committee. The exchange of ideas and intensive study of supply conditions throughout the Commonwealth would be "of incalculable benefit" in future years, he added.

Some weeks after his return to Canada, Mr. LeClair continued, the Canadian Lumbermen's Association had been host to some 40 British timber industry representatives during a tour of Canadian lumbering operations. A new and intimate understanding of requirements and production problems had been achieved on these occasions between the lumbermen of the two countries.

The association's annual awards and scholarships had been increased in 1947 by $600 in the form of a cooperative arrangement with the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association and the forest industries of British Columbia. As its contribution, the CLA had provided a total three scholarships, valued at $200 each, to the University of New Brunswick, Laval University and the University of Toronto. The management, Mr. LeClair reported, provided for eight scholarships to be awarded with a view to training technical personnel to combat forest insect destructiveness. Total value of all CLA awards now stands at $1,700 annually.

U.S. Basic Food Items Drop Few Cents Today

CHICAGO, Feb. 9 —(AP)— Some basic food items sagged a few cents at retail levels today as a result of the sharp price break last week on major United States commodity exchanges.

Lower prices for bread, flour, lard and meat were announced by several grocery chains.

In announcing the price cutbacks, an official of a Chicago grocery chain described the retail food business as "highly competitive" and added "we have to act fast" in response to shifting wholesale prices.

Some of the price cuts announced as effective today:

Bacon— 10 cents lower in some New Jersey and Indianapolis stores.

Flour—Brown 16 to 17 cents for a 25-pound bag at many markets throughout the country.

Lard —three to eight cents lower across the country.

Pope Pius Urges Atomic Energy Used For Peace

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 9.—(AP).—Pope Pius described the atom bomb last night as "the most terrible arm that the mind of man has yet devised" and urged scientists to turn atomic energy to works of peace.

The Pontiff, in an address before the Pontifical Scientific Academy, asked:

"What catastrophe must humanity await from a future conflict, if it is shown impossible to halt or curb the use of always new and always more surprising scientific inventions?"

Scientists from the United States, Italy, Eire, Austria, Belgium, and Portugal heard the Papal address. Several Cardinals and diplomatic representatives to the Holy See also were present.

Referring to St. Augustine's criticism of war, the Pontiff said if past conflicts deserved so severe a censure, "with what voice should we now judge those that have struck our generations and bent to the service of their works of destruction and extermination a technique incomparably more advanced?"

The Pontiff outlined discoveries that have developed the bomb.

"The result of these marvelous investigations," he said, "does not represent so much a conclusion as the passage of new learnings and the beginning of what has been called the 'atomic era.' "

The Pope described recent scientific advances as "a marvelous conquest of human intellect, that studies and investigates the laws of nature, bringing humanity with it through new roads."

Hold German Citizen For 'Eating' Sister

FRANKFURT, Feb. 9.—(Reuters).—Bernard Oeheme, 65-year-old German of Chemnitz in the Russian zone, was reported by police to have admitted killing, cooking and eating his sister, Maria Oehme, 26, Dean, the German News Service, said today.

Maria was missed by relatives in mid-January. A search of the Oehme house revealed that meat in pots, buckets and dishes was human flesh.

Maria's head, hands and feet were found in the cellar Oehme, it was stated, had cut his sister's body to pieces and had eaten heart, liver, kidneys and parts of the flesh from the ribs and had boiled oatmeal in the human soup.

He said he intended to make soap with the remains.

During his detention, Oehme was said to have asked police to bring him some human flesh in his cell.

Oehme had been acquited of a previous murder charge because of lack of evidence.

Conservation Of U.S. Dollars To Be Studied By House Again

OTTAWA, Feb. 9—(CP).—The Commons will swing back today to debate on the Government's motion for the establishment of a committee to investigate reasons for living costs and once that is completed attention will return to Bill No. 3—the measure providing for conservation of American dollars. The exchange bill is at committee stage and each of its 15 clauses are expected to be debated lengthily. Attached as an appendix to the bills are schedules listing the goods banned under import restrictions or admitted to the country under quota arrangements.

If debate on the measure is prolonged, it may be interpreted to permit passage of an extension of the Farm Loans Improvement Act of 1944. The Act is due to expire Feb. 15 and action will have to be taken before that time to extend its operations. Under the Government bill on the order paper the provisions would be extended for a period of three years.

The Exchange Act and Farm Loans Act debates possibly will be followed by legislation to extend the government's transitional powers until March 31, 1949. The Transitional Powers Act provides governmental authority to continue rent and price controls.

Also of an emergency nature is legislation to provide assistance to Canadian gold mines and to give statutory effect to the excise taxes imposed when the exchange conservation measures were announced Nov. 17. Behind these emergency measures is a lengthy list of domestic legislation that will keep members busy for several months.

Insurance

Unemployment Insurance benefits will be extended this year to workers in the logging and lumbering industry throughout Canada. Up to now, they have applied only to the British Columbia section of the industry, which operates the year around.

The seasonal nature of operations in the other provinces has shut them out. After more than two years, the Unemployment Insurance Commission has worked out a scheme to cover the seasonal workers. It has been submitted to the government and approved.

When it will go into effect has not been decided, but April 1—opening of the federal fiscal year—is a likely date.

Anniversary

Wednesday is the one-year anniversary of the opening of public hearings on the railways' application for higher freight rates. There has been considerable speculation that the Board of Transport Commissioners might hand down its $100,000,000-a-year verdict on that day, or just before it.

However, very late February or early March now is the best on the filing of the Board's decision.

Lesson Sermon Subject Is Entitled 'Spirit'

"Spirit" was the subject of the Lesson Sermon which was read in all churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, including First Church of Christ Scientist in Peterborough on Sunday.

The Golden Text was "Ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you."

Selections from the Bible included the following from Psalms 139:7-10: "Whither shall I go from thy spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence? If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there: if I make my bed in hell, behold, thou art there. If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea; even there shall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand shall hold me."

Correlative citations from the Christian Science textbook included the following from page 594: "Spirit. Divine substance; Mind: divine Principle; all that is good; Good; that only which is perfect, everlasting, omnipresent, omnipotent, infinite."

4 Face Charges

Charged with being intoxicated in a public place, making him a second offender under the charge, Gerard Clancy, 306 Mark St., was fined $5o and $2.50 costs when he pleaded guilty before Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, in the police court, Saturday.

Accused was also charged for assaulting Joseph Clancy, and causing bodily harm. To this charge Clancy pleaded not guilty and he was remanded to appear before the court Monday, Feb. 9.

In the same court Elwin Murduff, 211 Prince St.; Ivan Hutchinson, 4 Bertie St., Lindsay; and Arthur Moffatt, 186 Hunter St., all pleaded guilty to being intoxicated in a public place. They were each fined $10 and $2.50 costs.

THE WORLD'S FUTURE IS BEING DECIDED NOW GIVE TO THE CANADIAN APPEAL FOR CHILDREN...

OUR TOMORROWS depend on what happens to the world's children TODAY. In ruined lands around the globe there are millions of them in misery—scrambling for shreds of food on garbage dumps, shivering in rags. On the continent of Europe, half the children born since the war are already dead of malnutrition. Those who survive—there and elsewhere—are desperately in need of food and clothing. They need schooling, too, for their neglected minds grow as sick as their withered bodies . . .

"They are the future If they are not saved, our world is lost"

Canadian Appeal for Children commences its campaign on February 9th to meet the challenge of these desperate and immediate needs. This is a campaign by the people of Canada, with a minimum objective of $10,000,000, to provide food, clothing and school supplies for the children — safeguard the health of expectant and nursing mothers — in devastated lands around the world.

Wherever possible, all donations will be used for the purchase of Canadian goods, which will be distributed under the direction of responsible United Nations operating agencies.

Organizations across Canada are co-operating in this campaign. It has national approval; is supported by industry, agriculture, education, labour, service clubs, cultural and other organizations.

YOUR HELP IS NEEDED NOW. Your contribution — received at any Canadian BANK — will mean life instead of death for the children — and hope for the future peace of the world. You sympathize. You want to give. But good will and good wishes are not enough. Since you may not be canvassed don't let failure to act be on your conscience — turn your sympathy and good wishes into a tangible contribution — go to your bank NOW and GIVE.

If you as an individual or as a member of an organization are anxious to take an active part in this campaign, please get in touch with

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

TWO REAL ADVANTAGES

THERE are some disadvantages connected with an opening bid of a suit which is not topped by high honors, but there are also definitely several real advantages. One of them comes from the fact that the player at the declarer's left may later double the suit, partly because he thinks some honors of his own sit at the left of the declarer's high honors, whereas the suit, if supported, is pretty likely to have its highest honors in the dummy. Another stems from the fact that defenders often do not like to lead the originally bid suit, feeling that the declarer probably can win the first or second trick in it.

Against the bidding at Table 1 West made his natural lead of the unbid suit, his diamond 2. East of course cashed two top tricks, setting the contract at once. South at that table was one of those players—of whom there are hundreds of thousands in the country—who will not open the bidding with a four-card suit unless it contains something better than one "honor trick." Hence, he considered the diamond suit ineligible for original bid purposes.

At Table 2 was a player in the South who follows the procedure observed by all of the top-ranking players in the land. He considers any four-card suit "containing probable stoppers" if led against a No Trump contract as biddable. Hence the diamond suit qualified with him. Bidding it had the additional advantage of enabling him to bid his clubs next and thereby show that he held two suits of equal length.

The diamond opening scared West into leading his heart 7, so this South took all the tricks.

150 Canadian Planes Arrive At Nanking

NANKING, Feb. 9.—(Reuters).—One hundred and fifty Canadian - manufactured Mosquito bombers shipped here under a Canadian-Chinese agreement will be ready for service within two weeks, it was learned today.

Six technicians from the De Haviland Aircraft Company at Toronto who will supervise assembling the machines with improvised equipment, said they will be able to make two planes serviceable each week.

A Canadian test pilot is expected to reach here soon to check the planes after they are assembled. Fifteen Chinese air force pilots are to be sent to Ontario for instruction in flying the aircraft.

The Mosquitos, armed with four cannons, four machine-guns and eight rockets can also carry two tons of bombs. They were delivered with complete sets of spare parts. The new machines are said to increase the Chinese air force strength by 25 per cent.

Cannington Opens Memorial Centre

Saturday night was a gala night for Cannington, when their Memorial Youth Centre was officially opened.

The opening of the centre was performed by Lt.-Col. The Hon. G. A. Welsh, DSO, MPP, and Mr. J. M. McDonnell, KC, MP. The centre was the scene of the first battle royal between two hockey teams, St. Michael's College Bees and an all-star team from the district. All stars defeated the visitors 12-5.

It is estimated that the Memorial Youth Centre was built at a cost of $21,000.

GROWTH OF THE U. S.

Milton Hannah, Millbrook, was placed on one year's suspended sentence when he pleaded guilty to a charge of vagrancy in magistrate's court this morning.

Murray Nice, 581 Douglas Ave., was remanded until Feb. 11 on $200 bail on charges of retaining stolen goods and attempted car theft. He entered pleas of not guilty to both charges.

Gales Batter Britain

LONDON, Feb. 9.—(Reuters).—Winds of near gale force caused widespread damage in Britain last night. In a village in Durham county an 80-mile-an-hour wind lifted the roof off a house. The five occupants escaped injury. Seventeen Scottish telephone exchanges were temporarily put out of action by winds. In northern England many roads were blocked by fallen trees and debris while in several ports small ships were torn from their moorings.

Tribes Declare War On Prices

ACCRA, Gold Coast, West Africa, Feb. 9—(AP).—Tribal chiefs on the Gold Coast, warring on the high cost of living, have given their blessing to a boycott of imported goods.

The boycott, in effect more than a week, has brought trade to a virtual standstill. Stores which formerly counted their sales in pounds now do not make as many pence. Losses are estimated at £1,000,000 ($4,000,000) or more.

The boycotted imports are mainly textiles. Many stores have closed for lack of business.

Nii Kwanena Bonne III, a chief of Osu, toured the country, telling the Africans that high prices are evil. In many towns Africans are restricted by tribal oaths from buying all kinds of imported goods. Thousands of women in Accra (population about 75,006) demonstrate daily in support of the boycott.

A government committee is expected to act on the situation in about six weeks.

PCVS Cagers

PCVS dropped five out of six, this time. Mrozeck of Oshawa with four hoops for eight points led the scorers, closely followed by Northcott and Thompson with seven each for PCVS.

The PCVS Senior B team stayed close to the group leading Cobourg Seniors by decisively defeating the Oshawa Senior B's in the second game. Once again the first half was close, ending 9-9. Ted Payne's three hoops and a foul shot accounted for seven of the nine PCVS points to the half. The home team opened up on resumption of play and poured 27 points through the hoop as compared with 10 for Oshawa, to win going away. Ted Payne kept his shooting eye and added nine more points for a 16 point game total. Hempstead and Manbeck produced six and five points respectively to support Payne in the PCVS scoring. Gilbert had six points for Oshawa.

A seemingly safe lead in the Junior B game for PCVS almost disappeared as a fighting Oshawa club finished strongly and fell but one basket short of tieing the score. The first half was all PCVS with a half-time score of 11-3. The reverse was the case in the second as Oshawa outscored the winners 11-5. Batchelor was the big scorer in the game with half his team's 16 points. Ackford had four of the remainder. Hulcio had four for Oshawa, while Bak and Simpkin counted three each.

Dismiss Charge Careless Driving

A charge of careless driving was dismissed this morning against William S. Nelson, Keene, following evidence given of an accident at the intersection of the Keene and Hastings roads in which the accused had admittedly struck the truck of Percy Wood, Keene.

From evidence of PPC Joseph Hanson, the accident took place on a hill near the intersection. The car of the accused had been travelling up the hill on the wrong side of the road and struck the truck, which had pulled almost entirely into the ditch to avoid collision. The drive shaft of the truck was driven through and there were other damages.

Mr. Wood, as witness, told defence counsel William Grant that the road had been icy and slippery and that he could see that the approaching car was "trying to get to the right side of the road."

The accused told the court that he had turned out to the center of the road to pass another parked truck and that the iced surface, plus a slight slope to the road, prevented him from retaining his proper position. The other driver had also done everything possible to avoid collision, he said.

"My wheels just skidded — there was nothing I could do," he said.

Police Assault Cases Laid Over

LINDSAY, Feb. 9.—(ENS).—Under what Magistrate E. A. Gee termed "very unusual circumstances," the case against the four Tracey brothers and three other Lindsay men, all charged following a beverage room brawl here January 31st was adjourned tentatively to February 20 in police court today.

Col. R. I. Moore, KC, appeared in court and told His Worship that he had turned the defence over to W. J. Fair of Peterborough. Col. Moore said he might be taking a trip in the near future, and said he believed the case "might drag on" for some time.

Mr. D. Fulton, appearing on behalf of Mr. Fair, said the Peterborough lawyer was at present occupied with Supreme Court sittings now taking place in this part of the province, and would be so occupied for some time. Crown Attorney L. W. Jordan pointed out that were the case delayed too long, it might conflict with Supreme Court sittings here.

The brothers, Lionel, Len, Gerald and Earl Tracey, along with John Hopkins, now faces new charges. Previously charged with resisting arrest they are now charged with assaulting Constables John Hunter and Ross Endicott, both of whom were injured in the fight. They are also to answer charges of taking part in an affray. The charge of resisting has been withdrawn. Bissette and McGee are still charged with obstructing police officers.

Youth 17 Given Reformatory Term

Seventeen - year - old Russell Davis, Warsaw, was sentenced to 15 months definite, 3 months indefinite in reformatory when he pleaded guilty to theft of a truck from Roy McCall in court this morning. The father of the accused was in court and explained to the magistrate that his son had been in care of another member of the family at the time of the offense. This was the first time the boy had not been with him, the father said.

Mr. McCall outlined how he had caught the youth himself after following the tire marks to where Davis was trying to push the truck out of the ditch where he had driven it.

Plane Hits Bus

HENBON, Middlesex, England, Feb. 9.—(Reuters).—Two airmen were killed and at least three other persons were severely injured today when an Anson aircraft crashed into trolley bus and then into the wall of a factory here. The plane tore the scaffolding from a block of flats as it came down, ripping the standards from the trolley bus and overturned on the pavement, after demolishing the front of the bus.

War Training Aids Business

By The Canadian Press

Technical skills learned during the war are proving their value in Canadian peace-time production and enabling firms to tackle manufacturing jobs which otherwise would have been impossible for them.

Industrial know-how, however, is not acquired quickly, and ordinarily comes with generations of men raised in the workmanship and tradition of a craft.

Accordingly, it has not been simply a matter of teaching Canadian workmen, but also of importing trained personnel for key places. This, plus native North American mechanical aptitude, has put Canada in a good position to fend her way in world markets.

One Canadian manufacturer, who makes both heavy equipment and light consumer goods, commented recently that he would compete in price, as well as quality, with American production in lines which are not mass-produced.

Assembly-line products, however, are another matter so far as the world market is concerned. Where a Canadian company may produce 40,000 units, an American firm may produce 400,000 because of the large domestic sale it can make in the United States. This enables it to knock down its production costs.

Disney To Use U.S. Folklore For Next Films

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 9 (AP)—The vast field of American folklore is getting a prominent spot on Walt Disney's future production slate.

Walt feels that the legendary feats of Paul Bunyan, Johnny Appleseed, John Henry, Davy Crockett, Rip Van Winkle, etc., are tailor-made for his medium. They have long been neglected by the stage and screen as too elusive and too fantastic.

Bing Crosby is being sought to narrate "Legend of Sleepy Hollow." The latter will be teamed with an English legend, "Mr. Toad," for which Charles Laughton is wanted.

Story of News

Glenn Ford has been approached by Columbia for the lead in the story of the Associated Press. He still is contemplating an offer to portray "Peter Minuit" in Belgium, but may forego it for the AP film.

Walter Pidgeon of Saint John, NB, says he will never sing another note on the screen. Walter, a one-time singing star, told me on the "Julia Misbehaves" set he might do another musical, but not as a singer. He claims his vocalizing has left him....

Red Skelton's contract talks with MGM will be rsumed soon. Now making "Southern Yankee," he was incensed to discover his contract reads that every idea he might have belongs to MGM. But it is not only "thought control" he objects to. MGM collected $150,000 for his "Fuller Brush Man" loan-out, and Red got $17,500. He wants to make one film yearly until he is free of his contract, three years hence....

Travel Notes

Signe Sasso sails for her native Sweden in June and she will deliver eight lectures on Hollywood movies while there.....Ailing Dame May Whitty to see her daughter, Margaret Webster, in New York.

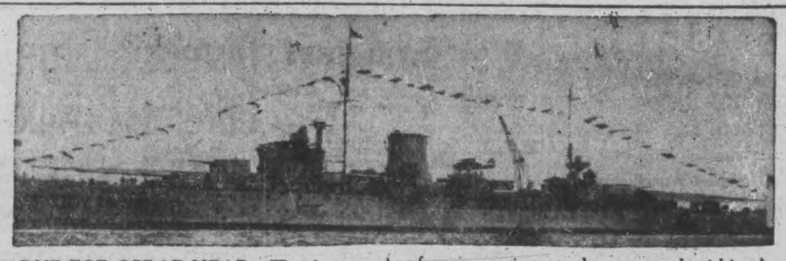
The United States Chamber of Commerce is lining up Hollywood names for a radio series which will begin April 6. Designed "to promote Americanism," the programs will feature dramatic sketches, plus two-minute talks by such figures as Gen. Eisenhower, Henry Ford II, and Benjamin Fairles.

Parish Guild Plans Coming Year's Work

HAVELOCK, Feb. 9—(ENS)—Mrs. F. McKee, president of the Women's Parish Guild of St. John's Anglican church, entertained the Guild at her home on Thursday.

During the devotional exercises, a psalm was read by Mrs. McKay. The constitution of the Parish Hall was also read.

The business session was spent in drawing up a program for the year's work, the plans under discussion to be completed at the next meeting on Feb. 19 at the home of Mrs. Charles Taylor.



Lunch was served by the hostess.

See Early Opening

MONTREAL, Feb. 9—(CP)—Local mariners are hoping for the earliest navigation opening in several years thanks to the lack of snow and the relatively mild weather along the St. Lawrence River. The 90 miles of tough ice that stretch from Montreal to Three Rivers is almost free of snow and veteran rivermen believe that this will make the task of the ice-breakers an easier one this year.

Appointed Governor

LONDON, Feb. 9 — (Reuters). — The Colonial office announced yesterday the appointment of Earl Baldwin, son of the late Conservative leader and prime minister, as governor and commander in chief of the Leeward Islands in the West Indies.

DUE FOR SCRAP HEAP—The famous British cruiser Ajax, above, one of the victors over the Nazi pocket battleship, Graf Spee, in the Battle of the River Plate, is one of seven cruisers to be scrapped within the next 12 months, press reports said recently. The Admiralty had no comment on the report. The Ajax, now at Malta, will sail for the United Kingdom next Monday.

Mrs. F. McKay Speaker At WI

HAVELOCK, Feb. 9—(ENS)—Mrs. Frank McKay was guest speaker at the February meeting of the Havelock Women's Institute.

"Social welfare," Mrs. McKay said, "is to raise the general standard of community life and to enrich its resources for better living through the promotion of public health, education and community activities and by a study of laws directly affecting them."

It was decided the Institute would send a box to Britain every month. Mrs. R. J. McCutcheon, Mrs. H. Hoard and Mrs. G. Fox were appointed a committee to handle this project.

Donations Made

A donation of $10 was made to the Canadian Appeal for Children Fund and a donation of $5 to the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto. Mrs. G. Fox and Mrs. D. McColl were appointed to interview the council requesting another cupboard be installed in the library. They will also apply for the annual library grant.

Seven letters expressing thanks for Christmas cheer parcels were read.

The program was announced by the president, and included:

Song by Jo-Ann Kennedy, with Mrs. Fox at the piano; Sheila and Shirley Seabrook, Sandra Vansickle, Lois Wilde and Jo-Ann Kennedy sang a group of songs with Miss Dora Ketchen as accompanist; Miss Jacqueline Saunders played the accompaniment for a song by Shirley and Beverley Bennett and Elaine Graham. The latter two also sang a duet.

Lunch was served by Mrs. C. Taylor, Mrs. R. Melville, Mrs. W. Woodbeck and Mrs. F. McKenzie.

Republican Senators Back Seaway Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(AP).—Two Republican senators from New England said yesterday that the St. Lawrence seaway project would benefit the west and provide ample supplies of cheap electrical power.

Senator Tom Connolly (Dem.-Tex.) said, however, that the seaway proposal, to be voted on in the senate Feb. 27, will be defeated.

He said in a statement that "the movement of the proponents to postpone a vote . . . is an admission of their failure."

Senators Charles Tobey (Rep.-N.H.) and George Aiken (Rep.-Vt.) issued separate statements urging approval of the seaway.

Plan Conference

TORONTO, Feb. 9. (CP)—H. H. Landon Ladd, administrator of the Eastern Region of the International Woodworkers of America, announced yesterday that a conference of workers in the Ontario furniture industry will be held in Hanover Feb. 14-15. The conference will set a union policy for the year on wages, hours and working conditions.

Two Textile Organizers Given 2-Year Jail Terms

ST. JEROME, Que., Feb. 10—(CP).—Madeleine Parent Bjarnason and Aeolus Beaucage, organizers of the United Textile Workers of America (AFL), were each sentenced to two years' imprisonment today following conviction on charges of seditious conspiracy and conspiracy to interfere with the right of workers.

The two were convicted last week and sentence was pronounced today by Mr. Justice Philemon Cousineau.

The charges grew out of a strike last summer at the plant of Ayers, Ltd., at Lachute, Que.

The union organizers were convicted by a jury Friday after only 40 minutes' deliberation. Defence counsel previously indicated an appeal would be taken against the verdict.

Provincial Organizer

Mrs. Bjarnasen, more widely known under her maiden name Parent, was provincial organizer of the UTWA. Beaucage's official title was business agent.

The two were arrested several times during the strike at the Ayers textile plant. R. Kent Rowley, national organizer for the union, was also arrested on similar charges. He was granted a separate trial because of his mixed parentage and his case will be heard before six French-speaking jurymen.

In his charge to the jury last week Mr. Justice Cousineau rejected a defence claim that the case was prejudiced because the complaints were signed by Premier Duplessis, who is also Attorney-General for Quebec. On the defence contention that the law under which the two were charged was ultra vires, His Lordship said it was not his duty to rule on this claim and that the law as it stands must be accepted.

Urge Increase For Veterans

OTTAWA, Feb. 10.—(CP). — The National Liberal Federation, in resolutions made public today, urged the Government to consider increases in veterans' pensions and give special attention to widows with dependent children where the present allowances are inadequate.

The resolutions, passed by the federation's advisory council at the annual meeting here Jan. 20-21 and presented to the Government Feb. 6, called for consideration of a change in the basic principle of pensions which would recognize the need for increases over amounts allowed by existing schedules in cases "where the pension awarded is established to be of necessity a living allowance."

The federation also called for the maintenance and development "of a policy to the end that freer entry to Canada be permitted desirable immigrants in the interests of a greater national development."

Another resolution urged the Government, in co-operation with the farm provinces, to continue and enlarge its policy of developing the natural resources of the country and to foster the development of research facilities both within the agencies of government and elsewhere.

Annual Bank Report Will Be Given Abbott

OTTAWA, Feb. 10.— (CP).—The annual report of the Bank of Canada (Central Bank) will be in the hands of Finance Minister Abbott tomorrow and probably will be made public immediately. This report, made by Graham Towers, governor of the bank, is of extreme importance to Canadian economy because of its effects on interest rates.

Since its establishment in 1935, the bank has pursued an "easy money" policy which is regarded as having been an important factor in keeping interest rates low. Whether the bank will advise continuation of that policy or change its trend to higher rates will be known only when the report is available.

The most important step the bank took during the war to keep interest rates down was in Feb. 7, 1944, when it cut the bank rate from 2½ per cent per annum to 1½ per cent. That meant that the chartered banks could borrow from the Central Bank at the lower rate.

Call Troops Into Action In Jerusalem

Most Citizens Huddle Behind Walls, As Barrage Laid Down

JERUSALEM, Feb. 10—(Reuters)—British troops went into action in Jerusalem today and laid down a barrage of mortar fire as the heaviest battle yet between Jews and Arabs flared up in different parts of Jerusalem and around the old walled city.

Men, women and children fled as machine-guns, rifles and pistols sent raking fire through the streets in various parts of Jerusalem.

People trapped in the battle areas crouched behind walls as bullets screeched off buildings and ambulances raced through the streets to rattle of automatic fire.

The shooting began about 10 a.m. in the area of Princess Mary Ave. when police guarding a road block replied to snipers' fire from a house nearby.

Fighting then swept through the city as posts of Hagana, the Jewish defence army, opened up and Arabs let loose a barrage of automatic and rifle fire from roof tops and sandbagged positions on the tops of the walls of the old city.

Correspondents in the public information office came under fire as bullets struck the building and other bursts of fire hit two press cars. Outside a press photographer driving down the road had his windshield smashed by a bullet.

As the intensity of the fighting increased and pedestrians inside the sandbagged and barbed wire security zones flattened themselves as bullets whistled overhead, reinforcement troops of the Highland Light Infantry were called up in trucks to silence Arab positions on the tops of the old city walls from where fire was directed towards the newly-built British Officers' Club and army posts around the public information office buildings.

Men of the Highland Light Infantry deployed in firing positions among the trees outside the information office and directed heavy Bren gun and rifle fire at the gun flashes coming from the old city walls.

Union Loses At Lock Plant

TORONTO, Feb. 10 (CP)—The Ontario Labor Relations Board yesterday rejected an application by the United Electrical Workers (C.I.O.) for certification at the Corbin Lock Company plant at Belleville. The board found the union called a strike prior to fyling its aplication and that the strike still was in progress when the application was made.

The board also refused certification to the International Moulders and Foundry Workers (A.F.L.). The judgement said the board was not satisfied that in electing bargaining representatives the A.F.L. union had the approval of the majority of the employees at the Corbin plant.

2 Million Dollar Windfall Likely For Farmers Soon

OTTAWA, Feb. 10—(CP)— A financial windfall of nearly $100,000,000 injecting new purchasing power into the retail trade channels of Western Canada, is expected to be announced shortly for the country's 225,000 prairie wheat producers.

This staggering avalanche of dollars, which works out to roughly $800. for each producer, will result from an increase the government will ask parliament to legislate in the initial payment which the Canadian wheat board —the official wheat - marketing agency — makes to the wheat growers when they deliver their grain.

The amount of the increase, to be retroactive to 1945, has not yet been disclosed but informed sources here expect it will amount to about 25 cents a bushel, boosting the initial payment from its current rate of $1.35 a bushel to $1.60 and perhaps more.

This will mean a special payment of 25 cents on each of the 729,037,692 bushels which producers have delivered since Aug. 1, 1945, the date to which it will be made effective.

This, then, brings the total payment to around $192,259,000.

The government is expected to announce the extent of the increase shortly and then move a bill to give it effect. Once parliament has approved the proposal, the Canadian wheat board will begin the long and detailed paper work necessary to determine, on the basis of his individual deliveries, how much should go to each producer.

The first cheques may go out this fall but whether they will be for the full amount due each producer is not known.

DIES SUDDENLY—H. Snap' Parker, former defence man with the Senior Petes hockey team back in the glorious hockey years of 1925 and 1926, died suddenly Monday in Montreal. He was 53.

"Snap" Parker Drops Dead At Montreal

Alfred Harold Parker, 5209 Sherbrooke St. West, Montreal, who was well known in Peterborough for many years, dropped dead in Montreal Monday, February 9 while on his way to work.

Mr. Parker was in his 53rd year and was born in Peterborough and educated at the south Central school. From 1920 until 1934 he was manager for his father's business, Parker's Cleaners and Dyers in this city and left there to go into partnership with his brother who had a cleaners and dyers establishment in Hamilton.

For the past six years he had been superintendent of Burnett's Dyers and Cleaners in Montreal, where he was employed at the time of his death.

No finer defenceman ever played hockey for Peterborough than "Snap" Parker. The big fellow teamed up at the blue line with Bert McLeod when the Petes won the Ontario senior championship in 1925-26. He turned down professional offers after that, when most of the championship club turned pro. Parker had starred previously here for years, but this was probably the peak of his hockey career. A solid checking defenceman, Harold was a proficient stick-handler, and veteran followers of the game still speak of his wizardry as he swept up the ice in weaving fashion to go through all the opposition for a close-in score. He was popular alike with players and fans.

His wife Gladys resided with him in Montreal, and he has two sisters living, Mrs. Sidney Trowbridge, 309 Maitland St., Peterborough, and Mrs. Madelon Common, Montreal. His brother Robert resides in Hamilton.

The funeral service will be held at the Marlett Funeral Home in Hamilton Thursday, February 12 and burial will be made in Hamilton.

Historic Church Razed By Fire

SMITHS FALLS, Feb. 10 (CP)—Firemen early today poured water on the embers of historic St. Francis de Sales Roman Catholic Church, destroyed yesterday in a two-hour flash fire which swept the huge building with lightning speed. Estimates of the damage has risen from a previous $200,000 to $250,000.

Meanwhile, other town churches placed their facilities at the disposal of the parish and attempts were made to restore the heating system for nearby, St. Francis Separate School.

Located directly across from the ruined church, the school was threatened by the flames and children were hurriedly evacuated by their teacher.

Only the stone walls and steeple of the church were able to withstand the ravaging flames. Firemen of Smiths Falls, Perth and a local manufacturing plant, working in below-zero weather, were able to save the two-ton bell and the church tower. At the peak of the blaze, Rev. J. T. Hanley and his curate, Rev. D. MacDonald, rescued the sacraments and vestments.

Car Import Quotas Are Outlined

Parts' Regulations Effective March 1, Give Dollar Shares

OTTAWA, Feb. 10—(CP).—Regulations governing imports of motor vehicles during 1948 and setting quotas for imports of automotive parts and accessories were announced today by Trade Minister Howe.

Importers of automotive vehicles will be given dollar allotments based on the number of passenger cars and trucks they imported during the 12 months ended last Oct. 31.

The regulations governing parts, a further measure to conserve Canada's foreign exchange, will become effective March 1. They will allow manufacturers and importers to obtain dollar allotments covering imports from the United States and certain other countries, in a percentage ratio to the dollar value of parts and accessories imported during the same basic period—the year ended Oct. 31 last.

Regarding complete motor vehicles the dollar allotment will be arrived at by multiplying the number of units imported during the basic period by $230—a figure calculated to be 75 per cent of the average foreign currency content of automobiles manufactured in Canada.

Fulfills Promise.

Thus an importer who brought in 1,000 vehicles during the basic period would be entitled to a dollar allotment of 1,000 times $230, or $230,000 worth of cars and trucks from the "scheduled" countries, during 1948.

Mr. Howe said his statement fulfilled the assurance given by Finance Minister Abbott last November 17 that the ban then imposed on imports of motor vehicles would be a temporary measure, with some relaxation to be announced at a later date.

The dollar allotments for complete automobiles will apply to passenger cars with a seating capacity of 10 persons or less, and to trucks with a manufacturer's gross vehicle weight rating of less than 16,501 pounds. Passenger buses and heavy trucks are not included, and applications for importing them will be considered individually "on their merits."

Will Deport Red Secretary

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. — (AP).— The Justice Department today announced the arrest for deportation of John Williamson, labor secretary of the Communist party in the United States.

A department official described Williamson as "the most important figure in the Communist party against whom the Justice Department has taken action thus far."

The Department said Williamson, a member of the Communist party's national committee, "has been posing as an American citizen for many years, whereas he is an alien."

Records of the Federal Bureau of Investigation showed he was born in Scotland 45 years ago.

Immigration service officials and F.B.I. agents took Williamson into custody this morning as he was leaving his home in New York.

Adverse Trade Sum Nearly Three Billion

LONDON, Feb. 10.—(Reuters). —Britain's adverse balance of payments in 1947 was $675,000,000 ($2,700,000,000), a government statement showed today.

The gap between expenditure on imports and receipts for exports had widened from £380,000,000 in 1946 and £70,000,000 in 1938.

Provisional figures for 1947 revealed in the statement on balance of payments that Britain's payments for 1947 totalled £2,105,000,000 against receipts for £1,430,000,000.

45 People Perish In Flames In Atlantic Coast Fires; Sub-Zero Wave Grips Canada

Halifax Tenement Destroyed, 7 Die In Blaze

HALIFAX, Feb. 10 — (CP). — Seven persons died and one was seriously injured in a fire that swept a three-storey wooden tenement building housing 27 persons on north-end Creighton Street here early to-day. Six burned to death and the other died of injuries received in a fall.

The dead:

Mrs. Joseph Gaudet 32, her sons Patrick 4 and Joseph 7.

William Greencorn 29, his wife 34, and daughter Lorina 4.

Doorthy Barry 12.

Seriously injured:

Mrs. Freeman Barry 33, mother of Dorothy, suffering a fractured skull and body injuries.

Minor injpuries:

Stephen David 24, laceration of the arm.

Dorothy Barry broke her back and leg when her father dropped her three storeys to his wife, who had jumped a few seconds before.

Mrs. Barry had fallen in the first leap and fell again in catching the girl.

Both were taken to hospital immediately. Dorothy died several hours later.

The temperature was 8 below zero.

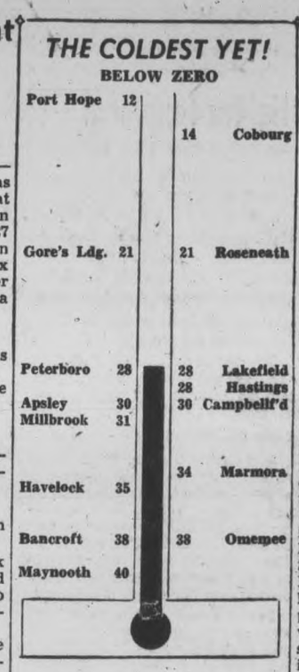
Sub-Zero Weather

The other occupants of the crowded tenement—many of them children — were forced to flee in only night attire in the sub-zero weather. They were taken into other crowded homes in the part-Negro tenement section which houses laboring men and their families.

The toll was one of the highest in Halifax since the Queen Hotel fire in March, 1939, when 28 persons died.

The flames had burst through the roof shortly after 2 a.m. when firemen arrived in response to a telephone call. But it was hours later before a check of occupants had been completed.

Firemen, with icicles fringing their helmets and ice coating their uniforms, tried unsuccessfully to gain entry to the blazing pyre, being turned back by the flames. They finally controlled the fire and prevented it from seriously damaging the adjoining houses.



When the main blaze was controlled, firemen prodded through ice-caked fallen timbers and

Make Last Obeisance To Mohandas Gandhi

NEW DELHI, Feb. 10 — (AP) — The people of Delhi made their last obeisance today before the cremated remains of Mohandas K. Gandhi. His ashes will be consigned Thursday at noon to their last resting place, the three Indian Rivers held most sacred to Hindus.

Across Indian somewhat similar rites will be held. Portions of Gandhi's ashes were distributed to all Indian provinces as a symbol of universal love between Gandhi and his people.

Coldest Wave Of Winter Strikes City

A mass of polar air enveloped all of Eastern Ontario during the past 24 hours and the temperatures hit the toboggan and kept right on falling to establish season lows, for a winter already rated a very cold one.

In the city, James Harrison, weather recorder, reports the temperature dropped to 28 below during the night, and at nine this morning it was still 21 below. Clerks, office workers and students waiting at corners for city buses were amazed as the frost collected on coat collars and faces

This dip to 28 below comes on the heels of a 21-below count on Monday, and citizens report great difficulty in keeping houses warm. One woman said, "After two days of steady zero weather, nothing can get a house warm."

Peterborough city and immediate vicinity was not alone in its foot pounding and arm waving to keep warm. Lakefield shrivelled in a 28-below wave, while 40 miles north at Apsley the natives took one look at the 30 below figure, and: "Well, it's not any worse anyway, let's have a hockey game."

Further north at Bancroft, Reg. Blatherwick said the cold wave had reached a season low of 38, and 15 miles up the road, Maynooth village perched on the side of a high hill, chipped in a 40 below and decided they were running a close race with White River in the north.

Government Won't Permit US Soft Coal Shutdown

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11—(AP) —Cyrus S. Ching, Canadian-born chief federal labor conciliator, said last night the United States government won't permit a soft coal shutdown this spring.

However, members of the Southern Coal Producers Association said Ching has practically handed John L. Lewis a loaded gun if a strike is what the United Mine workers has in mind.

"Lewis comes into the negotiations with an ace in the hole," protested Raymond Salvati, a West Virginia mine official.

"If we cannot get together and his demands are such that we cannot concede them, the government would step in and grant Lewis what he wants.

"He knows that the only way the government can get coal is to give in.

Ching said flatly the United States "will not tolerate a coal stoppage."

Will Take Action

If a strike develops, the Prince Edward Island native told the southern producers at a dinner meeting, "the government will step in.

Lewis already taken what many coal operators regard as a possible first step to end his present contract April 1.

He has notified the operators a dispute exists over his proposed $100-a-month pension for miners 60 or older who have 20 years of service in the pits.

Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Producers Association says many operators believe will "drop the other shoe" around March 1.

Most of Inmates Trapped Above Main Floor

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Feb. 10 — (CP).—The Public Health and Welfare Department announced this afternoon that 34 were dead and four missing out of a total of 43 occupapnts of an Old People's Home which was swept by fire of undetermined origin early today.

The death toll had mounted from the original estimate of 17 as firemen recovered charred bodies from ice-caked and steaming debris and carried them to a nearby morgue where attempts at identification will be made later today.

The dead included an unidentified elderly man who jumped from the third floor of the concrete structure to the icy sidewalk.

Known at Hull House the building is situated at the corner of New Gower and Springdale Streets. It is run by Mr. and Mrs. A. Hull and was used to lodge elderly indigents and infirm persons at government expense while they were awaiting admission to hospital or a permanent institutional home.

Begins On Ground Floor

The fire broke out at 7.30 a.m., EST, and raced through the big building, ground floor of which was occupied by the Wylie Commission merchant store. Firemen in near zero weather, fought hard to gain admission to the blazing structure but were repeatedly driven back by the raging inferno within.

It is understood that before arrival of firemen a few occupants escaped but most of the old and infirm were still in bed and died of either burns or suffocation. Officials said that Mr. and Mrs. Hull were among the missing.

When the flames in the main building were brought under control, firemen made their way into the steaming debris and found bodies charred to a cinder on beds and on floors. Nine bodies were in the first room entered. Some of them were in bed but many of the victims had managed to make their way to windows before collapsing.

$250,000 Fire Sweeps Foundry

HAMILTON, Feb. 10 (CP)—A spectacular fire roared its way today through the three-storey building of the former Burroughs Stewart and Wire Stove Foundry here today, and latest estimate of the damage was $250,000.

Every piece of fire equipment in the city is being used at the blaze. All occupants of the building have been removed, and a block of Hughson street cleared. Police feared the walls might collapse or an explosion blow them out.

Firemen said water pressure was low because of relatively small water mains in that section of the city and because of the many hoses in use. Pumpers are being used to boost the pressure.

Two Ships Speeding To Aid Of Freighters

HALIFAX, Feb. 10 — (CP) — Two freighters were in serious trouble "in very rough seas" off Halifax and two other ships were going to their aid, navy officers reported today.

The ships—the Clunepark and the Pierre H. Dupont—were within 90 miles of one another 800 miles east of here.

Both distressed ships radioed for aid today. The Pierre H. Dupont was taking water in No. 3 hold through a crack forward of the bridge and her skipper sent an SOS asking that someone stand by.

The Clunepark's master made a similar request, saying his ship's rudder had been damaged in the heavy seas.

Blame Allies For 2nd War Soviet Says

Can Produce Proof To Back Charges Against The West

By EDDIE GILMORE

MOSCOW, Feb. 10 — (AP). — The Russians promised today to publish secret German documents which they said would prove their charges that the Western allies paved the way for the Second World War.

The Soviet Information Bureau charged last night that the United States, Britain and France had, in their relations with Germany, provided Adolf Hitler with the strength to launch the war.

The Russians said it was done by "a golden rain of American dollars" and by French and British diplomacy.

The Russian statement was in reply to the United States State Department's publication Jan. 21 of 260 documents captured from the Nazis dealing with Russian-German relations prior to the outbreak of war.

(The documents were published with the sanction of State Secretary Marshall. They said Germany and Russia agreed to divide Poland between them.

(The documents also said the Soviet Union agreed with Hitler that the United States and Britain should be kept out of Europe, Asia and Africa).

Have Proof

Russia said its charges were supported by "important documents will help present the true Soviet troops during the smash-up of Hitlerlite Germany.

"Publication of these documents wil lhelp present the true picture of how Hitler's aggression and the Second World War were in reality prepared and developed

Aided Germans

"Hitlerite aggression became possible firstly because the United States of America helped the Germans establish, within a short period of time after the (First World) War an economic base for German aggression and secondly, because the rejection of collective security by ruling Anglo-French circles disorganized the ranks of peace-loving countries."

All Moscow newspapers published the long statement in full, but made no editorial comment. The official statement said the documents mentioned would be published "shortly."

The information bureau charged:

1. A "golden rain of American dollars....fertilized heavy industry for Hitler Germany and in particular her war industry."

2. "It was the billions of American dollars invested by overseas monopolies in the war economy of Hitler Germany that re-established Germany's war potential and placed into the hands of the Hitler regime the weapons it needed for aggression."

3. In 1934 Britain and France manoeuvred a non-aggression pact between Germany and Poland which was instrumental "in the preparation of German aggression."

Name Gardner Bank President

MONTREAL, Feb. 10.—(CP).—B. C. Gardner, MC, executive vice-president of the Bank of Montreal, today was elected president and chief executive officer of the bank. He succeeds the late George W. Spinney, CMG, who died last week.

Mr. Gardner is a past president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, a member of the executive committee of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, a life governor of the Montreal General Hospital and a governor of Ridley College of St. Catharines, Ont.

Bertie Charles Gardner was born in Bristol, England in 1884. Following his education in that city he joined Stuckey's Banking Company, Ltd., which he left five years later to come to Canada.

In 1935, Mr. Gardner was made assistant general manager in Montreal. He became general manager in 1942 and executive vice-president last December.

rubble, beginning the grim task of recovering the bodies.

Firemen did not find the bodies of Greencorn and his daughter until seven hours after the second alarm. It was thought their bed had fallen through the floor. They were found huddled together underneath a mattress.

The tenement's four blackened and icy walls were left standing but the interior was gutted from basement to roof.

Leap Out Window

Just as the firemen arrived and before they had time to spread a life-net, Mrs. Barry, clutching her daughter to her, had stumbled through her smoke and flame-filled room and kicked out a window. Then pausing only long enough to make sure she had her child securely in her arms, she leaped.

She crashed into the ice-covered rail of the roofless verandah and then bounced inward toward the flaming building. Firemen dragged the two to safety and they were immediately taken to hospital.

At about this time Stephen David jumped through a second-storey window. He missed the rail and except for a glass-lacerated arm, he was unhurt.

Firemen, probing the debris, found the charred remains of the two Gaudet children on the only section of the third floor of the building which did not collapse. Mrs. Gaudet's body had fallen through to a second-floor section when the interior of the tenement gave way.

Mrs. Greencorn's body was found in a bed which was hanging over the edge of the second floor. It was believed Mr. Greencorn and their child had also been in bed.

Charge Dismissed

Conducting his own defence, William Addyman, 88 Lansdowne Street, succeeded in having a charge of failing to feed four goats dismissed in Magistrate's Court this morning. He told Magistrate E. A. Gee that the evidence of Humane Society witnesses failed to take into account the natural feeding habits of goats. The complaints had been made that they had not been provided with proper food and had no water available.

The court ruled that there was apparently no undue suffering of the animals, as their natural food from defence evidence, was stated to be boughs and rough grasses which they preferred to hay and grains.

KEEP BEDS APART

Health authorities recommend that as much space as possible be left between beds when two or more people are sleeping in the same room, especially in winter when colds are prevalent.

Mining Stocks Show Sizeable Losses Today

TORONTO, Feb. 10.—(CP).—Stocks gave way in accelerated action in the third hour of trading on the stock exchange today with price range extended in the industrials from fractions to more than two points, while mining stocks showed sizeable losses in the golds and base metals.

Volume for the first three hours was 549,000 shares, about 180,000 more than yesterday's similar period.

A quiet opening with prices generally holding speeded up as offerings increased against few bds. Industrials slipped with key issues dropping fractions to more than two points. Down in the list were Abitibi, Algoma Steel 2 at 45, Aluminum 2 at 203, Beatty, Bell 1¼ at 162¾, Brazilian, Canada Cement, Bank of Commerce, Canadian Breweries, C.P.R., Consumers Gas, Dominion Steel, Fanny Farmer, Federal Grain, Ford Motors, Great Lakes Paper, Walkers, Loblaw "A," Winnipeg Electric, Simpson and B.C. Puly 3¾ at 76¼.

Mines on the down side were Dome ⅝ at 21⅜, Bralorne, Buffadison, Campbell, Chesterville, Smelters 1¾ at 94½, Donalda, East Sullivan, Eldona, Eureka, Giant, Golden Manitou, Nickel ¼ at 31⅜, Kerr Addison, Labrador, Lamaque, Louvicourt, Noranda, Normetal, Steep Rock, Sylvanite, Sherritt, San Antonio, Preston.

which were used to take care of the overflow from Hull house. All the annex residents — estimated at about 40 persons — were moved to safety.

It was recalled here that two years ago city building inspector T. P. Cahill and fire chief John Vivian made a report on the premises urging structural alterations and installation of fire escapes before it was used as a home.

The spectacular blaze lighted up the whole city and its reflection could be seen for miles around and far at sea.

It was the heaviest loss of life in a St. John's fire since the Knights of Columbus Hostel burned in December, 1942, taking a toll of 100 dead and 102 injured. Most of the victims in that wartime fire were Canadian servicemen.

Liquor Offender Gets Money Advice

"Next time, put your money in the bank — don't give it to the city," was the advise of MagistrateE. A. Gee to Calbert Carew, 56 Hillier Ave., who paid $10 and costs for being drunk in public.

When Carew stood up, the magistrate remarked, after receiving the plea of guilty: "Is this your method of having a good time?"

"Yes," replied the accused.

"Any chance of giving it up and going on the wagon?" His Worship inquired.

"I've tried."

The magistrate said: "Haven't you any backbone? That's all it takes you know—just swear off, and let everybody know you're not drinking."

Leo Emery, Lakefield, was fined $50 and costs of $2.50 when he pleaded guilty as a second offender to being drunk in public.

Motorist Given 7 Days In Jail

William Turkington, 9 Wallace street, was sentenced to seven days in jail, his car impounded and driver's and owner's permits cancelled when he was found guilty of drunk driving in court this morning.

An accident occurred on Jan. 31 when the car of the accused crashed into the rear grill of a city bus on Charlotte street, near Park. Cecil Houson, the driver of the bus, stated that from the view in his mirror he could see the accused's car swing out to pass and then swing back in the face of oncoming traffic.

Evidence was given by PC's Harold Mesley and Dennis Traynor and Police Sgt. Percy Sexsmith that the accused had been in an intoxicated condition when the accident was investigated and when he was brought to the police station.

Herbert Butcher, 697 Victory crescent, a defence witness, testified that he had been with the accused until about an hour before the accident and that his condition was such as to make him quite fit to drive. Stating that he had known the accused for some time, the witness added that Turkington had had a paralytic condition of the throat and in times of excitement his speech became thick, accounting for the thickened manner of talking mentioned by the three police witnesses.

Jack Wilson, a grocer, also testified as to seeing the accused about five o'clock on the night of the accident, and that Turkington had "seemed all right."

In his own evidence, the accused stated that he was not drunk, saying that he had consumed three pints of beer at a hotel that afternoon and had one pint at Butcher's home. Detailing his paralytic condition of the throat, he said that excitement or some drinking would cause him some trouble in his speech.

In his judgment, the magistrate commented: "I have every sympathy with those driving in city traffic conditions, but for that reason extra care should be taken in the matter of drinking and careless driving." He pointed out that the accused had consumed four pints of beer by his own admission, and expressed the opinion that this amount made him unfit to drive properly.

2 Candidates Named In Huron

HENSALL, Ont., Feb. 10 — (CP). — A straight fight between Liberals and Progressive Conservatives for the Huron seat in the Ontario legislature was assured today following the official nomination meeting.

Only the two candidates, Progressive Conservative Thomas Pryde and Liberal Benson W. Tuckey, who have been campaigning for the last two weeks were nominated at the meeting attended by upwards of 300 persons in the town hall here yesterday.

The C.C.F. previously announced it would not contest the by-election and no candidates for other parties or independents were put forward.

Milk Co-operative Planned In Toronto

TORONTO, Feb. 10 —(CP)—A move to establish a co-operative milk organization here will be discussed tonight at a meeting of the foods division of the Toronto Retail Merchants' Association. The plan, as proposed, would involve one city dairy and a number of retailers.

Its aim would be to supply the public almost immediately with milk at 16 cents a quart. Present retail price in the Toronto area is 18 cents.

The plan calls for formation of an association in which each retailer wishing to become a member can buy a share at $100. On joining, he would pay $5 down. Dividends would be declared every three months and they would go toward paying off the $95 outstanding on the share purchase.

When each members' share is fully paid, dividends will go toward further reduction of milk prices to the consumer. The plan's sponsors say they hope at the outset to buy milk at 15 cents a quart for resale at 16 cents.

Coldest Wave

too. W. J. Cottrell of Marmora reported 34 below and a new record, one they were neither proud of nor anxious to break. Crowe River was just a big expanse of frozen water, and there isn't a sign of open water in the entire Belmont lake chain.

Campbellford on the lower Trent whispered hoarsely that it was 30 below, an unheard of thing in this southern community. This too is a season low. Hastings was 28 below, but one of the natives living along the river, said phooie to that and pointed to his own thermometer which read 35 below. Up on Highway 7, Havelock was 35 below and a few school children stayed home.

To the west Omemee set a winter record with 38 below, one of the coldest spots in the entire area.

Millbrook was 31 below, and south of Rice Lake, most places registered temperature records. Roseneath was 21, Gore's Landing the same, Cobourg 14 below and Port Hope a comparatively warm spot at 12 below.

Any idea people had that old-fashioned winters were a thing of the past can be discarded at once. From January 23 to January 31, there were was not a day that it wasn't below zero. That was nine consecutive days. Then to prolong the distress there has only been one day in February in which the mercury stayed above the zero line. The last 10 days minus one were all below zero, ranging close to the 20 mark with Monday 21 below and this morning capping it all with the 26 below figure.

Bracken Wants Copy Of Hong Kong Issue

OTTAWA, Feb. 10 — CP). — John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, yesterday decided to place on the Commons order paper, a motion requesting production of a copy of the evidence taken before the Duff Commission in connection with the dispatch of Canadian armed forces to Hong Kong.

Mr. Bracken has asked in the Commons for the production of the correspondence from Premier Drew of Ontario which led to establishment of the Commission inquiry. Prime Minister Mackenzie King said he had asked the British government to consent to release of the correspondence and was awaiting an answer.

St. Laurent Sure World Rulers Will Avoid War

QUEBEC, Feb. 10 — (CP). — Despite "inflammable material" existing at the four corners of the world, no government is likely to step into a situation from which war would result, External Affairs Minister St. Laurent said here last night.

Mr. St. Laurent, who spoke at the annual dinner of the Canadian Shoe Retailers' Association, said:

"I don't think any government wants war. I don't think any governments will blunder into any situations which will make war."

He warned that another armed conflict would involve use of atomic weapons 10 times as powerful as the bombs dropped in Japan.

Mr. St. Laurent who was introduced as "Canada's next Prime Minister," noted that some newspapers referred to present strained international relations as the "cold war."

"No nations and no peoples, at this time, wish anything but a 'cold war'," he said.

Danger Points

He listed the world danger points: Palestine, Greece, Korea, Indonesia, India and Pakistan whose problems are under study by the United Nations Organization.

Still other problems for the United Nations to settle were atomic control and "proper exercise of the veto which means the very existence of the United Nations."

Last September, Mr. St. Laurent said Canada had taken the decision to stand for election to the security council of which Canadian delegate General McNaughton now is chairman.

"Our faith in the organization was being tested," he said. "The enterprise was not prospering. Its purpose was to dissolve threats to peace and it hasn't been very successful in doing that so far."

Canada had not wanted to "confess lack of faith" in the United Nations, an organization in which the nation could take its part in preventing future world wars, he said.

Obituary

MRS. CATHERINE REYNOLDS

MARMORA, Feb. 10—(ENS)—After an illness of two years, Mrs. Catherine Reynolds died on Saturday, Feb. 7, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. R. Wells, Marmora, at 91 years of age. Widow of the late James Reynolds, who died in 1913, she was the former Catherine McGee.

She resided in Stirling until 20 years ago, when she came to reside with her daughter in Marmora.

She was a member of St. Andrew's United Church and took an active interest in the activities of that church as long as her health permitted.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. S. McQuigge (Hazel), Smiths Falls; Mrs. A. Hamblyn (Lottie), Peterboroguh; Mrs. F. R. Wells (Bud), Marmora; and one son, Percy of Lima, Ohio.

The funeral will be held this afternoon from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. F. R. Wells, Marmora, to St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Stirling, where services will be conducted by Rev. E. M. Cadigan, Marmora, assisted by Rev. Mr. Walker, Stirling. Burial will take place in Stirling Cemetery.

City Council Seeks Conference With Morrow Trust

Solicitor Tells Alderman No Progress Can Be Made Without Aid Of Trustees

Both in the observance of amenity and in the cause of co-operation, the finance committee of the council last night decided to invite the trustees of Morrow Park to a round table discussion of the possibility of agreement respecting the general question of uses of the park within the hopeful conception of the council.

City Solicitor W. F. Huycke, KC, was asked a week ago to study the opinions of three Toronto solicitors as to the authority of the trustees to permit part of the park to become the site of the Memorial Community Centre, and also for advice, based chiefly on the same sources, on a proposal to apply to the courts for an interpretation of the trust deed.

The trustees themselves had reported to the council that according to the terms of the deed they were unable to give assent to a Memorial Centre site in the park. At that point, the question had relapsed into quietude until a deputation of citizens from the area south of the fenced enclosure appealed to the council a week ago for some action to extend George St. southerly through the park for the convenience of the public.

The council then requested Mr. Huycke to study the reviews obtained from Toronto counsel. His reply was an extended commentary which could be abbreviated into a few words.

On the proposal of applying to the courts for an interpretation of the trust deed, Mr. Huycke used the word: "hopeless."

The city, he said, could institute expropriation proceedings, "and that, of course, assumes that the city would have to pay for the park."

Must Get Together

"If the city were to expropriate the strip of land through the park for the extension of George St.," Mr. Huycke said, "that might have the effect of breaking up the whole thing, and destroying the chance of getting the property as a public park."

The opinions of the three Toronto counsel suggested that there should be an endeavour of agreement between the Morrow Trust, the city council and the Agricultural and Industrial Society, generally referred to as the Exhibition Board.

"Until they all get together and co-operate, it appears that nothing can be done," Mr. Huycke continued. If the council wants to expropriate the eastern section of the Park, the power is there for them to invoke, and the city would have to pay for the property. The city also has the right to expropriate land for a street, but I think that might result in breaking up the Trust, and preclude the city from getting the land for use as a public park. Any way, there is no use in playing with this thing unless there is co-operation from the Trust.

In parenthesis Mr. Huycke remarked that there had not been much evidence of co-operation, but on the other hand the Trust was bound by its obligations. He also quoted an expression by an English judge to the effect that the chief duty of a trust was to permit judicious breaches of trust.

Ald. Swanston commented that expropriation for the projection of George St. would not help the people in the south end a great deal, although it was a convenience for which they had asked the council's assistance. "Could we apply to the Supreme Court to open up the whole thing?"

Mr. Huycke replied that suggestions in the several written opinions did indicate the possibility of a new trust agreement if it were sought by the trustees. An application of that kind might receive the approval of the court. "Mr. Harold Morrow made a trust deed, and if his trustees wanted to adhere to the present set up, a court couldn't tell them they had to change. I think it is useless to consider an application to the Supreme Court or to the Legislature without the consent of the trustees."

Detrimental To City

"Has the city to stand for a place like that? As it stands it is detrimental to the wellbeing of the city as a whole," Ald. Swanston remarked. The Exhibition Board decided recently to carry on this year. Their financial statement showed that they had received $5,000 in rental of their buildings last year. The city did not obtain any taxes from the property, and a large number of citizens had to live behind a high board fence.

Mr. Huycke said the park was tax free to the Exhibition Board because they were an agricultural society. North Monaghan township had tried some years ago to levy their municipal tax on the park, but their action was thrown out. As to the comment that the park in its present status was a detriment to the city, Mr. Huycke said it might be difficult to determine what was a detriment. Some people might come forward with the opposite opinion. In regard to an argument that it was a nuisance to many citizens, Mr. Huycke said that people who had built houses south of Morrow Park did so knowing that the fence was there. In the meaning of a law phrase, they were going to a nuisance. "I don't think anyone would get very far on that approach."

"Either let it alone, or if you are going to expropriate, then expropriate," was one of Mr. Huycke's expressions.

One of the members suggested that the nuisance was not "made" until after the Trust was created in 1937.

Ald. Raine said there was no doubt that the trustees were civic minded men. Granting that they were adhering to their responsibility as set out in the deed, "I cannot agree with what the trustees are doing. It seems that if we want to do anything we must first be at loggerheads with the Exhibition Board so that they will fall through, and surely that is not in the interests of an agricultural society in this county. The conditions here have changed a great deal since the Morrow Trust was set up. I do not think that the purposes and the wishes of Mr. Morrow are being followed out."

Ald. Dodds remarked that apparently the trustees were following the letter of the deed of trust.

Ald. Grant Miller said: "Surely the trustees have some latitude if they wish to use it."

Mayor Ovens briefly reviewed a series of negotiations with the members of the Trust, particularly in regard to the Memorial Centre site. The one answer was that the terms of the gift were not to be changed. "We understood that if the Exhibition Board would make a formal disclaimer of their first right ot the park, the city could then arrange to assume it as a public park for the citizens. But, Mr. John Cartwright, K.C., of Toronto, in giving his view said that the Exhibition Board had nothing to disclaim."

Ald Grant Miller asked the question whether the council should try to get relief from the present trusteeship.

"There is no chance under the present set up," Mr. Huycke said.

"There is only one thing you can do, as I see it," said Ald. Waddell. "Expropriate, and pay for it."

Several members asked whether the council had right of expropriation. "Let's get that point clear," said Mayor Ovens. "Can the city expropriate?"

Citizens Come First

"Yes," Mr. Huycke replied, "and pay for it. That is assumed in expropriation."

Ald. Grant Miller bluntly stated that the need of the citizens was more important than the keeping of the Morrow Trust.

On that basis, and because "this question has been dangling around and getting no place, why shouldn't we consider taking action to expropriate the whole thing?"

Ald. Raine proposed it might be better first to ask the members of the Trust to meet the council and talk over the whole matter in the hope that something might be accomplished by co-operation. Ald. Grant Miller seconded the motion, and it was adopted as a recommendation to the council. All the members were present.

Ald. Waddell said that in fairness to the trustees as individuals there was no doubt they would like to co-operate, but they had the obligation fulfilling the trust that had been placed in their hands. "I would like to see the council and the Trust take a middle course."

AMERICAN FLIERS ARRESTED — These four U.S. airmen were picked up in New Orleans, La., for flying two B-24 bombers to Puerto Cabozas, Nicaragua, from Bush Field, Ga., allegedly to aid in a revolution. Picked up on their return to the U.S. aboard an airliner, they were charged with violating the Neutrality Act. Shown following their arrest, they are (left to right), Kenneth J. Newcomer, mechanic; Charles B. Pavlicek, inactive reservist captain in the air forces from New York; Henry K. Baker, mechanic, Augusta, Ga.; and Harry A. Snow, ex-RAF pilot from Amarillo, Tex. A fifth, charged of the same violation, was held in Miami, Fla., and a sixth is in hands of the military authorities in Panama.

Alleged Knifing Reviewed In Damage Suit

COBOURG, Feb. 10.—(ENS).—First case before Supreme Court here Monday was Jackson vs. Angus, an action for $2,500 damages brought by Jack Jackson of Baltimore against James Angus of B[illegible]ford. Angus was found not guilty last fall on a charge of attempted murder, based on an alleged knife attack against Jackson about Mrs. Angus. Angus has a counter-claim of $5,000 for alienation of his wife's affections; $5,000 for criminal conversation, and $2,500 for personal damages by assault. J. C. M. German is acting for plaintiff and Harvey Brent for the defendant.

Crown Attorney Harry Deyman was called to identify exhibits from the criminal hearing, for use in the present civil action.

Provinal Constable Don Nicol said that he had been called to the Jackson house on the evening of April 27, where he arrested James Angus. Later Mrs. Angus recovered a knife which she had hidden back of a shed and which bore traces of blood. The interior of the cottage was shambles and outside, clothing and papers had been thrown around. A part bottle of liquor and an empty automatic was found in the yard, as well as a suitcase containing woman's clothing. Angus was under the influence of liquor and his face was covered with blood, the witness said. To Mr. Brent, the constable said that ladies dresses, stockings and underthings were hanging in the bedroom of the two-room dwelling. There were articles of bed clothing in the bedrooom but he didn't find any on the couch in the living room.

Was in "Critical Condition"

Dr. W. W. Wilkins said that after the fight at the Jackson home, Jackson came to his office with an abdominal slash from which intestines were visible. He was taken to the hospital and for some days was in a critical condition. Angus had a cut below the right eye and there was an abrasion which might have been caused by a blow from a fist, the doctor testified.

Jackson told the court that his given name was Maurice Martin and that after domestic difficulties with his wife in Toronto, he came to Baltimore and changed his name to make a fresh start. When he broke with his wife he left her the house and belongings, taking only some clothing in a suitcase, he said.

Jackson testified that he had known Mrs. Angus and family for 15 years and had been seeing her fairly regularly for six months prior to the evening of the attack. Mrs. Angus had told him she was "through' with her husband. On occasions she stayed overnight in his house because of bad roads in the winter between her home near Baltimore and the rural school at Plainville, ten miles distant, where she taught, she said. On those occasions, she stated, it was the arrangement for her to sleep in the bedrom while he slept on the couch in the living room.

Angus came to the house on the evening of April 27 and heard the voices of Mrs. Angus and her husband. Going in, he found them scuffling, with Mrs. Angus trying to get possession of a knife which was in her husband's hand. Jackson related that he grappled with Angus and received a stab wound in the abdomen which put him in the hospital for 13 days and necessitated a month's convalescence.

Cross-examined by Mr. Brent, Jackson said that he was aware that Angus was in the army and that he was also aware that Mrs. Angus had been spending weekends with her husband in Peterborough, including the Christmas of 1946 and the following New Year's.

"That didn't stop you from seeing another man's wife?" Mr. Brent asked.

"She said she was through with him," replied Jackson.

Jackson also admitted kissing Mrs. Angus before she went to bed.

The Council will petition the Roads Commission of the United Counties to re-surface the county road extension from the west boundary of the corporation to Highway 45, corner of Bridge and Albert Streets, a distance of about one-half mile..

The clerk was instructed to advertise for tenders for the following: Maintenance work, policing the village, caretaking of the Town Hall, and act as assessor.

Horses Tangle, Bolt In Harness Unhurt

GORE'S LANDING, Feb. 10 — (ENS). — On Saturday afternoon, the team of horses belonging to John Waldon broke away and raced down the hill above the Public Library. Racing down the road, one horses fell, becoming entangled in the harness. The other horse dragged its team mate for some distance before stopping. Neither animal was seriously hurt.

25 Veterans Houses Reported Ready Soon

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 10 — (ENS). — The priority system of alloting houses to veterans was explained by S. Longhurst, regional representative of the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, at a Canadian Legion meeting Monday.

There are 25 houses here nearing completion and built by this corporation, which will rent for $22 (2 rooms), $27.50 (3 rooms), and $30 (4 rooms).

Veterans with the longest overseas service and the most children will have priority over those with less service and fewer or no children. When an application is accepted, the veteran must sign a 30-day lease on the property.

The president, Alex MacDonald, was chairman of the meeting.

Ship Can't Get Through

LONDON, Feb. 10 — (CP). — A relief ship yesterday failed to take off the crew from Fastnet Rock lighthouse near County Cork, Eire, but floated food tied to buoys to the lighthouse men who now are in their 42nd day without relief due to heavy seas caused by Atlantic gales.

Freezes In Truck

PRINCETON, Mo., Feb. 10 — (AP). — A girl struggled free yesterday from the dead arms of a frozen companion with whom she had spent the night in a truck. Miss Lorene Prothero, 21, said her companion, T. S. Lytle, 41, was dead when she awakened at daylight in the cab of the truck. She said they had parked on the road at sundown Sunday night and had fallen asleep.

Eagles, Wolves Seen Near Gore's Landing

GORE'S LANDING, Feb. 10 — (ENS). — Two large eagles were spotted on Saturday afternoon over the farm of Milton Harris. The species could not be determined but they hovered almost motionless in the air.

Wolves also are getting more numerous. Tracks of several wolves have been seen on Sugar Island and a wolf was seen near the farm of Lewis Harris and one was sighted on the farm of Ewart King, Rice Lake drive.

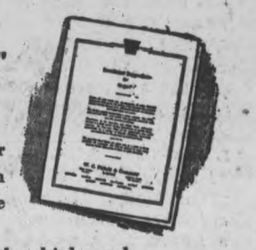
Long Trip, Canada Best Says Travel Speaker

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 10 — (ENS).—A travelogue by William Tatham featured the meeting of the Chi Rho Club Monday. Mr. Tatham showed moving pictures and gave a running commentary on a trip which began in Capetown, South Africa, crossed Africa and the Orient, ending in western Canada. The biggest thrill of the trip and the part that gave him the most pleasure, he said, was when he returned to familiar surroundings and climate of Canada.

The next meeting of the Chi Rho will be a sleigh riding party, March 1.

Catch 'Mad Drummer'

LEWES, Sussex, England, Feb. 10 — (CP). — Bernard Leslie Mason, 27, known as "the mad drummer" since he escaped from the Broadmoor criminal lunatic asylum Thursday, has been recaptured and now is in Lewes jail awaiting escort back to Broadmoor. Mason made a spectacular escape while returning under guard from the women's wing where he took part in a concert. He dashed into thick woods and was at large for several days.



Indian Committee

OTTAWA, Feb. 10 — (CP). — The government moved yesterday to re-establish the joint Indian Affairs Committee of the Commons and Senate which sat several months last year. Resources Minister Glen gave notice in the Commons of a resolution for formation of the committee.

The Children Suffer

The boy was barefooted and in rags but he had washed his face and his eyes appealed hopefully. He spoke shyly to the Canadian soldier coming out of the shattered building which was serving as a rear battalion headquarters. Would the soldier let the boy work for him? The soldier looked down at the boy; he did not mark the rags, for they were everywhere customary, but he saw the despair and hope in the boy's face. He knew the boy; he had seen him hundreds of times in three or four countries. He had seen his sister, he had seen others too young to talk and ask for work. The boy did not need work. He lacked food, parents, shelter, somebody to look after him. The soldier took him around to the cook-house and gave him some tinned meat and bread. There was no job for him. The headquarters moved out the next day. The boy disappeared, God knows where.

* * *

Today in Europe there are 460 million children under the age of fifteen who need food, clothing, medical care, schools and homes. U.N. is appealing for funds to succour the boy who asked for a job and millions of others. By the Canadian Appeal for Children launched yesterday it is hoped to raise ten million dollars. It is a great sum but the need is great. What more poignant appeal to our generosity can there be than a child in distress? The things money buys cannot alone save the children who are the helpless sufferers from the chaos their elders' wars have wrought, but they can redeem them from starvation, ill-health and despair.

* * *

The most sincere and creative help which could be given tens of thousands of war orphans would be to lift them from the misery of Europe and bring them to countries like Canada. Left in Europe and growing up with want and woe there is danger of many of them becoming twisted mentally and morally —pawns for demagogues. Here in Canada they would have the opportunity to develop freely in body, mind and spirit. The scars of their childhood would be healed, they would mature apart from Europe's travail and become truly Canadian citizens owing allegiance to no country but Canada. Our purses should be open to them now in Europe, but so should our gates.

How Are The Mighty Fallen!

On Wednesday last the twelfth and last war crimes trials to be held in Nuernberg opened without one of the alleged criminals. Another was missing on Thursday. The two, General Blaskowitz, former commander of the 25th German Army Group and General von Stuelpnagel, commander of German troops in occupied France, committed suicide rather than face charges for "crimes against international law". Stuelpnagel was the tenth suicide to die in Nuernberg jail since Goering and others were first brought there in November, 1945. The list includes Goering, Robert Ley and Dr. Conti, the accused founder of inhuman medical practice.

General Blaskowitz was a product of the German General Staff. He held commands in Czechoslovakia, southern Poland, Russia, southern France, and at the end of the war was in command of the Germans in Holland. It was he who surrendered his troops on May 5th, 1945, in the little Dutch village of Wageningen, to the First Canadian Corps under Lieutenant-General Charles Foulkes. It was he who had to carry out the evacuation of Germans from Holland (under Canadian direction) in the summer of 1945, and when the job was done and he was about to go to Wilhelmshaven himself, he was arrested.

The Nazi political leaders have gone. Senior professional soldiers of the Wehrmacht and the German High Command are being liquidated, and fourteen of them (three Field Marshals, one Admiral, and ten Generals)—now only twelve—are on trial, perhaps for their lives. One is tempted to wonder what would have happened to our senior commanders had the war been won by the Germans.

Reforming The House Of Lords

The row over the reform of the House of Lords is approaching a crisis, and the action which the Labour Government of Great Britain takes concerning it may have a powerful influence on its future.

Briefly, the situation is this: the Labour Government has proposed an amendment to the Parliament Act which would cut from two to one year the length of time the House of Lords can delay non-finanical legislation. The House of Lords opposes such a move, and for sufficient reason. It is plain that the Labour majority in the Commons wants the amendment passed so that it can be sure of railroading the nationalization of the steel industry through Parliament before 1950, when its term of office will expire. Apparently nobody in England believes that the Government has any other motive, and even the deliberative and good-mannered Manchester Guardian calls the amendment "a political job . . . a piece of sharp practice designed to appease some truculent members of the Cabinet . . a cynical sham".

The Labour Government, of course, is doing a good deal of huffing and puffing, and threatening to pack the Upper House with Labour peers. Mr. Aneurin Bevan is particularly rampageous in this dispute. But it is not likely that the Government will do anything foolish, however angry Mr. Bevan becomes, for it seems plain that the people of England do not care about this dispute between Lords and Commons, and resent the time and energy which is being wasted on it.

There is an excellent case for the reform of the Lords, of course. An hereditary Upper Chamber is out of key with modern democratic feeling — though it must be said that the hereditary principle has created a House of Lords in which there is a considerable amount of talent, patriotism and brains; the Lords is by no means inferior to the Commons in these commodities. But if a seat in the Lords were to become an appointment — as is the case with our Senate — no intelligent Lord need fear that he will be excluded, and the Labour ranks have no monopoly of men of intelligence, wisdom and character.

Reform of the Lords is an excellent idea, and has been under discussion for seventy years. But a put-up job to oblige a too-eager government is not reform—it is chicanery, and the people know it.

Viscount Alexander On The North African Victory

A sixty thousand word survey of the North African campaign written by Viscount Alexander a year ago has now been published by the War Office. The days of Tobruk and Tunis have gone from the forefront of our thoughts; now we are troubled by such unheroic things as the cost of cabbage and the shortage of dollars. But the great desert campaign of 1943 and the defeat of the Afrika Korps rank among the momentous events of British history. He loses in spirit who forgets the great deeds and names of those days.

General Sir Harold Alexander was in command of the British forces; under him was Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, and these two organized the victory achieved after an 1,800-mile advance. The Tunisian campaign, says Viscount Alexander, was "an unusually complete example of the battle of annihilation":

> Never before had a great army been so totally destroyed. A quarter of a million men laid down their arms in unconditional surrender; 663 escaped. Immense stocks of arms, ammunition and supplies of all natures were the booty of the victors. Our own casualties were less than 2,000.

Such was the campaign which ended on May 7th, 1943.

With a grace lacking in some commanders who have written articles for American periodicals, Field Marshal Alexander pays tribute to the co-operation of General Eisenhower, the field ability of General Patton and the tactical genius of Viscount Montgomery. This great campaign destroyed the myth of German invincibility, especially the "Desert Fox" Rommel's. It saved Egypt and the Suez and prepared the way for the invasion of Europe.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Both winner and loser get a great kick out of politics, though not, of course, in the same place.

Sibelius, the great Finnish composer, has written a letter of thanks for cigars received from a Belleville admirer with a "charcoal pencil". This proves beyond all shadow of doubt that Sibelius and Finland are completely impoverished—no fountain pens, no lead pencils—nothing but Sibelius' music written probably in charcoal.

The Chancel In Evangelical Churches

By B. K. SANDWELL
In Saturday Night

GREAT changes in the aesthetics of worship have taken place in most of the non-Roman communions in the last forty years, but none has been more striking than the restoration of the chancel in the architecture (and consequently the liturgy) of the United Church of Canada. This change is discussed and recorded in a richly illustrated volume entitled "The Chancel: Before and After" just issued by the United Church Publishing House, Toronto ($2), and written by W. M. Birks, whose chief aim is to show those congregations which suffer from Victorian architecture how "a conventicle or an auditorium may become a sanctuary." It is apparently no longer necessary to present argument to show that it ought to do so.

❖ ❖ ❖

THE over-emphasis of the Victorian period, in the more, evangelical churches, on the pulpit, the organ and the choir has given place with almost startling suddenness to the focussing of attention on the communion-table, which architecturally cannot always now be distinguished from an altar, though its liturgical function is probably different. The book is almost wholly devoted to what may without undue irreverence be termed the face-lifting operations undergone in the past quarter-century by a score of great and small evangelical churches in Canada, with one or two specially startling examples from the United States.

❖ ❖ ❖

THE delusion that organ pipes are a suitable adornment for the main vista of a church cannot be blamed on the evangelical bodies alone, for there are actually Anglican cathedrals in England in which they are mounted on the rood-screen; but the practice of building up a sort of stage back-drop composed of a huge mass of organ-pipes on top, a choir-loft with the choir facing its "audience," and then a platform pulpit on which the minister if so inclined could tramp up and down to accentuate the points of his sermon —this practice, terribly common in evangelical churches, was impossible for even the lowest-church Anglicans because of the tradition that the communicants must come to the altar rail to receive the elements direct from the clergy, and the Church of England was thus preserved from the worst of the architectural deformations that occur when the preacher or the double-quartet choir or both together become the chief centre of interest.

❖ ❖ ❖

IT should be observed here that the focussing of interest on the preacher alone was much less detrimental, architecturally speaking, than the inclusion of the organ and musicians in the spotlight. The Presbyterians, whose lack of enthusiasm for the "kist o' whustles" lasted long into the nineteenth century, perfected a style of pulpit architecture which was the natural expression of their belief that the chief element in worship was the expounding of the Word, and which blended admirably with the side galleries of the "classical" churches of the time. The composite organ-and-choir-and-pulpit design was quite a different matter, and in its extreme forms led to the erection of churches which were hardly to be distinguished from theatres except by the lack of a box-office. The true chancel style of architecture is scarcely compatible with side galleries, and in some of the reconstructions depicted in this book the galleries have been eliminated; but such radical structural changes are not always possible.

❖ ❖ ❖

THE popularity of galleries was largely a result of the desire for great seating capacity (owing to the fast increasing size of cities) combined with a limited floor area, imposed by the difficulty of roofing. Since 1900 the enormous increase in the carrying power of steel structure has made it possible to enlarge the roofed area to any desired size, and the advent of the microphone enables the human voice to fill any space without difficulty, so that large galleries are pretty sure to go out of fashion.

❖ ❖ ❖

THE architectural changes which Mr. Birks advocates are inseparably associated with liturgical changes which are going on at the same time, and which are bringing the public worship of the evangelical churches constantly closer to that of the Anglican communion. Mr. Birks notes that "some Protestant churches have a set of dossals" (hanging drapery behind the table) "and antependia to be used in rotation (blue, purple or white) for Easter, Christmas or Communion Sundays and weddings." This is a very moderate statement; there are actually in Canada some United Church churches which follow strictly the seasonal changes of colour employed by the more ritualistic Anglican churches—and probably identical with those prescribed by the Roman liturgy.

❖ ❖ ❖

THE whole process seems inevitably destined to result in a marked increase in the symbolic importance, and probably also the frequency, of the celebration of communion. It is impossible to make the communion table the central feature of the building and the focus of the service, without inviting its more frequent and more ceremonious use. It is an interesting question whether the practice of transmitting the elements to the communicants while still in their pews is not likely to give way to the more traditional procedure of summoning the communicants to the altar rail though that will be a more difficult change to bring about.

UNCONSIDERED TRIFLE

A burly fellow left a note pinned to his expensive hat in a restaurant while he made a telephone call: "This hat belongs to a champion fighter, and I'm coming back."

When he returned the hat had gone. In its place was another note: "The hat was taken by a champion runner—and I'm not coming back!"

TIME FOR THE WARD SYSTEM

Sir: I wish someone would tell me what the City Council bought the snow-loader for, if they can't afford to use it. We have mountains of snow on Parkhill east of Water St. A very busy thoroughfare. The snow has never been moved. "Time for the Ward System".

DISGUSTED.

NEW RECORD FOR APSLEY

Sir: According to the Climatological Station Report of Apsley for the month of January the last nine days of the month were the coldest since 1922 when temperature readings were first recorded here. The average daily minimum temperature for the period mentioned was 22.6 below zero, and the average for the whole month 7.3 degrees below. The average maximum for the last nine days was 12 above and for the month 18.6 above zero. The lowest temperature recorded was 36 twice and only on two occasions did the thermometer rise above freezing point touching 33 and 34 respectively.

January has not however established a record, as the average daily low for the whole month was in 1945 was 11.3 below.

RE SECONDARY RINK

Sir: Dick Ouimet and I took a trip on Thursday visiting such places as Hamilton, Georgetown, Hespeler, Waterloo, Guelph and Preston, and we were very much impressed by the Hespeler Arena. Here is a community arena that was completed for $138,000, will accommodate 3,000 people, has an ice surface 180 ft. by 80 ft., and an artificial ice plant. This arena is complete in every detail, has a public room looking out over the ice 68 ft. by 26 ft., with an up to the minute refreshment counter, a heating plant, manager's office, referee's room, 2 large rooms for public skaters, players' rooms, rest rooms, P.A. system, and there are no obstructions to block the view of the ice. This arena has a Terrazzo floor that can be used in the summer for roller skating, dancing, bingo, boxing, wrestling and lacrosse. The building is 226 ft. by 110 ft., of concrete block construction, and with an arched roof. The front is finished with pressed brick.

We spent a few hours with Mr. Hipel of Preston, the designer and builder of this arena, who has built around 40 of different types of construction throughout the country. He recommended this one to us. This building can be constructed and ready to operate by the 15th of October, and is the type of rink we need in Peterborough. Surely we the people of Peterborough are going to get behind this Secondary Rink Committee and give the city what has long been needed; a place for our young boys to learn the game of hockey, plus a place of recreation for the community as a whole.

Let us keep this Secondary Rink project on the move. Don't let us bog down like the Memorial Centre Committee has. Let us go to work and see that this Arena is built and ready for use before another winter rolls around. If Hespeler, with about one-sixth the population, can build a grand Arena like they have, there is no reason that we cannot do the same.

Yours for a Secondary Rink,
JOHNNY RUSSELLE.

FURTHER DISCUSSION OF THE EVICTION

Sir: Re eviction letter of Mrs. Panter. I wonder if Mrs. Panter knows all the facts of this case? I have read both Dr. Carleton's and Mrs. Panter's letters and from what I can gather from them I think this woman should be pitied rather than tramp her in the ground. The children must have needed hospital care or the doctor wouldn't have put them there. Possibly if Mrs. Panter had tried to help this woman and given her a friendly hand instead of knocking her it would help a lot. There are none of us perfect and those children will be a benefit to the nation, whether they are properly raised or not. Everybody does not raise their children the same. They must be fed and cared for or they wouldn't be able to run wild. The generation of today is a lot wilder than they were in 1880; because they pick up a toy doesn't mean they are or will be criminals. Possibly they were not as fortunate as some children; maybe they never had a toy to play with, and I think if people would explain right from wrong to those children it would help.

I don't think it is anybody's business if there was a whole truck load of beer went to this house. If the husband went to jail he paid for his crime and that is his own business. That is the trouble; this woman was on relief and just because relatives and friends buy her furniture to put in the house to make it comfortable for her and the children to live in some one criticizes her for it and she wanted to board a child out that is her own business. I think this woman provided food for these children as far as her relief would let her. Mrs. Panter says that the mother knew that the children were picking up the other children's toys and made no attempt to stop them.

If the neighbours felt sorry for these children, why didn't they help them and the mother instead of condemning them and have them thrown into the street? That is the way of the world, in the Ten Commandments it says love thy neighbour as thyself. But from what I can read in Mrs. Panter's letter there is very little Christianity on Frank Street. I give Dr. Carleton a lot of credit and if I had room for this woman I would join with Dr. Carleton and take them in, and try and help them grow up to be honest citizens and show Mrs. Panter that there is good in unfortunate families as well as rich ones and children's place is with the mother and not in the Shelter. Yours,

MRS. V. HARRIS.

COMMUNISM IN PETERBOROUGH?

Sir: Is C. S. Jackson a Communist? President of District Five, United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America.

If he is, why don't the people get smart and throw him out of the U.E.? If he isn't, why is he a director of the Canadian Tribune, a real Communist paper?

In the very near future, Local 524 (C.G.E.) will be holding its election of officers, and the same Mr. Jackson is doing everything in his power to put his stooges in office, even his right hand man in as president, who is vice-president of District Five.

It's very strange why Mr. Jackson has his stooges in all his locals except 524. It couldn't be because he wants control over it? Or does it?

We don't want Communism in Peterborough?

Life And Education Of A Prince....

By H.R.H. DUKE OF WINDSOR

CHAPTER 26

The War Office, hoping to calm the growing dissatisfaction of the discharged disabled soldiers, asked my father to attend a parade of some 15,000 of these men in Hyde Park. Mounted and in uniform he rode out from the Palace with Bertie and me to review them.

The men, all in plain clothes, were drawn up in divisional formation. At first glance everything appeared to be in order, the troops at attention, the bands playing and so on.

Many men wore on their lapels the "Silver Badge," signifying their honorable discharge for wounds or other disabilities.

But there was something in the air, a sullen unresponsiveness which all three of us felt instinctively. My father, steady as a rock, rode down the front line.

Suddenly there was a commotion at the rear, and, as if by prearranged signal, banners with slogans that had been concealed were defiantly unfurled.

With cries of "Where is this land fit for heroes?" — a hurling back of Lloyd George's famous election slogan—the man broke ranks and made straight for the King, who was quickly surrounded and cut off from me and my brother by a solid mass.

For a moment I feared my father would be borne to the ground. Then I saw, with relief, that those who were closest were only trying to shake his hand.

These men meant no harm; they had merely taken advantage of an opportunity which the War Office had all unconsciously given them of laying their grievances before the King in person.

The only danger was that his horse might become scared; and indeed had it started to thrash around in that dense crowd, someone almost certainly would have been hurt. And in such a charged atmosphere anything might then have happened.

Fortunately the police were able to extricate us, but the mob was still milling around in the Park as we rode back to the Palace.

After my father dismounted he looked at me, remarking: "Those men were in a funny temper."

And shaking my head, as if to rid myself of an unpleasant memory, he strode indoors.

For a while the exact meaning of all this turmoil puzzled them at the Palace; isolated as they were to some extent from the harsh impact of events by the protecting cushion of Cabinet Ministers and courtiers much of what was going on in Britain seemed remote and unreal.

This and other episodes could be conveniently explained away as the unfortunate but probably inevitable result of the post-war let-down which the innate good sense of the British people would presently have under control.

But I had seen enough to convince myself that the trouble went far deeper; that the social unrest was related to the slaughter and the misery that the first "people's' war had inflicted upon the whole population.

Then the Russian revolution of 1917 with the murder of the Czar Nicholas and his family had shaken my father's confidence in the innate decency of mankind.

There was a very real bond between him and his first cousin Nicky; they corresponded with each other regularly; both wore beards of distinctive character and as young men they had looked much alike.

When, as Czarevitch, Nicholas came to London in 1893 for my father's wedding, my father was mistaken for him by a well-intentioned diplomat who asked if he had come over especially for the Duke of York's wedding.

My father loved to relate the confusion that came over the embarrassed envoy when he replied: "I am the Duke of York, and it is important that I attend my own wedding."

It has long been my impression that just before the Bolsheviks seized the Czar, my father had personally planned to rescue him wtih a British cruiser, but in some way the plan was blocked in political circles.

In any case, it hurt my father that Britain had not raised a hand to save Uncle Nicky.

"Those damn politicians," he used to say. "If it had been one of their kind, they would have acted fast enough. But merely because the poor man was royal . . ."

Even after the British Government had recognized the U.S.S.R. it was quite a while before he could bring himself to receive the Soviet Ambassador.

My father and I had many talks about the changes that were obviously at work within the political and economic structure not only of Britain but of the whole world; and the more we discussed them the wider grew the divergence of our viewpoints.

To the end we were the best of friends; this gulf therefore was not of the heart but of generations.

The ideas and notions that divided us then would, if I were to repeat them, seem of little consequence now; for I was certainly no cosmic thinker, with a blueprint for remaking Britain. More than a Prince, I was a product of the war, with ideas of my own, a little on the cynical side maybe, but sure that I knew the answers.

My father, on the other hand, was very much the King, wholly steeped in the Victorian and Edwardian traditions that had been the order under which he had lived the best and most vigorous years of his life.

His many visits to the front, combined with his tireless and sympathetic rounds of the military camps and defence plants at home, had endeared him to them with the sincerity of his character. At the same time he had come to know them better.

Yet the strange new concepts that were beginning to permeate our island and the seemingly reckless desire for a change in everything both puzzled and vexed him, the more so because his eldest son seemed to share many of these peculiar notions.

For one thing, there was the business of wearing a top hat—the silk topper of pre-war formal dress.

A stickler for etiquette, my father deemed it undignified for the Prince of Wales to appear in public in anything so casual as a bowler; in fact, after seeing newspaper photographs of me wearing one at a civic function in the provinces, he had had me on the carpet.

Now I would just as soon have gone around wearing a gold crown as a shiny top hat; and in defending my attitude I maintained that far from showing disrespect to the city fathers, or letting down my "position," my reluctance to wear a silk hat did in fact exhibit a certain sagacity in what we nowadays call public relations.

DID NOT LIKE TOPPERS—"I would just as soon have gone around wearing a gold crown as a shiny top hat," says the Duke in this chapter. However sometimes circumstances dictated that he wear a topper (above) and judging from the picture it was not at all unbecoming.

Barbara Ann Awarded Marsh Trophy

TORONTO, Feb. 10 — (CP). — Barbara Ann Scott has been awarded the Lou Marsh Trophy for 1947 as the year's outstanding sports competitor, Elwood A. Hughes, chairman of the five-man selection board, announced today.

Miss Scott, who won the award in 1945, is the only person to be named twice by the committee. The board's decision was based on Barbara Ann's victories in world and European competitions in February last year.

Crowning achievement in the story-book record of successes of the winsome Ottawa miss was her recent victory in the Olympic women's figure skating championship.

For the second time in three years, Barbara Ann last month was named the Dominion's most outstanding woman athlete by the Women's Amateur Athletic Federation of Canada and was awarded the W.A.A.F.'s rose bowl. This award confirmed the opinion of Canadian sports editors, who earlier this year, in a Canadian Press poll, voted Barbara Ann in top position among Canadian women athletes in 1947.

Two Teams In A Tie For Top Of 'Y' Loop

Canada Packers and Commercials remained in a first-place tie in the YMCA Men's Bowling League as the result of last night's games. Packers defeated Jay Bees 4-2 and Commercials were on the short end of a 4-2 score with Tip Tops. In the other games Quakers blanked Aberdeens 6-0 and Artists whipped B'nai B'rith 4-2.

Quakers had high team score of 3373 for three games while Artists had high single of 1260. Good bowling was a feature of last night's contests.

V. R. Henry was in a class by himself in the individual scores hammering out a huge 818 count for three games. Even with this big score his team failed to win a game. Next to Henry was Ross Hopkins with 790, Reg Dyer 760, Fred Todd 749, Ab Guerin 729, Jack Ferguson 719 and Ray Bennett 703.

Only two bowlers topped 300, although there were a lot of scores in the 290's. Ross Hopkins just nosed out Fred Todd, Hopkins having 322 and Todd 320.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Just 15 years ago tonight, 20,000 fight fans screamed "fake" as Ernie Schaaf sprawled to the canvas for the count in the 13th round of his 15-round bout with Primo Carnera. Four days later, the quiet boy who wanted to be a priest, died in hospital from the effects of the beating. He never regained consciousness.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Rink committee holds a meeting tonight to discuss ways and means. Finance and building sub-committees, along with the other officials, will sit down and make plans for a drive to raise finances, as well as discuss the type of building needed for Peterborough this year. A lot of important angles to consider, the main one being the question of finances. Committee members have been busy the past week or more drawing up plans, and we feel they will put on a strong campaign for this worthwhile project. Plenty of work required as well as co-operation from the public, and 'tis expected both will be forthcoming.

* * * * * *

There are two schools of thought—sounds like a professor, eh?—here at present regarding OHA senior "B" hockey representation in Peterborough. One is that one good club of probably championship calibre should operate out of here, and the other is that there is room for two senior "B" clubs in this city. Same as at present. And there is something to be said for both arguments. It would be nice to ice one powerful squad which would be about strong enough to bring a provincial title here out in March, being good advertising for the city. And if Legion and the Petes had amalgamated this season, they would just about be of titular calibre.

* * * * * *

More Puckists Play

On the other hand, more local puckists have seen good senior "B" action with Legion and the Petes going it on their own. And they have certainly built up a lot of rivalry, interest and fan support by playing against each other—with no holds barred. Lot of players and fans hope there'll still be the two squads in the same grouping next year when the new secondary rink is built. And it is quite likely both clubs will operate independently another year, as they're as far apart as the poles at present regarding a peaceful settlement. So there you are, you pay your money and you take your choice.

* * * * * *

Don't know at the moment when the Petes play their postponed game in Bella Villa, but they should work it in this week if possible. Kingston plays the Petes in Omemee on Friday, the same night as Legion goes to Belleville. And that winds up the schedule, unless that tie game betwixt Belleville and Kingston has to be replayed. Petes are out in front now with seven wins and three losses. Legion come next with six and five. Kingston have four victories and a tie in 11 starts, while Belleville have three nods and a draw in 10 games. Team finishing last in the standing is out of the playoffs.

Industrial Hockey

Industrial Hockey League has five games lined up for this Thursday night. This trio are at the Quaker rink, as follows: De Laval vs. Ventilating Shades at 6.30, Marines vs. Quakers at 7.35, and Nashua vs. Millbrook at 8.40. At Confederation rink the same e'en, Westclox play the Colts at 7, with Packers following against Automotives an hour later. There may be a few other loop tilts during the week, and they will be announced again. The schedule has a piece to go yet but this league—in common with other local puck circuits—can't get enough rink time, and some tussles may have to be switched to Millbrook yet.

Two PMHA games listed for tonight at the Bowl rink, Trojans vs. Northend midgets at 8.00, and Trojan juveniles vs. Marines at 9.15. A round-robin playoff series has been called with top two teams in each series having a two-in-three playoff final. On account of the price has been upped for the Lakefield rink and the kids can't afford to pay the tariff. So they'll finish it up on open-air cushions. OMHA midgets and bantams (Rotary and Lions) may play in Omemee tomorrow or Friday night. Should have the dope on this shortly. Also further PMHA fixtures as they come up.

Another Track Run

Peterborough Harrier Club will hold its second winter track meet on the "Y" track tonight at seven bells. Feature event of the evening will be the mile run for the annual Cherney Cup. Second on the list is the 1000-yard run for the club trophy. All competitors are requested to be on the track at seven sharp to warm up. Any boy wishing to take up track and field athletics is welcome to join the club. He can contact Jack Martin at 462 Sherbrooke St. for full particulars. They hope to put this sport back on the local map with a bang this year.

Lakefield Sweeps Frankford, 14-6

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 10. (ENS)—In a one-sided TVL tussle here last night before 200 fans, Lakefield swept a 14-6 verdict over Frankford. The visiting goalie had about four times as many shots to stop as Wasson in the fairly clean fray. Frankford drew six of the nine penalties.

Henry and Fawcett counted two goals each for Lakefield in the initial inning, Jewell, Hopkins and Chappell each having one, and assists going to Hopkins, Henry, Chittick and Fawcett. Johnston got three for Frankford and Courtney one, with Rogers and Hood having an assist. Henry had a pair in the second with Chittick and Chappell each tallying one, and Chappell getting two assists. The latter scored two more in the third and Chittick had a goal and an assist, Jewell also aiding on one. Rankin scored two for Frankford. The teams:

Frankford: Goal, Jones; defence, Lambert and Chard; centre, Rankin; wings, Johnston and Hood; alternates, Courtney, Farmer, Orr and Rogers.

Lakefield: Goal, Wasson; defence, C. Birch and J. Birch; centre, Morin; wings, Chittick and Chappell; alternates, Jewell, Henry, Hopkins, Fawcett and Campbell.

Referee, W. O'Malley; linesman, T. Junkin.

PAPIKA COLORS FISH

The addition of paprika to the diet of hatchery-reared trout gives them a more natural color and the taste of the flesh is unaffected.

Bitter Brawl Should Result As Mask Meets McCready

KEN KENNETH

Wrestling fans seem to be due for even more than the usual excitement when the mat program gets under way in the Brock Arena ring on Wednesday night. The main bout of course is the bitter set-to between the Masked Marvel and Earl McCready. McCready gave the Unknown a fine going-over last week and even succeeded in tearing his mask right off. Tomorrow night, Earl states, he will complete the permanent job on the strange and secretive wrestler who has had a large amount of luck in his recent bouts.

Ben Sharpe gets a tough assignment earlier in the evening when he takes on Larrupin' Lee Henning of Iowa. In the semi-final Ken Kenneth the blond hustler from Down Under clashes with the giant ex-movie badman Wee Willie Davis.

Lakefield Bantams Take First Round

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 10. (ENS) — Lakefield Sea Scout Bantams handed Orono a 6-0 shutout in Orono on Saturday night in the deciding game of the OMHA Bantam "C" first round play-downs.

Play was fast and neat with Wingett playing a brilliant game in his first shut-out of the season.

Heffernan made the lone tally in the first period with Armstrong and Sloan drawing penalties.

Second period was marked by one goal by Sloan on an assist from Pearson; with Armstrong and Twist each collecting a minor penalty.

Third period: Coyle opened up with his customary "3 in the 3rd" and assisting Twist who scored the fourth goal in the period.

Armstrong and Sloan again drew penalties.

Lakefield wins the round 13-2 and goes on to meet Bobcaygeon next week.

Orono—Goal, Hooey, defence, Creamer and Gilmour; centre, K. West; wings, Hall and Armstrong; alternates, Spencer, Boyd, Harris, Hudson, R. West, Foster.

Lakefield—Goal, Wingett; defence, Pue, Pearson; centre, Twist; wings, Coyle and Sloan; alternates, Heffernan, Hunter, Brown, Mathew, Spencer, Wilson, Wasson. Referee, Tom Junkin; linesman, Westlake.

Trojan Results

In a rugged and close peewee Trojan Club game, Canadiens pulled out a 3-2 win over Leafs to make it two straight and so enter the final playoffs. Dunn and Griffin looked best for the Canadiens while Frizzelle stood out for the Leafs. It is a two-in-three series with winners meeting in finals Feb. 11 at Turner Park at nine p.m.

Red Wings swamped Leafs 7-0 to go into finals against Canadiens. Rangers fought hard but were outplayed by the speedy and clever Wings. Herbison, Lundy and Pagett shone for the Wings, with N. Clark best for the losers. Rangers and Leafs play Feb. 11 at eight p.m. in Turner Park.

Morrow Park and Trojan Tadpoles went to a 2-2 tie on Confederation ice in a neat number. Morrow Park opened it early by Minnicola from Walker, with Peel getting one for Trojans from Douglas. Kimball got another but Peters tied it up from Bowen. Kimball and Minnicola looked best for the southenders while Foy and Peters starred for Trojans.

O'Connor Top Scorer For 6 Straight Weeks

MONTREAL, Feb. 10 (CP). — Buddy O'Connor appears to be well on his way to copping the National Hockey League scoring title for the first time in his seven-year big league career if he keeps up his steady pace.

The classy New York Rangers playmaker has led the scoring race for six straight weeks, and official statistics released to-day show lightweight Buddy with 47 points, five better than Max Bentley of Toronto and Montreal's Elmer Lach who are deadlocked with 42 apiece.

O'Connor has sniped 20 goals and earned 27 assists in 44 games while Max Bentley and Lach boast identical records — 23 markers and 19 helpings.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

President A. W. Pickard of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association said yesterday at Regina "every consideration" would be given a recommendation of the Ottawa and District Hockey Association that the RCAF Flyers, Olympic hockey champions, be permitted to challenge for the Allan Cup.

Canada's champion blind golfer, Dr. William Oxenham, Toronto osteopath, will leave Feb. 27 with four other blind Canadians to take part in the Bing Crosby-Bob Hope tournament for sightless golfers at Los Angeles, Calif., March 5-7.

Gil Dodds was stricken with the mumps yesterday at Boston. Friends say it is doubtful that the "Flying Parson" will run in the Baxter mile in the New York Athletic Club games at New York Saturday.

Former star guard with Cleveland Rams, 1945 United States professional football champions, Charles (Chuck) Menzener of Buffalo has signed up with Hamilton Wildcats of the Ontario Rugby Football Union, Manager Art McCready said yesterday.

Toronto Maple Leafs will open the hockey season in Ottawa next fall in an exhibition game with Ottawa Senators, T. P. Gorman, owner of the Senators announced yesterday. He said it would be the first time in 15 years that any Toronto Maple Leaf team had visited the capital.

Lightweight King Ike Williams scored an easy 10-round non-title decision over Livio Minelli of Milan, Italy, at Philadelphia last night and feels that to-day he is ready for Ray (Sugar) Robinson, welterweight champ. Williams said he was tired of chasing back-tracking lightweights and was ready for a "man"—like Robinson.

Claude Kewley, recruiting agent for the Scottish Ice Hockey Association, says he will need 30 or 40 more young Canadian players to go to Scotland. Player trials are expected to be held at Toronto in April, for the eight-club league.

Hank Greenberg, former major league home run king, conferred with Cleveland Indians' officials last night, and a Tribe spokesman said "it's a fair assumption that Greenberg will sign a contract with the Indians as the player-coach." Greenberg hit his peak as a slugger when he clubbed 58 homers for the Detroit Tigers in 1938.

Marmora Swamps Madoc Pucksters

MARMORA, Feb. 10—(ENS).—Marmora pounded out a 12-2 TVL victory over Madoc here last night in a clean but one-sided struggle. They tore in from the start for a 3-0 lead in the first frame and had it 8-0 to end the second. Only two penalties were drawn. G. Leonard, Cousins and Goodchild sparked the homesters' attack.

G. Leonard got two in the first and Loveless one, with E. Leonard aiding twice. In the second, Cousins counted three and Goodchild two, Cousins helping on a pair, with Goodchild, G. Leonard and K. Trumble each having an assist. Cousins added two more in the third, G. Leonard one and K. Trumble one. Two assists went to G. Leonard and one to Cousins. Baker and Stewart tallied for Madoc. The teams:

Madoc: Goal, Gregg; defence, Nayler and Baker; centre, Kellar; wings, Thompson and Reynolds; alternates: G. Thompson, Nickle, Hearns and Stewart.

Marmora: Goal, Koski; defence, G. Leonard and E. Leonard; centre, Cousins; wings, Goodchild and K. Trumble; alternates: McInroy, E. Trumble, Loveless, Doyle and Forestell.

Referee, W. Watson; linesman, T. Cousins.

Norwood Winners Against Hastings

NORWOOD, Feb. 10 (ENS)—In a fast and clean TVL contest here last evening, before a good-sized crowd, Norwood defeated Hastings 8-5 to maintain their grip on third place. It was fine hockey all the way with competition keen from start to finish. The second period was wide-open with Norwood having a margin in the free-scoring chukker. The teams:

Hastings: Goal, Nelson; defence, West and L. Pettigrew; centre, P. Petticrew; wings, Crowley and J. Herrington; alternates, Scriver, Philips and V. Herrington.

Norwood: Goal, Aldred; defence, Peterson and Hamilton; centre, B. Webb; wings, Rogers and Puffer; alternates, R. Webb, Scott, Brown, Payne, Wight and Martin.

King Dethrones Webb Takes Lightweight Crown

TORONTO, Feb. 10—(CP).—A sepia streak flashed from a shiny left shoulder, an ugly gash laid ebony flesh wide open over an already-damaged right eye, and a new king of Canada's lightweight boxers was crowned — Li'l Arthur King. The Toronto boy who won't be eligible to vote till Feb. 23, last night dethroned another Negro, Danny Webb of Montreal, when he scored a technical knockout in the eighth of a scheduled 12-round bout. As he avenged a lost decision when the two fighters met 15 months ago, King weighed 134½ pounds, just ½ pound heavier than Webb.

"You could have buried your finger in that cut and it would have endangered Webb's ring future if I had permitted the bout to proceed," said Referee Billy Burke, telling of the cut caused by King's left hook. Eight stitches were required to close the wound and in the previous round King opened a cut on Webb's right eye lid.

An in-and-out fighter since he turned professional two years ago, the Zulu-like King, his Kinky hair standing straight up, uncorked the right hand he seemed to have strapped to his side in recent bouts as he coasted to a wide lead on points in the first seven rounds.

But it was Li'l Arthur's rapier-like left which did most of the damage and brought roars of approval from the 7,500 fans who paid about $14,500 to see the title change hands in the first Canadian championship contest here in a decade.

On the Canadian Press score card King gained an edge in five of the first seven heats, with the third and fifth even.

The new champ showed most of his superiority over the 26-year-old Webb in the sixth round when he staggered the former titleholder with two left hooks. Webb was noticeably hurt, and from that point on King beat him to the punch on every exchange.

Jackie Dugan, 161¾, of Peterborough, was impressive in his professional debut, as he outpointed Billy Fifield 159, of Toronto.

Bobcaygeon Takes A 10-2 Victory

BOBCAYGEON, Feb. 10,—(ENS).— Bobcaygeon Kinsmen again took the Lakefield Lions hockey team on Saturday night on Bobcaygeon ice, 10-2. Brant Phillips starred again for 'Caygeon, with four goals to his credit, followed by Dawson and Kimble with two, while Tom Birch shoved in the two for the vistiors.

First period was fairly quiet, with Birch scoring first, followed by Kimble for Bobcaygeon.

Second period was a long battle, with eight penalties handed out. Two of the Lakefield boys were carried off the ice, and the Bobcaygeon goalie was also injured. Kinsmen in this session punched in five tallies, shutting the visiting Lions out. Westlake, Nicholls, D. Kimble, B. Phillips and R. Kimble, scored for the home team. Penalties were given to Knox, Sabatino, P. Calberry, R. Calberry, Hunter, B. Phillips, two to D. Kimble.

The third period saw Brant Phillips notch three and Parker one on an assist by Austin, while Tom Birch netted the only one for Lakefield. Austin and Birch were benched.

Line-ups:

Bobcaygeon— Goal, R. Poole; defence, J. Westlake, D. Parker; centre, J. Nicholls; wings, B Phillips, R. Phillips; alternates, Fawcette, D. Kimble, H. Austin, G. Downey.

Lakefield—Goal, Red Wasson; defence, D. Wasson, B. Evans; centre, T. Birch; wings, D. Hunter, R. Hakaday; alternates, H. Knox, A. Morrison, R. Calberry, A. Dracup, P. Calberry, J. Sabatino.

Combines Victors Over Campbellford

STIRLING, Feb. 10—(ENS)—The Stirling-Bata Combines downed the strong Campbellford TVL team 8-4 here last night to take their seventh straight in the fastest game seen yet on local ice. Only two minor penalties were handed out. The Bastedo brothers clicked on fine passing plays and kept the other goalie busy. Cooke kept up his mark of at least two tallies a tilt. Hendy and Robinson were always dangerous for Campbellford. The teams:

Campbellford: Goal, Donald; defence, Hendy and Tanner; centre, Robinson; wings, Blake and Peloquin; alternates, Free, Smith, Hay, Doherty and Nesbitt.

Combines: Goal, Aquino; defence, Armstrong and Utman; centre, D. Bastedo; wings, B. Bastedo and Stapley; alternates, Twigg, Cooke, Muffitt, Desjardin and Morton.

Referee, R. Ouimet; linesman, J. Bowen.

First Period

Stirling—B. Bastedo (D. Bastedo) 7:13
Campbellford—Robinson (Hendy) 14:59
Penalty—Desjardin.

Second Period

Stirling—Stapley (D. Bastedo) 10:22
Stirling—B. Bastedo 1123
Stirling—Desjardin (Utman) 17:53
Penalty—Morton.

Third Period

Campbellford—Hendy 2:00
Stirling—Muffit (Morton) 2:47
Campbellford—Peloquin (Robinson) 10:09
Stirling—Cooke (Muffitt) .. 11:20
Stirling—B. Bastedo (D. Bastedo) 15:28
Stirling—Cooke 18:18
Campbellford—Robinson .. 19:55

Marlies Edge Dutchmen 3-2 In Overtime

By The Canadian Press.

The extra man Coach Joe Primeau used on the attack in the dying seconds of Toronto Marlboros' game last night against the Kitchener - Waterloo Flying Dutchmen paid off for the Dukes.

With the Dutchmen leading 3-2 and only 25 seconds to play in overtime, Primeau yanked Goalie Howie Harvey. Marlies got the face-off in Dutchmen's zone, Bob Paul winning the tip. He passed to Johnny McCormack— to Ray Hanigan who beat Keith Woodall in Dutchmen's goal to give the second-place Marlboros a 3-3 tie with the fifth-place Dutchmen in an Ontario Hockeyy Association Senior A tilt at Waterloo.

Stratford Kroehlers walloped the eighth-place Guelph Biltmores 10-6 at Galt and Barrie Flyers won their 20th victory in 33 tries by defeating the seventh-place Toronto Marlboros 5-4 at Barrie, leaving Stratford and Barrie still tied on the junior loop's third rung.

Leo Curik gave Primeau's Dukes a first-period 1-0 lead at Waterloo. The Dutchemn took a 2-1 second frame lead on goals by George Zuk and Sparky Weiler.

Al Buchanan scored the Toronto typing counter at the 18:45 mark of the second session, Art Hurst put Kitchener-Waterloo ahead in the overtime period, but Hannigan tied it up again.

Hollywood Plans To Renew "B" Pictures

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 10 (AP). —Notes and comment on the Hollywood scene:

The B pictures are coming back. The much-maligned lower budget films are on the upswing in Hollywood, as part of the industry's readjustment to tighter economic conditions. Warners has its B's in production already and MGM has announced a semi-documentary series.

This news may cause some movie customers to groan. But B's can sometimes be good pictures. I said sometimes.

Calling Dr. Kildare

Lionel Barymore was asked on the "Key Largo" set if MGM planned to revive his Dr. Gillespie series.

"I hope so," he answered. "Those were good little pictures —moneymakers, too. And look at the stars that came out of them —Van Johnson, Red Skelton, Laraine Day, Lana Turner, Donna Reed, and many others....

Van Johnson is reported to steal acting honors in "State of the Union" from stars Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn. In fact, insiders are predicting he will regain his popularity. The Johnston story proves that no new star can continue on top without the aid of a good picture. P.S.—I hope Paramount is coming up with some better ones for its boy Ladd....

More nominations are coming in for the worst picture of 1947. Likely contenders for our razzberry award now include "It Had to be You," "Forever Amber," "Suddenly It's Spring," "Easy Come, Easy Go," "The Corpse Came C.O.D.", "Dead Reckoning," "Magic Town," "Framed." Any more suggestions?

Hollywood Sights

Johnny Weissmuller sweating it out at Terry Hunt's health Emporium so he can continue playing Tarzan.....Ann Blyth emphatically denying that she will stay a blonde (is that so bad?)

Rita Hayworth distastefully eyeing the third chicken leg she had to gnaw for a difficult eating scene in "Carmen"....Glenn Ford and Victor Jory staggering on the "Carmen" set after three days of knife fight scenes....Edward G. Robinson resoundingly slapping Humphrey Bogart in "Key Largo." (That's all right," asides Bogie, "I kill him at the end of the picture.")

Hint MacDonald Publicity Man

WINDSOR, Feb. 10.—(CP). — William MacDonald, vice-president of Local 195, may become the next Canadian publicity director of the United Auto Workers (CIO) it was learned here yesterday.

At the same time Cecil Daynes, member of Local 195, who is serving his third term as chairman of Windsor's Board of Education, is being considered as the next educational director.

For more than a month the two positions have been vacant since Harry Rowe and Drummond Wren were dismissed in a change ordered by International Headquarters in Detroit.

Dismissal of the two directors and several international representatives was part of the strategy of Walter P. Reuther to bring about a more even division in the Canadian region between the so-called right and left wing factions.

Amid indications of likely appointments there were two definite announcements. George Sprecht, inveterate anti-Communist member of Local 200, has been chosen an international representative, and Harvey Barber, president of Amalgamated Local 458, Brantford, has been named assistant director of the union's farm implement division.

It is also considered probable thta Hans McIntyre, international representative, will be replaced some time in March by Richard Courtney, president of Amalgamated Local 22, Oshawa.

RCAF Requires 2,500 Recruits

As part of a national drive to bring Regular Air Force strength up to 12,000, recruiting will be held on Friday and Saturday, February 13 and 14. Both air crew and ground crew applications will be accepted, particularly the latter.

Recent retirements and the fact that the Interim Air Force has now been disbanded have combined to reduce strength to the point that 2,500 recruits are needed.

Young men between ages 17 and 30, physically fit, and possessing Junior Matriculation standing will be eligible for enlistment in the technical and clerical trades. Civilian experience in a trade will be considered a substitute under certain circumstances for Junior Matriculation.

Air crew candidates must be between ages of 18 and 22, physically fit and possessing Senior Matriculation.

Technical courses open to recruits and expected to run about a year include aero engine mechanics, air frame mechanics, armorers, electricians, radar operators, and radio operators. Ground crew sign for a five-year period; at the conclusion of it they can re-engage for additional five-year periods for a total of 20 years. They will then become eligible for a pension based on rank at the time of discharge.

Air crew on a "Short Service Commission" sign for a six-year period. At the end of that time some will be taken on for permanent commissions, the remainder will be discharged with a gratuity.

Seek Missing Boy

FORT ERIE, Feb. 10.—(CP).—A 13-state alarm to find Joseph Urso, 16, of Sturgeon Point, N.Y., missing from home since last Thursday, yesterday reached this district when Charles Fenno of Buffalo, said he picked up a boy at the Peace bridge and drove him to Dunnville, 30 miles west of here. An uncle and aunt said Urso was scolded following an unfavorable report card.

Explains Commission Set-up To U.N. Group

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Feb. 10.—(CP).— George C. McDonald, vice-president oft the Quebec Hydro-Electric Commission, said yesterday that although he was encouraged over prospects of developing St. Lawrence river power resources, "it is a shame and a disgrace that we have not put that power to use all these years."

McDonald, who appeared as an expert witness on organization problems, spoke before the control committee of the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission. He confined his remarks for the most part to an explanation of the set-up of the Quebec Commission.

He said that 20 years ago, emphasis on the St. Lawrence project appeared to be on navigation but that there now were indications that power to be developed would be more important.

Closing British Lumber Market To Canada Cuts Production

MONTREAL, Feb. 10 (Special)—Production prospects for 1948 in the lumbering industry of Eastern Canada were not an all-time high in 1947. It is not expected that this peak can be reached in 1948 because of the set-back in production caused by Great Britain's retiral from the purchasing field, and because of recent very heavy snow storms in the Maritime Provinces. Recent changes in export regulations boosting softwoods quotas from 33⅓ per cent to 50 per cent of production is acting as a very necessary stimulus but it is doubted if the back log can be made up at this late date

The demand for Canadian lumber in the United States remains unabated and this fact with the easement in export restrictions is doing a lot to correct the effects of the shock received when the United Kingdom Government decided against its purchases of Eastern lumber temporarily in its efforts to have dollars. The United Kingdom had traditionally been one of Canada's biggest lumber markets for spruce from Quebec and the Maritimes and industry in these districts was specially geared to supply that market.

The Canadian Lumbermen's Association does not take a pessimistic view of lumber production prospects in 1948, but it definitely feels that there will be less small mill production consequent upon the uncertain market conditions resulting from Great Britain's action and from the extreme weather conditions in the Maritimes.

The Canadian Lumberman's Association is quite positive, however, that there will be an ample supply of lumber for Canadian requirements and at least as great an amount as last year for export to the U.S.A.

Minister To Cuba

OTTAWA, Feb. 10.—(CP). — The Secretary of State for External Affairs today announced the appointment of Charles P. Hebert as Canadian Minister in Cuba. He succeeds Emile Vaillancourt who has been appointed Canadian minister in Yugoslavia. Mr. Hebert recently returned from Havana where he was Canadian delegate to the international trade and employment organization conference.

Unite Against Attlee

GATESHEAD, Durham, England, Feb. 10 — (Reuters).—The chief Opposition parties here, Conservative and Liberal, last night decided to amalgamate to oppose the present member of Parliament, Konni Zilliacus, the Lesder of the extreme left wing of the British Labor Party, at the next general election.

This fusion is on the lines of that already reported from Paisley, Scotland, where there will be a joint candidature of Liberals and Conservatives at a by-election on February 18.

Drew Wants Dollar At Par With US Funds

TIMMNIS, Feb. 10 — (CP). — Ontario Premier Drew said yesterday in an address that every country which over-valued its money in relation to the United States dollar was asking for trouble. He added that Canada was one such country.

After asserting his belief, expressed in previous addresses elsewhere, that many of this country's problems would be solved if Canada's dollar were allowed to find its own level in international exchange, he said:

"I would like to see the Canadian dollar at par with U.S. funds or even at a premium. But I am convinced the only way it can ever get there with advantage to the people of Canada is to let it reach its own proper level as quickly as possible. Then, by increased domestic production and export trade, let the dollar work its way upward with a value which has a direct relationship to our increased production and expanding international trade."

Didn't Want Princess To Get City's Freedom

CARDIFF, Wales, Feb. 10—(Reuters)—A resolution to confer the freedom of Cardiff upon Princess Elizabeth was opposed in the city council yesterday by Labor member Ewart Swee, "because she has not yet rendered any service of distinction either to this or to the state."

Persons of distinction, he said, were in his view the ordinary rank and file who were rehabilitating the country economically to ensure the future of "this good lady."

He moved that the resolution be deferred for five years, but it was carried with one dissenting vote.

Fire Sweeps Garage

MONTREAL, Feb. 10.—(CP).—Loss in a fire which swept through a garage in suburban Verdun yesterday and into storage yards filled with war surplus goods and fuel was estimated at more than $200,000. Five firemen, overcome by smoke, had to be revived by an innhalator squad.

KEEP MATCHES AWAY FROM THE KIDDIES

It's not always true that once burned a child is twice shy. The lure of the bright, hot flame of a match is often too much for a youngster. Untold damage has resulted from childish curiosity about fire. For the protection of your own property and that of your neighbors, matches should be kept out of reach of youthful hands. Such forethought is a contribution to "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

No Trapping For Beaver In Peterborough

There will be no licenses issued by the Department of Lands and Forests for the trapping of beaver this season on Crown Lands in Haliburton, North Victoria and North Peterborough counties. The reason given for this decision by Districh Forester A. B. Wheatley, Lindsay, is that there are so many applications for licenses this year, that it would be impossible for his department to adequately or fairly make a distribution at this late date, the proposed season which was to have opened on Feb. 15.

The Department has no jurisdiction of course, other than issuing licenses, over the trapping of beaver on private lands where it has been proved that beaver are doing flood damage and by their large nuumbers in crowded colonies,, require thinning out by trapping. From this information and final decision, it would appear that there will be no beaver trapping in Peterboroug County this year.

Edison Sewer Now Underway

Laying of a sewer on Edison Avenue was begun last week by the Board of Works Department, as City Engineer Chalmers got around to a project for which persistent appeals had been received by the City Council from some of the residents of that street.

"We got up to Edison just as soon as we could," Mr. Chalmers said, "and we should manage to get the Frank-Brown Streets section done this year. That block was included in the program which the Council approved at a time when we didn't have these multiple housing schemes, backed by the government. In that plan I think we have finished everything in and around Lock Street sections, especially easterly to the river. The Byersville area is another neighborhood section which we have been gradually getting around to. Last fall I explained the situation to a deputation from that part of the city, and the only promise I made was that we would get around to them as soon as we could.

"We have the housing pretty well connected now south of Lansdowne, and are able to begin the work on Edison Avenue.

"Most of the sewer construction has been going on in the new Monaghan ward, especially in the Claraday area. Several short stretches of sewer have been put in at the north and west ends of the city, but otherwise expenditure has been concentrated in the southern area."

GET ONE FIRE ALARM

Only one fire alarm was reported Monday and during the night. At 7.43 p.m. a chimney fire was reported at the residence of E. Brown, 561 Bethune St. No damage was reported.

FUNERAL WEDNESDAY

Funeral of Theodore Reid, Springbrook, who died at his home on Monday will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday at Springbrook United Church. It will be under the auspices of the Orange Order. Body is resting at his residence. Burial will be in Wellman's Corners Cemetery.

BREAKS LEG AT HOCKEY

During a fast session of hockey at Warsaw Friday, Cephas Parcells, Warsaw, received an injury in play. Carried to the dressing-room by teammates, medical attention was called and his leg put in splints, when it was discovered he had a fracture.

NEW YEAR'S DAY

Chinese residents of Peterborough today are exchanging greetings and paying old debts as they observe New Year's Day, according to the old Chinese calendar. When the dragon emerges from his den tonight, he will see little in the way of joyful celebration in China. Very few families have enough extra money for even the most meagre celebration, because of the still-spiralling inflation.

PAGE THE ARTISTS

The Ontario Legislature, by arrangement with the Ontario Society of Artists, will award a $500 prize for the best painting exhibited in the society's annual exhibition early in March. The painting must be the work of an artist resident in Ontario. The province will have an option for 15 days following the award to purchase the prize-winning painting.

SHOE RETAILERS ELECT

Clare G. Collins, Peterborough, was elected vice-chairman of the Canadian Shoe Retailers' Association at their convention held in Quebec, February 9. The re-elected president of the association was Harvey R. Pollock, Toronto.

POPE TO BROADCAST

Pope Pius will broadcast to the United States on Ash Wednesday, Feb. 11. The broadcast will be directed primarily to the 3,000,000 children in parochial (separate) schools, the National Catholic Welfare Conference said.

SCREECH!

This cold weather does weird things to the heavy springs of the city buses. As the passenger-loaded vehicles rolled to a stop this morning, many of them gave off a sound reminiscent of a band of banshees wailing their choicest refrain, as the brakes groaned opposition to operating in this oh-so-cold city.

DOGS MOLEST DEER

Humane Society Inspector Gerald Dunford captured one of a pair of hounds Monday which have been reported as bothering the deer penned near the Filtration Plant. The animals had been attempting to get into the enclosure by digging under the fence. The second marauder — a black hound — is still on the loose.

NOT FOR ARCHIVES

There are no negatives of the T. H. G. Denne pictures at the public library, City Clerk Outram reported to the finance committee of the council last night. There are duplicate prints in black and white. By Mr. Denne's gift to the city the pictures are not to leave the city's possession at the library. This information will be forwarded to the federal archives department.

FAST TIME APRIL 25

Peterborough's return to daylight saving Sunday, April 25 at 12.01 a.m. will be authorized in a bylaw which the finance committee of the council last night asked City Solicitor Huycke to draft. The period of the long evenings will continue to Sept. 26. It coincides exactly with the time recommended for uniformity by the railways. Preparation for the bylaw for the meeting of the council next week was moved by Mayor Ovens and Ald. Sands.

COUNTY WARDENS TO MEET

Thirty-seven Wardens of the Province's Counties together with the member of the Provisional County of Haliburton will attend the annual convention of the Ontario Good Roads Association to be held at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, Feb. 24 and 25. They will form a Convention Board of Review on all resolutions submitted and will be guests at a luncheon on the first day with William J. Moore, OLS, as chairman and Hon. George H. Doucett, Minister of Highways, guest speaker. Reeve Melville Johnston, will represent the local district, along with Warden James Humphries.

ABSENT-MINDED MOTORIST

A cheque for $3, in payment for a fine for parking overtime, is on its way back to a motorist who erred on the side of forgetfulness. The charge was laid in early October, and he first demonstrated his absent-mindedness by failing to report to pay the fine. A summons was issued, and the fine paid for promptly then — about the end of October.

Then, last week, a cheque was received from the same motorist for the same offence. He had forgotten that it had been paid.

Kennel Club Names Officers

Kawartha Kennel Club recently held its monthly meeting at the YMCA, when the election of officers for 1948 took place.

Reg. Reid ws re-elected president, and the following officers were elected for 1948. Hon. president, Gordon K. Fraser, MP; vice-president, Robin Runnett; secretary-treasurer, Walter Wood; Elected to the board of directors were Robin Runnett, Walter Wood, George Hill, George English and Miss Ethel McFadgen.

One of the features of the Kawartha Kennel Club this year will be sponsored by the Outdoor Activities committee of which George Hill was elected chairman. This committee is arranging a series of beagle hunts. Arrangements have been made with the Omemee club, who have their beagle team. As soon as weather permits a beagle hunt will be held either at Cavan or Keene and the Omemee beagles will be brought up for the hunt. Retriever trials are also to be held this year, and special exhibitions of obedience trials are to be held.

This is the second year since the Kawartha Kennel club was formed and the secretary reports that the financial statement at the end of 1947 showed a good balance. Membership has considerably increased and the club shows every prospect of being one of the outstanding clubs of its kind in the district.

A dog show will be held in the early summer, and it is probable that this will be run in conjunction with the Peterborough Horse Show. Len Phillips, chairman of the education committee, has arranged for a series of films depicting dogs and dog work to be shown at the various monthly meetings and for speakers of note to give suitable addresses on subjects advantageous for the kennel workers.

Wm. Thompson is appointed chairman of the show committee and Mrs. Reg. Reid was elected social convener.

Frost Delaying Sewer Construction

Frost is four feet deep in the ground of Edison Ave., City Engineer A. E. Chalmers remarked at Monday night's finance committee meeting. He said this was the best time of the year for laying a sewer on that street which reaches westerly from Park St., south of the Ovaltine plant and Brioux Ave.

R. A. Blythe, contractor, who has been exacavating for sewers on the Brookdale subdivision, north of Parkhill housing area, said he has suspended work because severe weather increased the cost. He had stalled operations when the increase got up to 50c a foot, but he had carried on some emergency trench work in Port Hope up to $2 a foot.

"If the weather was March or April we might be able to do as much in half a day as we can do in a week now," Mr. Blythe said

COLDEST SINCE 1933

The recent sustained cold wave has old-timers checking their memories, and statisticians consulting the records. Locally this spell is the coldest since February of 1933, when there were 19 days in the month below zero.

Water Charge Up $5,000 Utilities Say

Utilities Commission has increased from $20,000 to $26,000 the annual charge to the city council for the maintenance of water supply for fire protection. The council in this case means the ratepayers and particularly property owners.

The increase of $5,000 is tucked away into the tax rate, and tenants get full benefit of the fire protection presumably without any increase in their rental charge.

Ald. Adam Sands mentioned to the finance committee of the council last night that the Commission should at least give some thought to the alternative of increasing the flat rate charge to water consumers. Why put the "sting" on the property owner?

"For instance," said Ald. Sands "there are 658 Wartime House in Peterborough. The Commission's fire protection charge is boosted $5,000, but we don't get anything from those tenants. They don't have to pay any part of the increase."

"Fire protection is just as much in the interest of the tenant as the landlord," said Ald. Gordon Armstrong.

Ald. Raine proposed that a committee interview the Commission requesting consideration of the council's objection. Nothing was said against the $5,000 increase other than by the Commission's routine extraction it is to come out of the pockets of the property owners. The motion was seconded by Ald. Dodds who recommended for the consultation: Mayor Ovens, Alderman Sands and Swanston.

It was estimated that by a standing agreement, the Commission could levy for $35,420, instead of the $25,000. R. L. Dobbin, Utilities Manger, informed the council that two miles of water mains were laid last year and 12 additional hydrants added to the fire protection system.

Old People Taken To See A Movie

The Peterborough Automobile Club took on Monday afternoon the old people of Anson House and the House of Refuge to see a show at the Capitol Theatre. Two buses supplied by the Peterborough Bus Lines took the 45 old people to the theatre where they were guests of Mr. Arthur Cauley, the manager. The old folk greatly enjoyed the show, especially one old gentleman from the House of Providence who for the first time in his life saw a motion picture. After the show they were taken back to their homes. Mr. James Juby the president of the club arranged the trip.

Obituaries

GUSTAVUS HOWDEN

Gustavus Howden, 91, died Monday at the residence of his sister, Mrs. George Tedford, 506 Patterson St., after a short illness. He was born in Cavan, son of the late William Howden and Margaret Thompson, and until time of his retirement 16 years ago, lived in Cavan a lifetime. Mr. Howden farmed on his grandfather's homestead on the 10th Concession of Cavan township, on land cleared prior to 1818.

He is survived by three sisters, Mrs. George Telford (Harriette) of Peterborough; Mrs. Adeline Howden and Mrs. Bert Hooton (Daisy), both of Springville. One brother, George, resides in Port Hope. Mr. Howden was predeceased by two brothers and two sisters. He was of the Anglican faith.

The body is resting at the Comstock Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements are to be published later.

MRS. ELIZA LONG

Mrs. Eliza Long, 97, died Monday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. J. M. Gerard, Peterborough, after a lingering illness. She was born in Meiklenburg, Germany, daughter of the late John Newman and Minnie Dryer. Her husband, the late Charles Long, predeceased her. He was a farmer for 67 years in Otonabee township, was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church for 45 years and later of Knox United. The late Mr. Long was also trustee of the Coldsprings Union Sunday school for many years and one of its trustees.

Surviving Mrs. Long are two daughters, Mrs. J. M. Gerard (Emma) and Mrs. C. F. Kitney, both of Peterborough, and one son, Bertram, of Otonabee. She was a member of Knox United church.

The body is resting at the Comstock Funeral Home, from where the funeral service will be held on Thursday at 3 p.m. Rev. H. J. Douglas will officiate and burial will take place at Little Lake cemetery.

ON CITY TRUST—James Hamilton, former Mayor of Peterborough, was appointed a member of the City Trust by the City Council Monday night. He replaces G. A. Gillespie.

Council Names J. Hamilton To City Trust

James Hamilton, immediate predecessor of Mayor W. G. Ovens, was nominated for the City Trust Commission Monday night by the finance committee of the council. As successor to G. A. Gillespie, his appointment to the Trust is for five years.

"I think we should appoint a man whereby the council could expect more co-operation than we received from the City Trust a year ago," said Mayor Ovens, proposing Mr. Hamilton. "We all know that Mr. Hamilton has had long experience in municipal work and city financing, and I felt like proposing that he be appointed to this vacancy in the Trust." Ald. Dodds seconded the motion.

Mayor Ovens also moved, seconded by Ald. Gordon Armstrong, that the council send to Mr. Gillespie a letter of appreciation of his long service as a member of the City Trust.

Lindsay Bandmaster Tenders Resignation

LINDSAY, Feb. 10.—(ENS).—The resignation of William H. Heffernan, bandmaster of the Lindsay Citizen's Band, was accepted by town council last night. The clerk was instructed to forward to Mr. Heffernan a letter of appreciation for his services.

Mr. Heffernan has been associtaed with the band for many years, first as a cornet soloist and later as bandmaster. Accompanying the resignation was the announcement that the band will disband and the instruments will be turned over to the town, as well as the library of music. The special band committee of council will meet with Col. Alex Turner of the local Battery with a view to having the unit take over the band. By this transfer the band will be provided with heated rooms, light, water, uniforms and will also receive regular pay allowance for practices and parades.

Addition Planned To Telephone Plant

Construction of a two-storey addition to the Hunter street building of the Bell Telephone is being planned by the Toronto head office. The Daily Commercial News reports that a closed list of biddees have been invited to tender on the job. They are: Anglin-Norcross Co., Foundation Co. of Ontario, A. W. Robinson, Ltd., all of Toronto and Pigott Construction Company of Hamilton.

The addition will house operating room, rest quarters, commercial office and dial equipment extension.

Talk On Flowers

Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt of Omemee, a former president of Peterborough Horticultural Society, will give an illustrated talk on tulips at the meeting of the Gladioli Society here Feb. 20. Mr. Huber Burke will be on the same program with slides of winter scenes, native flowers, landscape studies, garden flowers, sugar bush operations, and so on. Rev. Mr. Zufelt has written to Mr. C. Porter that Mr. Burke is a true artist with color film.

Arthur Lewis Named Head Liberal Association In Re-organization Plans

As the first step in their campaign to have a Liberal represent the Peterborough county riding at Queen's Park, the Peterborough Provincial Liberal Association unanimously acclaimed a new slate of officers at its annual meeting on Monday night. Pledges of hard work in preparing for the next election (suggested by one speaker as coming not later than June), and willingness to uphold the "Liberal way of thought" were heard from both floors and platform. The meeting was held in the Legion Hall.

Arthur H. Lewis became the new president of the association; Howard Doolittle, 1st vice-president, and Dr. Robert J. Young, 2nd vice-precident—all three of Peterborough. New directors include Frank Coyle, Lakefield; John Davidson, Havelock; James Gillespie, Peterborough; James Ridyard, Peterborough; Melville McIntyre, secretary, and Edward O'Toole, treasurer—both of Peterborough.

In the absence of the chairman of the Nominating Committee, Max Swanston, who was at a City Council meeting, A. L. Elliott, KC, made the report of that body. The two other members were R. M. Glover and John Davidson. Col. J. A. Dewart seconded the motion of Mr. Elliott that the slate be accepted as read; and W. B. Gordon moved that nominations be closed. Thus the new officers were acclaimed without dissent.

Principal speaker was Walter E. Harris, KC, MP, Parliamentary Assistant to the Secretary of State for External Affairs, Hon. Louis S. St. Laurent. He touched on matters in both Provincial and Federal fields, but disclaimed any intention of interfering in provincial affairs.

Opinion Sought.

Regarding Canada's position in the community of nations at UN, he said that Canadians would be mistaken if they felt the rest of the world was not interested in what they thought. He said Canada's opinion was sought on almost every matter of account.

As an indication of the Dominion's prestige he said, "Canada is expected to take the lead in several groups and could not give these up without seeming to be disinterested."

Attending the UN meeting last fall, he said, he felt that something was holding up the progress of that body. He attributed this largely to the Russians, but added that he was not sure whether they were just being stubborn or had a contrary policy.

There was no doubt that the Soviet policy had changed after the Vishinsky speech, he said. "Vishinsky made it perfectly clear that they were out to break the capitalist world and would use all methods to do so." Then came the formation of the Cominform.

He quoted what he described as a significant sentence made by Prime Minister Mackenzie King after his London visit recently when he summed up the international situation at first-hand. "The next four months will be very trying months in international affairs," Mr. King

Fine Farmer $50 And Costs;

Thomas Hethecington, Lakefield Road, was fined $50 and $12 costs for charges of failing to feed and water horses properly. Judgment had been reserved for three weeks by Magistrate E. A. Gee to enable the accused and his counsel to settle matters on the Hethecington farm — conditions which special prosecutor W. B. Gordon referred to as "notorious throughout the countryside" when the case came up for decision this morning.

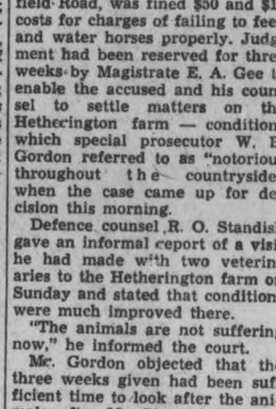
Defence counsel R. O. Standish gave an informal report of a visit he had made with two veterinaries to the Hetherington farm on Sunday and stated that conditions were much improved there.

"The animals are not suffering now," he informed the court.

Mr. Gordon objected that the three weeks given had been sufficient time to look after the animals, after Mr. Standish told the magistrate that "frankly, all we have to offer right now are promises." Mr. Gordon expressed regret that there was evidently no power to the magistrate to order the destruction of the stock, and strongly suggested that two stallions mentioned be destroyed.

Also advanced as a suggestion was that brothers and other relatives of the accused, a man in his 60's, take over the farm and attend to the stock.

Hetherington addressed the court at some length, detailing the condition of the horses now, which he stated were in fine health at present.



The magistrate stated that the fine would be the only specific punishment at present, but advised that the Humane Society Inspector keep a close watch on the Hetherington farm to see that matters are properly looked after. He warned: "The next time, there will be a jail term."

THE MESS JACKET SUIT—Ensembles and suits which have smooth tailoring and also give a sleek and soft appearance are the aim of most American women. This season there is a real demand for clothes that combine the new look with a silhouette that is slim yet curvaceous. This, on the face of it, sounds like a dream of the impossible but it has been achieved in the ensemble shown in the above photograph. It consists of a mess jacket of Mexicana pink fastened with large navy frogs and a navy skirt cut in eight gores with a slim top and a morning glory flare at the hem. A twenty-nine-inch cutaway cape of navy, lined in pink crepe completes the chic and flattering outfit.

Artists Present Superb Recital

A delightful recital by Miss Hilda Veenstra, soprano, a young student artist with exceptional musical talent, was heard Monday evening by members and friends of the Ontario Registered Music Teachers' Association, Peterborough branch, in the recreation room of the YWCA.

The program opened with "Vilanelle" by Dell Aqua, performed with a charm and clarity that held instant appeal for her audience. In her second group, Miss Veenstra began with McNutt's "Take Me to a Green Isle" and closed with the ever-lovely "Trees" by Rasbach. Although her group of English, Scottish and Irish folksongs were well interpreted, it was her choice of selections from Gilbert and Sullivan operettas that provided the charming young singer with the medium most suited to her.

Miss Barbara Lacey, gifted young pianist, accompanied the singer throughout, and herself presented a distinguished group of piano selections, including "Rhapsody" by Dohnanyi, and Cyril Scott's "Lotus Land."

Mrs. Cecil Searles, president, introduced the artists. She explained that Miss Veenstra is soprano soloist at Calvin Presbyterian Church, Toronto, and a member of the Mendelsson Choir. Miss Lacey is also of Toronto.

A reception followed the recital, honoring the young student artists, and refreshments were served by Mrs. Keith Braund, social convener, and her committee members.

C.G.I.T. News

Preceding the opening of CGIT week across Canada, girls from groups at Mark St., Murray St., Trinity and Knox churches took part in the evening service Sunday at Knox United church. Joyce Pitchford, president of Knox CGIT and Fern Carveth occupied the pulpit, with Rev. H. G. Douglas, who delivered an appropriate message.

Invocation was given by Miss Pitchford and Miss Carveth took the scripture reading. "The Lord's Prayer" as a solo was sung by Miss Lou Ann Kempt. The flag salute was given and the CGIT Pledge and Purpose repeated by the girls. Flag bearers were Lou Ann Kempt and Dorothy McGee. The offering was taken by Margaret Johnson, June Drummond, Margaret McNeeley, Connie Hildenbrand, Beverley Chalmers and Dorothy Drummond.

Josephine Clancy Marries J. T. Youmell at St. Peter's

One of the loveliest weddings of the winter season was solemnized Saturday at St. Peter's Cathedral when Mary Josephine Clancy and Joseph P. Youmell took their marriage vows. Rev. P. P. Butler said the nuptial mass. The bride is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Clancy of Peterborough, and the groom is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Felix Youmell of Cornwall.

During the ceremony, Miss G. Clancy of Toronto, aunt of the bride, sang sacred hymns, and during the signing of the register she sang "Ave Maria." Mrs. R. G. Aman was at the organ.

Given in marriage by her godfather, Mr. J. A. Shevlin, the bride wore a striking gown of Queen's blue faconne crepe in original design with graceful skirt falling in a slight train, and a halo hat of matching blue. She carried a cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses. Attending her sister was Mrs. M. J. Murray, matron of honor, attired in a period gown of fuschia taffeta made with tight bodice and full sweeping skirt. Her headdress was designed from a matching flower and had a shoulder veil and she carried a cascade of Talisman roses.

Mr. Charles McCoy, brother-in-law of the bride, attended the groom. Ushers were Mr. J. Leach and Mr. H. Latimer, both of Toronto.

A reception was held afterward at Hooper's Palm Room. Mrs. C. McCoy, sister of the bride, received the guests, wearing a gown of loganberry crepe with sequin trim, black crepe hat with ostrich plumes, and a corsage of Talisman roses. She was assisted by Mrs. J. Leach, cousin of the groom, who wore a lack ensemble and corsage of American Beauty roses.

On their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Youmell will visit at Cornwall. For travelling the bride chose a grey crepe dress with pink and silver sequin trim and wore a seal coat and black accessories and corsage of yellow roses. They will reside in Toronto.

Long Service Pins Given Employees

Long Service Club members employees of Canadian Watercraft Limited, held their annual dinner party Monday evening at the Kawartha Club. This group organized in 1946, and at their first dinner, held a year ago, 19 employees of Peterborough Canoe Company Limited and Canadian Canoe Company Limited were presented with 25 year service awards and buttons denoting length of service. This year three new members were added to the list in the persons of Mr. J. Frank Gillespie, Mr. Thomas Sexsmith and Mr. Herbert Deck. Each was presented with a gold watch and a quarter century pin.

A button denoting 20 years of continuous service was presented to Mr. Homer Lundy, and for ten years continuous service, Miss Vlieta Carveth, Mr. Harry Hewie and Mr. Dentzil Moffat, received similar buttons.

Guests at dinner numbered 120 and included the members and their wives and friends. Mr. Homer Lundy, chairman of the shop committee, was master of ceremonies. Mr. Jack F. Richardson, assistant manager of the plants, gave an address of welcome, after which the guests were introduced. Presentation of awards was made by Mr. W. A. Richardson, manager of Peterborough Canoe Company, and Mr. W. L. Hardwicke, manager of Canadian Canoe Company.

A splendid program of musical entertainment during dinner, interspersed with sing-songs, was provided by Mr. Frank Hamon, and followed by a floor show. Assisting artists were Vi Wall, singer, Paul Conkle, electric guitar, Babe Smith, trumpet soloist, and Judy Welch, tap dancer.

As MC, Mr. Hamon conducted a hilarious "truth or consequence" game, and several stunts. Those taking part in the "coke" contest were Harry Hewie, Vic Doughty and Cliff Smith. In the balloon contest, the contestants were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boyd and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Thompson.

A five piece orchestra led by Frank Hamon then took over and the remainder of the evening was spent dancing or playing cards. At this point the crowd was considerably increased by the arrival of other employees and friends.

Evelyn Gillies Takes Vows With Donald R. Hamblin

George St. United Church was the setting for a pretty wedding Saturday when Evelyn Pearl Gillies became the bride of Donald Ross Hamblin. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Fewings, and the groom a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hamblin. Rev. Dr. J. Semple performed the ceremony before the altar, decorated with a basket of beautiful spring flowers. Mr. Chas. Allen, at the organ, played traditional wedding music.

The bride wore a lovely gown of white satin with lace, fashioned on princess lines with long graceful sleeves. Her veil was of lace and fell, waist-length, from a tiara headdress. She carried a bouquet of narcissus and iris, as she was given in marriage by her step-father, Mr. Fewings.

Miss Erla Watson of Oshawa attended the bride, frocked in pink taffeta with matching headdress and her bouquet was of daffodils and iris. Mr. Alvin Boyd, B.A., of O.C.E., Toronto, was groomsman. Ushers were Doug Burns and Ray Gillies.

At a reception afterward in the Board Room of the church, for more than 40 guests, the parents of the bride and groom received with the bridal party.

Later the couple left on a motor trip to Ottawa, the bride travelling in a blue crepe dress and fore a red wool topcoat, black hat and accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamblin will live at 205 Brock St.

Peach Batter Pudding Most Popular Desserts

By MARY MOORE

This idea of featuring one dish seems to appeal to our readers, for I have heard from several of them asking me to describe method of making dishes they want to master.

One of our readers has 40 quarts of canned peaches left from those she "did down" last September and would like to know ways of using these nicely besides serving them as plain canned peaches for dessert.

I think a peach batter pudding is the most popular version of peach desserts using canned peaches. However if our readers prefer something like peach upside-down cake or open-face peach pie or peach tapioca or peach crumb or any others all they need to do is to write to me as Grett did.

Peach Batter Pudding

Drain canned peaches and place a thick layer of them in a medium-sized deep buttered pudding dish. Cover with Cottage Pudding Batter: -1½ cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder and flour together. Cream the shortening and add the sugar and salt and the egg, well beaten. Then add the milk and flour alternately. Pour drained peaches in baking dish and bake at 375 deg. Fahr. for about 40 minutes. Serve with top milk or Lemon Sauce.

Variations Of Batter Pudding

(1) Reduce the amount of sugar in the batter to ¼ cup and use the syrup from the canned peaches in the place of milk in the batter.

(2) Add ½ teaspoon almond flavoring to the batter.

(3) Add 6 or 8 halved maraschino cherries to the peaches to give the dish an attractive appearance when served. If this is done some of the maraschino juice may be used in the batter to color and flavor it.

(4) Canned plums are especially good in a batter pudding—but must be well drained and stoned of course. Treat them the same as peaches above, but sprinkle the plums with a little sugar before pouring the batter over.

(5) Crushed pineapple is good in anything but especially with this batter. To make it a real company dish add a few maraschino cherries sliced, to the bottom of the baking dish before adding the pineapple.

(6) Blueberries, preferably fresh or frozen, should be stirred into the batter just before it is poured into the baking dish. The batter requires 2-3 cup sugar if blueberries are used fresh. Canned blueberries are not so good. Serve with lemon sauce.

(7) One bunch of winter rhubarb can be made to serve six if used in batter pudding. Put the raw rhubarb cut in 1-inch pieces in bottom of buttered baking dish; sprinkle with ¼ cup sugar before pouring batter over.

(8) Canned Montmorency cherries, well-drained are another good fruit. Sprnikle these with a little sugar before pouring batter over, and use almond flavoring in the batter. Serve with sauce made from the juice from the cherries, thickened with two tablespoons cornstarch which is mixed with 3 tablespoons sugar before adding to the juice.

JUNIOR MIMICS PARENTS

Children's Characteristics Molded by Parents' Actions —Not Preachings

✧ ✧ ✧

Most parents do not realize that children are copycats. If they did, we would have one of the greatest reformations in all history, for fathers and mothers would know that it is not enough to tell their youngsters that they must be good, they would know that they have to set them an example.

Dorothy Dix

For a baby does not arrive in the world with a manual of correct behavior in its hand. It doesn't know right from wrong, or any of the answers. It is a plastic little creature, ready to take any impression, and so, as its father and mother are the people with whom it is brought in the most intimate contact, it naturally imitates them.

Strangely enough, this a fact in child-rearing that most parents fail to take into consideration. They want their children to love and admire them, to have good principles and good manners and to be able to get along amicably with others, and to this end they are always lecturing them about their conduct. But they do not set themselves up as models for their youngsters to go by.

Now preaching to children is a waste of time. Warnings and admonitions go in one ear and out of the other. They have to have some pattern constantly before their eyes, and that makes the conduct of their parents the most important thing in every child's life. There is no use in telling Johnny and Sadie to be a little gentleman and lady when they grow up under a father and mother who trample the decencies of life under foot.

Absorb Parents' Ways

Parents make no greater mistake than when they think that they can rear their children on the "do as I tell you and not as I do" plan and still have their youngsters develop into fine men and women. The FBI's are no shrewder detectives than adolescent kids, and it is folly to warn Bobby against drink when Dad is a souse, or for Mother to try to teach modesty to her bobby-soxer daughter when Mamie knows perfectly well that Mama is having a little affair of her own. There isn't a teen-ager whose habits and morals are not founded on their parents'.

So are their manners. If Father gulps his food down like a hungry dog, so will the children. If Mother goes about home slouchy and slovenly, so will her daughters. If Father's vocabulary is mainly made up of curse words, Tommy will use the same language. If Mother is a nagger, Heaven pity the man whom Susie marries.

Same way with children's ideals. Their standards are a replica of what they have seen in their homes since they were babies. If children have heard their mother lie and cheat and heard their father brag about the crooked deal he has pulled off, there will be no Veracious Janes nor Honest Johns in that family. They won't even know they are crooks because they are just doing what Mama and Papa have always done.

Why parents fail to realize that 99 times out of a hundred their children are what they make them, is hard to understand. They can't shirk their responsibility for how Bobby and Sally turn out for the kids are just little copycats who follow the pattern their mothers and fathers have set them.

Happy those children who have parents who set them a fine example to live by. But preaching to children to be good isn't enough. They must have a living example to show them the way.

For Wednesday, February 11

A DRAMATIC coup of far-reaching and radical consequence could make of this day one of unforgettable memory. And while a sudden impact of a possibly spectacular nature may have thrills, innovation and breath-taking promise, yet there may be as well, snares, lures and pitfalls all along the way. Experiments, skill and exceptional creative urges may challenge to high tempo, yet runaway ideas or half-baked plans or details could have power to wreck the most ambitious projects.

Safeguard resources, funds, reputation and personal integrity lest strange contacts or notions prove disastrous to high adventure.

If It Is Your Birthday

A sudden and spectacular event may have power profoundly to affect the future and its destiny. And while the idea, experiment or visitation may seem of outstanding enterprise with prospect of dramatic and radical fulfillment, yet the way is also fraught with pitfalls, dangers, a smashing spading up of cherished hopes and wishes, both in business and private relations. Influential personages figure with pernicious although alluring ideas.

The hopes for progress, adventure and romance are of prime significance, but as well there are openings for disaster and harm quite as difficult to manipulate. Strange contacts and adventures lure to exciting but devious pathways.

A child born on this day may have remarkable talents, ingenuity and plans for progress, but as well it make be easily snared or inveigled.

Apsley Couple 50 Years Wed

APSLEY, Feb. 10 (ENS).—Mr. and Mrs. William Earnshaw Sr. on Saturday evening celebrated the golden anniversary of their marriage. On February 8, 1898, they were married in St. Stephen's Anglican Church, Chandos, by Rev. C. Lord.

Mrs. Earnshaw was born in Burleigh and Mr. Earnshaw born in England came to Canada as a boy. After their marriage they resided in Chandos for a short time and in 1913 moved to their farm on Highway 28 where they have lived ever since.

They have two daughters, Mrs. H. McColl (Julia) of Apsley, and Bertha of Glenshaw, Pa., who was unable to attend. One daughter Mrs. D. Puffer (Florence) died in 1943. There are also four sons: William Jr. of Apsley, superintendent for Peterborough Lumber Co.; Gordon, Arthur and Vernal all of Apsley, and an adopted son Russel Lane. One son, Herb., was killed by a falling tree in 1945. There are 24 grandchildren and seven great grandchildren. In commenting on their past life, Mr. Earnshaw said when their first child (Julia) was born there wasn't a loaf of bread in the house. Sitting in their comfortable home one could but think of the toil, hardships, thrift, energy, "grit", they must have had to raise a family of eight children and provide comfortable surrounding for their declining years. The family planned a party along with some friends and neighbors. A mock wedding wa staged which provided much fun and laughter.

A granddaughter, Rena Earnshaw, read an address, and Mrs. H. McColl presented them with a beautiful electric table lamp. The address was decorated with a gold candle symbolizing the change from candles 50 years ago to electric lamps today. Mr. and Mrs. Earnshaw both thanked their family and friends. Other gifts received included chinaware, pyrex and flowers.

A lunch was served from a table decorated over white tablecloth with yellow streamers reaching from light fixture to corner bows and bells. A wedding cake trimmed with yellow icing centred the table.

Those in attendance beside their own family were: Mr. and Mrs Bert McIlmoyl, Irene McIlmoyl, Doreen Hales, Jack McFadden, Weldon McIlmoyl, Mr. and Mrs. John Blakely, Mr. and Mrs. W. Lean.

Isabel R. Harvie Is Bride Of Frederick M. Stephens

Her parents' home, prettily decorated with daffodils and fern, was on Saturday afternoon the setting for the wedding of Isabel Record Harvie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Harvie, 309 Burnham St., to Frederick Stephens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Stephens of Campbellford. Rev. Dr. J. R. R. Cooper performed the ceremony. Mrs. Merle Townsend, sister of the bride, played the wedding march.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was dressed in a suit of pale blue gabardine with matching hat, and wore a corsage of American Beauty roses and white snapdragon. Miss Dorothy Harvie was her sister's only attendant, wearing a silver grey wool suit with grey hat and a corsage the same as the bride's. Mr. Gerald Lemmons of Campbellford was groomsman.

The bride's mother received afterward, wearing a navy blue crepe dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother who was wearing wine crepe with hat of wine felt and corsage of roses.

For a motor trip to Windsor, the bride donned a topcoat of twin beaver. Mr. and Mrs. Stephens will live at 309 Burnham St.

W.I. Honors Mrs. Earnshaw

APSLEY, Feb. 10 (ENS).—The February meeting of the Women's Institute was held at Mrs. Norman Wilson with 19 members present. A card party was arranged to be held at Mrs. Hugh McColl's on February 18. The bedside stool which the Institute purchased for the hospital was on display.

A Health contest was conducted by Mrs. Don Newberry; first prize being won by Mrs. N. Wilson and second by Mrs. W. Lean.

At the conclusion of the meeting Mrs. Chas. Smith read a short address and Mrs. W. Lean presented Mrs. W. Earnshaw with a cream and gold clock on the occasion of her gold wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Earnshaw thanked the members for their gift and also for all the kindness shown her during her illness.

Mrs. Wilson, assisted by daughter, Mary Jean, and Mrs. Hales served lunch which emphasized Valentine theme.

On Friday afternoon members of the Institute met at the Public Library to quit.

Mrs. Woodbeck, who has been a very active member during her stay here, is moving to her home at Loon Lake on account of her husband's illness.

Mrs. T. H. Lean spoke a few words of appreciation of her faithfulness and expressed regret at her leaving. Mrs. R. Hales presented a printed tablecloth. Mrs. Woodbeck thanked the members and extended an invitation to hold a summer meeting at her beautiful cottage on the shores of Loon Lake.

Mrs. Wagner served afternoon tea.

Hockey Game.

Two hockey games were played here last week. Apsley defeated Maynooth 7 to 5; Coe Hill defeated Maynooth 12 to 5.

Personals

Mrs. Hazel Moore of Peterborough spent the week-end with her sisters, Mrs. Herb Tucker and Mrs. N. Stephens.

Archdeacon Cody Veteran Author Dies At St. John

SAINT JOHN, NB, Feb. 10 — (CP).—A life of religious service and adventure was ended today as the Church of England mourned the death of Ven. H. A. Cody, Archdeacon of Saint John.

The 75-year-old son of a lumberman who had served St. James' Church here for 32 years and previously had spent six years in the Yukon as a travelling missionary died last night following a lengthy illness.

Named Archdeacon of Saint John in 1927, Mr. Cody was well known across Canada as the author of more than 20 novels, many of them based on his life in the northland from 1904 to 1910.

Hiram Alfred Cody was born at Cody's, NB, July 3, 1872, and graduated from King's University, Windsor, NS, with his Master of Arts degree in 1897.

In 1904 he enlisted for missionary work in the Yukon after being ordained deacon of Christ Church Cathedral in Fredericton.

His first novels were written while he still was in the Yukon where he met Robert W. Service, the Canadian author, who became his vestry clerk.

He accepted a call to St. James' Church here in 1911 and served until ill-health forced his retirement in 1943.

His last novel, "Storm King Benner," was published in 1937. Probably his best known was "The Frontiersman," which later was made into a motion picture.

HAVE 90,000 FISH EGGS—A total of 65 million fish eggs are hatching in Ontario's largest hatchery, at Glenora, Prince Edward County. A. B. Brown, manager, is shown holding a tube of eyed whitefish eggs. Behind him are jars containing 90,000 eggs in continuously moving water, piped down from famed "Lake on the Mountain."

Hatchery Near Belleville Provides Fish For Summer

GLENORA, Feb. 10—(CP).—Whitefish, herring, lake trout, brown trout, speckled trout and Atlantic salmon—millions of them—will be fighting for places in fishermen's creels this summer as a result of work now going on at Canada's largest government-operated fish hatchery here.

But the fish at present are just so many eggs—65,000,000—going through incubation in troughs and glass jars at the provincial hatchery in its eastern Ontario community.

The whitefish are hatching in glass jars filled with constantly moving water and will be ready for open water in March or April.

The trout, hatched in troughs of still water, will go to a "rearing station" at Warring's Creek, three miles west of Pictou, until they are ready to be "planted" in streams throughout Ontario.

The hatchery at this community near Belleville occupies a large, stone building, originally a foundary, and later a wartime ammunition factory. It became a fish hatchery following the end of the war and is complete with its own water system and Hydro-Electric power, derived from a nearby lake.

Will Release Vet Allowance Raises Soon

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, Feb. 10.—(CP). — Loud and repeated cries of student veterans that their living allowances are inadequate now are before the cabinet and it is considered probable in informed quarters that there will be an announcement of increases within the near future.

The announcement may come from Prime Minister Mackenzie King at the same time that he discloses the government's intention to go beyond the increases he outlined last Dec. 19 for disabled pensioners and war widows. That should be within the next two weeks.

Veterans Minister Gregg gave an inkling of the students' increase in the Commons yesterday after T. A. Kidd (PC-Kingston City) asked him "when can the veterans at present attending university expect an announcement regarding their application for extra assistance or a cost-of-living bonus?"

Mr. Gregg replied that "a statement on the matter will be made just as soon as possible."

The single veterans have been getting $60 a month and married veterans $80 plus $12 for a first child and $10 for a second, in addition to their books and fees and allowances for commuting.

It is believed that the cabinet's decision will bear particularly on the case of the veteran with children, since the single man and the married man with no children are in better position to combat living costs.

In the case of the pensions' increases, the cabinet has paid considerable attention to the long-term effects because once there are jumps it would be practically impossible to revoke them even if living costs went far down. In the case of the students, however, the whole thing likely will be finished within a few years.

Three-Day Fire Damage Has Reached $1,500,000

By The Canadian Press

Three deaths and damages estimated at close to $1,500,000 were the toll of 10 major fires across Canada in the last three days, a Canadian Press survey showed today. Dead are Joseph A. Groild, 80-year-old retired rancher, burned to death in a week-end fire that destroyed his one-room shack near Lundbreck, Alta., about 100 miles south of Calgary; and Mrs. Mabel Glaser of Williamsville, NY, and Minnie Boneberg of Port Colborne, Ont., suffocated Sunday in a fire in Miss Boneberg's home.

Loss was estimated at more than $200,000 yesterday in a fire which raged through a garage and a storage yard for war surplus goods and fuel in the Montreal suburb of Verdun.

Another $200,000 blaze yesterday levelled the 88-year-old St. Francis de Salles Roman Catholic Church in Smiths Falls. A flash fire engulfed the building in flames and defied efforts of firefighters.

Fire swept a theatre valued at $125,000 in Kentville, NS. Only employees were in the building at the time.

Destroys School

At Ripley, a fire Sunday night destroyed the $25,000 Continuation School. Classes yesterday for the 52 pupils were held in the township hall. Cause of the blaze was not determined.

Loss was estimated at $4,000 in a fire Sunday in the Toronto home of Mrs. Martha Tilley. A fire in which damage was placed at $700 forced Mr. and Mrs. John Knible and their daughter, Elizabeth, from their Toronto home yesterday and a blaze in a public school in the Toronto suburb of Lakeview drove 486 pupils from their classrooms.

A sewer gas explosion was blamed yesterday for starting a fire in Fred Normandin's service station in Wallaceburg. Loss was estimated at $400.

Other fires reported since Saturday, with damaged estimates:

Winfleet Baptist Church, near Port Colborne, $25,000.

Moncton, N.B., Saturday, Kent Theatre, $100,000.

Grimsby, Ont., Monday, William Hewson basket factory $125,000.

Churchill, Man., Saturday, United States Army test centre, $150,000.

Leduc, Alta., Monday, Gaiety Theatre, between $150,000 and $200,000.

Dawson Creek, B.C., Saturday, Co-operative store $200,000.

Desboro, Ont., Sunday, St. Peter's Lutheran Church, $2,000.

Shawville, Que., Sunday, St. George's Anglican Church, $5,000.

Simcoe, Saturday, a large barn $30,000.

Bethany United YPU Hold Dress Carnival

BETHANY, Feb. 10.—(ENS.—The Young People's Union of the United church sponsored a fancy dress carnival at the community rink on Friday. Skating was enjoyed to the music of the new record player. Dr. and Mrs. G. M. Longfield won first prize in the comic class with their impersonation of a cow. Joan Bristow, as Little Red Riding Hood, received first prize in the junior girls. The prize for the couple race was won by Mrs. Verne Mulligan and Ronald Pomeroy.

Prize winners were: girls' race, Dorothy Ginn; boys' race, Ronald Pomeroy; junior girls, Beverly Pomeroy; junior boys, Maurice Driver. In the potato race, Maurice Driver and Creighton Carr tied for first place. Several games were played following which a sing-song was enjoyed and lunch served in the church basement.

Ask Death Penalty

TOKYO, Feb. 10—(AP)—The prosecution indicated today it would ask the death penalty for Hideki Tojo and 24 other Japanese war leaders. "In effect, I am asking for the death penalty," said Chief Prosecutor Joseph B. Keenan. He will begin his summation of the Allied case about 7:30 p.m. today, EST.

Youth Must Play Part In Peace Primate Says

OTTAWA, Feb. 10 — (CP) — Youth must rise to face the problem of global relations and take as its guide the love of God, the Most Rev. George Frederick Kingston, Anglican Primate of all Canada and Archbishop of Nova Scotia, said last night.

Addressing 1,000 guests from the Ottawa diocese at a reception, Archbishop Kingston said he had confidence that Canadian youth will play its full part in the responsibility of world problems.

Canada's youth had once before risen to the challenge, he said referring to the Second World War, and now Canada again would play a great part in world affairs. Her part would not be selfish but one which would contribute to world peace.

These were times for confidence and steadiness and, with the love of God as a guide, the Christian world would advance towards world peace.

Read To Co-operate

The Primate said the Church of England in Canada was ready to co-operate with Christian churches to bring about church unity.

Earlier at a press conference, the Primate said the Anglican Church was discussing church union in Canada with the United Church in relation to a "mutually acceptable ministry."

He also said the World Council of Churches, which meets in Amsterdam Aug. 24-Sept. 4, might help eventually to reunite the Christian world. This was a thing of the far future but there was no reason why it could not be brought about by co-operation of both Protestant and Roman Catholic churches.

The reception was attended by Prime Minister Mackenzie King, several of his cabinet ministers, the leader of the Opposition, John Bracken, and various representatives of Commonwealth countries.

Definite Top Found In Prices

By The Canadian Press.

Last week's break in grain and other commodities is seen as an indication that there is a definite top to high prices, and the fact that the break has occurred now has given hope that the price situation can be brought under control and eased back gradually.

Prices last week were already at a danger point, and though few believed the present break would be serious, it took more than three days to establish where the drop would be stopped, even temporarily.

If the most optimistic indications can be taken from the recent action, it would seem that prices now have run the high course set for them by the succession of war, control, decontrol and inflationary demand.

If it were not for European needs and the recovery program which is being set up to meet them, there would be reason to look for an early post-war recession along the lines of the early 20s.

Perhaps the main acomplishment of the break is to show that prices are vulnerable and this should act as a brake on any fresh upward tendencies.

Phone Rates Increase

BETHANY, Feb. 10.—(ENS).—The annual meeting of the subscribers of the Manvers municipal telephone system was held on Saturday. Mr. Kaye of Millbrook gave information on new equipment for enlarging switchboard. The rates to subscribers will be raised this year to $15 and $19 for renters. Walter Neals resigned as commissioner following 15 years' service. The annual report showed 215 subscribers and 86 renters for the last year. The new board of commissioners are Robert Morton, chairman; F. W. Reynolds and I. H. Staples; J. C. Cummiskey, secretary-treasurer. Operators, Mrs. Clarke Pomeroy, Mrs. Effie Morton and Mrs. Ina Palmer. Line repair man and night operator, Clarke Pomeroy.

Charge Writer Broke Faith Over School

TORONTO, Feb. 10 — (CP). — The Advisory Board of Ontario Training Schools, headed by Dr. E. P. Lewis, Toronto psychiatrist, met for three hours at Queen's Park Monday to discuss charges made recently against the Cobourg Girls' School by writer Gwenyth Barrington. The board will release a statement today, it was learned from A. R. Virgin, director of reform institutions.

The reform institutions department, headed by Hon. George Dunbar, has taken exception to Mrs. Barrington's alleged charges of "flogging and generally improper conditions at the school"; also to be review of the free-lance writer's latest book which appeared in the January issue of Quill and Quire.

It read in part: "Mrs. Barrington's book will be a novel concerned with the young girls in Canadian houses of correction. These conditions, which in some cases approximate the horrors of concentration camp, have been subject to social and editorial protest for so many years . . . she spent some time living in different reformatories and prisons, and was horrified at the needlessly broken lives around her—she saw a child of 10, whose mother did not want her, imprisoned as incorrigible, with no hope of freedom until the years of growth had passed and she is 21."

Broken Faith

"The writer, who said she wanted background material for her proposed book, 'Women Without Freedom,' had our ready permission to live in at Mercer Reformatory and the Cobourg training school," said Mr. Virgin. "We do not object to healthy criticism, but we feel that Mrs. Barrington has broken faith with us. She went in on the definite promise that her book would reveal no case histories, nor any mention of the girls or the staff."

Mr. Virgin said he learned from recent newspaper reports that Mrs. Barrington said she had sent a report of conditions at the school to Queen's Park officials, "but it was ignored and sent back."

"The only word I received from the writer was what she described in a letter as the almost completed manuscript of her book," explained Mr. Virgin. "She asked me to blue pencil it and take out any objectionable parts."

The director explained that the manuscript had been in his office for two weeks when he sent it back. "I explained in a letter to Mrs. Barrington that I had not had the time to read it and felt that I was holding it up from a publisher. I had no thought of the writer breaking faith with us in mentioning case histories, the staff or the girls," he added.

Favor Rate Regulation Of Highway Freight

MOOSE JAW, Feb. 10 (CP). — Highway freight rate regulation is favored by the Canadian Automotive Transportation Association, John Magee of Toronto, executive secretary, said to-day in an address prepared for delivery at a service club meeting.

Mr. Magee observed only three provinces— Saskatchewan, Manitoba, and British Columbia — regulate such rates, and suggested it was advisable the other provinces follow suit.

He made it clear, howeevr, the membership of his organization desired that such regulations be imposed by provincial authority rather than Federal.

Control of entry into thetrucking field was another aspect of regulatory policy advocated by the CATA, Mr. Magee said. "Unstable and chaotic conditions" had been found to exist where there was no supervision of persons entering the industry. "Careful governmental consideration of each application to enter the trucking field has been the most effective aid in producing order out of chaos," he said.

Woman MP Gives Male Members Verbal Spanking On Controls

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, Feb. 10—(CP).—Mrs. Gladys Strum, only woman member of the Commons, gave male opponents of price controls and subsidies a verbal spanking on behalf of "Canadian mothers and housewives" yesterday and expressed the wish that "you gentlemen would learn the nutritional facts of life." The blond farm housewife, who sits as CCF member for the Saskatchewan constituency of Qu'Appelle, charged that the Government was following a "foolish kind of economy," a "foolish" way of saving money in refusing to pay subsidies on essential food products. The policy was destroying the health of the nation.

While most of the debate was carried by the Opposition, George Cruickshank (L—Fraser Valley) spoke briefly and said he felt that more controls would have to be reimposed to correct the present prices situation.

Other speakers included Clarie Gillis (CCF—Cape Breton South), Walter Kuhl (SC—Jasper-Edson), Douglas Ross (PC—Toronto St. Paul's), Maurice Hartt (L—Montreal Cartier), Douglas Harkness (PC—Calgary East), E. G. McCullough (CCF—Assiniboia), and Harry Jackman (PC—Toronto Rosedale).

In opening proceedings, Transport Minister Chevrier said that while establishment of a Canadian coast guard deserved "sympathetic consideration," the "tremendous" cost entailed would be entirely out if proportion to its value.

Thinks They're Ignorant

Mrs. Strum said she wished the cabinet ministers could have been replaced during the debate by their wives, who did the shopping.

She warned that the government was preparing for the same sort of statistics which were compiled when the youth of the nation was called to fight in the last war. No expense was saved to equip the fighting men, but now food was being denied their children.

She chided bachelor J. A. Bradette (L—Cochrane) for an earlier speech in which he mentioned the new look, milk subsidies and new motor cars "practically all in the same breath."

"Those who do not know the facts of life should not be allowed to govern," she said.

She urged the reimposition of subsidies and the fixing of price ceilings on essential foods at levels where those foods would be within the reach of all.

Mr. Ross said living costs would be decreased through tax reductions. He suggested that the budget be brought down immediately or that an interim budget be introduced to provide reductions in the eight-per-cent sales tax and the 25-per-cent excise tax on some commodities.

Not Much Use

Mr. Harkness said that the policies which would encourage production and tax reductions would assist in bringing down prices Subsidies could be paid on a few select products. For instance, milk tickets for children and pensioners could be included in monthly family allowances or pension cheques.

Mr. Gillis doubted if the committee would be able to prove anyone was profiteering, because under the country's present economic system anyone in business was entitled to charge all the traffic would bear.

"In addition to fixing prices and regulating wages, profits also should be fixed," said Mr. Gillis.

Complete German Trial

NUERNBERG, Feb. 10 — (AP) — The trial of 10 former German commanders in the Balkans and Norway on charges of executing 13,000 civilians ended yesterday. The hearing began seven months ago. The United States military court adjourned without announcing a date for judgment.

SCIENCE has proved there are certain food elements everyone needs for health. If there aren't enough of them in a child's food, serious things can happen—such as stunted growth, soft bones, poor teeth, faulty nerves, loss of appetite, defective eyesight.

Ovaltine supplements the diet with elements frequently deficient in ordinary foods. Three servings of Ovaltine furnish a significant portion of a child's daily requirements of Vitamins A, B1, C, D, Riboflavin (B2), and Niacin and Minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron.

In addition it provides the basic food substances—complete proteins to build muscle, nerve and body cells—high-energy foods for vitality and endurance. It thus acts as an insurance against food deficiencies that retard normal growth.

So if your child eats poorly, is thin, underpar, perhaps nervous, why not try delicious Ovaltine for normal growth and better appetite.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

THE FIRST TEN IN CONTRACT BRIDGE

SURELY the old order changeth. For the third time out of four, a woman star heads the list of leading players for the season in national championship contract bridge. Mrs. Alexander M. Sobel, wife of the tournament director of the American Contract Bridge League, is the only player in the country who finished first in two championship events and second in another during the season just closed.

Mrs. Sobel's team-of-four in the "world's championship" event limited to "masters" with high rating from past performances, was victorious, and so was her pair in the "United States" open pair championship, her partner being Mrs. Wilkinson Wagar, of Atlanta, Georgia, the first time two members of the fair sex ever won that event. Her second place was in the women's pair championship, in which her partner was Miss Ruth Sherman, of New York.

Here is the full list of the season's First Ten in Contract Bridge:

1. Mrs. A. M. Sobel.
2. Charles H. Goren.
3. Ludwig J. Kabakjian.
4. Harry J. Fishbein.
5. Sol Mogal.
6-7. Betty Bysshe and Meyer Schleifer.
8. John R. Crawford.
9-10. (Tied) Mrs. Wilkinson Wagar, Mrs. Ralph C. Young, Lee Hazen, Theodore A. Lightner, George Rapee and Samuel Stayman.

Each of the players rated from second to seventh places inclusive won two events, among the set of sixteen for national honors, without any second places, and are rated according to the relative significance of the particular contests in which they triumphed. Mr. Crawford, in eighth place, had one victory and three seconds. Those tied for ninth and tenth each had one victory and one second place.

Mrs. Sobel has a remarkable record in national play. She made the first ten originally in 1940. She was sixth then, also the next year. Then in 1942 she was first. She dropped to tenth, but still made the list, in 1943, was third in 1944, first again in 1945, fifth in 1946, tenth last season and now first again. This top makes her third time at the head of the list. Only one other player has led the nation as often, Oswald Jacoby, who placed first for four years in succession, 1934 to 1937 inclusive.

With the ladies landing the top spot for three years out of four —Mrs. Sobel herself in 1945, Mrs. Wagar in 1946, then Sidney Silidor last year and now Mrs. Sobel again—it begins to seem appropriate that men revise their greatest of all compliments to a woman player, "She plays bridge like a man."

Tomorrow's Question

Can you list the sixteen events rated by the American Contract Bridge League as "world" and "national" championships?

ROTOTILLER
A POWER TILLER OF 100 USES
ROTOTILLER can pay for itself by increasing your income. Proof that Rototiller is profitable equipment is evidenced by the number of Commercial Growers and Big Scale Producers who are now using one or more of these Machines. They realize the savings in time, manpower and equipment costs obtained by using one implement to perform better work than plow, disc, harrow, and cultivator combined.
BULLDOZING WITH THE SNOW — With the Snow Plow attachment, you use that powerful 5 H.P. engine in the winter for clearing walks, pathways, and drives of snow. Other seasons it is efficient for Bulldozing, Levelling, and Filling in loose or light soil.

W. J. Hamilton Heads George Street Board

W. J. Hamilton, 599 Homewood Avenue, was elected chairman of the Committee of Stewards for George Street United Church, when the annual election of officers was held Monday evening, at their organization meeting.

The minster, Rev. Dr. J. Semple, B.A., S.T.B., presided. High praise was given to the excellent work done by the immediate past chairman, Gordon Miller, during his term of office. "His great leadership," said Dr. Semple, "during the three years he was chairman of the committee, was an outstanding example of what a loyal member can do for his church and community."

Other officers elected for the committee of stewards were: Vice-chairman, H. E. Wales; secretary, Stan Gilmore, and treasurer, A. Kelly.

Princess Has Operation

LONDON, Feb. 10 — (Reuters). — Princess Alexandra, 11-year-old daughter of the Duchess of Kent and niece of the King, was operated on for appendicitis today at the Duchess' Buckinghamshire country home at Iver, 20 miles from London. Her condition was reported "satisfactory."

Arthur Lewis

had said.

A Hungry Winter.

In explanation he said it had been predicted that this would be the hungriest and generally the worst winter faced by Europe since the war. As the Russians are fighting the Marshall plan with everything they have, he said, the time for them to succeed is before the hard winter is over and the situation is eased by the approach of spring and American aid. Already the Communists had made bids for power in both France and Italy, he asserted; and he believed that it was only the hope of assistance from the United States that had produced relative stability so far.

By summer time the crisis will have passed, and that is what lay behind the Prime Minister's words, he contended.

While praising United States aid to Europe he said that Canadians were not all aware that Canada's contribution when comparing relative sizes of the two countries' national incomes, was three or four times larger than that of the United States.

Turning to the field of Dominion - provincial relations, Mr. Harris claimed that the provincial Liberal party from the time of Edward Blake and Sir Oliver Mowat had maintained provincial rights. And he said that a Liberal government under Hon. Farquhar Oliver was as capable of looking after Ontario's interests as the present Conservative government.

He attacked the Drew administration, and that of Duplessis, for their joint refusal to conclude financial arrangements with the Federal government. "Drew and Duplessis are holding up a good many of the things that people feel they should have had some time ago."

To introduce social security measures, he said, the Federal government must know that the taxation fields are allocated in a particular way for a period of at least five years.

He predicted that the Conservative administration will probably show a surplus but expressed the opinion that this has been a banner year, and in normal times it would have shown a deficit.

This year is probably the most prosperous in the Dominion's history, he said; and he claimed that a surplus of upwards of half a billion dollars would be shown when the next Federal budget was brought down.

Representing approximately the same district as Mr. Oliver does in the provincial House, the youthful MP from Grey-Bruce recommended the provincial Liberal leader to those present and paid tribute to his experience and ability to lead a party.

When the party met to choose a leader last June he said, "some supported him, some abstained, but all agreed he was well qualified to lead a party."

"Let's see that the Liberal party goes back to a program of reform and advancement," he said; "so we can render a service to the people as long as we stay in office."

Dr. Ralph C. Honey was chairman.

In an address preceding that of Mr. Harris, Major William Hale, permanent secretary Ontario Liberal Association, said he was glad to be present—it indicated much need work and activity.

"I believe that Liberals have come to the conclusion that we must get organized and get working if the Liberal way of thought is to get going," he said.

"Possibly at no time in our history has it been more important for each one of us to identify ourselves with a political party," he said, "and work for the benefit of this province and country."

In recent travels with Mr. Oliver through the province, he said, he saw indications of increasing dissatisfaction. He claimed that out of 22 Drew election pledges approximately 2.2 had been carried out.

Referring to the 17-man Conservative cabinet he said, "The division of cabinet offices is anything but equitable." And he claimed the province was not fairly represented in that body.

He asked those present to consider if the appointment of former mayor Robert Saunders, Toronto, to the post of Hydro chairman previously held by Dr. T. H. Hogg, was precipitated by the coming by-election in Huron next Monday. Mr. Oliver had been asking for an appointment for the last 10 months he said, but up until now there had been no action.

Commenting on that by-election he said it was the first since the Drew government was elected in 1945. "The rest of Ontario is watching the result closely," he said.

While he wouldn't predict the outcome of the election, Major Hale said the Libecal party would give Mr. Drew "the fight of his life," and claimed that "given a fair break" they would capture the Huron riding.

It was then he said: "There is more than a probability we will have a provincial election in the spring of this year—not later than June."

A small but enthusiastic audience heard new officers thank those who had supported them declare they would work for the success of the party in an endeavor to bring victory at the polls.

A new quartet, known as the Liftlock City Four, delighted the audience with a number of vocal selections. It was the first public appearance of this foursome consisting of Ashton Fife, first tenor, Adam Sands, second tenor, William Collison, first bass, and James Ridyard, second bass.

Regiment Plans Sunday Parade

The 50th Heavy Anti-Aircraft Regiment (The Prince of Wales Rangers) RCA, will parade in public Sunday next when they will "go mobile" with their guns, predictors, height-finders and trucks about the city of Peterborough.

Feature of the outing will be the setting up of one of their 3.7" HAA guns iin the Market Square, along with complete command post equipment and wireless for a short workout with their equipment.

The drill will be the first outdoor feature of the regiment's fall and winter training and tonight and Thursday night the gunners will be putting the finishing touches to their work for Sunday.

Scheduled time of the work at the Market Square will be announced within the next few days. Already armed with a goodly number of new recruits, the regiment is steadily gaining in numbers and is accepting new men, and former active service men, as fast as their medical and clerical services will allow. Openings are still available in the various departments, and recruits will find that included in the benefits are active force basic rates of pay, summer camp, canteen and mess privileges, sports, rifle shooting, and other forms of army recreation.

Four Normal School Students Visit Rotary

Departing from the customary guest speaker, Rotary Club had four students from the Normal School at their weekly meeting to read from "Peace Demands Action."

The luncheon Monday was held at the YMCA and Albert Whitfield (Fenelon Falls), Fraser Morton (Colborne), Russell Weir (Omemee) and J. G. Hubbard (Kingston) each read a passage from Walter Lippman's address "Two World's Into One," given at the Rotary Conference held in San Francisco.

"Peace Demands Action" is published by Rotary International, and contains selected articles from The Rotarian Magazine on opportunities for men of goodwill to eradicate causes of war.

"If we had men of perception in the 20's and the 30's (and we did have them in every country), why then did we get war? If we had capable and worthy leaders, why did they not lead us to the peace so earnestly desired by every decent man?"

"If that question could be answered with a single sentence, it would be; we got war because our leaders, who wanted peace as much as you and I, lacked the backing of an informed public opinion that would support them in bold and maybe self-sacrificing efforts to keep the peace." Thus said T. A. Warren, in The Rotarian in October, 1945.

Pete LaBranche moved a vote of thanks to the four students.

Obituary

MISS MARGARET ROBSON

The funeral service for the late Miss Margaret Robson was held from the Comstock Funeral Home on Saturday afternoon.

Miss Robson was born at Coldsprings, daughter of the late Walter Robson and Julia Thompson.

Miss Robson spent several years in the West and also in Toronto.

For the past eleven years she lived with Miss Susie Dickson on the Second Line of Smith. She spent the last three months with her sister, Mrs. M. Young at the home of Mr. Andrew Young at Lakefield.

The funeral service was largely attended by many from Peterborough and district; the many floral tributes showed the high esteem in which she was held.

She leaves to mourn her loss, two sisters, Mrs. M. M. Young, Lakefield; Mrs. Herbert Wright, Toronto, and one brother, Wm. Robson of Regina. Pall-bearers were Gordon, Arthur, Clarence, Cecil and Roy Hancock, and Harold Thompson, all nephews.

The Rev. C. G. Boyd of St. Paul's Church conducted the service. Miss Robson was a member of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

Out-of-town relatives attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Melville Bowles, Mrs. L. Beresford, Mrs. N. Lone, all of Toronto; Mrs. J. Robson, Mrs. G. Robson of Washington, Pa.; Mrs. E. Mirical of McKeesport, Pa.

Interment was at Little Lake Cemetery.

ACCIDENT MONDAY NIGHT

The corner of Charlotte and Rubidge streets was the scene of a collision about 8.30 Monday night when the cars of Herbert B. Bond, 375 Brock street and Emerson McCormack, 260 King street, collided. Report of PC H. Mesley stated that the driving conditions were icy at the time. Damage to the McCormack car was a crumpled fender and door. The Brock car received a dented fender and headlight.

Britain's Lighthouse Men Live In Bleak Isolation

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Guiding mariners past the treacherous teeth of Britain's jagged coastline, weather-worn lighthouse keepers spend between them every 12 months a total of 80 years in isolation.

Through sun, storm, wind and spray they spend eight months out of the 12 keeping the warning beacons flashing from their austere seven-roomed towers.

Plight of lighthouse men eight miles off Land's End, who were isolated by raging gales for 26 days before food and supplies could be dropped to them Saturday, temporarily put the British lighthouse keeper in the spotlight.

In the tradition of Vancouver's "Mr. Good Evening" who sent greetings to lighthouses in a nightly newscast for 18 years, the BBC last week dedicated a special program to lighthouse men.

Around Britain's coast are some "true" lights controlled by Trinity House headquarters, port of London authority. Each has its own particular story of solitude, for lighthouse men say that their solitude is relieved only by lighthouse-to-shore radio communication.

Always Cleaning

His day is divided into eight-hour watches, his night into four-hour watches. Dog watches are spent tending the lamp, checking equipment, renewing wiring in the case of electric beacons or trimming wicks and "topping up" where oil is used.

There's a perpetual round of cleaning. Every metal part must be kept shining, every pane of the lantern free from encrusting sea salt. Stairways and platforms must be scrubbed and fresh water pumped from tanks which are sunk below the floor of the lowest room.

From sunset to dawn, the beam must flash its warning and while on duty—especially during the storm period—the keeper has little time to reflect on his lonely calling.

Necessity has made the lighthouse man a good cook but nowadays his food stores require careful planning since he receives no more than a regular seaman's rations.

Ironically, though, lighthouse-keeping is at its worst just now and Trinity house is advertising throughout the country for candidates "of good character and education, unmarried and of good vision."

Cobourg Court Rivals Ottawa's Says Justice

COBOURG, Feb. 10 (ENS) — Sittings of Supreme Court opened yesterday afternoon before Mr. Justice Genest. His Lordship was presented with the traditional pair of white gloves, indicating the absence of any criminal cases. He was formally welcomed to the Cobourg court by J. C. German, president of the Northumberland and Durham Bar Association.

"I am very pleased at the absence of criminal cases. I have had the unfortunate experience of sentencing two men to be hanged and have heard sordid stories of rape, manslaughter and abortion which exist throughout the province. I congratulate the counties of Northumberland and Durham on the absence of crime. I like this fine old court house of yours. The solicitors in Ottawa would like your court house. We are ashamed of ours in Ottawa," His Lordship declared.

18 Dental Firms To Face Trial

TORONTO, Feb. 10 — (CP). — Mr. Justice G. A. Urquhart ruled Monday that 18 Canadian dental supply firms will face trial before an assize court jury here Feb. 23 on charges of conspiracy to restrain trade.

Mr. Justice Urquhart refused a defence motion to quash a grand jury indictment and declined to accept a second motion for more "particulars" of the offences charged by the Federal department of health and welfare.

On behalf of five of the companys named in the indictment J. W. Pickup said he could not adequately direct a defence on the information supplied by the Crown. He asked for more details and elaboration of the Crown's case.

"The Crown is responsible for its own case and does not have to give more particulars," His Lordship replied. "If they make a mistake they will have to pay for it."

The charges, first of their kind to be laid in Canada, alleges that the companies combined to control dental supplies, including "artificial teeth, refinished dental equipment, previous metals and other articles or commodities used in dentistry."

Omemee Gifts Reach Korea

OMEMEE, Feb. 10 — (ENS) — Trinity United church WMS met at the home of Mrs. Wm. Earle. The group leader of group three, Mrs. W. D. Weir, opened with a poem. Mrs. Geo. Bannon read the scripture, and responsive prayer was offered. Mrs. A. Rutherford gave the lesson.

The president, Mrs. V. Lang, requested a large attendance at the presbyterial on Feb. 11 in Lindsay. Mrs. V. Zufelt was appointed official delegate.

Arrangements were made for the Omemee service of the World Day of Prayer, which this year is to be in the United church. Mrs. R. Bradley and Mrs. S. Northey were named ushers.

Mrs. V. Lang read a letter from Dr. Florence Murray in Korea, acknowledging receipt of food and clothing sent in October.

Mrs. S. Moyer invited the auxiliary to her home for the March sewing meeting.

Reports were heard from temperance secretary Mrs. S. Moyer, Mrs. Wm. Earl, CGIT leader, who reported a joint meeting in Lindsay of the CGIT organization of Omemee with Cambridge St. and Queen St., which 15 Omemee girls had attended. It was decided to hold an affiliation meeting of the auxiliary and CGIT in March.

A poem was read by Mrs. A. Rutherford. Mrs. Geo. Bannon read the scripture, and Mrs. Earle gave a commentary on the scripture. A duet, "I Shall Not Pass Again This Way," was sung as a prayer by Mrs. Wm. Earle and Mrs. W. D. Weir. Mrs. Wm. Brown gave a synopsis of the study book lesson.

HINDOO MOSLEM STRIFE — This is one of the first pictures to come out of Kashmir, where Moslem and Hindoo fanatics are fighting an undeclared war. The crisis is now before the United Nations. The photos were brought out by Russell King Haight, 26-year-old ex-GI of Denver, who fought as a general with the Moslem forces. Among the troops of his international brigade were these wild Pathan tribesmen, top. They were fierce fighters, but completely without discipline. Their rifles are lever action, single-shot affairs, made in small foundries in the Khyber Pass. Swords ("tulwars") are razor sharp. Above, Haight's driver, Feroz Ali Khan, stands beside the wreckage of Haight's truck after it had been hit by bombs from a Hindoo fighter plane. All occupants "hit the ditch" and although repeatedly strafed, escaped without casualties. Khan was killed later by undisciplined Pathans, many of whom fought under Haight in the battle against the Hindoos.

High Court Hearing Appeal Against Bank Nationalization

MELBOURNE, Feb. 10—(CP)—Attorney-General Herbert E. Vatt went before the Australian High Court today to head the labor government's defence of its bank nationalization law.

The court is hearing five suits challenging constitutionality of the Banking Act, which empowers the federal government to take over all private trading banks in the Dominion.

The suits were brought by Australian banks, English banks doing business in Australia and the state governments of Victoria, Western Australia and South Australia, where labor is not in power.

Evatt first sought the disqualification of two of the six judges. He contended that the relationship of Judges Hayden Starke and Dudley Williams to certain shareholders in private trading banks constituted grounds for disqualifying them.

Starke said his wife held shares in two banks. Williams said he was a shareholder in two banks for his sister in Paris.

Chief Justice John Latham ruled that " in neither case is there any actual pecuniary interest." The court decided to hear the case as it already was constituted.

Garfield Barwick, opening the case for the Australian trading banks, said the Banking Act contained an "undisguised attempt to take over all business, whether banking or not."

The hearing is expected to last a month. The parties are represented by 26 barristers, including nine King's Counsel.

SAVE THE CHILDREN—From garbage dumps and litter piles the survivors of the war in Europe and Asia seek to eke out food so that they may live. Many children are in this throng—some estimates placed at more than 400 million. To help save these children, Canadians are being asked to contribute $10 million to the Canadian Appeal for Children. Your contribution may be left at any Canadian bank. Similar appeals will be made in 26 other countries. Canadians are being asked to contribute one day's earnings.

Air Industry Moves Slowly

MONTREAL, Feb. 10—(CP)—The air transport industry must spend the next 30 months in consolidation before going on to further dynamic developments but after that "flying will become steadily cheaper, more dependable, more safe, comfortable and faster," Sir William P. Hildred, director-general of the International Air Transport Association, said here today.

Addressing the Canadian Club of Montreal he said "the general public should not expect things to happen too fast in the immediate future.

"Perhaps the publicity given to many technical developments which are still experimental has created the impression that we shall have jet propulsion on a commercial scale next year, rocket propulsion on a commercial scale next year, rocket propulsion in 10 years and week-ends on the moon in 15 years by atomic power. I do not think that thing will move quite so fast."

Asserting that "the application of technical developments to commercial practice has always been pretty slow and is likely to get slower," Sir William explained that the cost and size of new aircraft have increased from $4 a pound for a 20,000-pound aircraft to nearer $10 a pound for new models weighing up to 70 tons.

Charge Union Funds Have Been Spent For Political Uses

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11—(AP). — A United States Federal Grand Jury today indicted the Congress of Industrial Organizations and its president, Philip Murray, on charges of violating the Taft-Hartley Act's political expenditures ban.

The law forbids spending of union funds for political purposes.

The indictment charges that Murray published an endorsement for a Maryland Congressional candidate last July in the union-financed C.I.O. News.

Murray and the C.I.O. have openly defied the law and invited prosecution. They contend Congress had no right to enact it — that it conflicts with the constitution's guarantee of freedom of speech.

If the courts should find there is such a conflict, that section of the Taft-Hartley Act would become void.

The Grand Jury sent the indictment to Judge Richmond Keech. A date for hearing the case will be set later.

Murray wrote a signed editorial in the C.I.O. News last July 14 urging Baltimore voters to support Edward Garmetz, a Democrat, in a special Congressional election. The next day Garmetz won the Congress seat over his Republican opponent.

The C.I.O. News is financed by union funds, so the union made no bones about political spending in this instance.

Its lawyers contend, however, that the Taft-Hartley Act cannot be applied without violating the constitution's guarantee of freedom of the press.

Under the Taft-Hartley Act, a union or corporation found guilty of political spending can be fined up to $5,000. Its officials can be fined up to $1,000 and jailed for a year.

Many lawyers say the law could be used against any newspaper owned by a corporation which takes sides in the 1948 elections.

Mock Battle Navy Disaster

OCEANSIDE, Calif., Feb. 11—(AP). — Two United States Navy men were killed, a third is missing, and 31 were injured when churning surf yesterday turned amphibious landing exercises into disaster.

For hours a two-mile stretch of the beach here looked something like a wartime beach head. Three landing craft capsized. Two others are missing and believed sunk. Marines with full equipment swam ashore and sprawled on the beach, exhausted.

Thirty-one sailors and marines, including 10 who participated in rescue work, were in hospital, all suffering from immersion and shock.

The mock landing originally was scheduled for 9 a.m. yesterday. Twice it was postponed briefly because of the heavy seas. Then it was cancelled for the day but by that time 17 LVTS (landing vehicle tracks) had been launched from mother ships. A sudden increase of wind caused the cancellation and made the sea too rough for the transports to recover the landing craft.

They Can Take It

OTTAWA, Feb. 11—(CP). —Health Minister Martin, chairman of the parliamentary committee inquiring into prices, took time out today to compliment it on "enduring the frigidities." Several wore their overcoats after a breakdown in the central heating plant caused freezing temperatures in the railway committee room. Mr. Martin said a Cabinet meeting had been called off this morning because there was no heat in the east block of the Parliament Buildings.

'Reds' Censure Seven Russ Composers

By EDDIE GILMORE

MOSCOW, Feb. 11 (AP)—The central committee of the Communist party today censured seven Russian composers, including Dmitri Shostakovich and Serge Prokofieff.

A party resolution spread across half of Pravda's front page this morning accused them of writing music which "follows the formalist trend—a trend against the people."

The resolution was sharply critical of "survivals of bourgeois ideology nurtured by influence of the modern decadent music of western Europe and America."

Other composers mentioned by name were Aram Khachaturian, Vissarion Shebalin, Gabriel Popov, Irakly (Vano) Muradeli and Nicolai Miaskovsky.

Shebalin is director of the Moscow Conservatory.

Shostakovich is the composer of the opera "Lady Macbeth of Mzensk" and severely widely-played symphonies, of which probably the best known is his seventh. Prokofieff perhaps is most widely known for his "Peter and the Wolf."

Khachaturian has written widely-played violin and piano concertos and Miaskovsky is the composer of at least 17 symphonies, perhaps more than any man now living. The works of Popov and Shebalin are not well known abroad.

The party's central committee instructed its progaganda and agitation department and its art committee to rectify the situation and to "liquidate the defects pointed out."

Says Canadian Prices Lower Than Most

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—(CP). — Dominion statistician, Herbert Marshall, told the parliamentary price probe today at its second sitting that the present Canadian price level was lower than practically any other country for which figures are available.

A statistical memorandum presented to the committee by Mr. Marshall said that price increases "have not gone as far in Canada as they have in the United States or the United Kingdom. They have exceeded those of Australia, New Zealand and South Africa."

Carries Bayonet

TORONTO, Feb. 11 — (CP).— A 23-year-old Niagara Falls man was arrested to-day in an alleged stolen car and charged with carrying an offensive weapon. When asked to explain possesion of an army bayonet, police said the man explained he "always carried a bayonet with him."

Driving 'Reds' Into Canada

Charges US Communists Flee To Other Unions

GARY, Ind., Feb. 11 (AP). — The Taft-Hartley law is driving Communists out of American and into Canadian unions, Republican Senator Robert Taft of Ohio declared here to-day.

He brought his campaign for Presidential deelgate support to this organized labor stronghold after hearing Illinois audiences applaud to his demand for a Federal tax cut.

Declaring that Communists had found their easiest road to infiltration in unions, Taft said:

"To-day those Communist members are resigning, as one did this week in Washington. My Canadian friends tell me that several mining unions there are being swamped with Communists who have left the United States because they no longer can make use of their favorite device of infiltration."

Taft did not otherwise identify the union official to whom he referred.

But he voiced a new challenge to labor leaders seeking repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act.

"The heads of some of the national unions got themselves out on a limb in their denunciation of the law and now they cannot afford to admi the mistake they have made," he declared.

Committee To Probe High Prices

After Fiery Debate Commons Upholds Proposal By 120-80

By D'ARCY O DONNELL

OTTAWA, Feb. 11 (CP)—The Commons, with Prime Minister Mackenzie King providing a fiery windup to a seven-day debate, voted 120 to 80 yesterday for the establishment of a 16-man committee to investigate reasons for recent increases in living costs, and the fact-finding body set to work almost immediately under powers originally planned by the government.

Mr. King, denouncing opposition members for "delaying" establishment of the committee, declined to meet their requests that the body be given powers to make recommendations. His charges set off a series of noisy, angry scenes and led the C.C.F. to challenge a Speaker's ruling before the main division was called.

Only Progressive Conservative and C.C.F. members opposed adoption of the committee resolution.

Less than three hours after the battle ended in the Commons, the committee held an organization meeting and decided to start formal hearings today.

First Probe

Health Minister Martin, chosen as chairman, suggested the committee should inquire first into costs of bread, butter, meat, vegetables, shoes and clothing.

However, he indicated that before delving into the operations of specific industries, the body might be briefed by economic experts on the basic factors making for the present price situation.

Urging fast action, Mr. Martin said the "facts must be exposed" but he cautioned the members against either "white-washing" or "smearing."

No one who had acted fairly need fear the investigation, he declared. "But we should act without fear or favor."

Committee members, he said, had both the right and the responsibility to act "fearlessly" in bringing to light factors keeping prices above what was right and reasonable. By helping arouse awareness, their findings could "significantly influence fair price levels."

In the Commons, taking the floor after T. J. Bentley (CCF—Swift Current) and Hugh Castleden (CCF—Yorkton) had reiterated requests for the immediate reimposition of prices controls and subsidies on essential goods, Mr. King said the first necessary step in combatting the rising cost of living was to investigate the causes. The government planned to do this.

He continued:

"There is the simple statement of what the House was asked to do, but what have we had from honorable gentlemen opposite in the way of acquiesing in that request?

No Defence

"We have listened to a lot of declamation and ridicule; we have had to listen to many apgentlemen opposite; we have had

Princess Likes Kaye's Show

LONDON, Feb. 11.—(AP). — Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip turned up last night among the fans of comedian Danny Kaye, now the toast of the London stage.

They paid a surprise visit to his show at the Palladium and afterward shared a half hour with Kaye in his dressing room, chatting, laughing and sipping champagne.

With the royal couple were the Marquess of Milford Haven, who was Philip's best man at the wedding in November.

Elizabeth and Philip called it "one of the most entertaining evenings" they ever had passed in the theatre.

Kaye said: "They were grand sports, all of them. They even joined in singing the words of 'Minnie the Moocher.'"

Nightmare Voyage

HULL, England, Feb. 11—(CP).—The 2,000-ton steamship Springfjord docked here today after a nightmare, three-week Atlantic crossing from Halifax in which two men lost their lives. Chief Officer William Georgeson of South Shields, Durham, and Able Seaman Frank Smith of Swansea, Wales, were swept overboard by giant seas while the ship was hove to in a gale which carried away the ventilator cowlings and pushed stanchions through the steel deck.

British Sailors Sat On Ship Awaiting Blast

LONDON, Feb. 11—(Reuters). —Captured British sailors glanced anxiously at their watches while being given hot coffee and schnapps on board the 41,000-ton battleship Tirpitz, pride of the German navy, in a Norwegian fjord on a September morning in 1943.

They knew. And the Germans did not, that before being picked up after scuttling their midget submarine they had accomplished their mission—to drop powerful charges beneath the keel of the Tirpitz.

Soon afterwards, great explosions heaved the giant battleship five or six feet out of the water. She settled down again so severely damaged that she could not be moved from her berth for six or seven months, during which hundreds of Germans worked feverishly to repair her.

The submarine on surfacing had found itself almost touching the hull of the Tirpitz. It was sighted, so the commanding officer and his three comrades scuttled their vessel before being taken on board the Tirpitz.

First Release

The story is told in three war dispatches to the British Admiralty, published for the first time tonight.

Two of six top secret British midget submarines which left Scotland are known to have penetrated the Tirpitz defences and to have laid their charges. One of them, known as X-6, without the use of compass or periscope, charged blindly at its target, manoeuvred alongside and released its charges. Its commander then destroyed secret equipment, scuttled his submarine and he and his crew were picked up before the explosions took place.

The second, X-7, attacked while its exhaust pipe was patched up with tape, canvas and chewing gum and its compass out of order. It struck the Tirpitz under water, slid gently under her keel and laid its charges.

Then, attempting to escape, X-7 found itself in anti-submarine defence nets.

When eventually it escaped it immediately encountered another net and while trapped there were tremendous explosions and X-7 was severely damaged. It surfaced and two of its crew escaped. Two others went down with it.

$50,000 Fire Rages In London Plant, Blame Welding Spark

TORONTO, Feb. 11 — (CP). — An unprecedented wave of fires which followed in the wake of an unusual cold spell has taken a toll of 47 dead in the last two days, it has been announced. Two more blazes which raged uncontrolled in Halifax and Ste. Rose, Que. today, added three more to the death list. Fourty-four perished Tuesday in conflagrations in Halifax and Newfoundland.

Two young girls, Audrey, 14, and June, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant McGillivray, of Ste. Rose, Que., were burned to death early today when an exploding oil-stove set fire to their home in this village 25 miles north of Montreal.

Their mother and a 15-year-old sister Myrna escaped from the blazing home in below zero weather and found shelter in the home of a neighbor. The father was at work when the fire started.

The girls were burned to death when they were trapped in the upstairs room of the stone cottage where they were sleeping. The bodies were recovered and removed to Montreal for a coroner's inquest.

Volunteer fire-fighters made vain attempts to extinguish the blaze but no source of water was available. No other homes were threatened because the McGillivray house stood by itself.

Baby Killed

A child perished and 3 other persons were severely injured early today when fire heavily damaged a tenement in Halifax's north end.

The blaze was only a few blocks from the scene of a fire yesterday that claimed seven lives.

Peter MacDonald, about one year old, was suffocated by smoke in the latest fire. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward MacDonald, and another son, Donald were injured. A third son, Teddy, was rescued.

Mrs. MacDonald and Donald suffered severe burns on the face and hands. Mr. MacDonald suffered cuts and burns.

The fire was believed to have started in the cellar when a drum of oil exploded.

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 11.—(CP). —Damage estimated at $50,000 was caused today in a fire that destroyed the interior of a three storey building at the midtown plant of General Steelwares Limited and in which two men were rescued.

Firemen said the blaze is thought to have been started by the spark of a welder's torch that ignited baled insulation.

William Hulbert, one of two employees engaged in renovation work was trapped on the third floor and was taken from a window by firemen on ladders.

Wilfred Shaw was on an elevator at the time of the outbreak, made his way to the second floor and with the aid of firemen escaped across a bridge connecting an adjoining building.

Port Arthur Mayor Presents $21,000 Bill After Committee Cuts Salary By $20.15

PORT ARTHUR, Feb. 11 — (CP). — A Mayor's job is not a happy one—financially.

So said Mayor Charles W. Cox to-day. To support his contention, he referred to a $21,000 bill submitted by him to City Council last night covering expenses incurred during the last 14 years in his position as Chief Magistrate of this Lakehead city and for which he made no previous claims.

The matter probably never would have come up had the Council not approved a recommendation of the civic Finance Committee that $20.15 be deducted from the Mayor's March salary.

When Council made its recommendation Mayor Cox countered with his expense account. Providing the latter was approved for payment, he said he was agreeable to having $20.15 deducted, leaving the city in debt to him by only $20,979.85.

The $20.15 item represented the cost of a new dress and some hosiery purchased for a Port Arthur woman who said she had fallen on one of the city's sidewalks and ruined her dress and stockings.

Council had denied her claim for new apparel. Mayor Cox, however, said he believed he could "save the city money" by authorizing Mrs. James Wigmore to buy a new dress and hose at a price not exceeding $20.00.

It was the bill incurred by these Council - unauthorized purchases which the aldermen decided should be deducted from the Mayor's pay cheque.

Mayor Cox said he had no objection, if Council would approve his expense account.

Aldermen decided to refer the matter to the civic Finance Committee.

Kill 58 Attackers

SALONIKA, Greece, Feb. 11 (AP).—Fifty-eight members of the guerrilla band which shelled Salonika yesterday have been slain and 22 captured, an official announcement said today. The gun which fired the shots has been captured, the report said.

Toronto Skaters Place Third In Championship

DAVOS PLATZ, Switzerland, Feb. 11.—(CP).—Wallace Distelmeyer and Suzanne Morrow of Toronto, placed third today behind Micheline Lannoy and Pierre Baugniet of Belgium as the world skating championship opened with the mixed pairs event.

Andrea Kekessy and Ede Kiraly of Hungary finished second.

The order of the first three pairs thus duplicated the sequence of the first three finishers in the Olympic pairs at St. Moritz last week.

Karol and Peter Kennedy of Seattle, were fourth, followed by Yvonne Sherman and Robert Swenning of New York. In the Olympic competition the Kennedys were sixth and the Sherman - Swenning paair placed fourth.

The event was contested in a light snowfall and over choppy ice which handicapped contestants.

The winning pair received 14.5 placings and 11.34 points, the Hungarians 24.5 placings and 11.12 points and the Canadians 26 placings and 11.07 points.

Distelmeyer also will compete in the men's singles during the championships here. Miss Morrow will be entered in the ladies' singles starting Friday in which Barbara Ann Scott of Ottawa will defend her title.

Eclipsed though they have been by Barbara Ann in her sweep of skating honors, Distelmeyer and Miss Morrow in their third-place showing nevertheless reaffirmed that Canadian skating talent does not end with the Ottawa champion.

In any other year, a third in the Olympics and a third in the world championships would be considered a large feather in Canada's cap.

The Distelmeyer-Morrow partnership is a comparatively new one. With Distelmeyer only 21 and Miss Morrow 18, they appear destined to become Canada's top pairing for years.

Oddly, skating isn't even Miss Morrow's favorite sport—she prefers skiing. The other ambition of the blonde high school student is to become a surgeon.

Distelmeyer, a 167 - pound blonde who came to Toronto from Kitchener, wants to become a chartered accountant.

Probe Nine Fires Since January 1

HAMILTON, Feb. 11 (CP) — Six big fires during January and three this month today were under investigation by members of the Ontario Fire Marshal's department, police and firemen. Detectives are checking reports that a man was seen running from the scene of last night's fire when firemen arrived at the T. Eaton Company's carpentry and display building. The fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, once endangered two nearby blocks. Loss is estimated at nearly $100,000.

Representing the Fire Marshal's department in investigations here today are Inspector Alex Grant and Trevor Lucas.

Small Fishing Boat Reaches Shore Safely

SYDNEY, N.S., Feb. 11—(CP) —The fishing smack Sarah Morton and her crew of three are safe at St. Pierre-Miquelon where, "leaking badly and heavy with ice" she put in late last night to relieve fears she had been lost in a raging North Atlantic gale on a voyage from Port Aux Basques, Nfld., to Sydney, N.S. She was carrying 30,000 pounds of fish.

P. J. Cadegan, owners of the vessel, reported the safe arrival of the ship today.

Holstein Breeders Warned Against Spreading Communist Infiltration

'Red Menace' Encroaching On Freedom John Hamilton Tells Farmers; Make Choice Soon If Independence To Remain

Into the merry mood and entertainment at the Peterborough Holstein Breeders' Club dinner at the Legion Hall on Tuesday night, John W. Hamilton of Ancaster, traveller, lecturer and writer, gravely projected a warning against communistic designs upon this country in a plan of converting the world into a union of Soviet Republics.

He explained that he was invited to be the speaker at the dinner and had chosen the subject himself, giving it the title, "The Struggle," and declaring that, looking upon the Communist ferment in Europe where its agents and actions were overt, Canadians were confronted with a decision that was being thrust before them by the plans and purposes of the Labor-Progressive Party.

The dinner was attended by three or four hundred farmers and their wives from the Peterborough district, and was pleasantly spiced by the variety of its program. The catering was by the women of Stewart's Hall, Otonabee, and was of their best cooking and service. Norman W. McConkey, president of the club, was chairman, and among those at the head table with him were Mayor Wm. G. Ovens and Mrs. Ovens, Mrs. H. R. Scott, wife of the Hon. H. R. Scott, who was unable to break away from his administrative duties in Toronto; Roy Ormiston of Brooklin, Holstein field man; Reeve M. H. Johnston and Mrs. Johnston.

Representatives of local service clubs were introduced, and also of the other breed associations, Mr. Lorne Reynolds, of the Peterborough Jersey Club, and Mrs. Reynolds; Clarence Mann of the Peterborough - Durham Ayrshire Club, and Mrs. Mann.

Don Milburn presented to Marie Kelly the prize for highest standing in the boys' and girls' Holstein calf club last year. She had won similar honors in 1946. Miss Kelly is a daughter of the late Frank Kelly, who had been vice-president of the club.

Joseph T. Tully received from Mr. Ormiston the Holstein Association's premier banner for the highest score among Peterborough breeders at the 1947 Black and White Day. Mr. Ormiston also congratulated him upon the distinction of being awarded the Master Breeders Shield at the recent convention in Toronto.

Certificates of long time production were also presented by Mr. Ormiston to Carman Seymour of Cavan township and Joseph Coughlin of Coughlin Brothers, Douro.

Will Build 125 Houses For RCAF At Trenton

TRENTON, Feb. 11—(CP)—Plans for construction of 125 permanent houses for the RCAF are completed and land surveys are being made, central air command headquarters here announced today. Construction contracts have been let and completion of the project is expected by July 15.

Formerly a farm, the 100-acre suburban area is to be landscaped and lots will measure 70 feet by 100 feet.

Hold Politician In Gandhi Murder Probe

BOMBAY, Feb. 11.—(AP). — Police said today they have jailed a Bombay politician accused of a pre-assassination conference with the man held for killing Mohandas K. Gandhi.

The politician was not identified.

Police said they had information that the killing of Gandhi Jan. 3 was part of a plot by an underground Hindu volunteer corps to kill government leaders. The organization is known as the Hindu Dal.

The information, police reported, came from Madan Lal, a young Punjab refugee accused of exploding a makeshift bomb near a Gandhi prayer meeting Jan. 20. Lal and N. V. Godse, in jail at New Delhi accused of shooting Gandhi, had conferred at the home of the Bombay politician and Godse then took Lal to New Delhi.

Lal's bomb was intended to kill Gandhi. Instead, it exploded harmlessly.

Police said the Hindu Dal planned to kill not only Gandhi, but Prime Minister Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, and Education Minister Maulana Abdul Kalam Azad.

After such assasssinations the Hindu Dal had expected to force Deputy Prime Minister Sardar Valyiabhai Patel into retirement.

With Patel out, the Hindu Dal expected to install leaders of its own.

Machine Aids Reforestation

TORONTO, Feb. 11 — (CP) — Lands Minister Scott of Ontario announced yesterday that infra-red rays will be put to work harvesting evergreen seeds to spur the province's reforestation program which calls for 20,000,000 seedlings a year.

The infra-red principle is embodied in a machine soon to be installed at the Lands and Forests Department's seed extraction plant at Angus. It was developed after three years research by Ralph Carman, superintendent of the plant, and R. N. Johnston, chief of the department's research division.

In four hours the automatic machine removes all seed from evergreen cones without injury, Mr. Scott said. Previously, the cones were opened by drying in the sun and the job took 50 hours.

Falls Freeze First Time

Cold Wave Wins Battle At Montmorency

MONTMORENCY, Que., Feb. 11 — (CP). — Montmorency's famous falls has frozen over—an unheard of happening among the old-timers of this rapidly-growing little town six miles from the heart of Quebec City. The February cold wave, coupled with the low level of the Montmorency River last fall, turned the trick.

While down through the years nature was responsible for building fascinating mountains of ice that made the falls a winter-playground for Quebeckers, never before has it succeeded in fully stopping the flow of water from cascading 274 feet into the gorge. To-day there is not the faintest sign of a trickle.

Philippe Perusse, who at 89 is Montmorency's oldest resident, said that 80 years ago some mighty huge ice formations grew at the falls after prolonged cold spells—but even then one could always find some water flowing over the chutes.

In winter, he said, the ice at the bottom of the falls formed on stones and, as the cold held on, grew tier upon tier into oddly-shaped formations which the natives called "pain de sucre" ((sugar loaf). The tallest of them reached a height of 175 feet.

Hong Kong Bonus Said Held Back

Defence Headquarters Says Veterans Have Wrong Idea

TORONTO, Feb. 11. (CP) — Charles A. Clark, president of the Hong Kong Veterans Association of Canada, in a statement issued last night said "now that the war is over the National Defence Department is welching on its promises of special campaign pay."

Mr. Clark also declared it was true that Canada had sent a poorly-trained and poorly-equipped force to Hong Kong, a charge made after Hong Kong's surrender. "When we went into action we had only light trench mortars, limited ammunition and light arms," he said.

A staff sergeant with the Canadian Postal Corps and a veteran of the first world war, Mr. Clark won the Distinguished Conduct Medal for sabotage work at Hong Kong. He receives a 45 per cent pension for beri-beri and other ailments suffered while a prisoner-of-war.

As president of the Hong Kong Veterans Association which he says has a membership of 400 across Canada, Mr. Clark declared: "In June of 1945 pay increases of from 25 cents to $1 a day were authorized for all those serving with the Pacific forces. We haven't got a cent of that yet. At the same time the government is cutting the pensions of many Hong Kong veterans by 20 per cent.

At Ottawa, spokesmen for Defence Headquarters and the Canadian Pensions Commission discounted Mr. Clark's charge of "welching."

"Misguided"

A Defence Headquarters spokesman said it was apparent Mr. Clark was "misguided". He said that the special Pacific campaign pay authorized in June, 1945, applied only to Canada's 6th Division, the Canadian Army Pacific Force which was being trained when the war ended.

The spokesman noted that a delegation of the Hong Kong Veterans Association had visited the defence minister last summer in connection with special campaign pay and had been turned down.

Regarding pensions, which Mr. Clark claimed were being "cut 20 per cent," Brig J. L. Melville, chairman of the Canadian Pension Commission, said that such was "not the case."

He added that Hong Kong veterans were receiving special pension consideration and there was no intention to cut these pensions, unless in cases of improvement of liability, which was standard practise in the case of all veterans.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Feb. 11 — (CP). — Heavy selling and liquidation appeared in all grains in early trading today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Offerings, attributed to American interests, were liberal in oats and barley futures.

The selling was prompted by further maximum declines in American grains and commodities Trading was active and nervous at the opening. However, shipper and local buying came into the coarse grains market at the extreme lows and prices rallied as trading turned dull at 10 a.m.

Few selling orders met thin support in rye futures and prices tumbled the maximum 10-cents limit.

Prices:

Oats—May 2⅝ lower at 74⅝b; July 2⅝ lower at 70⅞a; Oct. 2¼ lower at 67¾.

Barley—May 4⅛ lower at $1.11⅜; July 4¾-4 lower at $1.05¾; Oct. not open.

displayed anger by honorable gentlemen opposite; wehave had threats of boycotting; we have had amendments moved to this simple resolution and we have had appeals from the Speaker's rulings in regard to those amendments.

"On what grounds can these actions be defended? There is only one explanation that can be given. Honorable gentlemen opposite have recognized that the step which the government has taken is one which the people of this country want taken and want taken quickly. Therefore, they are doing the best in their power to obscure the importance of that step."

Under the government's resolution, the committee would have 'all the powers of a Royal Commission, the power to summon persons from one end of the country to the other, to engage experts to make inquiry into any phase of this question, to have highly-trained accountants serve the committee in its efforts to find out what is the cause of the rise in prices."

Don't Imitate Soviet

Referring to the threats of boycott, Mr. King said such threats had been employed by Russia at the United Nations. He hoped the government in Canada would not be carried along those lines.

"And I hope," he added, 'we have heard the last of any suggestions from honorable members that they intend to proceed in accordance with these revolutionary methods, if they may be so termed."

Early Session Losses On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Feb. 11 — (CP).— The selling pace slowed down about mid-day, but early session losses on the Toronto Stock Exchange to-day were only modestly reduced as all groups, led by industrials and base metals sagged to lower levels. Industrials traded widely and in some instances on good turnover on the losses ranging from fractions to more than two points. Base metals were weak with key issues down substantially while golds and Western oils held comparatively well. Influence of commodity market slumps were strong on trading in Toronto.

Volume for the first three hours was 760,000 shares, about 211,000 more than yesterday's similar period.

LENT STARTS TODAY

Special services are being held in the Anglican churches of the city today, marking the start of the Lenten season, 40 days of prayer and abstinence prior to Easter. Many Roman Catholics following the habit of daily mass during this period flocked to the churches this morning.

Witnesses Blame 'Mystery Man' For Car Theft

A six-foot 160-pound man from Hamilton with dark-brown hair whose name is "Jack" was described by Elgie Dunford, 181 Murray street, as "the mysterious third person" involved in a charge of theft of a car against Dunford, who has pleaded not guilty. Magistrate W. R. Philp reserved juugment on the case after hearing evidence in police court this morning.

W. J. A. Fair, defence counsel, said "here is a case where the mysterious third person actually exists, where he had materialized," referring to a member of the group mentioned in much of the evidence.

Ray Hunter, 186 Dublin street, owner of the stolen car testified that he had parked his car near a dance hall on the evening of Jan. 24 about 9.15. When he came out about midnight, the car had disappeared. The ignition key had been left in the car, he said.

Earl Burns, farmer of the Flat Road, Otonabee, recounted events later that night, shortly after midnight. He had been aroused about 12.30, he said, by sounds in his kitchen and had found three men there—the accused, John McNulty and another man. They told him their car had become stuck near there and asked for a team to pull it out. He had refused, the witness stated, but had loaned the trio a shovel and had watched them in the moonlight as they attempted to shovel the car out. Apparently unable to do this, they gave up the attempt and began to walk back towards Peterborough.

Mrs. Burns gave a similar account of the midnight visit.

John McNulty called as a crown witness stated that he had met the accused on the night in question and had accompanied him in a car driven by the accused. He told of driving with Dunford and two other men, both strangers, until they became stuck when attempting to turn back while driving into a lane off the Flat Road.

At no time, stated the witness, had any mention been made of the ownership of the car, and he had not questioned it.

The evidence of the accused was detailed and lengthy. He had met "the man from Hamilton" and McNulty in a hotel, he said, adding that McNulty had not appeared until later in the evening.

"Jack" — the man from Hamilton—he had met prevviously in the Employment Office here when they were both seeking jobs, he said. Jack told him at that time he had made arrangements to borrow his mother's car about 10 o'clock that night, and that it had to be returned by midnight. The accused stated that he returned to the hotel later — about 10:20 — and had rejoined Jack and two other men. McNulty had joined the party later, he said.

Under cross - examination by Crown Counsel V. J. McElderry, Dunford admitted that he had not made any attempt to locate Jack since, and that he had not seen him since that night.

Counsel Fair argued that the person of "Jack" had been mentioned by the former witnesses, McNulty and the accused. The fact that Jack had said the car had to be returned by midnight indicated that he had planned on returning the stolen vehicle before its loss was discovered at the dance hall, he said.

Crown Counsel McElderry termed the "Jack" evidence as "a nice story built up" and said that it was typical of stories told by accused persons. The story, he said, "was "bristling with inconsistencies."

Judgment will be given February 18.

UC Donations Jump $12,137

Twenty-one ministers and as many laymen attended on Tuesday the quarterly meeting of the Peterborough Presbytery. Part of the United Church of Canada, Bay of Quinte Conference, the local Presbytery was held in George Street United Church, Rev. Dr. James Semple acting as chairman.

An all-day meeting, the morning session opened with a worship period in charge of Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh. The most important item on the morning agenda was the report of the special six-man committee headed by Rev. M. J. Aiken on "The Study of the Commission on Christian Marriage and the Christian Home." It was based on a booklet issued by the General Council.

A committee also reported its findings on the method of electing the Moderator of the General Council.

In the afternoon, a Home Mission report was given by Rev. George Murray, Keene, followed by an address by Rev. J. I. McKay, Montreal, supervisor of Home Missions for Bay of Quinte, Ottawa and Montreal Conferences.

Rev. W. R. Archer, Lakefield, then gave a statistical report that showed an increase in membership and church donations. For the Missionary and Maintenance Fund, $22,765 was obtained from all charges in the Presbytery.

Donations for all purposes totalled $181,678, an increase of $12,137 over last year.

Appointment of lay delegates and Conference committee were then made for the May meeting. Time and place of that meeting was left to the discretion of the executive.

Lunch was served by the ladies of George Street United Church.

Arrest Local Man

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 11 (CP)— George Ralph Laird, 44, who allegedly sold several advertisements in a bogus lodge directory was arraigned to-day on a charge of fraud and remanded without plea to February 18. Bail was set at $2,000.

Police said Laird's home is in Peterborough, but lately had maintained "publishing" headquarters in Toronto. He was arrested on the complaint of local businessmen.

Abbott Can See No Relief To Import Ban

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—(CP) — Finance Minister Abbott told the Commons yesterday that even with all the expert advice available he could not hazard a guess as to how long unsettled world economic conditions would force Canada to keep operative the exchange conservation measures brought into effect last November,

Piloting the foreign exchange conservation bill through clause-by-clause study, he reiterated that Canada as a hard currency—dollar—country could not prosper while there was an impoverished or unsettled soft currency—sterling—area.

He declined to estimate how soon European countries might be able to pay for Canadian purchases in U.S. dollars once the Marshall plan became effective.

Jean Francois Pouliot (Ind. L-Temiscouta) suggested Canada embark on a system of bartering with other countries of the world which had no U.S. dollars. This would show the U.S. that other countries could be independent of them. The U.S. dollar should be put aside.

Amid a chorus of approval he asked: "Why should we always be subservient with respect to the American people." Canada had enough wealth and natural resources to be independent of the U.S. Many other persons had made this suggestion, he said.

Suggests Plow Farmers' Enemy

TORONTO, Feb. 11. (CP)—The plow may be named Farmers' Enemy No. 1.

That at least is what some agricultural scientists advocate, Professor G. N. Ruhnke, head of the department of soils at Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, yesterday told a meeting of the Ontario Plowmen's Association and the Ontario Crop Improvement Association.

He said some soil scientists would have other implements replace the plow. Others would retain the plow and advocate contour plowing — plowing around hills instead of up and down them. He favored the contour method.

Work "Racket" In Your Office?

Right in your own office, a "racket" is probably going on every day. This racket is not a "job for the police"—but just plain ordinary noise that cuts down efficiency and causes costly errors. In fact, a Johns-Manville test shows that clattering typewriters, clicking heels and buzzing bells can make an office 40 per cent noisier than the average busy street.

But office noise can be controlled. Johns-Manville Acoustical Materials literally absorb noise like a sponge—help to reduce errors —increase output.

Scores of offices, schools and hospitals have cut down noise—greatly increased efficiency and comfort—by installing Johns-Manville Acoustical Materials. Whitby Woman Jailed For Two Minutes

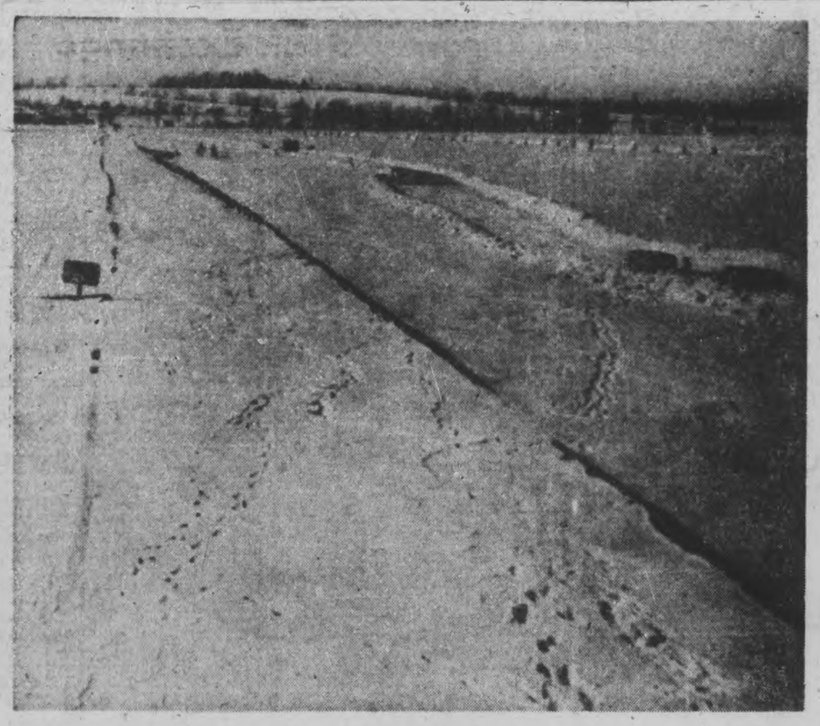
WHITBY, Feb. 11 —(CP) — Mrs. Agnes Johnson was sentenced to prison here today—for two minutes. Mrs. Johnson, charged with theft of household furniture purchased with her husband's veteran's gratuities, was first given a suspended sentence by Judge D. B. Coleman. But when A. C. Hall, crown counsel, protested, the judge changed it to "two minutes in prison and the court will rise until that time."

"Technically, she is guilty, but it is with the utmost regret that I register a conviction. I cannot conceive of a man laying such a charge against his wife," the judge declared.

Following a magistrate's hearing, the case had been before the grand jury which returned a true bill against Mrs. Johnson at the last supreme court session. Judge Coleman termed the whole case "an abuse of the criminal code of this country," and declared that he would not permit county criminal court to be used "as a means of settling disputes which belong in civil litigation."



"As a result of this miserable, trifling matter, the whole criminal law of this country had been set in motion. I want to castigate the whole procedure as strongly as I can," the bench declared.

Pleading not guilty to the charge, Mrs. Johnson testified that she had left her husband last May after they had been unable to get along. She had moved to the home of friends and had supported herself since the separation, she related. She admitted having the furniture moved by truck after paying arrears of rent to the landlady. "I had taken money out of my own savings to keep the house going before," she related.

Furniture Gone

Johnson testified that he returned from work one night to find the furniture and household articles gone. He said he had paid for the articles through DVA credits. "She freely admits having the furniture removed to prevent its being seized for rent arrears. She still has the articles and has done nothing secretive or fraudulent in any way," asserted Defense Counsel A.W.S. Greer.

Crown Attorney Alex Hall argued that a sentence was mandatory following conviction. He claimed that a fuling on such seizures was necessary. "There would be nothing to prevent the husband from invading her premises and taking the furniture back," he declared. When Judge Coleman suggested suspended sentence, the Crown declined to consent.

Food Parcels Needed Auxiliary Is Told

HASTINGS, Feb. 11.—(ENS).—Trinity Evening Auxiliary enjoyed the annual fee and pot luck supper in the church basement, with an encouraging attendance of 23.

Following supper, the president took charge of the business discussions. The treasurer reported $6.50 on hand following the first meeting. The Christmas card money will be held for an expense fund for a short time.

The members decided to put up the two quilts in the Sunday school room on Thursday, planning an all-day quilting and packing for the aid to Britain campaign.

Members were reminded that the donations of food for the gift food parcels were becoming fewer, which fact is regrettable as the need is so great. Mrs. E. McKeever and Mrs. Baker will pack the Febfuary parcel.

The Easter meeting will be held in the church basement on March 10. The program and lunch committee, convened by Mrs. C. M. Baker, includes Mrs. E. Hess, Mrs. F. Crate, Mrs. Cliff Scriver.

Mrs. J. E. Glover gave an interesting resume of the WMS Presbyterial held in Peterborough Jan. 27.

The worship service was conducted by Mrs. L. Humphries and Mrs. C. Scriver. The study chapter was given by Mrs. E. McKeever and Mrs. I. Bonds.

Temperance and stewardship articles were read by Mrs. A. Orr and Mrs. M. Baker, respectively.

No Alienation Of Affections Wife Tells Court Because No Affection Existed

COBOURG, Feb. 11 — (ENS)—Witness for the plaintiff in a damage action brought by Jack Jackson against her husband, James Angus, for assault, Mrs. James Angus told an assize court here on Tuesday that her husband had been surprised by her with another woman and that their married life had not been harmonious. Jackson is suing Angus for $2,500 over an alleged knife attack which took place in Jackson's Baltimore dwelling on April 27 of last year. Angus was charged and acquitted on an attempted murder count last fall over the same assault.

Angus has a counterclaim of $5,000 for alienation of his wife's affections, $5,000 for criminal conversation and $2,500 for assault. The case is being tried before Mr. Justice J. Genest with J. C. M. German for plaintiff and Harvey Brent for the defendant. The case will go to the jury to-day.

Angus told the court yesterday that he was married in September of 1933 at Swastika to Anita Gilliland of Baltimore, Ont. He said he had been informed that Jackson was running around with his wife and came down to Baltimore to see what it was all about, arriving at the Gilliland home around 5.00 a.m. on April 27. He said that he went into the room which Mrs. Gilliland occupied and found that the bed had not been slept in. He was unable to locate his wife and went back to Cobourg, finally going by taxi to Jackson's house around six in the evening. He said he found Mrs. Angus in the house and that he asked her what it was all about. Angus said he waved a knife at her and that Jackson came in and grabbed him.

"I stabbed at him in a defensive blow," testified Angus. Angus went on to say that he found one of the wife's dresses in the bedroom of the Jackson dwelling. The dress had pinned on it a regimental broach which he had sent her one Christmas while overseas. Angus testified that he had lived a normally happy life with his wife before going overseas and after coming home tried without success to get a tourist place which resulted in strained feelings between Mrs. Angus and him, one being her attitude when he asked her about some snapshots which he found in her dresser drawer. While working in Port Hope and Peterborough, he was visited on week-ends and on the occasional Wednesday by his wife. Angus also accused his wife of spending too much of his money while he was overseas.

Evidence of Behaviour.

Evidence as to his being quiet and well-behaved was given by Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Hayden of Port Hope and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Beeler of Peterborough, with whom he had boarded.

Cross-examined by J. C. M. German, Angus denied blackening his wife's eyes while they were living up north, explaining that she had slipped getting out of the car. He admitted smashing some dishes during an argument with wife and of slapping her once when she was hysterical.

Called by J. C. M. German in reply, after the defence evidence was in, Mrs. Angus described in detail her life with her husband. Frequently in the years between 1933 and 1947, he would sit a whole week without speaking to her, she said. This was when he was sober. When drinking he was quite talkative, she declared.

"I quit loving him before he went overseas. This was after I found him in our own home in Swastika with another woman out in the porch. I would call his behaviour immoral on that ocasion," Mrs. Angus said.

She went on to relate that in the subsequent discussion her husband blackened both her eyes and suggested that when she went down to see her mother to explain that she had run into the screen door. Mrs. Angus denied spending her husband's money, asserting that he retained money from the sale of things which included some of her own furniture. Speaking of his behaviour at the Gilliland home, Mrs. Angus related that in a fit of anger, her husband had thrown a lighted lamp on the floor and had thrown a trunk down the stairs.

"I stayed with him after the woman affair up north for appearances sake. I had been asked why I didn't get a divorce and I decided against because of the age of my mother. In March of 1946 my brother and I were driving him to the station after he had acted up at my mother's and he produced a knife which my brother took away from him. When he got out of the car he deliberately dropped his heavy tool box on my foot, breaking a toe," Mrs. Angus said.

Witness told of being afraid of her husband and that when he came to the Gilliland house at five in the morning of April 27 she hid in the swamp until after he had gone. She then went to Jackson's house where Angus showed up that evening and the knifing incident ensued.

"Jackson did not alienate my affections. I felt no affection for my husband after I found him in our own house with that woman," Mrs. Angus declared.

Cross-examined by Mr. Brent, Mrs. Angus said that she went to the occasional dance with Jackson in 1944 and then went regularly with him after February of 1946, after the "toe incident."

"You hid five hours in a swamp from your husband?" Mr. Brent asked. Witness replied that she had hidden in a ditch for longer than that on one occasion when her husband was heaving beer bottles around.

Asked where she slept at the Jackson home, Mrs. Angus said that she slept in the bed and Jackson slept on the couch in another room.

Winston Gilliland, brother of Mrs. Angus, testified that Angus had shown fits of temper while drinking and corroborated her evidence in regard to Angus producing a knife while being driven to the railway station. On the morning that Angus came looking for his wife at the Gilliland home, Mrs. Angus had fled and hidden in the swamp. Angus was making threats about what he would do with a knife and finally went away again, he testified.

A heavy sleet storm Monday disrupted communications and civic authorities enlisted the aid of an amateur radio operator to report the city's predicament.

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.— (CP).— Dr. Pelham Edgar of Port Hope was re-elected president of the Canadian Writers' Foundation at its annual meeting Tuesday.

Other officers elected were P. D. Ross, Ottawa, honorary president; Gustave Lancot, Ottawa, vice-president; Wilfrid Eggleston, Ottawa, honorary secretary; H. S. Southam, Ottawa, honorary treasurer, and Mrs. D. W. Thomson, Ottawa, executive secretary-treasurer.

Directors are Arthur S. Bourinot, L. W. Brockington, H. C. Osborne, Senator Cairine Wilson and Senator Norman Lambert, all of Ottawa; Jean Bruchet, Quebec; John Murray Gibson, Fabre Surveyer, Ira Dilworth and R. S. Kennedy, all of Montreal; Watson Kirkconnell, Hamilton; B. K. Sandwell, Robert Fennell, Lorne Pierce, Geoorge M. Wrong and Sidney Smith, all of Toronto; George H. Clarke, Kingson; Senator W. A. Buchanan, Lethbridge, and Dr. Clarence Webster, Shediac, N.B.

Oshawa To Get Higher Tax Rate

OSHAWA, Feb. 11. — City Council Tuesday night fixed Oshawa's 1948 tax rate at 33 mills, an increase of 1½ mills over 1947.

The city's levy for school purposes was set at 13.47 mills and the general rate at 19.53 mills. The total budget, amounting to $1,200,139, shows a net increase of $134,067 from last year.

Biggest single item is $200,019 for police and fire protection, a jump of $44,306.

"The total budget increase only takes care of operating costs and salary increases this year," said Ald. R. D. Humphreys, finance chairman. "We are going to have many capital expenditures also, but payments on the debentures will not start coming due until 1949."

Council voted to request the Oshawa Railway Co., to extend its bus service to residents in the Lakeview Garden district at the southwest limits of the city.

Ald. Michael Starr said that since two women drowned in the Oshawa Creek last year, the footbridge situated on the property of an industrial firm, has been closed by the company. He said residents now have to walk nearly three miles to the bus terminal.

2 Dead, 8 Injured In Navy Plane Crash

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 11 —(AP). — Two fliers were killed and eight others hurt, two critically, in the crash of a United States Navy Martin Mariner, about 20 miles south of here last night. The craft, returning with 10 aboard from a training flight to Puerto Rico, was seeking a landing place after weather conditions prevented it from setting down at the naval air base here. The plane crashed in a wooded area and partly burned, officials said.

LIFE ASSURANCE DOLLARS work for YOU and the NATION

Yes, the dollars paid in premiums by the policyholders of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada go to work at once.

They are promptly and securely placed in Government, municipal, corporation and public utility investments.

They develop industry and expand business.

They build homes and schools, and modernize farms.

At the same time, dollars are being paid out by the Sun Life to safeguard families, to bring independence in old age and security to the bereaved. Thus the one and a half million men and women who, for their own protection, co-operate with the Sun Life of Canada — one of the top-ranking companies of the world — are making a definite contribution to individual and national well-being.

Copy of the Annual Report for 1947 will be sent to all policyholders, or may be obtained from the address below.

Benefits paid to policyholders and beneficiaries during 1947: $101,914,657;

Total Benefits paid since the first Sun Life policy was issued in 1871: $2,021,889,123;

New Assurances issued during the year: $380,659,514;

Total Assurances in force: $3,837,724,159.

Controls Cannot Cure Inflation

For some months Mr. Coldwell and other spokesmen of the C.C.F. have been assuring the nation that the only cure for inflation is government control of prices and profits. Keep these down, says the C.C.F., and inflation becomes impossible. At no time, however, has the C.C.F. advocated government control of wages, and in the light of what has been happening in Great Britain, this is significant; in Britain there are numberberless controls, but wages have been allowed to go their own sweet way. Now the Government is asking for a voluntary ceiling on profits and wages, and Mr. Attlee has said: "It is essential that there should be no further general increase in the level of personal incomes without at least a corresponding increase in the volume of production".

* * *

The British Government has been disguising the extent of inflation in that country by very large subsidies, but the time has come when it can no longer afford to do that. Subsidies are not a cure for inflation; indeed, by giving the impression that subsidized goods are cheaper than is actually the case, they assist inflation. Subsidies spread high prices more evenly over the population, but they are in no sense a cure for high prices, and if subsidies are too long continued, or too numerous, they are themselves inflationary.

* * *

The British government possesses very wide powers; it directs the national economy, directs production, directs exports and even directs workers from one job to another when that is absolutely necessary. There is one important thing, however, which Britain's socialist government does not control, and that thing is wages. Labour is supported, naturally enough, by the workers, and the workers are strong partisans also of the Trades Union Council (commonly called the T.U.C. and frequently represented in political cartoons as a draught horse). The T.U.C. flatly refuses to countenance any government control of wages; the unions insist on their right to bargain. And it is on this rock that the socialist scheme has run aground, for a government which does not control wages cannot control costs, and thus cannot control prices. The British Government has, in fact, been engaged for at least two years in an extremely expensive demonstration of the self-evident truth that you cannot have both high wages and low prices.

* * *

We hope that the C.C.F. will take heed of Britain's situation. Every living political creed today takes some account of socialism, and the present Government of Canada has introduced many reforms of a socialist character. But there is good socialism and bad socialism, and it is the very worst kind of socialism to pretend that labour and industry exist in separate worlds, and that industry can sell cheap what labour makes dear.

Loretta Sheds A Tear

Miss Loretta Young, the movie actress, visited Britain recently, and expressed her sympathy for the people of Britain in a newspaper article which caused a furore. She commented upon serious shortages in Britain, and spoke particularly about malnutrition there. What she said raised a great fuss, which is reflected in David Low's cartoon which we reproduce elsewhere on this page. Sir Alexander Maxwell, chairman of the British Tourist and Holiday Board, has declared that there was not an atom of truth in anything Miss Young said, and other government spokesmen have been similarly incensed.

Nevertheless, other people than Miss Young have noticed signs of malnutrition in Britain. Not long ago some old people were found to be starving in Croydon because they were too weak to queue for food at the shops, and they could not live on what their ration books afforded. There was a record number of faintings among the crowds at the celebrations during the time of Princess Elizabeth's wedding. The postmen want their maximum bag-weight of thirty-five pounds reduced, as they find it too much to carry. A case has been cited of a man who gained 14 pounds while in jail awaiting trial—because prison diet gives 200 more calories a day than a civilian ration. Mr. Emmanuel Shinwell has described the recent recruits to the British Army as "undersized and undernourished"—and Mr. Shinwell is a Cabinet minister; Army rations are better than those in civil life, and soldiers gain weight during their first months of service. And Sir Jack Drummond (a physician who was wartime diet expert of the Food Ministry) writes in The Practitioner that "the body weigh records of adolescents are disturbing; failure to gain weight and actual loss of weight are not uncommon among them today".

Perhaps Loretta Young was not so far out in her statements as British officials would like to think. Certainly she will have done a good thing if her expression of sympathy leads the British Government to reconsider the problem of rationing. What a nation gains by severe rationing it loses in the health of its people—particularly its children. And Miss Young will have done a good thing, too, if she makes us on this continent more conscious of the great need in Europe (and in Britain) of the assistance which the Marshall Plan can give.

Foolish Questions

Takers of public opinion polls often run out of sensible questions with which to plague the populace, and when they do that they dip freely into the inexhaustible supply of foolish questions. A poll was taken in Britain recently to discover what character in British history the average citizen would like to talk to, if that were possible. Mr. Churchill led the poll by a large majority, and after him, in this order, came Queen Victoria, Lord Nelson, Henry VIII, Disraeli, Shakespeare, Oliver Cromwell, Queen Elizabeth, Gladstone and Lloyd George.

There are some odd features about this list. Why, for instance, would anyone want to talk to Cromwell? What would the average citizen hope to get out of Henry VIII or Queen Victoria, neither of whom was celebrated for a readiness to talk to inquisitive or common place people? Suppose that Disraeli refused to discuss politics and turned the conversation to his novels? What if Queen Elizabeth demanded that the conversation be carried on in Latin—a language which she used with fluency? And why is Shakespeare so far down the list? Are poets—even poets of unrivalled genius—held in such light esteem?

That Mr. Churchill should take first place in the list does not surprise us greatly. But we must point out that it is not difficult to get near Mr. Churchill, for he is still living and is said not to be too forbidding in manner; anyone who could get near him would be able to talk to him for a moment or so. If the pollsters ask foolish questions, surely it is up to the public to give them foolish answers? Why didn't anyone ask to speak to Dick Whittington's cat?

Police And Pistols

A good deal of attention has been attracted by the case of a Toronto policeman who accidentally shot a boy of 14 whom he was chasing. The boy and a companion were suspected of having stolen something; two policemen pursued them over a piece of rough ground with drawn pistols; one policeman stumbled, discharged his pistol, and shot one of the boys through the heart. The boy's parents sued the policeman for $25,000, and a jury awarded them $4,250.

The difficulties of police work are well known, and the public is sympathetic. Nevertheless it cannot be stressed too much that policemen are guardians of the law and protectors of the public; they are not judges, and punishment does not lie in their hands. They carry pistols to protect themselves against possibly desperate criminals; they do not carry pistols in order to threaten anyone who has not yet been proved guilty of an offence against the law.

The jury awarded damages to the parents of the boy who was killed, presumably, because the policeman had no right to have his pistol in his hand. He was not being attacked, and it looks very much as though he were using his pistol as a threat. If the pistol had been in his holster, where it belonged, there would have been no killing.

We recently had our first experience in putting a call through the new telephone switchboard of the City Buildings. After we had buzzed the number a pleasant female voice answered: "City of Peterborough". Very nice and lofty to be able to phone the City of Peterborough. We were so pleased that we repeated the call.

WEEKLY BOOK REVIEW

A New Attitude Toward Illness

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

PSYCHIATRY has been called the oldest of the medical arts and the youngest of the medical sciences. Until the nineteenth century very little was done to lift the treatment even of the insane from the level of superstition and guesswork. Dr. Sigmund Freud, his forerunners and his pupils, made the study of the mind a new frontier of medicine and advanced courageously into uncharted territory. But even after the Freudian concepts had become widely known (I will not say widely understood) and psycho-analysis had established itself as a reputable therapeutic method, the divorce between physicians and psychiatrists was a sharp one. It is only within the last twenty years or so that a combination of medical practice and psychiatric practice has been attempted, and the new name of "psychosomatic medicine" found for it. An admirable discussion of this new type of healing by Dr. Flanders Dunbar called "Mind and Body" has recently appeared, and I wish to discuss it briefly today.

◆ ◆ ◆

THE name "psychosomatic medicine" is a bit of a jawbreaker; but it is wonderfully apt; "psyche" means spirit, and "soma" means matter; psychosomatic medicine treats mind and body at once and refuses to draw arbitrary lines between one and the other. A sick mind can make a sick body, and a sick body can confirm and assist the perversion of a mind. Freud knew this, of course, but even in his long lifetime he did not have opportunity to explore this field as thoroughly as he presumably would have wished. Dr. George Groddeck, that very odd and sometimes miracle-working German physician, explored psychosomatic medicine deeply, and in some of his books ("Exploring The "Unconscious" etc.) set forth his theories in language which is more mystical than scientific. But of recent years hard-working psychiatrists like Dr. Dunbar have attempted to make the practice of psychosomatic medicine coherent and comprehensible to average physicians and average patients. Freud was a genius and Groddeck was an artist; few physicians are either. But many physicians are highly intelligent men, capable of practicing psychosomatic medicine to some extent, and co-operating with a psychiatrist in cases of more than ordinary difficulty.

◆ ◆ ◆

WHY do people become ill? Through the ages physicians have produced dozens of answers of varying value, but in all ages the wisest doctors have recognized an element in illness which was unpredictable, exasperating and often discouraging; sometimes a seemingly hopeless patient made a recovery, and at other times a patient who had everything in his favour relapsed anddied; the skill of a Pare or an Osler did not enable a physician to predict with absolute certainty what would happen in a given case. This incalculable element was recognized as being mental, but physicians could do little for the mind except to offer the patient some vague and general advice about cheering up, taking a grip on himself, and so forth. The practitioners of psychosomatic medicine think that they can do better than that; they can search the mind for the element which is causing, or at least assisting, the physical illness, and by ministering to a mind diseased they can lead him to a complete cure of mind and body.

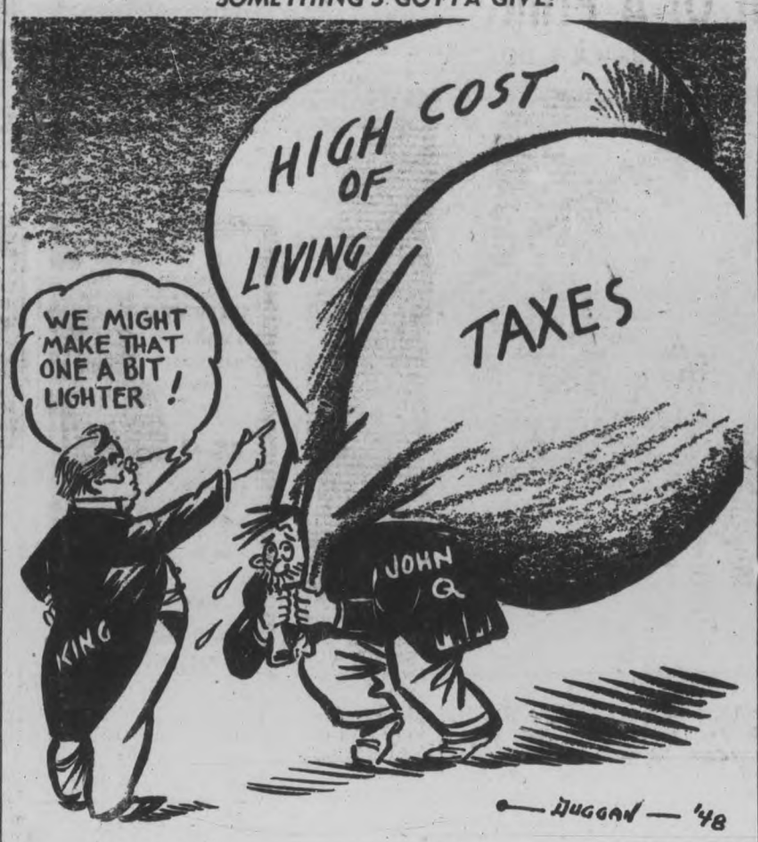
◆ ◆ ◆

DR. Flanders Dunbar is one of the most distinguished woman doctors in the U.S.A., and her experience as a practitioner of psychiatry has been extensive. In "Mind and Body" she presents psychosomatic medicine to the layman in clear, but not childish or over-simplified terms. She explains, but she counsels specifically against attempts to apply the principles of psychosomatic medicine by laymen or persons whose work brings them much into contact with the sick; the technique of psychosomatic healing, though it brings about sudden cures, is not suddenly learned, nor is it simply the application of common sense to human problems. Nevertheless I think that a majority of thoughtful people will find her book deeply interesting and provocative, for it suggests a whole new attitude toward illness. We may pity the sick because they are afflicted, but when we understand that a considerable measure of their affliction is self-induced our pity (though no less) assumes a somewhat different colour; we then expect the patient to do something for himself with the help of his physician. We recognize that the seemingly light words of the old song—

I attempt from love's sickness
To fly, in vain;
For I am myself
My own fever and pain.

contain a truth which is applicable to more rigorous diseases than love.

◆ ◆ ◆



THE bookshops are full of volumes of cheap psychiatry and phoney psychology nowadays, and I should not like my readers to think that Dr. Dunbar's book was simply another of that dubious lot. It is an excellently written book on a subject of the deepest interest and I am happy to recommend it highly.

The Olympics In Britain

Tens of thousands of sportsmen and athletes from all over the world will meet in London this summer. They are coming to Britain for the Olympic Games being held in July. Fifty-two nations accepted invitations to take part and six of them have already indicated their intention to compete in each of the 17 events making up the programme. His Majesty the King is Patron of the Games and will open this 14th Olympiad at the Empire Stadium in London on July 29th. More than 5,000 athletes will be competing of whom 500 are women. They will be accompanied by 800 officials and more than 1,000 trainers and masseurs. The largest team numbering 415 is coming from the United States. Britain's entries come next totalling 348, followed by France with 308.—(U.K. Information Office).

SOMETHING'S GOTTA GIVE!

Canada's National Dress

JANE JOHNSTONE IN THE OTTAWA CITIZEN

SCARLET tuque with tassel a-swing; scarlet lining to the hanging hood; scarlet sash and scarlet leggings, the small girl prances over the shining snow, colourful, trim, and snug. Her Red River costume is a triumph of functional aptness, blended happily with picturesque tradition. For the little girls we have evolved an admirable and characteristic national dress.

For the boys we have—breeks! It would be interesting to know how such an awkward garment has become entrenched as standard wear for small boys. Under discussion at a recent Home and School Club meeting they earned not one word of commendation but widespread criticism. If breeks are warm enough to withstand sub-zero weather they are too warm for heated class-room or home. Covered with snow from play out of doors, they cannot be taken off, leaving light, dry indoor clothes beneath for indoor wear. The wearer must sit damply in them through the morning's school work. True they save the bother of pulling on and off outer ski-pants or stockings, but this is a small advantage to set against their propensity to give at the knee, even when reinforced against wear and tear in that vulnerable region. Surely something more practical and better looking could be devised by Canadian designers to complement the boy's parka or mackinaw?

TINY children, boys and girls alike, fare better. Striped cotton sweaters and overalls for wear indoors and snow suits with helmets or Eskimo hoods, are as convenient and comfortable as they are engaging. Their summer uniform, the sun suit, is as good. At any season Canadian small fry are excellently and becomingly dressed by any standard.

And what of adults? The rigors of both winter and summer climate demand some modifications in standard western wear. Work clothes and sports clothes make these modifications effectively, but ordinary city wear for men makes few concessions. Occasional strong-minded souls who dislike the cold more than they dread sartorial idiosyncracy, wear fur hats or ear muffs, but the customary dress includes a hat designed for more temperate zones and exposed, aching ears, cupped in icy hands to protect them against frostbite. We have not had the independence to evolve a suitably Canadian manner of dressing for the adult male city dweller.

Girls and women have adopted a practical and becoming costume. Their colourful kerchiefs and headscarves or graceful hoods, their fur or heavy cloth coats, their high, warm overshoes or boots, leave but one unprotected interval, the silk-stockinged leg. A recent fashion note inveighed against the practice of wearing scarves: "We are not peasants. A hat is necessary." Even fashion this year smiles on hoods, but no matter what designers in New York or Paris may say, Canadian girls have the good sense to know that not even the most elegant Paris creation can look attractive if it must be clutched to keep sub-zero winds from carrying it away, or if it surmounts a blue nose and chattering teeth. They have made at least a beginning in developing a Canadian mode of dress independent of dicta emanating from New York, London or Paris.

Letters To The Editor

FOR CONSERVATION

Sir: This time of the year it would be worth our while to draw our attention back to the time of the Deer season and also the time we landed those big one's Real sport it was, or rather could have been if more fishermen and hunters would devote themselves with same ambition in sanctuary measures as was done in the forest and on the lakes when no quarters was given our wildlife. It was really worth the miles we travelled through the woods and what a grand feeling it was to come back to be admired by our friends for being such a good shot. That unjustly ends another season for too many hunters and with an eye for doing the same again next year we give little or no consideration as to the welfare of our wildlife. In severe winters great numbers of our wildlife population perish of starvation with the snow deep and frozen, forage from the ground became nil. And with branches too high too reach. You guessed it, death. Also through weakness an easy prey for wolves. You were a good shot, but do also become a good sport, do your share to overcome our problems — that of feeding our wildlife during the winter. This can be done by using grain, hay and also by cutting branches such as cedar. We look for places to kill, let us also look after the welfare of what we hold and to behold as a pride for our future generation.

A. NEILSON, President,

SECOND SENATOR COX NEEDED

Sir: I read with a great deal of interest, an account by W. M. Clipstone, of the late Senator George A. Cox.

Of his wonderful kindness, and great humane interest in providing a home for elderly ladies.

I thoroughly enjoyed reading the different descriptions of the elderly ladies, each able to keep their own personalities in their own surroundings.

It would indeed be a great day for Peterborough if a second Senator Cox could rise up and do a few more of these kindly deeds.

Peterborough is badly in need of one or two real homes for elderly ladies, homes where they can find congenial companionship, love and kindly understanding.

Where they can feel just as important as the younger generation—where they will feel they are not being helped, because they are getting old.

We all have to face the fact of getting old, but if we have the understanding and interest of our fellow beings, we can grow old in quiet contentment.

Perhaps we will have a second Senator Cox rise up, who knows?

Yours sincerely,
QUEENIE M. GRAY.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Woe to them that are at ease in Zion, and trust in the mountain of Samaria, which are named chief of the nations, to whom the house of Israel came! Pass ye unto Calneh, and see; and from thence go ye to Hamath the great: then go down to Gath of the Philistines: be they better than these kingdoms? Or their border greater than your border?

Ye that put far away the evil day, and cause the seat of violence to come near; that lie upon beds of ivory, and stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat the lambs out of the flock, and the calves out of the midst of the stall....That drink wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the chief ointment: but they are not grieved for the affliction of Joseph.

Therefore now they shall go captive with the first that go captive, and the banquet of them that stretched themselves shall be removed. The Lord hath sworn by himself, saith the Lord the God of hosts, I abhor the excellency of Jacob, and hate his palaces: therefore will I deliver up the city with all that is therein. (Amos 6: 1-4, 6-8.)

Life And Education Of A Prince....

By H.R.H. DUKE OF WINDSOR

CHAPTER 27

My point was that since the political cartoonists had, rightly or wrongly, made the top hat a universal symbol of the bloated, predatory capitalist, the male members of the Royal Family would be well advised not to wear one during times of social tension.

Although my father gave up pressing me on this point, his disapproval lingered.

To the end of his life he upheld his own ideas of fashion against the inroads of more practical and informal dress.

He always kept a frock coat handy near his audience-room at Buckingham Palace, which he would hastily slip on whenever an official visitor was announced.

And he had never yielded to the new style in men's trousers, which were called "turn ups" and in America cuffs. His aversion to this innovation was impressed upon me with almost shattering finality.

Now I also took pride, in my own way, in what I wore, and greeting my father one morning at breakfast in a brand-new suit, I was rather taken aback when, instead of complimenting me on my taste, he looked at me in a curious way and suddenly asked with magnificent irrelevance. "Is it raining in here?"

For a second I was speechless, but when my father repeated the question, with his eyes focused in obvious repugnance at my feet I realised what he meant. Why hike up one's pants in such an absurd manner except to cross puddles?

Thereafter, just as my father kept a frock coat handy against the arrival of unexpected visitors, I always kept a pair of old trousers without cuffs which I would slip on before I went to see him.

All this happened nearly 30 years ago, and I think I can say in all humility that I have come to understand my father better.

Today to my surprise, I discovered myself standing in relation to the new war-fostered generation in much the same position as he at the end of my war stood to me.

He was 53 years old when World War 1. ended, and was eager to return to the way of life which he had known before.

I am 53 today and, having lived the most active part of my life between the two wars, I now find myself regretting the pushing aside of things which I know and understand.

And just as I once found myself in 1919 as a young man at variance with my more conservative father, so I now find myself unable to agree with many of the political ideas held by my young friends.

It is not that I fear change, for I have never been reactionary. What I fear, and what I now realise my father always feared, was violent changes; changes that would sweep away fundamental and hard-bought things.

My inheritance then was a good deal more complex and hazardous than my father had bargained for.

The less complicated life of pomp and privilege for which I had been educated had lost much of its significance; nobody quite knew how or why.

In my turn as Prince of Wales, as an instrument or symbol rather than by any force of logic at my command, I was sent forth to discharge my public duties, or to employ the term that my brothers and I later applied to our official peregrinations, "Princing."

No doubt I approached this business differently than my father for his advisers would have had me do.

But, in the absence of my definite directive from them, it represented my views of the essential objects of my missions.

Firstly, I should try to bring the monarchy nearer to the people of Britain who, though emotionally loyal to the monarchical tradition had become less inclined than in the past to take it all for granted.

TAKE IN AUSTRALIA—The Duke of Windsor's version of one of his missions in life, after the war, was that "I should travel around the world reviving or selling the idea of Empire . . . while meanwhile fostering good relations with foreign countries." He soon achieved fame as a world traveller and above is one of the countless pictures circulated during his travels. It shows him petting a baby Kangaroo in Australia.

Secondly, I should travel around the world, reviving or selling the idea of Empire to the waverers within the British Dominions and Colonies while meanwhile fostering good relations with foreign countries.

In no small measure, Lloyd George at this piont became architect of my career. Concerned over the decline of the British position aboard, he drove me hard. During the next 12 years I travelled constantly.

The ostensible reason for these tours by which I came to know the world was that I should thank the people of the Empire, in my father's name, for their services in Britain's life cause during the war.

But inside this idea was another: that in addition to making myself known to the different imperial factions over which I should one day rule, I should also learn about other countries important to British life.

Travelling so much, everything came in a great rush, like scenes in a newsreel: Canadian cowpunchers, Australian sheep stations; the gold mines of the Rand; the Argentine pampas; the banzais in Japan; a charging elephant in Uganda; the Oriental splendours of India's bygone pageantry; and President Wilson, propped up in Lincoln's bed in the White House.

I think that I can safetly say that global politics has not yet produced anything to surpass these travels, unique in their variety and intensity. They were conducted at high speed and on precision schedules through hosts of people whose curiosity about a British Prince was not unmixed with suspicion.

And on my side they imposed a far greater mental and physical strain than was generally realised at the time.

The price of a royal welcome in Canada was a crushed right hand retired temporarily into a splint.

No stranger ever sat down to finer dinners—or worse, but my digestive organs were never the same; if deposited after my death for study by some eminent physiological foundation, they would I am positive, give rise to astounding conclusions regarding the fearsome effects of corporate hospitality.

It was, of course, a splended thing to be the subject of so many graceful and clever epeeches. But where in the whole gamus of human suffering is there anything to equal the agony of devising several times a day, day after day, those few "well-chosen words"—precise and friendly, yet cautious — that my eloquent and practised hosts expected?

All that, however, was a long time ago, and meanwhile the consequences of my missions have passed into oblivion. At the time they brought forth enough eulogistic comment to encourage me to carry on.

One of the few compliments I valued was paid me by an American. A shrewed politician, chary of praise, this person said to me:

"You know very well, Sir, that you and I do not always agree, but by re-interpreting the monarchy in modern terms you have rendered a great service to your father and will have made the way easier, for your successors."

Be that as it may I did not spare myself in striving to fulfil all that was expected of me in the position to which I was born.

CHIN STRAP: "Where can I get a chin strap?"

The surgical supply houses have chin straps but you can make one of soft cotton. Have a double fold about two inches wide, long enough to fasten on top of your head with safety pins.

PUPS: "What should a three-month-old pup that is partially Spitz be fed? How many times daily? Should it be given milk? I don't want commercial feeds."

We took your question to W. B. Cameron, specialist in pets. He recommended four feedings daily, composed of Pablum, scraped beef, vegetables, cereals and milk. Don't feed either potatoes or white bread.

LOVELY LADIES: "Can you help me get the right shade of powder? I'm too pale. I don't want to use rouge. So many women have big red patches on their cheeks and they look dreadful."

Why not go into our store at St. Catharines and let our cosmetic girl help you? You need a powder base and a little rouge before the powder goes on. Our cosmetic girls are trained to give you expert assistance.

BRITISH FILM STARS: "Where can I get in touch with British film stars? What city do I write to?"

British Film Studios are at Denham near Uxbridge in Middlesex or at Croyden, near London. Send your letter, addressed to your film star, to United Kingdom Information Office, Ottawa. It will then be sent on to the correct studio.

YOUNG SON: "We have just adopted a two-and-a-half-year-old baby. How can we interest him playing outside? There are no other youngsters to play with. I'm afraid we're spoiling him."

Child experts say children love toys today such as sleighs, wagons, and little trucks. They love shovels and spoons, functional play things. Put him out with simple toys and let him learn to amuse himself. And don't spoil him or the neighbours will take a scunner at the poor boy.

Death Of Former Star

Mighty sorry to hear yesterday of the death of Harold (Snap) Parker. While he hasn't been around Peterborough for some years he will be remembered by many local hockey fans. Played quite a spell here but we remember him best when the Petes hit their all-time peak in taking the OHA senior title. That's like senior "A" today and they did it in 1925-26, winning their strong group against Parkdale 10-3 on the round, capturing the provincial crown 7-4 from London, but losing out in Allan Cup semi-finals to Varsity 14-2. College clubs in those days had two chances, playing in OHA and then in intercollegiate playdowns.

* * * * * *

That was a swell squad with Joe Dwyer in goal, Bert McLeod and Snap Parker on defence, Frank Collins at centre, Ace Bailey and Biffer Ranger on the wings, and Abbie Rose, Babe Bogardis and Cox subbing. Only three subs allowed then, and Abbie was relieving on defence. Snap could have turned pro at that time, as so many of the starry Petes did, but he remained with his business. A solid checker and a fine weaving rusher, he was a standout even with this classy club. Those boisterous Brock nights saw crowds of 2,000 jam in there and many a thrill Parker supplied as he stickhandled through all opposition to score. And many the rival he bounced at the blue line. A great player and a fine, likeable fellow.

Some OHA Decisions

OHA executive committee sat yesterday and made several rulings concerning Peterborough clubs. They decided that Keith Montgomery belonged to the IOOF junior "B" team but could play three games with the senior "B" Petes. He has already played in two tilts with them. They decided that Don Crowe could not play with the Petes as he lives and works in Toronto. And they suspended Bud Goodfellow of Kingston Saints for hitting Bill Crowley of Legion over the head in their last game. But must appear before the OHA next Sunday to explain things. Prexy Panter of the OHA was named convention manager for the annual CAHA meeting in Toronto starting April 22, and his assistants will be J. J. McFayden of Galt and Frank Buckland of Peterborough.

* * * * * *

Arn Dugan has been chosen captain of the junior Oddfellows with Don Pagett assistant. Bob Wyatt is replacing Harold Legrow, who asked for his release from the club. Guess he plans on playing somewhere else. The IOOF-ers won an 11-3 exhibition the other night in Orono against the Bowmanville-Orono junior "C" Combines. Dugan got three of the tallies and Jack Scott, defenceman, three. The players are said to have looked good in this game, better than the squad of last season. They're husky and fast, and Coach Archie Weir is getting them in fine shape for their coming junior "B" group semi-finals with lots of work. They drill Thursday and Friday at seven and on Saturday from three to five at the Sacred Heart rink.

Minors Going Tonight

And the local bantam and midget puckists go tonight in Omemee in the second round of their OMHA playdowns. The Lions clash with Whitby bantams at 7.30, and the Rotarians meet Whitby midgets at 8.30 in first frays of the home-and-home series, return jousts being in Whitby on Saturday. Local lads, who eliminated Lindsay in the first round, deserve plenty of fan backing, vocal and financial, as they're the OHA stars of tomorrow . At least their next of kin ought to be on deck for these important contests. In PMHA fixtures at the Bowl last eve, Trojan juveniles blanked Marines 5-0 as Northend midgets and Trojans drew 1-1.

CURLING NEWS

By HERB MARTIN

Yesterday the ladies just stepped out and took in some bonspiels around the circuit. Some went to Beaverton and some to Oshawa.

Up at Beaverton Mrs. E. Metcalfe's rink came home with first prize and each player received a reading lamp. The rink was: Mrs. R. Payne, Mrs. H. Hamlin, Mrs. S. Lowe, Mrs. E. Metcalfe, skip

Down at Oshawa, Mrs. V. Selkirk's rink came home with the second prize. Each received a silver-plated tray. On the same rink with Mrs. Selkirk were Mrs. G. Green, Mrs. T. Doughty and Mrs. D. Davis.

We understand that the ladies begin play in the vice-skips' bonspiel Friday.

Play for the Walker trophy got under way this morning at 9.00 o'clock.

Suspend Kingston Player For Striking W. R. Crowley

TORONTO, Feb. 11 — (CP) — Keith Montgomery was ruled a signed player for the Peterborough Triple-Link junior club and could play the customary three games, on a move-up trial basis with Peterborough Hockey Club's Senior "B" team, it was ruled by the OHA executive committee in session here yesterday.

Steve Wright and J. P. Hunter, recently transferred to Clinton RCAF would be allowed to play for that team provided they had already been in the service for six months or more.

Since Don Crowe lives and works in Toronto, Peterborough Hockey Club's playing certificate for him was not passed by the committee because he failed to qualify as a resident.

Bud Goodfellow of Kingston Saints was suspended and ordered to appear before the executive committee next Sunday and show cause for allegedly striking W. R. Crowley of Peterborough Legion over the head with his stick during a recent senior "B" game at Kingston.

Since they didn't have the required eight residents of "Victoria Square," as ruled by the constitution of the Ontario Hockey Association, the Stouffville junior hockey club, now known as the Victoria Square hockey club, will have to enter the OHA playoffs as a junior "B" entry.

The team, now in junior "C" will be allowed to carry on in this group under the Victoria Square name for the remainder of the current season only.

President Panter of Gravenhurst, has been appointed convention manager, and J. J. McFayden of Galt and Frank Buckland of Peterborough have been appointed assistants for the Canadian Amatuer Hockey Association's annual meeting at Toronto, starting April 2.

Senior and junior "A" club delegates will meet with the OHA executive committee Feb. 15 to complete playoff arrangements.

Safety Devices Put On Tows

TORONTO, Feb. 11—Legislation will be introduced at the coming session of the Ontario Legislature making it compulsory for the operators of ski tows to install safety devices on their equipment. It was learned at Queen's Park Tuesday. The measure is to take the form of an amendment to the Tourist Camp Act whereby regulations will be drawn up to cover the operation of ski tows.

The government is known to be concerned with accidents which have been occurring as a result of the increasing use of these facilities. At Hockley Valley recently, a youth lost a finger and had his arm injured when unable to free himself from a tow. Previous to that another young skier was injured at Cobourg when thrown over a knoll at the top of a hill and against a post.

The Canadian Ski Patrol has petitioned the government to license the operators and compel them to observe the ordinary precautions associated with safety. In addition to the installation of safety devices, it is expected the regulations will establish the maximum speed at which a tow line will be permitted to move.

Cerdan And Roach Ready To Have It Out

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (AP). — France's Marcel Cerdan, European middleweight champion, and Lavern Roach, the young, talented Texan, will have it out in Madison Square Garden on March 12 in a bout that should do bonanza business at the box office. The handlers of the two crowd-pleasing fighters agreed to terms yesterday with the 20th Century Sporting Club for the 10-rounder. A $100,000 gross gate seems a good possibility.

Roach made the jump to the big time last January 16 when he decisively outpointed Tony Janiro of Youngstown, O., in a Garden feature. The 22-year-old exmarine, named boxing's 1947 "rookie of the year" by Ring Magazine, appeared calm and collected in his Garden bout.

It was Roach's 18th straight victory and his 23rd in 24 pro starts. In Cedran he will meet an opponent with the same eagerness to swap punches.

Saints Get First

St. Peter's Seniors defeated Immaculate Conception on home ice 7-3 in a Separate School League hockey playoff game. Fontaine shone for the Saints, being in on all their markers, while O'Donoghue and McGillen had one apiece for the visitors. The teams:

I.C.: Goal, Byrnes; defence, McGillen and Armstrong; centre, McCarthy; wings, O'Donoguhe and Driscoll; alternates, Gosselin and LeBarr.

St. Peter's: Goal, Morrisey; defence, McLean and Griffin; centre, Legros; wings, Fontaine and Corkery; alternates, Pearson, Foley and Barrett.

DEATHS FROM SUFFOCATION

Suffocation causes an estimates 80,000 deaths a year in the United States.

Trojans Victors 5-0 Against The Marines

Trojans triumphed over Marines 5-0 at the Bowl rink last night in their PMHA fixture. They ran in a brace in the first period by Floyd, with Grainger having two assists and Crowder one. Doris and Floyd added two in the second heat, Driscoll, Clark, McPhail and Grainger each having an assist. Doris dented the hemp in the third on passes from Clark and Driscoll. The winners drew seven of the eight penalties handed out, Wyatt getting three. The teams:

Marines: Goal, Johnston; defence, Craig and Beggs; centre, Cournyea; wings, Eakins and Vincent; alternates, Gibson, Jones, Robinson, Ferguson, Douglas and Castle.

Trojans: Goal, Menard; defence, McPhail and Grainger; wings, Wyatt and Crowder; alternates, Casey, Doris, Miller and Bradley.

Honor Dairy Official

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—(CP). — J. F. Singleton, dairy commissioner, was among those made commander of the Order of the British Empire, at yesterday's investiture at Government House. Mr. Singleton comes from a well-known Leeds County family and lived in Brockville before joining the Department fo Agriculture. He was nominated for the CBE at the suggestion of officials of the United Kingdom Food Ministry for distinguished services in supplying dairy products to Britain during the war.

Omaha Knights Give Minneapolis Drubbing

By the Associated Press.

Minneapolis Millers, Northern Division leaders in the United States Hockey League, took a drubbing last night from Omaha Knights, fourth-place club, 10-1 at Omaha.

Kansas City went into a tie with St. Paul for second place in the division with a 5-2 victory on the St. Paul ice. The two teams trail the leading Millers by three points.

Max McNab, Omaha's lean centre, was the siege gun in the Knights' attack upon the Millers last night, driving in four goals and marking the fourth time this year he has scored three or more goals in a single game.

Trojanettes' Tilts

Canadiens won from Red Wings 3-1 while Rangers tied Leafs in a scoreless encounter at Turner Park rink in Trojanettes' tussles to start the week. Both were good games and keenly contested. Marjorie Wood and Marie Robbins starred for Canadiens as Elsie Davis stood out for Red Wings. They all looked good in the other fray. Teams:

Canadiens: J. Succee, M. Robbins, M. Wood, P. Peryer, S. Succee.

Wings: B. Guthrie, S. Peryer, E. Davis, D. Dunk, R. Naylor.

Leafs: C. Giardino, J. Gray, J. Gordon, D. Fowler, A. Campbell, H. Curtis, P. Lewis.

Rangers: N. Gordon, J. Booth, D. Godfrey, J. Dunk, A. Doris, M. Adamson.

CRIME CONTROL

Regular courts and judges have existed in Ireland since ancient times.

Trojans In Draw With Northenders

Northenders and Trojans tied 1-1 at the Bowl last night in their midget PMHA encounter on fast ice. It was a speedy, even and clean contest most of the route. Northey notched one for the Northend crew in the second period and Brioux tallied from Bryan for the other side in the same stanza. Delahaye and Woods drew the only penalties for roughing. The teams:

Northend: Goal, Henderson; defence, Gould and Reynolds; centre, Tucker; wings, Deyell and Northey; alternates, Wilson, Delahaye, Woods, Woodgate, Wall, Braund and Seabrooke.

Trojans: Goal, Fowler; defence, Woods and Maudsley; centre, Brioux; wings, Heffernan and Church; alternates, Stock, Harris, Mantell, Buott, Buchan, Floyd and Bryan.

Referee, C. Heal; linesman, D. Grant.

Lakefield Winners Over Bobcaygeon

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 11 (ENS). —Lakefield Sea Scouts poured in a 9-2 victory over Bobcaygeon on the latter's ice last night in the first game of the second round OMHA playdowns. Both teams showed the result of excellent coaching and turned in an exciting exhibition of good hockey.

Coyle reversed his usual "three in the third" to "three in the first," and his tallies were accompanied with one each by Pearson, Twist and Sloan. Pearson got three assists and Sloan and Twist one each. Packer and Kimble scored for Bobcaygeon.

The second period saw one goal scored by Coyle and a penalty each for Pire, Twist and Packer. Heffernan opened the third, followed by another by Coyle with Sloan, Kittle and Coyle serving a minor penalty each.

The return game will be played in Lakefield this Thursday.

The teams:

Bobcaygeon — Goal, M. Maguire; defence, Pandy and Kennedy; centre, Kittle; wings, Packer and Montgomery; alternates, Poole, Freeborn, Kimble, E. Maguire, Findlay, Drinkwater.

Lakefield — Goal, Wingett; defence, Pearson and Pire; centre, Twist; wings, Coyle and Sloan; alternates, Hunter, Heffernan, Matthews, Brown, Wilson, Spencer and Wasson.

Referee—T. Junkin. Linesman—M. Kelly.

Abbott, Costello Plan To Leave For England

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 11 (AP).—Abbott and Costello now plan to leave in July for England, where they will make appearances and film a picture.

Lou told me that he and Bud are considering two scripts, one of which will be filmed under their own auspices in England this summer. They also plan to play four weeks at London's Palladium.

"But we won't bring the money home from the Palladium engagement," he added. "We will donate half of the proceeds to aid English orphans and half for Italian orphans."

Echo of Spy Trials.

"The Iron Curtain" has returned from some additional shooting, but not because of protests from friends of the Soviet Union. "We are shooting the ending," Dana Andrews explained, "and a few added scenes to make the picture more melodramatic." The story, based on the Canadian spy trials, has been filmed in semi-documentary style.

Marlene Dietrich almost balked at playing a scene in "A Foreign Affair.' She was supposed to play a newsreel scene in which she would heil Hitler (played by Bobby Watson) and chat with him. Director Billy Wilder talked her into doing the scenes. Not Yet?

"Oklahoma!" is again being talked about as a film vehicle. The ambition of Producer Paul Jones is to make it with Bing Crosby as star. That would be a great combination, but with the show still a hit wherever it plays, I doubt if it will be filmed for at least a decade . . .

Producer Lester Cowan is going ahead with his plans to film "The Free Press," which he says will be a frank treatment of newspaper freedom in the United States. He is negotiating with John Hersey to write the screen play.

10-Second Review

"Call Northside 77" (TCF) is another semi-documentary, and, unlike most film trends, this one hasn't worn thin. "Northside" packs as much action and excitement as its predecessors and makes the ordinary Hollywood film seem tame in comparison. James Stewart leads the cast in the story of the Chicago newspaper man whose research freed an innocent man convicted of murder.

MUST DEFEND TITLE

Fred Duclos, chairman of the Montreal Athletic Commission, acting for Frank Hogan, chairman of the Canadian Boxing Federation, said last night that Hubert Gagnier, holder of the Canadian featherweight title, has been ordered to defend his crown within 30 days.

All-Star Mat Card At Brock Tonight

Can large strong Earl McCready pin the Masked Marvel tonight in the Brock Arena ring? That's the question that will be settled some time along about 11 p.m. this evening. McCready has already done a good half of the job, having not only given the Marvel a good beating on points, but also having lifted his head covering right off. That of course was illegal on Earl's part but he has promised to do it again tonight and do it according to the rules, which means pinning the Mask. "I know I can beat him," says the Aurora Farmer, "and tonight I won't fool around about the mask until I've had his shoulders flat on the floor."

Lee Henning

Wee Willie Davis who is none too popular with the fans will get in with a right good opponent in Ken Kenneth in the semi-final. Kenneth makes the best of them look bad at times. Lee Henning will strut his stuff in the third bout against Ben Sharpe.

Hockey Players Said Turning Pro Too Young

REGINA, Feb. 11.— (CP). — With the professional hockey talent hunt becoming as competitive as the bargain hunt during ladies' day at the department store, younger and younger players each year are signing professional contracts and options — some of them probably moving to pro clubs before they are ready.

From his vantage point amid a player producing area, Murray (Moose Jaw Times - Herald) Brown reports that local hockey executives are beginning to think of the advantages of boosting the junior age limit from 20 to 21 in order to keep the kids in amateur hockey another year.

Among the scheme's backers is President George Vogan of Moose Jaw Canucks, perennial Memorial Cup contenders who have contributed their share of recruits to professional leagues. Brown quotes Vogan as saying most of the younger players need the extra year as a junior before turning pro.

"Most of them are at least a year away from pro company when they step up now and that extra year would give them the physical growth and hockey polish they need," Vogan said.

Two of the Canucks prize alumni, Metro Prystai and Hal Tarala, made the big jump last fall, Prystai to Chicago Black Hawks and Tarala to Kansas City Pla-Mors, the Hawks' United States Hockey League farm club. Vogan thinks they weren't ready.

NAMED STAMPEDERS' COACH

Les Lear, former Winnipeg Blue Bombers and United States professional football star, last night was named coach of the Calgary Stampeders in the Western Inter-Provincial Football Union for the 1948 season. He succeeds Dean Griffing.

...GH LUCK AT WINTER OLYMPICS—The winter O...s held at St. Moritz, Switzerland, had their thrills, but they had their heartbreaks as well. Above, Italy's Renata Carrersto is being assisted off her skis after she broke a leg in one of the contests. Below, Canadian woman skier, Rhona Wurtelle, wrapped in blankets and a teammate's coat, is revived after fainting at the finish of the women's downhill race.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Babe Ruth was no orphan. His father's name was always Ruth and not Ehrhardt or Gearhardt. As a juvenile incorrigible, he was placed in a Baltimore institution.

These are a few facts the Babe tells of his youth: "I look back on St. Mary's (Industrial School in Baltimore, Md.), as one of the most constructive periods of my life," he said. "I'm as proud of it as any Harvard man is proud of his school."

Ruth said his father, George Herman Ruth, lived until his second year in the majors. His mother died when he was 13. Most of the first seven years of his life were spent living over his father's saloon in Baltimore.

A. Jackson, Kansas City defenceman, was fined $50 by the United States Hockey League yesterday for striking Walter Bak, Omaha player, with a stick in a hockey game at Kansas City, Feb. 8 and was given a match penalty.

Bak was not severely injured and requested leniency for Jackson.

Avery Brundage, United States Olympic chief, offered yesterday to feed the 400 athletes he will bring to England for the summer Olympics. He told British officials he would ship frozen food from the United States and any surplus after the games would be distributed to hospitals and children's homes.

Threatened 7 Cars

VIENNA, Feb. 11. (AP) — A Russian military policeman threatened to burn or blow up seven American automobiles parked behind a Russian-occupied hotel last night. Personal intervention of the United States provost marshal, Col. H. B. Hurless, prevented what American authorities called a "serious incident."

Major Teams Ignore Draft From Minors

By The Canadian Press

With the National Hockey League's 60-game schedule three-quarters finished, and only six weeks left before the play-offs, the teams appeared today to be pretty well standing pat on what they've got for the stretch drive.

The deadline for recall of players from the minors passed at midnight last night with nothing more startling than the announcement that New York Rangers have recalled Claude (Chuck) Rayner from New Haven Ramblers of the American Hockey League. This was strictly an insurance measure, for Sugar Jim Henry, who started substituting for Rayner in the Ranger nets months ago, is doing very well.

The league-leading Detroit Red Wings said nothing at all about drafts from the minors. The second-place Toronto Maple Leafs said they'd string along with the present squad, and if worst came to worst they still can call on amateurs.

Amateurs can be drafted any time on a three-game trial basis without losing their amateur status. Only recently the Leafs used Johnny McCormack of the Toronto senior Marlboros at centre to replace the injured Syl Apps and won two out of three starts they made with the amateur in uniform.

Overlook Bet

In all the cogitation that went on among manager and coaches before the deadline, probably no one noticed a little fellow playing amateur hockey in Montreal. He's not a senior, nor a junior nor even a junior "B" player. He's in the Outremont school league. His name is Don Currie, and Monday night he scored all his team's goals in an 8-2 victory for the Guy-Drummond Pee-wees over Lajoie. Young Don can safely figure that he'll be on some team's priority call-up before long.

Detroit now holds a three-point lead over Toronto, and the third-place Rangers are six full games ehind the Leafs. The present tussle is for the fourth and last play-off spot. Boston holds it at the moment, two points ahead of Montreal. The only mid-week game sees the tail-end Chicago Black Hawks at Boston tonight. And if Bruins win, then it's going to be a long road ahead of Montreal and Chicago.

Gil Dodds Has Run Last Indoor Race

BOSTON, Feb. 11 — (AP). — Halted by mumps, Gil Dodds, the 4:06.3 mile record-maker has run his last indoor race, Jack Ryder, his veteran coach said last night. Stricken Monday, Boston's famed "flying parson" will be in hospital until late next week.

"Then he will return to his Wheaton, Ill., home to rest up before starting his outdoor training for an Olympic team berth," Ryder said.

"Dodds plans to quit competitive running after the Olympics, so I guess he has run his last indoor race.

"I have cancelled his bookings for three New York meets, including the indoor national championships, as well as others that will be staged in Hamilton, Ont., Cleveland and Chicago."

Ryder plans to have Dodds return here in April to start priming for the Olympic 1,500-metre event.

HE'D RATHER FIGHT! — Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York lost his job recently, but only for two minutes, to Heavyweight Boxing Champion Joe Louis. Joe, who sit in Hizzoner's chair as O'Dwyer laughs heartily over his shoulder, called on the mayor to enroll him in a fellowship organization to further "inter-racial co-operation." Louis, co-chairman of the organization, admitted that "fighting is much easier than being mayor."

Mercurys Whip Redmen 12-5

By The Canadian Press

Tommy Burlington's Owen Sound Mercurys used the hapless Brantford Redmen as a stepping stone to climb into third place, one point ahead of Stratford Indians, with a 12-5 victory over the last-place Redmen in an Ontario Hockey Association Senior A tilt at Owen Sound last night.

There were no junior games.

The Mercurys won easily, leading 3-1 at the end of the first period and 8-1 at the close of the second.

Burlington and Pat McCreavy fattened their scoring totals, each picking up two goals and four assists. Bun White and Todd Miller tallied two goals each, while Fred Smith, Jim Boddy, Doug Gillespie and Johnny Sullivan also scored.

Ken Pidgeon led Brantford with two goals and one assist, with other tallies going to Robin Hewson, Roly Beauchamp and Bernie Smith.

No senior games are scheduled for tonight but on the junior slate Barrie visits Toronto Marlboros, Guelph faces Toronto St. Michaels, Toronto Young Rangers go to Stratford, and Galt visits Windsor.

Theatre Destroyed

RIMOUSKI, Que., Feb. 11. — (CP)—The Rimouskois Theatre, owned by Le Bon Theatre Cie. Ltee., of Rimouski, was destroyed by fire Monday night but some 400 patrons made an orderly exit from the building without suffering injury. Loss was estimated at $50,000.

Hornets Dump Washington 8-3

By The Canadian Press

Pittsburgh Hornets strengthened their grip on the American Hockey League's western leadership last night by turning aside the tail-end Washington Lions 8-3. The victory moved the high-flying Wasps four points ahead of Buffalo.

Jackie Hamilton, with three goals and a pair of assists and Mel Hill, who racked up two goals and three assists, paced the leaders' attack. Other Hornet goal-getters were Stan Kemp, Scotty Mair and Bill Benson with one each. Bud Foley, Johnny Carr-Harris and Walt Babey accounted for the Washington goals.

In the only other game played last night, St. Louis Flyers snapped a four-game losing streak, downing Springfield Indians 4-3. Eddie Olson sparked the St. Louis attack with a brace of tallies while Bill McComb and Norm Tustin each hit the mark once. Paul Courteau, Allan Kuntz and Wimpy Jones scored for Indians.

Three games are scheduled for tonight — Hershey at Buffalo, Springfield at Cleveland and Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.

Junior Golf Match New Proposal

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (AP). — Robert Hudson of Portland, Ore., who sponsored the revival of the Ryder Cup matches last fall, is willing to underwrite the proposed junior team match between United States and British kid golfers which the Professional Golfers Association is considering as a "top" to its new youth program...With the USGA stepping in to run a junior championship, this match could be a natural ...But this corner holds the belief that the PGA has a bigger job to do....That is to get its member pros busy organizing teams, leagues, anything to provide competition and arouse interest in high schools and playgrounds and persuading their clubs ta let the kids use their courses.

Sports Before Your Eyes

The same British movie technicians who worked on the film of the Royal wedding last fall will be employed to make a special 10-reel color film of the summer Olympic Games in London ....Texas is beating the drums to get an all-American basketball rating for little Slater Martin, who explains his high scoring this way: "If you keep running, the man guarding you is going to get tired."

AHL Chit-Chat

Angelo Bertelli, former star Notre Dame football player now is coaching the Eddie Shore-sponsored Springfield Rifles, in the Atlantic Amateur Hockey League, an affiliate of Shore's Springfield Indians of the American Hockey League....Hockey has become a favorite winter sport of the British Isles. One of the foremost boosters is Bobby Giddens, publisher and editor of the hockey paper, "Ice Hockey World," which deals with English and Scottish hockey in particular.....Pete Bessone, former hard-hitting defence star with Providence Reds of the AHL now is coaching a team in Paris.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

England's Olympic hockeyists, spurred by the brilliant goal-tending of Winnipeg's Jimmy Foster, rocked the sports world 12 years ago today when they bumped Canada off her world's amateur championship perch with a 2-1 victory. It was a bitterly-fought contest and marked Canada's first loss.

Canines Strut Today At Show In U.S.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—(AP).—Madison Square Garden went to the dogs today.

The best canines in the United States and Canada—2,540 of them—were on display in the 72nd annual Westminster Kennel Club show.

All but the puppies already are blue ribbon winners. Tomorrow night a new best-of-show champion will be picked from a half dozen variety group winners.

Judging of the huge entry list, largest in the show's history, started this morning.

The blue ribbon feature is new. Only dogs that won firsts at previous shows licensed by the Canadian or American Kennel Clubs have been admitted.

Yesterday Mrs. G. W. Hyslop's champion Kilmet of Cairndania from Brockville, Ont., won the best-of-breed award for Cairn terriers at the dog show of the Associated Terrier Clubs. The show was a preliminary to the Westminster event starting today.

SWEET CAPORAL CIGARETTES

$10 MILLION ASKED—If it's soup at all, it's rather-thin for more than 400 million children in Europe and Asia. To purchase food and clothing the Canadian Appeal for Children seeks to collect $10 million. This money will be spent in Canada and the goods shipped overseas. Nor is education being neglected. Tools for learning — pencils, chalk, books and paper — will be sent to these children. Your contribution may be left at any Canadian bank.

Say High Prices Stopped In U.S.

By The Canadian Press

Yesterday's renewed break in United States commodity markets indicates that high prices are stopped.

Conceivably they could have regained their ground following the three-day fall of last week; and the stronger tone Saturday and Monday was the testing ground on which they had to prove their vitality.

It developed that they couldn't hold the temporary comeback, and slid more precipitately yesterday than any day last week.

Not that there is reason to believe that commodity prices will crash. What is happening is that their real values are being tested.

For the most part this is good news. The only danger, and it is an improbable one, is that the slide should become so great as to stagger the entire economy.

As it is there will be embarrassments. Firms stocked with high-price goods will have to watch to keep them moving so as not to get caught when lower-priced articles come on the market.

COAL-POWER

It takes 11 pounds of coal to haul one ton of freight 100 miles.

Sir Isaac Isaacs Dies

MELBOURNE, Feb. 11. (UP)—Sir Isaac Isaacs, 92, Australia's first native-born governor-general, died today. His appointment in 1931 broke precedent and touched off a lively controversy. It was the first occasion, following upon passage of the Statute of Westminster, that a dominion had appointed a native son to be the king's representative. He held office for five years, retiring in 1936.

Drug Robber Jailed Again

WHITBY, Feb. 11.—Convicted of armed robbery in the narcotic holdup at the Ontario Mental Hospital here a year ago, Elgin Richards, Whitby, was sentenced to two years less a day when he appeared before Judge D. B. Coleman on a charge of retaining the stolen automobile which was used for the getaway. Richards pleaded guilty. He had previously been sentenced to three and a half years on armed robbery and narcotic counts.

Three other youths are already serving penitentiary terms, although one of them has been granted a new trial. Richards has already spent nearly a year in the county jail since his conviction. His sentence yesterday will run concurrent with the previous sentence.

"With the agreement of the Crown, I am asking that the sentence be made two years less one day," stated defence counsel A. W. S. Greer.

May Cut Production

OSHAWA, Feb. 11. (CP)—The dollar figure which has been set for importing automobile parts and materials "may have the result of keeping our domestic production for 1948 below what we would like to have achieved and what the market could use," William A. Wecker, president of General Motors of Canada, said yesterday.

Church Re-union Supported By New Primate

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—Comments regarding progress toward, "the reunion of Christendom," the position of the Anglican Church in Canada and the attitude of the church against divorce were coupled with important announcements of Most Rev. George Frederick Kingston, Archbishop of Nova Scotia and Primate of All Canada, at a press conference in Lauder Memorial Hall here.

"My personal view is that it would be unwise to relax the church law with respect to marriage and divorce," the Primate declared briefly on this question, adding he could only speak unofficially because a committee was dealing with the problem. There were cases, developing from the war, which aroused sympathy but any relaxation of the canon against the re-marriage of divorced persons would be a mistake."

"No sensible person is opposed to church re-union which is a reunion of Christendom," His Grace said with reference to the present conversations between the Anglican and United Churches in Canada. Emphasizing that there was no plan for corporate re-union in the discussions, he said it was "a great thing to sit down and talk sensibly about matters without irritation." The subject was not being rushed, however.

"Yes, including the Roman Catholic church," His Grace replied when asked if the Roman faith should be considered in the over-all plan for universal Christendom. He pointed out that "all other churches" had been invited to participate in conversations.

Already there was co-operation by the Anglican Communion with other churches in the Canadian Council of Churches and, in this connection, His Grace announced that he would be attending the first meeting of the World Council of Churches in Amsterdam, August 24 to September 4.

The Primate will also be one of five Canadian delegates to the Lambeth Conference in England, July 4-Aug. 12, the first of such meetings since 1930. All told there would be 300 bishops at the conference from all parts of the world, the Primate adding that the original suggestion for Lambeth discussions had come from a Canadian, the late Archbishop Lewis of Kingston.

The Canadian Primate has been invited, as the head of the oldest overseas diocese (Nova Scotia), to preach at St. Paul's Cathedral in London, June 29 for the 250th anniversary of the Society for the Promotion of Christian Knowledge.

Importance of Hay Crop Discussed By Farmers

TORONTO, Feb. 11. — They were spelling hay with a capital "H" at last night's meeting of the Ontario Crop Improvement Association when members decided to adopt the theme "Make grassland cashland." Hay, the association decided, was one of the most important factors in successful farmin .

The meetin, started off with a discussion by W. Alex Muir of Woodstock. Another field day will be held this year, possibly several. Then delegates heard a discussion of modern hay-making by Douglas H. Hart of Woodstock.

There were other lectures, too, on hay and pastures. Prof. R. G. Knox of the Ontario Agricultural College's livestock department, spoke on pastures as they affected livestock, while Norman Schultz of Brantford discussed pastures as applied to poultry.

Later in the meeting, members of the association heard prize-winning essays on "What better grassland means to Ontario," by W. J. McPherson of Cooksville, and Hugh Renwick of Keene. Mr. McPherson told delegates that pasture means more than an aid to production, soil conservation and economic feeding. Well-kept pastures, he said, add to the beauty of Ontario's farm lands and provide a tourist attraction.

Delegates got the lowdown on high nutritional value of hay and pasture from Dr. H. D. Branion, of the Department of Animal Nutrition at the OAC. A. H. Martin, secretary of the Ontario pasture committee, presented a progress report on pastures.

"In 1948," he said, "an attempt will be made through test plots to secure more information on the management of problem pastures.

The Department of Agriculture, in cooperation with the Crop Improvement Association, will lay down a series of pasture plots in problem areas. Plots will be laid down on a wide variety of soils and conditions, such as wet soils, extremely heavy soils, very light soils, heavily eroded soils, and shallow soils.

"Fertilizer and manure will be applied in accordance with soil needs as indicated by the soil test and the seed mixture made up in a manner calculated to be most useful for the particular set of conditions prevailing on each plot."

Madoc Merchant Hastings Warden

Reeve George West, Madoc Village, beginning his 11th term in that office, was elected 1948 Warden for Hastings County recently.

He was born in Tyendinaga Township and was reared on a farm, remaining there until the family moved to Madoc. For 35 years he has been one of Madoc's leading merchants.

Warden West has been treasurer of St. Peter's Presbyterian Church at Madoc for 35 years. He was active during the war with Victory Loan campaigns and Patriotic Society service.

Mr. and Mrs. West have one son, Kenneth, living at home, and one daughter, Lemoine, on the staff of Stamford Collegiate Institute, Niagara Falls.

One of Warden West's first official acts was to express support for proposals that the County Registry Office be enlarged.

Name Oshawa Man Recreation Director

LINDSAY, Feb. 11.—Lindsay's new recreation director has been chosen. He is E. S. Kennedy of Oshawa and his salary is to be $2,400 per year. His duties commence March 1st. Announcement of these facts was made following the Sunday meeting of the Lindsay Recreation Committee.

The new director is assistant director for Oshawa, a post which he has held for two years. Prior to that he was assistant director of Trinity "K" Club in Toronto. Mr. Kennedy is a veteran of the RCAF and is highly recommended by the Dept. of Physical Fitness, Province of Ontario.

Two Firms Estimating on Ice Plant.

During the meeting it was disclosed by Chairman S. R. Pitts that he has contacts with two firms who have taken measurements and who will submit estimates very shortly.

The matter of rink management was brought up but action was deferred until the artificial ice project's fate for this year was determined.

37 Unions Defy Labor's Order Freezing Wages

LONDON, Feb. 11.—(CP). — Thirty-seven trade unions, defying the Labor Government's wage-freezing policy, voted today to demand higher pay for 3,000,000 members.

The Confederation of Shipbuilding and Engineering Unions agreed in a meeting at Newcastle to press for increases averaging about 14 shillings ($2.80) a week.

The Government, fearful of going bankrupt within six months, fought to get trade union backing for its program to freeze both wages and profits. The program is on a voluntary basis.

Observers believe that a dangerous situation will face the Government if the resistance to the wage policy spreads further before tomorrow's critical House of Commons debate on the program.

A threat to the plan has been introduced by 21 rank-and-file Labor members of Parliament, who have introduced a motion asking withdrawal of the Government document setting out the new wages policy.

These M.P.'s argue that the plan perpetuates anomalies in payments, earnings, conditions and contains fallacious economic ideas.

They call for a constructive economic policy based on "the layout of a national and industrial plan that will lead to increased output, the preservation of collective bargaining, the ensuring of price stability, limitation of profit, and avoidance of inflation."

Chief mover in this development is Ellis Smith, a Labor member who for a time served under Sir Stafford Cripps when the chancellor of the exchequer was president of the Board of Trade.

The 21 members introduced their motion at almost the same hour that Sir Stafford was giving the country details of Britain's "menacing" adverse balance of payments.

Political quarters fear that many of Britain's industrial workers will respond to the plea to forego wage increases only if satisfactory assurances are given that stringent measures will be taken to control profits in industry.

Cost Of Lumber Claimed Not Out Of Line

MONTREAL, Feb. 11.—(CP).—The cost of lumber for house building is not "out of line" when compared with costs of other materials and the price of labor, D. C. Johnston of Toronto, retiring president, said in an address prepared for delivery before the Canadian Lumbermen's Association convention today.

Because of Mr. Johnston's absence through illness, the address was delivered by C. E. Smith of Blind River, the new president.

He urged the lumber industry to inform the public concerning lumber's present position in the economics of house building by making a comparison of the various factors involved.

"Labor," he continued, "is the greatest individual item to go into the cost of a house, and everyone knows how labor costs have increased."

He warned lumbermen that their products would soon have to be "sold" to the consumer.

Mr. Johnston, referring to the current publicity campaigns by producers of competitive building materials, said that lumbermen, if they wished to hold their place in the market, "should start to educate the public in the many good qualities of lumber as a building material."

C. E. Smith, managing director of the J. J. McFadden Lumber Company, Ltd., Blind River, Ont., was officially installed as president.

Spring Fashions Styled From 1880

PARIS, Feb. 11.—(Reuters).—Smaller waists and skirts nine inches off the ground are keynotes of the spring styles on show here today.

The long skirt has come to stay and one or two designers have slightly increased their length.

As for the wasp waists, they are back to 1880 with a fuller bust line and more pronounced hips.

There is a general movement away from the one-piece frock and at least one designer has abandoned the tailored coat and skirt.

The new materials are all of a piece with the period—the taffetas, lawns, organdies and muslins of mid-Victorian days.

Another Victorian touch is that of stockings to match frocks. But they are in modern nylon—blue, pink or jade green toned with brightly colored parasols and hat veils shot with many colors.

Orders Company Reinstate 15 Men

W. R. Cambers, district representative for UE-CIO, received an order Tuesday morning from Hon. Charles Daly, Provincial Minister of Labour, ordering the reinstatement of 15 employees of the Peterborough Canoe Company.

The employees were discharged in October 1947 by their employer and the Union alleged that the discharge was on account of union activities and sought a commission under Section 31 of Ontario Labour Relations Act to investigate into the allegations.

The outcome of the investigation was the issuance of an Order by Provincial Minister of Labour Charles Daly based on the findings of the Commissioner, His Honour Judge W. S. Lane of Picton which read as follows:

"The report of His Honour Judge W. S. Lane as Industrial Disputes Inquiry Commissioner having indicated that the allegations that the 15 employees were discharged for union activity, were sustained. I do hereby order the Peterborough Canoe Co., to reinstate the employees in its employ."

The hearings were held on the company premises with W. R. Cambers and C. R. Sullivan presenting the case for the union. C. L. Dubin was counsel for the Union and John Currelly counsel for the company.

Say US Economy Too Strong To Be Stampeded

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 —(AP)—The post-war inflation has had its back broken, and the American consumer can sit back today and say to himself, "So far, so good."

This is the big conclusion to be drawn to date from the spectacular break in commodity prices in the United States which began just a week ago. Now there are other things to think about.

Is a recession at hand? Will it be brought on by panic selling? What will check it?

The top business brains of the country pondered these questions today, and most analysts viewed the situation with confidence.

First it must be recognized that wherever there is room for panic, wherever people act in the mass as they do on the great trading markets, then anything can happen. The psychological factor is the big unknown which most frequently upsets economists' predictions.

After allowance is made for this however, this is what economists see:

The shakedown in commodities was overdue. Now it has come. But the American economy as a whole is too strong to be stampeded at this time into a severe recession or depression. There are too many jobs yet to be done, too many things that people need and won't be able to get for some time.

The farmer has seen his best prices. Food must be cheaper, now that the rest of the world is beginning to take care of itself. With food cheaper, other retail prices should come down gradually, or at least stop going up.

Coal Miners' Daily Suspends Publication

GLACE BAY, N.S., Feb. 11 — (CP)—Editor Floyd Gates today announced the suspension of publication for a "short period of time" of the daily newspaper the Glace Bay Gazette.

Mr. Gates made the following statement without elaboration:

"Owing to mechanical and other difficulties that have arisen in the plant and after studied consideration it has been decided that in the best interests of the United Mine Workers its daily newspaper suspend publication for a short period of time.

"This suspension will allow for badly needed repairs and improvements. It will become effective today."

The editor's announcement came nearly five months after a statement from District 26, United Mine Workers (CCL) headquarters that the Gazette, Canada's only Labor daily, would receive no further subsidy from Union funds.

Claims Minister Stuck Neck Out

WINDSOR, Feb. 11 (CP) — domestic consumers are blamed by Hon. Leslie Frost for the closing of factories which use natural gas, the shortage cannot be so simply explained, observers here said after hearing the Ontario Mines Minister's explanation.

They declared the Minister's statement makes no mention of the prolonged cold weather, without precedent since natural gas became an indispensable part of industry. Much stress is laid upon the fact that there is a 14,000,000 cubic-foot difference between domestic consumption this year and last during the last nine days of January.

He blames most of it on the illegal installation of heating units purchased by householders.

Plumbing and heating firms here admit some of this has been going on, but they pose the question: what would the minister do if his house and his family was cold and he could get a gas heater.

"I think Mr. Frost has stuck his neck out," one veteran gas man said. "He hasn't taken into consideration the severity of the winter."

Fewer Auction Sales Farm Survey Shows

Ontario farmers are beginning to stir into preparatory action for the production of 1946, as reflected in reports from agricultural representatives to the provincial department this week. The seed-cleaning plant at Elgin Co-Operative Services is running 24 hours a day. Lambton says there are some enquiries for farms to rent or buy.

In the Guelph area young pigs are again in demand; auction sales are fewer, and also further between; prices at sales are still reported good. At Arthur in Wellington county there are approximately 200 cases of eggs a week fewer than last year going to market. The price is higher by 6 or 7 cents a dozen.

Interest in young pigs is picking up aagin. A few have been offered recently in Huron around $8 to $10.

Contracting for canning crops is under way in Northumberland. Demand for dairy cattle is holding up in Leeds where farmers are buying supplies of seed and fertilizer. Lincoln's crop improvement farmers are bringing into the county a car load of registered No. 1 Ajax oats. U.S. buyers are in Middlesex with orders for purebred dairy cattle.

Australia Studies Compensation Plan

SYDNEY, Australia, Feb. 11 — (CP)— The Australian government is studying a plan to demand compensation from the Japanese for ill-treatment of Australian prisoners of war, it has been revealed in a letter from Army Minister Chambers to a member of the Ex-Prisoners of War and Relatives Association.

Mr. Chambers wrote that no decision was expected until after the general Japanese reparations question was decided. Other countries who had fought against the Japanese would have to be consulted before any demands could be made. The British government was in sympathy with the plan and would like it to be part of the reparations claim, he said.

"My department has full information on illness and treatment suffered by all Australian soldiers who were prisoners of the Japanese and if it is decided that compensation will be paid, they may be assured that the necessary action will be taken," added the minister.

Fire Commissioner Gives Stern Warnings

OTTAWA, Feb. 11 (CP)—Dominion Fire Commissioner W. L. Clairmont, noting the loss of 44 lives in eastern Canada fires, said today Canadians might well ponder those points of every-day fire protection:

1. Be careful where you butt that cigaret.
2. Make doubly sure that electrical devices in the home are not over taxing the house wiring.
3. Don't thaw frozen water pipes with a blow torch or burning papers — wrap cloth around them and douse them with hot water.
4. Be careful in operation of the furnace and if it has automatic control, check it frequently anyway.

Ottawa Group Praised At Festival

By FRED KERNER

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—(CP). — An "excellent interpretation" of the classic Regnard comedy, "Le Legatire Universel," (The Universal Legatee) by Le Caveau Players of Ottawa last night drew unbounded praise from adjudicator Robert Stuart, as the Eastern Ontario French drama festival neared completion.

Le Caveau, winner of French group honors at last year's Dominion drama festival, was commended for its "hearty approach and attack" of the comedy of deception and love. Mr. Stuart said the group's teamwork was "splendid," its variation "excellent" and its tempo "correctly brisk."

To director Guy Beaulne, the adjudicator offered compliment on the invention of comic business and the creation of the modernistic, impressionistic setting.

Acting honors were divided among the three leading roles taken by Janine Dube, Yvon Beaulne and Guy Baulne. The trio, in the stylized comedie Francais fashion, set a brisk pace and kept the audience constantly laughing. For two neatly drawn character sketches as ancient notaries, Mr. Stuart complimented Marcel Coassais and Yvon Barette.

A newly-formed group from Hull, Que.—Concerts Brading—offered Georges Courteline's one-act domestic comedy which the adjudicator termed "a pretty little play."

LEARNING ELECTRONICS

ONTARIO'S products are desired and purchased by people all over the world, and the capacity to produce such goods largely determines the economic welfare of every man, woman and child within her borders. Because the sale of every article produced in Ontario brings valuable dollars into this Province, we are all more assured of job security ... and we and our children can have more of the better things in life. But to produce such goods in sufficient quantities, skilled labour is vital. That is why every single one of us should be glad that war veterans are constantly being trained to provide the skilled hands so needed by Ontario industry. They receive ON THE JOB training under expert instructors in our Ontario factories.

This training, provided through the co-operation of the Department of Veterans' Affairs, the Federal Department of Labour and the Ontario Department of Education, starts the veteran off on the road to skilled craftsmanship. Radio, television and the field of industrial electronics all offer outstanding opportunities for skilled technicians and because Ontario's electronics products are eagerly purchased by countries the world over, every effort of these newly skilled veterans helps to make Ontario a finer place in which to live and contributes to the welfare and happiness of all her citizens.

ELECTRONICS

Stanley Barlow, 21, and S. R. Inkster, 26, both of Toronto, and both former members of the Royal Canadian Air Force, are typical of the hundreds of veterans who have been trained in schools and ON THE JOB.

Here they check the measurements and performance characteristics of an electronic control device for control of motor speeds. This instrument was designed and constructed by these two veterans under supervision of an electronics expert.

Cobourg School Uses Strap No Flogging, Board Declares

TORONTO, Feb. 11.—A standard school strap is the one instrument used at the girls' training school, Cobourg, for corporal punishment and this type of discipline is resorted to only after all other means have failed. In making this statement yesterday, the Ontario Training Schools' Advisory Board thus refuted the allegations of Mrs. Gwenyth Barrington that girls at the school are "flogged."

The board, comprised of five members who serve without remuneration, is headed by Dr. E. P. Lewis, Toronto psychiatrist. After the charges were made by Mrs. Barrington in a book she wrote following a brief visit to the school, one of the board made a special personal investigation of conditions there.

In the statement that followed, it was emphasized that "flogging"—an outmoded form of physical punishment—never has been used in the Cobourg school, and while a strap, the same as authorized for use in the schools of the province, is available, its use is seldom and sparingly.

The board has been impressed with the high calibre of the staff in each of the schools, which it frequently visits and inspects, and is particularly interested in the moral, social, educational, occupation and recreational development of each pupil.

"Windows at Cobourg are not barred," continues the statement. "Reasonable safeguard against running away from a training school is necessary, and for this purpose some screens are used.

"Many of the windows in both residences of the Cobourg school are unscreened. Basement cupboards are not used for detention purposes."

Every child capable of education attends academic classes which are regularly inspected by a public school inspector and all grades are taught from one to 11. Twenty-eight girls passed the entrance to high school last June and the previous year 32 out of a class of 33 graduated from the lower school.

The great majority of these girls come from broken homes where discipline and training are lacking," continues the statement. "At Cobourg they receive careful training in homemaking and acquire skills which are absolutely essential in the successful management of a home."

Among the subjects taught are sewing, dressmaking, gardening, cooking, interior decorating, various crafts, vocal music, choral singing and piano. Several students each year have been successful in passing the examinations of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Toronto, it is noted. Outside contacts are frequent through attendance at the theatre, concerts, league games, church services, shopping.

The girls recently put on a play in the Victoria Opera House, Cobourg, which netted approximately $150 for the Business and Professional Women's Club which has been of great assistance to the school.

"The average length of stay at the training school is 11 months," says the statement. "When a girl is considered suitable for placement she is paroled home if the home is approved. If not, she is placed in a selected foster home where her progress is carefully supervised by a placement officer. Guardianship is released as soon as it is considered safe to discontinue supervision. At present there are 100 girls in the school and 182 under supervision outside the school."

Prisoner Denies Killing Man In Scuffle

KINGSTON, Feb. 11 — (CP) — Denial that he killed Gerald Harrison of Toronto, fatally stabbed during a fight following a crap game in Lake Ontario Park here last Aug. 3, was contained in a statement by Leon Stafford admitted yesterday at Stafford's retrial on a charge of murder in the death.

Last October a jury disagreed and the new trial was ordered.

When Crown Attorney T. J. Rigney produced the statement, B. J. Spencer Pitt, defence counsel, admitted it had been given voluntarily. Kenneth Harrison, brother of the dead man, was due to continue his evidence when the trial resumes today.

In the statement Stafford, 24-year-old negro from Waycross, Ga., said: "I honestly didn't do it—I have never carried a knife and never owned one except when I was in the navy— all I did was put up my hands and then I saw the guy was cut. There should have been some honest people around who saw what happened—I'm right-handed and I saw blood on my left hand."

Kenneth Harrison told the court he broke up one scuffle between Stafford and his brother on the night of Aug. 3 in the park and had started to walk away from the scene of the crap game when he heard some more scuffling.

Chases Man.

"I started running back to the place then I saw Gerald start to fall— there was blood all over his shirt. As I ran I saw two men running away in different directions; one wore a white jacket and the other a dark suit. I chased the fellow wearing the white jacket (Johnny Harris,) a material witness at the first trial but absent at the present hearing) and caught up with him in a car just to the east of the pavilion.

"I told him he wasn't going anywhere and then Detective Vincent McQuaide came along."

Earlier Detective McQuaide, under cross-examination, said he first noticed spots of blood on Harris 'coat after they had arrived at the police station. Afterwards he noticed blood on the sleeve of Stafford's coat.

Ask Public Ownership Of Gas Industry

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 11. — (CP). — Alderman William C. Riggs last night gave notice of a motion asking that Windsor City Council go on record as favoring public ownership of the gas industry, and that the Ontario Government be asked to take steps to carry this out.

Same methods and general principles now used in the operation of the Hydro system are advocated by Alderman Riggs.

Discussion was deferred until the next regular meeting.

"OPERATION PARA-DOG"—A simulated wrecked plane with "sprvivors" waving wildly in front of it and an "SOS" written in huge letters in the snow, marks the objective of the rescue plane (top) in "Operation Para-Dog" made at Goose Bay, Labrador airfield. Following the call for help, dogs are rushed by C-47 plane to the scene of wreckage and there dropped by parachute together with a dog driver and a paradoctor. Medical supplies and sleds are also dropped. The injured are placed on the sleds and driven by dog team to terrain where an awaiting plane will take them aboard and rush them toward hospitalization. The operation which normally takes days by old-fashioned methods, took minutes, perfected by and for the U.S. army. Plate at left below shows a "crashed" plane is the objective. This amazing picture shows the dogs in the air headed for an almost pinpoint landing. A paradoctor and a sled driver also jumped. One of of the crash crew was found to be "severely injured." He was blanketed on the sled and driven to other terrain where a Norseman plane was waiting.

Taxi-Drivers Across London Have Grudge Against Public

By STUART UNDERHILL

LONDON, Feb. 11—(CP).—London's taxi-drivers, ramming their unmistakable cabs through the jungle of West End traffic, do so with unmistakable gloom today, because "Y'see, guvnor, this job ain't no picnic." Sitting in his exposed front seat, the target of chill winds and an occasional dollop of rain, the driver has many complaints—the difficulty of getting new cabs, gasoline rationing, the lowness of fares, the general stinginess of customers.

He's inclined to regard himself as a persecuted if not a dying race. About 8,370 cabbies operate 5,000 licensed vehicles in London, compared with 11,471 employed in 7,986 cabs before the war. But in the good old days 240 replacements yearly drove onto the streets; today 400 are continually laid up for repairs.

Nothing But Fares

"The only thing that 'asn't changed since pre-war is the fares," groused the old veteran. "Ninepence (18 cents) for yer first two-thirds of a mile. Coo!"

Limited to 4½ gallons of gasoline a day, the average cabbie runs up a mileage of 50 to 60 miles. Those employed in a fleet get 33 1-3 per cent commission on every £1 clocked, and pocket the "dropsy," as they call the tips.

They regard this largesse as a right and don't hesitate to comment contemptuously if it doesn't come up to expectations. Londoners whose tipping scale was upset by generous-handed American service men are pleased to hear that American tourists now are regarded as the stingiest.

Morose Figure

Separated from his customer by a glass figure, the taxi-driver is apt to appear a morose figure, huddled in a voluminous overcoat. He usually accepts the most difficult address with a grunt and drives off, giving no indication of the intensive training that has fitted him for his job.

First of all he has to get a licence, which requires an exhaustive police examination and a six months' course at a cabmen's college, run by the British Legion. There he learns London's topography, including the position of 618 hospitals, 177 police stations and 843 residential courts.

Seasoned drivers can tell by a glance at the surrounding architecture what part of London they are in, even guessing it to within a few streets.

Grudge Intensified.

Recently their grudge against the public has been intensified by determined characters who have hailed them into court for refusing fares. With gasoline so precious, cabbies don't like long runs into the suburbs whjch involve returning empty. The law says they mustn't turn anyone down—but all of them are choosy unless they're sure of generous "dropsy."

Cabbies have names for popular destinations — "American Workhouse" for the Park Lane Hotel, "The Cold Blow" for St. Pancras Railway Station, "The Rats' Hole" for the Charing Cross Subway Station, and "The Ditch" for Fleet Street. And many more which cannot be repeated.

Scientists Get New Wheat For Farmers

OTTAWA, Feb. 11 (CP)—Canada's wheat scientists, the men whose tireless experiments produced sawfly-resistant rescue and Rugged Regent and Renown strains for the prairie farmer, have come up with a new spring wheat called Cascade, especially developed for growing in eastern Canada.

The agriculture department announced today that the new strain, develop by the cereal division of the central experimental farm at Ottawa, now is available to farmers. Limited quantities of seed is being offered to next spring's seeding.

Cascade was developed to serve a special purpose—to meet the frequent shortage of soft white wheat for the cake and pastry trade. It has been in the development stage since 1938.

Cascade is a white, semi-hard beadless wheat and resulted from a number of crosses of low-protein yet rust-resistant types. Under exacting tests during the last few years it has proved to be of excellent yielding ability. It won first prize at the 1947 Royal Winter Fair, a similar prize at last year's Ottawa Winter Fair and took fourth at the 1947 International Grain and Hay Show in Chicago.

The specific breeding program was directed by J. G. C. Fraser, working under Dr. T. H. Newman, the Dominion cerealist whose plant breeders at experimental stations all across Canada have helped make Canada's huge wheat yield what it is today.

PROTECTED—Wintry blasts from England's Wolferton marshes cause Queen Elizabeth to protect her stinging ears with a warm shawl as she attends ceremonies marking the completion of a reclamation project. Some 600 acres of marshland have been put into cultivation there to augment England's meagre food supply.

Good Marketing Program Urged

BRANTFORD, Feb. 11 (CP)—If agriculture is to play a part in the establishment of a new world it must not depend on governments and speculators to shape its policy, Charles McInnes, Iroquois, Ont., president of the Ontario Hog Producers Association, said last night.

"It must handle its own affairs," he told a joint meeting of the rBant County Federation of Agriculture and the Brant County Hog Producers, Mr. McGinnes, said that if agriculture needed anything today it was a good marketing program.

"We must not let government and speculators market our product for us. We must establish a collective marketing scheme of our own."

"If we don't have such a scheme, you and I are going to be a bunch of galley slaves working to provide food for the aristocrats of the urban centres."

To reach their goal producers would have to make use of all the legislation available, Mr. McInnes said.

"But if the present legislation is not adequate, steps must be taken to see that suitable legislation is obtained.

He advocated that producers have a hold and claim on their product from the time it leaves the pens until it reaches the consumers. Other industries have this privilege but not the hog producing industry.

MP's Demanding Right To Immediate Information

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, Feb. 12 (CP). — Cabinet ministers who try to shift responsibility for answering questions to newly-created boards and commissions are finding members of parliament loath to give up their right to immediate information.

Months ago, Lord President Morrison tol dthe House of Commons that ministers would not give replies in Parliament on the day-to-day operations of nationalized industries. But mild-mannered Transport Minister Barnes found the House grumpy when he referred questions to the British Transport Commission, now in charge of nationalized transport.

Before nationalization Jan. 1, the minister had to answer queries about such matters as service failures, shortage of sleeper berths and inadequate dining services. Under the new setup, he said that a number of questions on railways which had been put to him would be brought to the attention of the BTC.

Finds It Irritating

Barnes could stand Opposition quips but he found the irritation spreading to Government supporters. Auburn-haired Mrs. Leah Manning, Labor member for Epping, asked if it was proposed to increase the number of trains on a Central subway line now badly overcrowded at peak hours.

Barnes said it was a matter for the BTC.

"Is it proposed to shrug off every question?" snapped Mrs. Manning.

"Conditions under which people have to travel to and from their work are absolutely disgraceful and a danger to life and limb and the whole nervous system."

Barnes said he did not have the information she wanted and this brought from her the traditional member's warning of discontent—she would raise the matter again with the hope of starting a debate.

Speaker Douglas Clifton Brown said he "understood" a debate on the whole question might be arranged later.

Two Provincials Will Police Essex

ESSEX, Feb. 11 —(CP)—Two Ontario Provincial Police officers will take over active policing of this town next Monday, it was announced today.

Constable Edward Godfrey, who has been on highway patrol duty on Highways 2 and 39, will be in charge of the detachment assigned to the town, with Constable Arthur Vosding, formerly of the Chatham detachment, the second man on the squad.

Constable James Dever will take over the highway patrol work. Constable Robert Barron will be moved to Essex from Chatham to take over other county duties from Constable Denve.

The town came to agreement with O.P.P. authorities for the policing of the town by provincial members when the town's lone policeman, Norman Hogarth, resigned the first of the year to join the O.P.P.

Trade Board Gives Aid To Redecorating Hall

NORWOOD, Feb. 11—(ENS)—The annual dinner meeting of the Norwood Board of Trade was held on Thursday. Rev. C. J. Carroll opened the meeting and Rev. E. E. Pugsley gave an address on the British Crown Empire.

President J. J. Stewart gave a brief outline of the history and functions of the board.

The board granted $25 to the cost of the recent re-decoration of the town hall.

Mr. Brethen spoke on the necessity of the support of the board members to urge other citizens to assist the local law enforcement authorities in the elimination of "certain undesirable acts" that have occurred in Norwood recently.

Holstein Breeders

Mayor Ovens complimented the Peterborough Holstein breeders "for the wonderful progress you have made, especially during the last seven years. This has been a development which I have watched with a great deal of interest." His Worship said he was happy to join in the congratulations to the breeders, Mr. Tully, Mr. Seymour and Coughlin Brothers, and also to Miss Marie Kelly, for their achievements.

Varied Program.

Dinner music was played by Morris Duke at the piano and George Gatfield, violinist. The entertainment feature was half an hour or more of ventriliquism by Ted Rust of Toronto, who provided a lot of good-natured fun, including vocal deceptions with Lorne Reynolds and Norm McConkey as apparent soloists. The evening wound up with dancing.

Mr. Hamilton was introduced by Dr. Harold Worton, and virtually pointed his preface with contrastingly serious reference to the long laughter of the audience at the humor of Mr. Rust and his mannikin.

"I hope we can go on enjoying such occasions as this in the years to come," he said. "That depends entirely on ourselves. How much, I hope to show you. In our own day millions have forgotten how to laugh. I don't mean only the people in Europe who are starving. I mean the millions who are trembling under a great fear because of what I have chosen to call the struggle that is going on throughout the world."

Mr. Hamilton said it was a struggle between two sets of opposing ideas and conceptions of life. Beneath it all lie two vastly different conceptions of what men are.

Two Conceptions

On the one side was the belief in man as a free indiivdual, a separate personality with his rights and duties, a man made in the image of God, possessing something which made him different from any other living animal. The opposite conception of man regarded him as little better than an animal to be told what he can do, what he must do and what he can't do, a person to be pushed around, to be regimented. That indicated the struggle which was going on between two conceptions of essentially what is a human being.

Mr. Hamilton said he had no apology for presenting this subject because Canada was on the verge of making a vital decision, "and each of you as an individual Canadian will have to make that decision, or else soon or late the day will come when you could all be under the second of the two categories I have outlined. In the last few days something has happened on which you must make a decision."

Mr. Hamilton held up a booklet entitled "Keep Canada Independent," by Tim Buck, "a gentleman who, while the war was being fought and your sons and friends were laying down their lives, was skulking in the woods of Canada."

The booklet was a summary report of the meeting of the Labor-Progressive Party, national committee, in Toronto, January 6-9, 1948. "Can you imagine the audacity of this leader of Communism in Canada talking about keeping this country independent when his every minute is devoted to smashing the independence of Canada and making her subservient to the Soviet Union?"

Makes Feint

Mr. Hamilton read the first paragraph beginning "There is a crisis of national policy in Canada to-day," asserting that the Federal Government had embarked on a policy which could only result in making this country economically and politically tributary to the United States. "In that statement the Communists want you to take your eye off the ball. Tim Buck is not concerned about Canada becoming a tributary to the United States. His aim is to make us tributary to Soviet Russia.

He says: "Two world wars have so shaken the big business profit system that it is breaking down, staggering under the weight of its internal contradictions." A few paragraphs later on, he contradicts himself: "The year 1947 witnessed the highest level of production ever achieved in Canada. The dollar value of our exports was three times the pre-war average. On October 1, 1947, the index of employment was 4 per cent above the wartime peak." And yet, on the other hand, the Communist leader says our system of free enterprise is collapsing.

Mr. Hamilton quoted another declaration in the Buck booklet: "The Labor-Progressive Party is Canada's party of Marxism." He then proceeded with an outline of the materialistie philosophy of Marxism, its theories and its purpose of world revolution.

Abolition of Freedom

The aim of Marxian communism is the abolition of private property, bourgeois freedom, independence, individuality, and the wresting of political power by the proletariat.

"Who are the bourgeoisie? You and I; all those people who by their work and intelligence have built up for themselves a small stake in the community. And that includes our farmers. The avowed purpose of Communism is the complete annihiliation of this middle class."

The bulk of this country's wealth, Mr. Hamilton said, was in middle class hands. Capital investment of 730,000 farmers last year was $5.3 billions and their income was more than one billion dollars. At the same time there were 6,907 people in Canada whose incomes exceeded $10,000 a year, and their total income was $172,000,000. They were comparatively "poor picking."

"Has Communism the same ideas now as in the doctrine of Karl Marx?" Mr. Hamilton posed as a question, and offered in reply quotation from the official constitution of the Communist International which met in London, Eng., last year. "In article one of the document we find the objectives of Communists to be: "The establishment of the world dictatorship of the proletariat", and the "establishment of a world union of Soviet Republics." Their objective of conquest involves: "the violent overthrow of bourgeois power, the destruction of the capitalist state apparatus (armies, police, judiciary, parliaments, etc.) and the substituting in its place new organs of proletariat power."

Deeply Involved

Mr. Hamilton said the Canadian Communists were in the Red plot up to the neck. He quoted a greeting from the 8th Dominion convention of the Communist party of Canada to Dimitroff: "We thank you comrade Dimitroff for your wise leadership and your comradely assistance, and pledge to you that the Canadian Communist party will be a worthy section of the great international of Lenin and Stalin."

And to Stalin: "And you who with and following Lenin, led the great party which made these victories for mankind possible, we hail as our trusted leader, our dearest comrade, whose life and work inspire us to greater efforts to bring closer the victory of Socialism (i.e. a successful revolution) in our own country and all over the world."

Another quotation from the Tim Buck pamphlet: "It is the special task of the Labor-Progressive Party to bring Marxism-Leninism to the Canadian labor movement. Our celebration of the 100th anniversary of Marxism must be a very important contribution to that task."

The L. P. political policy in this country, Mr. Hamilton said, was not to put forward its own candidates, but to support the C.C.F "The C.C.F. hold up their hands in horror, but will welcome those 30,000 votes. The L. P. will try to infiltrate into the Socialist party and get control of it.

"Take it from me that they are smart and they are never inactive. Their lives are spent in doing what their master tells them. And they will get control. You cannot discount the Communists just because there are only 30,000 of them in this country."

Mr. Hamilton said that Socialists professed no intention of socializing the farms of Canada, because the farmer owned the tools of production.

Little Faith In Plan

"Aren't you lucky. Everything else would be sociliazed, banks, factories, transportation, national resources, every blessed thing except the farmers and their lands! Do you believe that? Do you think you will be excepted in a socialized state? Don't you think you'll be able to will your property to a son or daughter. You won't because it will become the property of the state. They make a point that factories will not be confiscated, that people will be paid for everything taken from them, that all shareholders will be paid in government bonds. But they never say when the bonds will mature, if ever, and when people would get back their capital."

"You have got to make a choice. You ask 'what can I do?' You have only one weapon unless you wait until you may have to take up real arms, and that is your vote. But, the average vote in federal, provincial and municipal elections in this country is by three people out of every ten. They are all who think enough of their franchise as the symbol and support of their citizenship to cast their votes. I am sorry to say that our women folk are the worst offenders. You won't find the Communists staying at home. It is hard to understand why those who have the most to lose by this indifference are the ones who stay at home. There are not many people laughing in Russia or anywhere in Europe. If you want to protect the gift of laughter which you enjoyed so much this evening, you are the people who have to do it, each of you."

Moral Degradation

Mr. Hamilton concluded by reading a recent review of the state of life in Germany, emphasizing the moral degradation of so many of its people and especially among its youth. The struggle of his subject resolved itself finally into a moral question. Communists believed neither in God nor man. Marx himself hated God. "You've got to choose between the way of life expressed in loving your neighbor and, on the other hand, hating him. If we are to remain true to ourselves and our principles we must use every ounce of moral strength we have to fight back the moral contamination that is reaching out from Europe."

The thanks of the Club was extended to Mr. Hamilton by Vern Campbell. The address had cast a clearer light on the problems confronting our own country, Mr. Campbell said, and must have left in the thoughts of every one the necessity of taking stock of our own position lest we become infected with ideas foreign to the democratic way of life.

A SPOONFUL OF MILK A DAY

That's more than millions of children in the world's ruined lands can hope to have, unless . . .

As you watch your own youngsters enjoying their meals, think of those others. They're starving, ragged, uneducated — yet they, too, are the world's future. Our future — the future of OUR children — is bound up with theirs.

They MUST be fed, clothed, educated, if our world is not to end in tragedy and chaos.

Canadian Appeal for Children has to raise at least $10,000,000 if Canada is to contribute her share to meet their desperate and immediate needs.

More Cement Fewer Nails Dealers Report

Paradoxically as it may sound there appears to be no shortage of shortages, and in this matter the humble nail seems to head the list.

A round up of hardware stores reveals a grim picture especially in the case of wire nails. There is sufficient evidence that the number of wire nails manufactured has in no way decreased, but the great demand, due to the extensive building program throughout the province, has resulted in the present shortage.

One hardware store in the city has received no wire nails for more than three months, while another has been successful in purchasing an odd keg or two per month. A survey of hardware stores indicates that no one is sure of the reason for present shortage apart from the great demand for them due to the reason given.

It is reported that some manufacturers are producing more nails than ever, but practically their whole output is earmarked for priority housing projects. Returned men who are building their own homes have number one priority and this market accounts for a large percentage of the output.

There is not however such a shortage in cut nails. Though this type of nail is not popular with the housebuilder and carpenter, they are fairly plentiful and one of the city's leading hardware stores reports receiving an average of 100 kegs per month.

Another commodity extensively used in the building trade, cement, and of which there was a shortage some time ago, is now much easier. A check up on the supply and demand shows that while at the present time the demand is less due to climatic conditions, there is a good supply stored up when the spring orders come in. It is anticipated that there will be a shortage in the summer and fall, but again this will be attributed to the great demand of the building trade and not to less output.

Canadian cement manufacturers are working to capacity and one big traders in cement in the city, upon being interviewed expressed the opinion that the coming spring would find no shortage in this commodity.

Car Cash Lost

Plans of Gordon Smith, Lakefield, were somewhat dampened Saturday when he arrived in the city to buy a car. He carried $300 cash and a cheque for $40, he reports, and the wallet containing both was lost somewhere on George street.

MISSING: SOME BIRDS

Maybe they've gone back to Capistrano, but one report from several keen observers, Peterborough is missing her usual winter crop of evening grosbeaks, chickadees and nuthatches. So far, none of the three species have shown up to freeze with the other citizens of the city.

Lively Debate On Marriage Features Presbytery Meet

Important and lively discussions on the question of marriage was featured when the Presbytery of the United Churches met in George Street United Church Tuesday, Feb. 10. The report of the committee on the commission on Christian marriage and the Christian home was presented by Rev. M. J. Aiken of St. Andrew's Church. A lively debate followed on the consideration of the questionnaire sent down to the Presbytery for guidance.

The first question discussed was dealing with the matter of civil marriage, and the question put to the floor was: Should the government or the civil authorities be requested to provide the necessary legislation in order that civil marriages maybe performed. The Presbytery discussed this a some length and among the supporters for such a request to be made were the Rev. Mr. Aiken and Rev. Wm. McDonald. When voted upon there were 30 members against such a request being made and six for it. It was felt that though the Presbytery were not against civil marriages, it did not become them as coming from the church to approach the government or the civil authorities. If either of these two bodies felt that such legislation should be framed to permit a civil marriage, then that move should be made by them and not be promulgated by the United church.

Re-Marrying Divorcees

The question of the re-marriage of any divorced person was then put to the Presbytery. The question put was: Should a minister in the active pastorate only, be permitted to officiate at the marriage of a divorced person. There were seven for the motion and 25 against. The majority felt that the marriage of a divorced person should not necessarily be conducted by an active minister only, and such marriage by a retired minister would be in order.

A vote on the length of notice to be given by a divorced person before marriage found strong favor in the length of time being considerably increased. The question of a divorced person being required to give four weeks notice to the minister found 36 supporters. There was one dissenter. It was felt that the four weeks might be necessary in order to investigate matters pertaining as to whom might be the guilty party.

The Presbytery decided that where a divorced person may wish to become a member of the United church, there would be no need for such to be investigated by the Presbytery but that it should be dealt with by the minister and his session. It was also agreed upon that a special record of divorced persons be kept and made available to all the Presbytery.

Wants All Buses Off George St.

A suggested method of alleviating traffic congestion on the central blocks of George street will be advanced at the next meeting of the Peterborough Business Men's Association by Myer Levine, a merchant whose own store is located close to the heart of the daily crowding complained about . . . the corners of George and Simcoe streets.

Briefly, Mr. Levine's suggestion is that the Bus Lines obtain rights to the market square now on the auction block, and that they concentrate their mid-day loading and unloading there, where he also suggests there be erected a public rest-room and waiting rooms where passengers can be sheltered from the weather while waiting for busses.

In this way, Mr. Levine points out, the present congregation of pedestrians, passengers, would-be passengers, busses, cars and other vehicles would be removed from the heavy commercial section of George.

He also noted the improvement which would result in the waiting situation. The current crop of people are often driven by adverse weather to stand either just inside the door or in the doorways of nearby stores, making traffic of customers to and from stores extremely inconvenient.

NEW HEADQUARTERS — Nerve centre of the new Provincial Police district covering four counties, this house at the north-west corner of Charlotte and Park streets will contain the radio transmitter and receivers which will connect police cars over the area. The new headquarters was formerly the home of S. T. Medd.

Zero Weather Depletes Fuel; Coal Is Scarce

Local coal retailers report that coal, particularly the top-grade Pennsylvania anthracite, is in very short supply at present. Householders are advised not to let their bins sink too low before re-ordering, but they are asked not to take delivery unnecessarily.

Directly and indirectly the cold winter can be labelled as responsible for the shortage. It has been an unusually severe season over most of the continent and thus automatically demand has multiplied greatly. Many parts of the United States are requiring more coal than usual, and it is being used to supplement its competitors, natural gas, and oil in sections of the country where these have proved inadequate to meet heating requirements.

Zero weather has hindered the movement of coal right from the mine to final retail delivery. The washing and breaking process which is performed at the mine-head is said to be slowed down, and even the mines are not working to capacity, said one dealer.

The freezing climate has disrupted railroad transportaton. One retailer said normal delivery of a railway car of coal took at the most nine to ten days. Now the local company would be fortunate to get it in 15 days.

Speaking to the Examiner Wednesday morning one company which retails only Pennsylvania anthracite, said the present situation was "the worst in history." He said he had received a wire that morning telling him not to expect any delivery before three weeks.

Most spokesmen in the local coal business say that there should be no danger of an outright shortage; everyone will have coal to burn, though it may not be the kind ordered. Delivery in three or four days was assured by one of the larger companies, but no guarantee as to kind was given.

Coal from the United States was described as more difficult to obtain than Canadian; the latter, chiefly from Alberta, however, and not of very high quality.

Quotas to local companies have fallen somewhat short of normal, but dealers say there is no reason for any "panic buying" of fuel. As soon as the weather breaks they say it should once more speed up delivery.

Skaters Cable Barbara Ann

Perhaps one of the most pleasant duties that the newly-formed Peterborough Skating Club will ever be called upon to perform, was carried out by its president, Clare G. Collins, this week.

Authorised by Mayor W. G. Ovens Mr. Collins, on behalf of the city of Peterborough and the Peterborough Skating Club sent a congratulatory cable to Barbara Ann Scott. The cable addressed to Miss Scott at St. Moritz, Switzerland, read as follows, "On behalf of the citizens in general and of the members of the newly formed Peterborough Skating Club in particular I have much pleasure in sending greetings and congratulations on your recent triumphs. W. G. Ovens, Mayor of Peterborough.

Two June Fawns Expected At Zoo

Completely oblivious to the cares of the outside world, the bear at the Filtration Plant is still enjoying his winter sleep. Prior to the beginning of his hibernation, a quantity of fresh straw was put in the den, but Bruin disdained to use it for a bed. He dragged it to the entrance of winter quarters and using the new bedding blocked the hole except for about half an inch at the top. Even he knew that some fresh air was necessary for his welfare during his long sleep.

The coons also are still fast asleep. Curled up with their tails around them, they too, are quite unworried at the sub zero weather.

June should see a blessed event, in fact if all goes according to plan, two blessed events. The two does in the deer park, grandmother and granddaughter, are in excellent condition. The sub-zero weather doesn't appear to worry them in the least. Each day they lie out in the snow and contemplate the white world about them, knowing that the matter of their food supply is taken care of, and every thing is being done for their welfare, as it should be with expectant mothers.

Cannibalism has stalked among the pheasant world, and two pheasants were pecked to death and partially eaten. This practice is often found in the poultry world, and is attributed to something lacking in their diet.

Brer Fox is reported to be in excellent condition also; his coat in full bearing is smooth and shiny, in fact, he is the example of a very contented fox.

Caps Gas Well Looks Elsewhere For Good Water

Hugh Stewart is capping his Otonabee gas well with a question mark, and will resume drilling elsewhere on the Keene Road farm in the hope of tapping a supply of water.

"I had a man down from Toronto Tuesday afternoon, and because of present conditions, he advised that we hold up operations probably until spring," Mr. Stewart said to-day. "In the meantime we'll continue trying to find a water hole. That is what we were doing when we struck gas at 110 feet. What has been happening is that heat from the gas flame melted the snow around the drill pipe. Water trickled down and pushed back the gas. That is really all we can say now. I don't know whether anything will come of it in the long run, but we have had quite a number of men interested in it."

Mr. Stewart said he had no idea whether the recent signs warrant further drilling. "When Campbell Dairy Co. owned the farm, and were looking for water, they ran into some gas and oil, and were quite wrapped up in the possibilities, I am told they sealed a hole and put a small building over it. Then one day the gas exploded, blew the building off and smashed an electric pump that has been somewhere down in the ground since then. Right now we are going to move off 1,000 feet or so and start drilling for water again.

Some men have mentioned gambling a little to find out whether there is more gas at a lower depth, but if we started drilling for gas in a serious way it could easily run into considerable money. And yet there is something there, but how much is more than we know now."

Since the publication of the news of the gas strike, Mr. Stewart has been hearing of other signs of both oil and gas in a fairly broad circle of that part of Otonabee. For the present he is deferring any quest for gas, leaving the hole to the circumstances of doubt, and getting on with the water chore.

Peterborough Civic Arena To Seat 3,000 People And To Have Artificial Ice

The campaign to raise funds for the secondary rink in Peterborough will begin Februafy 16 with a minimum objective of $140,000 for a rink equipped with an artificial ice-making plant and a seating capacity of 3,000. This was decided at a meeting Tuesday night of the 16-member committee appointed at a public meeting to investigate and act upon the possibilities of erecting such a building, ready to go next winter.

The rink will follow the general design of the Hespeler Community Rink, the committee agreed, leaving details and specifications, as well as modifications on the pattern design to the building committee, headed by Alderman Douglas Miller.

The official name of the project will be the Peterborough Civic Arena.

Final decision on the $140,000 objective was reached after considerable discussion on the costs and designs of various types of buildings.

Several of the committee members were of the opinion that the committee should set the objective at a figure to cover only the construction of a rink building, and worry about installation of an ice-making plant at a later date. Alderman Miller, opposing this view, stated that few potential subscribers would favor construction—with their money—of a rink which would be inoperative with the approach of spring—usually, right in the middle of the playoffs.

In discussion on the general outline of the financing campaign, headed by Douglas Vaisey, Frank Buckland related the method of canvass and organization used by the Memorial Centre Committee to collect funds. It was pointed out that the $112,000 which was given to that fund by the city's manufacturers would not nearly be reached, as that sum had been given at a time when excess profits taxes were in force and when such donations could be deducted as War Charities donations. Details of the campaign for funds will be worked out by the finance committee.

Richard Ouimet, chairman of the committee; Alderman Douglas Miller, chairman of the building committee, and Alderman Hurrell Dodds will go to Hespeler on Thursday to personally inspect the rink there and interview officials on problems of erecting a similar structure in Peterborough.

Principal committees within the committee, appointed to date (chairman named first), are:

Finance — Douglas Vaisey, Joseph Cooke, Richard Ouimet.

Building—Douglas Miller, Hurrell Dodds, P. Killingbeck, L. Calladine.

Publicity — Stanley McBride, Joseph Cooke, Louis Vitarelli, Stewart Loyst and H. Winslow.

RENOVATE JEWELRY STORE

Alterations are being made on the jewelry store on George St., just above Simcoe St., formerly owned by Schneider Bros., now owned by Ostranders, Toronto. It is expected that renovation will be completed by the middle of March. Plans call for a new store front, and Charles Huffman has the general contract.

Air Officer Raps Minister Loses His Job

LONDON, Feb. 11.—(Reuters).—Air Vice-Marshal D. C. T. Bennett announced Tuesday night that he has been forced out as chief executive officer of British South American Airways because of a newspaper interview last week in which he criticized "recent interference wtih management by the minister of civil aviation."

British South American Airways said merely that the board had terminated Bennett's appointment "following differences of opinion on matters of policy."

Bennett, at 37, the youngest air vice-marshal in the RAF, created the "Pathfinder" group of planes that "blazed the trail" for following bombers during wartime raids on Germany.

The Daily Express last Thursday reported him as having said in an interview:

"There are two outstanding forces at work in civil aviation today.

"In the first category are those who are openly anti-British in aviation.

"In the second are those who entered it either for selfish interests or for other reasons—but are totally ignorant of aviation.

"These two categories are far more influential than the professionals and those who have given their lives to it.

'At the end of the war we were in a week position in civil aviation in purely physical assets. But we were more than generally blessed wtih people with the 'know how.'

"Unfortunately civil aviation at once became political football, and has been kicked about this ditry arena ever since."

Penal System Criticized By Psychiatrist

TORONTO, Feb. 11 — (CP).—Canada's penal system is based on safe custody and punishment and society is merely "exacting its penalty of revenge," with little or no effort made to cure the disease, said Dr. C. M. Crawford, Kingston Penitentiary psychiatrist, in an address.

He described the average Canadian penitentiary criminal. "Generally, he is a man between the ages of 18 and 27. His education is limited. He comes from a family where one parent is missing....His family is poor, on relief or close to it, and lives 'across the tracks' in a slum area. Most leisure time has been devoted to gambling, excessive drinking or sex.

"His family is large and his home crowded. He has been most likely a chronic truant, a thief, or both....He began his criminal pursuits at the early age of 9½ by stealing at home....Has been sent to St. John's Industrial School or Bowmanville Training School, has graduated therefrom with questionable honors and has served a sentence or two at Burwash or Guelph for stealing a motor acr....

No Square Deal

"He is dead certain that he has never received a square dale from society and he professes no particular shame for his criminal career to date, in fact, rather glories in it. He has an overwhelming confidence in his own opinions and is most unreceptive to advice from the professional officers of the institution."

With this criminal, reform is probably hopeless, said Dr. Crawford, but all inmates at Kingston are not so patiently hopeless.

Dr. Crawford recommended that first offenders should be put on probation, if imprisoned, they should be segregated from habitual and professional criminal and all methods of reform tried. The latter group should be give indeterminate sentences, and unless their behavior changes markedly should be taken out of circulation permanently.

French Attempt To Halt Prices

PARIS, Feb. 11 — (Reuters).—The French Government, faced with recent sharp rises in food prices, last night announced the measures to check the trend which is regarded here as a threat to the government's stabilization plan.

The upward surge of retail food prices since the withdrawal of 5,000-franc banknotes has provoked uneasiness in French political quarters, particularly among the Socialists.

Measures announced last night were

1—Weekly publication by press and radio of food prices as affecting wholesalers, retailers, and the public.

2—Stricter enforcement of the obligation to display wholesale and retail prices side by side, and stricter control of profit margins.

3—Importation of vegetables, including 35,000 tons of potatoes from the United States in the next two weeks, and carrots, onions and cabbage.

4—Organization of wine shops for the sale of French and imported wines at special prices.

New punitive measures against speculating middlemen were reported to be contemplated by the government, which considered the situation yesterday and will examine it again to-day.

Gambler Shot By 2 Unknowns

CITES RED MENACE — Former Hungarian Premier Ferenc Nagy, above, told the U.S. House un-American activities committee that "there can no longer be any doubt that under Soviet leadership the purpose of communism is world domination." LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11 (AP).—Tony Cornero Stralla, gambling boat operator until United States authorities put him out of business in 1946, was near death today.

Stralla, at odds with the law many times since the roaring 20's, was shot in the stomach last night as he answered his doorbell in Beverly Hills.

"Here's a package for you, Tony," Stralla quoted one of his two assailants. He said that as he reached for the package one of the men fired through it. The package turned out to be an empty coardboard box.

"I don't know 'em . . ." police quoted Stralla.

Police said they believed the attempted assassination stemmed from arrangements Stralla was making to operate gambling enterprises in Lower California.

Two Mexican officers were quoted by police who declined to identify them.

Bracken Names Chairmen

OTTAWA, Feb. 11. — John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, has announced the names of chairmen of committees of the federal opposition set up to deal with various phases of party policy.

A fisheries committee, headed by C. S. McLure of Queen's constituency, will be appointed for the first time.

J. H. Hackett of Stanstead, who represented the party in the Canadian delegation to the General Assembly of the United Nations last year, will head the External Affairs committee, while two deputy chairmen have been appointed to assist Mark Senn of Haldimand, chairman of the Agriculture committee. J. A. Ross of Souris, Man., and John Charlton of Brant constituency, will be western and eastern deputies respectively.

Other committee heads follow: Reconstruction, Howard Green, Vancouver South; Veterans' Affairs, A. J. Brooks, Royal; Trade and Commerce, J. H. Harris, Toronto Danforth; Dominion-Provincial Relations, J. G. Diefenbaker, Lake Centre; Finance and Taxation, J. M. Macdonnell, Muskoka, Ontario; Publicity, Karl Homuth, Waterloo South; Social Security and Housing, Donald Fleming, Toronto Eglinton; Defence, G. R. Pearkes, Nanaimo; Natural Resources, J. R. McNicol, Toronto Davenport; and Labor, A. L. Smith, Calgary West.

See British Car Industry Gaining Under Ban On US

OTTAWA, Feb. 11—(CP).—Stimulation of Britain's automobile sales in Canada at the expense of United States factories was seen today as a consequence of new Dominion import regulations. While relaxing the three-months-old ban on the import of vehicles from the US, the regulations in their practical effect were held as being of less benefit to US exporters than to British traders and the Canadian automobile assembly business.

Trade Minister Howe, in an interview after the changes were announced, said they would open the way for more British car sales in Canada. He said "a reasonable" over-all quota for imports from sterling areas would be established.

For the moment, the official announcement was that the outright ban on import of U.S.-made automobiles, clamped down last Nov. 17 as a dollar-saving measure, was being eased. Also, the import of automotive parts was being put on a quota basis. Both quotas were related to imports of the year ended last Oct. 31.

Cut To 16 P.C.

Mr. Howe estimated the program would cut the import value of American-made cars to 16 per cent of the 1947 total.

But immediately President William A. Wecker of General Motors of Canada said his company planned to use its automobile dollar allotment to buy parts for the manufacture of cars in Canada.

This would mean that a considerable proportion of the dollar-value for automobiles would be applied to boosting the output of Canadian-made cars, to offset an estimated reduction of $25,000,000 in the $100,000,000-a-year allotment of imported parts for Canadian production.

Mr. Wecker said at Oshawa, the restrictions might have the result of keeping domestic production below what the Canadian market could use. But he said the industry would accept them as a means of improving Canada's long-range trading position.

For Britain and other countries in the sterling area, officials said, quotas now were being worked out. Meanwhile, imports will be handled with individual permits.

Mother, Mix Your Own Cough Syrup. It's Fine

This well-known medicine, mixed in your own kitchen, costs very little, but it gives delightful, swift-acting relief from coughs due to colds. It takes but a moment to prepare—it's so easy anyone can do it. And it saves real money.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking is needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. Pour this into a 16 oz. bottle and fill up with your syrup. Thus you make 16 ounces of splendid cough syrup—and it gives you four times as much cough syrup for your money. It never spoils, lasts a family a long time, and children love its taste.

And for quick, satisfying relief, you'll say it's really splendid. It has a threefold action. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear air passages. You'll be delighted by its swift, pleasing results.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a well-known and reliable soothing agent for winter coughs. Money refunded if it doesn't please you.

Pinex Is Quick Acting. Easily Mixed. Saves Money.

BORDERLINE ANEMIA*

can steal away a woman's beauty!

BEAUTY fades when a woman's face grows pale—when her freshness is failing—her energy runs low. Yes, and these signs often come from a blood condition. If you have them, you may have a Borderline Anemia, a mild anemia due to a nutritional deficiency of iron.

The red cells in your blood may be too puny and faded. They may be weakened to the point where they can't transmit full energy to your body. Many people — women, men and children—drag through life with this Borderline Anemia.

How Ironized Yeast Tablets Build Up Your Blood and Vigor

So, if your color is poor—your energy low and this common blood condition's to blame—take Ironized Yeast Tablets. They are formulated to help build up faded red blood cells, and thus restore vigor. Of course, continuing tiredness and pallor may be due to other conditions—so consult your doctor regularly. But in this Borderline Anemia, take Ironized Yeast Tablets to start your energy shifting back into "high"—to help restore your natural color! Take them so you can enjoy life again!

Appoint Board For Museum

TORONTO, Feb. 11.—(CP).—A new 12-member board of directors has been appointed for the Royal Ontario Museum under provisions of provincial legislation passed last October, President Sidney E. Smith of the University of Toronto announced last night.

The legislation was intended to bring the museum into direct relationship with the University of Toronto Board of Governors, he said in a press release. For the first time, Queen's University at Kingston and the Universtiy of Western Ontario in London are represented on the museum's board of directors.

Dr. Smith also announced that Robert Fennell, chairman of the museum board, has been appointed a member of the university's board of governors. The new museum board will hold its first meeting today.

Dr. Smith, Chancellor Vincent Massey and Lt.-Col. W. E. Phillips, chairman of the university board of governors, are members ex-officio of the new board. Prof. M. B. Baker represents Queen's and Dean F. Landon is the member for Western. The other members are Henry Borden, Dr. Edward Johnson, Beverly Matthews, Rev. H. J. Cody, Dr. Sigmund Samuels and Mrs. H. D. Warren.

Senate Passes NWT Project

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.— (CP).—The Senate gave third reading last night to a bill aimed at clearing any legal doubt as to the Government's right to proceed with a $4,000,000 Hydro-Electric power development near Yellowknife, N.W.T.

Money for the project was appropriated by Parliament last year, but later Government law officers sought further specific authorization for the use of Government land for the development. This is provided in the bill, an amendment to the Dominion Water Power Act.

Senator F. W. Gershaw (L-Alberta) explained the water power project on the Snare river will cost $3,000,000, while a distribution system will cost another $1,000,00. It will supply power to mines of Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company and three other firms and to the town of Yellowknife.

Terms of payment for power had been arranged so that the whole development, including interest, would be liquidated in 15 years.

In a 25-minute session, the senators also gave second reading to an Act to incorporate the People's Fraternal Order, with headquarters in Toronto. The bill will give Dominion incorporation to a body now incorporated in Ontario as the Canadian-Hungarian Mutual Benefit Federation.

Canadians Earn More In 1947 But Save Less

OTTAWA, Feb. 11 — (CP). — Canadians produced more and earned more in 1947 than 1946, though much of the enhanced value of their production was created by price increases, according to a preliminary report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

The estimate indicated a gross national production of $13,100,000,000 for last year, an increase of $1,400,000,000 over 1946.

The national income was $10,700,000,000 compared with $9,600,000,000. Of the 1947 amount, $10,259,000,000 was personal income, as against $9,536,000,000 for personal income in the year previously.

The bureau noted that, with consumer spending up by $1,000,000,000 from 1946, personal savings declined despite the higher income. In 1946, personal savings were 11.1 per cent of income, dropping to 7.5 per cent last year.

While the increase in gross production was 12 per cent over 1946, the bureau observed that only some of this was the result of "increased real production."

"A substantial portion was the result of price increases," it added, though it did not specify what amount this would be.

On the personal income side, the biggest factor was salaries, wages and supplementary labor income, which rose from $5,195,000,000 in 1947 to an estimated $6,125,000,000 last year.

The net income of agriculture and other unincorporated business was $2,467,000,000, compared with $2,179,000,000 in 1946.

In the disposition of personal income, the largest amount—$8,711,000,000 — went in consumer goods and services. The next largest block of $780,000,000 went for direct taxes.

The remaining $768,000,000 was listed as personal savings. The savings items dropped from $1,060,000,000 in the previous year.

Fire Outbreaks Continue; Damage 2 Million

By The Canadian Press

Fire struck the Halifax area again today, claiming the life of a young boy and raising the death toll by fires in Canada and Newfoundland to 42 in the last two days.

A Canadian Press survey showed that property damage in the last five days has amounted to more than $2,500,000. Last night the fires continued unabated as Montreal, Hamilton and Rimouski, Que., reorted major fires.

The Halifax blaze, only a few blocks from the scene of yesterday's fire that claimed seven lives and sent one to hospital, brought death to one-year-old Peter Macdonald and sent three persons to hospital with serious injuries.

The only bright spot in yesterday's fire news was a report from St. John's, Nfld., that four persons reported missing in the old people's home which claimed 34 others, were safe. The St. John's fire was the worst reported in North America this year.

Two Blazes

Montreal's fire-fighting facilities were taxed to the limit last night when two double-alarm blazes broke out in the downtown area. More than half of the city's 100 fire trucks concentrated on these two blazes while the rest were kept busy by a host of minor fires and false alarms.

Damage was reported to be $200,000. Destroyed were two three-storey buildings at the corner of Iberville and St. Catharine streets and on Youville Square, near the waterfront.

Hamilton also had two big fires during the day. The first which caused an estimated $250,000 loss gutted a business and warehouse block. The second swept the T. Eaton Co. Ltd., storage warehouse on Rebecca street, a short block from city hall, with damage set at $100,000. All available fire equipment was put into use.

In Rimouski, Que., 400 patrons filed out of the Rimouski theatre when fire broke out. No one was injured but the $75,000 building was razed.

In St. John's, officials and relatives of the victims were still experiencing considerable difficulty in identifying the 34 dead.

Blames Party Line For Child's Death

FORT ERIE, Feb. 11 — Robert F. Dennis, whose 20-months-old daughter died from the effect of coal gas, said today that he would have been able to save the baby's life had subscribers on his party telephone line not refused him the full use of the line.

Dennis' wife, who was also overcome by the fumes, was saved by the joint efforts of two local physicians, Drs. N. L. Whiting, and Sanford English. The 25-year-old woman was said to be out of danger today.

Bitter over the refusal of other subscribers to listen to his frantic pleas, Dennis declared that as a result of being unable to get the use of the telephone to call aid, the child's condition worsened and the doctors were unable to save her life.

Mother and daughter were overcome Monday in their home on Garrison Rd., Bertie Township

WILLED FORTUNE — Miss Marjorie Daw Cunliffe-Owen, above, a petite, red-haired former ballerina, who was left the bulk of the $5,412,000 fortune of Sir Hugo Cunliffe-Owen, president of the British American Tobacco Co. The will named Miss Daw, 47, (who adopted the millionaire's name only a month before his death last December) and came as a complete shock to London society. The will made no mention of Cunliffe-Owen's second wife, the former Mauricia Martha Shaw of California.

PREFER TO BEG RATHER THAN WORK—Destitute, ill-clad and poverty stricken, these Chinese women, many of them holding babies, are pictured as they were rounded up by the police from the streets and sent to one of the winter relief shelters in western suburbs of Shanghai. They were rounded up as vagrants, who preferred to continue begging and picking pockets in the street rather than be fed, clothed and put to work. None of them seemed willing to enjoy the hospitality provided by the city, and many of them sought to escape.

Detective Mistaken For 'Prospect' Leads To Recovery Of Six Autos

MONTREAL, Feb. 10.—Operating on a large scale in the U.S.A. and Canada for the past five months, an international smuggling and stolen auto ring has been smashed in Montreal after an unsuspecting smuggler attempted to sell a stolen car to a member of the Montreal Police Department's detective bureau.

Within 24 hours after the "break" in the case, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, working in unison with city police officers, recovered six automobiles reported stolen in the United States and arrested one man in a sweep through Montreal and district.

Last October, the American FBI reported to local police authorities an outbreak of new model auto thefts in the border states which threatened to reach epidemic proportions. The FBI believed that the ring's headquarters was located in the Montreal area.

On Friday, a city detective, whom officials declined to identify pending completion of additional phases of the investigation, was approached by a man who tried to sell the policeman a stolen auto. The detective arrested the man and impounded the car.

Working on information received as a result of the "break," RCMP, city police and members of the Canadian Automobile Theft Bureau recovered ten cars.

Vermont Machines.

The autos were reported stolen several months ago from St. Albans, Swanton, and Burlington, Vt.

Detained in Montreal by police was a man who identified himself as Roland Dubreuil, 34, who said he was a grocer and butcher of Napierville. Police said that the accused was released yesterday on bail but that he would appear this morning in court on five charges of being in possession of smuggled goods.

Inspector Wilson Brady, of the Criminal Investigation Bureau at Montreal headquarters of the RCMP, said that there was good grounds to believe that the stolen cars were coming into Canada on the back roads and that they carried large amounts of American cigarets and other goods.

Examination of the stolen vehicles revealed that both the engine and serial numbers had been changed and that American tires had been removed and Canadian ones substituted. All the vehicles were equipped with Quebec licence plates and the American motor on one car had been replaced by a Canadian engine.

Car Insurance Shows Little Change

Peterborough enjoys the best auto insurance rates of any Ontario city comparable in size is the claim of Peterborough Fire and Casualty Assoc. While this may be partially du to the location of the city, as it is not on the heaviest travelled highways of the province, it does reflect some credit on the community too, for careful driving.

In 1934 Peterborough was taken out of the higher rating bracket and given a lower rating. It has maintained that position ever since by keeping a low incidence of accidents.

A review of three insurance rates handled by the Assoc. Shows no change in one, a slight increase in another, and a decrease in still another.

No change has been made in Public Liability and Property Damage pplicies. Collision Danger has been boosted from five to twenty percent; the exact increase depends on the make of the vehicle. Fire and Theft premiums have been reduced from twenty to twenty-five percent, varying with the make of the veicle.

Percentage of increase of decreas applies to both private and commercial vehicles.

The Assoc. contends that with the price of so many items on the owner's budget soaring these days the cost of car insurance is relatively stable.

OPERATION POOCH — A frolicking, but foolhardy, small white dog, which had gone for a romp on ice-choked Gravesend bay, N.Y., was finally rescued after one of the most involved sea-land rescue operations ever seen in local waters. Before the shivering pup was removed from an ice floe on which it had been marooned for hours a short distance off shore, the services of the state police department, fire department, ASPCA, coast guard and volunteer civilians had been called into play.

Japanese Gov't Resigns; No Successor

TOKYO, Feb. 11.—(AP).—The first socialist government in Japan's long history quit today, but it will stay on the job for awhile.

The mass resignation was the first under Japan's new constitution. It caused so much confusion over how to go about selecting a Prime Minister that no immediate change of ministers is in sight.

In the old days, the reigning Prime Minister went to the Emperor, who designated a successor. Now this power is left to th Diet.

Socialist Prime Minister Tetsu Katayama submitted his resignation formally to the Emperor after first informing the speakers of both Houses of the Diet.

The Social Democrats, while the most numerous, do not hold a Diet majority. Neither do the Democrats or Liberals, both conservative.

Katayama said he quit because his government was "riding a whirlwind." He referred to a left-right split inside his party. He represented the more conservative elements.

There were two conservative possibilites for the Prime Minister's job—former Prime Minister Shigeru Hoshida, president of the Liberals, who is favored by Tokyo newspapers, and Hitoshi Ashida, head of the Democratic Party. Ashida is the resigning Foreign Minister.

THAT'S a fine thing about cotton; whether it's a shirt, a handkerchief, bedsheets, or even a graceful wedding gown, you are sure of your money's worth. Cotton gives value for the money. Long service, resistance to laundering, fastness to sunlight, and above all a clean freshness that makes life worth living in winter or summer; these are the things your dollars buy when you spend them on cotton goods.

Inflation Threat Worst Problem Facing Canada

By The Canadian Press

The threat of inflation was termed the most serious domestic problem now facing Canada in the Speech from the Throne opening the Manitoba Legislature's session at Winnipeg yesterday. The Manitoba House is the third of the nine provincial houses to get started on the spring sessional business, Quebec having been sitting for some time and Saskatchewan being in its Throne Speech debate.

The Throne speech delivered at Winnipeg cautioned that Canadians should "delay the spending of the savings and investments accumulated during the war, "to make easier the transition to normal peacetime conditions, although powers of control over inflation belong mainly to the Federal government, it said, provincial and municipal administrations could act to decrease the quantity of money brought into the market for expenditure on goods and services.

One aspect of "peace-time conditions" was apparent at the Manitoba opening however as a 15-gun salute was fired by a guard of honor.

Lose Motion

At Regina the Liberal want-of-confidence motion by way of amendment to the Throne Speech was defeated by a vote of 37 to 6 in an unprecedented late session. Premier T. C. Douglas criticized the tactics of the opponents of his C.C.F. government.

The vote on the amendment came after three opposition members and Allan Embury, the armed services representative for the Mediterranean area, asserted that the government — Canada's first socialist administration—had lost the people's confidence. Mr. Embury described the government as "socialist agitators." Opposition Leader W. J. Patterson, Liberal, said the Throne Speech did not contain "a single constructive idea to solve the problems which the speech claims exist."

CHURCH BURNED — With lightning speed flames spread through St. Francais de Sales church in Smiths Falls, doing $200,000 damage. Only the stone walls and steeple were left. Working in below zero weather, firemen of Smiths Falls, Perth and a local factory were still pouring water on the embers 18 hours after the fire started. Rev. J. T. Hanley and his curate, Rev. D. Macdonald, rescued sacraments, vestments from the inferno, but were unable to save stained glass windows and paintings.

Ontario Government Plans Farmers' Cost Department

TORONTO, Feb. 11.—The Ontario Government soon will institute a cost department to ascertain farmers' production costs, Agriculture Minister T. L. Kennedy told a joint luncheon meeting of the Ontario Crop Improvement Association and the Ontario Plowmen's Association yesterday.

Col. Kennedy made the announcement after discussing some of the agricultural producers' problems, and pointing out that in England, a system is used to give the producer cost of production plus a reasonable profit to assure a fair return on his yield. He described the subsidy system in England, then announced that the provincial government will launch the new department soon.

It may be some time before the department is working smoothly, he warned, since a head has yet to be chosen, a staff will have to be trained in several years, students trained in estimating production costs would be ready to estimate prices at which farmers will have to sell their products to show a profit.

Cheer Announcement

Farmers cheered the agriculture minister's announcement. Many said the move is something for which agricultural groups had been agitating for years, since one of the farmer's chief gripes has been that many prices do not provide an opportunity to keep living standards on a par with those of urban workers.

Federation of Agriculture meetings and assemblies of other groups have asked that some effort be made to list the cost to the farmer of producing meat and other products. Consumers, it has been felt, frequently complain about rising living costs, without realizing the problems of the producer, whose costs of production are going up in proportion to other rising costs.

The Minister of Agriculture mentioned this factor in connection with yesterday's announcement. He didn't definitely say what steps would be taken to keep the farmer's income up, but he did point out that the new cost department would at least let the consumer know just how much it costs the producer to turn out the products he picks up at the corner grocery and butcher shop.

Members of the two associations, while they applauded the move, felt a great deal will depend on the man chosen to head the new department. This question, too, was answered by Col. Kennedy in his brief announcement. The government already has a man in mind, he said, and he is confident the government agency will be able to table production costs to satisfy all concerned.

Euchre Party

ORANGE CORNERS, Feb. 11—(ENS)—A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Jackson when about 25 neighbors and members gathered for a euchre game.

A few business matters were discussed after which euchre was enjoyed. Prizes were won by Mrs. Stanley McCall, Mr. T Middleton, Mrs. Ernest McCall. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur and Gordon Jackson for the use of their home by Stanley McCall.

Will Send Speaker On Foster Homes

SELWYN, Feb. 11 — (ENS). — At the meeting of the WA of the United Church held at the home of Mrs. Clifford McIlmoyl, a letter was read from Miss Rachael Young, superintendent of the Children's Shelter in Peterborough, in which she requested that one of their staff could be a guest speaker at the March meeting of the WA. They intend to stress to the people the urgent need for foster homes for the children. There were 20 members present, with two new ones being added to the membership, Mrs. Geisel and Mrs. Charles McIlmoyl.

Some of the members intend to accept the invitation from Bridgenorth to participate in the World's Day of Prayer on Friday at Bridgenorth.

The ladies will hold a quilting at the home of Mrs. Donald McConkey on February 20. Mrs. Elton Miles read the topic and the Scripture. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. James McConkey, when all the members were requested to bring their old Christmas cards to be sent away.

BACK SAFELY—Barrie Jill Horwitz, 3½, grins happily now that she is safely back in the arms of her father, Howard Horwitz, an RKO executive. The father was awakened by sheriff's deputies who found the child in a neighbor's yard two blocks from the Horwitz home in Los Angeles, Calif. The deputies hunted for a presumed burglar who abducted the child from her crib and later abandoned her.

Selwyn Friends Honor Whitmore Family

SELWYN, Feb. 11 (ENS)—Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Whitmore and family were pleasantly surprised on Friday evening when the neighbouring community gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McConkey to bid them farewell, as they are leaving here to reside in Omemee. They came here as a bride and groom about fifteen years ago and started a grocery business in the store they recently sold to Neil Blewett.

Mr. Bruce Fitzgerald expressed the sentiments of everyone when he read a suitable address, while Mrs. Harold McIlmoyl presented them with a mantel clock. Mr. Whitmore very capably expressed the sincere thanks of both himself and his wife and family and said it was going to be very difficult to break away from his many friends at Selwyn.

Refreshments were served and dancing was enjoyed to music supplied by Mrs. McConnelly and Mr. Heath.

A meeting of the trustees, the secretary-treasurer, and their wives of S.S. No. 9 Smith was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert McIlmoyl recently, when it was decided to hold a basket social and concert in the school on Friday, February 13.

Friends of Mrs. Herbert McIlmoyl Sr. will be glad to know that she is progressing favourably in Civic Hospital.

PLAYS TWO CHILDREN

COLUMBIA, SC, Feb. 11. (AP) —Mrs. James Badgett, 35, yesterday drowned her six-months-old daughter in a bathtub, strangled her four-year-old son with a diaper, and slashed herself to death with a razor, coroner W. A. Plott said.

Outdoor Editor Is Speaker

Members of St. Luke's Church Year enjoyed a social evening on Tuesday in the Parish Hall. After extending a welcome, Rev. W. J. Gilling, chairman, presented a substantial cheque to the wardens on behalf of the Church Year. Highlight of the program was a talk by Mr. Peter McGillen, outdoor editor of the Peterborough Examiner, in which he outlined facts regarding the "Conservation of Fish" that were highly enlightening to many of the audience. Two films shown by Roy Krant and Henry Nokes were entitled "Life on Western Marshes" and "Jasper Park." Refreshments were served at the close by the February committee, with Mrs. M. Mason in charge.

McKenty-Condon Nuptials Held at Hastings Monday

A very pretty wedding took place Monday, February 9, at Our Lady of Mount Carmel church, Hastings, when Suzanne Marie, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Condon, Jr., was united in marriage to Francis Stafford, younger son of Mrs. McKenty and the late Arthur J. McKenty, all of Hastings. Rev. J. J. Garvey performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a grey gabardine suit with black accessories, and carried an ivory prayer-book, which had been carried by the groom's mother on her wedding day.

Miss Catherine Condon, sister of the bride, was her attendant, wearing a suit in hunter's green, with matching hat and corsage of Talisman roses. The groomsman was Mr. Raymond Boyle of Peterborough, and Mr. Don Kumpf was usher.

At a reception for the immediate families held at the groom's home, the bride's mother wore a grey crepe dress with corsage of pink carnations.

The groom's mother chose a gown of black and white silk, with matching hat, white accessories and corsage of pink carnations.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. McKenty left for a wedding trip to western Ontario.

Life of Gandhi Discussed at WA

There was a good attendance at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of St. John's WA held in the parish hall with Mrs. H. C. Sootheran, president, in the chair. Archdeacon W. P. Robertson led the devotional period, and also gave an inspiring talk, taking as part of his subject the life and influence of the late Mohandas K. Gandhi.

Following routine business, Mrs. G. S. Cameron took the mission study period which deals with "Life Among the Indians" this month.

Mrs. T. H. Floyd was appointed as St. John's WA representative to the women's world day of prayer being held at All Saints' Church. An invitation from St. Andrew's Church to attend a meeting Wednesday, February 18, at which Dr. Victoria Chung will be the guest speaker, was read.

Responsibility for packing and shipping food parcels to England this month was accepted by Miss M. English and Mrs. E. Ford. Next month's parcels will be looked after by Mrs. J. Cridland and Mrs. H. Kelsey.

Tea was served at the close of the meeting, hostesses being Mrs. W. M. Cruthers and Mrs. Geo. Moore.

New Woollens Look Like Silk

LONDON, Feb. 11 (CP) — The variations of color, texture and weight of which wool is capable were demonstrated at the International Wool Secretariat's London Exhibition.

The secretariat has developed new uses for wool and new processes such as moth-proofing and shrink-resisting. It has also evolved methods of modifying its affinity for waters and dyes.

Checks and stripes of every description, including clan tartans and the personal tartans of Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret were features of the exhibit.

The plaid check too was back in black and white, with many variations.

Stripes were used in a new material called "crepe tweed." This can be made in light weights and in such combinations as grey with brown and black, grey and white and brown and white. The herringbone and diagonal are given new life with two colors making, respectively, a horizontal and diagonal stripe.

One of the loveliest of the materials was the peachskin blue wool fabric worn in Princess Elizabeth's going-away outfit. This is well named as, to the touch, it feels exactly like the skin of the peach.

Heavy reversible overcoatings included tartans, checks and stripes. One firm gave examples of attractively designed tartan skirts, with the "new look," under coats lined with the same tartan.

New light-weight wool fabrics usign an alginate rayon thread or a nylon fabric have been produced to take the place of silk for evening dresses, dinner dresses and two-pieces, and evening coats. These light fabrics can be draped and designed in all styles so successfully that from even a short distance it is difficult to tell them from silk.

SLAIN — Climaxing a long series of highway hold-ups in California, is the death of Marjorie Winn, 17, daughter of a prominent family of Redlands. A bandit held up the pretty high school senior and her companion, James Sloan, 21, with a shotgun and demanded the couple's money. Marjorie screamed and cried, "Let's go, Jim," and as Sloan started the car, the bandit pulled the trigger, killing the girl instantly.

Home and School Association News

KING GEORGE SCHOOL

Two very interesting speakers adressed King George Home and hool Assocaitoin members Tues- School Association members Tuesday evening. Mrs. A. Hill, speaking on "Special Education" outlined the work being done by the government in having special classes organized to suit individual pupils. Mr. Jack Dane told of the work going forward in Peterborough along the line of "Community Recreation."

Mrs. C. English, president, presided at the meeting. Treasurer's report was given by Mrs. C. Ferguson. Mrs. R. L. Hale outlined the program planned for fathers' night, Tuesday, March 9. Mrs. O Salonius read an article entitled "Why I Joined the Home and School." A collection was taken to aid the campaign for reconstruction of schools in devastated countries. Plans were made for a children's skating party to be held Friday afternoon, Feb. 13. Attendance prize was won by Mrs. J. Payne's room.

Miss Nicolette Humphrey entertained with two vocal solos which were well received. She was accompanied by Mrs. A. E. DeNure at the piano.

A vote of thanks to the guests was moved by Mrs. R. L. Hale. Refreshments were served at the close by Mrs. McConkey and her committee.

Woman Can't Persuade War Office Husband Alive

NORWICH, Norfolk, England, Feb. 11 — (CP) — While eating breakfast with her husband, Mrs. E. E. Goodham opened a letter from the War Graves Commission and read Mr. Goodham had been buried in France.

She wasn't surprised. Ever since Dunkerque she has been trying to persuade the War Office her husband is alive.

"When he came back from Dunkerque I had a letter to say he was missing," she said. I rang up the War Office and told them he had arrived home. Later they sent me an application form for a pension."

Mr. Goldham, who was demobilized two years ago with the rank of lieutenant-colonel said:

"When I left the beaches at Dunkerque I had to leave my kit in a dugout. Perhaps someone who did not escape picked it up and was later killed...Someone is buried in my name in France."

Valentine Tea Increases Funds

A very lovely and decidedly successful Valentine Tea was held Tuesday afternoon in the Kindergarten room of Confederation school. Guests were received by Mrs. M. Parry, president of the Home and School Association, with Mrs. J. Stuart and Mrs. C. Wood, vice presidents.

The tea room was brightened by gay cupids with arrows poised, dainty lacey valentines and red Hearts. A bouquet of snapdragon and stocks centred the lace-covered table, and red and white candles in silver holders were on either side. Tea was poured by Mrs. Fred White and Mrs. A. Olmstead.

Serving refreshments were Mrs. W. White, general convener, Mrs. T. Aitken, Mrs. D. Hayes, Mrs. L. Moore, Mrs. Young, Mrs. W. Waldie, Mrs. Pitchford and Mrs. M. Thompson.

Mrs. H. Henwood who was treasurer for the afternoon, was also responsible for the decorations.

New Colors

New colors which have been introduced include bedouin green, a new tan, stone color, pale orchid, rich mulberry, matinee blue, iced coffee, summer blonde, lineflower, linden, derby tan, chestnut, gold cup, star pink, dusky coral, elegant amber, totem red and lancers blue.

STILL SCRUBS FLOORS — Wiping her perspiring brow is Mrs. Tillie Majeczek, 55, of Chicago, who spent $6,000 she earned scrubbing floors in 12 years to free her son, Joe Majzeck from prison, where he was sentenced for the murder of a policeman. Mrs. Majeczek is still scrubbing floors despite the fact that the state paid her son Joe, $24,000 last July for his unjust conviction. The Poland-born woman isn't complaining, but says that Joe has given her but little of the promised gratitude he vowed in return for her sacrifice. Joe left home last Wednesday, saying he was going to Arizona.

DOROTHY DIX . . . .

THE FAMILY GOAT

Girl Planning Marriage Should Give Up Keeping House For Family

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 26 years old. Since my mother passed away four years ago I have kept house for my father and brother.

Dorothy Dix

I have told the family all along that when I got married I would pass the responsibility of this to one of them, for I believe that all young married couples should live alone while they are adjusting themselves to each other.

There are eight married members in my family and all have been married for quite some time, but none of them is willing to make a home for my father and brother so that I can have the privacy which every girl would like to have when she first marries. Do you think I am selfish in asking this favor of my brothers and sisters? My father and brother would be no financial burden on them.

BEWILDERED GIRL.

ANSWER: No, I don't think you are selfish. And I think your brothers and sisters should leap at the chance to repay you the favor that you have done them by making your father and brother a comfortable home for four years. But your family is following the usual family pattern, which is to elect one especial member the family goat. Sometimes it is a billy goat, oftener it is a nanny.

One In Every Family

But in almost every family you will find one man who hasn't much education, because he had to get a job as soon as he could get his working papers to help support a raft of brothers and sisters and send them to college. Or an old maid, who has been a slave all of her life, taking care of mother and father, while the girls and boys danced and had good times.

For a girl to desire to go into her own home when she marries and where she can have the solitude of two, as the French say, with her husband, without any relatives hanging around and advising and suggesting and correcting, is no whim. It is a marriage-saver precaution, for it gives the young couple a chance to know each other and to have their own spats and arguments in privacy.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Do you think it is wise for two very young people to marry? I am 16 and the boy is 17. We love each other very much but he wants to be married at once, while my mother says we should wait until I am 20. My boy friend says he will leave home if I do not give him my answer before next Sunday.

NERVOUS.

ANSWER: Gee, I don't wonder you are nervous if you have to decide the most important question in your life before you have even time to think it over. But calm down. Relax. Take it easy. Tell the Boy Friend that you refuse to be rushed; that when you marry you expect to stay married a long time, and you want to consider well whether you are going to land before you make the final jump.

First of all, face the fact that there is no sense in jeopardizing the happiness of your whole life in rushing into marriage before you are ready for it. No boy of 17 and girl of 16 know their own minds nor what they want in a life partner. Their tastes are unformed. The thing they crave today they wouldn't have tomorrow. Their emotions haven't jelled. The average boy has no way of supporting a wife and the chances are they will have to sponge on their parents, and that is sure to bring on in-law trouble.

There isn't a thing in the world in favor of child-marriages. Don't make one.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: What's wrong about giving a boy a neck tie for a present? They say a girl should never do it.

TWO TEEN-AGERS.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: There is nothing wrong about it, or contrary to Emily Post. It is just because men's and women's taste in neck ties almost never jibe, and most boys wouldn't be caught dead in the neck ties their sweeties gave them for Christmas or on a birthday.

Of course, if you happen to know just the kind of a tie a boy craves, or if he has been smart enough to tip you off about one that's different. Then you can go the limit.

HONORS, distinction, preferment, an enhanced scope of opportunity and progress, may turn the energies and aspirations into new fields or fresh starts, in which popularity and prestige grow with efficiency, cheerfulness and good will. Personality, allure, culture and friendliness have much importance in advancement in business, possessions and in purely personal relations. Assets may be expanded by romance and beauty as well as creative skills.

Those whose birthday it is may be assured of promotion, preferments, substantial support from those in friendly relations, in which personality, social and cultural factors have real worth. In attaining such aspirations and ideals, resources and possessions also count in a purely practical way, with emphasis on beauty, charm and ideals as well as matter-of-fact considerations. Travel, change, a build-up of good will and kindly contact could accent popularity and assure enduring prestige and influence.

A child born on this day has excellest talents, efficiency with personality for a happy, progressive and honored career.

DEGAS DANCERS' BEQUEST—The Degas ballet girls have left womankind in general practically everything the great painter invested them with, except, perhaps, their twinkle-toe talents. We have borrowed their skirts, waistline corsets, bodices, slippers, hair-dos and shortie gloves . . . and now we have put a lot of these items together to make very formal modern frocks. We confess the model shown above and titled Degas looks a good deal more indebted to the cancan than the ballet. Also, since the print is of bananas on crepe, Chiquita Banana and her danson naturally comes to mind, prompted additionally by the Spanish lace petticoat. At any rate, it's very feminine, and in step with the revival of afternoon dancing which is growing ever more popuplar.

Culinary Art Buried In Old Recipes

MONTREAL, Feb. 11. — With new cook books always acclaimed as "absolutely different and modern" rolling off the presses almost daily, at least one nutritionist is haunted [illegible] nerve-racking doubt that the authors in being modern may have passed up some gems of culinary wisdom buried in the recipes of long ago.

Blowing the dust off some aged tomes of cookery Hazel McIntyre, assistant professor of home economics at the University of Alberta found that it was the practice 75 years ago to prepare juice for jellies from soft fruits by packing them in an earthernware jar, heated in a pan of water—very much like the so-called modern method of sugarless canning.

Directions for cooking meat, over which there is a confusion of ideas today, are clearly stated in 18th century books which warn that "a brisk fire at first, will, by charring the outside, prevent the heat from penetrating and therefore should be employed only when the meat is half roasted."

Searing of meat is recommended to "keep in the juices" and notes taken in a cooking class in Hamilton in the early 1890's state that steak should be cooked on a smoking hot griddle for 10 to 15 minutes turning it every time the cook reached ten, counting slowly.

Miss McIntyre, a classroom teacher of cookery, strongly favors specifying as exactly as possible, the ingredients and methods for fine foods. In the very old cook books she found measurements were exact because nearly all the ingredients were weighed, but in the later books "such inaccurate measures as wineglassful, heaping spoonsful and butter the size of an egg" were much used.

She disagrees with the authority who wrote in Godey's Magazine in 1866 "I deny that culinary recipes can be put forth as doctor's prescription, with the exact quantity of each ingredient to be used. The only use of scales in the kitchen is to see that the tradesmen do not cheat. For cooking the cook's brains are the only scales that can be used."

"The gap," maintains Miss McIntyre, "between the ever-mounting accumulation of scientific data and many of the recipes found in today's cook books, is still too great.

"For the one individual with a flair who depends on her own judgment for successful products, there are hundreds of people dependent on the findings of people in the business of teaching and the writing of cook books."

In her reading of culinary history, the nutritionist found progress was apparent—particularly in the knowledge of nutrition as applied to the cooking of vegetables. "The Housewife's Friend," 1850, specified, for instance, that "when vegetables sink to the bottom of the pot they are done enough."

In 1889, when canned vegetables were just being introduced on the market, cook books recommended that they be opened one half hour to get rid of the "closed taste." The liquor of the vegetable was drained off and green pease soaked in salt and water for a while and then cooked until tender. "We know now," says Miss McIntyre, "that the loss of soluble constituents in canned vegetables is very high if the liquid is discarded, but what modern cook describes how to heat canned vegetables so as to make most effective use of these?"

Theme for CGIT week, "Here Am I, Send Me," was used for worship service by Joan Whit to open the group meeting of Trinity CGIT Monday when the mothers were entertained.

Joan Grogh, president, presided and announced the rally and supper to be held Saturday in the YWCA and the church service on Trinity Sunday evening, as part of the CGIT week activities in the city. She also welcomed the mothers and three special guests: Mrs. E. Crosbie of the WMS, Miss Rachael Young and Mrs. Osborne Smith of the Girls' Work Board. A piano solo by Barbara Huffman was much enjoyed. A program of games preceded refreshments.

Miss Catherine Hodgens and Miss Anna Edmondson are leaders of this group. Marie Woodgate headed the invitations committee, assisted by Joan Hastie and Barbara Huffman. Games were in charge of Barbara Huffman with Shirley Smith and Dorothy Robbins. Refreshments committee was Joan Henry and Dorothy Woodgate. Joan Hastie reported.

"Art" Is Studied

Regular meeting of Alpha Theta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi was held Monday evening in the YWCA at which time final plans were made for the entertainment of Nu Phi Mu Chapter members at the next meeting.

A former member, Mrs. Wm. Siddall of Montreal, was present, and she related some interesting facts about the chapter in that city. Miss Isobel Birdsall was also welcomed back after a few months' absence. Silver spoons were presented to recent mothers as a token of Beta Sigma Phi.

Miss Olive Morley was in charge of the program. Miss Hazelle Hunt introduced Mrs. B. Duder who described "Great Art Galleries." Mrs. George L'Homme took the subject, "Famous Artists and Their Work," and Mrs. Jos. Hiland traced the "History of Art" from ancient to modern times.

Garlands and Money Tossed Into Gandhi's Funeral Train

ABOARD GANDHI'S FUNERAL TRAIN, En Route to Allahabad, Feb. 11—(AP).—Sorrowing crowds by the thousands packed railway stations today as Mohandas K. Gandhi's funeral train rolled toward Allahabad.

As the train of third-class coaches stopped, jostling mobs pushed forward toward the funeral car where Gandhi's ashes repose in an urn. Garlands and money were tossed into the open window of the special compartment holding the urn.

Tomorrow at noon the ashes will be immersed at Triveni Sangham, near Allahabad, before an estimated 2,000,000 persons. There the Ganges, Jumna and Saraswati—most sacred rivers to Hindus—meet.

As the train swung into the open countryside it picked up speed, passing little groups of Indians who had gathered by the tracks to see it pass.

During a stop at Aligarh in the united provinces of India a delegation of Moslems presented a funeral wreath.

The train, decked with flags of the Free India he did so much to create, pulled out of New Delhi today.

A great crowd stood solemnly as the remains of the assassinated Hindu spiritual leader were carried into the train by his son, Ram Das, and a disciple.

Rushed Police Lines

Suddenly it broke, and men, women and children rushed police lines. Some of them wanted a last look at the remains of the man they loved so well. Others, who struggled through a mass of humanity, reached in the funeral car window to snatch flowers from around the urn.

Police, swinging heavy bamboo lathis (staves) slashed about, trying to restore order.

Prime Minister Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru held off a part of the mob which seemed about to crush a woman. He also snatched up a little boy endangered by the trampling feet. For 15 minutes disorder prevailed.

Then Nehru walked to the little third-class coach where Gandhi's funeral urn sat fixed to a palanquin. He gazed quietly into the window at the urn, which rested on a darkly stained varnished stand. Six small spotlights brightened the urn and etched the outlines of the Indian flag on which it stood.

Another Indian flag formed a canopy.

On the outside of the coach the freshly-gilded Roman numeral III was a reminder of the simplicity of Gandhi. Always in life he had ridden the hard benches of a third-class coach. In deference to him, the whole funeral train was composed of third-class cars.

As Nehru stood in a silent tribute, the train creaked slowly away, the Prime Minister snapped to a salute.

Windsor Mayor Told To Contact Drew Govt. For Emergency Relief

WINDSOR, Feb. 11.—(CP). — Complaints and criticisms arising from western Ontario's three-week-old natural gas shortage which has brought shutdowns, unemployment and re-appearance of relief vouchers, today reverberated here, in Toronto—and Washington, D.C.

With thousands idle in Windsor area, Mayor Arthur Reaume said yesterday he was advised by Ottawa authorities to broach the problem of emergency relief to the Ontario government.

"I was told to place the matter of government assistance in meeting cost of our present food and fuel vouchers before provincial welfare officials and they, in turn, would contact Ottawa," said the mayor.

The city estimates $20,000 will have been spent by the week-end to aid families facing hardships because of empty pay-envelopes.

Meanwhile, city council last night criticized the mayor and welfare department for failure to furnish exact procedure and cost of issuing relief vouchers.

Alderman William C. Riggs said it "looks as if the Provincial and Dominion governments are playing hide-and-seek."

In Toronto, Paki Siren, International representative of the United Auto Workers (CIO), charged that the Union Gas Company, which supplies the Windsor district, has a monopoly approved by the Ontario government. He told the Toronto Labor Council (CIO) last night that Windsor labor is asking for a publicly-owned gas system.

Find Demchuk Guilty But Ask For Mercy

ST. CATHARINES, Feb. 11—(CP)—William Demchuk, found guilty of manslaughter in the death of George William Bradley, will be sentenced on Friday, Feb. 13.

Demchuk was convicted by a Supreme Court jury under Mr. Justice F. H. Barlow which deliberated for two hours before returning its verdict late yesterday. A strong recommendation for mercy was added.

Evidence was that Demchuk heard someone tampering with his motorcar outside his home on Oct. 18. He chased two men and knocked them both down. Bradley died later in hospital from a fractured skull. The other man was Leonard Cooper, who later admitted the pair had intended to steal the car.

In his charge to the jury, his Lordship said "we all have sympathy for Demchuk, but it would be a sad day for justice if we allowed our emotions to overcome our intelligence."

EXPENSIVE THEN, TOO

About the year 1680 tea was selling in England for $30 to $50 a pound.

Faces Layoff

N. P. Petersen, president of the Canadian Acme Screw and Gear Company, said yesterday that its Toronto plant faced a layoff affecting 1,000 employees next week unless Windsor plants resumed operation. Acme Screw and Gear makes automobile parts and relies on castings and gears from the border city.

At Niagara Falls, Ont., more than 200 workers at gas-short plants are laid-off. Danger of immediate industrial snarl-ups have been averted at Hamilton where emergency measures to conserve gas were invoked.

The Union Gas Company last night presented its brief to the United States Power Commission at Washington. It asked for priority over demands of American industrial consumers for fuel from the Panhandle (Texas) Eastern Pipe Line Company.

Union complains that it will be forced out of business unless Panhandle sticks to its contract. Detroit also entered a complaint that unless the Texas company furnishes a larger flow of gas through its pipe line there is little hope of sending back to work 125,000 workers made idle by lack of the fuel.

Officials Seek Speculator In Chicago Grain Break

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11. (AP) —The name of a "leading speculator" who sold 1,000,000 bushels of wheat short just as the market broke last week was demanded today by Representative August H. Andresen (Rep., Minn.).

Calling on Agriculture Secretary Clinton Anderson to reveal his identity, the Congressman declared the trader must have made $400,000, and evidently had inside information about government grain buying plans.

Anderson denied there was any market tip-off. He issued a statement accusing the Congressman of "loose charges" and of talking "primarily for political reasons."

Anderson did not say whether he will give Andresen the name. He assuer reporters that the trader is not a government official.

Study Break

The secretary's criticism of Andresen sprang from the Congressman's announcement yesterday that his House of Representative Committee investigation commodity trading will enquire into the big market break. Andresen coupled it with an attack on government commodity buying plans. He accused the administration of dominating the markets.

The case of the 1,000,000-bushel speculator came to light as an incident to a telegram Anderson sent the Chicago Board of Trade. In this he opposed a reduction in the requirement of a 33 1-3 per cent margin for traders. This margin is the down payment required in speculative orders.

In the telegram, Anderson mentioned the "22,000,000-bushel trade in Chicago wheat futures on Feb. 4, the first day of the break, including a $1,000,000 bushel short sales by one leading speculator."

Anderson's statement denied the Congressman's assertion that "the bottom fell out of the commodities market" when the government stopped buying wheat. Anderson said the "bottom" had already fallen out when buying was ordered halted until prices had stabilized.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

TEN TITLE CONTESTS

EACH YEAR the number of regional, state, city and other championship bridge tournaments has been increasing, as interest in real competitive play has grown by leaps and bounds. Also, the total entry in the contests of all kinds has been expanding steadily. The banner competitions conducted by the American Contract Bridge League are classified now under two headings. The term "world championship" is applied to those in which eligibility hinges on a player's possessing a record of past performances giving him enough official "master" points. The others, open to all, are now called "United States" or "national" championships.

Those events, and the winners of them during the season just closed are:

World's Championships

Individual—Charles J. Solomon, Philadelphia.

Pairs—Allen Harvey, Louisville, Ky., and Frank Weisbach, Cincinnati.

Fours—Charles H. Goren, Philadelphia, B. Jay Becker, Mrs. A. M. Sobel, Lee Hazen and Waldemar von Zedtwitz, New York.

Mixed Pairs—Mrs. H. G. Ansin, Boston, and Charles H. Goren, Philadelphia.

Mixed Teams—Mrs. E. J. Seligman and Harry Fishbein, New York; Mrs. Ruth Chase Goldberg and Ludwig J. Kabakjian, Philadelphia.

United States Championships

Individual (National Masters)—Alexander Weiss, New York.

Individual Open—Ludwig J. Kabakjian, Philadelphia.

Open Pairs—Mrs. A. M. Sobel, New York, and Mrs. Wilkinson Wagar, Atlanta, Ga.

Open Knockout Fours (Vanderbilt Cup)—Harry J. Fishbein, Joseph Low and Larry Hirsch, New York; Harry Feinberg, Cleveland; David Ciarran, Minneapolis, Minn.

Open Match Point Fours—(Triple Tie) Mrs. Lester Rhodes, Potsdam, N. Y.; Mrs. Lewis M. Jaeger and Mrs. Paula Bacher, East Orange, N. J., and Mrs. Ralph C. Young, Philadelphia, with George Rapee, Samuel Stayman and Theodore A. Lightner, New York, and John R. Crawford, Philadelphia, and with Samuel Rossant and Robert L. Appleyard, Forest Hills, N. Y.; M. A. Lightman and Morris Berliant, Memphis, Tenn.

Women's Pairs—Mrs. M. Gutman, Covington, Ky., and Mrs. L. Goldstein, Cincinnati.

Women's Fours—Mrs. Mimi Roncarelli, Montreal; Mrs. W. M. Anderson, Toronto; Mrs. Trevor Lyons, British West Indies, and Mrs. Charlton Wallace, Cincinnati.

Men's Pairs—Tobias Stone and Sol Mogal, New York.

Men's Fours—Sol Mogal, New York; Jeff Glick, Miami Shores; Alvin Landy and Arthur S. Goldsmith, Cleveland, and Jack Kravats, Chicago.

Mixed Pairs—Miss Betty Bysshe and Meyer Schleifer, California.

Mixed Fours—Miss Betty Bysshe, Meyer Schleifer, David Eidem and Miss Detmar Walther, California.

Study the geography of that list, and three facts will strike you—1. That 18 different places are represented, most ever, 2. That many stars played successfully with those from other cities; 3. That New York's old dominance is a thing of the past.

Tomorrow's Question

Do you know what will be the first world's and national championship tournaments of the 1948-1949 season and when they will be played?

6—In Memoriam

HARRIS—In memory of a beloved husband and father, Sanford Harris, who passed away two years ago February 11, 1946
Bright as the light of the evening star
His memory shines in our hearts.
—Remembered always, his wife, and Douglas, Marie, Phyllis.

MORTON—In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Gertrude Viola Morton, beloved wife of the late Richard Morton, who passed away in St. Catharines, February 11, 1947.
Silent her voice and vacant her chair,
Sweet are the memories that linger there,
We miss her and mourn her in silence unseen,
And live in the memory of joys that have been.
—Sadly missed and ever remembered by her family and grandchildren.

McDONALD—In loving memory of mother, who passed away February 11, 1946.
Deep in the heart lies a picture
Of a loved one laid to rest
In memorys frame we shall keep it
Because she was one of the best.
—Ever remembered by Newton and Ollie.

McDONALD—In loving memory of Mrs. E. N. McDonald, who passed away 2 years ago today, February 11. Sadly missed and always remembered by her son Ronald, Mary and children.

VANDENBURG — In loving memory of our son Ronald Vandenberg, who died February 11, 1945
Just when your life was brightest,
Just when your years were best
You were called away from this world of sorrow,
To a home of eternal rest
We do not need a special day
To bring you to our mind
For days we do not think of you
Are very hard to find.
—Ever remembered by mother, father, sisters and brothers.

To Investigate Ban On Food Parcels

LONDON, Feb. 11 — (CP). — Harold Wilson, board of trade president, said in the Commons he would examine the government policy which forbade Ontario employees of Hield Brothers sending tinned soup, meat, vegetables, fruit and biscuits to provide a Christmas dinner for 1,400 employees of Hield Brothers Bradford factory.

The board of trade ruled the bulk gift could not be received but the food could be sent in parcels addressed to individuals and re-pooled on arrival in the United Kingdom.

Wilson said it was contrary to policy to allow firms or organizations to receive food gifts in bulk for distribution.

"I have said I am not altogether happy about the situation and I will go into it with Mr. Strachey (food minister)," Wilson added.

To Hear Missionary

HASTINGS, Feb. 11.—(ENS).—St. George's WA meeting held at the rectory was well attended despite the extreme cold.

Opening devotions were conducted by Canon Spencer, Mrs. C. Baker and Mrs. E. Smullin.

A letter from Bishop Sovereign in the Arctic was read, expressing appreciation for the bale shipped from Hastings, and stressing the need for these in the region.

The members decided to send $10 to the Mrs. (Canon) Turner fund at present, and to hold a tea for the same project immediately after Easter.

Announcement was made of the visit on Sunday next of Rev. Mr. Watts, on furlough from Japan, who had been working on the mission fields there with Canon Spancer's brother.

Mrs. J. C. Taylor and Mrs. E. Smullin were appointed to pack the monthly food parcel; and a letter of thanks was read for the last one sent, expressing thanks especially for a package of tapioca included.

Princess Dies

BERLIN, Feb. 11 (AP)—Princess Hildegard, 66, daughter of Ludwig III, last King of Bavaria, died recently at Wildenbach, Bavaria, the British-licensed German press service reported today.

Bishop Advocates Livelier Epitaphs

CHELMSFORD, Essex, England, Feb. 11—(CP)— Posterity, examining the epitaphs on the gravestones now being erected, will think this generation "dull and lacking in humor," Dr. Henry Wilson, Anglican bishop of Chelmsford, says in his diocesan journal.

"I would like to see a great deal more freedom of expression on memorial tablets," he said. "The tendency today is to cut the wording to the strictest minimum and exclude all emotional expressions.

"As I go about our old village churches, I constantly come upon delightfully naive and dangerously candid memorial tablets. Such things are reflections of the spirit and outlook of those days, and had some judge of good taste cut out these disclosures of the intimate life and habits of the 'dear departed' I think the loss would have been great.

"Posterity, judging by our memorial tablets, will consider our generation as dull and lacking in humor."

Student Vets Buy Own Books

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—(CP). — Student veterans taking courses at universities, high schools and vocational training centres get allowance for text books and only students at VTCS under certain circumstances may draw commuting allowances, Veterans Department officials said today.

Yesterday, The Canadian Press erroneously reported that all student veterans received allowances for books and commuting.

The veterans are seeking increased grants for living allowances, which now are $60 a month for single and $80 for married veterans, plus $12 for a first child and $10 for a second, in addition to their fees. Veterans Minister Gregg has promised a statement on students' fees "as soon as possible."

The Department does allow up to $5 weekly for married veterans or single veterans with dependents who have to take short vocational training courses some distance from their established home. This is done on the ground that it would not be practical for such persons to establish new quarters near the centre for a course lasting perhaps only a few months. No similar allowance is made for university students.

Oliver Blamed For Shortage

STRATFORD, Feb. 11 (CP).—Premier Drew of Ontario today blamed the provincial power shortage on the "paralyzing inaction" of Farquhar Oliver, provincial Liberal leader, and other members of the Liberal government in power from 1934 to 1943.

The Premier reviewed the "sorry tale of incompetence and confusion" in a recorded address broadcast to electors of nearby Huron riding over radio station CJCS of Stratford and later over CKNX at Wingham.

The address dealt with issues in Monday's provincial by-election in Huron, a straight two-man fight between Progressive Conservative Thomas Pryde and Liberal Benson Tuckey, both Exeter business men seeking the seat left vacant by the death of Dr. Hobbs Taylor, a Progressive Conservative.

The premier spoke of charges by Mr. Oliver during the by-election campaign that the present government was responsible for the power shortage and declared that the Liberal leader "must share the responsibility for all the failures and confusion of that irresponsible government of which he was a member."

Schools Supporting Appeal For Children

TORONTO, Feb. 11.—(CP).—Boards of education in many Ontario centres have indicated their schools will support the Canadian appeal for children, Chief Justice J. C. McRuer, co-chairman of the appeal in Ontario, announced today. By developing various money-making projects, aid will be given less-fortunate children in war-devastated countries.

Canadian children will bring cash contributions to school and this will be turned over to the appeal to buy school supplies and equipment to refurnish schools in war-torn lands.

First to set to work on the appeal are the boards of education in Ottawa, Toronto, Welland, Crowland Township, London, North Bay, Belleville, Chatham, Cornwall, Fort William, Kington, Oshawa, Brockville, Prescott, Hawkesbury and Pembroke.

Three Pay Fines

William McGuire, Sudbury, was greeted in police court this morning by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, with the comment: "You've been away for a long time, McGuire—welcome home."

McGuire, charged with being drunk in public, was also charged with a similar offense which took place March 28, 1944, and for which he had not made a court appearance.

Pleading guilty to both charges, he was fined $10 and $2.50 costs on each.

Bartholemew Leahy paid $10 and $2.50 costs for being drunk in public.

John Cupoli was fined $10 and costs of $2.50 on a charge of careless driving to which he pleaded guilty. There had been no damage to any other car, it was stated.

NEED IS URGENT

Need for additional wartime houses for Lindsay is becoming a vital matter. The need, Mayor Chas. Lamb says, is largely due to the exceptional industrial growth, and he urged that serious consideration be given the matter at an early date.

THREE FIRE ALARMS

Smoke filled Reid's Service Garage, 236 Charlotte St., early Tuesday evening, until firemen remedied the situation by unplugging the chimney. Firemen also lent a hand later in the evening when pipes collapsed at the home of Mrs. L. Fleetwood, 339 Aylmer St., filling the house with smoke. Early Wednesday morning a chimney fire was reported from the home of William J. Sharpe, 210 London St.

World News In Brief

Taken from Wires of Canadian Press

HAMILTON.—Coal gas fumes from a defective furnace were held responsible for the death of a 3½-year-old boy and sending four adults to hospital. Mrs. Janet Barber of Hamilton was awakened last night by the crying of her baby son, David. Believing he suffered from convulsions, she submerged his body in a warm bath but collapsed on the floor before she could remove the baby from the water. Police were summoned to find the baby drowned and the house reeking with coal gas fumes.

SUDBURY.—William Allin, 40, of Hornepayne, a Canadian National Railways conductor, was sentenced to 12 months' imprisonment determinate, and 12 months' indeterminate for breaking, entering and theft. He pleaded guilty a week ago to charges of burgalizing a freight car, and stealing a quantity of liquor.

CAIRO.—Jamal Effendi Husseini, deputy chairman of the Palestin Higher Executive, said Arab suicide squads are training in Palestine "for attacking the United Nations Commission when it comes to the Holy Land."

TORONTO. — Mines Minister Frost declared increased domestic consumption of natural gas in Southwestern Ontario had contributed largely to the fuel shortage that had crippled industry in that part of the province.

SHANGHAI.—A mass flight of thousands from danger spots in China's civil war is straining all available airlines. The only escape from most Communist threatened cities is by air—for official and civilian alike. Travellers returning from Mukden, Southern Manchuria, say the situation is critical.

TORONTO.—Two police constables last night kept a cold vigil over a safe stolen from an east-end hotel in the hope that robbers would return to salvage their loot, but the watch was called off today when the would-be safe-crackers failed to appear.

WINDSOR — Bert Beaumont, Ontario director of child welfare, said "we have no black market baby agency in this province," and added that arrangements for adoption of children should be made through recognized child-caring societies.

EXETER — Ontario Welfare Minister Goodfellow, speaking in the Huron provincial by-election campaign in support of Progressive Conservative candidate Thomas Pryde, urged a national scheme of contributory old age pensions for all Canadians.

HALIFAX — A Halifax paper said Justice Minister Ilsley, "while continuing to maintain his silence, definitely has his hat in the ring as a candidate to succeed Prime Minister Mackenzie King as Liberal party chieftain."

PARIS — Four miners were killed and one severely injured in a fire-damp explosion in a pit at Camphausen in the Saar.

TORONTO — The refrigeration method of anaesthesia is discussed by Dr. Ethel A. Noble of Ottawa in the current issue of the Canadian Medical Journal. She reviews use of the technique during the last five years in major operations where it was necessary to reduce operative shock to a minimum.

NEW YORK.—More than 228,000 gallons of heavy fuel oil was distributed through New York City's emergency pool to large apartment houses and some industrial plants certified by police as distress cases.

LOS ANGELES.—Dr. Edward A. Strecker, prominent psychiatrist, said the United States is "on the brink of disintegration" because of the increase in divorce and juvenile and adult delinquency. He said American parents are failures because they fail to instil self-reliance in their children and leave them emotionally immature.

GROTON, Conn.—Fire wrecked the headquarters of Admiral James Fife, Atlantic fleet submarine commander. The walls of the large, three-storey brick building were left standing, but the interior was extensively damaged.

CLEVELAND — A mechanical method for lowering or raising blood pressure during an operation by withdrawal or addition of blood through an artery has been developed by two Cleveland surgeons, Dr. Irvine H. Page and Dr. Otto Glasser. They reported it helpful in certain cases in which bleeding is likely to be profuse and difficult to cope with.

WASHINGTON — Turkey is "determined to fight anybody any time" to preserve its freedom, Maj. Horace McBride, chief of the United States Military Mission, said. He emphasized in an interview that the Turks "are not grasping," they don't want anything outside their own borders." But they firmly intended to resist any move against them.

OSLO.—A 36-year-old Danish globe-trotter, Osver Nordstroem, left Bergen yesterday in a 19-foot canoe which he plans to paddle and sail across the Atlantic. He intends to make Scotland his first stop.

PEIPING.—The scarcest thing in Peiping today was war news from Manchuria. Despite crucial battles, all usual sources appeared to have taken time out to celebrate the Chinese Lunar New Year.

GUELPH—No inquest will be held into the death of Lloyd M. Grant, Toronto business man, who was found dead in his hotel room here yesterday. Mr. Grant, who had just returned from a trip to Western Canada, is believed to have died in his sleep.

COPENHAGEN — The Copenhagen Stock Exchange today quoted a considerable fall in prices of industrial and shipping stcoks. Industrial stocks fell from one to three points and shipping stocks from one and a half points to eight points. Several other stocks were also quoted at lower prices.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld.—A recount today of the dead in yesterday's holocaust in the old people's home here reduced the death toll to 33. This was one under the total announced last night and it meant that 10 persons had escaped the early morning blaze.

WASHINGTON — The United States has protested to Russia and Hungary against what it termed the "abduction" of two American military attaches by Soviet troops in Hungary. A note from Moscow, made public today by the state department, declared that the action is "an arbitrary and unjustified exercise of police power" by Red Army troops.

MONTREAL—Prevention of a depression in Canada depends on increased home consumption, self-sufficiency, subsidies, stable prices and cultivation of empire preferences, John H. Blackmore, Social Credit member of parliament for Lethbridge, told the St. James Literary Society here.

ST. CATHARINES — Charles McKinney, 17, of Grimsby was today remanded in custody to Feb. 18 when he appeared on a charge of assaulting Police Chief W. W. Turner, of Grimsby Feb. 7. Chief Turner is still confined to bed.

"Don't stand there gaping like a fool, fetch a life-belt."

Youth Charged In Unusual Case

The trial continues this afternoon of Murray Nice, 581 Douglas Ave., charged with attempting to take a city bus without the permission of the owners, to which he had pleaded not guilty.

This morning, PC Gordon Trennum stated that about midnight on Feb. 8 he had been attracted to a parked city bus at the corner of George and King streets when he saw three youths enter the bus, whose motor was idling. The officer testified that he had seen the bus back up a full length of itself, after which the motor stalled.

Two of the youths jumped from the bus as he approached, the witness said, and he stated that he found the accused about to leave the driver's seat.

L. R. Mitchell, manager of the Peterborough Bus Lines, testified that the accused was not employed by that company and had no authority to move a bus.

The accused, in evidence, stated that he had entered the bus with the other two youths to look for a glove which he had lost there. He did not know if the bus had moved, he said, and stated that he had not moved it himself, nor seen either of the others move it.

In reply to questioning from crown counsel McElderry, he said that it may have been possible that one of the three had shoved against the gear-shift accidently, putting the bus in motion.

There will be two other defence witnesses this afternoon. W. J. A. Fair is handling the defence.

EXTENSIVE DAMAGES

Nearly $500 damages resulted to two cars from an accident Tuesday morning at the corner of Monaghan Road and Weller St., in 21 degrees below zero. The car of Arthur Wagstaff, 252 King George street, had its grille caved in, hood bent, bumper and steering arm broken, and a fender and headlight caved in. Both doors were caved in on the car of Rev. William McCarney, 208 Romaine street, and both rear fenders badly crumpled. PC A. Dalton was investigating officer.

Hope Manitoba Drama To Draw Big Attendance

By JACK AVESON

WINNIPEG, Feb. 11 — (CP). — Grease paint and footlights will vie for honors with liniment and hockey sticks next week in Western Canada's entertainment field and the thespians are predicting that drama will hold its own in crowd appeal.

The Manitoba drama festival, opening Feb. 16, will be the first of the four western provincial festivals to determine the west's entries in the Dominion drama finals next April. British Columbia will follow Feb. 25-28, Alberta March 5-6 and Saskatchewan March 11-13.

Theatre-goers, anxious to dub 1948 the year of the great revival in drama, are making two predictions for the west: the quality of the plays in the provincial festivals will be high and the attendance will follow suit.

In support of their first contention they point to the three sub-regional festivals already held in Alberta, with the Banff Literary Dramatic Society, the Medicine Hat Little Theatre and The Calgary Workshop 14 emerging winners over several competitors.

Expect Crowds

Packed houses, sometimes more associated with hockey games than with drama festivals, are also predicted for the provincial finals. Attendance at productions staged so far this year—the western inter-varsity drama competition held recently at Winnipeg being a slight exception—has generally been high.

Five theatrical groups will compete in next week's Manitoba drama festival. The groups and played to be presented are: Brandon Little Theatre, first act of Pygmalion (Shaw); Winnipeg Repertory Theatre, first act of Rebecca (Du Maurier); St. Boniface Cercle Moliere, a one-act French comedy; University of Manitoba Dramatic Society, First and Last (Galsworthy); and Winnipeg Theatre Workshop, (Battsheda).

Lions Decide To Hold Raffle

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 11—(ENS)—Lakefield Lions decided to raffle a boat, motor, and trailer at their meeting in the Commercial Hotel. Doug Davis and his committee will be in charge of undertaking. Tickets will be available shortly and the draw will be made at the Lions regatta carnival early in the summer.

Jack Ryan boosted. G. Winder Smith and Clarence Coons won the booster prize.

Jack Spargo gave the financial report of the sports night held recently.

A challenge was received and accepted from the Peterborough Lions Club to a hoegey match, which will be held Wednesday, Feb. 18 at 8.30 in the Lakefield rink following a dinner meeting.

Dr. Hugh Gastle, MOH, gave a most educational address on health week, speaking on diseases most prevalent in the village. The speaker was introduced by Ken Morris and thanked by G. Winder Smith.

Clarence Coons, president of the Lakefield Fair Board, said it had been decided at a directors' meeting of the Fair Board that a member of the Lions Club should be a director of the Fair Board. The Lions will name a director at the next meeting.

Lion Bob Sutton, first vice-president, presided for the meeting.

COMPULSORY EDUCATION

Education in Denmark has been compulsory since 1912. A parent may choose between teaching a child himself or sending him to school, but fewer than one child in 1,000 are taught at home.

New Road Equipment Now At Millbrook

MILLBROOK, Feb. 11—(ENS)—Report of the arrival and trial of a tractor and bulldozer was made at the February meeting of Cavan municipal council and road superintendent, L. N. Gibson, was instructed to order summer treads and shoes for it.

Tenders for Cedar Bridge covering were opened, and the special committee authorized to deal with the selection. Collector A. V. Thorne reported taxes collected to date. Reeve Harold Cathcart gave a report on the municipal convention held at Brantford.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for tenders for crushing and delivering 4,000 yards or more of crushed gravel, to specification of road engineer.

Secretaries of North and South Cavan school areas are to be informed that the school act states that neither school area board, or council, have any power to grant pay to school trustees, but that the matter would be kept under consideration.

Accounts passed were: Elsie Bennett Gift Shop, veteran's ring, $10; United Counties Durham and Northumberland, hospitalization, $13.50; Municipal World, subscription, $12.37; Robert Wells, relief, $6; Ganaraska River Conservation, Cavan's share of cost, $300; P. I. Bentley, $50; council fees, $35; E. A. Boyles, 1 sheep killed, $20; L. H. Gibson, road superintendent, pay roll No. 1, $948.82.

$10,000 Demanded From 'Celery King'

TORONTO, Feb. 11 — (CP) — Police last night arrested three men on charges of attempted extortion in connection with a series of threatening telephone calls to the home of Michael Blidner, part owner of the Dominion Fruit Company. Those held gave their names as George Milhoff, 19; Joseph Adams, 20; and Samuel Adams, 32.

Blidner, known locally as the "Celery King," told police he had received repeated telephone demands in recent weeks to pay over $10,000 or take the consequences. One demand was followed by the firing of a rifle bullet through an upstairs window of the Blidner home.

THE PORPOISE, scientists have found, is one of man's most "human" deep-sea relatives. Here, a pair of them eat out of the hands of a man, showing, scientists say, that they are very adaptable and intelligent mammals.

Prefers Skunks

LOCK HAVEN, Pa., Feb. 11 — (AP).—The groundhog is vastly over-rated as a weather forecaster, says weatherman Joseph A. Beaver. The skunk—now there's an animal to trust when it comes to weather, Beaver said yesterday. "Pay no attention to the groundhog," said Beaver. "If the skunks are out on the country roads, there will be a break in the weather."

Lakefield Institute Will Present Play

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 11 (ENS)—Mrs. E. Irwin was hostess to the Women's Institute meeting on Thursday. Mrs. Roy Bullock donated a quilt top to the Institute. Two members joined the Consumers Association.

The ladies decided to donate $5 to the Lakefield Fair, to be divided into three prizes for the most articles made out of one yard of factory cotton. The government grant of $3 was received. It was planned to present a play on March 12 in Memorial Hall. Mrs Howard Bullock, president, was chairman.

Lunch was served by the lunch committee, Mrs. F. M. S. Touchburn, Mrs. R. Weaver and Mrs. F. Dixon.

Teacher Serves Hot Lunches

BONARLAW, Feb. 11—Harold School started serving hot lunches last week. The teacher Miss June Walker purchased the necessary dishes and the result is at noon the 21 pupils and teacher all enjoy a hot dinner. They make vegetable soup, hot cocoa, etc., using the hot plate to cook on. This means a big improvement to cold sandwiches.

Miss Walker says it pays well for the little effort, when you see all those tiny tots enjoying their delicious hot dinners.

Arabs Change "D-Day" From Feb. 15

Invaders Controlling British Areas; Can't Send Troops

DAMASCUS, Syria, Feb. 12. — (AP).—Sources close to the Arab volunteer army said today the "D-Day" for the Arab fight against Palestine Jews, reported set for Feb. 15, has been postponed.

"Political and diplomatic developments in Cairo and other world capitals" caused the postponement, the informants said. Political observers expressed the opinion that action in Palestine might be confined to guerilla fighting until the British mandate is ended or until the Arab League meeting in Cairo drafts a policy.

Young Jews joined Damascus police today in patrolling the Jewish quarters of the city after the Jewish Alliance School was slightly damaged by a bomb. Community leaders said all Jewish women would remain in their homes after 7 p.m. daily.

Invaders In Control

LONDON, Feb. 12 (Reuters)—Loss to Arab invaders of British administrative control of the hill districts of Samaria was reported to the United Nations Palestine Commission in a memorandum received yesterday from the Palestine government, it was authoritatively learned here today.

The memorandum, called for by the commission on recent Arab incursions into Palestine, cited incursions over the northern frontier of Syria and reported that about 700 Arabs are believed to have moved into Palestine on Jan. 22, joined a few days later by another party or 700.

The note admitted that the invaders now are in administrative control of certain areas from which Britain police have already withdrawn.

The decision whether or not to send a force large enough to take effective action rests with Lt.-Gen. G. A. MacMillan, British general officer commanding in Palestine but observers said to send such a force would deprive the rest of Palestine of an adequate garrison and would render the position of the whole country chaotic.

Roof Blown Off Film Studio

TORONTO, Feb. 12 — (CP).—An explosion in the plant of Audio Films in suburban Mimico to-day blew the roof off the plant's assembly room and injured six employees. Extent of their injuries was not known immediately.

Fire which accompanied the blast destroyed movie film. A girl worker was overcome by fumes, but her condition was not regarded as serious.

Firemen from suburban fire departments worked through the noon hour to bring the blaze under control. Its cause was not immediately determined. So far, there is no estimate of the damage.

Charge Hired Gunmen Imported To Toronto

TORONTO, Feb. 12. (CP)—A Toronto paper said today it had learned that "hired gunmen are being imported to Toronto to carry out difficult hold-ups on a retainer-and-split basis."

The newspaper added: "Several gangs of young desperadoes, mostly with penitentiary records and with hide-outs in Hamilton, Windsor and other provincial points, are used by Toronto master-criminals who never themselves appear on the scene of the crimes."

Among recent robberies attributed to this gang the newspaper mentioned the hold-up of a dice game at suburban Etobicoke when upwards of $6,000 was taken, and the theft of a safe containing $1,700 from the Coxwell Inn.

Fire Snarls Traffic

TORONTO, Feb. 12—(CP). — A gigantic traffic snarl, one of the worst in Toronto's history, gripped the downtown area early today. It resulted from diversion of traffic from waterfront traffic arteries because of a fire at the British American oil property. Street cars on Queen Street, a main east-west street, ran 30 to 40 minutes behind schedule. From the Queen Street bridge over the Don River street cars and autos crawled at a snail's pace — stretched in a line as far as the eye could see. Some estimates were that it was two miles long.

Trenton Woman Badly Burned; Rescues Baby

TRENTON, Feb. 12—(CP)—Mrs. Marie Scea, 29, rescued her two-weeks old baby from their flaming home today but suffered severe burns herself. She was removed to Belleville hospital for treatment and latest reports said there is little hope held for her recovery.

The woman's husband, George Scea, banked the fire when he left for work at 8 a.m.? She was in bed. An hour later her brother, 18-year-old Gerald Ostram who lives next door, noticed the fire and heard his sister scream. Believing the baby might still be in the house, he smashed a window with his fists to rescue the youngster. But the mother had carried the baby to safety, shielding it from the fire with her body. She was burned about the back.

The house was destroyed. The fire brigade from the RCAF station here helped the local fire department fight the fire and prevent it from spreading to adjoining houses. Cause of the fire was overheated pipes.

When Mrs. Scea awoke, she found her bedroom a mass of flame and smoke. Grabbing a blanket, she rushed into the next room where her baby was sleeping. She wrapped the child in the covering and fought her way through the blazing house.

The blanket ignited but Mrs. Scea smothered the flames by rolling the baby against her body. She rushed through the living room and reached safety with her hair afire and her body badly burned.

8 Killed In Crash North Of Frankfurt

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 12 — (Reuters).—Eight of the 17 passengers and the crew of four were killed today when a Danish Airlines Douglas DC-3 crashed at Geesen, northwest of Frankfurt, Germany, the Danish Airlines announced.

The plane left Kastrup airport near Copenhagen this morning on the Copenhagen - Frankfurt-Zurich route.

The airlines said that crew and passengers were largely Swiss and Swedish subjects.

Nip Plot To Overthrow Costa Rican Government

SAN JOSE, Cost Rica, Feb. 12. —(AP).—Troops and police nipped today a plot to overthrow Costa Rica's government and install former President Rafael Calderon Guardia.

The attempted coup began with violence last night over Sunday's presidential elections. A policeman was killed and several persons were wounded in shooting which continued into the early morning.

Gangs raced through the streets. They wore the blue, yellow and red armbands of the Republicano Nacional and the red armbands of the Vanguardia Popular (Communist) party, both supporters of Calderon.

Calderon trails by 10,000 votes in Sunday's election and has conceded the victory of publisher Otilio Ulate Blanco, of the Union Nacional party. However, Calderon has charged fraud. Ulate said yesterday he learned the Communists and some army men planned a coup, but outgoing President Teodoro Picado Michalski said he was confident such a move could be repelled.

A Government source said the coup was plotted by the Communists and that the Republicano Nacional was not involved. He saiad the first step was a vain attempt to seize a barracks, but it had probably failed because the plotters struck too soon.

Shots rang out frequently in the capital this morning. Half-tracks loaded with soldiers raced through the streets with sirens screaming. Mobile troops patrolled the business district. The presidential guard said machine-gun fire broke out within the Bella Vista police and army barracks and that then the firing became general throughout the business district. People ducked into doorways or dropped to the sidewalks.

TLC Requests Subsidies Back On Food

Urge Tax Exemptions On $1,500 Rate; Rap Labor Relations

TORONTO, Feb. 12 (CP)—The Ontario Provincial Federation of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada today submitted to Premier Drew and members of his cabinet that "the working people of Ontario are frantic and desperate at the steadily increasing prices which are being charged for the most humble and basic needs in food and other items" as a comprehensive brief presented prior to the opening of the provincial legislature March 3.

Replying to the 200-odd persons who crowded the council chamber, Premier Drew promised consideration of the proposals and then issued an oral statement of his position as to Communists in labor organizations. He quoted verbatim remarks he made at the last legislative session in which he remarked his belief in the staunchness of personnel and leaders of the unions but called upon them to see that Communists were allowed no place in the labor movement.

The federation brief, while admitting all its proposals did not fall within the jurisdiction of the province, it asked for re-institution of the policy of granting subsidies on basic food commodities, such as dairy products, and the "enforcement of a reduction in consumers prices."

Also asked was immediate granting of exemptions on income tax at the changed rates of $1,500 for single persons and $2,400 for married persons.

Want Profit Tax

Another point asked for was "immediate re-imposition of the 100 per cent excess profit tax as a means to meet the cost of subsidization and to eliminate profiteering. Reconstruction of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board as a Peacetime Prices and Trade Board with equal representation of farmer, labor and industry, prices to be lowered to the 1946 level."

A. F. MacArthur of Toronto, president of the association, led the delegation. Other spokesmen were: Hugh J. Sedgwick, Hamilton, secretary-treasurer; A. W. Godfrey, Fort William, vice-president, Bruce A. H. Magnuson, Sudbury, vice-president, and H. J. Green, Toronto, vice-president.

Wider Action

The labor representatives were critical of the Labor Relations Board Act of 1944 for failing to go far enough in certain respects.

It was suggested that amendments be made at the forthcoming session to alter it so as to:

(1) Offer a clear definition of "company unions" which should be eliminated from any and all forms of certification.

(2) Provide automatic grievance procedure to go into effect upon certification.

(3) widen the definition of unfair labor practices to cover threats of various kinds to shut down, move plants, declare lockouts or to use industrial spy systems.

Diamond Robbery

JERUSALEM, Feb. 12 — (Reuters).—Six armed Jews held up a diamond merchant in Tel Aviv today and stole diamonds valued at $100,000, Jewish sources in Tel Aviv reported.

Taxi Driver Didn't Know He Had Bandits

STRATFORD, Feb. 12 (CP)—Taxi driver Robert F. Turnbull of Stratford thought he was in trouble over a traffic violation when police stopped his car in Kitchener yesterday. But he was too surprised to speak when two constables approached his car with drawn guns and arrested his two passengers on bank holdup charges.

Turnbull, 52, said in an interview today that he didn't know until police stopped the car that the passengers—Bradley Watts of Stratford and Alan Williamson of Galt—were wanted as suspects in a $4,137 bank robbery at nearby Tavistock. Not until he was taken to police headquarters in Kitchener did he learn that one of his passengers carried the $4,137.

On his return home today—he was released after questioning—Turnbull related that he picked the pair up in Stratford and they asked him to drive to the village of New Hamburg.

"I thought they were salesmen. When we got near Shakespeare the men said they wanted me to turn down to Tavistock first because they had a cheque to cash and wanted to get to the bank before closing time. I stopped at the bank and they walked in, telling me they'd be out in five minutes. When they came out of the bank they did not seem to be in a hurry and did not ask me to drive any faster than ordinarily."

Ignored Police

The taximan said he drove to New Hamburg and the men asked him to go to Kitchener and then instructed him to take a back road to the new city of Waterloo. But he said he didn't know the back road route and stuck to the main highway.

At Kitchener he saw a police car turn and come toward the cab. "I heard two distinct bangs and though that maybe a tire had blown out so I slowed down and had to come to a stop when I saw a road grader in front of me."

When the police left their car and ran to the cab, one of the passengers drew a gun. Turnbull said he heard a click but the gun did not go off.

He said that when he learned, from conversation between the police, about the bank robbery he thought it might have taken place in Stratford before he picked up his fares. "I certainly didn't think there had been any robbery at Tavistock because they (the passengers) acted very cool and did not seem to be in any rush."

Had Venison Fined $35, Costs

LINDSAY, Feb. 12 (ENS). — On his plea of guilty to a charge of being in possession of venison during a period of closed season, William Marshall of Lindsay was fined $35 and costs of $5 in police court by Magistrate E. A. Gee. Evidenced showed Marshall and a friend were apprehended February 9 near Minden, who a car they were driving went into a ditch on Highway 35.

On investigating the accident, Provincial Constable Arthur Watson and A. Milligan of Minden found three quarters of a deer covered over in the back seat. Game Overseer W. Scott of Lindsay was notified and went to Minden to take the men into custody. Marshall claimed the deer was his and not his companion's.

In court, Marshall said he had been working at a lumber camp on Crooked Lake north of Haliburton this winter. While there, he is alleged to have shot a deer and hidden it in snow, with the intention of bringing the venison out from the camp later. Overseer Scott pointed out that when found in he car, the venison was frozen and snow was seen on the carcass. He added that it is illegal to have a gun in a lumber camp.

Fire Sweeps Oil Plant; Loss Heavy

Searing Flames Drive 300 Firemen Back; Damage $500,000.

TORONTO, Feb. 12— (CP). — Smoke still rose today from the British American Oil Company storage depot on the Toronto waterfront where fire through the night raged in gasoline and oil storage tanks. Damage was estimated at $500,000, heaviest loss in a Toronto fire since a $10,387,000 blaze in 1904.

Searing flames from burning gasoline and oil drove back some 300 firemen from seven fire stations as they battled the outburst which started in a warehouse in the late afternoon yesterday.

For a time the entire eastern waterfront area was threatened and there were fears that a major disaster might result if the storage tanks exploded.

For the first time in three years, a fourth alarm was sounded. The firemen used 11 hose-wagons, seven aerial ladders and one salvage truck. They had help from oil company fire squads.

Actual quantities of gasoline and oil destroyed has not been determined.

Heavy police reinforcements worked in the area which was cordoned off shortly after the fire broke out at 5 p.m. yesterday after a short circuit set on fire a motor truck loading gasoline.

The first fire resulted in a warehouse blaze where hundreds of drums of oil and naptha were stored. As the warehouse went up in flames, burning oil flowed over the ground with new fires breaking out one after another.

Rivers of Oil

Firemen, police, reporters and cameramen struggled in the mud and water between rivers of burning oil under a drizzle of snow and rain as the flames lit up the darkness for miles around, easily visible in the downtown area not far west of the blaze.

The struggle lasted nearly seven hours before the fire chiefs said the main gasoline storage tanks fringing the area could be considered safe. Two large buildings and a number of small tanks, along with hundreds of drums of highly inflammable fuel, had been destroyed.

The exact loss would not be determined until after a thorough check of supplies in the area. The loss of oil alone was a major blow to present critical supplies of fuel oil and gasoline.

Three Firemen Hurt

Three firemen were injured. Captain William Watt of the Gerrard Street fire station fell into a pit, injuring his right hip and leg, but remained on the job. Fireman David Hicks suffered facial injuries from flying debris and fireman Ernest Head suffered a leg injury when he was knocked off a platform by one of the many blasts.

It was midnight before firemen announced the blaze was under control and that the big tanks had been saved. These larger tanks each have a capacity of more than 200,000 gallons, and some were filled with high octane aviation gasoline.

In the early stages firemen fought the warehouse blaze at close range, but by 10 p.m. the warehouse walls partially collapsed and the fire travelled to a second building 100 feet distant. It was at this stage that firemen feared the blaze was out of control. A much wider area was cleared by the police and with 20 lines of hose working the firemen finally got the upper hand.

Two Escape Death In Elevator Crash

TORONTO, Feb. 12—(CP).—Two men escaped without serious injury today when the cable broke in a freight elevator at the Pilkington Glass Company on Mercer Street in the downtown area. Joseph Duda, 41, and Arthur Seymour, 19, were in the elevator when it plunged two floors to the basement.

Both were taken to hospital, where they are being held for further examination. Duda suffered head injuries. Seymour received abrasions.

Better Watch Your Step, Friday's The 13th Carry Horseshoe, Four Leaf Clover With You

By The Canadian Press

Fearsome Friday the 13th will be here again tomorrow, and every bold citizen who avoids black cats, leaning ladders and three on a match had better arm himself with a horseshoe or clover-leaf, knock on wood, or simply stay in bed all day.

Safety - conscious employers might ponder the latter course (after all, Friday the 13th comes only twice this year—its next occurrence is in August), recommended by at least one

This method of foiling fate is eminent psychologist. Some people are so upset by their superstitious dread of Friday the 13th—explains this authority — that they concentrate deeply on one pet fear with the result their alertness to other dangers is diminished.

"If you are desperately fearful something is going to happen to you on Friday the 13th, it is well to stay in bed," he concludes.

As for the origin of the ill-omened day, it's any goblin's guess. The number 13 was deemed unlucky by astronomers of ancient Babylon and Scandinavia mythologists blacklisted it because Balder, their sun-god, had to die when it cropped up in the circle of Valhalla.

Most widely accepted version of its origin, however, is the fact there were 13 guests at the Last Supper, including Judas Iscariot who next day—traditionally a Friday—betrayed Christ.

The old hoodoo hasn't put in an appearance since last June—the only Friday the 13th in 1947. No year is complete without at least one day when it behooves the superstitious to sleep, eat, walk and talk warily. Six times during the last five years Friday has been dated up with the 13th.

Gandhi's Ashes Immersed In Sacred Rivers; Thousands At Funeral

ALLAHABAD, Feb. 12—(CP).—Thousands of frenzied persons waded up to their necks at the confluence of the Ganges and Jumna Rivers when some of the ashes of Mohandas K. Gandhi were immersed by his son Ramdas in the water holy to Hindus. Two million others had lined the three-mile route to the river bank to pay their last respects to the man who ranks almost as a saint in this land as the copper urn carrying his ashes were carried past.

Four planes flew low overhead, dipped in salute and released a cascade of flowers — marigolds, rose petals and sweet peas—on the flower-decked trailer.

As the urn was put aboard an amphibious "duck" the tension of the crowd reached a frenzy and when the vehicle with members of Gandhi's family and Prime Minister Nehru and Deputy Prime Minister Patel aboard, headed into mid-stream, thousand followed it into the water.

When the white vessel stopped a bugler sounded the "Last Post" and Ramdas Gandhi, after the customary rites, immersed his father's remains in the holy water.

After Nehru had immersed his feet he told those gathered on the bank that the great man who had served India selflessly, preaching his gospel of truth and non-violence would walk among them no more but his message would always be with them.

Must Go Forward

"Gandhi's journey is ended," Nehru said. "But the journey of the Indian people has just begun. Let us march forward under the radiant light of his teachings."

Tens of thousands of persons witnessed the ceremony which took place just after 2 p.m.

At Triveni Sangham, the confluence of Hinduism's most sacred rivers, Gandhi's son Ramdas kissed the copper funeral urn bearing the remains of his father in the principal ritual.

He handed the urn to another son, Devadas. The ashes were poured out. The wind whipped Gandhi's mortal remains into a grayish spray which settled slowly upon the water.

Gas Rationing For W. Ontario

TORONTO, Feb. 12. (CP)—Southwestern Ontario today began compulsory rationing of natural gas for domestic use, while householders studied an appeal to cut back voluntarily their consumption by 25 per cent of the amount used last December.

Both the order and appeal were 11th hour steps announced by Mines Minister Leslie Frost yesterday to solve the three-week-old gas shortage that has closed scores of plants and made upwards of 25,000 idle.

Fuel controller A. R. Crozier announced these restrictions:

Each domestic consumer is restricted to the amount of gas used last December.

Cooking ranges must not be used for heating purposes, and use of gas heaters for rooms is prohibited if other heating equipment is available.

Sale and installation of gas heaters or apparatus is banned without an order from the fuel controller.

The emergency move to ration gas to homes came during a day-long meeting here between affected municipalities, unions, industries and Queen's Park officials.

The appeal to consumers to voluntarily slash consumption apart from the new restriction was made because if it is done "it will mean up to 25,500 workers who have been laid off will return to work in a couple of days," the Ontario Mines Minister said.

To be in effect to the end of winter, the order contains provisions for a penalty for non-observance, but neither Mr. Frost or Mr. Crozier would say what it is.

Snowslide Hurls Coaches Down Gorge, No Casualties

ALAMOSA, Colo., Feb. 12 (AP) —A massive snowslide thundered down on a tiny narrow-gauge railroad train last night, tumbling three coaches down a mountain gorge, but those aboard miraculously escaped death.

The cars were hurled hundreds of feet.

Two train crew members were in hospital today with injuries, and a dispatcher for the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad reported that all the 11 passengers were shaken up.

The passengers and members of the train crew arrived here after a two-hour, 15-mile trip from the wreck scene.

The injured men were identified by the dispatcher as brakeman George Ottoway and Express Messenger Victor Ingle.

The dispatcher said one woman passenger whose identity was not immediately available was reported to have frozen her feet.

Ottoway suffered chest injuries. Ingle's injuries have not yet been determined.

Railroad officials said the snowslide was 100 feet wide and 10 feet deep.

The only route to the wreck scene, high in the Cumbres Mountains, was over the winding, breath-taking railway line.

The five-car train was being pulled over its tortuous route by two engines when the snow avalanche slammed into it. Two passenger cars—half the size of standard railway equipment — were hurtled at least 300 feet down the canyon. The observation car tumbled about 75 feet. The engines, baggage and mail cars remained upright.

The Los Pinos River running at the base of the chasm is at least another 700 feet below where the cars stopped.

Plan Probe To Uncover Speculators

Say Dealers Bought Large Quantities In Quebec Areas

By ROSS MUNRO.

OTTAWA, Feb. 12 — (CP). — The Commons Prices Committee decided to-day to ferret out any speculators and hoarders of butter during the last five months.

"If there has been any speculation or hoarding it is for this committee to determine what effect it has had on butter prices," said Health Minister Martin, the committee chairman, pointing out that butter prices jumped ahead last November and December before the ceiling price was reimposed.

The committee will seek to obtain all information available on holders of butter in Canadian warehouses.

It will demand through a questionnaire to the warehouses and cold storage plants the names of the holders and the amounts held during the last five months.

Large Purchases

This decision was reached after Jean Lesage (L-Montmagny-L'Islet) said there were rumors in Quebec city and even in Montreal that last November and December, when butter prices were increasing large quantities of butter were bought up by dealers.

"In one case, it was rumored the purchase totalled 100,000 pounds," Mr. Lesage said.

"Are you aware of any such activities on the market?" Mr. Lesage asked Kenneth Taylor, Prices Board chairman appearing as a witness in this third day's sitting of this inquiry into the causes of high prices.

Mr. Taylor said he had no knowledge of such buying this year. He said that every storage manager can say who owns butter he now holds but he may not be able to say who owned the

Labor Policy Unstable—Eden

LONDON, Feb. 12.—(CP). — Anthony Eden, deputy leader of the Opposition, today charged the Labor government with vacillating in its economic policy

Eden asserted that a profund shock to certain sections of the population had been caused by the disclosure of Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Stafford Cripps, that the gap in Britain's balance of overseas payments last year amounted to £675,000,000 (2,700,000,000) and Attlee's statement on wage policy.

The wartime foreign secretary, while not blaming Sir Stafford who he said had always stated the facts, charged that there had been an "alternating succession of warnings and optimistic forecasts from the government front bench."

"I don't understand how it is possible for members of the same cabinet to make such completely contradictory statements," he added.

He admitted wage increases was a contributing factor to inflation but the government's own contribution had been no less serious.

Plan To Postpone Debate On India

LAKE SUCCESS, Feb. 12 (AP) —The United Nations security council, driving to clear its decks for discussions on Palestine, moves to shelve the India-Pakistan Kashmir case today.

India wants the case adjourned until at least March 15 to enable her delegation to return to New Delhi for instructions. Indications are that the council will compromise and halt debate until March 1.

After a heated clash with the Colombian delegate, Indian delegate N. Gopalaswami Ayyanger cancelled plane reservations yesterday and announced he would stay on to answer "unjustified suspicions" directed at his government.

Armed Police Capture 2 Alleged Bandits; $4,137 Loot Recovered

2 Unmasked Men Held Up Tavistock Bank Just Before Closing Time; Taxi Driver Leads Pair Into Police Trap

KITCHENER, Feb. 12 — (AP). — Two men, identified as Bradley K. Watts, 22, of Stratford, and Allan Williamson, 18, of Galt, are scheduled to appear in court today on charges of armed robbery in connection with the $4,100 holdup yesterday of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Tavistock, 10 miles southeast of Stratford.

Tavistock police said two unmasked men entered the bank a few minutes before closing time yesterday and herded the staff of five as well as six customers into a vault. While a third man stood guard near the door, they gathered up the loot and fled just as police, summoned by a customer who managed to get out of the building, arrived.

Police said taxi driver Robert Turnbull, 52, of Stratford, ordered by the suspected bandits to follow side roads, drove them into the arms of two Kitchener police officers who waited in ambush at the entrance to Kitchener.

Police quoted Turnbull as saying two men hired the taxi in Stratford and asked to be driven to New Hamburg, near here. On the way, they ordered the driver to stop in Tavistock to enable them to cash a cheque.

Constable Edward Tschirhart of Kitchener, who made the arrests with Constable Wilfred Henrich, said a man he identified as Watts aimed a gun at him as the officer opened the rear door of the taxi.

"He pulled the trigger but I heard the gun jam," he said. "Then I fired twice but both shots went wide."

Constable Henrich covered two men in the front seat with his revolver just as Provincial Police arrived. Provincial Constable Vincent Scherer said he searched the man identified as Williamson and found $4,137 in his possession.

Other rites for the assassinated Mahatma were carried out simultaneously throughout India. Portions of Gandhi's ashes had been sent to all provinces as a symbol of the bond between Gandhi and his people.

Nehru marched at the head of the procession. A motor-driven-coach decorated to simulate a temple carried the urn with Gandhi's remains.

Picked troops marched with the procession, their rifles reversed, forming a moving barrier about the funeral coach. Behind them were police lancers on horseback and heavy weapons carriers.

butter in his warehouse last November.

Widely Held

He said that butter was a product very widely held in Canada. "I'd be surprised if any single holder has eight or nine per cent of the total. It would take a very large number of butter holders to have one-half the butter on the market."

Donald Fleming (PC-Toronto-Eglinton) pressed Mr. Taylor for his opinion as to whether hoarding had advanced the price of butter before the ceiling went on.

"There is no evidence that the recent increase in butter prices is due to any withholding from the market—or hoarding—of butter in breach of the Prices Board regulations," replied Mr. Taylor.

He had previously told the committee that there was no evidence of manipulation of the butter market to take advantage of short supply prior to the re-imposition of the price ceiling last month.

Mr. Taylor said that in the committee's inquiry into hoarding and speculating, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics would be able to prvide it with probably more than 1,000 names of warehouses and storage plants.

He added that he believed the required information could be obtained in a week.

Mr. Taylor said that the principal consideration in re-establishing the ceiling at 67 cents a pound wholesale was a considrable rise in butter prices and increasing evidence that there would be a further rise "of a very considerable extent."

There were indications too, that butter would be in tight supply until the new season started.

January, February Has 28 Days Below Zero

Warm Sun Heartens Tired Coal Shovellers

After 28 days of sub-zero weather, winter received warning of waxing warmth of the sun today as it paraded through the Peterborough sky with lustrous light that carried a promise of spring.

Seventeen days in January and eleven in February recorded showed thermometer recordings below the zero level, James Harrison of the waterworks department of Utilities Commission, informed the Examiner. Winter dallied in its early manifestation through December and into the first part of January, but it dropped to 15 below on Jan. 18, relaxed on the 21st and 22nd, then took a rigorous grip on the weather from the 22nd until Feb 7, and returned to the cold attack at the beginning of this week.

The bitterest morning of the winter was Monday of this week at 28 below, lower by five degrees than the 23 below on the morning of Jan. 30. Peterborough is not yet out of the bleak woods of winter, but there was a lustre in the sunlight today that heralded the coming of relief from the siege of Orion.

Traffic Court Has Big Session

Business was brisk in the minor traffic violations department of the police court this morning, as written pleas of guilty totalled $128.50 collected in fines and costs.

The following each paid $3 and $2.50 costs for failing to stop at a stop signal: Norman G. Hunter, Oshawa; Thomas Franks, 420 Donegal St.; Dean Tompkins, Lindsay; George Chamberlain, 438 Wolsley St.; Morris Duke, 51 Park Hill Rd.; V. H. Tackington, 222 Wolfe St.; R. B. Stinson, R.R. 2, Peterborough; A. W. Turner, 362 Monaghan Rd.; Fred Cox, Cox's Dairy, Peterborough; James McCulloch, 415 Water St.; Allan Medill, R.R. 9, Peterborough; Harold McKay, Bridgenorth; F. G. Alley, 168 McDonnel St.; Everitt Bumer, R.R. 1, Peterborough; William McCarty, Lindsay.

Fined $5 and $2.50 costs each for speeding within the city limits were: Ross F. Kimball, R.R. 3, Peterborough; Frank Connelly, 199 Rink St.; Amos Hastie, 535 Gilmour St.; Karl Duffus, Duffus Motors, Peterborough.

Leo Allan, 114 Robinson St., and S. M. Drew, 343 McDonnel St., were each fined $4 and $2.50 costs for failing to observe a red light.

H. B. Bond, 375 Brock St., was the sole fine of $2 and $1 costs for overtime parking.

Doctor's Mercy Trip Aids Five Linemen

ORILLIA, Feeb. 12.—Five Hydro linemen reached home Wednesday night under their own power, thanks to a mercy flight by Dr. Walter Woodrow in the afternoon. The planee dropped food to the party, which was exhausted after sinking up to their knees in snowdrifts.

At 10 a.m. the five, Les Johnston, Boyd Balkwill, Earl Leatherdalee, Al Reid and Ab Brunton, left to repair a break on the line between here and the Swift Rapids plant on Severn river. They drove their truck as far as they could, then proceeded on snowshoes and skis. But the snow was so soft they quickly tired after a five mile trek. After fixing the break they sent word by their portable telephone that they would not attempt to go back to the truck, but would den up for the night in a pole line shack.

The doctor, with Cliff Lewis, hopped off with the grub. After eating it, the five set out for the truck.

PEMBROKE.—Pembroke, undergoing a serious power shortage because of recent cold weather, learned last night it may have to undergo power rationing unless the situation improves, with the prospects that each factory might have to shut down for one regular working day a week.

Cheese, Produce And Livestock

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, Feb. 12 — (CP).— A few cattle were about steady at the week's decline of 50 cents a hundredweight in sales on the Livestock Market up to mid-season to-day. There were no sales on sheep or lambs, calves and hogs were firm.

Weighty steers brought $14.50-$16.35, with a few butcher steers and heifers selling for $12-$15.

Calves were steady at $21-$23 for choice, with plain heavies down to $13.

Hogs were $28.75 for Grade A, $28.35 for Grade B1.

Defense Department Merges Film Bureaux

OTTAWA, Feb. 12 — (CP) — The Defence Department announced today that film bureaux of the three armed services are in process of amalgamation into a "joint services training film bureau," which is expected to be functioning on a tri-service basis by the end of next month.

Previously, each service has maintained its own film bureau. The new bureau will be responsible for storing, cataloguing and organizing the loan and distribution of all training films and will co-ordinate the requirements for trainnig films, place orders, allocate projection rooms and ensure that all services are kept informed on new films available for distribution.

May Tighten Credit Bank Hints

Report Heavy Borrowing During 1947; Advise Cutting Loans

OTTAWA, Feb. 12 (CP)—Indications that there will be a tightening of credit may be seen in the Bank of Canada's annual report which stresses the heavy borrowing of 1947 and advises against expenditures which can be postponed.

Whether or not the bank will increase its interest rate as one means of tightening the purse-strings, is not known, but it seems apparent that it is concerned about the huge provincial, municipal and corporate borrowings of the last year.

Says the report, issued yesterday:

"It is clear that the present rate of capital development is straining Canada's manpower and material resources, and is pushing up prices. At the same time business, which in general entered the post-war period with unusually large liquid reserves, has been looking increasingly to banks for financing....

"The increase of $461,000,000 in chartered banks' Canadian loans during 1947 was the largest annual increase on record.... More than half of the loan expansion was accounted for by loans to merchandizers and manufacturers."

Obituaries

GEORGE E. GARBUTT

George E. Garbutt, RR 2, Lakefield, died on Wednesday at Civic Hospital, in his 79th year.

Born in Douro Township, son of the late Isaac Garbutt and Elizabeth Cox, he was educated there, and spent a lifetime inthat locality. He farmed for many years, but at time of death was retired. A member of Bethel United Church, he had held the post of elder for several years.

Surviving are two sons, Harry and Ralph, both of RR 2, Lakefield, and two brothers, Everett of Warsaw and Wellie of RR 2, Lakefield.

Body is resting at his home, where the funeral will be held on Friday at 2:30 p.m., Rev. E. Unstead, Bethel United Church, and Rev. E. Snelgrove, Grafton, officiating. Burial will be in Lakefield Cemetery.

MRS. RICHARD D. GILLESPIE

Mrs. Richard D. Gillespie of Detroit died Wednesday at her residence. Her husband was formerly of Peterborough.

She is survived, besides her husband, by one daughter, Mrs. Catharine Axford, and one son John Stevenson, all of Detroit and a sister-in-law, Miss Ada Gillespie of Peterborough.

The body will rest at the Comstock Funeral Home upon arrival of the 1:35 a.m. train Saturday and the funeral service will be held at the funeral home the same day at 1:30. Rev. M. J. Aiken will officiate and burial will take place at Little Lake Cemetery.

CARMAN JAMES EMERY

Mr. Carman James Emery died Wednesday in his Havelock home about six weeks after his marriage to the former Annie Curtis. He was married on Jan. 1, for the second time, at the age of 63.

Mr. Curtis was born in Dummer Twp., son of Walter Emery and Mary Churchill. Educated there, he has been living in Havelock for the past 25 years. For many years he was employed as a carpenter with the CPR on the bridge and building gang. During the 18-month previous to his death he had lived in semi-retirement doing only occasional carpentry work.

He was a member of the United Church.

Surviving are his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Joseph Cosgrove (Clara), and Wilma two sons, Roy and Garnet—all from Havelock. He was predeceased by two son, Russell and William. His first wife, the former Clara Hubbell, mother of all six children, predeceased him by 12 years.

Funeral will be at his residence where his body is now resting on Saturday, Feb. 14 at 2 p.m, Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh, Havelock, will officiate. Burial will be in Norwood Cemetery.

Charge Britain Prodded Hitler Attack

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, Feb. 12 — (AP) — Russia said last night that Great Britain and France before the war encouraged Adolf Hitler to turn the German army against the Soviet Union.

She charged that they let Germany take over Czechoslovakia and, in the pact of Munich and others, entered into non-aggression agreements with Germany's Fuehrer.

These accusations were made in a statement issued by the Soviet Information Bureau. In support of them, the Bureau cited German foreign office documents for 1937 and 1938 which it said the Red Army had captured.

The statement was Russia's second in reply to publications of papers on Nazi-Soviet relations by the United States. This one said little about the United States.

The Soviet communique said British-French policy before the war was aimed "at isolating the U.S.S.R. and directing Hitlerite aggression towards the east against the Soviet Union, using Hitler as a tool for their own ends."

Turned Their Backs

Hitler's annexation of Austria March 12, 1938, had met no resistance on the part of Britain and France and that in the face of Czechoslovakia's appeals for help against Germany under a mutual assistance pact, "the Anglo-French rulers remained implacable."

The Munich pact of Sept. 30, 1938 and subsequent agreements essentially "meant both Britain and France concluded with Hitler non-aggression pacts."

". . . In their desire to ward off the menace of Hitlerite aggression from their countries (they) believed that the Munich agreement and similar ones flung the gates wide open for Hitlerite aggression in the east — aggression against the Soviet Union."

Canadian Prices Reflection On World Moves

By ROSS MUNRO

OTTAWA, Feb. 12 (CP)—The inquiry into the causes of the recent rises in Canadian prices by the Commons Price Committee went into its third sitting today conscious of a warning that "all or even a major part" of the explanation of this problem wouldn't be found inside Canada.

It was given yesterday by Kenneth Taylor, a deputy minister of fiance and chairman of the Prices Board, who testified as the second witness of the 16 member committee.

Mr. Taylor said that Canadian prices were influenced sharply by soaring prices of commodities which Canada had to import. He also said that external prices largely determine the prices of the principal Canadian export commodities.

Another major point made by this government economist was that a continuation of wartime price controls would not likely have blocked the current rise in prices.

Lack of Subsidies

Mr. Taylor attributed a "considerable part" of the price increase over the past two years to the cessation of subsidy payments.

The witness stressed the world-wide nature of the jump in prices. "Prices have been rising steadily and rapidly all over the world for the last 18 or 20 months.

"It is not a local problem. It is not confined to any country, or to any group or class of countries. It is a world-wide-phenomenon."

Mr. Taylor was critical of government buying and selling and said that there have been indications since the end of the war that on the selling side governments, like private industry, may press for the maximum the traffic will bear.

On the buying side they may not always be as careful as a man or a company whose personal fortunes depend on skilful purchasing.

454 Rinks Playing In Winnipeg 'Spiel

WINNIPEG, Feb. 12.—(CP).—Manitoba's diamond jubilee bonspiel is not only the biggest event of its kind in the world, it's also developing into a 'spiel of giant killers.

The affair will last the better part of two weeks—with a record entry of 454 rinks—but already, with only two days of play completed, four Dominion champion rinks have been handed their initial defeats.

Jimmy Welsh, of Winnipeg, who won top honors in the Dominion last year, was defeated in his initial game Tuesday and was eliminated from the Birks competition, one of the two major events leading towards the provincial curling title.

Howard Wood, another Winnipegger who won the Dominion title in 1930 and again in 1940, also has dropped one game. So has Ab Gowanlock of Dauphin, Man., Canadian champion in 1938. Ken Watson of Winnipeg, titalist in 1936 and 1942, was tumbled from the Birks competition by Crawford Hicks, also from Winnipeg.

Colin Campbell of Toronto, president of the Dominion Curing Association, who said yesterday that appeal of the Nipawin 'spiel would fade within a few years, fared no better than McDonald. He lost his second game yesterday, going down 11-9 to Slater of Morris, Man., in the Eaton competition.

Crown 'Oat King'

TORONTO, Feb. 12 — (CP).—Agriculture Minister Kennedy of Ontario last night placed a crown on the head of Alex M. Stewart of Alliso Craig, proclaimed "Oat King" last December at the Chicago International May and Grain Show. The coronation took place during ceremonies marking the 10th anniversary of the Ontario Crop Improvement Association.

Record Beef Output

BRISBANE, Australia, (CP) — Queensland had a record beef output of more than 102,000 tons, worth about $17,600,000, in 1947. This state provided about 85 per cent of all Australia's export beef last year.

Davies' Play Eligible For Jackson Drama Award

KINGSTON, Feb. 13 — (CP). —They are giving a final polish to the stage of Convocation Hall at Queen's University, where the curtain rises to-night on the Eastern Ontario regional drama festival.

Over a 16-year period residents of this lake Ontario port have become used to groups of "theatre folk" invading the city yearly to vie for a spot in the Dominion Drama Festival. Since the first DDF in 1932, Kingston has been the headquarters of the regional contest.

This year it looks as if Ottawa productions may be taking up most of Adjudicator Robert Stuart's time. No less than five of the eight plays entered in the three-day competition will be introduced by groups from the Capital city.

Two Belleville companies, the Young Thespians and Albert Players, of last year's festival, have failed to reappear.

Only Canadian-written play of the festival is "Eros at Breakfast," a one-act fantasy by Robertson Davies, editor of the Peterborough Examiner. The workshop of the Ottawa Drama League is producing the play Friday. Whether it wins a DDF entry or not, it still will be eligible for the Sir Barry Jackson award for the best Canadian play of the DDF. The $100 award is based on the play as written, not upon presentation.

Aside from a bid to the DDF the groups are competing for two trophies, the Davies Trophy given by Senator W. Rupert Davies, publisher of the Kingston Whig-Standard, and the Fulford Shield. The latter is the gift of George Fulford of Brockville, and goes to the group with the best one-act presentation. The Davies Trophy is for the best full-length play.

Angus Awarded $2,500 In Claim For Alienating Of Affections

COBOURG, Feb. 12—(ENS)—Deliberating for two hours, an assize court yesterday brought in a verdict awarding Jack Jackson the sum of $300. in his action for damages against James Angus for a knife assault. It will be recalled that Jackson was the complainant last fall in an attempted murder charge against Angus, on which Angus was acquitted.

Jackson sued for assault damages of $2,500. In the counterclaim the jury found that there had been adultery and awarded Angus $500. damages on his $5,000 counterclaim. In Angus $5,000 counterclaim against Jackson alleging that Jackson had alienated the affections of Mrs. Angus, the jury awarded $2,500. On the Angus claim for $2,500 assault damages, the jury found that there had been no assault.

The case was heard before Mr. Justice J. Genest. J.C.M. German appeared for the plaintiff and Harvey Brent for the defendant.

Addressing the jury yesterday, His Lordship directed them to disregard any feelings of sympathy in the case and apply only the principles of law which he would outline, and decide themselves on the facts.

"In regard to the plaintiff's claim, it is a wonder that Jackson survived the stab by Angus. That is hardly in dispute. Was Angus justified? If you find that he was not justified, then Jackson is entitled to damages. Because Angus finds his wife in the house, is no reason to stab Jackson. Jackson was in his own home and Angus took the law into his own hands. Did Angus have to use the knife to escape Jackson? That is where your function of a jury will enter in making that decision. There is also the damage to Jackson's chattels and I can see no justification in law to warrant Angus doing that. You must not regard it from a standpoint of sentiment," His Lordship declared to the Jury.

"Dealing with the counterclaim, 'criminal conversation' does not mean a crime nor does it mean 'conversation'. It means adultery. There must be evidence of sexual intercourse and if so, Angus is entitled to damages. They are not to be punitive damages to punish Jackson but only compensation damages to Angus. He is entitled to damages for his feelings and dignity. There is the pecuniary value of his wife as a wife in the sense of a normal sexual life and for his wife's services in cooking, mending and so on. Alienation of affections can take place without adultery and a man is entitled to damages if the alienatoin is proven. In the matter of an attack by Jackson I can find no proof of any out-of-pocket expenses by Angus. I give you these facts for what they are worth to you and not by way of direction. There is this incident of the woman up north which she says resulted in her ceasing to love her husband but she continued to live with him and cohabit with him, even if she didn't care for him any longer, so you might be entitled to find that Angus had the companionship of his wife. There is no doubt that Angus had a bad temper but of course if you gather up all the incidents in a lifetime you can build up a formidable case.

"What were the relations between Jackson and Mrs. Angus? They were apparently willing partners to this companionship. Your job is to decide if it was a guilty relationship. You are entitled to draw conclusions. Both said that they had done nothing wrong. You have the right to conclude whether adultery took place. Would they admit it if they had? Many divorces have been granted on that kind of evidence. Mrs. Angus told us in court here that she had lost her love for her husband, but the evidence is that she continued to live with him, so you can draw your own conclusion. Both Mrs. Angus and her brother painted a black picture of Angus. You can decide whether or not she slept at the Gilliland home the night before April 27. Angus was entitled to go out and look for his wife. Did he go to Jackson's house for that purpose? Was he just frightening his wife to get her to leave and did he have the knife to protect himself with from Jackson, who he said he had heard was a big ruthless man? Was Angus in danger from grievous bodily harm or in danger of his life?" His Lordship said in his charge to the jury.

His Lordship, because of the size of the damages, directed that Jackson receive his costs computed on a county court basis and that Angus receive costs on his counterclaim on a supreme court basis.

COF Instals Officers For '48

Court Peterborough No. 29, Canadian Order of Foresters held their meeting this week, with Bro. Walter Booth, CR, presiding.

Disctrict organizer, Bro. Cal Braun of Oshawa, who has been assigned this district, installed newly elected officers of Court Peterborough in office. He was assisted by Bro. A. Weames, acting as High Marshall.

Officers installed into office were: Bros. W. Booth, CR; Art Reynolds, CR; D. Gray, Chap.; J. Kelly, FS; R. Bannister, Treas.; E. Reynolds, RS; N. Alton, SW; P. Boucher, JW; E. Boucher, SB; L. Blackwell, JB.

Trustees Bros. H. Hamilton, A. Reynolds and R. Bannister. Committes appointed: Attendance, Bro. P. Boucher; Finance, Bros. A. Weames, R. H. Brown and E. Reynolds; Social Commitee, Bros. H. B. Hamilton and S. Harding; Sports, Bro. A. Reynolds; DeGree Marshall, Bro. A. B. Collis.

Bro. Braun's address to the newly installed officers, was entitled "We Are Master Builders," pointing out to them, that in their hands was placed a sacred trust, and not only were they officers in a great Canadian fraternal society, but also pioneers in a movement that must sweep over the earth if mankind was to survive. "Today the eyes of the world are turned on the North American continent, seeking not only material help and leadership, but spiritual leadership as well. Only by exemplifying in your daily lives the principles of the Order, can Court Peterborough hope to jutsify its existence," he said.

The Order here, working with other civic minded bodies, will operate a teen-age club, boys' and girls' softball league and a mixed bowling league, and will hold rallies during the summer with other Canadian Forester groups in the Oshawa, Lindsay and Trenton district.

Sincere and fraternal sympathies for a speedy recovery were sent to Bros. Stan Molson, Ed. Watkins and L. Blackwell, who are confined to hospital.

COMMUNIST HELD — John B. Williamson, labor secretary of the U.S. Communist party who was arrested in New York by FBI and immigration authorities. Justice department spokesman said that he was an alien who came from Scotland in 1913. He was described as one of the world's most influential Communists. Williamson was taken to Ellis island to await deportation proceedings. He was held without bail.

Combines Get Win Against Hastings

NORWOOD, Feb. 12 — (ENS) —Stirling-Bata Combines kept intact their victory streak here last night as they eked out a 6-5 nod over Hastings. But the homesters should have won it, leading most of the way until they slumped in the final frame. A poorly cleared shot in the final minute of play gave Cook easy possession with the score knotted, and he made no mistake in sinking it. Play was fast and clean all the way through. The teams:

Stirling — Goal, Aquino; defence, Morton and Armstrong; centre, D. Bastedo; wings, Stapley and B. Bastedo; alternates, Cook, Muffitt, Irving and Mason.

Hastings — Goal, Wilson; defence, Brooks and L. Petticrew; centre, P. Petticrew; wings, Crowley and West; alternates, Philips, V. Herrington, J. Herrington, and Radford.

Not Fun, Says Judge

MONTREAL. (CP)—Recorder Leonce Plante dropped 25 nickels into a seized slot machine and didn't get one free game during trial of a man charged with possession of a gambling machine. "It might be all right for some people, but as far as I'm concerned, it's not much fun," said the recorder, reserving judgment.

The Hong Kong Force

The Toronto morning paper has been fretting wrathfully about the Federal Government's reluctance to make public letters and evidence relating to the Canadian force that was despatched to Hong Kong in 1941, there to meet disaster. There is little doubt that according to 1944 standards the Hong Kong force was inadequately trained and equipped. So was the First Canadian Division when it landed in England. Both forces nevertheless were of great psychological value; they were instruments of policy and earnests of Canada's intention to give battle against declared enemies. The difference between them was that the First Division was not put to the test in 1940-41.

* * *

Some newspapers are determined on smearing the Government even if they have to resurrect the Duff Royal Commission report and to headline the bleating of a former Staff Sergeant in the Postal Corps who went to Hong Kong with the combatant troops. If there were an honest desire to find out the facts about the Hong Kong force we would have no quarrel; it is disgustingly plain that the Hong Kong force is being used as a political ramp, for otherwise the Staff Sergeant's story would not be printed without explanatory comment.

* * *

The former army postal clerk is reported as saying: "When we went into action we had only light trench mortars, limited ammunition and light arms". This statement, as it stands, is certainly not evidence that the Hong Kong force was poorly equipped. Who is meant by "we"? Does not every infantry company go into action with "only light trench mortars, limited ammunition and light arms"? The former Staff Sergeant is also reported to have said, by way of complaining that "promises of special campaign pay" have never been carried out to Hong Kong veterans: "In June, 1945, pay increases of from 25 cents to $1 a day were authorized for all those serving with the Pacific forces". The truth is that pay increases were authorized and paid to members of the "Pacific Force" — but that was a special force being mustered as the Sixth Division after the European war ended. It was composed of men who volunteered then to go to the Pacific, but, as the atomic bomb concluded the business with the Japs, the Sixth Division never got beyond training on this continent. There were no promises made that men of the Hong Kong force would get special rates of pay.

* * *

It is deplorable that a great political party and respectable newspapers should use misinformed veterans and the lamentable Hong Kong force for spiteful political purposes.

The St. Lawrence Seaway

For twenty-five years the St. Lawrence river seaway and power project has been subject to Canadian-American debate but little action. At the end of this month the United States Senate will vote on a bill to ratify the complete development of the project. Even if it passes the Senate, there is little likelihood of its getting through the House of Representatives this year. The presidential elections are imminent.

The Seaway is already subject to an agreement signed between Canada and the United States in 1941. It is ratification of this agreement that the American Senate is debating. President Truman has sent the Senators a message urging that they approve it and noting that every White House administration for the last twenty-five years has strongly supported the St. Lawrence Seaway project. Nevertheless, the matter remains highly controversial. It is too big for politicians of small imagination to approve. American railroad executives see it as a threat to their freight business. There is little enthusiasm from Montreal eastward because it would open up Toronto and other inland cities like Chicago, Fort William and Duluth to large sea-going vessels. Though the project is now being looked upon primarily as an immense hydro-electric power development, it has many opponents on that score. These people have their own pet schemes—like power developments on the rivers and lakes of Quebec. The costs of completing both the seaway and the power plants beside the seaway's dams and reservoirs will be very great. The cost of the works now being submitted to the U.S. Senate for approval would amount to $513,884,000.

These are (1) development of 2,200,000 horsepower in a hydro-electric project in the International Rapids Section (near Cornwall); (2) improvement of relatively short sections of the existing Great Lakes-St. Lawrence seaway to provide a continuous channel with a minimum depth of 27 feet. The International Rapids Section is the focus of the whole development, for the locks at Sault Ste. Marie and on the Welland Canal by-passing Niagara Falls have been constructed to take ocean going ships. There are three main parts to the development along the International Rapids: the Barnhart Island Power House, the Long Sault Dam and the Canal and locks to make navigation possible around the barriers of the power house and dam. It is estimated that the project in that section would directly serve one-third of the population in an area of 300,000 square miles.

An enterprise of such vast consequence as the St. Lawrence Seaway should not be undertaken without due consideration. We think that twenty-five years has been long enough for that consideration. Have Canada and the United States political leaders of sufficient vision and power to implement the Agreement already signed; men prepared to seize this great opportunity uniquely provided by the St. Lawrence and the Great Lakes to open up one-third of a continent to the oceans of the world?

Righting An Injustice To Men

It is a cherished belief among women that men have funny legs. If, for any reason, a man has to expose his legs, there are always a few women who seize the opportunity for contumelious sniggering. And yet we have never been able to see why men's legs are, upon the average, any funnier than women's legs. The exceptional feminine leg is a thing of beauty, but the average article is nothing special. The male leg has its own rugged appeal.

This has been proven by a gentleman called Frederick Newling, of New South Wales, Australia. He recently insisted on entering a "lovely legs contest", pointing out that the conditions of the contest did not say that the competing legs should all be attached to women. Mr. Newling depilated his legs, put suntan lotion on them, and paraded with the other contestants; only their legs showed beneath a screen, and the judges were not aware that a man had entered the contest. His legs won loud applause, and the judges placed them second in the list of prize-winners.

All praise to Mr. Newling, who has asserted the right of the male to have beautiful legs! In an age of female wrestlers and weight-lifters he has struck a blow for real sex equality.

Miss Scott's Car

It is really not correct to refer to the gleaming phaeton which the proud city of Ottawa presented to Barbara Ann last year as Miss Scott's car. Ottawa had ruefully to take back The Car, because Olympic officials said that if she accepted it she might lose her amateur standing. Now Barbara Ann is Olympic Champion—to the delight of all Canadians. She can go no higher in amateur skating competition though she can extend her sway by copping the World Championship this week. After that—professional status? Hollywood? The Car?

Alderman Shaw, head of the Ottawa motor vehicle license branch, is confident that The Car will become Miss Scott's, eventually, and not be forever a window display in a garage. Last year he reserved a license plate bearing the number "47-U-1". This year he reserved "48-U-1", though he did toy with the idea of holding "48-U-12" ("1948 You Won Too"). We think that Miss Scott does not need to be apostrophized in cryptographic numbers. A simple license plate bearing the usual Ontario crown and instead of numbers, a laurel wreath would be a meet and proper designation for the car of our crowned Olympian.

Western Europe's Necessity For Planning

By LELAND STOWE

ALMOST any fourteen-year-old schoolboy in Europe knows the precise and important differences between Socialism and Communism. Unfortunately, that's not true of a majority of American adults. Probably about ninety per cent. of American conservatives regard Socialism as virtually identical with either Communism or Sovietism. This persistent tendency to denounce anything "socialistic" as being equivalent to Moscow's brand of totalitarianism has dangerous consequences. It adds greatly to the average American's confusion about Europe; about America's interests in postwar Europe and what its role there should be.

Like it or not, Americans cannot help Western Europe recover—cannot assist Western Europe to be strong enough to avoid domination by Communism, except by co-operating with strongly socialistic Britain and somewhat less socialistic France. If they do not support Britain and France especially, the United States can kiss all Europe goodbye—and spend many tens of billions of extra dollars on our home defences. If they persist in confusing Socialism with Communism on this issue, they will pay for it through the nose by paying enormously increased taxes for years to come.

* * *

THE hard truth is that Europe's governments have got to plan, and plan on an unpecedented scale, or they will be sunk. Anne O'Hare McCormick of the New York Times is an exceptionally keen and perceptive observer. She is no more "socialist" than Senator Lodge or Harold Stassen. From Paris she writes: "Nor will American help (ERP) be enough. The economies of the European nations impinge so closely upon one another, like the franc and the pound, that they can hardly function at all any more except in the broad framework of a common plan."

This is an absolute fact. No wishful thinking, no phobia about "all planning being socialistic" will alter this fact by an eyelash. What remains of capitalism in Western Europe are only shattered shreds and remnants of its former self. What Mrs. McCormick is saying (in common with all sound observers) is this: Even these remnants of European capitalism cannot be salvaged without common planning by Western European governments, most of which are socialistic. Even then the amount of capitalism which can survive will inevitably be very much reduced from what existed only ten years ago.

* * *

HOW can such a broad, common plan be achieved? In his historic proposal of a "Union of Western Europe" Foreign Secretary Bevin merely pointed out a distant objective. He offered no concrete details; no outline of practical steps to be taken. The idea is big, but the obstacles to its realization are infinitely bigger. The western nations, to forge a union, must have close monetary agreements. Their economic policies, their purchases and production, must be coordinated. Tariff walls between them must be reduced radically. This is not only the price of any chance for real recovery. It is also the price of whatever Western European capitalism may survive or be survivable.

* * *

YOU can call it the beginnings of a "Union of Western Europe", or you can simply call it a "broad, common plan". The fact remains that Europe's western democracies cannot get on their economic feet—cannot thereby save their free political system—without governmental planning far beyond anything they have ever known or attempted. And curiously enough, they cannot fulfill the conditions imposed by Washington for American aid without getting together and planning with extreme intensity. When Congressmen insist that America's billions should not be "tossed down the drain" they are really demanding that Europe's sixteen beneficiaries of the Marshall project should collectively adopt planning on an unprecedented scale. To that extent, if any kind of governmental planning be "socialistic", Congress is telling Western Europe to be more socialistic.

In reality, any common economic and financial plan between these nations must unavoidably contain many socialistic elements. Their governments alone must decide, for instance, what vital industries will get new machinery, raw materials, etc. Only the governments can decide these critical matters, just as Washington had to decide vital allocations in wartime. In Britain or France many of their bigger industries have been nationalized (Socialism), but other industries which will get similar help are privately owned. This means that both socialistic enterprises and capitalistic enterprises will share the benefits. Which group obtains the most benefits will merely depend on the nature of the enterprises themselves.

* * *

THE question for Britain, Belgium, France, Italy and the others is not at all whether planning is "socialistic", or how much so. The question is simply whether, even with a pronounced effort at co-operative planning, they can still achieve enough to keep their nations from bankruptcy, mass unemployment and chaotic violence. For Western Europe the only question is how much can be planned—and whether it can be planned soon enough.

When Congressmen and most Americans understand this they will grasp the central reality about Western Europe's desperate situation. For the security of the entire West, including the U.S.A., this reality is infinitely more important than what is or is not "socialistic".

DIRTY WORK

The party of tough card-players were returning home by train from the races.

"I'm finished," said one, flinging down his hand in disgust. "The game ain't straight."

"Wot yer mean—not straight?" demanded another fiercely.

"I mean it's crooked," snarled the first. "You ain't playing the 'and I dealt yer."

What To Substitute For Exam Papers?

(OTTAWA JOURNAL)

A PARENT who has been studying the examination papers set by our high schools writes us to say that he thinks such tests are useless, that they are more a measure of memory than of intelligence, and that they have little educational value.

Such criticism isn't new. It has been heard in the United States for years, and recently in Australia it led in some instances to substitution of certificates showing attainment of a certain minimum standard.

Undoubtedly the strongest argument against the examination paper is the "memory" one. There is nothing much wrong about cultivating memory, particularly in youth, when memory is at its best. But when an examination paper expects little more than a parrot-like reproduction of lessons or lectures the results cannot be regarded as an index to the intelligence of the student, while such procedure is likely to kill originality. It is not uncommon to meet young people who have done well in examinations but show little evidence of knowing how to think, even on subjects in which they are reputed to excel. Then too it sometimes happens that "cramming" on a subject for examination purposes, instead of arousing interest, creates distaste.

Yet when all is said the question remains: What is the substitute for examination papers? Some test of work done is necessary in the interest of the teachers and the taught. So long as universities, professional authorities, banks and business houses insist on the attainment of certain certificates, ambitious young people will try for them with the result that school curricula are bound to be affected.

Our own belief, as we have said often in these columns, is that the primary function of a school would be to turn out young people with a love and reverence for education, and above all with understanding that education is a continuing process. Whether that end is accomplished by examination papers which take on the character of memory tests, or can be accomplished by that system alone, we are inclined to doubt.

A saving grace, we suppose, is that in these days examiners seem more and more disposed to set questions of a nature likely to make some demand on the intelligence as well as on the memory. That we think is of our secondary schools here in Ottawa.

Churchmen Disagree

The United Church Observer has a columnist who incidentally is a "continuing" Presbyterian. In this issue he talks about high prices. He says the reason is big profits and he talks about giving "a grudging increase in wages and squeeze it out of the consumer".

The same issue of the United Church Observer carries an editorial discussing the pressmen's strike and the results thereof. It explains that the United Church Publishing House was "unwilling to meet what they believed were excessive demands". It goes on to say that:

"There will of necessity be increases (in price) in all printing done in the House. These are difficult days for management as well as for labour.... It is to be hoped that the whole Church, when it finds itself faced with increasing costs, will understand how unavoidable they are, and that their elected officers have done their best in a difficult set of circumstances."

Elsewhere in the same issue an advertisement of the Publishing House says: "It has now been necessary to agree to pay a wage rate which we regard as a serious burden upon our whole publishng program, and which can only result in increased selling prices for all our materials."—Toronto Financial Post.

The Art Of Flirting

Dr. Marie Tait created something of a stir when she emerged as the champion of mixed clubs for juveniles during the conference of the Family Relations Group at King's College, and expressed somewhat unconventional views on the art of flirting as practiced by adventurous adolescents.

Dr. Tait was all for a little mild flirting, if done in the right place—a club. In trying to please each other, she said, young people learned something of the wide variety of personalities and to share things.

She deprecated the kind of club which brought boys and girls together only on social occasions. They should learn to sit on committees together, run canteens, decorate their clubs, and do similar things among their contemporaries without parental influence. — London Times.

UNCONSIDERED TRIFLE

The men were dining in a group in an army camp, discussing any subject that arose to pass the time.

One of the subjects was reincarnation, and one of the men was a firm believer and was giving his views to the corporal, one of the most disliked men in the camp.

"Yes," he insisted, "when we die we always return as something or someone else."

"Rubbish!" snapped the corporal. "Do you mean to say that if I died I might come back as a worm?"

"Not a hope!" put in one of the men, seizing an opportunity. "You're never the same thing twice!"

* * *

A parrot was left alone with a dog and kept saying "Bow-wow, Bow-wow. There's a good dog. There's a good dog. There's a good dog."

Completely ignored. Polly got bolder, hopped down on to the table, and repeated his remarks.

The dog took no notice until, still bolder, Polly hopped on to the floor, where it was immediately grabbed by the terrier and eventually returned to its perch minus feathers.

"I know what's the matter with me," the parrot squawked. "I know what's the matter with me. I talk too much."

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Now therefore hearken, O Israel, unto the statutes and unto the judgements, which I teach you, for to do them, that ye may live, and go in and possess the land which the Lord God of your fathers giveth you. Behold, I have taught you statutes and judgments, even as the Lord my God commanded me, that ye should do so in the land whither ye go to possess it.

Keep therefore and do them; for this is your wisdom and your understanding in the sight of the nations, which shall hear all these statutes, and say, Surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people. (Deut. 4: 1, 5, 6.)

* * *

Then Joshua called the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and the half tribe of Manasseh, and said unto them, Ye have kept all that Moses the servant of the Lord commanded you, and have obeyed my voice in all that I commanded you: ye have not left your brethren these many days unto this day, but have kept the charge of the commandment of the Lord your God.

And now the Lord your God hath given rest unto your brethren, as he promised them: therefore now return ye, and get you unto your tents, and unto the land of your possession, which Moses the servant of the Lord gave you on the other side of Jordan. But take diligent heed to do the commandment and the law, which Moses the servant of the Lord charged you, to love the Lord your God, and to walk in all his ways, and to keep his commandments, and to cleave unto him, and to serve him, with all your heart and with all your soul. (Josh. 22: 1-5.)

A BRITISH OPINION

"The manager says quit this what-are-you-doing-tonight-girls stuff and start dating a few of 'em up for the Ministry."

Horse Racing Setback On West Coast

Canadian Press Staff Writer.

VANCOUVER, Feb. 12.—There a chance British Columbia horse racing fans will break a fetlock or at least nurse a split hoof.

Ken (Vancouver Province)McConnell, reporting on the BC Turf Club's 18-page situational covering the last two years, says Lansdowne Track has lost $11,000. The Provincial and Dominion Governments, however, during the same period, tapped the club $870,000 through taxation.

Ken says: "The breeder sours because his stock (for which he has paid many rubles) goes down in price; the fans sour because they are entertained by inferior horseflesh."

Mutuel play is dwindling; Lansdowne may landslide.

The Last Post.

Turfdom here digressed from its whirling dervish the other day when Wallace Kelk, internationally-famous racing authority, answered the Last Post. Kelk, renowned for his theories on the supremacy of British bloodstock, wrote "The Brass Ring" for Vancouver News Herald.

Tribute from Alf (Vancouver Sun) Cottrell: "Kelk was the horseman's confidant and counsellor, the breeders' rock on which they built their organization."

Page Ripley

Sure, we've got sunshine, green grass and sport jackets all year-round. But the Pacific Coast has gone ice-crazy.

Don (Sun) Carlson prints the Vancouver Forum's report for 1947: Hockey produced $15,858, lacrosse $19,175; ice skating $40,554, of which $30,000 came from general skating and nearly $9,000 from skating clubs.

That would be "figure" skating, what?

He's Still "Uncle"

Pat (Sun) Slattery reports it took just 10 minutes here recently for Johnny Samis to debunk rumors he was slipping as national badminton champion.

Samis, with his old-time zip and renewed interest, flashed enough if his title form to retain the British Columbia men's singles crown, disposing of Darryl Thompson 15-8, 15-8.

Said Samis, game over: "For 10 minutes in that second tilt I felt my game coming back."

P of W Winners

Prince of Wales defeated May's Jrs. 4-1 in a fast, tight School Hockey League contest on Tuesday at the High St. rink. It was close in the first two periods between well-matched squads but Prince of Wales clinched it in the third. They meet Confederation next Tuesday to decide the junior public school championship.

May's: Goal, Marchen; defence, Dummitt and Byrd; centre, Collins; wings, Faiers and Clark; alternates, Heron, Chambo, Schweir, Godfrey and Greeniss.

Prince of Wales: Goal, Deck; defence, Pearton and Stave; centre, Buott; wings, Mongraw and Armstrong; alternates, Collins, Pullyblank, Clarke and Brockwell.

Lakefield Ties 'Caygeon In Hot Game

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 12 (ENS).—Bobcaygeon and Lakefield battled it out to a 4-4 overtime juvenile draw in their playoff game here last night. It was the best battle shown here this season with the home boys turning in a sparkling performance in a thrill-packed tussle. Goalie Wasson starred in the Lakefield net against many hard drives by the bigger visitors. He received a bad bump on the head in the third period and Hockaday had his foot hurt in the second. This period saw a free-for-all fight to add to the excitement. The teams:

Bobcaygeon: Goal, Poole; defence, Parker and Westlake; centre, B. Phillips; wings, Nicholls and R. Phillips; alternates, Adams, Fawcett, Kimble, Austin, Downey and Kennedy.

Lakefield: Goal, Don Wasson; defence, Evans and Dean Wasson; centre, Birch; wings, Hunter and Knox; alternates, Sabatino, Hockaday, Morrison, R. Calberry, Dracup and P. Calberry.

Summary:

First Period

Bancroft Trappers Didn't Drop A Tilt

BANCROFT, Feb. 12 (ENS).—In a hard-fought battle on Apsley ice, the league-leading Bancroft Trappers upset the third-place Coe Hill squad this week by an 8-2 score. This was the final game before play-offs for both teams. The Trappers went the entire schedule without a loss, while Coe Hill's position will not be affirmed until after the Rover-Apsley game.

The Trappers got six goals in the first period without a comeback. Coe Hill did not tally until the second session, when Rev. F. Whiteley and McCoy notched goals. Bancroft counted two goals in this same frame, while the third period went scoreless. N. Brough scored four goals and Kavanagh had two and E. Brough and Maxwell were the other Trapper marksmen. E. Brough also garnered three assists.

The Trappers' high-flying first line of N. and E. Brough and Kavanagh were without equal in the scoring column during league play. N. Brough led the entire scoring period with a point total of 34 made up of 23 goals and 11 assists for some kind of scoring record fir eight games. Kavanagh was right behind with 33 points made up of 20 goals and 13 asists. Fifteen-year-old E. Brough, centreman for the same line, notched 25 points.

The line-ups:

Coe Hill — Goal, V. Peters; defence, Lehigh and Moore; forwards, Whitely, McCoy, and D. Giles; subs, I. Gunter, Turner, McCaw, R. Peters, D. Gunter, B. Giles.

Bancroft — Goal, McGhee; defence, Flaglar and Carpenter; forwards, N. Brough, E. Brough, and Kavanagh; subs, Crawford, Walton, Maxwell, Foster, Adams and Whyte.

Referee, Sexsmith. Linesman, Howden.

Havelock Victors

NORWOOD, Feb. 12—(ENS)—Havelock and Norwood Rural League game was played in Norwood arena, with Havelock winning. Wight from Revoy opened the scoring at the six-minute mark, with Andrews tying it, with just two minutes to go in the first. Patterson was given the gate for boarding. Bob Edwards got one on a nice set up from Bedore, Wight from Hermans and Anderson from Nobes, put Havelock in the lead. Anderson and H. Rogers were given penalties for tripping in this one.

Don Bedore made a solo rush and tallied, with Bay Webb repeating five minutes later. James McMillan from Nobes, Hermans alone, Anderson from McMillan and Patterson from Green, all in the last eight minutes of play gave Havelock an easy win. Scott served two minutes in the cooler. Line-up:

Havelock: Goal, D. Hill; defence, Hermans, Patterson; centre, Nobes; wings, Anderson, McMillan; alternates: Wight, Forrest, Wight, McLaughlin, Revoy, and Backus.

Norwood: Goal, R. Parcels; defence, A. Spring, H. Rogers; centre D. Bedore; wings, Bob Edwards, D. Andrews; alternates: Bay Webb, Jack Robson, Metcalfe, H. Scott, A. Fairfield.

Referee, Hartley Morrison; linesman, Ross Aldred.

F. Green's Rink Wins Cup In Big Bonspiel

By HERB MARTIN

With rinks entered from Colborne, Cobourg, Oshawa, Toronto Granites, Toronto High Park, Fenelon Falls, Lakefield and Peterborough, the first bonspiel for the Walker trophy came to a successful conclusion around midnight on Wednesday.

And the honor of winning this beautiful trophy goes to Fred Green's local rink; C. Giroux's rink second with three wins; R. Best third with three wins; E. Brown fourth with three wins.

C. Westbrooke came in for the high two-game winner, and V. Selkirk's regular schedule rink took the high one-game win.

And while the bonspiel was advertised as an open bonspiel, and the support from visiting clubs was grand, yet looking over the prize winners one would think that it was purely a local affair. All of the six sets of prizes stayed home, not one visiting rink was able to reach the charmed circle—truly a bonspiel record.

Good Support

The curling club appreciates the support it was given by outside clubs for this bonspiel and also appreciates other co-operation.

It was one continual round of pleasure from nine o'clock until midnight. Thos. Doughty and his committee worked hard to put this bonspiel across and their efforts were not in vain, according to the many fine compliments we heard during the day.

The weather was just right for a bonspiel. The ice stood up well under the continual playing, and many are asking, "when is the next bonspiel?"

There were many highlights during the day's play, but as space is limited we'll just to have to pass these up.

And now for tonight, back to the regular schedule games—7.00 and 9.00.

Winners

First (Peterboro) —P. Green, J. S. Grant, R. Williamson, F. Green, skip. Walker Trophy and each a replica of the trophy, and each also a woollen sweater.

Second (Peterboro) — Z. Levine, A Jeffries, E. Metcalfe, C. Giroux, skip. Each an auto rug.

Third (Peterboro)—B. Harrison, K. Bissett, V. Brown, R. Best, skip. Each a H.B. blanket.

Fourth (Peterboro) — A. Yelland, J. Brown, W. Davidson, E Brown, skip. Each a H.B. blanket.

Fifth (Peterboro)—J. Ashmore, L. Ackford, F. Jobbitt, C. Westbrook, skip. Each a sweater.

Sixth (Peterboro)—L. Bailey, C. Selkirk, J. Willey, V. Selkirk, skip. Each a pair of gloves and a scarf.

Bengals Eke Out 5-4 Win Over Patricias

By The Canadian Press

It was strictly a home-town affair with neither club changing its league standing but George Redding's Hamilton Tigers earned their hardest victory so far this season.

The league-leading Bengals eked out a 5-4 win in overtime against Doug Runions' sixth-place Hamilton Patricias in an Ontario Hockey Association Senior A fixture at Hamilton last night. Bengals now hold a nine point lead over the second-place Toronto Marlboros.

In the junior loop Windsor Spitfires broke their first-place tie with Oshawa again by smiting the fifth-place Galt Rockets 11-3 at Windsor for their 27th win in 32 tries.

Stratford Kroehlers retained their third-place tie with Barrie by an easy 8-5 victory over the cellar-dwelling Toronto Young Rangers at Stratford to round out "Dave Pinkney appreciation night.'

Two of the playoff clubs met in the opener of a junior twinbill at Toronto with the ninth place St. Michael's Majors defeating the eighth-place Guelph Biltmores 4-1. In the nightcap Barrie Flyers won a 4-3 overtime victory over the seventh-place Toronto Marlboros. Barrie and Stratford both have 42 points and playoff hopes for Marlies are dimmer.

Johnny Conick's goal at the 1:05 mark in overtime gave Tigers their win. He tallied another counter in third period to lead Tiger marksmen with other goals scored by Swat Watson, Frank Lscombe and Tommy Smelle. Pats' snipers were Murray Comfort with two goals, Nick Phillips and Bill Jacklin.

Contracts Hamper Junior Players

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP). — It is rather startling to hear Branch Rickey, usually a pretty cagey gent, emit statements like: "It's an unhealthy situation in American sports when a boy can't take a better offer"....Rickey was referring to his $110,000 bid for Charley Comerly, who, he says, is "committed" to the Giants ....No one has yet explained just what that commitment is and Comerly once disclaimed knowledge of the Rickey offer....Nevertheless, Rickey for many years has been in the baseball business, where a kid can take the best offer available when he is just breaking into the low-class minor leagues but isn't even allowed to listen to offers once he has signed a contract.

Just Puttering Around

Wilson Shirley, 10-year-old Tulane University student, probably never will make the college golf team, but he is at least one up on the stars when it comes to saving on clubs and caddy fees ..Shirley plays the regulation 18-hole course with only one club—a putter....What's more, he often breaks 90, drives up to 190 yards, and says his best shot is a blast out of a trap.

Now that they have acquired Eddie Miller, the Phillies have at least five shortstops on their list —Miller, Ralph Lapointe, Jackie ($40,000) Albright, Gran Hamner (up from Utica), and Grady Wilson (rescued via draft from the Cardinal chain).

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

The American League will start baseball training March 1 with a total of 302 players, including 135 rookies of whom the profuse-peddling St. Louis Browns will test the most. The league's new Red Book, released yesterday, credits the world champion New York Yankees with the biggest 1948 roster—42 players. The Browns, who picked up quick money by sending shortstop Vern Stephens and pitchers Ellis Kinder and Jack Kramer to the Red Cox and outfielder Walt Judnich and infielder Johnny Berardino to the Cleveland Indians—have a crop of 23 rookies. The other seven clubs average about 16 newcomers a team.

Frank Selke, general manager of Montreal Canadiens, said last night he would have a talk today with Gerry Plamondon, high-scoring left winger, with the Quebec Senior Hockey League's Royals, to discuss the possibility of Plamondon playing three games with the slumping Habitants under the lend-lease agreement between amateur and pro clubs.

J. G. Hayes' rink of Summerside, PEI, last night captured the Prince Edward Island curling championship and the right to represent the province in Dominion title play at Calgary later this month, when they defeated a Charlotetown foursome skipped by J. C. McLaughlan 9-7.

A Russian announcement yesterday said that eight Russian women will participate Feb. 14-15 at Abo, Finland in what was described as the world's speed-skating championship.

Robert McFarlane of the University of Western Ontario, Canada's quarter-mile champion, has entered the Amateur Athletic Union indoor track championships Feb. 21 at New York's Madison Square Gardens. He will compete in the 600-yard run.

Fort William, city council finance committee yesterday took under advisement a recommendation that the city present gifts to hockey's Flying Forts—Bud Poile, Gus Bodnar and Gaye Stewart — as recognition for the attention they have brought the city through their play in the National Hockey League with Chicago Black Hawks.

Johnny Re of Buffalo, N.Y., was outpointed last night by Leo Bertuzzi of Sudbury in a five-round middleweight feature of an eight-bout amateur boxing card at Hamilton won a five-round decisnon over Palmenteer, Oshawa, in a 150-pound bout.

Phil Hergesheimer last night became a member of a select circle of four American Hockey League players to score 200 or more goals. The 34-year-old Winnipeg-born captain of the Philadelphia Rockets scored two goals as Rockets lost 5-4 to Pittsburgh Hornets.

Dean Griffing, coach of the Calgary Stampeders Football Club since 1945 and former Regina Roughriders grid mentor, said yesterday that he had hung up his gear "for keeps."

M. Timm Hits 343 In Girls' League

Glengarrys and Y's Menettes were the only two teams to garner three points in the YMCA Ladies' League last night, defeating Hurricanes and Corvettes. Lucky Strikes took two from Bombers and Tigers took two from Commandos.

Marion Timm was best bowler of the night with a 708 triple and a mighty 343 single. Her single game score is the best of the year.

Quite a number of the bowlers topped 600 with Joyce Jeffries' 685, Ruby Pearse's 680, Ollie Searles' 649 and Phyllis Robinson's 641 worthy of note. Winnie McCarrell had 308 for a single game.

Y's Menettes rolled 3002 for three games with a 1083 single.

Toronto Pair Place In 3 Championship

By JACK SULLIVAN

DAVOS, Switzerland, Feb. 12. —(CP).—Known in Canada as "Suzie and Wally," the Toronto figure-skating pair of Suzanne Morrow and Wally Distelmeyer have accomplished in one year what no other Canadian figure-skating team has been able to do in 40—they placed in three world championships.

Both slim and blonde, the young couple decided to pool their agility on ice before the 1947 North American championship and promptly won the event. This year they placed third in the Olympics and duplicated that feat yesterday in the world competition.

Their performance at St. Moritz, where the Olympics were held recently, and here have been applauded by experts from many countries who predict a big future for them.

Suzie, 17, is a pupil at Lawrence Park Collegiate, Toronto, while Wally, 22, was a petty officer writer in the Royal Canadian navy during the war. Now he "just skates." When they were awarded a silver plate and medals at the prize-giving ceremony last night, photographers had Wally put his arm around Suzie, who blushed prettily.

Popular With Crowd

There is gossip in Davos that the young pair should have received a better standing from the judges but they won't discuss this. At any rate, judging by the applause after their routine yesterday, they are much favored by the public.

The pairs skating was run off in a driving snow storm, as at St. Moritz, but it didn't worry them.

"We've skated in snow lots of times—it doesn't make too much difference to us," said Wally. Suzie said she felt that they had skated much better than in the Olympics.

After the championships close this week-end, they will leave for Toronto by air around Feb. 22, and will be busy at skating carnivals in Edmonton, Vancouver, Winnipeg, Toronto, Ottawa and St. Catharines, for a month or more.

Then its matriculation exams for Suzie. But Wally didn't disclose his plans — probably more skating.

A bundle of basketball activity again this week-end here. Girls go tomorrow eve in the YWCA, Nurses playing Neill's at 8.15, and Belleville meeting Towne Togs an hour later in an exhibition. Two fine tussles (first a playoff) and rating a crowd. Normals play CGE at eight Monday night. PCVS cagers are off for Oshawa on the morrow in important fixtures. Saturday night at the Collegiate the Montgomery Maids of Toronto (girls' senior Canadian champions) play Towne Togs at 7.30, while the men follow an hour later. It's one betwixt Burlington Stags and Marines "A" champions. Burlington plays in the new Can.-Am. loop along with Niagara Falls and four USA teams from over the border. Sounds like a big hoop evening.

As Dan Odette points out in his Kitchener column, Detroit Red Wings' early training start there in September has much to do with the fine showing the Wings have made all winter so far. Manager Jack Adams—who, by the way, played for Peterborough in 1917 and went pro with Toronto the next season—said recently: "Our early start enabled us to get a good look at our rookies and we soon knew what players were worth keeping and where they should be placed. Then, too, our boys got into condition a lot faster than the other teams. If you have noticed the record of the Wings you will know that we did not start out like balls of fire. But we have maintained a steady pace and are now on top. I think conditioning meant a lot in this regard." You just can't beat it.

Drive For The Rink

Finance committee of the Peterborough Civic Arena is busy organizing for the financial drive to put this project across, and should commence activity the first of next week. With the site settled—on Park St.—the money is the big problem now. If enough can be raised it is expected to be about a $140,000 arena, complete with artificial ice and everything needed for a first-class hockey setup. No point in calling for tenders until the financial drive is nearing completion, and this may take some time. But assurances have been made that the arena can be erected in plenty of time for next winter, once the do-re-mi is in hand. If it doesn't take too long.

Kingston Saints tangle with the Petes tomorrow night (Friday) at 8.30 in Omemee, their last scheduled OHA senior "B" fixture. And a highly important one for the battling Saints who are trying desperately to catch the third-place group playoff spot. They'll throw the works at the Petes this time for sure as a loss is likely to eliminate them — depending on what Legion does in Belleville the same night. Don't pass this one up, folks, if you want to see a real scrap with plenty at stake. And the Petes will have to hustle like all get-out to maintain their undefeated Omemee record this time.

Petes Were Flying

But Belleville's playoff chances weren't brightened on Quinte ice last gloaming as the unpredictable Petes pulled out a 10-5 win. Looks like they're not giving away a thing but shooting the works every game. Tompkins, Kingdon and Fred Mortimer starred on the attack, with Honey in on seven goals no less, and Bun in on five. And their defence was plenty solid against the battling boys of Bella Villa. Goalie Ray Harding was in top form, also, to turn aside a stream of hot rubber in every inning. When those Petes are right they're classy as a late-model limousine. And they were really right last night.

Both our minor puck clubs clicked for victories in Omemee last p.m. The bantam Lions knocked off Whitby 11-2 to tote a substantial lead back to Whitby this Saturday. And the midget Rotarians blanked their opponents 4-0 and will have that lead in hand for the return go Saturday in Whitby. Nice work. Meantime, the PMHA round-robin playoffs get underway tonight at the Bowl rink with Trojan bantams playing Northend at eight, and St. Peter's midgets meeting Northend at nine. Tomorrow p.m. there, Morrow Park bantams play Trojans at seven, and Marines juveniles tangle with Kinsmen at eight. Top two teams playoff in two out of three for city championships. More on this setup again.

Confusion Reigned

McCready didn't unmask the Mask in the main bout here last night even though he almost had him pinned at the finish. But Ben Sharpe was dumb enough—the bobby-soxers will hate us for this—to climb in the ring to protest aid to the Marvel by Wee Willie Davis, outside the ring, and the ref promptly disqualified McCready. Willie was smart enough to do his dirty work outside the ropes. It was a sizzling scrap and the fans (at least many of the ringsiders) were hot enough to swarm around the ring at times. And it was hectic at the finish as the Mask and Willie—totalling 525 rough pounds—fought their way with police through the crowd. We would suggest they throw the principals and their seconds—Mask, Davis, McCready and Sharpe—all in there together. Then you'd see something! Davis won the semi-final from Ken Kenneth, as Sharpe and Lee Henning went to a draw in the prelim.

Petes Winners 10 to 5 Over Veterans

BELLEVILLE, Feb. 12 (Special to The Examiner)—An inspired Peterborough Hockey Club team, sparked by their sharpshooting ace line of Tompkins, Kingdon and Fred Mortimer, raced to an easy victory over the Belleville veterans in a senior "B" game here last night. The score was 10-5.

The loss, an important one as far as the Veterans were concerned, places them in a precarious position. They must beat Peterborough Legion here on Friday and the Petes Hockey Club must take the Kingston Saints in Omemee on the same night if the Belleville team is to draw up on even terms with the Saints A win here Friday, and a Saints' defeat in Omemee means a playoff for third slot.

There was little difficulty in picking the winner here last night. The Petes, who played a close hard-checking game had almost everything their own way. The indifferent efforts of the Veterans' vaunted high-scoring line of Gerow, Williams and Vern Goyer, were impotent against the fast-clicking plays of the Tompkins-Kingdom-Mortimer trio, and the hard-checking Petes' defence.

Harding Stars

It was a wide clean game and in fairness to the Veterans, Harding in the Petes' nets played little short of sensational at times.

Honey Tompkins, Bun Kingdon and Fred Mortimer were monarchs of all they surveyed. Opportunists that they are, they took advantage of every break that came their way, and plus a smoothly-clicking offensive accounted for 15 scoring points. But Kingdon was the sharpshooter with four goals and an assist; Tompkins was the ace playmaker with two goals and five helpers, while Mortimer got himself one goal and two.

Stealing the thunder from the Veterans' ace snipers, was the line of Don Barrett, Keith MacDonald and Johnny Semark. The trio of youngsters were the only forwards that flashed any kind of Belleville hockey and they accounted for four of the Reds' goals. Barrett, one of the best players on the ice got two tallies, and one assist, while MacDonald accounted for one goal and two helpers. On a third period splurge Vern Goyer rammed home the fifth Belleville goal from Walt Gerow's pass.

The Petes fired home two goals in the first period, and then from the Veterans' style of play it looked like curtains. Going into the second heat, the Petes took advantage of the Veterans' ganging attacks, and poked home five goals in eight minutes. Meanwhile a desperate Veterans' team swarmed around Harding, and his efforts were more or less sensational in thwarting the Red drives for goals.

Clicked Briefly

Don Barrett and Keith MacDonald finally clicked for two goals in this period and it ended 8-2. The same players made it 8-3 at one minute of the third, but the Petes came back with two more.

Tempers began to fray a bit and J. Mortimer got a major penalty when he slashed Walt Gerow over the head, drawing the gore. Both were sent off, Gerow for charging and Mortimer for gore-getting. The Petes drew the fire of Referee Red Wood and in succession Burton, Kingdon and Blewett went off for minor offences. But Creighton and Kingdon racing away on breakaways fired home two goals while they were short-handed.

The Veterans in a desperate late minute drive rammed home two goals from the sticks of Barrett and V. Goyer, but they didn't have a chance against the hard-checking Petes' defence.

Harding, in the Petes' nets, played sensationally. He turned back the Belleville frontlines time after time in a display that was a little short of miraculous.

Lineups:

Belleville—Goal, Hayes; defence, McNaughton, Williamson; centre, Barrett; wings, MacDonald, J. Semark; subs, Yorke, Day, Murphy, V. Goyer, Gerow, Williams.

Peterborough—Goal, Harding; defence, R. Creighton, Horton; centre, Kingdon; wings, F. Mortimer, Tompkins; subs, Blewett, Garvey, J. Creighton, Burton, Reid, J. Mortimer, F. Parsons.

Summary:

First Period

1—Petes, Kingdon (Tompkins) 7:00
2—Petes, Garvey (Blewett) 11:30
Penalties—None.

Second Period

3—Petes, F. Mortimer (Tompkins) 1:40
4—Petes—Tompkins 3:20

Mask Decisions McCready In Wild Mat Show At Brock

The Masked Marvel won from Earl McCready—who broke his promise, if unwittingly, to unmask him—in the main mat bout at the Brock Arena last night. Another big and excited crowd was in near-riotous form at the finish and the Mask and his second, Wee Willie Davis, had to battle their way with police through the swarming fans at the end.

McCready was disqualified in the third round in 11 minutes when his aide, Ben Sharpe, climbed into the ring to protest the Mask getting assistance from Davis (outside the ring), Referee Bert Maxwell promptly giving the fall to the Marvel. The crowd was plenty peeved as Earl had the better of this round all the way and nearly unmasked him in the redhot go. He was using his rolling scissors splits—after both had a crack at tape on the eyes, with the Mask once mixing befuddled with the referee—and confusion reigned at the finish. Earl wanted to lick everyone he could reach when he lost.

Took Second

McCready had won the second fall in 11 minutes with his rolling scissors splits and had the best of this round, too, except when Willie Davis and the Mask got tossing some ring tape back and forth—with Earl getting it on the eyes—in the hot going. The Mask was powerful but McCready got sore and used his fists to soften him up, while the referee was busy warning both, and the crowd made a lot of noise. The fans were happy when Earl pinned him.

It was all the Mask at the start and he won handily in 17 minutes with a "cobra" hold—an unconscious grip on both sides of the head, with the referee stopping it when Earl couldn't continue. He was spotting the big Marvel 18 pounds and a few inches and a few years, but he battled all the way. It was a rough show in and out of the ring with McCready trying to rip that hood off several times but always thrown back hard for his pains. Both drew warnings for rough work, with the Mask using all the illegal tactics he knew despite the boos of the crowd.

Willie Won

Wee Willie Davis, going 267 tallish pounds, won the semi-final in 24 minutes from 236-pound Ken Kenneth, with the referee awarding the bout when Ken's back was hurt on the apron of the ring as he was flipped over the ropes. Willie showed a lot of his villainous Hollywood stuff and had the size and temperament to back it up, as the New Zealander fought back courageously in a bout which featured nearly everything short of murder. It was a rousing scrap every minute and kept the crowd hollering.

Lee Henning, weighing 248, fought it out to a draw with Ben Sharpe, at 237, in a lively prelim struggle. Ben was popular and played it pretty clean throughout but Henning got away with too much. He started rough and was plenty bad every minute and he paid no attention to repeated warnings. He used a choke hold and pulled hair which finally caused Ben to throw his big fists. Sharpe punished Lee a lot with an armlock but Henning never eased up on his rough campaign against his taller but lighter rival. They were at it hard as fans yelled at the 30-minute gong.

Rotarians Take The Opener Against Whitby

Rotarians blanked Whitby 4-0 on Omemee ice last night in the first game of their second-round OMHA midget playdown series. They rammed in four goals in the first period and both sides then battled it out on even terms in a fast and fairly clean contest. Jones got the first goal on a pass from Douglas, Ferguson followed alone, then Jenson counted from Jones, and Robinson finished the scoring.

Douglas drew the lone penalty of the first period, while Jensen of Rotary and Johnston of Whitby went off in the second. In the third, Robinson and Jensen of the homesters were gated, and Harlow of the visitors. Play was fast and quite close aside from that first-period splurge staged by the Rotarians. The teams:

Whitby: Goal, Bowen; defence, Adair and Rousseau; centre, Lyons; wings, McDonald and Lowe; alternates, Goyer, Dennis, Johnston, Harlow, Ward, MacDonald and Greer.

Rotary—Goal, Batley; defence, Bigford and R. Ferguson; centre, Jones; wings, Douglas and Jensen; alternates, Telford, Shearer, Robinson, D. Ferguson, Gandy and Gooley.

Referee—T. Lintner; linesman, A. Giardino.

Lions Capture First One Over Whitby

Lions licked Whitby 11-2 in Omemee last night in the first game of their second-round OMHA bantam playdown series. They pressed from the start to take a 4-1 lead in the first period. Stewart, Langhorne, Scriver and McGrath counted the goals, with McGrath and Pammett each having an assist. Shannon scored for Whitby. McGrath, Spencer and Langhorne tallied in the second, with Spencer, McGrath and Ferguson each aiding once, while McDonald got a Whitby marker from Bedford. In the third, Langhorne scored from Ferguson, Pammett added one, and Stewart scored two neat ones.

It was a real clean contest and pretty fast most of the way. While Whitby outweighed the Pammett pack, they lacked the finish of the smooth young Lions. All the winners went well from the goalie out, with Langhorne and Stewart each accounting for a trio of goals. The teams:

Whitby—Goal, Richardson; defence, Beaton and Shannon; centre, Donald; wings, Ward and Kapusconski; alternates, McDonald, Bedford, O'Connor, Roberts, Rorabeck, Simpson and Smith.

Lions—Goal, Delahaye; defence, Stewart and Byrne; centre, Pammett; wings, Ferguson and Langhorne; alternates, McGrath, Spencer, Scriver, McCormick, Cunningham, Allen and O'Brien.

Referee—T. Lintner; linesman, A. Giardino.

SUN-DRIED FRUIT

In Turkey and North Africa okra is commonly preserved by sun-drying and in years past many families in the south "put up" their off-season supply of okra by this method.

TAUGHT HER TO SKI—NOW STAYS HOME AND COOKS! — Donald Fraser, right, husband of Gretchen Fraser, U.S. ski champion, tastes some cooking that he prepares for himself for dinner. Donald, who was a member of the 1936 Olympic team that competed at Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany, stayed at home this year and left winter sports competition to his pretty 28-year-old wife. Gretchen ran away with the women's slalom event and took second place in the women's alpine combined ski test. At left, she is being given a congratulatory kiss by Swiss Champion Eddie Reinalter. Wonder what hubby thinks of this?

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Hundreds of soccer fans at Motherwell nursed broken heads and a number were taken to police station after a fight at a Scottish Cup match between Celtic and Motherwell, 16 years ago today. Fighting broke out at several points in the stands and it was some time before police could restore order. Motherwell won the game 2-0.

Hollywood Stars Reject New Look

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 12 (AP).—The hippy frills and ankle lengths of "the new look" are due for a downfall in Hollywood films. This comes from Paramount Designer Edith Head, who states the reason: The men.

"Much as we women hate to admit it," she admitted "men have an influence in setting female fashions. And they just won't go for 'the new look'."

Edith illustrated with some clothes she is designing for Barbara Stanwyck. The actress told her to lay off "new look" extremes. Barbara said Robert Taylor wouldn't take her out if she wore them.

The Marx Brothers will get a new lease on their professional lives in "Diamonds In The Sidewalk," which Lester Cowan is planning for them. They will indulge in none of their standard acts. Groucho will narrate, Harpo will play a straight role and Chico will be a mind-reader who interprets Harpo's thoughts. Three other serious performers will be starred . . .

Back to Comedy

Robert Montgomery is happy about going back to comedy in his next, "Come Be My Love," which he will also direct. Like many of us, he feels the screen should return to comedies. "I am responsible for getting myself out of them," he told me. "After seven years of nothing but comedies, I decided I had better turn to drama or the public might get tired of me" . . .

Frederic March reports that his plans to play Columbus are ripening. From his account, it appears that J. Arthur Rank hasn't given up expensive films entirely. The film will be shot in color, on a 14-week schedule (long, by Hollywood standards), and with expensive locations.

Alfred Hitchcock is concerned with what Australians will think of "Under Capricorn," which he'll make in England with Ingrid Bergman. It shows the early colonization of Australia by English convicts, and he fears Australian fans will object.

DERBY FAVORITE WINS

Calumet Farm's winter book favorite for the Kentucky Derby, Citation, won his 10th race in 11 starts yesterday when he took the $10,000 Seminole Handicap at Hialeah. Armed, his stablemate and second leading money winner, ran third.

Kansas City Humbles Millers With 2-0 Win

By The Associated Press

St. Paul Saints will be gunning to complete the revolt in the northern division of the United States Hockey League tonight when they take the ice against Minneapolis Millers.

Kansas City humbled the first-place Minneapolis club with a 2-0 victory last night. Omaha started the revolt against the league-leaders the night before, beating them 10-1.

Kansas City's victory last night at Minneapolis pushed the Plamors into undisputed possession of second place, two points ahead of the St. Paul Club and only four points back of Minneapolis.

Harry Groves and Johnny Harms tossed in the counters for the Plamors.

At Dallas in a southern division game last night, Tulsa Oilers picked up a 3-1 decision over the Texans.

Hockey's Big Seven

By The Canadian Press.

Doug Bentley of Chicago was the only member of the select circle to figure in the scoring in last night's single NHL game. Bentley earned an assist to strengthen his hold on seventh rung.

The leaders:

	G.	A.	Pts
O'Connor, New York,	20	27	47
M. Bentley, Toronto	23	19	42
Lach, Montreal	23	19	42
Lindsay, Detroit	26	15	41

Hornets Down Rockets 6-4

By The Canadian Press

Pittsburgh, Hornets continued their drive towards clinching first place in the American Hockey League's western division last night, downing Philadelphia Rockets 6-4.

The triumph maintained the high-flying wasps four point edge over the second-place Buffalo Bisons who edged Hershey 2-1.

In the only other game played last night, Springfield held the battling Cleveland Barons to a 2-2 draw.

Bob Dawes led the Hornet attack with a brace of goals while one each went to Bill Lenson, Fleming Mackell and Armand Lemieux. Phil Hergesheimer, however, stole the spotlight, as the veteran Rocke Wingman rapped in two goals to enter the coveted "200 Club". Other Philadelphia marksmen were Steve Wochy and Johnny Mahaffy.

At Buffalo, Tod Campeau, making his debut with Bisons after his transfer from Montreal Canadiens, and Murdo McKay put the light on against Hersey while Armand Gaudreault netted the Bears lone tally.

Hawks Wallop Bruins 3-0 Anyone Can Hit Playoffs

By HARRY ECCLES
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

Probably a few of the more astute experts had already suspected it, but the general hockey public is hereby advised to wait for a few more weeks before figuring the National Hockey League post-season play-off line-up for the Stanley Cup.

There's no doubt about the league-leading Detroit Red Wings naturally. And there's no doubt about the second-place Toronto Maple Leafs, naturally. But for the two other places in the four-team play-off picture, it is still not quite safe to eliminate the tail-end Black Hawks, nor, of course, the teams occupying the spots in between.

Chicago shut out the Bruins 3-0 right at Boston Garden last night, and the unrecognizable Hawks allowed the Bruins exactly eight shots on goal in the full 60 minutes.

That leaves the league standing to-day with Detroit at 59 points, Toronto 56, New York 44, Boston 39, Montreal 37, and Chicago 33. It is in those last four figures that all the effort and triumph and heartbreak will lie in the closing drive to the play-offs. And there is only five and a half weeks of league play left.

Goalie Emile Francis, the youngest, from Regina, marked up his first shut-out of the season for Chicago. Defenceman Bill Gadsby got the first goal early in the opening period. Bill Mosienko scored the next after a five-man rush in the third period, and Gus Bodnar tallied the third with less than two minutes to go. But while three goals were scored, Bruins' goalie Frankie Brimsek kicked out no less than 37 other goal-shots fired by the rampaging Hawks.

Naive Islanders Gawk, Blush At Civilization

CAPETOWN, South Africa, Feb. 12.—(CP).—Strangest visitors South Africa has seen for many years are six big, shy men from Tristan da Cunha who are leading an "Alice-through-the-looking-glass" kind of existence in Capetown.

They are making a short stay here on their way to Marion Island where they are to help the South African expedition set- the Union's new territories.

Dressed in their rough clothes, with long, thick stockings drawn up to their knees under their trousers, the six islanders have stared incredulously, amusedly at the fantastic things they have seen—like motor cars, the big, gleaming buses, a loud-speaker traffic van berating jay-walkers in a voice of thunder, the girls in summer short swinging their hips.

Back in their fog-girt island the Tristan women do not take off their clothes when they walk in public. The men from Tristan blushed for Capetown, turned away.

First Auto Ride

Their first ride in a "motor-cart" from the docks to the Mission for Seamen was a terrifying experience. They clung to each other. They didn't hear the questions put to them. Shop windows, pedestians, streets, unrecognizable things flashed past at an unbelievable speed.

But when the car stopped they climbed out laughing with excitement and relief, walked round the "cart," slapped each other delightedly.

One of them is a grandson of Tristan's "queen," 70-year-old Mrs. Repetto. He is Arthur Repetto, broad, brown, silent, a "prince" in homespun, speaking with a slow Devon burr which Sir Francis Drake would have understood.

The rich colors of the flowers banked on the pavement outside the general post office halted the islanders. They were like children, touching the blooms tenderly with huge hands.

In a tour through a clothing factory they watched the electric sewing machines purring through miles of cloth like miniature tractors, the steaming presses, the cutters slicing into bolts of cloth. They said it was "powerful grand."

FIRE SWEEPS B.A. WAREHOUSE — Firemen are seen as they moved in at close range to battle a spectacular blaze that swept through a warehouse at the British-American Oil Co. plant at Keating and Cherry Sts., Toronto, last night. Hundreds of firemen were called out to the blaze, which was still raging at a late hour in the evening and providing a constant threat to the scores of big storage tanks on the property. Damage was $500,000.

Say Bank Loans Increased During 1947

By The Canadian Press

The Bank of Canada estimates that loans to wholesale and retail merchandisers increased by about $120,000,000 in 1947, and loans to manufacturers another $160,000,000.

This represents more than half the increase of $461,000,000 in chartered banks' Canadian loans during the year.

It is part of the expansion of credit and expenditure against which the bank cautioned yesterday in its annual report. As partial explanation of the high figures the report comments:

"Higher commodity prices, some increase in the volume of inventories and an upward trend in the amount of outstanding consumer credit, all contributed towards the sharp increase in banks' current loans.

"In addition, there undoubtedly were cases where bank borrowers obtained additional credit against their current assets such as inventories are receivables, for the purpose of obtaining funds to meet capital expenditures."

The chief present deflationary force is the drop in commodity prices in the United States which continued yesterday but with signs of slowing down from Tuesday's break.

In Chicago grain futures broke the daily allowed limit, rallied, lost again, but with all oats and most wheat contracts managing to end above the day's lows. New York cotton recovered from losses of more than $7 a bale to finish $1.65 lower to 50 cents higher. The New York stock exchange got on to its feet after its days of nervous sympathy with commodities. Much of the list showed narrow declines but many leading issues close with gains.

End Stay-Down Strike

SHEFFIELD, England, Feb. 12—(AP). — The stay-down strike of 28 coal miners at the Waleswood Colliery ended last night. The men came up the shaft after remaining in the workings 57 hours. The strikers protested against a decision of government operators of the mine to close the pit.

Urges Farmers To Increase Corn Acreage

TORONTO, Feb. 12.—Increased corn acreage as a means of stepping up Ontario grain production during the coming year was recommended by Prof. J. C. Steckley, director of the Western Ontario Experimental Farm at Ridgetown; speaking to the Ontario Crop Improvement Association yesterday.

Growing of corn is good insurance, Prof. Steckley said, since good corn yields frequently occur during seasons when other crops do not fare well. This, he said, has been the case all through the history of North American agriculture.

"We can overcome a lot of our grain shortages by growing the early hybrid varieties for the production of grain corn," he said. "We have hybrids that are capable of doing this and it seems to me that the best and surest way of increasing our grain production during 1948 is the growing of grain cordn."

Prof. Steckley also noted that planned pastures are important in agricultural economy. He recommended Sudan grass to tide livestock over the hot, dry mid-summer season. Labor problems should be considered when plans for increased acreage are being made.

F. H. Lehberg, oils and fats administrator with the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, told the farm group that Canada is largely dependent on imports for fats and oils.

Harness Potential

"Why do we not produce commodities which are vital to the health and dietary of the nation and to the function of our industrial economy?" he asked. "I would indicate to you that it is primarily the result of our having focussed and harnessed our agricultural potential on the production of wheat and grain crops for export without realizing that a lucrative and permanent domestic market for the products of a diversified agriculture lies at our doorstep."

Canada, he said, should look "toward a greater measure of independence on imports by increasing domestic production."

The association also discussed feed grains, winter wheat, soybeans and flax, and decided to boost as much as possible grain production during the coming year.

350 Men Hard At Work On One of Highest Dams

By FRASER MACDOUGALL

THESSALON, Ont., Feb. 12—(CP).—From the Mississauga tunnel, a scenic wonder of Ontario's northland, the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario plans to generate 58,000 horsepower of electricity to meet growing industrial and domestic demand. A construction crew of some 350 men now is engaged in preliminary work which will lead to construction by the end of another year of one of Ontario's highest dams, a 230-foot structure rising to the top of the rocky gorge through which the Mississauga River courses at breakneck speed toward its outlet at Lake Huron.

The $15,000,000 project has brought fresh stirrings of life to this town of some 1,500 persons 55 miles east of Sault Ste. Marie, bringing back a touch of its more boisterous career as one of the busiest sawmill towns along the north shore of Lake Huron. Thessalon is the base of supplies for the construction job, 20 miles to the north, and also for fresh road construction it makes necessary.

The main dam of the project, first to be undertaken by the Hydro Commission in Algoma district—where other power is developed by a privately-owned company—will be 900 feet long, 190 feet wide at the base. Plans call for a 950-foot side dam on its west flank and on the east an 188-foot sluiceway to carry off surplus water.

Raise Water 190 Feet.

William Reynolds, Hydro engineer on the scene, who spent many years with a construction firm at Sault Ste. Marie, estimates that the dam will raise the water level of the Mississauga 190 feet. It will create a lake some 12 miles long and up to three miles in width, flooding 5,000 acres — mostly cut-over bushland, now being stripped of slash and other timber growth in preparation for its new role.

The construction job itself is being handled by a private firm, the only current Hydro project to be carried out in this way.

The job began last summer and is still in the preliminary phase. Crews of men are stripping topsoil and loose rock from the walls of the giant gorge. A group of hard-rock miners is driving a 30-foot high tunnel, 900 feet long, through the gorge and through this the river will be diverted during construction of the dam.

A start on the main dam is expected by July or August of this year and it is slated for completion early in 1949.. The huge structure will require 180,000 yards of concrete and a total of 220,000 yards will be needed for the entire project including the power house.

The construction schedule calls for completion of the job by the end of 1949 when its 58,000 horsepower will be fed into Hydro's Sudbury division.

Profit Motive In Education Much To Fore

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP).—Scattered through the recent report of the President's commission on higher education — but so thinly that it has scarcely been noticed — is a recommendation striking at the very roots of the traditional United States educational system.

The commission recommends that colleges and universities educate their students for the benefit of democracy and not for the student's own profit.

The report also recommends free federal scholarships, widened adult education, two more years of free public education and other things. But a commission spokesman says "in my opinion this is the whole point of the report."

For generations Americans have been educated primarily with the idea that it would help them get ahead in the world, but now, in carefully-studied words, the commission says:

"All too often the benefits of education have been sought and used for personal and private profit, to the neglect of public and social service. Teaching and learning must be invested with public purpose."

The question soon may reach Congress, for the 28 educational and civil leaders who prepared the report after a year of study urge speed in overhauling educational theories. They propose $120,000,000 in federal funds to support more students, needy but able, in college next year.

Two-Fold Plan

The commission outlines a two-fold reorganization plan:

1. It says education must be overhauled to produce more educated persons who are first of all "human beings" with a keen understanding of any sympathy for human problems. The commission acknowledges of course that doctors, dentists and other professional people need to combine with these qualities a high degree of technical skill.

2. It says an inventory must be kept of the scientific skills needed to make democracy at its highest level. People must be trained to fill all these needs, it says, even if it means multiplying the size or number of colleges and providing federal money to pay tuition of needy students.

The commission says its recommendations for a speedy overhauling of the educational system is justified because there is a race between man and the atomic bomb.

Man's intellect has forged a weapon capable of destroying civilization, the report says, but the human mind hasn't yet produced a plan, upon which all can agree, to outlaw the bomb.

As part of its study the commission made the first national "inventory of talent" and found:

1. At least 49 per cent of our population has the mental ability to complete 14 years of schooling (through the sophomore college year) that should lead either to gainful employment or to further study at a more advanced level."

2. "At least 32 per cent (within the 49 per cent) of our population has the mental ability of complete an advanced liberal or specialized professional education."

If all those of appropriate age among the 49 per cent were in school by 1960 it would more than double the present record-breaking college registration. They would number about 4,600,000 students.

Says City Liable

TORONTO, Feb. 12 — (CP).—Chief Justice J. C. McRuer ruled yesterday that the City of Hamilton was liable for 80 per cent of the damage sustained by the Canadian Westinghouse Company from flooding waters of the Chedoke watercourse. The company had asked the court for $278,000. The question of the figure was referred by the court to a county judge to decide.

Dollar Lack Is Boon To Australian Films

SYDNEY, Australia, Feb. 11.—(CP).—Shortage of dollars is likely to prove a boon to Australia's film industry.

United States film companies—faced with the necessity of investing half their Australian earnings in approved industries under the Commonwealth dollar-saving restrictions—have approached the prime minister asking whether he would object to the production of American films in Australia.

The government already has approved the development of the film industry and it is not likely to oppose any move in this direction, particularly as the Americans believe that any worthwhile development would have to be a combined effort.

It is not expected that top-line stars from Hollywood would be brought out for the films as they would not be allowed to take their salaries out of Australia.

Australian actors and actresses would be asked to play most of the parts with a few Americans with well-known names billed to ensure sale of the films in America.

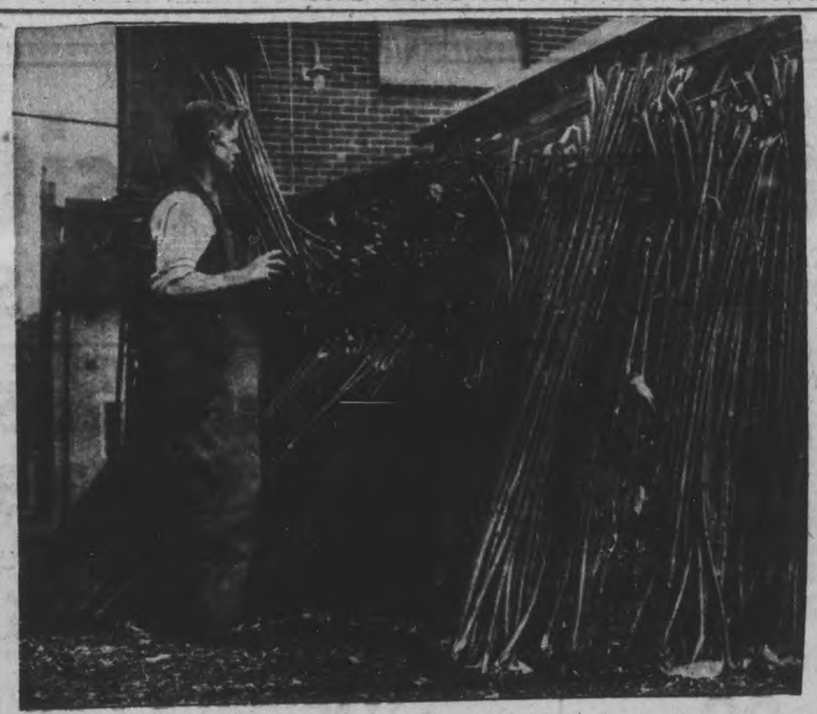
Young English Adjudicator To Act At Kiwanis Festival

Alec Redshaw one of the younger English adjudicators has been chosen to adjudicate at the Peterborough Kiwanis Festival which is being held here the week of March 15 it was announced today by the festival committee.

Mr. Redshaw, began his musical career as a pianist. He studied in London with Frederick Moore, one of the most noted professors of the Royal Academy of Music, and, later, with Tobias Matthay. He has made several appearances in London's famous Wigmore Hall, and is much in demand, particularly as an accompanist, in which capacity he is often heard in collaboration with Britain's greatest singers.

An urge for conducting asserted himself at an early age, with the result that Mr. Redshaw leads a most interesting and varied life in the concert world. His main activities as a conductor are now centred in the Redshaw Singers, a group of 24 professional and semi-professional vocalists, who specialize in recitals of "a capella" music, and who broadcast frequently in the programmes of the BBC; the Grimsby Philharmonic Society, which has a chorus of 250 voices, and the Grimsby Opera Company, one of the few bodies now presenting grand opera in the British Isle.

ALEC REDSHAW



Festival Conscious

Mr. Redshaw has had a lifelong interest in competitive festivals, and comes from a family who are intimately associated with the movement. He competed often as a boy. While he had, perhaps, more than his fair share of first prizes, he regards, in retrospect, the competitions which he did not win as the most helpful, and as the greatest spur to progress. He formed his first choir of young singers when he was 17, but this gave way to a mixed choir which, in the years immediately prior to the war, took premier honours at several of the largest British Festivals, in competition with the most formidable of the noted Yorkshire and Lancashire choirs.

The war saw the end of Mr. Redshaw's days as a competitor. Now that he has foresaken the conductor's desk for the judicial chair, he feels that his own experience in competition is of the utmost value to him as a judge, inasmuch as he knows exactly the feelings of those who sing and play to him.

Indian Goes Wild

EDMONTON, Feb. 12 (CP).—RCMP in Edmonton reported yesterday a murder, a suicide and a wounding on an Indian Reserve in the St. Paul area 100 airmiles to the north-east. Police said Joseph Leonard Makokin, 28, killed Lydia Large, 15, his common-law wife, with a .22 rigle, wounded her sister, Mrs. Veronica Cutknife, of Edmonton, and then killed himself with a rifle shot.

UNIQUE OCCUPATION—In the Wealden woodlands around the borders of Surrey and Sussex live two small colonies of craftsmen who today are almost the only ones of their kind in the world. From specially grown saplings are made the riding whips, the swagger canes for the services, walking sticks, crooks and crummocks for the Highlanders' umbrella handles and lambing sticks for shepherds. Left are piles of ash sticks which will be taken to the stripping and boiling rooms. The hundred-year-old industry is exporting sticks and crooks by the hundreds of thousands annually. Shepherds' crooks are shaped in machine (right).

Belleville Man Ravaged Europe 600 Years Ago

By ROBERT E. GEIGER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP).—Six hundred years ago in 1348—the Black Death swept Europe. It was one of the greatest calamities of all time.

Millions died, and historians estimate that by the end of the century the disease had killed up to one-fourth of Europe's population, or possibly 25,000,000 persons.

In China another 13,000,000 persons died in an outbreak at about the same time.

To this day the seeds of the Black Death — bubonic plague — are scattered through the world. Since 1898 it is estimated more than 12,000,000,000 have died in India.

But medical scientists believe they now have the means of substantially reducing the chance plague ever will spread again over the globe.

As medical scientists piece together the puzzle, it may well have been there were two superimportant passengers aboard the 12th century war transports that tied up at an Adriatic seaport.

One of these was Richard Coeur de Lion, King of England. The other was a black, beady-eyed rat, a hitch-hiker. Nobody paid any attention to the rat, but he far out-ranked the lion-hearted king in influence on the destinies of men and nations.

The rat carried Pasteurella Pestis, Asiatic seed of the Black Death. As years passed, P. Pestis gradually expanded out of the Adriatic area until finally he burst over the entire continent of Europe.

Some medical authorities say the Black Death finally burned itself out because no susceptible victims remained.

Developed Immunity

When it returned in 1361 it is estimated only half of the population became ill. One authority, the late Hans Zinsser, says each successive wave became less destructive of life because more people were immune.

All through the centuries man vaguely connected plague with rats. Dead rats were observed when the disease raged. But generally it was believed the disease was Divine punishment.

It wasn't until around 1900 that it was definitely established that the rat or other rodent harbors the disease; the rat is bitten by a flea; the flea then bites a man and transmits the plague to him. The disease in one form may be communicated from man to man.

Plague doesn't kill the rat flea, but it causes congestion in his digestive organs. If he bites a victim he can't consume the blood. His "sucking" organs suddenly collapse and thus give the victim a "shot" of contaminated blood.

The U.S. Public Health Service says plague among rodents exists in many places in the world today. Plague has been found in the U.S. as far inland as central Kansas, health officials say, but they have no great fear there will be an outbreak of the Black Death.

Medical scientists recently have discovered sulfa drugs are valuable in treatment and believe the new drug, streptomycin, may prove so also. New and more powerful flea and rat killers, including DDT and the poison R-1080, are proving extremely effective.

Bubonic Plague Refused Bail

WINNIPEG, Feb. 12 (CP). — Mr. Justice P. J. Montague today adjourned an application for bail on behalf of Frank Ferraro, 33, of Belleville, committed to jury trial on a murder charge through the death in a night club fight January 20 of taxi driver Hugh Scott.

The Court of King's Bench jurist adjourned the application until preliminary heading evidence had been transcribed and examined. Defence Counsel C. N. Cushner, in seeking bail, argued that there was "not the remotest chance of conviction." Charles W. Tupper of the Attorney-General's Department held no bail should be granted until depositions were completed.

Rents Gold Mine For $25 A Year

THAMES, New Zealand, Feb. 12 (CP).—For a rent of $25 a year a 78-year-old hermit in the forest of the Coromandel Peninsula in the North Island of New Zealand has sole control of a gold mine which was once thought to be worth millions, a fact which to this day has not been disproved conclusively.

William James McLean is an old prospector, and his mine is the Kapai Vermont on the Try Fluke reef which last century yielded huge dividends to investors. Tradition has it that a Maori discovered the Try Fluke reef when he picked up a few samples of quartz of amazing richness and on the strength of them he registered a claim which he sold immediately for $100,000.

But the Coromandel Peninsula has always been the problem child of New Zealand miners. Twisting, uncertain lodes pursue courses through the steep, forest-clad mountains. The gold occurs in shoots and patches. Ofter it is of phenomenal richness. Then the reefs suddenly disappear.

After yielding rich rewards for some years the Kapai Vermont working struck a poor patch. The reef was lost and the workings were closed early in the century. But prospectors are convinced that the reef still possesses rich pockets waiting to be unearthed by a chance blow from a pick.

BALFOUR DECLARATION

The British Balfour declaration favored establishment of a national Jewish home in Palestine but said " . . . nothing shall be done which may prejudice the civil and religious rights of existing non-Jewish communities in Palestine."

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

This vegetable compound acts on the bowels, kidneys, liver and stomach. It helps to eliminate wastes from the system. The result may be a smoother, clearer skin.

WESTMOUNT GETS SHIP'S BELL—The ship's bell and an illuminated scroll, signed by Hon. Brooke Claxton, Minister of Defence, attesting the gallant record of HMCS Westmount, were presented recently to the City of Westmount, in a ceremony at the Westmount City Hall. The city was the sponsor of the vessel from its launching in 1942 to its retirement in 1945. The picture records the scene showing, left to right, Capt. R. B. Warwick, RCN (R), Commanding Officer of HMCS Donnacona, making the presentation; Lieut.-Cmdr. F. G. Hutchings, RCR (R) (retired), who first commanded the vessel and Mayor R. Percy Adams, who received the bell and scroll. The entire city council was present at the impressive ceremony.

Mrs. E. Northey Hon. President

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 12—(ENS)—Mrs. Elwood Northey, of Lakefield, who has been president of the Ladies' Ontario Curling Association for the past two years, was was this year named honorary president at the annual tankard held at Sarnia.

Mrs. Northey remarked on the hospitality of the Sarnia ladies. A member of the Sarnia curling club met each rink at the train and took them to their hotel and later on a tour of the city. Mrs. Northey and Mrs. Doug Davis, secretary of the Ontario association for the past two years, joined 60 curlers from other parts of the province at Toronto, and went on to Sarnia in a special coach.

Mrs. Northey stated she hoped the local lady curlers would make more effort to send more rinks to the provincial tankard another year, as the actual cost is very low.

There are now 17 clubs in the provincial association, Lindsay, Haliburton and Brockville joining this year. The returning of the tankard games to two rink competition, as in pre-war days, was discussed by the executive and decided against. The tankard games for 1949 will be held in Hyde Park Club, Toronto.

Correspondence was read from the Manitoba Ladies' Association regarding the establishing of a ladies Dominion wide association. The Manitoba club has sponsors for such an organization and would assist in establishing it. Only three provinces have provincial associations at the present time.

The following curlers, who are well-known in this district, were among the winners:

Mrs. Philp's rink of Hamilton Thistles, won the Mrs. E. H. Northey trophy, with Mrs. Wooley's rink of Sarnia runners up.

Mrs. Robertson, of Toronto Granite, took the tankard trophy with Mrs. Code, of Hyde Park, runner up.

Jack Of All Trades Vicar's Complaint

WALTON AYLESBURY, Buckinghamshire, England, Feb. 12—(CP)—Rev. Brian Hession, speaking to parishioners on problems created by new housing developments, said

"The vicar is preacher, evangelist, organizer, editor, house-to-house visitor, sick visitor, spiritual doctor, tea-taster, runner of services, general appeaser, and able to stand up to any amount of criticism and back-biting.

"He has to be good with youth, good with children, good at socials, sympathetic with old women, a man's man, and above all extremely good at getting money out of everyone for all the causes.

"Now on top of this many of us have to become religious town planners."

OPEN ROYAL BANK BRANCH IN CAMPBELLFORD

If the opening of a bank in the community indicates a healthy volume of business, and prosperity among local farmers, then residents in the Campbellford area may relax for a moment with a contented smile. A branch of the Royal Bank of Canada is scheduled to open there this summer.

The property is own by F. C. Macoun and was formerly occupied by the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Alterations on the leased building will begin about June 1, and it is hoped to open the branch as soon as possible afterwards.

A previous branch of the Royal Bank was doing business there until the middle 'thirties.

Future Conflict In Pacific Speaker Tells So-Ed Group

"The centre of the world has now swung over to the Pacific; and the centre of future conflict will be in the Pacific, not the Atlantic or Mediterranean." This belief was voiced Wednesday night by Rev. W. H. Hudspeth, secretary British and Foreign Bible Society, Canada and Newfoundland, speaking on "China Today" as he opened the first of six weekly Social Education (SO-Ed) lectures held at the Normal School.

Mr. Hudspeth, who has spent 38 years in China—two of them as prisoner of the Japanese—caught the interest of his audience by exploding a few popular misconceptions about China. He then reshaped the listeners' opinions by producing a few striking facts and figures about that country as a preliminary to his main address.

"To think of China as a barbarous and uncultivated country is entirely wrong," he said. She had a civilization before Babylon, Assyria, Greece and Rome, he pointed out; but China lives on and she is proud of her ancient art and civilization.

"China had colleges 900 years ago. Some of her pictures are 1000 years of age; she has bronzes dating back even further; she supplied the ladies of ancient Rome with silks."

He said China had a counterpart of Shakespeare in the year 700 A.D., and a written language 500 B.C. Her philosophers discussed the same things we ponder on today.

"China is larger than Canada. To get an idea of its vast population you would have to multiply the Canadian population by 45."

The word China means "centre of the universe" said the speaker, pointing out that those white people who felt superior to the Chinese might be surprised to learn that the inhabitants of that country reversed the sense of superiority.

Inflation Terrific

Turning to present-day conditions in that troubled land, he first touched on the economic aspect by explaining the extent of inflation by means of the price of eggs. Thirty-eight years ago, he said, a dozen eggs cost a Chinese dollar; now one egg costs two thousand dollars.

As a partial explanation of the trouble there he explained: "The Kuomintang is endeavoring to set up a democratic government. Chiang Kai Shek, however, has a very incompetent civil service. Not only is it incompetent, but corrupt; and because of this corruption the Chinese are suffering and bitterly. They were willing to suffer during the war but now they feel differently."

"On the other hand the Communists have a well organized, well disciplined band of workers many of whom are activated by the loftiest of ideals. They have a great passion for the suffering of the peasants; a great sympathy for the farmer class. They have divided the land among the peasants, and have largely elim-

Obituary

MRS. DAVID WILLIAMSON

After a short illness Mrs. David Williamson, of Norwood, died at her home today in her 74th year.

Born in Dummer township, she was the former Annie Martin, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Martin. She was educated in Dummer and had resided in Norwood for the past 12 years. Mrs. Williamson was member of Norwood United Church.

Surviving are one son, Percy, Roseneath; one daughter, Mrs. Stanley Mason (Viola); two brothers, Robert Martin, Dummer, and Thomas Martin, Minnitonas, Manitoba. She was predeceased by her husband, David Williamson.

Body is resting at the Tedford Funeral Home where funeral will be held Saturday at 2 p.m., Rev. E. E. Pugsley, Norwood United Church, officiating. Burial will be in Norwood Cemetery.

Board Re-elects Jas. Hamilton

The annual meeting of Anson House, Peterborough's only Protestant Home for the Aged, was held Wednesday night. It was shown that, like other public institutions, the rising cost of foodstuffs and other expenditures was creating a grave financial situation. An appeal was made by the president, James Hamilton, that the House be mentioned in wills.

It is expected that the provincial grant of about $500 would be doubled this year to $1,000 as at least one way in which the crisis can be met.

Now housing 30 to 35 elderly men and women from the city, Anson House is entering its 87th year. Praise was voiced for the efficient management by its present superintendent, Miss A. M. Robinson.

Stressing the repeated expressions of appreciation which the residents had given, and the legacies left by many to the House, Mr. Hamilton said: "For old people who have no place to go, there is provided here an attractive home which is kept as carefully and meticulously as any private home."

"Board has been furnished at less than cost," he said, "by virtue of legacies and gifts forming an endowment fund."

Revenue of new legacies this year amounted to about $1,000. The largest single gift was for more than $800, bequeathed by the late Frank Rozsel.

The annual statement showed that the year's operations had resulted in a loss of $567.88, not including an allowance of $700 for depreciation. The loss, it was pointed out, was partly due to the fact that a number of residents required hospital treatment during the year, with a subsequent loss of board revenue.

Vegetables grown and consumed at the House during 1947 were valued at $750.

Reference was made to a trust fund created by the late Harry Denne, which permits the distribution of $10 to each resident pensioner.

Re-elected for the coming year, the board of directors are: James Hamilton, president; Mrs. F. M. Somerville, Mrs. R. R. Hall, Mrs. G. S. Cameron, vice-president; Mrs. F. Hills, corresponding secretary, and H. C. Sootheran, secretary-treasurer.

Perjury Charges Laid Against 2 Local Youths

With startling swiftness, two Peterborough youths Wednesday afternoon found themselves suddenly transferred from witnesses in a police trial to places in the prisoners' dock, when 19-year-old Vernon Revoy, 287 Park street and Carl Milheron, 18, 356 Gordon avenue, were arraigned before Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, and heard charges of perjury read against them. Less than two hours before, the two had given evidence in that court room in a case against Murray Nice.

The youths were remanded on bail of $1,000 each until Feb. 14, when a preliminary hearing will be held. W. J. A. Fair, counsel for Nice, stated that he would advise the accused pair to elect trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction before judge and jury. No pleas were taken Wednesday.

The specific evidence given by them in the Nice case and mentioned in the informations charging perjury were statements by the accused that they had not been on the bus involved in the earlier case. (That evidence had been contradicted by Nice himself, when he testified that the two had boarded the bus with him and by PC Gordon Trennum, who stated that he had seen the two leaving the bus.)

The two young men had taken seats in the police court room after giving their evidence, remaining as members of the small audience at the late afternoon session to follow the outcome of the Nice hearing. When the Magistrate announced that his judgment in the case would be reserved, the two rose with the other half-dozen spectators, and they made their way to the rear door of the court room and disappeared from view. They were followed by police officers and asked to remain.

PC's Gordon Trennum and Allan Edmison escorted the two across the court room to the small stair-landing outside. There they were advised that they were under arrest and immediately brought back to the court room and placed in the prisoners' dock. The perjury charges were then read.

Pays $60 Fine

Backing a bus of the Peterborough Bus Lines a distance of about 30 feet cost Murray Nice, 581 Douglas avenue, a fine of $60 and costs of $15.50 when he was found guilty Wednesday afternoon on a charge of attempting to take the bus without permission from the owners.

Nice also faces judgment on a charge of retaining stolen goods. Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, will give judgment Feb. 18 on the evidence heard at the Wednesday trial.

The defence witnesses in the afternoon part of the trial, which had been carried over from the morning court session, were Vernon Revoy, 287 Park street and Carl Milheron, 356 Gordon avenue, both of whom testified that they had been with the accused on the night of the bus-moving incident, stating that they had not seen the bus being moved. Each also state in their evidence that they had not boarded the parked bus themselves. (These statements were the basis of charges of perjury laid against both almost immediately after the Nice trial).

Defence counsel W. J. A. Fair argued that the notion of anyone actually stealing a big bus was "ridiculous," and expressed the opinion that if anything had actually happened it was merely a case of "boyish mischief" by the accused.

Found Gold Compact

Crown counsel V. J. McElderry replied that the stories of the accused and his two companions "don't hold water," referring to the theory advanced by the defence that the bus might have started by some one knocking the gear shift into reverse accidently.

Key witness in the second charge against Nice—that of retaining stolen goods was PC Gordon Trennum, who had arrested the accused in connection with the bus charge. On routine search at the police station, he stated that a gold compact was found on the accused, a compact later identified by its owner as having been taken from a parked car in a purse, which was later found in a snowbank. The police witness stated that the accused had said at that time that he had found the compact at a skating rink.

There were no defence witnesses called in answer to the retaining charge.

BLAME IT ON MAXWELL

Among sport fans the wrestling addict wins the brass-bound spittoon every time for his fiery temper. On Wednesday night ardent followers of the "grunt 'n groan" trade turned out hoping to see hero Earl McCready whip the mask from the face of the villainous Masked Marvel. When it seemed that he was just on the point of succeeding the hero was disqualified on a technicality by referee Bert Maxell. That tore it. Disappointed fans milled around the ring shouting imprecations at the harassed referee. Some of them hadn't even cooled off by the time they headed for home. One well-known George St. grocer strode home not-so-silently cursing Maxwell and all his works. After a particularly venomous round of abuse he snapped out of it long enough to realize he had reached King St., three blocks past his home.—D. W.

Louis Anthony Trucker Dies At Age 73

Louis Anthony, head of the trucking and cartage business of Louis Anthony & Sons, died this morning on the anniversary of his birth, at his home, 322 Water St. He had been ill many months following an operation last year.

Mr. Anthony was born on Feb. 12, 1875, at Villa Littoria, in the province of Salerno, Italy, son of the late Frank Anthony and his wife, Feliche Mongoni. He had lived in Peterborough 64 years. He was nine years old when he arrived in Peterborough, accompanied by his mother, joining his father who had preceded them to this country. As a youth he went into the cartage business with one horse and delivery wagon as his equipment. By his industry and close attention to his work he developed a motorized fleet of seven trucks, assisted by his sons who had gradually assumed a large part of the business.

Always interested in athletics, Mr. Anthony sponsored teams in hockey and bowling, and at one time was interested in a boxing club. He was a member of the Fish and Game Association, Knights of Columbus and Moose, and in his own way had helped promote the progress of Peterborough.

The surviving members of his family are: his daughters, Mrs. Frank Fuller of Detroit, Mich., Mrs. E. Mahood, Peterborough; and sons, Louis J. (Babe), Vincent J., Leonard and Melville of this city; and stepchildren, Mrs. V. Holland of Peterborough; Albert LeGros, Toronto, Hubert LeGros, Peterborough. He also leaves one brother, Thomas Anthony of this city.

The funeral will be Saturday morning from the Anglesey funeral home, 215 Simcoe St., to St. Peter's Cathedral for requiem mass beginning at 9 o'clock. Burial will be at St. Peter's Cemetery.

Friction Appears To Be Growing On Sale Issue

By HARRY THEOBALD

Gossip or other intimation has been reaching members of the city council to the effect that the City Trust Commission intends to oppose the property clause of the Peterborough private bill to the Legislature.

The public understands from the recent controversy that the council's proposal to ask the Government to disband the Trust was discarded largely by the influence of sentiment and appreciation of the long service of the Commission in its custody of debenture funds. Another authority of the original Peterborough bill gave the City Trust the administration of properties owned by the municipality, including final decision of sale.

One of the senior members of the council remarked to the Examiner yesterday, "If what I hear is the case, I think we should go all out and get ready to present the strongest case we can to the private bills committee of the Legislature. The City Trust flouted the council's wishes a year ago on the renewal of leases of stores in the market hall block. I don't know any other eleven men in Peterborough who stand for that sort of treatment. One of the members of Commission made public expression of regret at the course which had been followed.

"I think it is absurd to suggest that all the intelligence of Peterborough is wrapped up in the City Trust Commission: Vincent Eastwood, G. A. Gillespie, W. R. Morris, A. A. McIntyre and T. C. Ephgrave.

"Our affairs are discussed right out before the people of Peterborough. That is more than can be said for the City Trust. You never know what they are doing until they have done it. The members of the council in any year are concerned about protecting, in so far as they can, the interests of the ratepayers. They have the assistance of the city officials, and if anything is going to be done the public knows about it.

Personally, I was quite satisfied to let the Commission carry on in regard to the financing of debentures, but this responsibility for the city's property is a different matter altogether. It comes down almost from feudal times. From some of the opinion I have observed in the council I would suggest to the City Trust that if they are thinking of opposing this amended private bill they had better give it some more thought."

Council Starts Pare Estimates

Ald. Gordon Armstrong is calling his property committee to their part of the February job of preparing the municipal estimates and striking Peterborough's tax rate for 1948.

This meeting Friday the 13th at 4.30 p.m. is the first sectional approach to the budget from within the council itself, although several of the affiliated bodies such as the board of health have listed their requisitions.

It is understood that the council will concentrate next week on the budget with the expectation of winnowing off the dispensibles probably by Friday night. Components of the tax rate will be submitted to ultimate scrutiny by the committee of the whole, but apart from the wish to "keep down the rate" some aldermanic opinion expects it to move up nearer to the 40-mill rate than it has been for ten or fifteen years.

160 Food Handlers Taking Health League Course

MOH Reports Wave Of Mumps And Measles Is Abating Rapidly In City

Dr. R. A. Kelly's report on the training course for food handlers was the highlight at the Board of Health meeting held in the city Chambers, Wednesday evening.

This special course had its first lecture and film show in the Public Library, Wednesday afternoon. It is sponsored by the Peterborough Branch Health League of Canada in co-operation with the Department of Health. More than 160 people attended this first meeting. Dr. Kelly lectured on "Some aspects of bacteria and sanitation" and Mr. R. M. MacPherson, Sanitary Inspector, spoke on Basic Fountain Routine and Modern Control of Insects. Three films were shown, one "Germs Take Pot Luck," "In Hot Watre," and "Service with a Smile."

Media plates were taken of finger marks, human hair and effects of a cough on crockery. These media plates will be taken to the next lecture which is to be held Wednesday afternoon, February 18, when they will show the extent of the growth of bacteria organism. The lecture, Dr. Kelly said, would be "Food Storage, Preparation and Handling."

Rrepresentatives from every hotel, restaurant, refreshment booth and other food handlers in Peterborough attended the lecture, and those who attend the full course will receive certifihoped that all food handlers in the city will avail themselves of this opportunity to protect their own health and that of the eating-out public.

The following statistics were given at the Board meeting:

Communicable diseases in the city, for January, 1948—Chickenpox, 123 cases; measles 95, mumps 223, scarlet fever 2, and whooping cough 4. While mumps was most prevalent, it was found that most of these cases had occurred during the Christmas vacation and were unreported until school certificates were required following recovery. The local widespread mumps infection is now abating.

In respect to measles, Dr. Kelly reported that the incidence of this infection rose sharply in January. In 1943 there were 923 cases in the municipality. Again in 1946 there were 312. In other years fe wcases were reported. Consequently as other cities throughout the province are now experiencing an increase in cases of measles, it is predicted that over the next few months this contagion will be widespread.

The recently established x-ray clinics at the hospitals are now operating smoothly and regularly. In January 59 persons were x-rayed at two such clinics.

Due to the severe weather, the attendance at the Child Hygiene Clinics was down during January.

General Picture Good

Nurse Gene Clark reported that 452 visits to homes had been made by the nursing branch, and of these 307 were new visits, 506 visits were made to individuals and 317 individuals were visited for the first time. They reported 48 acute communicable diseases. The following immunizations were given: combined serum. 110 doses; scarlet fever toxin, 46; vaccinations 25; and toxoid 5.

Mr. MacPherson reported that examinations of milk and dairy products in the Provincial Branch Laboratory revealed all specimens properly and adequately pasteurized. The butter fat counts, with one exception were all above legal minimum. The lowest being 3.1 per cent and the highest 4.7 per cent. Pasteurizing plants were all maintained in good sanitary condition throughout the month. A very good job is being done in the matter of insect control, aided by the newer insecticides.

The inspector reported that the majority of the restaurants and refreshment booths were kept in good order. In one instance only was it necessary to use coercion when cancellation of operator's licence was suggested if the required sanitary conveniences were not improved.

Dr. Harold Worton's examination of weekly produce market cates. Dr. Kelly said that it is indicated the premises in good condition and the produce offered for sale well cared for and apparently wholesome. The foods were generally well cared for also.

Bakeries, butcher shops and groceries too were usually well kept. In one case a new meat block was ordered.

It was reported at the meeting that one house was closed and placarded as "unfit for human habitation" due to infestation with vermin, lack of water supply, lack of sanitary facilities and general disrepair.

Twelve instances of infestation of premises by rats, bed bugs, roaches, etc., were investigated and assistance given to the occupants, in eradication. The liberal use of the rodenticides and insecticides is very substantially reducing the rat population in the city and effectively eliminating the common household and industrial insect pests.

Several lectures on Food Control and Sanitation were given student nurses at the Civic Hospital.

The inspector concluded his report by saying that two ice fields were inspected and samples of the ice taken for bacteriological examination. Both samples were Class "A" and permits to cut ice for city delivery were issued.

MRS. ROOSEVELT'S DAUGHTER-IN-LAW — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., daughter-in-law of the late President Roosevelt and of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, is shown with her sister, Mrs. A. Du Pont Wickes, outside the Mont Gabriel Club, Piedmont, during a ten-day visit to the Laurentians. Mrs. Roosevelt, jr., was before her marriage Miss Ethel Du Pont. She married the third son of the late president in June, 1937.

Sturdy Commons Ignores Falling House Temperature

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, Feb. 12—(CP).—The Commons, blithely confident of its ability to generate its own steam, faced up bravely yesterday to an indoors cold wave which routed the Cabinet and the Senate and sent dozens of civil servants fleeing to their homes. All told it was a draughty and disordered day. A breakdown in the central heating system which funnels warmth to the three Parliament Buildings and others clustered around them provoked the unorthodox all over Parliament Hill.

Some members sat in the Commons' prices committee in overcoats. Some reporters went them one better, adding fur hats.

The Cabinet called off a regular meeting. The Senate sat for a few minutes and adjourned. Telephone calls flooded into the Works Department. In the dusty, draughty east and west blocks, the temperature went down and down until it was below 50 degrees and civil servants were told to go home.

The heat rose and fell in the centre block during the day. At one time, in some parts, it was down around 40. Outside, it was two above at noon. House strategists, balancing one thing against another as three o'clock neared, decided the Commons Chamber should get priority for whatever heat could be mustered. The Senate was ignored.

When the Commoners gathered the thermometer stood gallantly at 64, four or five degrees above building average.

Carry On

The Speaker solemnly proclaimed it "my duty to intimate that some hon. members suggested to me this morning that under the prevailing conditions there should be no sitting of the House." He left it up to the House.

Faced with decision, the members — some reinforced with sweaters but none with coats — heard first from what is sometimes called the British Columbia bloc. Howard Green (PC-Vancouver South) chided: "It would be well if we could have our sittings in Vancouver."

Arthur Ross (PC-Souris) cried: "Let's sit; it will be warm enough in summer."

The Speaker pressed for finality. "Carry on, carry on," shouted members in a body, and they did.

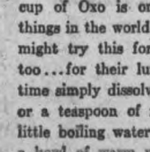
MEAT PIE WITH BISCUIT TOPPING



Brown ½ lb. raw beef, diced, or 1 cup diced, left-over meat in 2 tbspns. fat. If raw meat is used cook thoroughly. Combine meat, 1 10-oz. tin Heinz Condensed Vegetable Soup with Beef Stock, 1 cup water, ½ tspn. salt, dash cayenne pepper and pour into a well-greased casserole (9" x 8½" x 2"). Pat dough for ½ standard recipe for baking powder biscuits to ¼" thickness and cut with a 2" biscuit cutter. Arrange 8 biscuits on top of meat mixture. Bake in a hot oven (400 deg. F.) for 20 minutes or until biscuits are golden brown. Serves 2 to 3.

Youngsters Say "Yes!" when you ask them if they'd like warm delicious cups full of Oxo at bedtime. And a good night's sleep after a hot cup of Oxo is one of the best things in the world for them! You might try this for health's sake, too...for their lunch or suppertime simply dissolve an Oxo cube or a teaspoon of fluid Oxo in a little boiling water and add it to a bowl of warm milk. M-mmm! ...they'll love it! The Oxo habit is good for grown-ups, too, so do be sure to ask your grocer tomorrow for beef-rich OXO in cube and liquid form...it has remained stable in price!

Particularly Now, with food prices high, budget-wise marketing is a matter of careful planning and selection of true quality. You've always chosen your food for flavour ... this applies especially to your choice of coffee—for quality in coffee means full-bodied flavour and flavour means your "money's worth". I find that Chase & Sanborn Coffee gives me all this and more...real flavour value that's well worth those few extra cents. Ask your grocer tomorrow for CHASE & SANBORN COFFEE...in the vacuum-packed tin that assures you of freshness ....or in the economical paper bag. Measure this "real" coffee carefully and serve it while it's hot for a flavour treat you'll want to repeat several times a day and twice at mealtimes for good measure!

The Magic Touch is that important "something" that transforms the simplest of meals into banquets fit for a king—or your husband! I've found that delicious dishes made with BENSON'S CORN STARCH are mealtime magic that men really like—menu "musts" for husbands' hearty appetites and wholesome and good for youngsters, too! Try this Benson recipe...

APPLE PIE

Temp.: 450 deg. — 350 deg. F. Time: 40-45 minutes
Pastry for 2-crust 9" pie
2 tspns. Benson's Corn Starch
⅓ cup white sugar
Dash salt
4½ to 5 cups sliced, tart apples
1 tspn. lemon juice
½ cup Crown Brand Corn Syrup
½ tspn. cinnamon
½ tspn. nutmeg
1 tbsp. butter

Line a 9" pie plate with pastry. Mix together Benson's Corn Starch, sugar and salt, and sprinkle on bottom crust. Add sliced apples (peeled and cored). Combine lemon juice, Crown Brand Syrup and spices, and pour over apples. Dot with butter. Cover with pastry for top crust, crimp edges and bake in a hot oven (450 deg. F.) 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 deg. F. and continue baking until apples are tender (25 to 30 minutes).

The Train was gathering speed at the St. Eustache station when Edward Pateman jumped on the step of one of the coaches—lost his balance and almost tumbled under the wheels. As he frantically tried to grasp the side of the coach for support, Romeo Hervieux raced forward, got a grip on his coat and pulled him to safety just in the nick of time. It all happened so quickly that a woman nearby fainted at the sight of what appeared to be a fatal accident...but, thanks to the cool-headed courage of Romeo Hervieux, no one was injured. As a tribute to his bravery...the DOW AWARD, including a $100 Canada Savings Bond, is being presented to Romeo Hervieux of St. Eustache-sur-le-lac, P.Q. The DOW AWARD, presented from time to time to a Canadian hero or heroine for outstanding bravery, is sponsored by DOW BREWERY in Montreal.

Ask First-Line Air Force As Most Effective Defence

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, Feb. 12 (CP)—The Progressive Conservative party's views on Canada's defence were outlined in a chilly House of Commons yesterday during a debate mainly devoted to a discussion of current conditions in the Maritime provinces.

With temperatures in the chamber hovering near the 60 degree mark because of a failure in the central heating plant boilers, Wing Cmdr. Lawrence Skey, D.F.C. (PC—Toronto Trinity) said he wished to urge on behalf of his party that the government build the R.C.A.F. to the status of a first- line air force as Canada's "cheapest and most effective" line of defence in another war.

But his speech was the only one which did not touch matters affecting the Maritimes. The other speakers were Transport Minister Chevrier, Claire Gillis (CCF—Cape Breton South) and Gordon Isnor (L—Halifax).

External Affairs Minister St. Laurent reported the justice department is examining the question of whether Canada's ban on the import of oleomargarine will have to be lifted to comply with the Geneva trade agreement.

The Senate sat only a few minutes. Before adjournment members gave third reading to a bill ratifying a Canadian-American agreement for controlling the slaughter of fur seals in the North Pacific and the Bering Sea. The Senators also approved appointment of members to sit on the Parliamentary Indian committee.

Must Be Independent

Wing Cmdr. Skey said Canada's aircraft industry, particularly in the development of jet-propelled planes, should be brought to the point where the country would be independent of outside production in the event of war.

Wing Cmdr. Skey said he disagreed with the way Canada's available forces were being scattered. He felt the country should have a compact, flexible air force, provided with the latest equipment and backed with strong reserves.

He urged the government to revert to its pre-war policy of paying an annual subsidy to Canadian flying clubs to keep them in operation. The government should also pay greater attention to the aircraft industry, which was close to "disintegration."

Mr. Chevrier entered the debate to reply to charges of D. King Hazen (PC—St. John-Albert) that the Canadian National Railways and the government had violated the traditional policy of encouraging the shipment of Canadian goods through Canadian ports.

He said neither the government nor the railways had departed from the traditional policy. The railways had taken action in November to equalize the export freight rates between the ports of Saint John, Halifax and Portland, Me. No port had been discriminated against.

Police Patrol Boat Equipped With Pump

ALEANDRIA BAY, N.Y., Feb. 13—(AP)—The state police patrol boat which patrols the St. Lawrence River in this summer resort area opposite Gananoque, has been equipped with a pump capable of throwing 18,000 gallons of water a minute.

Sgt. Frank Nolan told the local Chamber of Commerce that the disastrous collision of the two cargo ships in the river last fall had pointed out the need for such a pump. Several crew members were killed when fire swept one of the ships.

Got 30 Years For US Robbery

VANCOUVER, Feb. 12.—(CP).—A young war veteran's appeal against cancellation of his chauffeur's permit, because he had a criminal record, was upheld by city council after he told a story of wartime misadventure in Albany, N.Y., where he was sentenced to 30 years for robbery.

The veteran, whose name was not disclosed, said that, during the war he went to Albany on leave from the Canadian Army and happened to meet two United States sailors who sought to befriend a drunk.

The drunk got "nasty" and was knocked down, and the trio walked away. Later, he was charged he had been robbed of his watch and $70.

The Canadian and his two American friends were arrested and charged with robbery with violence and within 24 hours were sentenced to the long prison terms.

"They were wrong on that," the veteran told council. "There wasn't the slightest suggestion of robbery anywhere. None of us had the watch or the money.

"I was told if I pleaded guilty I would get a suspended sentence and be sent back to Canada."

He pleaded guilty and then spent many months in jail, finally obtaining the aid of Canadian Army authorities in Ottawa. He was released and "deported" to Canada.

The man said he was honorably discharged from the army and drew "all the gratuities and privileges" given Canadian servicemen on discharge.

NOTED CANADIANS HONORED—At an investiture at Rideau Hall in Ottawa early this week, Viscount Alexander, Governor-General of Canada, bestowed the insignias of Companions of the Most Distinguished Order of St. Michael and St. George, and Commanders of the Civil Division of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire upon five noted Canadian railway men in recognition of their services during World War II. They are: (left to right), E. W. MacKinnon, CBE, retired superintendent of the Prince Edward Island Division, Canadian National Railways; Maynard A. Metcalf, CBE, Vice-President and Executive Assistant, CNR; Walter S. Thompson, CBE, Director of Public Relations, CNR, and Trans-Canada Air lines; S. J. Hungerford, CMG, former CNR President, and National Railways Munitions Limited; and Robert Charles Vaughan, CMG, Chairman and President CNR.

Primate Gives Lenten Sermon

OTTAWA, Feb. 12 — (CP) — Most Rev. George Frederick Kingston, Primate of all Canada and Archbishop of Nova Scotia, yesterday preached the first of three Lenten sermon in Ottawa's Christ Church Cathedral.

The Anglican Ash Wednesday service was marked by its simplicity. There was no procession and the Primate was unattended as he conducted the whole of the service from the pulpit.

He declared that "the world tends to drag us down to its own level.

"Even as the lofty temples of Babylon have been brought down, the world intends this levelling to be our fate, too.

"Man needs to be in touch with God and only by lengthening the time with God can strength of character be attained. It is magnificent to see young men and women who sense the truth of God's world when the world is lowering our standard of character," the Primate said.

Archbishop Kingston will preach again at noon today and Friday and will leave for Sault Ste. Marie Friday night for a visit to the diocese of Algoma of which he was Bishop prior to his transfer to Nova Scotia.

'Dead' Son Returns

MANCHESTER, England, Feb. 12 — (Reuters). — A dirty, long-haired and collarless 26-year-old man walked into police headquarters here Tuesday night, said that he thought he was John Ellis of Rhyl, North Wales, and that the last thing he remembered was being placed in an ambulance train in North Africa in December, 1942. To-day he was resting in bed in his own home after a re-union with his parents who had identified their "dead" son by his birthmarks.

JOINT PAINS

Sudden stabs— or crippling stiffness

When kidneys grow sluggish—need toning up—you begin to feel danger signals. Joint and muscle pains are one of them. They may mean that your kidneys are failing to do their proper job, which is to help filter impurities away from the system. De Witt's Kidney and Bladder Pills are specially prepared to help restore your kidneys to their normal activity. By acting directly on sluggish kidneys they tackle one of the common causes of joint pains. The impurities which may have given rise to your suffering should be cleared out of the system, and pains grow less as a natural consequence. We have received letters from all over the world written by grateful people who have turned to De Witt's Pills and found blessed relief. Try them yourself. They may be just what you need. Get a supply from your drug store to-day.

Chief Samis Reports On Year

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 12.—(ENS).—Chief Garnet Samis' annual report was given at the meeting of the village council Tuesday.

Forty-five informations were laid under the Highway Traffic Act during the year, with convictions in each case, the large majority for speeding. Twenty-one liquor charges brought convictions. Twenty-three persons were convicted for theft or attempted theft. One person was committed under the Game and Fisheries Act. There was an increase in petty thefts during the year, 27 being reported.

Five cases of breaking and entering were reported and in three the persons responsible were arrested and convicted. Three cases of attempted breaking and entering were reported and in two cases arrests and convictions were made. There were 243 petty complaints received and investigated.

Twenty-three motor accidents were reported during the year, resulting in property damage of approximately $3,000, with five minor injuries.

Property to the value of approximately $1,000 was reported stolen and about $300 worth recovered. The greater part of the unrecovered property was taken from the residence of Dr. Murray Moher.

One Major Crime

Only major crime in the village during the year was conviction of a man for serious ofences against juveniles.

After a drop during 1946, juvenile delinquency increased, and one boy, resident of Douro township, was sent to the reform school.

Suggests Blinker

The chief recommended the counell instal a blinker traffic light at the intersection of Bridge, Albert and Queen Sts, and that the present traffic bylaw be amended to control all night parking in the travelled portions of the village streets from Nov. 15 to April 1. Under the present system cars are left where they are a hindrance to the efficient snow plowing of the streets.

May Return Rink Rental To Lions If Necessary

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 12 (ENS).—A request was received by the Council from the Lions Club asking that the village pay 50 per cent of the cost of removing the snow from the rink roof. After discussion Clerk Harry Hill was instructed to advise the club that in the Council's opinion the club as lessee is responsible for the snow removal. This Council, it added, understands and appreciates the excellent effort the club is making for the whole community and that if at the end of the season the financial burden of such operation is such that the club's communiuty program is seriously affected, the Council will favorably consider remitting part of the rent.

Reeve Grant suggested that all property owners outside the village requesting fire protection should consult Council on the matter at once.

The Council decided to join the Good Roads Association and appointed William Whetung, chairman of the Streets Committee, and another member of Streets Committee as delegates to the convention in Toronto on February 24 and 25.

Chief Samis' salary as Police Chief was increased to $1,900. Reeve Grant stated details of discussion leading to the increase would be presented at a ratepayers' meeting to be held in the near future. A contract for the sanitary collection was drawn up with Gerald Withers of Peterborough. This department is under the jurisdiction of the Health Committee chairman, Councillor Ken Morris.

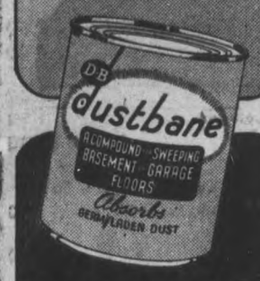
'Plant' Fingerlings

MONCTON, NB. (CP) — The Moncton branch of the New Brunswick Fish and Game Association, reporting a total membership of 1,544, said recently the group had set out 475,000 fingerling trout in the streams of Westmorland and Kent counties.

Livestock Official Louis O'Neill Dies

TORONTO, Feb. 12 — (CP) — Livestock Commissioner for Ontario, Louis O'Neil, 56, of Toronto died here yesterday.

A graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Mr. O'Neill joined the commission in 1918.



Connected with all livstock organizations he is the past president of Cattle Breeders, Sheep, Swine and Horses. He was a director of the Royal Winter Fair, the Canadian National Exhibition and the Ottawa Winter Fair.

Survivors include his widow, one son and three daughters, all of Toronto.

FINANCE — Frank Handy, son of G. C. Handy, publisher of the Ypsilanti, Michigan, Press, is shown as he appeared in Chicago, when he declined to discuss a published report that his engagement to Margaret Truman will soon be announced. "She is a very charming girl. Anything she says is okay," he added. In Washington, however, Mrs. Reathel Odum, Mrs. Truman's secretary, said that the report is "definitely not true."

To Have Weekly Bowling

On Wednesday evening ten members of Women's Auxiliary of the Kawartha Association met at the home of Mrs Allan Edmison, Water St, for their regular business meeting, with Mrs. G. Samis, president, in charge. Cards of thanks were read from Mrs. Wm. G. Johnston for a gift of fruit, and Major C. Watt of the Salvation Army for donations. Mrs. P. Morris reported on the recent card party. A report from Mrs. E. Mesley advised that members will be able to bowl at Duffus' alleys on Tuesdays at 2.30 p.m. It was decided to make layettes for babies in needy families and Mrs. Morris and Mrs. E. Stevens will be in charge of this project. Mrs. D. Farthing offered her home for a card party on Wednesday evening, February 18. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Harold Mesley, 186 Perry St., on Wednesday, March 10. A vote of thanks to the hostess was moved by Mrs. E. Beatty. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Edmison assisted by Mrs. A. Dalton.

Kiwanians Hold Valentine Party

Kawartha Country Club was the setting for the Peterborough Kiwanis Club's Valentine party on Wednesday night. The party was sponsored by the ladies, and more than 160 people attended.

The reception line consisted of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Pridham, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Allen and Mr. Vince McCabe.

After the dinner the Cowling Bros. from Toronto entertained the Kiwanians and their guests with several musical numbers that were very well received. The rest of the evening was devoted to dancing and Jack Skitch and his orchestra supplied the music.

Visiting members were received from the Oshawa, Cobourg and the Belleville Kiwanis clubs.

USING UP TOMATOES

Tomatoes not suitable for canning will make excellent tomato sauce for meat loaves, croquettes or frankfurters.

VALENTINE BALL—One of the most successful dances ever held by the Major Bennett Chapter, IODE, was held Wednesday night as 600 guests enjoyed music and dancing. Shown above, Left to Right, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Barns and Mr. and Mrs. J. McMillan. Mrs. Barns is the Chapter's Regent and the other two ladies conveners.

IODE Valentine Ball of '48 Lives Up to Traditions Of Major Bennett Formals.

Traditions are not come by easily, but are built up through the years, and that goes in the field of parties as anywhere else. So it is a tribute to Major Bennett Chapter, IODE, that any party it sponsors is bound to be a success. It has a special reputation for handsome formal dances like Wednesday night's Valentine Ball at Club Aragon. More than 600 were there dancing to the grand music of Bobby Kinsman and his orchestra in a gay setting of frilled and lacey Valentines, hearts and cupids all around, and huge balloons overhead.

On hand to greet the guests were Mrs. George Barns, the regent, and Mr. Barns, Mrs. W. Gordon Hall, honorary regent, and Ltd-Col. Hall, Mayor W. G. Ovens and Mrs. Ovens, Mr. Gordon K. Fraser, M.P. and Mrs. Fraser.

Ushering parties to their tables were Misses Jessie Johnson and June Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Fallis, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Monk, Mr. and Mrs. M. Elliott. Taking tickets were Mrs. John Hooper and Mrs. Glen J. Moher.

The decorations, featuring silvered red hearts and cupids, large and small, were particularly fascinating and extended right to the very entrance where a welcoming greeting met the eye. All were the work of Mrs. John McMillan. Mrs. Karl Monk looked after prizes that were given for spot dances during the evening, and Mrs. R. Seabrook was responsible for distribution of horns which made intermissions sound like riots. Misses Margaret Lundy and Doris Finnie were ticket conveners, and Miss Isobel Irwin, Mrs. R. Parnell, Mrs. L. Dyer and Mrs. D. Clarke, assisted Mrs. R. G. Clarke, general convener of the dance

Those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. A. Knott, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Valentine Tea Features Draw

A very successful Valentine Tea was held this week at St. Mary's Convent by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Catholic Church Extension Society.

Guests were received by the president, Mrs. George Lynch and the past president, Mrs. J. E. Sullivan. The table was covered with a lace cloth and centred with a basket of spring flowers and Valentine motifs. Ladies pouring tea were Mrs. P. J. Dorris, Mrs. C. Brady, Mrs. F. Hickey and Mrs. T. Ryan. Mrs. J. Meagher was convener of the tea, assisted by Misses Jean Dorris, Mary Sullivan, M. Blackburn, V. Sullivan and B. Meagher.

Selling "chances" on a cake were Miss Lillian Hurley and Mrs. J. C. Donnelly. The cake was donated by Mrs. P. J. Dorris and the lucky winner was Mrs. C. Brady.

Vestments and altar linens on display were in charge of the conveners, Mrs. J. Deannard and Miss T. McNamara. This work was done by members for the western missions.

Mrs. W. Blackburn, the treasurer, was at the door.

Invitations Read At St. James' WMS

St. James' WMS Auxiliary met in Wesley Hall when president, Mrs. E. Johnston opened with devotions.

The business session which followed included and invitation from the Victorian Order of Nurses to attend their annual meeting and tea at the YWCA Feb. 25. Mrs. R. B. English and Mrs. J. Peel were appointed to represent St. James' Auxiliary. Announcement was made of the World Day of Prayer to be held Friday, Feb. 13 at All Saints' Anglican Church. A letter from the Presbyterian supply secretary was read by Mrs. A. C. Prest. The auxiliary was requested to make three nurses' smocks from the material provided for aid to China.

The auxiliary is invited by St. Andrew's WMS to hear Dr. Victoria Ching, a Canadian-born Chinese missionary doctor who will speak at St. Andrew's United Church, Feb. 18.

The program continued with department reports, when Mrs. Geo. Rowe tolk of work done for community friendship through calls made and by sending cards to shut-in and sick members. Temperance was reported by Mrs. W. K. Sloane and Christian stewardship by Mrs. Wesley Rose who also read a story. Highlights from the recent Presbyterial meeting were brought by delegates Mrs. H. F. Doing and Miss M. Bowers, giving comprehensive and interesting talks on the day's activities.

During the brief study period the translation of the Bible to the North American Indians was dealt with. The lives of John Eliot and Rev. Stephens Riggs were depicted by Mrs. E. M. Davis and Mrs. Eric Hunter.

Mrs. A. E. Prest and Mrs. F. W. Craik assisted in the closing worship, with Mrs. Doig taking the solo part of the hymn.

ST. ANDREW'C CHURCH

A well attended meeting of St. Andrew's United Church CGIT group marked the opening of CGIT week in Peterborough Monday evening. Members, mothers and friends were entertained.

An informative talk on the activities and purpose of the CGIT movement was given by Mrs. Bruce Gordon of Trinity United Church. Marion Crawford introduced the speaker and she was thanked by Edith Nicholls.

Katherine Hewitt was in charge of the worship service, assisted by Joan Wood and Marion Crawford. Games and a contest were conducted by Joan Wood. Refreshments were served at the close.

MURRAY ST. CHURCH

CGIT groups of Murray St. Baptist Church attended the Mary Nicholls Mission Circle on Tuesday evening fo rthe annual affiliation service. President of the circle, Miss Margaret Eastwood, welcomed the girls. A skit directed by Miss Jean Mailing was presented by the CGIT groups, entitled "Speakee no English." Taking part were Irene Kelly, Helen Quinn, Alice Pilling, Patricia Weston, Eileen Nixon and Elizabeth Connelly.

A gift of money was presented to the Circle by Diana Burley, Senior CGIT group president.

Home and School Association News

Founder's Day meeting of St. John's Home and School Association took place Tuesday in the school auditorium, with Mrs. Bernard Holland, president, in the chair.

The meeting was addressed by Rev. Charles Sullivan, chaplain of the association, who took as his subject the quotation "The aim of education is character; and the aim of character is service." "Education" he explained, "does not end when we leave school but continues as long as we live."

It was decided that the association, under convenership of Mrs. George Maloney, social convener, will undertake a fund-raising project. The plans are to be made by the social committee and details will be submitted by the social committee and details will be submitted to members at the March meeting.

Program for February meeting was highlighted by an interesting playlet outlining history and achievements of the Home and School Association. It was presented by the parents and directed by Miss Bernice Greenan, program convener. Those taking part were Mr. E. Curtain, Mrs. W. Prindible, Mr. J. Doleman, Mr. Neil Braithwaite, Mr. F. O'Connor, Mrs. Wilfred Jones, Mrs. Minicola, Mrs. R. Waldie, Mrs. J. Doleman, Mrs. L. Lefley, Mr. Wilfred Jones, and Mrs. F. Livings.

Mrs. W. Prindible sang "Juanita" and "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" accompanied by Miss Bernice Greenan at the piano.

An impressive candle-lighting service was conducted by Mrs. B. Holland, Sister M. Alma, Mrs. Braithwaite and Mr. J. V. Anglesey.

The specially prepared table of publications arranged by the publications committee under convenership of Mr. J. V. Anglesey attracted much attention.

At conclusion of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served by Mrs. George Maloney and he committee.

Shipyard Helper Joins Symphony As Bass Fiddler

BY MARILYN LAMBORN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Feb. 12 (CP)—The struggle of a young musician to keep the wolf from the door and still continue her music is a story familiar to most artists.

But curly-headed Ruth Ross, 23-year-old Vancouver bass violinist, looks back on her battle to become a professional as a great adventure which culminated in the thrill of landing a spot in the back row of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra.

"There were moments and days of anguish when I didn't know what I was going to do for existence," she said. "But at the last minute something always came through to save the day."

For two years during the war she played with the Vancouver Symphony and to make ends meet took on the duties of an electrician's helper in a shipyard. In the little spare time she had, she organized musical entertainment for the workers and was so successful she gained employer and union approval to make entertainment her full-time job.

One summer she was determined to take an economic course in Toronto so she hitch-hiked across the continent with another girl.

"The family was getting used to me making quick decisions and acting on them, so they didn't worry too much about me."

Tries For Scholarship

The shipyard had closed down, and Ruth wrote an examination for a scholarship at Toronto's Royal Conservatory of Music, pinning her future--whether to continue her music or switch to something else--on the result.

While awaiting the conservatory's decision she toured with an eight-piece girls, dance band, but it broke up in Winnipeg. She waited for several days and watched her money dwindle. She had just about given up hope when she heard she had won the scholarship.

She packed up her bass fiddle and soon was in Toronto--where she discovered she'd have too type as she studied, to keep up with living costs.

Following the scholarship period she decided she would return to play in the Vancouver Symphony after failing to gain a position with the Toronto Symphony.

She was almost on the train when she received a phone call telling her the orchestra needed an extra bass fiddler.

Happy, healthy but not wealthy, Ruth says: "Everything's rosy now, but when the season is over I hope I won't have to sell my fiddle and live in the case."

For Friday, February 13

WHILE the astral indications make for a successful and well-planned schedule, with sound and secure foundations, at the same time there seems to be an undercurrent of the subtle, crafty and sinister as well, in which case it would be wise not to build too solidly on false hopes, mistaken values or the wily conduct of designing and tricky gestures from suspicious sources. Plod ahead on sound judgment, reasonable and sagacious effort, minus foolish fancies or dubious collaborators. Keep well organized.

Those whose birthday it is may hew a straight-and-narrow course by adhering to logic and reason, shrewd and well-thought out plans or policies, ignoring the fanciful suggestions of officious or doubtful persons, too eager to take part in sound and workable propositions. A keen and clever policy of keeping to the right and true might work for stable and enduring rewards with future stability and growth.

A child born on this day may have practical and sterling factors for success and sound place in life, although easily victimized by false hopes or the machinations of clever tricksters.

FALLACY OF MARRIAGE
Increasing Divorces Due To False Hopes For Perpetual Honeymoon

✧ ✧ ✧

Practically every young couple who gets married is firmly convinced that marriage is going to be a perpetual honeymoon. They know that other husbands and wives get on each other's nerves at times, and have spats, and fights and arguments, and that many a bride goes to bed in tears after what John has said about her biscuit, and that many a John wonders what made him pick out a little nincompoop, who can't even add up the grocery bill, for a wife. They also are aware that one marriage out of every three goes on the rocks and that, any way you look at it, marriage is a hazardous undertaking.

Dorothy Dix

But not for them. It can't happen to them. Their marriage will be all sweetness and light and billing and cooing, with never a harsh word nor a cross look. And that, when you come down to brass tacks, is what's the matter with marriage. It is because the optimistic youngsters are so sure that their marriage is going to be a great success that they take no steps to keep it from being a failure.

In vain does Mother, who has cut her wisdom teeth on Father's little peculiarities, try to give daughter a few tips on how to smooth her husband's fur the right way. Daughter feels that she doesn't need them because she is so certain that her husband will always purr under her hand.

She can't imagine a time ever coming when her John will cease to be a great lover and become just a mere husband who takes her for granted and brings home beef steaks instead of orchids, and who doesn't feel that he is called upon to tell her how much he loves her when he is providing it by his actions.

Most wives find that their roles have been shifted from lady love to cook, and some it makes bitter and resentful and whining and complaining, and some it makes wise to the fact that the way to retain a husband's affection is to keep him well fed and comfortable.

It is natural enough for a girl who has been through a high-pressure courtship to expect it to continue in full force after marriage. Of course, she has seen other men drop their love-making like it was a hot potato as soon as they got home from their wedding tour, but it knocks her for a goal when it happens to her. She thought she was going to be the one shining exception to the rule that men don't chase the bus after they have caught it.

Then there is the temperament, both male and female, that lovers never take into consideration before marriage, but that looms the biggest and most menacing thing in their lives after marriage. No matter how infatuated a young couple may be with each other, no matter if they belong in the same class, and have the same amount of education, no matter how good and kind and worthy they are, if they don't laugh at the same jokes, read the same books, like the same kind of food, they will never be happy together. Each expects the other to change into the sort of wife the man wanted, or the kind of a husband who was the woman's heart's desire, and when they don't, because they can't, another marriage goes into the discard.

Nothing is more tragic than that so many marriages that are entered into with such high hopes and great expectations of happiness fail, and the pitiful part of it is that they fail because neither men nor women realize that the disasters that wreck so many other marriages CAN happen to them.

Alexander Gambled On Plan For Ports In Sicilian Invasion

By STUART UNDERHILL

LONDON, Feb. 12—(CP).—Field Marshal Viscount Alexander, former commander-in-chief of the 15th Army Group and now Canada's Governor-General, discloses that the spectacular invasion of Sicily was based on a plan which ignored the "fundamental principle" of capturing a large port as a supply base and which gambled on maintaining armies through small ports over beaches. How he pulled off the gamble—later repeated by Field Marshal Montgomery in Normandy—is described in a dispatch on the Sicilian operation of July and August, 1943, in which the 1st Canadian Division fought with the British Eighth Army.

The Alexander dispatch was released by the War Office today.

The original invasion plans, drafted while British and United States troops were still driving Axis troops out of North Africa, envisioned a multiple assault involving the early capture of the ports of Palermo and Catania.

The planning officers disagreed vigorously on the details, however, and Viscount Alexander, who as commander of the 15th army group had over-all charge, "decided to recast the whole plan."

He resolved to concentrate the American Seventh Army in a blow against the Southeast coast which meant that they would have to be supplied over beaches. An Eighth Army assault could be expected to yield no ports better than Syracuse and Augusta in the early stages.

"The risk was therefore grave," Viscount Alexander noted, although there were two brightening factors — the likelihood of good weather and the introduction of the amphibious "duck" which "revolutionized the problem of beach maintenance."

Canadians Good.

Landing operations began in the early hours of July 10 along a 100-mile stretch of coast. Occupation of the rugged 10,000 square-mile island was completed 38 days later.

The Canadians made their first appearance in the Mediterranean after a long convoy haul from the United Kingdom and Viscount Alexander described them as "trained to a hair . . . eager and confident for battle."

With the "Desert Rats" they landed on the southeast between Syracuse and Pozzalo and were supported by parachute troops. The operation was carried out on schedule despite a sudden wind that kicked up a choppy sea.

"After dusk that night (July 9) I went down to Cape Delimara, southeastern point of Malta, to watch the gliders fly past for a landing in support of the Eighth Army," he wrote.

"As tandem pairs of tow and glider came flying low, now in twos and three, now in larger groups . . . I took note that the first invasion of European soil was under way."

The surprised opposition consisted of 315,000 Italians and 50,000 Germans, the latter total being later increased to 90,000 when reinforcements were rushed fro mthe Italian mainland.

The Germans fought stubbornly and in some cases, operational plans had to be modified. The Eighth Army soon achieved its primary objectives, including the capture of Syracuse and the important Pachino airfield.

On The Job

On July 20, the Canadians and Americans entered Enna, in the centre of the island and the junction of its main roads. On the same day the Canadians captured the southwest coastal town of Sciacca.

Viscount Alexander remarked that "the outstanding administrative feature" of the invasion "was the speed with which ports were opened to shipping immediately after their capture and the efficient manner in which stores were taken off ships, transported into depots and moved by rail and road to forward troops."

On the night of August 16, United States troops entered Messina where they were joined the next day by Eighth Army commondos.

"Just before dawn on the 17th, according to a German account, Gen. Hube, German Commander, sailed from a beach north of Messina in the last boat to leave the island. Sicily had been conquered in 38 days."

A COUPLE OF VALENTINE SWEETHEARTS?—Look who's here! It's Barbara Ann and Avery Brundage, as Valentine sweethearts. Mr. Brundage, you will remember, is the U.S. Olympic official whose letter to the international Olympic committee caused Barbara Ann Scott to give up her car, presented by the citizens of Ottawa. It took the efforts of a false photography expert to get Barbara Ann and Mr. Brundage together in this Valentine card, but nothing that the expert could do could make him look anything but stiff and formal in spite of Barbara Ann's smile.

George Street Church Jr. Choir Banqueted

George Street Sunday School auditorium was gay with Valentine decorations for the first annual banquet of the members of the Junior Choir and their director Mr. Chas. E. Allen. Seated at the head table were Dr. James Semple, Dr. J. R. R. Cooper and Mrs. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Copp, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Allen. On either side at two longer tables fifty-two children enjoyed a delightful supper served by the officers of the Sunday School and convened by Mrs. James Tinney and committee of ladies.

Dr. Semple commented on the very fine way in which the children co-operate with their leader and assured them that their efforts were very much appreciated by the congregation. Representing the Sunday School, Mr. Copp congratulated the children and moved a vote of thanks to the ladies and the Board of Stewards for entertaining the choir. This motion was seconded by Mr. Allen who expressed the pleasure derived from working with the children and thanked them for their co-operation and loyalty.

Canadians Lose Plowing Match

SAINTFIELD, County Down, Northern Ireland, Feb. 12.—(CP).—International plowing championship was won yesterday by the Skene Plowing Society of Aberdeen, four Canadian entries failing to obtain the prize.

But the Canadian team—consitsing of John Capton, 21, of Oshsweken, Ont., Alfred Brunton of Tara, Ont., R. B. Hare of Walpole, Haldimand county, and Glenn McFaddin of Wellesley, Ont.—was well pleased with the contest.

"We came here not only to plow but also to strengthen the friendship between the two countries," William Clark, team manager, told The Canadian Press. "Also, plowing in Ulster is different to what we are used to."

Twenty thousand persons watched the match, including Earl Granveille, Governor of Northern Ireland, and Prime Minister Sir Basil Brooke.

Gets His House The Hard Way

TORONTO, Feb. 12 — (CP). — Forced to move two years ago from his four-room cottage, fireman Charles Dawson got even with his landlord — and all landlords.

Working in his spare time, he built himself a six-room stucco house which will be ready for occupancy in May, complete with a built-in garage, a recreation room and workshop.

His finance were limited to his $2,200 fireman's salary, $800 bank deposits and $900 war service gratuities.

While he was building the house, his wife, Thelma, became almost blind and required an expensive operation, his mother-in-law moved in with them and a friend left him a baby to care for

Now that the house is near completion, someone has offered him $12,000 for it. He isn't selling.

Denies Contract

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP). — James Mason, British film actor, testified in court yesterday that he did not sign a contract giving his exclusive services in the United States to David E. Rose, former managing director for the Paramount Film Corporation in Britain. Mason is suing to have a document signed June 5, 1946, held invalid. Rose, in a countersuit, is seeking damages of $1,760,000.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

NEXT SEASON AT HAND

TOP-DRAWER championship bridge for the season of 1948-1949 will get under way tomorrow evening, when the banner individual title contests open in New York. The American Contract Bridge League, sponsor of the contests, calls one of them the "world's masters championship" and the other the "United States masters championship." The distinguishing factor is that in the former a player requires a huger total of "master points" to be eligible. Following three days of these events, with 36 players in each, the Vanderbilt Cup contest for teams of four will be played, also in New York, beginning Monday evening. Superfine bridge gets played by the winners of all these events.

Charles J. Solomon, of Philadelphia, winner of last year's world's individual, was South at one table of this tournament deal, by bidding not reported. That given above was at another table. But there is a clear record of his play, which made the contract following the same lead as at the other club slam table, the diamond Q.

The other declarer, upon winning the opener with the diamond A, ran his eight club tricks, hoping to squeeze somebody with the last of the suit. West, however, who then retained two spades and the diamond J-10-9, tossed one of the latter and thus held the contract to exactly the number of tricks bid.

Mr. Solomon got an extra trick by building a sound format for a squeeze. Following the diamond A trick, he scored the club A and K, used the heart A and K for spade-discards, ruffed a heart and then ran his clubs. As he played the last, West had his spade A and two diamonds, with the dummy holding the spade K and diamond K-8, while South still retained the diamond 2. Whatever West discarded on that eleventh trick would be fatal to him. Actually he selected a diamond, so the spade K was discarded. The diamond K and 8 then took the last two tricks, poor West "going to bed" with his spade A.

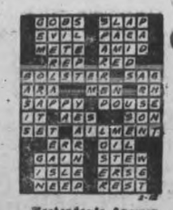
Tomorrow's Problem

(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable.)



If South bids 1-Club, West 2-Clubs and North 3-Clubs, what should East do?

6—In Memoriam

COLLISON—In loving memory of Eva Collison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Collin, who passed away seven years today.
Seven years have passed and gone,
Since one we loved so well
Was taken from our home on earth
With Jesus Christ to dwell,
The flowers we place upon her grave
May wither and decay,
But the love of her who sleeps beneath
Shall never fade away.
—Ever remembered by her family.

JONES—In loving memory of a dear mother Elsie Agnes, who passed away February 12, 1931.
None knew her but to love her,
None named her but in praise.
—Fondly remembered by daughter Elsie.

DELPELLARO—In loving memory of Joseph Valentine Delpellaro, who died two years ago today February 12, 1946.
Two years ago today our brother was called,
To his eternal rest;
Gone where the Angels sing so sweet
And taken when God knew best.
We miss him here so very much,
His presence oft seems nigh,
But we all hope in Heaven to meet
Where no one says good-bye.
—Remembered by brothers, sisters and mother.

JONES — In loving memory of Mrs. Agnes Elsie Jones, a dear wife and mother, who passed away on February 12, 1931.
Not just to-day, but every day
In silence we remember.
—Ever remembered by Husband and Family.

7—Cards of Thanks

Mr. William Jessup would like to thank the doctors and nurses of Peterborough Civic Hospital and also all friends who sent flowers, fruit and cards during his recent illness.

I would like to express my sincere appreciation to the attending doctors and nurses for their kind attention to me, during my recent operation in Civic Hospital, also my thanks to kind friends and neighbours who called to see me, and sent flowers, fruit and cards. Mrs Milford Bullock, R.R. 6, Peterborough.

inated graft."

He said that the idealism of the Chinese Communists has gripped many young Chinese, but this has often collapsed in disillusionment at the ruthless measures employed. Despite the success of the Communists in eliminating graft he said the people flee at their approach and welcome the Nationalist armies.

A brief history was sketched of the relations between the Communists and the central government since the former were "set up by the Russians in 1917." After coming to terms in 1924, they split in 1927 and apart from the war against Japan they have opposed each other since.

Immediate strategy of the Communists, he believed, was to overrun Manchuria and then hold a line roughly north of the Yellow River.

An active question period followed the main address which was received with enthusiasm by the audience.

Speaker was introduced by Rev. Dr. Bruce Gordon and thanked by Dr. Gordon and Mr. Quirt McKinney.

Preceding the address two films were shown: "Man One Family," a cleverly produced documentary illustrating the mixed ancestry of man, and contending that there is no scientific evidence for the belief in a "pure" or "master race." The other was "Hungry Minds," showing plight of European children as a result of war's devastation.

Mr. McKinney welcomed the more than 200 persons who had enrolled for the various courses held every Wednesday evening, Feb. 11 to March 17 at the Normal School.

DETROIT— Judge George B. Murphy paid a $100 drunken driving fine, apparently abandoning any plans for appeal. He was convicted Jan. 24 by Judge Philip Elliott of Flint, Mich., after Detroit's traffic court judges had excused themselves from the case.

Scottish Proposals Bring Concessions From Gov't

By JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 12 (CP).—New concessions to Scotland's demand for more control over her own affairs were announced in a Labor government white paper.

Under the new policy, the following Scottish proposals have been accepted:

1. Scottish legislation will be referred to a standing Commons committee on Scottish bills for consideration on principle. When bills return to the Commons they may be given second reading without debate. This meets Scots' members complaints that insufficient time was allowed for discussion of particular interest to them.

2. Estimates presented by the Secretary of State for Scotland also will be referred to the standing committee.

3. A Scottish economical conference will be convened to give special study to developments and trends in the north. An annual review of Scottish economic affairs will be given parliament.

4. Machinery of administration for Scotland, already largely concentrated there, will be kept under review in case further changes can be made to increase efficiency.

Only in one category did the government refuse Scottish proposals.

It gave "sympathetic consideration" to establishment of a committee of inquiry into Scottish affairs generally, covering furher legislative and parliamentary devolution.

"It is unlikely that any inquiry, however wide its scope, would satisfy the conflicting demands which have been made; and time required for detailed investigation of all aspects of the position would in any case mean delay," the white paper added.

"The government feels, therefore, that the time is not opportune to set up a formal committee of inquiry, and that it is more important to make immediate progress by concentrating on the practical measures proposed."

THEY NEED YOUR HELP — War has seared deeper than a branding iron on the minds and bodies of millions of children in Europe and Asia. Shells have made them orphans and bombs have made them homeless. They need the world's help if they are to survive. The Canadian Appeal for Children seeks to bring that help. Your contribution may be left at any Canadian bank. The Appeal seeks to collect $10 million to purchase food, clothing and educational supplies. Similar Appeals are being conducted simultaneously in 26 other countries in the world. Be generous to the Canadian Appeal for Children and help those who have been made helpless by war.

Agnes Logan Green Heard CHEX At 9:30

There is music to please all tastes in the interesting program arranged for presentation this evening by Agnes Logan Green, Peterborough's distinguished concert pianist. The program, as usual, will be heard at 9.30 P.M., broadcast over CHEX and presented by the Peterborough Examiner.

Three movements from Grieg's Sonata Op. 7 will be heard as the major work on this evenings program.

The program will begin with a short gavotte by the 18th Century English composer Samuel Wesley. An interesting modern composition will be Ravel's "Pavanne for a Dead Princess".

Mrs. Green will also play Harold Craxton's transcription of "Night and Dreams" by Schubert; the Bach Chorale "Beloved Jesu, We Are Here" as arranged by Harriet Cohen; the Prelude from Bach's Third English Suite; and the tuneful "Sunshine" by the contemporary English composer and pianist York Bowen.

Ganaraska Watershed Survey Helps Farmers By Conservation

BETHANY, Feb. 12—(ENS)—Mrs. Herb Fallis entertained the Bethany Women's Institute on Monday. Mrs. H. L. Challice, vice-president, conducted the meeting. The treasurer, Mrs. Clara Armstrong, gave her report. A letter was read from Dr. Miller of Durham Health Unit stating that he would be at the school on Feb. 25 to give immunization. Rev. R. W. Price reported on the Red Cross meeting held last week.

Mrs. Leslie Challice, Agricultural Convener, gave a talk on Soil Conservation and the benefit to Durham County of the Ganaraska Watershed project, the first study of its kind in Eastern Canada.

"The project area consists of approximately 100 square miles, lying north of Port Hope, Durham County and extends in funnel shape back into Hope and Clarke townships as far as Cavan township," she said.

"First permanent settlers in Hope township were in 1793. It fast became very proseprous in lumber business. From 1837 until 1861 there were 31 new saw mills erected on this small river system, but it was getting pretty well cleared off by 1861. In 1885 there were only 12 and there are less now. The first mudy water was seen in the river in 1877, indicating water coming from cultivated lands. Dredging in Port Hope harbor is carried on almost every year and 75 per cent of the silt in the harbor is caused by the river carrying soil from the watershed.

"There are three methods of soil conservation—contour plowing, strip cropping and reforestation.

Top Soil Important

"Loss of top soil is due in a large measure to the removal of the forests. The forest floor is perhaps the most important factor in the forest. There is a great accumulation of debris which decays and forms a mantle of litter of a high absorbing nature, therefore holds the moisture for absorption in the soil. The forests also hold the snow in the spring, it melts slowly and soaks into the land.

"Reforesting is one soil conserving measure which has been in progress for some time. The Orono Nursery of the Department of Lands and Forests is the main distributing centre for reforestation stock in Eastern Ontario. There are a number of demonstration wood lots in the county, privately owned areas of wood land on which the onwers have agreed to follow prescribed methods of wood lot management outlined by the Department of Lands and Forests and to permit access to the area by interested persons.

The conservation method is being developed from an extensive land survey on the Ganaraska watershed carried out by a staff of field men in 1942 with the testing and grading of soil.

"This 'Land Use Survey' furnishes a basis for the development of plans for the conservation of soil through improved land use and for application of soil conserving practice on farms. With this detailed inventory, technicians should be able to devise cropping plans that would make use of all land.

"The plan must be satisfactory to the farmer and at the same time it must provide for practices that will control erosion and run-off water. Greater returns can be obtained from the land if soil saving measures are carried out," Mrs. Challice concluded.

Wants More Grading Of Fruit Vegetables

TORONTO, Feb. 12 (CP). — Agriculture Minister Kennedy today told the Ontario Agriculture Council the time must come "when we must inspect and grade not only fruits and vegetables but everything grown in Ontario."

Mr. Kennedy said also that the Provincial Government, and every other government, must remove taxes from foodstuffs wherever possible "to get the food to the people as cheaply as possible."

"Don't Know What I Would Have Done Without Syntona"

Gratefully Tells Of Relief From Gas, Indigestion, Headaches, Dizzy Feelings And Nervous, Rundown Condition. "Wouldn't Be Without It," She Says.

Almost every day you can read in the papers of local men and women who have obtained gratifying results simply by taking a short treatment of Syntona Herbal Compound. These people tell of prompt, effective relief from common disorders of the stomach, kidneys, liver and bowels including such symptoms as gas, indigestion, dizzy feelings, backache, rheumatic pain or pervous, rundown condition of the system.

For example, here is the fine experience of Mrs. Caroline Rockel, 135 Weaver Street, Waterloo, Ontario, as related in a recent report:

"Being well up in years I was rundown and suffered almost constantly with poor digestion. I had so much trouble after eating my meals with gas, indigestion, heartburn and sour acid risings. The gas would press up in my chest giving me a full, heavy feeling and shortness of breath. I was subject to dizzy spells and frequent headache. At night, I couldn't sleep well and I felt very tired and wornout.

MRS. CAROLINE ROCKEL

"Syntona has been wonderful for me. I don't know what I would have done without it. It relieved the gas, indigestion and all that sourness and burning distress in my stomach. The dizzy spells and headaches are cleared up and my nerves are more settled so that I am able to get more sound sleep at night. As a result I feel much better throughout the day and I wouldn't be without this grand medicine. I highly recommend it to everyone."

Syntona is sold and recommended in Peterborough at Elliott's Drug Store. Find out how it can help you, too.—(Advt.)

Police Find $122,100 In Snow Bank

Detective Team Gets Part Of Loot From Royal Bank

TORONTO, Feb. 13 — (CP) — Two Toronto detectives—Arthur Keay and Alex Deans—today are nearer their months-long treasure-trove search for $500,000 stolen last fall from the west-central Chestnut and Dundas streets branch of the Royal Bank of Canada.

Last night, while foot-slodging through snowdrifts, the veteran police team found $122,100 in registered Victory Bonds in a month-old, fast-frozen bank on the Queen Elizabeth Way, near the city's western suburban limits.

Keay and Deans found the bonds—including several of $5,000 denomination—wrapped in newspapers and stuffed into a snowdrift on a farm.

Nearer Toronto

They uncovered the loot a half-mile nearer Toronto than the location where the same detectives, armed with a Second World War mine detector, recently located $150,000 in bonds and gems in metal boxes buried several feet underground.

Two days after that discovery, the detectives located another $81,750 in stocks and jewelry in a west-Toronto house and identified them as loot from the same bank raid.

Police headquarters officials last night lauded the team's work but added that the bank robbery of last fall was not the work of "imported gangs."

"They were Toronto boys, we know that," and officer said.

Barbara Ann Leading 19 Rivals

Three More Figures To Be Skated; Button Takes Title

By JACK SULLIVAN

DAVOS PLATZ, Switzerland, Feb. 13 (CP)—Barbara Ann Scott of Ottawa today opened an early lead over 19 rivals, including Suzanne Morrow and Marilyn Ruth Take of Toronto, as she launched a defence of her world figure-skating championship.

Odds lengthened still further on the Canadian star completing a clean sweep of all major skating tournaments on this side of the Atlantic this year as her performance in the first three of the six compulsory figures to be skated gave her a clear-cut margin over the field.

Three figures were skated today. The remaining three will be skated tomorrow and the free-skating competition will be held Sunday.

The newly-crowned Olympic champion, who also holds the European and North American crowns, skated easily and confidently. She wore a grey-blue costume with a white cap and gloves and belt with a monogram.

Compare Points

The points awarded Miss Scott for the first figure, which had a "factor" or point value of four, were: 5.3, 5.4, 5.2, 5.6, 5.3, 5.3, 5.7, 5.6, 5.4. Her closest competitor in the first figure (the rocker) was Jeanette Altwegg of Britain, whose unofficial scores were: 5.4, 5.2, 5.2, 5.3, 5.4, 5.2, 5.6, 5.3, 5.2.

Miss Scott skated 16th and Miss Altwegg last. Miss Morrow, drawn seventh, skated first among the Canadian entries.

Miss Morrow wore a green skirt and a white sweater with multi-colored designs running across the top, and a green cap and gloves. She wore a lucky charm of five Olympic rings with two skates suspended from them.

Miss Morrow's points for the first figure were: 4.6, 5.0, 4.9, 4.6, 5.0, 4.6, 4.7, 4.5, 5.0.

An easy-flowing performance by Wallace Distelmeyer of Toronto in the free-skating section to-day moved him from 12th to 9th place in the world figure-skating championships, won by Dick Button of Englewood, N.J. Distelmeyer's point total was 1,-724.4, compared with 1,982.7 for Button.

Canadian Soldiers Prefer Using Jeeps Don't Snap Back Easily Like Huskies

CHURCHILL, MAN., Feb. 13 —(CP)—A selected class of Canadian and American troops has been taking lessons at this northern military post in the handling of husky dogs. But the soldiers prefer jeeps...they don't bite.

The training, designed to familiarize the men with the dog-sled type of Arctic transportation, is but one of many types of instruction given to troops stationed at this base 600 miles north of Winnipeg.

The class on the care and use of dogs was conducted by two veteran trappers from the Churchill district, Henry Johnson and Henry Fortin, who described opening sessions as representing "mild pandemonium."

Jeeps, weasels and snowmobiles provided background for the dog classes, with most of the troops preferring to handle the growling tracked vehicles instead of the growling huskies.

"A snowmobile may bounce around a bit," said one soldier, "but at least it doesn't snap back at you."

Abbott Refuses Request To Limit Import Restrictions To US Alone

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, Feb. 13 — (CP). — Finance Minister Abbott, ruffled by Opposition attacks on the Government's exchange conservation program, bluntly told the Commons yesterday that he could not accept requests that import restrictions be aimed directly at the United States rather than at the world as a whole. Amid heated charges that the Government was following a policy of "economic lunacy," Mr. Abbott intimated that the Americans might retaliate against an import restriction program aimed directly at them.

While he had received "no assurances" from the United States that retaliatory steps would be taken, he knew the American people would "greatly resent" discriminatory action aimed at them.

The short-tempered argument came while the House continued clause-by-clause study of the bill giving statutory effect to the import restrictions announced Nov. 17 as a means of conserving US dollar supplies.

Under the bill, entitled the Emergency Exchange Conservation Act, certain imports are banned from all countries. Other goods are admitted on quotas based on imports during the year ended June 30. The bill provides there should be no discrimination against imports from any country.

No Discrimination

Mr. Abbott contended the restrictions do not discriminate against exporters of soft currency —sterling—countries.

Progressive Conservative and CCF members did not agree and F. E. Jaenicke (CCF—Kinderslel) moved an amendment that would make the restrictions applicable only against countries which demanded US dollars or gold in payment for goods.

No action was taken on the amendment before adjournment and it will stand over until study of the bill is resumed next week. Debate on the Throne Speech will be resumed today.

Mr. Abbott said he had no intention of seeking an extension of commercial rent controls beyond March 31.

Mr. Abbott said the policy of non-discrimination in the import restrictions conformed with the Geneva trade agreement.

Mr. Jaenicke, in moving his amendment, suggested that Canada found herself in exchange difficulties because "Uncle Sam does not measure to John Bull as a world banker." A world banker also had to be a world trader.

USA Trade Mark

Howard Green (PC-Vancouver South) charged the non-discriminatory feature of the Bill was incorporated to "satisfy" the United States. He suggested that the Bill should bear the trade mark "Made in USA."

As he made the statement, Liberals hurled back at Progressive benches "no truck or trade with the Yankees." The expression was the slogan of the Conservative Party in 1911 when it defeated the Liberals on the question of reciprocity trade agreements with th United States.

Mr. Green said the Americans had always been friends of Canada and they would understand if restrictions were imposed against them temporarily. Canada had a shortage of American dollars and it was only by discrimination against the US that the situation could be corrected.

Mr. Abbott said the United States had been very good neighbors. Export permits had never been enforced against Canada, although they had been against other countries. It was important to Canada that such conditions prevail.

Heart Attack Fatal To Motorist

Car Plows Into Ditch Strikes Snowbank Wife Is Uninjured

Stricken with a heart attack as he drove south on Highway 26, at noon today, Frank P. Pritchard, 46, of RR 1, Bartonville, died almost instantly. The car swerved to the right and plunged into a snow-filled ditch, coming to a stop without damage. Mrs. Pritchard, wife of the driver, was beside her husband in the front seat of the car, and did not suffer any injury.

The Pritchards were en route from Quebec to Hamilton, and the car left the highway near Kendry level crossing, a mile south of Springville. At first it was thought there had been a car-train smash-up, but this rumor was exploded when reporters visited the scene.

Provincial Constable Joe Hanson investigated and when he discovered the driver was dead, did not move the body until he had obtained authority from the coroner. In the meantime, Mrs. Pritchard came to Peterborough in a passing car to make the funeral arrangements. The heart attack occurred shortly after one o'clock, and the body was removed at two this afternoon.

Walls Fall As 14 Others Escape Blaze

Dense Smoke Wakes Sleeping Residents, Jump Into Snowbank

UTICA, N.Y., Feb. 13 (AP). — Eleven members of one family perished today in a flash fire that swept a two-storey frame dwelling in Utica's west side.

Eight bodies were recovered by firemen from the smoking ruins. Six were children. One was a woman, clasping an infant.

Victims included Mrs. Ruth Hoage and nine children ranging in age from five months to 19 years. Mrs. Hoage was the second wife of Richard Hoage, 48.

Fourteen scantily-clad persons fled from the building, fire chief Leo Barry said. Dana Paye, sr., his wife and 19-year-old daughter were sent to hospital with burns after jumping from a second floor window.

The walls of the long, ramshackle building, near the New York Central Railroad tracks, collapsed before most of the second floor occupants who had been asleep could get out.

The ruins blazed fiercely for only a short time, but the intense heat delayed the firemen's search for bodies.

Casualties

The list of dead included Mrs. Ruth Hoage, 24, and Mrs. Shirley Hoage, 29, and these children:

Virginia, 19; Dana, 3; Mark, eight months; Catherine, two; Geraldine, 10; Audrey, five, Charity, seven; Michael, 11 months, and Lee, five months. Mrs. Shirley Hoage was the wife of an older son of Richard Hoage.

Mary Hoage, 13, who jumped from a second storey porch into a snow bank, said other members of her family were huddled in one room waiting for rescue when the building collapsed. Her father, Richard, was at work in a garage.

The eleven persons who reached safety without apparent injury stood weeping at the ruins while firemen searched.

Don't Know Cause

Cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

Mary Hoage gave this account: "I was sleeping with my sister-in-law, Mrs. Shirley Hoage. There were 10 or 11 persons up-

Attack And Rob Mailman Near Chatham

CHATHAM, Feb. 13—(CP)—Provincial police today spread a dragnet over this part of Southwestern Ontario in an effort to capture two armed men who attacked and robbed Holman Long, a Thamesville mailman, and looted at least nine mail bags.

Post office officials were unable to estimate the loss.

The last of the nine damaged mail bags was found near the Magnia Villa school, four miles from Thamesville.

Long was heading for the village post office with the mail when he was accosted by two men, who grabbed and dragged him into the post office building. He told officers that the pair tied him up then threw a number of empty mail bags over him.

Outside the bandits then took the mail from the truck and transferred it to another vehicle. The bags were looted as the car or truck was driven east.

Import Costs Raise Wool Price

By ROSS MUNRO

OTTAWA, Feb. 13 (CP)—The increased prices of woollen suits and other woollen clothing since last April was "very largely" a reflection of the increased cost of imported cloth, the Commons Price Committee was told today by Kenneth Taylor, chairman of the Prices Board.

"I don't think there has been any holding back of cloth supplies," continued Mr. Taylor.

"The rise was principally a reflection of the rise in the cost of cloth imports."

Mr. Taylor, witness before the committee inquiring into inflated prices, said Canada imports close to 60 per cent of its wool, principally from the United Kingdom, and that there has been a substantial increase in British selling prices.

However, he added that as things now stand "I see no reason to anticipate any further substantial increase in wool prices over the next six months."

Mr. Taylor said the jump in woollen clothing prices since the controls were lifted last April—shown in the whole price index for wool cloth as from 130.0 points in April to 158.8 points last month —was also caused by an increase in Canadian cost of production.

The cost of production increased because subsidies were also removed on woollen yarn and tops.

Corn Warehouse Burns Say Loss $200,000

BLENHEIM, Feb. 13. (CP)—Fire of undetermined origin swept through the corn drier and warehouse of the Warwick Seed Corn Company this morning and destroyed building and contents with an estimated loss of $200,000.

E. C. Warwick, president of the firm, said the fire started in the east end of the building where the drier was located but it had not been in operation for six weeks. A second drier was salvaged but nearly 500 tons of unshelled corn and equipment were a total loss.

Office buildings and nearby lumber piles were not damaged.

Gunmen Snatch Laundry Payroll

HAMILTON, Feb. 13—(CP)—While 30 employees sat in a workroom separated from the front office by a window, two gunmen held up the manager and two assistants of a laundry here late this morning this morning, and escaped with a $725 pay-roll.

They made their escape in a waiting car signalled from its position a half-block away by a third gunman standing guard at the front door of the laundry.

Two men, one wearing a cloth in lieu of a mask over his head, the other with his coat collar turned up to cover his face, entered the office as W. A. Behrle, manager and Mrs. Phyllis Jenkins, book-keeper, were sitting at a desk making up the pay-roll.

"This is a stick-up and I'm not kidding," snapped one of the two gunmen. The second bandit scooped up the money and pay envelopes from the desk.

The get-away was made so quickly that one of the thugs did not get into the car in time, and was forced to hang to the side of the vehicle.

Lift Sentence In Liquor Theft

KITCHENER, Feb. 13 —(CP)— "This case has had a terrific lot of publicity but for all it amounts to, the term of theft rather glorifies the action," Magistrate H. R. Polson observed today as he suspended sentence on Eldon S. Weber, former employee of the Welland branch of the Ontario Liquor Control Board, charged with theft of a part bottle of whisky.

Defence counsel Kenneth Sims argued for a dismissal, contending no evidence had been presented to connect his client with a bottle of whisky tested in Toronto and found to have been watered.

Mr. Sims asserted the only testimony was a statement by another employee that a bottle of the same brand had been placed on a shelf by Weber several days before the offence was alleged to have occurred.

Magistrate Polson said he felt that the evidence of two store employees indicated the connection and registered a conviction.

Toronto Man, Family Rout Two Gunmen

TORONTO, Feb. 13 — (CP). — Philip Feder, brother of Manny Feder the late "King of Toronto bookies,"—said last night that two unmasked men forced their way into his north suburban Forest Hill Village home in an attempted holdup and that he routed them with the help of his three young children.

He said he chased the men into the street and one of them shot at him from a "flat .32-calibre" pistol. They disappeared in a laneway.

Feder, his wife and the three children were just sitting down to dinner when the doorbell rang. Feder answered it, to be confronted by two men, one of whom said:

"This is a holdup, get upstairs."

The children, hearing the commotion in the hallway, came to the aid of their father. Their blows and screams, as Feder scuffled with the intruders, frightened the men. One of the men struck Feder a glancing blow in the scalp with the butt of the pistol and then sprinted for the street.

Establish Link Between LPP Italian 'Reds'

MONTREAL, Feb. 13. (CP) — Police have uncovered what they described today as an "international link" between Palmiro Togliatti's Italian Communist Party and the Labor Progressive party in Canada following seizure of several hundred lottery tickets in favor of Italy's Communist party.

The seizures were made late last night when police anti-subversive squads raided the homes of 10 alleged members of the LPP.

Printed in Rome, the subscriptions tickets were marked "for the construction, for the consolidation of the republic" and also bore the crest of the Communist party. The hammer and sickle red flag with the letters PCI (Partito Communiste Italiano) appeared on the tickets with the green, white and red Italian flag.

The smuggled lottery tickets which offered a 30-day expense paid trip to Moscow as first prize were seized along with correspondence between local members of the LPP and the Communist party with headquarters in Italy. Police said they were also in possession of important documents dating back to the Spanish civil war.

The tickets bore the issue date "May Day 1947" and were signed by Paolo Togliatti, general secretary of the Italian Communist party.

Police said the tickets were smuggled into Canada last month.

Pole Gets Money Back

KITCHENER, Feb. 13—(CP).—Polish immigrant Michael Waslanaka has had one bit of luck and now he's hoping for another.

Recently restored to him was $1,300 in bonds, his life savings that had been stolen. Parents of the youth responsible made full restitution.

Now he is making plans to bring his family to Canada after a separation of 20 years.

He left his wife in Poland in 1928 to settle in the Dominion. A few months after his departure a son was born to the Waslanakas—a son the father has never seen.

The question of the boy's leaving Poland is what has made the travelling problem difficult as Polish law virtually forbids emigration from the country of young people over six and up to 30 or more.

British Troops Barred As Four Jews Found Dead

JERUSALEM, Feb. 13 (AP).—The Jewish quarter of Rehavia and the business sector of Zion Square in Jerusalem were placed out of bounds to British troops today. There was mounting tension over police reports of the deaths last night of four Jews.

Police said they found the Jews' bodies near Stephens Gate in the old city shortly after the four were reported picked up by British troops at a presumed Jewish gun post. British authorities said they released the Jews after brief questioning.

The circumstances of their deaths have not been disclosed.

Police said five Arabs were killed and 12 wounded last night when Hagana, the Jewish militia, made a heavy bomb attack on the Arab village of Aby Kebir. Hagana said its men made a similar sortie against the Arab village of Yazur.

Three Hagana men were reported killed and 20 wounded when the parties ran into strong Arab opposition.

Seven heavy explosions were heard in Jerusalem between midnight and dawn today. Arabs and Jews alike were blowing up stone houses in two virutally deserted districts of southern Jerusalem, but no casualties were reported.

A Jewish agency spokesman said the agency had suggested the out-of-bounds order for British troops to avoid possible trouble.

The agency said that in taking the Jews into an Arab area, then turning them loose, the British were "accessories before the fact to murder."

Highways Dangerous Motorists Warned

TORONTO, Feb. 13.—(CP).—The Ontario Department of Highways today issued a general warning to motorists not to drive in southern Ontario because freezing rain and sleet have created "bad" driving conditions.

A coating of icy sleet covers all highways between Windsor and Oakville and freezing rain is moving steadily eastward. Conditions were reported getting worse in the Chatham and London areas as all available sanders moved into action.

At Chatham, inter-urban buses were ordered of the roads.

A "bad day" is expected by the Highways Department as the Dominion weather forecast offers no signs of relief. A weather disturbance in the Central United States has changed course to a more northeriy direction and an extensive area of snow, rain and freezing rain is spreading over the Lake Erie region and moving east. Another cold wave is moving into the prairies today and is expected to overrun all of Ontario by Saturday night.

10,000 Ex-Soldiers Volunteer With Arabs

LONDON, Feb. 13. (AP) — The Palestine Arab political mission in Britain said today 10,000 ex-service men from Britain, the United States, Canada and elsewhere have volunteered to fight Jews in Palestine.

Their applications go to the Arab League, "which alone can decide whether or not to form an international brigade for the forthcoming struggle to free Palestine," said a statement by Izzedeen Shawa Bey, head of the mission.

HOW TO GET NEW HIGH SCHOOL —Students disrupt street car traffic during demonstrations in Havana recently in sympathy with fellow students at Guantanamo, Cuba, for a new institute (high school) building. Police used tear gas against rioting students who seized and wrecked the Havana Institute. Hundreds of demonstrators were arrested.

Burglars Get $25,000 From Safe At Mine

MONTREAL, Feb. 13. (CP) — Provincial Police officers left today for the Argenteuil county town of Calumet to investigate the theft of $25,000 from Canadian Refractory Company.

Officials said the money was taken after burglars cracked a safe in the company office at the Kilmor mine, 12 miles from Calumet. The safe-cracking occurred early this morning.

Renew Food Parley With Britain

Find Canadians Using Less Meat; Could Export More

OTTAWA, Feb. 13 — (CP). — A sharp reduction in Canadian consumption of beef and pork has led to a re-opening of the Dominion's meat contracts with the United Kingdom and meat-hungry Britons may soon see greater stocks coming from this country if financial arrangements can be worked out.

January figures placed in the hands of Agriculture Minister Gardiner this week showed Canadian housewives had cut their purchases of beef and pork sharply. Officials were not prepared to say what part of the reduction was due to consumer reaction to higher prices and what part might be due to stock-piling by far-seeing persons.

Nevertheless, the reduced buying, coupled with an unexpected increase in the marketing of both hogs and cattle across Canada, has resulted in a surplus.

The present bacon-beef contracts with Britain envisage Canada sending Britain 45,000,000 pounds of bacon and 8,000 pounds of beef in the first quarter of this year. But at the present rate the packers are turning over meat to the board which handles the shipments, these figures could be greatly exceeded.

New Talks.

Because of this, negotiations now are under way with the British Food Ministry to see what can be done about it. Britain wants the extra meat, but the problem is how to pay for it.

However, Mr. Gardiner said today he did not think the situation would cause any unsurmountable difficulty. It would perhaps require an additional $5,000,000 to pay for the increased shipments. The United Kingdom could possibly provide that or Canada could allow her to increase her deductions from the Canadian loan by that amount.

Finance Minister Abbott announced recently that Britain had undertaken to pay in United States dollars for all her adverse trade balance in the first three months of this year in excess of the $45,000,000 which she could draw from the Canadian loan. This covered the entire range of purchases, including wheat, base metals and lumber, in addition to foods.

It is understood that Britain planned to spend $30,000,000 in Canada in the quarter for meats, eggs and cheese, using a small portion from her credits and paying for the remainder in goods exported to Canada in United States dollars. This amount would be increased if Britain takes all the bacon and beef Canada can ship.

It is possible that shipments of eggs in powder form, which may be easily stored, may be held back, and the extra meat shipped instead.

Design Own Plane

TORONTO, Feb. 13—(CP). —The Ontario Department of Lands and Forests is designing its own helicopter for fire-fighting service in Northern Ontario woodlands, Lands Minister H. R. Scott said in an address in suburban Weston last night.

OFFICIALS TO VISIT

Ontario Provincial Police Commissioner William Stringer, Toronto, with senior members of headquarters staff, are scheduled to visit the new headquarters of the Peterborough area. They will inspect the premises of the former Medd home at the corner of Charlotte and Park, where the local force is this week making moving arrangements.

HOUSING MEETING

Ald. Gordon Armstrong, chairman of the special housing committee, will be the main speaker at a special meeting of Branch 52 Canadian Legion to be held in the Legion Hall Sunday, Feb. 15 at 2.30 p.m. Main business will be a report of the committee set up within the Legion on the housing problem and the probabilities of more houses to be erected to ease the present acute condition.

POLICEMAN PROMOTED

Provincial Constable Ralph Taylor of Lindsay detachment has been promoted to the rank of Corporal. Cpl. Taylor joined the Provincials in 1937 and was first stationed at Widdowdale. Then he was posted to Napanee, then to his present location, Lindsay. Previous to enlistment with the Ontario force he was chief constable at Aylmer West.

BONSPIEL AT KEENE

Sixteen rinks comprising curlers from Peterborough and Keene are engaged in a bonspiel on the open-air rink at Keene village Thursday and today. The competition is expected to wind up about ten o'clock tonight. Keene was the cradle of curling in this district, the first game being played there more than a century ago, and village enthusiasts are hoping to raise sufficient funds to replace the closed rink the village had some years back.

ASSIST WOMAN LOCKED OUT

Firemen went to 215 Hunter St. on Thursday to assist Mrs. J. McNutt who was locked out of her residence late in the afternoon. They made another call half way through the evening when overheated pipes were reported at the home of Fred G. Johnston, 213 Wescott St. A car belonging to Gerald Schweir, 16 Wallace St. was reported on fire early Friday morning, but the blaze was out when the fire department arrived. Little damage.

ELUSIVE WOLVES

Plenty of first hand evidence is to hand proving that a sizeable number of wolves have been seen recently. The Examiner has printed several of these tales. But it is evidently one thing to see them and still another to get a shot at the wary creatures. Mrs. Jennie Spurway, County Clerk and Treasurer, says that no bounty on wolves has been paid out in nearly two months.

MICROWAVES

Peterborough Branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada has sponsored the visit of H. A. Blachford, Bell Telephone of Canada, when he will give an interesting demonstration of very short radio waves, by transmitting speech and music on a microwave beam. His lecture and demonstrations will be held in the Public Library Auditorium, Thursday, February 19 at 8 p.m. Anyone wishing to attend the courtesy dinner with the speaker at the McGillis Hotel at 6.30 should contact J. P. Watts, Wire and Cable Engineer, CGE.

INVESIGATE DEER

Charlie Kingan and Chris Graham are going to the Apsley district on Tuesday to see how the deer are faring now that most of the winter has elapsed. A shelter and feed, mostly hay, has been provided on the farm of William Church, near Mount Julian as an aid to the animals. Last year Church found about 50 deer dead on his property that had died of starvation due to the heavy snow, particularly the crust. Anybody who has some surplus hay they are willing to donate is assured that it can be put to good use by preserving hungry deer. Mr. Kingan says that given the hay, he will see to the transportation.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Feb. 13 — (CP). — Oats and barley prices declined in initial trades today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange on fair selling attributed to American accounts. Shipper and commission house buying came into both grains around 10 a.m. and the market recovered part of the losses in nervous and irregular dealings with flurries of dullness.

Rye futures prices declined on commission house selling. There was evidence of some buying, believed to be from export accounts, in the nearby month, while October rye continued to show resistance to the downward trend.

Prices:

Oats—May ⅞ lower at 73; July ⅝ lower at 69⅞; Oct. ¾ lower at 66½.

Barley: May 1½ lower at $1.06½; July 1⅜ lower at $1.03; Oct. not open.

Rye: May 10 lower at $3.76¾; July 10 lower at $3.24; Oct. 8½ lower at $2.12.

Home and School Association News

NORTH MONAGHAN GROVE

Mr. J. E. Girven, president of the local branch of the Health League of Canada, was speaker at the meeting of North Monaghan Grove Home and School Association. He gave a brief resume of the work and explained that an intensive drive was launched for good health during this one week, in the hope it would be carried on voluntarily for the remaining fifty-one weeks. He spoke strongly on immunization and pasteurization, and said that since 1914 when enforced pasteurization was introduced in Toronto, there had been no cases of bovine TB in the Hospital for Sick Children in that city.

Mrs. J. Coit, president, was in charge of the business meeting. She announced that Mrs. Eric McKinstry had been appointed nomination convener for the coming election. The spring tea will be held in March, and Mrs. W. W. Sheppard, Mrs. H. McMahon and Mrs. H. Doig were appointed conveners There is to be a skating party for the school children on Saturday afternoon, and Mrs. W. W. Sheppard, Mrs. W. Wood and Mrs. Bowler are in charge.

Next meeting will be fathers' night, and will be held Tuesday, March 9.

Mrs. E. McKinstry, corresponding secretary, read two letters, from families in England who had received parcels sent by the association during November.

A short playlet, entitled "Silver Lining," was presented by three pupils from Mr. Bird's room, Marie Bowler, Eleanor Davies and Douglas Linsey. Douglas Linsey also gave two piano selections.

Mrs. Chambers, district organizer of the Home and School Association, introduced by Mrs. E. McKinstry, gave a short report on the course in leadership training in parent education.

In memory of Mrs. Courtice, founder of the Home and School Association, Mrs. H. Doig sang "My Task," accompanied by Mrs. E. McKinstry.

Mrs. Bowler moved a vote of thanks to all taking part in the program.

Mrs. W. W. Sheppard and her committee served lunch.

MayKeepWages Down By Force

LONDON, Feb. 13—(AP)—Britain's top economic planner said last night the Labor government may have to use force to keep down wages and profits.

Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the Exchequer and minister of economic affairs, speaking in the Commons, urged Britons again to accept voluntary controls.

The French government also moved against price boosts. It sent the National Assembly in Paris a bill to outlaw all price increases since Jan. 15 not justified by production costs. A lawbreaker could be jailed for a year and put out of business.

British union members some 5,000,000 strong have been insisting upon higher pay despite Prime Minister Attlee's hold - the-line plea in last week's government white paper.

Sir Stafford reiterated the appeal for voluntary measures to stem wage and profit rises. Then he asked the House:

"Can we take them in a democratic way by free choice, or are we to demand the imposition of them by force?

"Unless we exercise restraint, the sheer facts of the case will demand compulsion, which this government is anxious to avoid."

Sir Stafford asked that wage negotiations either be postponed or "conducted in the light of the principles laid down in the white paper"—that is, no boosts.

Industrials, Golds Add Modest Gains

TORONTO, Feb. 13 — (CP) — Firmer price trends maintained in quiet trading on the Stock Exchange today as leading industrials and golds added modest gains, although base metals were mildly easier. Trading was featureless and the price range narrow.

Volume for the first three hours was 301,000 shares, about 32,000 less than yesterday's similar period.

Industrials moved slowly on fractional gains scattered through the lists. Ahead were Algoma Steel, Bell, Bank of Commerce, Canadian Car, Distillers, Dominion Steel, Walkers, Montreal Locomotive, Moore, National Grocers Pfd., Winnipeg Electric, Simpsons, Powell River, International Paper, Donnacona, Consolidated Paper.

Ahead among the golds were Bralorne, Campbell, Cochenour Dexter, Eldona, Hollinger, Kerr Addison, Kirkland Lake, Macassa, Malartic, McIntyre, McKenzie, Pickle Crow. Base metal gainers were Eureka, Quemont while losers were East Sullivan, Golden Manitou, Macdonald, Noranda, Normetal, Steep Rock.

The Weather

°—Below zero.

The weather is clear and mild over most of Ontario. Skies have become overcast over southwestern Ontario announcing the advance of a precipitation area associated with an intensifying storm over the central United States. This disturbance appeared to be moving eastward when in the vicinity of the Gulf of Mexico and was not expected to affect Ontario. With a change to a more northerly course an extensive area of snow, rain, and freezing rain has spread northward to the Lake Erie region. Another cold wave is moving into the prairies today and is expected to overrun all of Ontario by Saturday night.

Forecasts:

Lake Erie, Lake Huron, Niagara and Lake Ontario regions — Freezing rain today changing to rain mixed with snow this evening. Saturday cloudy with occasional light snow. Little change in temperature turning colder Saturday evening.

Summary for Saturday: Occasional snow.

Georgian Bay and Haliburton regions — Overcast and milder today. Snow and freezing rain beginning this afternoon ending tonight. Saturday cloudy with snowflurries Colder Saturday evening.

Summary for Saturday: Snowflurries, becoming colder.

Mrs. Bill Inch Goes To Calgary

BUCKHORN, Feb. 13.—(ENS).—A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Shearer, Buckhorn, on Tuesday, Feb. 3, when about thirty members of the community gathered to present their daughter, Mrs. Bill Inch, with a beautiful leather purse and a sum of money before leaving for her new home in Calgary, Alberta.

Mrs. Bruce Hall read the address and the presentation was made by Mr. Charles Quick. Mrs. Inch, although taken by surprise, thanked her friends and neighbors for their lovely gift, after which everyone joined in singing "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow."

The remainder of the evening was spent in music and games, followed by a very sumptuous lunch served by the ladies of the community.

Doesn't Want Trucks Loaded Near Tanks

TORONTO, Feb. 13—(CP). — Deputy Chief Albert Steen, testifying today in the Ontario Fire Marshal's investigation of Wednesday's $500,000 fire at the British American Oil Company depot here, said it would be better if oil trucks were loaded farther away from the warehouse building where the fire started.

"The fire started from a truck being loaded but I have been unable to find the cause," he said.

"Shirley woke up and started coughing. The room was filled with smoke. She grabbed the baby, Michaie Allen, and ran to the front room to wake up my mother, Mrs. Ruth Hoage.

"My mother woke up my sister, Virginia, and she got her baby, Lee.

"They all stayed in the front room and yelled for help.

"I went on the porch and tried to get my sisters, but could not find them. I jumped off the porch into a snowbank in my night clothes.

"I told the others I would catch the babies if they would drop them to me, but they said the they waited. That was the last I firemen would help them and saw of them."

Doesn't Like Policy

BOSTON, Feb. 13 — (AP). — Gov. Thomas Dewey of New York, one of the candidates for the Republican nomination for president, declared last night that the foreign policies of the Truman administration "should be thrown overboard — lock, stock and barrel."

Appoint Franks Envoy To U.S.

LONDON, Feb. 13 — (AP). — Sir Oliver Franks has been appointed British Ambassador to the United States. He succeeds Baron Inverchapel, who has retired from the foreign service, the Foreign Office announced last night.

Sir Oliver, 42-year-old Provost of Queen's College, Oxford, is regarded as an unusual example of a professional intellectual transformed into a successful civil servant and now into the incumbent of Britain's leading diplomatic post.

In July, 1947, Sir Oliver accepted the position of chief British delegates to the Paris Conference on the Marshall plan and became chairman of the Co-operation Committee of the European Economic Conference.

His chairmanship was held to be largely responsible for the speed and unanimity with which the 16-power paln for Europe's recovery was drawn up.

Later he led the British delegation to the European recovery talks in Washington. There he worked closely with members of the Harriman Committee on Foreign Aid.

Report Prices Irregular On Markets

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—(AP). —Prices were irregular in the commodity and security markets today after a one-day "breather" in observance of Lincoln's birthday.

A violent downslide hit the butter market where wholesale butter slammed down 5 to 6½ cents a pound on the New York mercantile exchange.

Grains showed widely divergent tendencies. Corn swung down as much as the full limit at the start, but wheat and oat deliveries were steady to slightly higher. Corn prices subsequently came back from the lows.

Cotton fell almost $4 a bale at New York. Shortdy after the opening, however, mills began buying and there was a rebound that brought the price about $2 above the lows at the start. At New Orleans, cotton was $1.25 to $2.60 a bale lower.

Stocks were irregular and activity was moderate Prices changes were small.

At Chicago, sellers were holding hogs at about yesterday's prices of $23.75 to $24.25 a hundred pounds. The best bid shortly after the opening was $23.50.

The question in economic and political circles was whether the problem was inflation or deflation.

Man Fleeing Police Felled By Shots

MONTREAL, Feb. 13.—(CP).— William Campbell, 27, was held under guard in hospital today after he was brought down by shots fired by police who suspected him of attempting to steal a car.

Police said they noticed two men "acting suspiciously" near a parked car on a downtown street last night. As they approached the car the two men fled with the police firing warning shots.

Constable Wildenis Lafond said when they failed to heed the warning he brought Campbell down with two shots. Campbell's companion was caught later and arrested but his identity was withheld.

TO LIMIT CABS

A resolution of the Police Commission Thursday provided that the number of taxi-cabs granted licenses in Peterborough will be limited to 60. It was pointed out that the increasing number of applications tended to make returns to established drivers inadequate, and may result in an application from the owners for a further increase in rates.

OPEN ROYAL BANK BRANCH IN CAMPBELLFORD

If the opening of a bank in the community indicates a healthy volume of business, and prosperity among local farmers, then residents in the Campbellford area may relax for a moment with a contented smile. A branch of the Royal Bank of Canada is scheduled to open there this summer.

The property is own by F. C. Macoun and was formerly occupied by the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Alterations on the leased building will begin about June 1, and it is hoped to open the branch as soon as possible afterwards.

A previous branch of the Royal Bank was doing business there until the middle 'thirties.

WA Makes Donations To Several Funds

ROSENEATH, Feb. 13.—(ENS). —A full attendance of members and several visitors were present at the WA meeting of St. James' Anglican church held in Mrs. Earl Braithwaite's home on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. C. R. Spencer presided, and the devotions conducted by Canon Spencer were appropriate to Ash Wednesday.

A letter of thanks for a donation to the Canon Turner widow fund was received from Arctic Diocese Church House, Toronto.

Mrs. James S. Brown, treasurer, reported $226.61 bank balance, and receipts at the meeting were $3, members' fees.

It was decided on motion to give $25 towards the insulation of the rectory, and the Little Helpers' department donated $3 to "Save the Children Fund" (European). Mrs. W. Robins, ECD secretary, reported $2.20 in the treasury.

Custom work on hand includes quilting four quilts. Several pairs of pillow cases were brought in and donated towards the summer bazaar.

A portion of the study, "One Family," prepared by Mrs. James Webb, was presented by Mrs. Edgar Braithwaite. Mrs. Ray McCracken will present the study at the March meeting in Mrs. Edgar Braithwaite's home. Mrs. Earl Braithwaite, vice-president, was appointed to act for the president at the Day of Prayer service.

Visiting Week Plan Lauded

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 13 —(ENS).—A report from the visiting committees of the St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid showed 92 calls made among the congregation since the last meeting. This idea for an annual visiting week, for which a visiting committee was appointed for each of the four wards, was adopted at the January meeting and its success was proven by the report given at the Ladies' Aid meeting Thursday in the St. Andrew's Church parlors.

Mrs. P. H. MacMillan opened the meeting with a Scripture reading and prayer. The secretary's report was given by Mrs. H. Haskin and the treasurer's report was read by Mrs. E. Carlaw. Business was discussed and lunch was served by Mrs. E. Wynn, Mrs. E. Carlaw and Mrs. H. Haskin.

No Black Cats

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 13 — (AP).—The Anti-Superstition Society will observe Friday the 13th as usual today, but there will be no black cats. The society has had bad luck with black cats at previous meetings. Once a black cat escaped from the 13 members and was never found again. Another time, the society forgot to return a borrowed black cat. Last time they met they couldn't find a black cat and had to dye one—and the imposture was discovered. So—no black cats—they're bad luck!

East Germany To Have Special Economy

BERLIN, Feb. 13 — (AP). — Germans in the Soviet-occupied eastern zone today were instructed by the Russian commander to set up an economic commission for their part of the country.

Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky issued the order. Another Soviet spokesman said it does not mean establishment of an east German government.

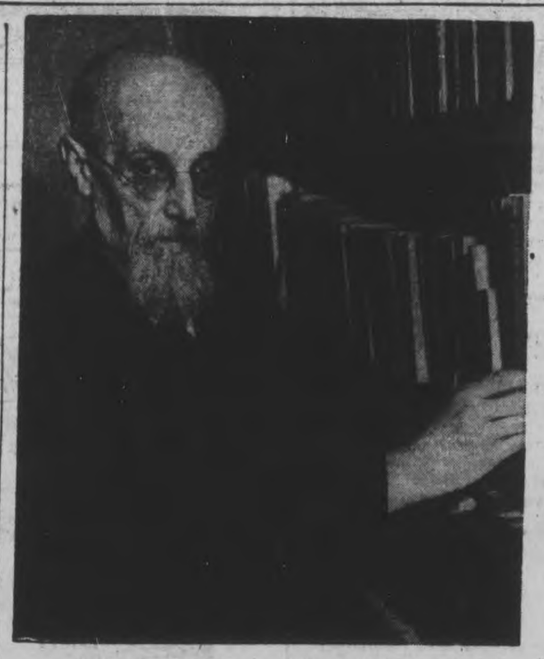
The Marshal had objected to a German economic administration for the United States and British zones in the west, now being formed, and demanded that the plan be dropped.

In ordering an economic setup for his own zone, he turned down once more a standing invitation to tie in the zone's economy with that of western Germany.

Sokolovsky granted the commission power "to issue orders and instructions binding on all German organizations in the Soviet zone of Germany in harmony with orders of the Soviet military administration."

The commission was empowered also to "examine questions of the re-establishment and development of peacetime industry in the Soviet zone of Germany as well as co-ordination of the activity of the central Germany administrative organs for individual branches of the economy."

The commission was ordered "to carry through according to plan reparations deliveries and to satisfy the needs of Soviet occupation forces in Germany."



The commission was told to set up an "executive committee" similar to that established for the economic council of the British and American zones.

Health Report Shows Improvement

COBOURG, Feb. 13—(ENS).—The Northumberland and Durham Counties Health Unit report for the week ending February 7, reveals a total of 34 cases of communicable disease. Mumps still leads the list with 15 cases, Cobourg having six, Port Hope five and Percy township, Colborne village, Hope township and South Monaghan township with one case each. Seymour township and Hope township each has two cases of chickenpox, and Brighton and Cartwright townships, one each. Two cases of red measles were reported, one in Brigton village and the other one in Haldimand township. Whooping cough totals nine cases, all in Darlington township. Darlington also has two cases of scarlet fever.

Hold Three For Theft

LINDSAY, Feb. 13.—Three local men are in custody charged with breaking into the Long Beach cottage of E. Aucher, Toronto. The accused, James Stone, Lawrence O'Keefe and Donald Hontoom, were arrested by Cons. Ray Lawson of the Ontario Provincial Police. Police charge that a stove was taken following entry through a window and a door. The stove was later returned. Const. Lawson said a large amount of stolen property had been recovered during the investigation.

Oozy, Sentimental Valentines Not Popular With All Canadians

By The Canadian Press

It seems that the Canadian valentine trend at this romantic time of the year varies according to where you hang your hat.

Manufacturers have produced three distinct types of cards. A Canadian Press survey shows each centre favors one or two of these types.

The first displays an extravagance of sincerity oozing with "you," "coo" and "blue." The last, motivated by personality quirks, can be "downright insulting."

New Brunswick valentine-senders seem to prefer the sentimental type done up with shiny satin, while Halifax is going all out for humorous cards with mail men anticipating as big a rush as the hopeful recipients.

The sale isn't limited to youth. One 80-year-old Halifax man recently purchased $2.40 worth of five-centers.

In Montreal both young and old are seen lining the valentine counters but the gals are in majority with their eye on leap-year prospects.

Tastes in Ontario seem to run from the sugary to the risque. The sentimental cards are of modest nature—most hopeful than happy. Post Office officials in Windsor predict more than double the regular mail volume this week.

Oshawa Council Asks For 56 Rental Houses

OSHAWA, Feb. 13.—City council Wednesday night decided to ask Central Housing and Mortgage Corp. for an agreement for the erection of 56 low rental houses on city owned lots. The city had previously offered 100 lots, but the company rejected 44 sites. Council decided to keep open negotiations for use of the 44 rejected home sites.

A communication from the CNR informed council that the perennial question of removing the railroad siding on King St., the main thoroughfare, is "under consideration."

A request from Oshawa Labor Council for swimming facilities on the lakefront was tabled, but another asking that traffic signs be placed in the Ritson St. school area was passed to the board of education.

Seek Missing Man

TORONTO, Feb. 13—(CP). — Police have been asked to assist in a search for Albert Cormier, 40, of Timmins, who left hospital here Feb. 1 and has not returned for treatment. Hospital authorities said Cormier was "despondent and highly nervous."

Dutch Farmers Expected In Cobourg Area

COBOURG, Feb. 13 (ENS). — Northumberland County farmers will have an opportunity to get farm immigrants from the Netherlands, it is announced by Ralph Banbury, county agricultural representative, Brighton. Mr. Banbury reports that John Vellinga, in charge of immigration of Netherlanders, has contacted the Brighton agricultural office to advise that any reasonable request can be filled. Ten thousand are ready to come, made up of 2,500 families and the first group leaves Holland on March 10. It is desirable that they be placed in groups of three. The men are all experienced in some phase of farming in their home land and their general ability has been investigated.

Quite a number, Mr. Banbury points out, have been placed in the Trenton area and with general satisfaction to all concerned. The farmer must supply suitable living conditions; give year-around employment; pay prevailing wages, at a minimum of $75 a month. Few single men are available but quite a number of married men have grown children who would like employment in the community near home. The language difficulty is said to be less than expected as the Dutch usually have had some English in school and frequently can read better than they can talk, not having been among English speaking people. In many large farm houses an apartment could be made for the farm help and as they are essentially farmers there is not much likelihood of them going to the first industrial job offered them.

"They come with the idea of owning land and eventually will be settling on farms in the area in which they are interested," stated Mr. Banbury. Mr. Banbury plans to prepare a list shortly, for those wishing men before April 1st and application should be made to the agricultural office in Brighton.

Refuses To Discuss Charges Re School

COBOURG, Feb. 13 (ENS). — Mrs. Margaret Pender, former superintendent of the Ontario Training School for Girls, stopped off yesterday at Cobourg for a few hours on her way to Guelph —she has been taking a holiday in Haliburton, and said she was feeling much better. Mrs. Pender was willing to discuss her plans for the future, but was emphatic in her refusal to discuss Mrs. Barrington and her allegations concerning the school.

"The Board has given its findings and the public has read them. As for Mrs. Barrington and what she said, I have no comment whatever to make," Mrs. Pender declared.

She went on to state that she wished to finish the one and a half years remaining on her Arts course at Western University in London. She had planned to resign and start in again at Western after Christmas, but due to illnes was unable to do so. It is her intention to take a summer course this year at Western and to resume her regular course in the next term. After that, Mrs. Pender plans to go to Columbia University and take psychology and social welfare work.

"After that I am not sure. I think I'd like to do clinic work along those lines," Mrs. Pender said.

From Annual Meeting Addresses, 10 February, 1948

Probably our greatest immediate problem is that of inflation. Until this is solved, neither Canadian business nor Canadian citizens can know any real stability or security. Yet the solution is becoming increasingly clear, though there continues to be a certain failure (or perhaps a certain refusal) to face and accept it. It is production, and production alone, that in the end will provide inflation with its sufficient answer. Only when the amount of goods is brought more nearly up to the demand will prices find their proper and reasonable level.

There is no other way. And there can be only anxiety over the continuing popular tendency to look to some method or plan, some control or regulation, which may adjust prices without increased production and without the greater effort that increased production requires. The reimposition of regulations or controls, so far from providing an effective solution to inflation, would more likely only delay or discourage the higher productivity which is so urgently needed. If we are ever to get out of our inflationary troubles, we shall have to work our way out. We cannot sit our way out. Our ultimate deliverance will not come about by "doing without" so much as by "doing more".

Some economists in this country, as in other lands, have recommended that inflation be counteracted by high taxes. Some indeed, even go so far as to suggest that taxes should be increased until inflation is mastered. Surely, this is a fundamentally mistaken approach. For high taxes, more perhaps than anything else, depress incentives; and if production is to be stimulated, the extra effort must receive the extra reward. To expect people to work harder, and to be practically penalized for doing so, is not to deal in the realities of human nature in a free society.

What I have said illustrates the need to tax in the most intelligent way, with a view to giving personal effort and thrift and the accompanying productiveness, every reasonable encouragement. The only way to increase national wealth or to control inflation is by increasing the industry of the citizens. The only true prosperity is in production, and the best encouragement of production is the rewards won by the citizens in freedom.

ROBERT P. JELLETT, President.

The principal business of the Company, that of administering estates and trusts, again shows marked expansion, and the rate at which new Wills are being filed with us has been accelerated by the wider services which we are providing to assist people in analysing their estates and in planning their Wills prior to having them drawn by their lawyers or notaries.

The duties of an Executor and Trustee continue to grow more complex and onerous with high taxation, heavy succession duties, numerous governmental returns, and low rates of interest on investments, but our basic charges or the fees allowed by the Courts for administrative work and responsibility have not been adjusted for many years. The cost of our services to clients is, therefore, relatively less than ever before, and we believe an appreciation of this, by the public, is manifest in the growth of our business.

The slight firming of interest rates which has been noticeable in recent months is a welcome development, and one which is of direct benefit to our clients. This change is overdue, and, as a matter of justice to investors, we hope that the pressure on interest rates will be eased somewhat further.

In every business and profession the tendency towards specialization is steadily increasing, and it is our constant aim to train and develop sufficient officers and staff to enable us to render service to our clients that is, first of all, personal and understanding, and, secondly, expert in each of the various fields of trust company work. The Executive Officers of the Company, the Managers, Assistant Managers and Secretaries of our Branch offices, our Department Heads and their experienced assistants are always available for consultation and are ready and willing to help clients in every way possible.

The size of our organization and the extent of our business enables us to give the greatest value in services rendered for the remuneration received. Our experience and record are assurance that the affairs of those who put their trust in us will be handled with a high degree of efficiency, and of course in strictest confidence at all times.

The Appeal For Children

On Tuesday we commended to our readers the Canadian Appeal for Children which has been launched across the country this week. The money which is asked—ten million dollars—will be used to provide food and clothing (much of it to be bought in Canada), schools, books, medical care and shelter for the hundreds of thousands of waifs in Europe and other hundreds of thousands of children whose harrassed, impoverished parents or relatives cannot feed, clothe or educate them. Of all the work of reconstruction and restitution in which U.N. and social agencies are engaged, the rescuing of the children from want, physical decay and moral collapse is the most important now and for the future. Lovingkindness for one's own children remains somehow incomplete without charitable mercy toward the children thrown up by the tumult of Europes' war. Canvassers are now collecting in Peterborough, but there is no need to wait for one to call—any bank will accept your donation.

The Parking Meter Hold-Up

We think that the parking meters installed on our streets have effectively solved many of our parking problems. But we should not let them become little metal gods. They are service equipment for the people, not masters of motorists, and the police and the magistrate's court should bear that in mind.

There have been cases in court recently when motorists have been fined out-of-hand. The police have said that the red flag in the meter was up, that the motorist was parked beside the meter, that therefore he was parking illegally. It didn't matter that the motorist had tried to deposit his coin in the meter but found the slot blocked or the mechanism not working. The unofficial police view is that the motorist should have moved his car to another parking space. If we are going to have parking meters it is up to the city to keep them in working order. It is not the motorist's job to worry about the mechanics of the thing. He has offered his coin—sometimes even put two or three in the slot. It is the mechanism of the meter which misbehaves, not the motorist. He should not be fined.

While we are on this subject we would like to say a word about those snowbanks which block roads and meters after a storm. If the motorist has to park half-way into the centre of the road, is he parked beside the meter? Should he have to pay his penny or nickel? If he is liable, then the police should be liable for clearing a footpath from the parked car to the meter. Tit-for-tat.

Opera On The Screen

A local movie house tried the experiment this week of bringing a film of an opera to Peterborough; the piece was Rossini's The Barber of Seville, filmed in Italy, with several excellent singers in the cast and the orchestra of the Rome Opera to supply the music. The film was not well attended, and we presume that the only advantage to the management of the Odeon was a gain in prestige.

Prestige does not show on balance sheets, however, and there will probably be no more such experiments unless Peterborough shows a livelier interest in moving pictures of this character. The Barber of Seville has great prestige, of course; it is one of the most popular operas in the modern repertoire and has held the stage since 1816; it would not have done so if it had been received elsewhere as it was in this city. The fault, we venture to say, lies not with the opera, but with our city. If a musical masterpiece, packed with catchy tunes, farcical situations and wonderful singing cannot attract us, what is wrong with us?

We do not think that it can be successfully maintained that opera on the screen is as satisfactory as opera on the stage; the screen is the home of realism, and opera is anything but realistic. But beggars cannot be choosers, and unless we are at fault in our local history it is fully thirty years since an opera company performed The Barber in this city.

Our contemporary the Brantford Expositor may possibly reply that as The Barber was sung in Italian it could not draw an audience in a Canadian city. We do not see the point of such argument. Surely Canadians are curious enough to wish to hear a foreign language sung for an hour or so, simply to find out what Italian sounds like? If we never hear any speech but Canadian English, never eat any food but Canadian food, and never look at any pictures but Canadian pictures, we narrow our experience foolishly. In the case of this film, an English translation was provided, as well as a commentary in English on the plot. We do not think that it is necessary for opera to go further. If The Expositor can provide us with a singable translation of one of the songs in the opera—for instance the trio which begins—

Zitti, zitti, piano, piano,
Non facciamo confusione—

we may change our opinion.

In the realm of music, Peterborough needs a powerful shot in the arm. At present it is suffering from musical anaemia.

Domestic Squabbles In Criminal Courts

In Whitby last Tuesday Judge D. B. Coleman was forced to have his court used as a rostrum for airing a petty domestic squabble. A man who had become separated from his wife accused the wife of stealing the furniture in their Whitby apartment. She had, it seems, openly removed the household furniture to the place which she had made her abode after leaving her husband. Through legal technicalities based on the theft charge the case was referred from a magistrate's court to the County Criminal Court.

We are not concerned here with the rights and wrongs of the dispute between a husband and wife. What is reprehensible is that the criminal code of this country was abused and the criminal court put in a contemptible position when the case was brought before it. There are civil courts in which battling couples can vent their spleen. The honour, dignity and function of the criminal courts should not be flouted by a desecrating array of dirty domestic linen. Judge Coleman was scathing in his condemnation of the use to which his court had been put. "As a result of this miserable trifling matter, the whole criminal law of this country has been set in motion. I want to castigate the whole procedure as strongly as I can". The judge would not make any order for restitution of the furniture and sentenced the woman to two minutes' imprisonment.

We hope that the judge's condemnation of the procedure and the kind of sentence he meted out will effectively deter any others who wish to play similar tricks with the criminal code of the land.

Hospitals Want It

Tht most recent appeal for the removal of the ban on margarine comes with special weight. The executive of the Canadian Hospital Council has passed a resolution asking the Federal Government to permit the sale of margarine without special tax or colour requirements that might adversely affect its use. If there are still some people who stubbornly insist that margarine is not an adequate nutritive substitute for butter, the Hospital Council's request should lead them to change their minds. Hospitals are interested in keeping costs down but they would not use cheap margarine if it were an inferior food lacking the necessary nutritive value, merely to cut costs.

The Hospital Council has asked that margarine be sold without restrictive taxes and colour regulations. In the United States margarine has to be sold uncoloured. The housewives must add the colouring material packaged with the margarine. This is a prize bit of inanity which the American dairy industry has foisted on the public. We hope that our legislators will not allow themselves to be bamboozled in the same way. It is monstrously funny that butter-makers insist that margarine be sold without artificial colouring when for nine months in the year they themselves add artificial colouring to the butter they make.

NOTE AND COMMENT

French Money

By PAUL SCOTT MOWRER

"WHAT do you think of France's new financial measures?" asked my American friend.

"Bold, brave, far reaching," I said, "and probably effective. Time will tell."

"Effective in what way?"

"France is keeping its promise under the Marshall Plan. It is putting its finances in order. It is making a real effort and real sacrifices."

"So you think the Marshall Plan inspired these measures?"

◇ ◇ ◇

"PARTLY, yes. Russia's revaluation of the ruble may also have had some influence. Technically, the French measures resemble Belgium's deflation two years ago and Italy's recent moves. They are a distinct break with a planned economy and return to the more classical conceptions based on centuries of experience."

"But you still haven't told me just what France expects to accomplish," said my friend.

"It hopes to stabilize prices, wages and currency," I said, "thus ending its perilous inflation."

"But isn't devaluation itself inflationary?"

"No. It's a return from fiction to reality. Anyway, all these new measures form a pattern. They must be taken together."

"I know of only three measures," said my friend, "the forced loan, then devaluation, then the calling in of 5,000-franc bank notes."

◇ ◇ ◇

"THERE is much more," I said. "The whole system of government subsidies creating the illusion of low prices is being ended. This naturally has caused many price increases. Wages in turn are being readjusted upward by as much as 25 per cent. At the same time, a genuine attempt to balance the budget is being made. The whole tax system is being reorganized and tightened.

"The swollen and expensive bureaucracy that grew up during and after the war is being gradually deflated. The restoration of free enterprise wherever possible is smashing the black markets, thus bringing commerce back into normal channels and so increasing tax returns. Along with this, credit is being restricted with the aim of forcing hoarded goods onto the market."

"With all that going on, why did the government make a forced loan?"

◇ ◇ ◇

"BECAUSE until confidence in the money has been restored, the French people won't buy bonds. The government needs money not only for current expenses but for the reconstruction of France's ruins which has been lagging. Also this loan will take some of the inflationary pressure off the prices."

"But won't devaluation increase prices?"

"Not much. Most French prices were already readjusted to the free market rate."

"But with this new devaluation, what's the sense of also setting up the free money market?"

"Because the government recognized the franc must be allowed to find its own level before final stabilization. Besides, the so-called free market is not really free. Capital may now enter France freely, but there are still restrictions on taking it out. Also, French citizens who bring back their undeclared foreign holdings must pay a 25 per cent. fine.

◇ ◇ ◇

"NEVERTHELESS, the free gold market makes France one of the few countries in the world with a really convertible currency, and for this reason it may attract foreign investors. Meanwhile, French exports, which had fallen to zero, will now pick up. And at the new franc rate, France bids fair to become once more the tourist's paradise. With foreign exchange from exports and tourists the government plans to import large quantities of consumers goods as an additional check on French prices."

"The thing that seems to upset people most," said my friend, "was that sudden calling in of 5,000-franc notes. Is it true that this was done to please the socialists?"

"Although their own ministers in the government had agreed to free money market, the Socialists balked at voting it, but threatening the whole new plan."

"Why did they balk?"

◇ ◇ ◇

"PARTLY because they felt it would be immoral to allow people to bring back their undeclared foreign holdings with a mere fine. Partly because as Socialists they just don't like free markets of any kind. The government was apparently holding the recall of big banknotes in reserve, but when it began to have difficulties with the Socialists, the government decided to act at once. This blow at so-called rich' hoarders apparently satisfied the Socialists. They voted for the money market and all."

"You don't mean the government intends simply to confiscate people's money?"

"Not at all. Small holders will gradually be reimbursed. Large holders will be persuaded to subscribe to the loan in conjunction with a re-examination of their tax returns. And once more the inflationary pressure on prices will have been lessened. In short, if the government can hold prices and wages until the Marshall Plan takes effect and new crops come in, that is, until June 1st, I believe the worst of France's financial troubles will be over."

Punishment

There is not the slightest doubt that, judiciously exercised, severity of punishment can act as a deterrent on criminals. A case in point is the reluctance of many criminals to carry guns because they know that the possession of weapons will add substantially to their punishment if caught. Moreover, the chief purpose of capital punishment is deterrent.

Theoretically, perhaps, the individual crime could be judged without reference to time, place or other circumstances. Practically, it must be considered in relation to current events. If there is an outbreak of a certain type of crime which particularly menaces the community, it seems reasonable to expect the courts to incline to more stringent penalties as a method of controlling the menace.—Winnipeg Tribune

The Vanishing Country Doctor

(MONTREAL STAR)

A SHORT time ago we commented in these columns on a statement of the Canadian Medical Association expressing alarm at the prospect of the admission to Canadian medical practice of a number of refugee doctors from Europe, and suggested that the country's medical needs were not being met by what the Association itself described as "over-population" by doctors in cities, while in very many rural areas the nearest doctor may be miles away when needed and often so overwhelmed with work as to be practically unavailable.

Now a trustee of the American Medical Association in Chicago has raised a related problem which he believes should be given consideration by doctors in that country; what he describes as the "alarming trend toward specialization" that could result in the majority of doctors in the United States being "unable to do family practice." With much frankness he adds:

"When the next depression comes, many of the specialists themselves would suffer loss of income and possibly be forced into general practice without preparation. Patients are already complaining that they cannot find doctors who will come to their homes when necessary. Unless the demand of the public for family doctors is met, the politicians who promise free medical care will find ready followers."

In so far as the trend toward specialization in the United States noted by the speaker applies to Canada, the same possibilities must present themselves to the medical profession here. What is, however, of more immediate importance is, as has already been said, the great need for more "family doctors" in rural areas. Our medical schools may be graduating larger numbers than ever of able young doctors after long and difficult courses, perhaps enough numerically to meet the country's needs. It is not, however, the number of doctors available to serve the public that counts, so much as where these doctors may be found when they are needed.

A young graduate will very probably have developed a special interest in some branch of his profession during his medical course and it is not surprising that he should desire to follow it when he sets up in practice, in other words become a specialist. A rural practice has little attraction or opportunity in such cases and is not sought. Even the young general practitioner finds a city practice less exacting than a country one is likely to be, even with rural telephones and better roads and transportation. Meantime the established rural "G.P.'s" are growing older, retiring or dying in harness and our rural population is being gradually deprived of the medical service which it needs and should have. The Canadian Medical Association looks forward to the increase in clinics serving rural areas and to the building of more and more hospitals in the smaller communities, both excellent things which happily are growing in number. But somebody, coming from somewhere, must take the place of the country doctor.

Too Many Frills

The people of Canada—of this continent, in fact—are service-mad. Consumers must have goods delivered to their doors just when they want them. Even rural people are demanding services that would have appeared outrageous to a previous generation 25 years ago. This craze reached its peak before the war when it was not unusual for a drug store to get a telephone call asking for delivery of a package of cigarettes or a postage stamp.

The middlemen (or middlewomen, if you wish) are not parasites. They are performing a legitimate though not always useful service. No matter what machinery is created to take farm produce from the farm to the consumer's door, the distribution will cost something. Farmers can expect only a percentage of the consumer's dollar because of this distribution cost; but they can always expect more when the distribution is shorn of all unnecessary service frills.

And these frills are not always on the consumer end of the distribution. In a good many cases these will be found all the way along the road from the time goods are loaded at the farm until they reach the urban table.

An all-out program of service-at-cost would help to banish some of the evil. When those who demand extra service are required to pay the extra price they might be satisfied to do some things for themselves.—Farmer's Advocate.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee: and there went out a fame of him through all the region round about. And he taught in their synagogues, being glorified of all.

And he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up: and, as his custom was, he went into the synogague on the sabbath day, and stood up for to read. And there was delivered unto him the book of the prophet Esaias. And when he had opened the book, he found the place where it was written. The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord. (Luke 4: 14-19.)

◇ ◇ ◇

And when Jesus was come into Peter's house, he saw his wife's mother laid, and sick of a fever. And he touched her hand, and the fever left her: and she arose, and ministered unto them.

When the even was come, they brought unto him many that were possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed all that were sick: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying, Himself took our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses. British Doctors Likely To Veto New Health Act

By STUART UNDERHILL
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

LONDON, Feb. 13 — (CP) — Prolonged conflict between Health Minister Bevan and the British Medical Association nears a climax as accountants tally the results of a plebiscite to determine the doctors' attitude to National Health Service, scheduled to begin July 5.

Voting has already taken place and the result—expected to be an emphatic thumbs down — is scheduled for Feb. 18.

A year of armed truce during which the BMA and Bevan tried to settle their differences ended acrimoniously on the eve of the vote, with both sides bitterly critical of the other.

In the Commons, Bevan said doubt must be cast on the outcome of the ballot because each doctor had to sign his vote and give particulars of his practice, a procedure that savored of "intimidation."

The BMA replied that there was nothing unusual about the system it was following. Doctors had been assured the manner of their voting would not be divulged and the BMA "is no less honorable in keeping its undertakings than is Mr. Bevan."

The ballot sent out to BMA members, who comprise about 80 per cent of the medical profession, asked a series of questions including the point-blank demand: "Do you approve or disapprove of the National Health Service Act in its present form?"

Another asked if doctors would agree to abide by the majority decision and undertake not to enter the service if the majority oppose it.

Faced Wih Problem.

If the doctors veto the act, which provides all forms of medical and hospital service to everyone in Britain at the cost of about 20 cents a week, Bevan will be faced with the problem of manning the service when it begins next summer.

But many observers believe he still has the whip-hand. If people are paying for health care they'll expect to get it without additional charge, and will go to health service doctors, they argue.

Thousands of doctors at present have their practices built up among "panel" patients—working people now contributing to National Health Insurance, which the new service replaces in July. Most of the doctors will more or less have to string along on the new basis.

The BMA has protested consistently against the various controls which the new service imposes, and particularly against Bevan's proposal for a fixed salary of £300 ($1,200) a year, plus a capitation fee based on the number of patients treated.

One doctor, who favored the new act, said in a letter to the Times that in order to make a good living out of it, a doctor would have to have 4,000 patients, seeing on an average of 100 a day in winter and 70 in summer.

Doctors' work suffered when they had too much to do, he said, but Bevan "has his own dilemna —there are not enough doctors to go around if he refuses to allow any doctor more than 2,000 patients, although he knows that 2,000 is the maximum reasonable list for good work."

The new act, he said, "expresses the public desire to dissociate the quality of treatment from the money an invalid can pay. The Ac must be judged by its likelihood of leading along that road in the interim period till we get more doctors, for in that lies the secret of a better service."

Red Cross Given Medicine Chest Talk

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 13—(ENS) —Miss Dorothy Colquhoun was guest speaker at the meeting of the Red Cross on Tuesday. As an army nursing sister, Miss Colquhoun expressed praise for the work of the Red Cross.

Speaking on the topic, "Your Medicine Chest And How To Use It," the speaker stressed good housekeeping methods and advised getting rid of the clutter that characterizes the average chest.

The requirements for a medicine chest that would be valuable and efficient in cases of emergencies and minor illnesses were outlined.

The medicine chest does not take the place of a doctor, the speaker pointed out.

Suggestions were made for additions to the Red Cross loan cupboard.

The president, Mrs. W. Leonard, introduced Miss Colquhoun and Mrs. Reg. Mathews voted thanks.

Mrs. Wallace Hendren, school nurse, reported health conditions had improved and that parents were more co-operative.

Mrs. Leonard gave the report for the Well Baby Clinic. Fourteen babies attended in January, 2 new ones. Immunization against diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and small-pox will commence March 18.

Miss Irene Madill, A. G. Buchanan, and Elwood Northey were appointed to the advisory committee.

Mrs. J. Huddart and Mrs. F. L. Erskine were named social conveners.

Working with the Junior Red Cross, it was decided to have a display at the School Fair in March. Mrs. S. A. Grylls and Mrs. C. Foster will be in charge of this display.

Robert McCracken was named chairman of the canvassing committee for the campaign starting March 1.

SCORELESS DRAW IN OLYMPIC HOCKEY MATCH —Although it seems as if this Canadian player (centre) is sending the puck into the Czechoslovakia net, such is not the case. In fact neither side scored for the entire game which ended consequently in a 0-0 tie . . . a rare result at the Olympic games. Both teams were undefeated during the entire hockey schedule. Canada took the title because of her better goal average.

Marine 'A' Cagers Win In Bowmanville

Marines "A" cagers won a 51-28 exhibition in Bowmanville last night. They rolled up a 20-11 half-time count and finished stronger than the homesters in a lively game. Joe Stewart and Al Menzies were leading snipers for Al Clark's crew, while Mason topped the other side. Marines clicked better on free tosses and showed all-around superiority. The teams:

Marines—J. Stewart 18, Burns 2, Gillespie 5, Menzies 11, Nichols 5, Woods 4, A. Stewart 6, Edger.

Bowmanville—Clemence 6, Mason 10, Rundle 6, Robson 2, Reddock 2, Jackman, McIntyre, Brown 2, Williams.

St. Peter's Victors

St. Peter's won a 3-1 midget PMHA game from North-enders at the Bowl rink last night. After a scoreless first frame, they pushed in three in the second, P. Mongraw getting two and Armstrong one, with an assist going to Monaghan. Tucker tallied for the losers in the third heat of a lively scrap. Penalties went to Gould, Tucker (2), Delahaye and Reynolds of North-end; and to Armstrong, Jones and Sullivan of the Saints. The teams:

Northend: Goal, Henderson; defence, Delahaye and Gould; centre, Tucker; wings, Buckton and Deyell; alternates, Northey, Wilson, Gallagher, Reynolds, Seabrook, Braund and Wall.

St. Peter's—Goal, Hickson; defence, Jones and Bacon; centre, Armstrong; wings, Richardson and Connelly; alternates, Mongraw, Sullivan, Monaghan, Cuffe, Bennett, Corkery and McGrath.

Referee—C. Heal; inesman, G. Pagett.

Rifle Club Results

Result for the first two nights of the operation of the Rifle Club show the old members from 1947 have not lost too much of their skill, and new members are getting off to a good start.

Scores from a prone position:

Match Target Rifle:
Norm Wood: 97, 95, 98, 96.
Dave Clement: 98, 100.3.
Wm. Armstrong: 83, 94.

Sporting Target Rifle:
Frank Barket: 100.8, 100.6, 100.3, 100.6.
Jim Clement: 100.3, 100.3, 100.6, 100.5.
Bert Buott: 100.8, 100.6.
John Wood: 100.8, 100.6.
Dave Clement: 100.8.
Jim Rodgers: 98, 94.
Wm. Armstrong: 97, 98.
Jack Law: 98, 96.
Norm Bradley: 97, 98, 100.1, 99.
John Hayes: 94, 93.
Herb Henry: 100.5.

Seems that a lot of the boys are putting their targets in the stove insead of turning them into the score-keeper. Are they that bad, boys? Remember shooting every Monday and Wednesday evenings.

Plazas On Top With 3682 In Men's Loop

Plazas turned in the best pinnage this week in the Men's City Five-Pin loop rolling 3682 as they trounced Freeman's 6 points to 0. They also had best game with 1323.

Shockey's, Ramblers and Kawarthas each won six points from Empress Old Timers, Clapper's and Legion to pick up two points on the league leading Fashion Craft as the latter outfit dropped one game to the tail-end Spartons.

Grant's pulled the upset of the evening beating King George 4 points to 2. McGillis took Sunocos for two games and De Laval won by the same margin from Generals.

Roy Suddards had the best individual scores for the night rolling 901 for three with a high single of 363.

Other good threesomes were turned in by Ed Young 847, Jack Playford 828, Frank McCormack 820, Bill Lewis 816, Holly Mowry 810 and Phil Pryde 806.

Suddards had 315 along with his 363 followed by Ed Young 356, Norm Gordon 347, Doug Abraham 330, Bill Lewis 328-305, El Downer 322, Jack Playford 310, Bud Weese 308, Phil Pryde, Fred Martin and Frank McCormack 307.

The members of the City League wish to extend sympathy to the Anthony brothers in the loss of their father, Louis Anthony. Louis was well known to every bowler in this league and very rarely missed a Thursday night at Duffus Alleys to watch the boys in action. For several years he sponsored a team in this loop.

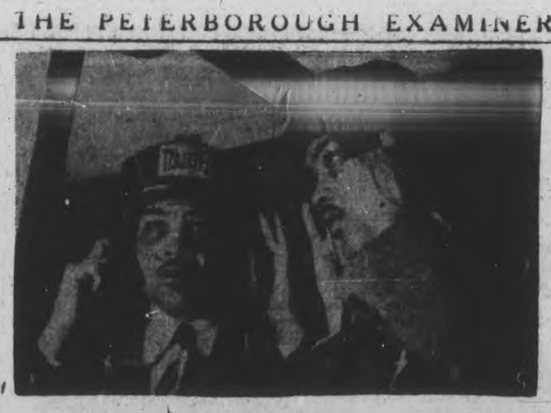
St. Peter's Victors

St. Peter's edged out a 4-3 win over Immaculate Conception at the Orphanage rink in the first game of their Separate School Hockey League playoffs, the second taking place this evening. J. Driscoll counted two goals for the Saints as Bruce and Lefevre got one each. Scott scored a pair for the East City crew and they had one handed them by the visitors. The teams:



IC — Goal, Guerin; defence, Healey and Burns; centre, Purtell; wings, Scott and Jones; alternates, Walsh and Garvey.

St. Peter's — Goal, Finn; defence, McGee and Lefevre; centre, G. Driscoll; wings, McCormick and J. Driscoll; alternates, Bruce, Munro, Menard, Board, Griffin and Roberts.

Referee, L. Jones; linesmen, A. Menard and E. Killen.

Marmora Wins 12-3

MARMORA, Feb. 13—(ENS).—Marmora again took Tweed into camp in the TVL on Wednesday, winning on the latter's ice by the score of 12-3. K. Trumble made a record for himself in scoring seven goals and getting an assist for Marmora, and Cousins, the Marmora centre, also did the unusual in netting twice and giving six assists. The game was witnessed by one of the best crowds seen in Tweed in years. Marmora relied entirely on the same team which has done service all season, and to a man, their play was outstanding. The game was clean and the ice in first-class shape.

Ed Fitkin has a piece in the Montreal Standard on Whipper Bill Watson—no mat stranger here. Seems Whip was just 160 before the war and they wanted heavyweights in Toronto. He went to England and did okay for himself. Came back as a light heavy, you might say, and Phil Lawson took over as manager. Phil made a real job of it, building Watson up to nearly 230 and developing his legs till he's the fastest big man in the game now. He soon became highly popular and still is the pick of 'em in this country. But he didn't get away too lightly. He is almost blind in one eye, his ribs were broken seven times, shoulders dislocated three times and busted once. Neck and spine hurt, ankle ligaments and knee cartilages torn, and various minor injuries. But he earns at least 30 G's a year.

Champs Of Ski Club

Determined from their showings last week-end in the zone ski cross-country competition, Peterborough Ski Club winners in this order are: Otto Laderach, Jim Logan, Bob Currie and Gord Long. The 1948 champ being Otto. And in the jumping events, Kristen Olsen is champion and holder of the Louis Yeotes trophy with Bob Currie runner-up. Combined winner was Jim Logan with Laderach next. Bill Shadgett—who hopes to be out of hospital in May—took a keen interest in the events, where he used to shine himself. Agnes Strickland placed second at Collingwood in the Ontario interscholastic downhill and slalom championship for girls.

Noted this item re Red Sullivan from Galt's account of a puck scrap there recently: "A chap dressed in uniform similar to that worn by bus operators shoved his nose into the squabble and promptly got it shoved around where his ear should have been. Lee Savoldi of wrestling fame couldn't have improved on the flying tackle made by Teepees' George Sullivan when he took off from the players' bench and landed on top of a policeman who was wedged in the mass of humanity in the penalty box." Must have been quite a free-for-all, eh? Those junior "A" players aren't fooling now in their scramble for playoff spots.

Kingston Vs. Petes

Big hockey attraction tonight is the 8.30 one at Omemee with Kingston Saints playing the Petes their last OHA senior "B" fixture of the season. A win for Kingston puts 'em in the playoffs. A loss for them—if Belleville beats Legion on Quinte ice tonight—means a two-way tie for third spot. Petes won't give away anything this eve, as they have a three-year undefeated Omemee record to maintain, but the Saints will fight their heads off for this one. So it adds up to the hottest senior "B" scrap of the season at this rink. And it rates a big crowd of fans. Weather is better now for the customers and the ice should be okay, too. Playoffs coming up.

* * * * * *

Quinte columnist comments: "If the Vets can't do any better than that exhibition Wednesday they had better, like the Arabs of old, fold their tents and silently fade away. For before the largest crowd of the season, they practically stood by and let an inspired Petes' team ride them all over the ice corral. You can't fool around with such players as Honey Tompkins, Bun Kingdon and Freddie Mortimer, or the rest of their gang. They sensed something was wrong with the Veterans and they took full advantage of it. In fact at one time, Tompkins and Kingdon—with two of their mates in the hoosegow—swept through the full-strength homester squad and flashed the red light twice. At times it was pitiful."

Church Puck League

General meeting of the Church Hockey League executive—officers, coaches and managers—at seven tonight in the "Y" to wind up the season. Winners have been declared, with Mark St. seniors taking honors in that section unless a protest by S.A. No. 2 is upheld. Mark St. bantams and All Saints midgets won out in their groups. Harris Glen, loop secretary, was manager of St. George's bantams and midgets, and he, Coach Jim Edwards, Mrs. Ray King, and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Glen treated the boys to a show earlier this week, about two dozen of the lads enjoying the treat.

Indian Rayon?

NEW DELHI, India. (CP)— A panel set up by the Indian government to study possibility of establishing a rayon industry in India has reported that cellulose, basic raw material required, is available in abundance. The panel estimated that seven factories could produce 70 tons a day, India's present consumption.

Hawks Threaten To Grab 4th Playoff Spot

By DON HUNT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Doormats of the National Hockey League for the last two seasons, the tail-end Chicago Black Hawks have finally come to life. In fact, unless the Boston Bruins and Montreal Canadiens sit up and take notice, March 21st may find the Windy City lads resting in the fourth and final playoff position.

While many eyes were focused on Boston and Montreal, the rejuvenated Hawks slipped a few notches up the N.H.L. ladder and today are only six points out of the coveted fourth spot, now occupied by Bruins.

Since Charlie Conacher took over the coaching reins, the Hawks have steadily improved and now are considered the hottest of the fourth place contenders.

Montreal Canadiens, well aware of the Chicago threat, have announced that Gerry Plamondon, high-scoring forward with the amateur Montreal Royals, will join the club in time for their all-important tilt with Toronto in the Queen City Saturday night.

Plamondon, leading goal-getter in the Quebec Senior Hockey League this season, will make the jump under the three-game lend-lease agreement between amateur and professional clubs.

Meanwhile, Boston announced that they are going to stand pat on their team for the remainder of the season, being strengthened last week with the addition of Grant Warwick, who came from New York in exchange for Billy Taylor and another player to be announced next year.

Besides the Toronto-Montreal tussle, New York Rangers are at Boston in a second Saturday night game.

Lakefield Bantams Take OMHA Round

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 13 (ENS).—Lakefield Sea Scouts won the second round of the OMHA Bantam C playdowns by defeating Bobcaygeon 10-4 here last night. The score for the round was 19-6.

Twist opened the scoring in the first period with two goals. Coyle followed with another tally, assisted by Sloan. Drinkwater scored the only marker of the stanza for the visitors. Coyle registered in the second period with Poole and Drinkwater scoring for Bobcaygeon. Penalties, Wilson and Parker.

The third period opened with four fast goals by Coyle, two assists going to Twist and one to Pearson. Drinkwater scored his third for the visitors, followed by Heffernan and Twist. Penalty, Kimble.

The teams:

Bobcaygeon — Goal, Maguire; defence, Purdy and Drinkwater; centre, Kennedy; wings, Montgomery and Kittle; alternates, Kimble, Poole and Packer.

Lakefield— Goal, Wingett; defence, Pearson and Pue; centre, Twist; wings, Coyle and Sloan; alternates, Matthews, Spencer, Brown, Hunter, Wilson, Heffernan and Wasson.

CUBAN ENTRY IN LIPTON YACHT RACES — Sir Thomas Lipton, the famous tea man, sometimes called the world's greatest sportsman, has long been dead, but a cup bearing his name still lives on as an incentive and prize in the sport he loved. Lipton is remembered as the amateur yachtsman who spent millions over a period of many years in an effort to bring the yachting title to England and who failed each time. Cuba's entry in this year's Lipton Cup race, shown cutting the waters off Miami Beach, Fla., is "Cyclone" with Alfonso Gomez Mena and Dr. Bustamande as the crew.

CURLING NEWS

By HERB MARTIN

Some of the boys are taking in the bonspiel down at Keene. It's a long time since there was curling down there. In the good old days we could always depend on good opposition from Keene. We well remember the late M. Kenneally and J. Moose, also J. McIntyre, G. Howson, the Nelson brothers, the Doherty boys, and many others. They were a fine lot.

Our lady curlers commence their annual vice-skips competition to-day.

Saturday's schedule is the same as usual: Men's bonspiel at 2 p.m., mixed rink bonspiel at 7:30 p.m.

The Duke of Devonshire, then governor-general of Canada, was disappointed when his favorites, Ottawa Senators, bowed 3-1 to Montreal Canadiens 16 years ago today. The Duke recovered his spirits when he saw the Senators, chosen by some experts as the greatest hockey team that ever laced on skates, come back and win the Stanley Cup that year.

Guelph Dumps St. Mike's In 5-1 Victory

By The Canadian Press

Greatest surprise "fluke" in the Ontario Hockey Association's Junior A 1947-48 season, Guelph Biltmore last night, showed glimpses of the squad that might have captured top laurels when they defeated the ninth-place Toronto St. Michael's Majors 5-1 at Galt.

It has taken three coaches to bring out Guelph's latent power but the third, Bill Sherry, arrived a little too late to help the eighth-place Biltmores. They, along with St. Mike's last season Memorial Cup champions, finished out of the playoffs and will hang up their gear next week.

It was Guelph's first win in four starts against the Irish. Glen Sonmor, Biltmore's fast-stepping right-winger banged in four goals and collected an assist on Guelph's other counter. Tatter McClellan tallied Guelph's other goal while Joe Primeau, Jr., was Toronto's marksman.

Even with the addition of ex-pros to their ranks the fifth place Kitchener - Waterloo Flying Dutchmen of the Senior A loop lacked the finesse required to stop the National Hockey League first-place team, Detroit Red Wings. In an exhibition game at Waterloo last night Detroit swamped the Dutchmen 12-2.

There were three senior games on the slate tonight with Hamilton Patricias at Toronto Marlboros, Stratford at Hamilton Tigers, and Brantford at Kitchener-Waterloo. In the junior loop Oshawa visit Toronto junior Marlboros, Toronto Young Rangers go to Barrie and Windsor visits St. Catharines.

Find Pat O'Brien One Of Busiest

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 13 (CP)—You might call Pat O'Brien the busy Irishman. Here's an account of his current activities:

1. He is set for "The Harder They Fall," the film verson of the Bud Schulberg novel. Starting date is undecided, as RKO fears there are too many fight pictures on the present market.

2. He is performing diverse chores in "The Boy With The Green Hair," in which he plays a middle-aged waiter. He'll sing three Irish songs, dance, juggle and do magic tricks.

3. He is working on three radio shows—a transcribed series of Damon Runyon stories, a weekly stint as a small-town druggist and a possible series with a circus background.

Wasp Waisted

Wanda Hendrix will star with John Lund in "The Tatlock Millions," and Ilka Chase, Monty Wooley and Barry Fitzgerald are being sought for other roles. Incidentally, Wanda, who will be a full-fledged star after "Abigail, Dear Heart," is claimed to possess Hollywood's smallest waist—a mere 18 inches. . .

Joan Leslie will be the last Brodell girl at home after her sister Betty marries Joseph Franzalia in June. Joan tells me she is still married to her career and can't think of marriage. Which may or may not be a wise viewpoint.

Low Moral Tone

"Arch of Triumph" got a rap and a "morally objectionable in part" rating from the Legion of Decency. The objection: "Low moral tone"... The Academy Circus will be held on Saturday night this year despite press objections (it's too late for most editions). The Academy claims more celebs will show up because they won't have to work the next day and can sleep off the celebration...

10-Second Review

"Three Daring Daughters" is another trip into the never-never land of MGM musicals. No better or worse than the usual run, it offers color music and a sticky plot about a mother of three daughters who marries Jose Iturbi. Jeanette MacDonald, Jane Powell, Iturbi and others smile and frown their way through the proceedings.

Economy Measure

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP)—Controller Leslie Parker proposed that firemen be reduced from four to three shifts apiece a year, thus saving the city $1,000. "Give them four shirts and cut the tails off," suggested another controller, opposing the idea.

CAPITAL CLOUTER ON WAY UP

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Ed Franklin, Philadelphia heavyweight, was reported in serious condition in hospital today after he was floored by Bill (Chicken) Thompson in the eighth round of their bout at Philadelphia last night.

Franklin was knocked down twice for a count of nine in the eighth and final round. He came up just before the final count only to encounter a flurry of lefts and rights that sent him back to the canvas, unconscious as the bell rang.

Frankli 's seconds revived him and took him back to his corner where he again collapsed and slid to the floor. Physicians said today it might be necessary to perform an emergency operation.

Vancouver may be the scene of a Western Canada amateur boxing tournament if plans of the British Columbia department of recreation materialize. They plan to organize elimination tournaments in the four western provinces with the final winners meeting at Vancouver late in April. There is possible expansion to a national meet if it is successful.

Rudy York announced yesterday he'll play baseball for Philadelphia Athletics this year. The big first baseman said he had agreed to terms submitted by Earle Mack, assistant manager of the American League team. He didn't mention pay. York was given his unconditional release by Chicago White Sox last week.

The United States hockey team, representing the Amateur Hockey Association, yesterday defeated an Arosa team 15-6 in an exhibition game. Canada's RCAF Flyers, Olympic champions, defeated Arosa 18-4 Tuesday.

At Lindsay for the fourth year, Dan Ross's Beaverton rink has won the Victoria Trust Trophy in an annual bonspiel here. Twenty-four rinks competed.

Buffalo state teachers' college scored its third straight basketball victory last night downing the University of Toronto 46-35 at Buffalo.

Bruce Woodcock, British heavyweight boxing champion, left an infirmary at Leeds, Eng., yesterday after receiving treatment for an eye injury suffered in the Joe Baski fight last April. He will take a two-month rest at home before resuming boxing.

Mumps Attack Tough On Dodds

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—(AP).—You have to feel a lot of sympathy for Gil Dodds getting mumps in the middle of the indoor track season, especially since he's the kind of guy who won't try to slip the hospital bills into an expense account....But you must admit that it's a break for the other milers....Dan Ferris reports that the A.A.U. has received 18 entries for the indoor mile championship Feb. 23 and at least 10 are likely to start in a free-for-all race....On top of Bob Feller's invitation to a cocktail party "at which an important announcement will be made," comes a bid from the Dodgers to attend 'the rookie hunt luncheon" —with Branch Rickey presiding in a pink coat, we presume.

Kinsmen Winners In Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 13 — (ENS). — In a bang-up duel the Kinsmen defeated Rotarians 6-2 at the Davidson Arena last night. Spills and staggers by the stalwart service clubmen provided thrills and shuddens for the audience, but most of the time most of the players played an upstanding game. The proceeds of the game go to the Kinsmen-Rotary Milk Fund. In the first few minutes of the play McAvella slipped the puck behind Bill Brady for the only goal of the period. A little later Joe Smith and Brady took a few playful pokes at each other with their sticks, but neither was wearing glasses and no direct hits were made. However, Joe drew a penalty and retired to mend his broken stick.

Entering the second frame flushed with a one-goal lead, the Kinsmen roared on for a score of 5-0, Johnny Coxwell and Bill MacEachern got a goal each. Howard Wilson and Gord Walroth accounted for the other two, Wilson getting his on a spectacular lone rush past the Rotary forwards and through their defence. Gibson, Walroth and Holmes shared the penalties in this period. The Kinsmen started the scoring again in the third when Coxwell scored. But the Rotary boys worked hard and Bill Holmes and Doc Baker spoiled Murray Stephens' chances for a shutout with a goal each. MacAvella and Holmes were the worst boys in this period and were sent to the cooler for roughing it up in the corner.

Rotary — Goal, Brady; defence Davidson, Baker; centre, Allen; wings, Gibson, Holmes; alternates Richardson, Anderson, Johnson, Armour.

Kinsmen— Goal, Stephens; defence, Dennis, Wilson; centre; Coxwell; wings, MacEachern, Barry; alternates, MacAvella, Price, Walroth, Smith.

Referee—Owen Hendy.

Fire Razes Home

HENSALL, Ont., Feb. 13 — (CP). — Damage estimated at more than $9,000 was caused by fire which yesterday gutted a large two-storey brick dwelling on the farm of Henry Neeb, a mile east of nearby Zurich. All members of the two families occupying the house escaped and some furniture was saved.

CATCH-AS-CATCH CAN ON SOCCER FIELD — This spectacular action was caught during the rugby game between the Australian "Wallabies" and the Ile de France team played in Paris, France. The ball hangs high in the air as one player is tackled and others make a wild scramble for the elusive ball. The Australian team won.

Big Time For Britain In Summer Games

LAKE SUCCESS, Feb. 13. — (AP).—Philip Noel-Baker, British diplomat and former Olympic star, sees a big season ahead for Britain in the Olympics at London this summer.

Between diplomatic bouts here at the United Nations Security Council, Noel-Baker reminisced of his days as a middle distance man and talked about Britain's prospects.

He is a member of the British Olympic Council and holder of a special assignment from Prime Minister Attlee to give governmental help to the Olympic organization committee. These duties are in addition to his regular government post of Secretary of Commonwealth Relations.

Arrangements for the big show which starts July 29 and runs to Aug. 14 at Wembley Stadium are going exceptionally well, he said.

"From the way tickets are going, we will have a sell-out of the 80,000 seats at Wembley Stadium and we believe we will have from 30,000 to 40,000 foreign visitors. We've arranged for housing for the competitors at two air force stations and a former army hospital in Richmond Park, which we hope will make everyone feel comfortable."

Did Noel-Baker think the Russians will attend their first Olympic games in many year?

"We are assuming they will and we think they will give a good account of themselves. They have a very fine sprinter who took a first at Oslo last summer."

Now, what did Noel-Baker think about British prospects?

'We will not be too backward," he said.

"We have more men who have beaten 4.20 in the mile than ever before," Noel-Baker said, "and we have seven men who have done better than 49 seconds for the quarter mile. That may not seem like much by American standards, but we are very proud of it because, despite rationing and all our other troubles, our young men seem to be running better than ever."

Ramblers Trounce Hershey Bears 7-2

By The Canadian Press

Indianapolis Capitals moved closer to the third place Cleveland Barons last night, downing Springfield 4-2 while in the other American League fixture, New Haven Ramblers set back Hershey Bears 7-2.

Mackay, Pat Lundy, Enio Schlisizzi and Dan Summers hit the mark for Indianapolis while Bill Cupolo and Alan Kuntz scored for Indians.

At New Haven, Ramblers moved seven points ahead of Hershey in the race for the eastern division's second position by defeating Bears 7-2. George Robinson paced the New Haven attack with a pair of goals.

Pittsburgh is at Washington in the only game scheduled tonight.

More Prize Money

TORONTO, Feb. 13 — (CP). — Increased prize money at Ontario's 252 annual rural fairs yesterday was cited by Agriculture Minister Kennedy as a means of keeping youth down on the farm. With larger prizes young people will start at an early age to capture prizes for raising pigs, calves or grain, he told representatives of Ontario Agricultural Societies.

Tindall Signs Queen's Contract

KINGSTON, Feb. 13 (CP). — Frank Tindall, coach of Queen's University entry in the Intercollegiate Rugby Football Union in 1939, will guide the Gaels indefinitely from here in, it was announced to-day.

The former University of Syracuse star who succeeds Bob Elliott, signed a long-term contract here yesterday following brief negotiations. Elliott, forced to resign due to pressure of business, will act as Tindall's first lieutenant.

Rated an expert in the art of forward pasing, Tindall made his first appearance in Canadian football as a member of the 1932 Toronto Argonauts and as line coach of the University of Toronto Seniors. He was one of the finest defensive middle wings in the history of the Interprovincial Union and a strong cog in some of the best Argo teams ever developed by Lew Hayman, now coach of Montreal Alouettes.

In his only season as coach of the Gaels his proteges broke even in a six-game schedule. Most of the players from last season's last-place Queen's squad will be available to the new coach.

OLYMPIC SHOTPUT CHAMP-TO-BE? — With every muscle brought into play Charles Finville of East Lansing, Mich., actually "uncoils" his body in one continuous rhythmic movement to show the shotput form that virtually assures the U.S. of another Olympic title. The Michigan dental student only weighs 194 pounds which is extremely slight for this event. It is rhythm plus his wrist motion that has enabled him to toss the shot (16 pound) 56 feet 6½ inches, a new collegiate mark which compares to the Olympic distance of 53 feet 1 13-16 inches set by Woellke of Germany. It beats the 56 feet ½ inch record set by Al Blozis of Georgetown. Only one man, Jack Torrance of Louisiana State ever exceeded Fonville's mark. He put the shot 57 feet one inch 14 years ago, out of doors

Marmora CWL Give Blind Grant

MARMORA, Feb. 13—(ENS)—The meeting of the Catholic Women's League was held in Sacred Heart School on Tuesday.

The president, Mrs. J. Black, was chairman.

Mrs. Hugh Brady submitted her resignation as secretary, owing to ill-health and Mrs. William Shannon was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Mrs. Black reported on the recent bingo party.

Mrs. Charles Crawford gave the treasurer's report.

Prayers were offered by Rev. J. Farrell for two of the oldest members of the league, Mrs. E. Feeney and Miss Selena Clairmont, who died since the last meeting. Prayers were offered for the late Mrs. C. T. Glennon, national secretary, and one minute's silence was observed.

Mrs. W. Forestell and Mrs. F. Reynolds reported visits made to the ill in the past month and Mrs. John Bedore and Mrs. William Burke volunteered for this duty in the coming month.

Mrs. Black reported that a large amount of used stamps and Christmas cards had been collected.

Donations were made to the National Scholarship, the National Institute for the Blind, and the Magazine Fund.

A draw for a hand-painted cushion donated by Mrs. Joseph Freeman, was won by Mrs. A. Sheridan.

Miss Mary Hughes displayed a quilt top to be be quilted by the members and on which tickets will be sold.

Rev. H. J. Farrell then addressed the meeting on the holy season of Lent, and he congratulated the members in the work they had accomplished.

Mrs. Carl Heath, Mrs. C. Brady, and Mrs. Black gave readings. Lunch was served by Group 9, with Mrs. W. Shannon and Mrs. C. Brady, conveners.

THE REAL TOUCH — No, the picture wasn't taken in New Orleans. It was shot recently in Montreal as the Negro Theatre Guild celebrated Mardi Gras with a special fair. The pair strutting to a calypso air while onlookers beat out the tune are natives of the West Indies and now residents of the metropolis.

Pupils Entertain

NORWOOD, Feb. 13 — (ENS) —Community entertainment was held in Donegal school recently, when parents and friends joined the teacher, Mrs. M. V. Warrington and pupils to enjoy a social evening.

Wilfred Buck, newly appointed member of the Asphodel township area, was chairman.

Lloyd Mackey and Mrs. Myrtle Mackey gave two violin and guitar selections; Misses Jean Brown, Muriel Buck and Doreen Brown sang "Serenade of the Bells," with Miss Shirley Starke at the piano; Miss Doreen Brown played a piano solo. Pupils of the school provided songs, recitations and a comic dialogue.

Prize winners of the games were: Bingo, Mrs. John Starke, Miss Doreen Brown; crokinole, Mrs. John Starke, Orland Brown; consolation, Mrs. Max Brown. Lucky number ticket holders were Mrs. Howard Gardner and Mrs. George Longmuir.

Young's Point HS Holds Dance

YOUNG'S POINT, Feb. 13—(ENS).—A successful dance was held in St. Aidan's Parish Hall on Friday by the Young's Point Home and School Association under the direction of Mrs. Jim Jones, the social convener.

Mr. Fred Young, head of the membership committee, was MC.

The music was supplied by Mr. Jim Jones at the piano, Mrs. Tom Sullivan on the violin, Johnny Peel playing the trumpet, and Jack Chittick the traps.

Mr. Wilbert Abbott called off for the square dances.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Sandy Millage.

The elimination dances were won by Mrs. Winder Smith and Mr. Geoffrey Alston, and Miss Vera Dunford and Mr. Walter Hines.

There was a novel Leap Year dance, for which old Christmas cards had been cut in two, but in various shapes. One half was given to the ladies and one to the gentleman. The ladies were asked to find their partners who would hold the missing half. The winners would find a message written on the back of their card. Miss Marian Crapp and her partner were the lucky couple.

The association were happy to welcome Mrs. Jack Brown, president of the Lakefield Home and School Association.

Others from Lakefield were Mrs. Winder Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Rashleigh, Mrs. Lampman, Mrs. Kembar and daughter Joan, Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Millage, Mrs. Jack Cranston, Mr. Gordon Mills and Mrs. Geoffrey Alston.

Supper was served shortly before midnight, after which the dancing continued.

Altogether, a grand party. The proceeds will go towards equipment for manual training and household science at the school.

Suggest Plan For Handling Sterling Fund

By The Canadian Press

A realistic going-over of the problems of the pound sterling could result from Thursday's report of a committee of the United States House of Representatives.

It could be as important in the international monetary field as the remarks of State Secretary Marshall at Harvard which touched off the European recovery plan.

It suggests a conference of countries holding frozen sterling balances which "might work out a plan whereby parts of the sterling balances would be cancelled outright and other parts assumed by the nations whom Britain helped to liberate from the German yoke."

Very important, it adds, is that the International Bank, the International Monetary Fund and the United States might help solve the sterling assets problem.

Its report may wind up just another document, and, if it catches attention, it will arouse considerable controversy, but it is perhaps the most outspoken approach yet made.

What the committee has in mind is not altogether clear, but it would seem to be this:

Britain in the war received supplies from the United States under the lend-lease and from Canada under mutual-aid. With most other countries it went into debt, especially to India, Egypt and Argentina.

The committee apparently proposes that these latter countries should cancel part of the debt. They might be encouraged to do this by "a means for converting some of their sterling balances into dollars." That is, a country now holding non-convertible sterling might be willing to make a reduction if it could convert what it gets into scarce dollars.

CHOICE CUT IN STEAK AND PRICE—A happy customer, Mrs. Ellen Boles watches the butcher of a New York chain store make a change in the price of steak from 79 cents to 66 cents a pound. Other foods also were cut in price following the drop in livestock prices and the crack in the grain market. New crash in grain prices in Canada will likely result in new retail price cuts. However, no drastic drop in food prices is expected by Canadian businessmen.

Elephants, Devil-Dancers In Ceylon Celebration

KANDY, Ceylon, Feb. 13. — (Reuters).— More than 100 elephants, led by a magnificent old tusker of the sacred temple, decked in gorgeous red and gold trappings with silvery bells tinkling from their sides, took part in a pageant staged here Wednesday night to celebrate Ceylon's independence in the old capital of the island.

A baby elephant, discovered trapped outside the ancient city of Anuradhapura at dawn Feb. 4, Independence Day, and regarded as a good omen, brought up the rear.

As the elephants passed the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester, in Kandy Wednesday for the celebrations, they trumpeted and saluted with their trunks raised.

The elephants were followed by more than 400 "devil dancers" wearing fierce-looking masks who gave a drum dance, an elephant dance, and a fire dance with burning torches, as hundreds of drums and shrill pipes made a strangely weird music in the night.

After the pageans had passed, there was a display of fireworks from a small island in the centre of the picturesque Kandy Lake, which with its rows of colored lamps looked like a scene from some Oriental fairy tale.

The orange and gold lion flag of Kandy fluttered in the breeze over the octagonal annex of the Dalada Maligawa — the sacred tooth temple.

Cancer Control Drive Started

HILLSDALE, Mich., Feb. 13—(AP).—A new step in cancer control, a county-wide program to catch some cancer cases early, is under way in Hillsdale county, Mich.

Cancer now is second only to heart diseases as a cause of death in the United States, and is the leading cause of death among women of middle age. The best chance of curing the cancers, by surgery or radiation, are when they are detected early.

Every woman in the county 40 years of age or older will be asked to have an examination made for cancer of the skin, breast, uterus or rectum.

These are the four most prevalent sites or types of cancer.

Complete records will be kept by Mrs. Louise Aldrich, a staff member of the county health department, and executive secretary of the Michigan Cancer Society. Every six months she will notify the woman to have the examinations repeated. For cancer can develop quickly.

Stirling, Oak Lake To Get Ice Delivery

MARMORA, Feb. 13—(ENS).—Manley Lavender, who has been cutting ice in this district for four successive winters, has expanded his business this season. Not only has he filled his own spacious ice house in the village with 3,500 blocks of ice, but has raised the local cut to about 5,000 in supplying local resort owners and farmers with ice.

This season he has also erected an ice house at Stirling, which he plans to use to operate an ice route in the village and Oak Lake during the summer.

Mr. Lavender stated that he cut ice 27 inches thick on the cove of Crowe River, a record for several seasons.

Minister Discusses Social Service

MARMORA, Feb. 13—(ENS).—Marmora Women's Institute met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank Sweet. Mrs. W. D. Lavender presided.

Rev. E. M. Cadigan, guest speaker, dealt with "Social Service." He drew illustrations from the Old and New Testaments, and touched upon the inclusion of social service in church activities, besides instancing the lives of great social leaders of the last and present centuries. A committee was appointed to investigate the circumstances of a needy family in the district.

The next meeting will have an exhibition of members' handicraft. A reading on the housing problem was given by Mrs. W. G. Chrysler. The attendance was then divided into three groups for the rendition of familiar old songs.

An advertisement contest was won by Mrs. H. A. Burwash.

Asked To Bring Food At Next Meeting

NORWOOD, Feb. 13—(ENS)—Norwood Women's Institute met in the Library Friday.

The president, Mrs. A. Gill, was chairman.

Plans were made for euchre parties to be held on alternate Saturday nights. A representative of the Children's Aid Society will speak at the March meeting. The members were also asked to bring donations, for "Food for Britain" parcels to the March meeting.

Mrs. Wm. Galloher gave a reading, and Miss Betty Baker sang several songs. Miss Barbara Davey was accompanist.

Mrs. George Oitment and Mrs. Harry Pearce will be conveners for the March meeting.

Truman Facing Stormy Seas As Democratic Standard-Bearer

By CLYDE BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13—(CP).—President Truman, who hasn't said "Yes" and who hasn't said "No" on the Democratic Party candidacy, is almost hemmed in by more or less dangerous threats to the success of the Democratic Party standard-bearer in the fall campaign. On the left, there is Henry Wallace's third party, which is almost certain to gain the votes of many who ordinarily would vote for the Democratic ticket.

On the right, there are the big business interests, harried by high taxation and restrictions, and the isolationists, growing more militant against administration demands for universal military training and increased service appropriations.

Now there is a fresh threat from the rear—the new outburst of resent from the solid south Democrats and threats to put their own candidate in a protest against the President's attitude on civil rights.

President Truman, or any other Democratic nominee, will need the "solid South" Electoral College vote to win. But his recent request for legislation against lynching, the poll tax and against racial discrimination of all kinds brought the Southerners out fighting.

A Real Peril

In 1944, Texas led a revolt against renewal of the Roosevelt New Deal administration and the movement constituted a peril to orderly election of President Roosevelt right up to election day.

But it all blew over and latest reports from the Southerners is that the present movement may die down.

Most serious is the Left flank threat from the Wallace party. Not that Wallace is looked upon as a possible winner of the Presidency, but he may so divide Democratic forces in such populous states as New York, Illinois, Michigan and California as to ensure a Republican victory.

Some observers believe that it was to offset the Wallace appeal among Northern Liberals that the President launched his Civil Rights program at this time although knowing it would incense some of the Southern Democrats.

There seems no doubt in anyone's mind that President Truman will be the party candidate at the Philadelphia convention next July.

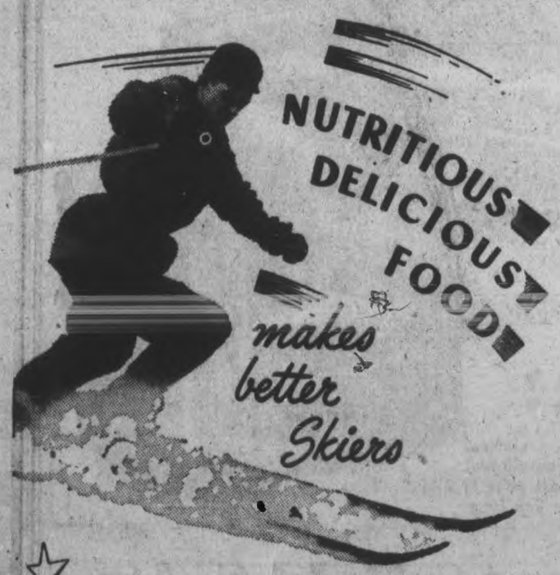
Meanwhile, he answers all question on the subject with the bland non-political replies that were a feature of so many Roosevelt press conferences during the pre-convention days of his regime.

Newfie 'Air' Improves Wine

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Feb. 13. — (CP).—Arriving here today in a spare-hulled Portuguese freighter, loaded to the gunwales with smooth after-dinner wine, to be rendered even more smooth by the tangy air of Newfoundland.

The arrival is a regular feature of life in this port to which for 100 years wine merchants of Oporto, Portugal, have sent their brew to mellow in the peculiarly-adapted old colony air.

The freighter is loaded with "pipes" casks, broad in the bilge and narrowing sharply toward the ends, each containing 125 gallons of port, subsequently to be re-shipped to England.



England buys the lot except for a small quantity bottled here. Newfoundland price is $2.75 a bottle.

The pipes will be stored in the dark and gloomy interior of a prison-like warehouse for seven to 10 years to mature and absorb the Newfoundland sea-tang. In the spooky recesses of the building and its cellars at present stand row on row of pipes of the famous Portuguese vintage, extracting from the air, in some mysterious fashion, an added flavor.

What it is about Newfoundland atmosphere that improves the flavor is not known.

She's Not Worried

CHICAGO, Feb. 13—(AP).—It's 13 in many more ways today, Friday, the 13th, for Nancy Lindholm. Nancy is 13 years old today; there are 13 letters in her name; the numerals in her street address—5350 North Walcott Avenue—add up to 13; 13 boys and girls will be at her birthday party, and there will be a big cake with 13 candles.

SKILL, stamina, balance, speed in skiing and other Canadian sports—these need plenty of good, energy-building food to keep you in top physical condition. So remember, to be healthier . . . watch your diet. Your better health means healthier Canadians . . . and a strong, virile Canada.

THIS IS WHITE CANE WEEK

Third Nation-Wide Campaign For Courtesy Assistance To The Blind

It Is Up To YOU To Help The Blind!

THE WHITE CANE AS A SYMBOL

As the symbol of blindness, the White Cane signifies the desire of blind men and women for independence and social responsibility. On the street with the White Cane to guide them, they can travel alone. They are free to come and go as they will. This freedom is conditional to some extent upon the courtesy of the sighted public. But it is freedom nonetheless. Which of us has not become confused in a strange district and asked a passerby to set us on the right road? We don't feel inferior in any way, and once we have got our bearing, we can go on our way. The same is true of the blind man.

The men and women who carry the White Cane are not beings set apart. They seek to enter every phase of ordinary life, finding their way with their White Canes, hoping that those who can see will regard them as the normal citizens that they are.

LISTEN FOR THE TAPPING CANE

- Listen for the Tapping Cane which is the blind man's polite request for assistance. Then "do as you would be done by" and lend a helping hand to the less fortunate.
- A little thought on your part will indicate the right course of action. Don't take things for granted. Always ask the blind man what assistance he needs. He is quite capable of telling you and will not be embarrassed by explaining exactly where he wants to go, what bus he wants to get on, etc.
- Go the whole way. If you are letting a blind man out of your car or have given him other assistance, be sure before leaving him that he knows exactly where he is and that he has his bearings so that he can start off on his own again with confidence and safety.
- If you are driving a car take a little extra time and give that sightless person with a white cane the right-of-way.

Courtesy And Assistance

The use of the White Cane is a practical method of assisting the blind to greater independence through the intelligent co-operation of the sighted public. If you wish to be courteous to those who are blind, assist them whenever possible. The following are a few suggestions:

DO allow a blind person to follow you when guiding him off or on a bus.

DO assist the blind person to locate entrances to homes, stores, etc.

DO remember that the steady tapping of a White Cane signifies that a blind person wishes your assistance.

DO ask a blind person where he wishes to go and be sure he has his bearings before you leave him.

DO remember never to push or forcibly steer a blind person.

DO remind the cyclist that his approach is silent and to allow the blind person to pass in front of him.

DON'T race your car motor while waiting for a traffic light when a blind person is crossing in front of you; as this may confuse him.

DON'T leave obstacles such as bicycles or children's toys on the sidewalk. They cannot be seen by a blind pedestrian and may cause serious accidents.

DON'T leave your car door open while parked. It may cause a serious accident to a pedestrian, and especially to the blind pedestrian.

DON'T back out of a driveway until you make sure the sidewalk is clear of pedestrians.

DON'T GRASP A BLIND PERSON BY THE ARM BUT ALWAYS ALLOW HIM TO TOUCH OR HOLD YOUR ARM FOR GUIDANCE.

Gideons Meet In Convention Here Saturday

Thirteen ministers in Peterborough have provided the opportunity for visiting speakers of the Gideons, the Christian Commercial Men's Association of Canada, to use their churches when they visit the city this week-end.

The Gideons, known throughout the Christian world for their distributing of Bibles in hotels, prisons and hospitals, will hold a fellowship banquet in the YMCA Saturday, February 14, at 6.30 p.m., when John S. Reid, a former Dominion president of the Gideons, will be the main speaker. Bernars Aldridge will also address the gathering on matters concerning international developments. During the Saturday evening meeting Mrs. Hilliard Orton will be the guest soloist.

Thirteen members of the Gideons will address the congregations of the churches Sunday, Feb. 19, the ministers of which have co-operated by granting the use of their churches for this special week-end convention. The churches to be used, with the time of service and the speaker, are as follows: Free Methodist, 11 a.m., George Grose; the Salvation Army, 7 p.m., Arthur J. Burnham; Park St. Baptist, 11 a.m., Dr. N. J. Neilson; Gospel Hall, 7 p.m., Hilliard Orton, and at 3 p.m. Sunday school with the same speaker; Knox United, 11 a.m., W. B. Wortman (Dominion president); Elim Tabernacle, 7 p.m., R. H. Coldridge, (Dominion field secretary); Church of the Open Bible, 11 a.m., Aleck Waters (Dominion chaplain); Mark St. United, 11 a.m., B. E. Aldridge (international extension director); St. James' United, 11 a.m., Earle Potter; Trinity United, 11 a.m., Dr. J. B. Greer; St. Andrew's United, 11 a.m., Carl Smith, and George St. United, 11 a.m., John S. Reid.

The origin of the Gideons dates back to the autumn of 1898, and from the chance meeting of two travellers in a hotel in Boscobel, Wisconsin, and since then more than two and a half million Bibles have been placed in hotels, hospitals, prisons, schools, to the men in the services and institutions.

These two men, J. H. Nicholson of Janesville, Wis., and Samuel E. Hill of Beloit, Wis., owing to crowded conditions, were requested to share a room in the hotel. They found in the course of their conversation that they were both Christian men, and they spent the evening in joint devotion. While on their knees, the thought came to them of the need for an organization of Christian travelling men for mutual recognition on the road and united service.

Resultant from this chance meeting was the forming of the Gideon Association. Their chief duties lie in bringing the word of God before the people by the distribution of Bibles, and during the World War II more than 9,000,000 New Testaments were given out to those in the armed forces.

As each child reaches the fifth grade in the Public schools in Canada he or she receive a Gideon Bible. Last year more than 50,000 were distributed, and this year it is expected that more than 10,000 will be distributed.

This work is supported entirely by voluntary contributions; $1 will make available for distribution a complete Bible, or three New Testaments with Psalms and Proverbs for the school children of Canada.

SAVE GAS TANKS — This aerial view of the British American Oil Company's spectacular fire shows huge tanks (back, left) containing high octane gasoline, dangerously close to burning fuel oil. Firemen bathed surrounding tanks to keep them cool, fearing an explosion would spread flames to octane gas. Had that happened, firemen said, "all hell would break loose."

'Mushless' Valentine Card One of Boldest Innovations

By JACK McNEIL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

A manufacturer of St. Valentine's Day cards has finally given the lie direct to the gloomy Guses, calamity howlers and sundry other odious characters who claim that progress is an illusion. In fact, this anonymous gentleman deserves to be ranked with the great benefactors of mankind, from Buddha to Einstein.

"His contribution to progress?" you may ask. Why, one of the boldest innovations in history — a "mushless" Valentine's Day card, suitable for exchange between mere acquaintances, or casual friends.

The stature of this pioneer will be obvious at once to folks who can hark back to the syrupy banalities that infected Valentines in the late Victorian era. But just how far civilization has advanced in this respect can better be gleaned from reference to Chambers' famous "Book of Days," published in 1863, in which that eminent authority on anniversaries characterized St. Valentine's Day as "a much degenerated festival, the only observance of any note consisting merely of the sending of jocular, anonymous letters to parties whom one wishes to quiz, and thus is confined very much to the humbler classes."

Chambers' disgust for the once-hallowed festival was inspired by doggerel such as this, which circulated among the proletariat of his day:

"You freckled pug-nosed ugly beast,
On whom I wish the flies would feast,
Stay away from me or you will mourn
The luckless day that you were born."

Origin of Day.

St. Valentine's Day commemorates the martyrdom of two early Christians. Origin of this observance of the day is obscure; some authorities claim there were five saints called Valentine, a name common in antiquity; but it's generally agreed that two Valentines were martyred, one of whom — according to legend — was beheaded during the reign of Claudius II near Rome's Porto Valentini (The Flaminian Gate).

But the modern connotation of February 14 as a day on which birds are supposed to pair and lovers exchange billets-dioux appears to stem from the ancient feast of Lupercalia, observed February 15, which secured the fruitfulness of the earth, prevented sterility in women, and gave young Roman gallants the chance to pick lots from a helmet for their sweethearts of the coming year.

Originally, the valentine was the other partner of the lovers' vow. Now it's the card sweethearts exchange — cloyed with sentiment, sprinkled with "diamond dust," and bedecked with satin, rayon, lace and impaled hearts.

But this year there are plenty of the mushy variety, too, makers say, all marked "Made in Canada' because the Ottawa ban on many U.S. imports included, of all things—Valentines!

Prosecution Ends Murder Evidence

KINGSTON, Feb. 13 — (CP). — The prosecution yesterday concluded its argument in the murder trial of Leon Stafford, 24-year-old negro of Waycross, Ga., charged in the dice-game stabbing of Gerald Harrison, 22, of Toronto, in a Lakeside Park here last August.

Last fall, an assize jury disagreed and a new trial was ordered.

Final witness called by the Crown yesterday was Detective Vincent McQuaide. He testified that John Harris, not present at the second trial, told him that blood on his jacket came from a cut on his mouth. At earlier hearings, the defence claimed that blood spots had spattered on Harris' coat as well as Stafford's.

Didn't Like Opera

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 — (AP). — The Metropolitan Opera, with a repertory of French, German, Italian, Russian and even American works, last night for the first time in its 65 years presented an opera by an Englishman. "Peter Grimes," by Benjamin Britton, played to a capacity house which did not let its enthusiasm run away with it. Some between-acts comment in the corridors was to the effect that "Peter Grimes" was pretty grim.

Trading Dull On Livestock During Week

TORONTO, Feb. 13 — (CP). — Trade was dull on the Livestock Market this week with the cattle prices 50 to 75 cents a hundredweight lower though calves, hogs, sheep and lambs were unchanged.

The cattle run of 5,900 head was added to 200 left from last week. Trading was dull from the opening, with a Monday holdover of 2,500 head reduced to about 1,800 by Wednesday's close. Weighty and butcher steers made the bulk of the unsold stock.

A few weighty steers were $16.25-$16.50, with others downward to $14. Butcher steers closed at $12-$15.50 and heifers were $11-$15. Fed yearlings closed at $14.75-$17 cwt., and butcher cows $9.50-$12, with canners downward to $6. Bulls closed at 9.50-$12. A few stockers sold from $10.50-$13.75. Plain to medium quality milkers and springers were $85-$145 each.

Prices for the 2,377 head of hogs held steady at $28.75 for Grade A and $28.35 for Grade B1, with sows at $19 dressed.

Some 900 calves sold steady at $21-$23 cwt. for choice vealers, with plain lights downward to $12. Heavy grassers were $11-$11.50.

Sheep and lambs totalled 600 head. A few lots of good local lambs and one car of Westerns sold at $18.50. Plain to medium lambs were from $12-$17. Sheep were from $4-$9 cwt. acocrding to quality.

Weekly summary of receipts:

Break Up Elopement

CHICAGO, Feb. 13 — (AP). — Thirteen-year-old Shirley Auld was taken to the juvenile home yesterday after police blocked what they termed a planned elopement with a 54-year-old Harry Rees, co-owner of a tourist camp. Displaying her unworn wedding gown to police, the attractive girl declared: "I still love him and want to get married."

ONE DAY'S PAY—Responding to the Canadian Appeal for Children, Hon. C. D. Howe, recently appointed Minister of Trade and Commerce, is pictured here making his donation of one day's pay. He is accompanied by Senator W. McL. Robertson, Government Senate leader, and Harvey R. Doane, Halifax chairman of the Canadian Appeal for Children. The appeal seeks to raise $10 million to assist 400 million children in war-devastated countries in Europe and Asia. The money will be used to purchase food, clothing, educational and medical supplies for these boys and girls.

Crime Shows Sharp Decrease In 1947

The Peterborough Examiner

VOL. XCVI, No. 37 — FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1948 — PRICE FIVE CENTS

Main Street Topics

NO COURT TODAY

Friday the 13th was not unlucky for anyone running afoul of the law in the city, with no cases scheduled for magistrate's court this morning. Not even a parking ticket.

JAYCEES TO MEET

The general monthly meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held, buffet luncheon style, on Feb. 16, at 7.30 in the K. of C. Hall. Joe Cooke is in charge of arrangements.

DON'T RUSH, KIDS!

Bicycle licenses for this year will not be available until some time in April, states Police Chief John Thompson. He also echoed the sentiments of desk men at the police station. In contrast to their elders, who usually have to be chased for their licenses, the boys and girls have been dashing into the station daily, asking for the new plates, which will be white letters on blue for 1948.

ALSO DIRECTORS

Working in conjunction with the executive of the Anson House Board the following directors were elected at the annual meeting: Mrs. F. M. delaFosse, honorary president; Mrs. Suckling, Miss Laura J. Davidson, Miss Lillian Morrow, Mrs. J. W. Pierce, Mrs. G. R. Langley, Mrs. Chas. Ray, W. C. Ackerman, T. A. Mackay and A L. Killaly

FIRE DAMAGE $10,000

The gain mill of Hugh Stapleton, Newtonville, was razed Tuesday by a fire which consumed the entire grain stock in the building, for a total loss of $10,000. It was the fourth time in 30 years that his mill has been burned. Work of local firefighters of the village and the fire brigade from nearby Newcastle were unable to save the mill, but prevented the blaze from spreading.

CAR AND TAXI DAMAGED

Damage of $90 resulted to a taxi driven by William Witzell, 95 Rubidge street and $30 damage was reported to the car of J. E. Robinson, 889 Western avenue, when the two collided in a traffic tie-up at the red light at the corner of Charlotte and Bethune streets about one o'clock Thursday afternoon, PC S. Keliele investigated.

AIRFORCE RECRUITING STARTS

Groundcrew and aircrew recruits for regular Airforce are being interviewed Friday and Saturday, Feb. 13 and 14 in Room 113 of the Barrie Building, on George St. Flying Officer Bowdery, in charge of recruiting, reported that by noon on Friday, 11 applications had been made. Bulk of those desiring to enlist or make enquiries is expected Saturday afternoon.

BIRTHDAY ON FRIDAY 13TH

Clifford Johnson, Armour Rd., is used to having his birthday precede St. Valentine's Day; this year it falls on that day most dreaded by the superstitious, Friday the 13th. But superstitions don't bother Clifford who is a pupil at King George School. In fact he regards it as a lucky sign; he is 13 on the 13th.

BUSINESS LAGS

New car markers for 1948 are comparatively scarce on the main streets, and motorists are apparently heading into a jam when they start purchasing these plates. All the plates are now in and the Chamber has engaged extra help to take care of the demand. 16,000 driver's permits and 11,500 sets of markers are sold at the Peterborough office.

Y'S MEN HOLD QUIZ

A game of "21 questions" provided main entertainment Thursday night at the weekly dinner-meeting of the Y's Men's Club. The five-man team that copped top honors included Max Harrison, Woodrow Roberts, George Moore, Don Harwood, and Tony Welbourn. The project committee met after the main meeting to discuss details of a carnival to be held March 4 and 5 at the Armouries. Booths, bingo, and other games and general entertainment will be included. Proceeds will be for the Boys' Camp.

HE WASN'T DRIVING

You can't be fined for speeding on Clonsilla Ave., Peterborough, if you happen to be in Buffalo at the time the police jot down the license number. That is what happened to Karl Duffus, who was listed in the traffic court as paying the speeding fine. It happens the truck in question is owned by Duffus Garage, and was driven by one of the employees, but police records listed Karl Duffus, hence the publicity which obviously should have gone to the driver of the truck, not the owner.

War Veteran To Be In Hospital For 2 Years Refuses To Postpone February Wedding

Cupid brought a romantic touch to a fight bravely contested by an injured war veteran, when the wedding bells of Christie Street Hospital chapel chimed recently.

Injured while serving with the Canadian Infantry, Carl Irwin is now a patient in the hospital and at a check-up of his injuries held last September it was decided that he would have to remain in hospital for at least two years.

While attending a dance in January, 1947, Carl met Margaret Louise Thorne, and that is where Cupid commenced his part in the play. By August of that year the pair had become engaged and planned a wedding for February, 1948. This September check-up at the hospital which resulted in a decision that a two-year treatment would be required did not deter the happy pair from carrying out the marriage plans.

Lt.-Col. the Rev. Sydney Lambert officiated at their wedding held in the hospital chapel. Miss Helen Montgomery was the bridesmaid and Bob Conquergood acted as best man. Before enlisting Carl lived at Bobcaygeon and worked on his father's farm, and when he is well again he and his bride have decided to have a farm of their own.

While her husband is a patient at Christie Street Mrs. Irwin will remain at her job as service representative with the Bell Telephone Company. Mrs. Irwin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred E. Thorne, of Port Colborne.

Increase Police Estimates To $16,000 Over Last Year

Cost of operation of the Peterborough Police Department will be more than $16,000 greater in 1948 than last year, it is estimated in the annual report of Police Chief John Thompson presented to the Police Commission Thursday afternoon.

Principal reason for the increase is an approved schedule of increases for all police officers and the proposed addition of three men to the force. Chief Thompson, in making the recommendation, stated that he felt it was necessary in view of the general increase in crime "and the increase in this city's population with larger territories to be policed." The Commission approved the recommendation and will submit it to City Council.

It is estimated that the city's police protection will cost a total of $83,403.12 in 1948, in comparison with actual expenditures in 1947 of $67,254.31.

More than 90 per cent of this total is taken up in salaries which total $72,723.62, compared to $57,869.34 actual payroll in 1947.

Main break-down headings of the estimates are (with 1947 figure in brackets, if any difference): police commissioners' salaries, $700 ($550); clothing and equipment, $3,954.50 ($2,800); telephone and telegraph, $300; upkeep of police station, $500 ($450); printing and stationery, $475; incidentals, $300 ($150); radio upkeep, $350; upkeep of cars and motorcycle, $2,000; insurance on cars and motorcycle, $150; chief constables' convention, $100; special police, $100; prisoners' meals, $250 ($200); new identification equipment, $200 (none in 1947); proposed new car $1,300 (plus trade-in allowance on present car).

The item of identification equipment listed will be in charge of PC William Aggas, who is at present taking a course with the RCMP at Ottawa, on completion of which the new service will be added to the city force.

Another additional item of equipment to be purchased, which was approved by the Commission, is a 12-guage sawed-off shotgun.

Total number of officers on strength at present is 27, and the chief constable and a part-time police matron.

Veterans Confused Over Service Credits

A. B. Burrows, Sub-District Administrator of the Peterborough Branch DVA, reports that a certain amount of confusion has arisen among veterans in respect to the purchasing of Veteran's Insurance.

Though the time limit for purchasing Veterans' Insurance with re-establishment credits expires three years after discharge, or on February 20, 1948, for veterans discharged before February, 1945, the use of re-establishment credits extends to ten years after discharge.

Special note should be made of this in order to avoid confusion in regard to using re-establishments for the purchase of Veterans' Insurance, and the use of those credits for the other purposes under the act which have a limit of ten years.

Police Report Lists Traffic Offences At Top

General tendency of crime in Peterborough in 1947 showed a sharp decrease from 1946, as revealed in the annual report of the police department. Practically every classification of offences showed fewer cases.

Total cases disposed of by the police court was 1,890 in 1947, a decease of 265 from the previous year.

Convictions in the most common offences were (1946 figures in brackets): Highway Traffic Act, 531 (675); liquor convictions, 457 (650); traffic bylaw of city, 279 (134); Radio Act, 142 (27); WPTB violations, 10 (19); reckless driving, 10 (14); theft, 40 (44); vagrancy, 140 (207).

Accidents involving motor hehicles in the city during 1947 averaged close to two a day with 56 injuries, including three deaths.

Value of property lost during the year was $7,488.69, of which about half was recovered.

Stolen goods were valued in $21,105.84 of which $6,072.09 is still unrecovered.

Other fatalities were three drownings and three deaths from the Whitaker fire.

There were 194 doors and windows of business premises found unlocked or insecure during the year.

The department had heavy duty during five summer months in patrolling daily nearly 500 unoccupied houses in the city. Doors and windows of every building were inspected at least once a day.

There were 11 children lost during the year, with all being returned unharmed.

More than 700 transients were given shelter at the police station.

Some insight into Peterborough's seamier side of life can be had in checking the complete list of headings of convictions. Fourteen citizens were hailed into court on charges of beating and assaulting their wives, not to mention numerous other cases which were settled out of court with reconciliation between the warring pairs. Two others were charged with non-support of wife and family.

Drunk driving seems to have declined as an evening pastime, with only 23 up on that count.

Two attempted suicides are listed.

The sporting blood of the city must be in a slump, with not one "common gaming house" under scrutiny of the court in 1947. Five of them answered the call in 1946. Last year, there was one disorderly house charge and 10 foundins.

Only four offenders were so absent minded as to leave the scene of an accident during the year.

EXPECT FARM LABORERS

Northumberland county farmers soon may have Netherlanders working on their farm. The counto agricultural office has announced that a number of the immigrants with farm experience are available for jobs in this district.

WHOSE RESPONSIBILITY

Merchants along George St., who see the mess on their awnings caused by roosting pigeons, are a bit annoyed. The fronts of several buildings also show ample evidence of the presence of the birds. Along the main street and in coffee shops, the birds are a topic of conversation. Some feel the City Council has a responsibility in the matter of reducing the pigeon population. They are not songbirds, hence are not entitled to protection. Unfortunately, however, no person may discharge a firearm within the corporation limits without proper police authority. Squab pie is not the worst dish in the world either, and from the talk it appears several marksmen would be glad of this hunting assignment

Former Merchant George Wesley Dies In Hospital

George Albert Wesley, 450 Rogers St., a partner some years ago in the men's wear business of Maher and Wesley, on Charlotte St., died Thursday at St. Joseph's Hospital after a short illness. He was born in Peterborough, son of the late Edward Gore Wesley and Margaret White, and had resided here all his life. He was associated for years with Mr. M. Joseph Maher and the late James T. Lang, heads of the men's wear firm of Lang and Maher on George St., in the premises now occupied by Irwin and Norman Hamley, retaining the name of Trebilcock Bros.

Later, Mr: Wesley was with Mr. Maher as assistant in the Oak Hall clothing store, and finally was employed with Grafton & Co., Ltd. He was a member of St. John's Anglican Church and Independent Order of Oddfellows. Outside his business interests, Mr. Wesley had a talent in music, played a French horn in the 57th Regimental Band, and was often prominent in minstrel productions. He is survived by his wife, the former Mary Louise Martin; two daughters, Miss Lillian Wesley and Mrs. L. C. Bateman, of Peterborough; also by two brothers, Walter E. of Buffalo and J. Charles Wesley of Ottawa, and his sisters, Miss Shirley Wesley of St. John, NB, and Miss Ida M. Wesley of this city.

The funeral will take place on Saturday at 3 p.m. from the Comstock Funeral Home, Water St., to Little Lake Cemetery. The service will be conducted by Ven. Archdeacon W. P. Robertson of St. John's Church.

Name Bert Crump To Co-ordinate DXers

Organization of amateur radio operators prepared to furnish emergency communication in the event of natural disasters or other emergencies, has been entrusted to Albet E. (Bert) Crump, McDonnel St., engineer of radio station CHEX. Mr. Crump will hold the title of Emergency Coordinator, F. E. Hendy, Communications Manager of the American Radio Relay League announced Thursday.

His task is to band together members of the amateur radio service in the Peterborough district to perfect arrangements for emergency radio communication by ham if the need should somehow arise.

In addition to use of commercial station equipment, amateur stations using self-powered radio transmitting and receiving equipment are needed.

Local meetings of amateurs, common operating procedures, and regular drill under simulated emergency conditions will be organized.

Liaison planning with district relief agencies and protective services—fire and police—will be undertaken.

No Alderman In South Ward But That Section Gets Maximum Attention

Although there are no resident representatives of Monaghan ward in the City Council, Ald. Hurrell Dodds, chairman of the board of works, commented this morning to the Examiner that the recently annexed part of the township virtually has the entire council looking after it. "And throw in the Utilities Commission, because it seems to me they are giving as much attention to the new area as the council is doing," Ald. Dodds said.

"Right now it is practically true that the annexed part has eleven representatives in the council and three in the Utilities Commission. I am sure we all feel that the most pressing and needed work should be done first. There are two aldermen from Ashburnham, Ald. Swanston and myself, and I don't know when either of us tried to grab something for that part of the city. I'm not aware that we are neglecting it, but we are just the same as the other members—we see there is a big need in all that new part of the city. If every member of the council lived down there I can't see that they would do anything more than we are trying to do right now, when the members live elsewhere."

Not An Issue

Ald. Dodds said he was not entering into any discussion about the ward system of representation, "but I couldn't help but think recently when you read an occasional letter in The Examiner about going back to the ward system that I prefer our present general representation. I have had the opportunity of being with quite a number of aldermen since I have come into the council and my impression is that they are unselfish and trying to represent the city as a whole. None of the members objected to the planned program Roy Parsons brought in when he was City Engineer. It was all to the south and east of the city, and the council has tried to follow it out as fast as we can. I don't see any of the members thinking of themselves and their own neighborhoods. The question is: where is the sharpest need?

I'm sure the Utilities Commission is following that same line, and I have noticed that the Commission and the council manage to get along on good terms. All the council expects and has a right to expect is some decent treatment. Another thing, you never hear anything about is a ward system for the Utilities Commission or the Board of Education. One might think the general representation system worked all right in those two instances, but when it came to the council it was all wrong. Some times it sounds funny."

On this same point of expenditure. City Engineer Chalmers said, casually, that it would probably be ten years at the very least before Monaghan ward payments into the city treasury caught up with present expenditure on needed improvements that are being put in. And the program isn't ended yet.

Meter Revenue $17,393 In 1947

The city's 495 parking meters should be paid for within the next 12 to 16 months, it is estimated, based on the present rate of revenue.

Total collections from the time the metters were installed—May 17—to the end of 1947 were $17,393.07, of which the city receives 25 per cent until the meters have been paid for. The city's share for the seven and one-half months of last year was $4,348.28.

The meters have also more than doubled the number of fines collected for overtime parking. Last year's total was $2,137 in fines of one dollar each. In 1946, 90 were fined.

Obituary

DANIEL O'NEILL

MARMORA, Feb. 13 (ENS)—One of the oldest members of Sacred Heart Church, Marmora, Mr. Daniel O'Neill died Thursday morning at Peterborough in his 91st year.

Born in Marmora Twp. he had lived there until a few years ago. For some years he lived at the home of George Wilkes. At one time he was tax collector for Marmora and Lake township.

Surviving are two nephews, Robert and John O'Neill, Marmora Twp. He remained a bachelor.

Requiem Mass will be held in Sacred Heart Church, Saturday morning. Burial will be in the Sacred Heart Cemetery.

Seek Amendments To Traffic Bylaw

Two new traffic by-laws for the city will be recommended to the City Council by the Police Commission, following the suggestion of Police Chief Thompson in his annual report.

One would make it an offence to park on the left side of the streets, facing oncoming traffic. This practice, it was pointed out by the chief, has become increasingly prevalent, and he described it as "sheer laziness of some motorists."

The second by-law proposed would prohibit U-turns at intersections where automatic stop-and-go signal lights are in operation.

Board Reviews Salaries of Non-Teaching Employees

Pension Plan For Some Employees To Be Effective April 1, 1948

In a full business session Thursday night the Board of Education accepted a report of the Committee on Appointments to boost salaries of non-teaching employees other than caretaking and maintenance staffs. It was agreed that the former percentage basis of advancing salaries should be abandoned and "the present 10 percent increase put into effect in January 1947, be incorporated into the present salaries, and that the following schedule be absolute when adopted, effective January 1, 1948."

Miss H. Buller, increase $150, maximum $1,470; Dr. S. J. Graham, increase, $200, maximum $4,050; Dr. L. E. Mylks, increase $200, maximum $3,500; Miss G. Fowler, increase $150, maximum $2,400; Miss M. Cameron, increase $108, maximum $1,560; Miss H. Gough, increase $108, maximum $1,560; Miss D. Carpenter, increase $150, maximum $1,452; Miss G. Wilson, increase $150, maximum $1,452; D. A. Loomis, increase $220, maximum $2,400; Miss N. Lane, increase $150, maximum $1,452; Miss C. Hodgens, increase $150, maximum $2,000; J. E. Huggins, increase $200, maximum $3,500.

It was also agreed that all future increases should be "at the rate of $150 a year or portion thereof" until the laid down maximum was reached.

Mr. J. Howard Moebus was designated Director of Guidance at PCVS and effective Jan. 1, 1948, he will be given an increase of $150, with maximum salary set at $3,700.

No action was taken an readjustment of salaries of teachers whose engagement on the staff dates from Jan. 1.

In future annual increases will date from the beginning of the year; for 1948 caretakers and maintenance staff increases due September 1948 will be pro rated for the year and commence January 1.

In a move to bring Board of Education nurses' salaries in line with those paid by the Board of Health, pay boosts were given to the three nurses: Miss Mary Jory $2,200; Miss Mae Stone, $1,600; and Miss Mildred Drope, $1,900 New scale will be retroactive to Jan. 1.

Want Cadet Training

Chairman of Appointments Committee, W. B. Gordon concluded his report by recommending a Chatham Board of Education resolution that present Cadet training be replaced in Collegiate and Vocational schools and a return made to the former basis making this training "possible and compulsory during school hours". Dr. R. C. Honey seconded the motion which was carried without division.

Accounts for February, totalling $7,068.14 were approved subject to the confirmation of the various committees. Major items were fuel, supplementary reading and supplies, and band instruments ($1,365.33). The main account of $46,772.26 was confirmed by the Board, the largest item being for salaries ($40,696.09).

A pension and retirement allowance for non-teaching employees, effective April 1, 1948, was moved by Arthur Pitchford and W. E. Bannon. It was unanimously approved.

To raise $29,000, the amount estimated as necessary to complete the Queen Mary school annex, the Board after close liaison with the City Finance Committee and the Dept. of Education will try to raise the sum by sale of debentures.

On the Accommodation committee report was an item recommending more help for the maintenance shop. It was decided that the Property committee should be empowered to engage an extra carpenter.

Request from E. Hutchings for a salary increase was turned down by the Property committee. An adjustment was made by that committee making the salary increase of Mr. E. Hope retroactive from Sept. 1, 1947 to July 1, 1947.

Four delegates to be named later, plus the secretary-treasurer will attend the Urban School Trustees Assoc. of Ontario being held in Ottawa, May 10, 11 and 12.

Non residential pupils attending public school will be assessed at 50 cents a day, it was decided; and PCVS students attending privately, outside their school area, will pay $10 a month.

Percy D. Windram, principal of Prince of Wales public school was appointed principal to serve on the Entrance Board.

Discussion centered for some time on the large number of charities and relief funds that are soliciting funds from school children through the medium of the school organization. Inspector K. S. Wightman was particularly doubtful if it were the proper function of the school, or whether it was desirable from the standpoint of the pupil.

February 5 was set aside as a day for aid to European children; March 5, Community Chest Fund: and April 5, Junior Red Cross.

Mr. D. V. Canning was in the chair. Present were J. E. Huggins, sec-treas., K S Wightman, Arthur Pitchford, W. E. Bannon, W. B. Gordon, Mrs. F. W. K. Harris, Dr. H. G. Carleton, Dr. R. C. Honey, F. T. Jobbitt.

Scott In Quebec To Study Their System

QUEBEC, Feb. 13 — A three-day study of Quebec's systems of commercial fisheries, zoological gardens, control of fur-bearing animals and the province's forest rangers' school at Duchesnay in Portneuf County has just been completed by Ontario Lands and Forests Minister H. R. Scott.

Mr. Scott, who was here to attend the recent meeting in Quebec of the Eastern Canada Fisheries' Association, made his study and tours of inspection with half a dozen senior officials of his two government departments.

He met and conferred with Quebec Minister of Game and Fisheries Camille E. Pouliot, and also had a briefer meeting with Provincial Minister of Lands and Forests John S. Bourque.

Among the senior Quebec Civil Service officials he saw were: Deputy Ministers L. A. Richard, fish and game; Dr. Arthur Labrie, fisheries; Avila Bedard, land and forests, and Provincial Superintendent of Fish and Game Charles Fremont, KC.

Main objects of the special study trip of the Ontario minister and his department officials, according to Dr. Pouliot, was to see what features of Quebec's systems could be advantageously used in Ontario, to study the possibility of bringing about greater uniformity in these different spheres in the two provinces, and to make a particular study of Quebec's successful forest rangers' school at Duchesnay. Ontario is in the process of setting up a similar school.

Mr. Scott, who was born in the Shawbridge district north of Montreal, and moved to Ontario when only 13, following the death of his father, has been a lumberman all his life and speaks French.

The Ontario Minister, who entered politics in 1943, when he won as a Drew candidate, served in the First Great War with the rank of captain.

Rookie Senator Ian MacKenzie Given Verbal Spanking By Pals

OTTAWA, Feb. 13—(CP).—Its newest rookie, Senator Ian Mackenzie (L—British Columbia), let fly at the Senate yesterday for conduct he considered "an abrogation of its functions" and was promptly set upon by older hands. The former Veterans' Minister and House Leader of the Commons walloped the Upper Chamber for sending matters to committee before they have been approved in principle and then widened his attack to other spheres.

His voice booming its Scottish accent, he cried, "For years I have been advocating changes in the Commons' rules, but the Senate needs them even more." In his first 10 days, "not half the proceedings have been heard down here"—he sits far down the front row.

Too Fast

Bills had been brought in and passed without sufficient clarity of discussion and explanation. Personally he reserved completely his approval of the principle of any bill passed within that time.

The principle of any bill should be endorsed before going to a committee. To do otherwise was to "dispense with our essential duties."

His cry was raised after Senator Wishart Robertson, Government Leader in the Chamber, reported that the subject matter of a resolution to approve the Geneva Trade agreements would be taken up again by the Senate Trade Committee next Tuesday, while the resolution itself continued to stand on the order paper.

Senator Mackenzie thought the Chamber first should thrash out the principle.

Senator John T. Haig, then Senator Thomas Vien (L-Quebec), Senator Robertson and the Speaker championed the system under which the Senate refers such matters to committee, where members can get the information they need to discuss them adequately. This was not necessary in the Commons, where some 20 Cabinet ministers were available to give that information or to get it.

There was nothing to stop any Senator from discussing the matter in the Chamber during this period or after it came back.

Said Senator Haig: "You will find that we don't stick too close to the rules in here. We keep them flexible to meet our needs."

Chided Senator Vien: "The honorable member comes here with all the glamor of his shiny armor and the zeal of the neophyte. I felt much the same way when I came from the Commons, but I got some wise advice . . You will find a different atmosphere here, different conditions, but there is no brushing aside of our responsibilities. . . . There is room for the widest discussion, much more so than in the Commons. It is not only the length of speeches but the experience of our members which counts."

Quebec Passes Bridge Bill

By The Canadian Press

A $5,000,000 bridge construction bill has been passed by the Quebec Legislature over the objections of opposition members who maintained the government should have to call for tenders.

An opposition amendment which would have forced the government to ask for bids before spending the money was ruled out of order on grounds that a money bill cannot be amended in its financial provisions. As it stands, the bill provides for spending the money over a three-year period on building and repairing bridges.

Opposition speakers charged that the government was afraid to call for tenders and predicted that the money would be used for election purposes.

In the Manitoba Legislature, Premier Stuart Garson reported a $4,291,602 surplus of provincial revenue over expenditures for the 11-month period ended last March 31. Total revenues were $24,018,948, expenditures $19,737,346.

The surplus fell $194,136 short of the estimate Mr. Garson gave last March in his last budget speech as provincial treasurer. He said the difference arose from extra accrued school grants, some of which had not previously been taken into account.

Young Farmers Must Lead Drew Declares

TORONTO, Feb. 13.—(CP). — Ontario Premier Drew said yesterday that the future of agriculture in Ontario rests on the confidence and ability that can be instilled in young farmers.

"Many farmers with the best of intentions are not producing the best they can or preserving the soil for years ahead," he told the closing session of the Ontario Agricultural Council meeting. Young farmers, on the other hand, often did better than their fathers in these regards and should be encouraged.

Premier Drew said powers of the Ontario Research Commission will be expanded to make the Commission's work more effective in the field of agriculture. He asked agricultural organizations to continue the practice of informing the Department of Education on the results of independent experiments.

The Council passed resolutions asking Agriculture Minister Kennedy to provide adequate facilities for recruiting and housing students in farm service camps; asking the Agriculture Department to bear part of the cost of shipping livestock to the Royal Winter Fair here; seeking an increase in calf vaccinations against Bang's disease; urging a campaign to rebuild depleted farm lands by plowing under humus; calling for a clearer definition of a "woodlot" in the Conservation Act; asking the Highways Department to bear 80 per cent of the cost of removing rocks from township and county roads.

The Council asked the Lands Department to have part of Hastings county south of No. 7 highway closed to deer hunting.

Officers elected: President, John M. Story, South Marsh; first vice-president, Charles Rush, Stoco; second vice-president, J. S. McCulough, Guelph; directors, W. R. Anderson, Wilsonville, T. A. Will Let U.S. Use Alaska Highway

OTTAWA, Feb. 13 — (CP). — Anytime the United States runs into an emergency, she needn't worry about having full neighborly use of the strategic Alaska Highway thrusting through Canada.

That's the way informed quarters here view the route's military future in the light of a resolution introduced in the US House of Representatives, calling for assurance the US will have military use of the road.

While there was no comment from External Affairs Minister St. Laurent, considerable surprise was in evidence here at the Congress move by Representative Kersten, Wisconsin Republican.

Several angles contribute to this eyebrow-lifting.

The No. 1 consideration, perhaps, is that Canada is at peace. And while she has a policy of defence co-ordination with the US, it is not felt here that this should go to the extent of giving US armed forces running rights over Canadian territory.

It is pointed out that, while the US built the Canadian section of the 1,500-mile highway, it reverted by agreement to Canadian control when its wartime use was over.

Market Drop Puzzles Farmers

GARDEN CITY, Kas., Feb. 13. —(AP).—Kansas wheat farmers looked across snow-covered fields wtih puzzled frowns today as they sought to fathom the cause for the sudden skid in commodity prices.

The grain growers pointed to continued high demand for wheat and prospects of only a fair 1948 yield as reasons for their inability to understand the week-long market plunge.

But there were no signs of a stampede by the producers to dump their holdings.

The concensus seemed to be that everything will work out all right—if other prices come down accordingly. Some thought an immediate investigation was in order. Others said future planning was out of the question "until we see what is going to happen."

John Boyd, who farms near Garden City, said he didn't "like it, but we'll tighten our belts. The spring wheat outlook here is far short of what the experts expect. I don't understand the break with demand for wheat still unsatisfied."

J. H. Dean, manager of the Dodge City co-operative exchange, in the south-western Kansas wheat belt, said some 2,000 farmer members were demanding an immediate investigation into the cause of the break in wheat prices.

Brockville Play Criticized By Adjudicator

By KAY REX.

KINGSTON, Feb. 13 (CP). — It was the play, rather than the players, that came in for most of the criticism last night at the Eastern Ontario regional drama festival.

Robert Stuart, British actor and producer, adjudicating these regional contests, regretted that the Brockville Theatre Guild had chosen "Lovers and Friends" as its festival entry.

"This play is verging on the cheap and must be played for all its worth," he said, at the close of the performance of Dodie Smith's three-act play.

"It takes experienced actors to successfully gloss over this really old form of tear-jerker," he added. "Why waste time on plays of this kind when there are so many good ones in the world."

Scene of the play, a complicated love story, is laid in England, and covers the period between the First and Second World Wars.

Mr. Stuart said that the actors had made "a good attempt," their timing was good, and the settings excellent.

Singling each member of the cast out for special attention, the adjudicator remarked that Pat Byrne as Rodney Boswell, the straying husband, took everything with too much "perfect ease."

On the other hand, Katherine Fowler, as Stella, his wife, was perhaps "the nearest in characterization." She played her part with "sincerity and honesty."

In conclusion, Mr. Stuart said, however, that he felt the entire company had done a nice job, and that throughout they had kept the play going at a "good brisk speed."

Did Hessie Gray Murder David Scollie, Otonabee Township Farmer, 54 Yrs. Ago?

By THOMAS P. KELLEY
In New Liberty Magazine

Although it occurred more than 50 years ago, the strange case of David Scollie is still talked about by old-timers of the Peterborough district. They will tell you of the farmhouse that flamed to destruction on that long-gone morning of February 23rd, 1894, and of the body that was later found in the charred ruins — the body without a head.

They will tell you, too, that the head of David Scollie was never found; that for months before his death he lived in constant fear that someone was planning his murder. You will also hear of the body that was exhumed and of the part played by John Wilson Murray, one of Canada's greatest detectives.

This is what old records tell of the Scollie case:

In the fall of 1887, Thomas Grey, together with his wife, Hessie, and family of six small children, arrived in Canada from Ireland, and settled in Otonabee Township, about ten miles from Peterborough. Gray first got work as a farm hand on the farm of J. G. Weir, but eventually he lost his job there and, almost destitute, was unable to support his family. His predicament came to the attention of the kindly David Scollie.

Took Pity on Family

David Scollie was an elderly farmer, a bachelor, in fairly comfortable circumstances, who had lived in the district for almost 50 years. He wished to extend a helping hand and he proposed that Thomas Gray help him work his farm. Gray's wife and family could come and live with him at the farmouse. The Grays accepted at once, and for a while things went along well.

Then one day Thomas Grey made a proposition to David Scollie. Briefly, it was that Gray and his wife would look after the elderly man, give him room and board, and see that he lived in comfort for the rest of his days. On this part, Scollie was to turn over the farm to Thomas Gray. After some deliberation, Scollie agreed to the plan. Papers were signed, and David Scollie's farm was turned over to Thomas Gray.

Two years passed. During this time David Scollie, then well in his sixties, lived a life of ease, with Gray doing most of the work around the farm. The new life seemed to agree with David Scollie. He gained in vigor and despite his years, seemed the picture of health and destined for a long life.

The improvement in Scollie's health did not please Mrs. Hessie Gray. One day she complained to a neighbor that "the old devil of a Scollie will outlive both me and my husband, and eat us out of house and home if we don't watch out." When the neighbor said something about David Scollie living as long as the Lord intended he should, Mrs. Gray answered:

"I'll be damned if he will — I won't let him."

Dominant Figure

Hessie Gray was definitely the dominant member of the Gray family. While her husband was described as being easy-going, rather stupid and lazy-looking, old records depict Hessie Gray as an active, quick-moving, and wiry woman. A Peterborough resident who knew her said she was "small, as bright as a new sixpence, keen as a razor, and with a sharp tongue."

It was only a short while after the conversation between Hessie Gray and her neighbor that an almost fatal accident, if such it was, occurred at the farmhouse. Standing just outside the house, David Scollie, about to begin his daily 12-mile walk to Peterborough for his newspapers, was struck over the head by a flowerpot, that either was thrown or fell from the window about him. It left a deep gash on his head, and Scollie was obliged to remain in bed for several days.

Mrs. Gray attributed "the accident" to one of her children. The child, she said, was playing in an upstairs room, and had carelessly knocked the flowerpot from its place on the window sill.

David Scollie received little sympathy from Mrs. Gray, however. During his stay in bed, while he was recovering from his injury, Hessie Gray sharply told him that the cost and trouble of keeping him were more than the farm was worth.

"When in hell are you going to die?" she asked as she left the room.

Later, Scollie repeated her words to several neighbors. On their advice, he told Thomas Gray that was was willing to pay any reasonable sum that would cancel the agreement and return the farm to him. Gray demanded $1,300. Scollie said the amount was "ridiculous" and refused to pay it. Urged on by his wife, Thomas Gray took the matter to a Peterborough lawyer, who advised him to stick to his agreement.

Just what actually went on in the household in the days that followed is not known. However, it was rumored throughout the vicinity that David Scollie was "living in a state of fear."

And then, some time during the early morning hours of February 23, 1894, terrible death came to David Scollie. Thomas Gray was absent, having gone to Madoc to visit his brother. At the time of the tragedy the sharp-tongued Hessie Gray and her children were alone in the house with Scollie.

House on Fire

Shortly after three o'clock that morning, a farmer living near the Scollie place was suddenly awakened by the shouts of several of the Gray children, who said that the Scollie farmhouse was on fire. The farmer quickly aroused several neighbors, but when they arrived at the Scollie farm, the house was burning so furiously that no one could enter it.

Hessie Gray, half clothed, stood nearby. She told of being awakened shortly after two o'clock by the smell of smoke, and said she had aroused her children, then tried to awaken David Scollie, but flames had forced her from the house as she sought to reach his bedroom.

"He's probably burned to a cinder by now," she said.

By dawn the flames had died down and a search was made of the ruins. The first surprise in store for the searchers was the location of David Scollie's body. It was not in his bedroom, as had been expected, but was lying in a sort of grave, recently dug, in the cellar. The blanket which covered the body had been scarcely scorched.

The head of the corpse was missing!

Immediately neighbors of the dead farmer began to declare openly "that wildcat of a Hessie Gray did away with poor old Dave."

But the coroner's jury felt differently. At the inquest that followed, it was decided, despite the fact that the clothes he wore had barely been scorched, that the head of David Scollie had been severed and consumed by the fire. The finding of the body in the cellar aroused some suspicion among the jurors, but the verdict was "accidental death" and no blame was attached to Hessie Gray or anyone else.

A short while later Thomas Gray sold his farm, and with his wife and family moved to the United States.

More than a year passed. But the sinister rumors about the Scollie case continued to be heard in Otonabee Township. They finally reached the attention of the Attorney General's department and a new investigation was ordered. The body of David Scollard was exhumed and a post-mortem examination was made by two experts appointed by the provincial government.

When the experts announced their findings, John Wilson Murray, of Ontario's Criminal Investigation Branch, was ordered to find Thomas and Hessie Gray.

Detective Murray did not have much trouble in locating the Gray family. A housewife in the Peterborough area showed him a letter she had recently received from Hessie Gray. It had been sent from Ocala, Florida. With the extradition papers all in order, Murray went south and soon found the Grays.

Did Not Prosper

Thomas Gray and his family had not prospered since leaving Canada. The money realized from the sale of the Scollie farm had been spent, and the Grays were in desperate circumstances. They poverty presented a problem to Detective Murray. He had intended to return to Canada with only the parents, but he knew if he did so, the children would be left to starve.

He finally solved the problem by arresting the entire family.

It was a long trip, on the slow-moving trains of those days, and the Grays certainly did not add any comfort to the journey for Detective Murray. They cried, yelled, and shouted throughout the daylight hours. At night they snored. It was sweltering hot weather, and Murray later wrote: "The presence of the Grays could be detected by a blind man, if his nose did even half of its duty."

Finally, on July 5, 1895, Murray arrived in Peterborough with his prisoners. Eleven days later, Hessie Gray and her husband stood before the county police magistrate, charged with "murder, arson, and fraud."

The Crown attorney called several former neighbors of the Grays to the witness box, including the undertaker who had examined David Scollie's body when it was found in the ruins, and later when it was exhumed. One witness quoted Hessie Gray as having once said: "If that old Scollie don't die soon, I'll chop his head off and burn down the house.

Hessie Not Worried.

As for Hessie Gray herself, she appeared unworried. She smiled and waved at former acquaintances. In her arms she carried the latest arrival in the rapidly increasing Gray family — a 15-month-old baby. But a case was found against the Grays, and they were committed for trial.

On September 26, 1895, Hessie and Thomas Gray went on trial at Peterborough before Chancellor John Boyd.

The trial was remarkably short. The Grays were tried separately, Hessie being first. When she appeared in the dock, she still carried her baby. It was rumored she was then expecting another child. Hessie seemed more interested in gazing around the courtroom than the procedure of the trial.

Some strange evidence was heard. When David Scollie's body was exhumed, it was dressed in the same shirt, as well as the suit of underwear that was on it when found in the ruins. The neck and sleeves of the garments were little more than singed.

Dead Before Fire Reached Him

Dr. Craven, a medical witness, said it appeared almost incredible that Scollie could have been alive when the fire reached him, "as his hands were calmly crossed, whereas, if he had suffered, there would have been evidence of a struggle."

Dr. Craven had to admit, however, that he found no traces of blood on the shirt or underwear of David Scollie. Other medical witnesses for the Crown were compelled to testify that the head of David Scollie, which had never been found, could have been completely consumed by fire, if the fire had been fierce enough.

Mrs. Hessie Gray denied every charge against her, claiming that Scollie had died in the fire. As to his body being found in the cellar, she said: "It's strange — I could have sworn he was in his bedroom."

Then an unusual court procedure was proposed. After the trial had proceeded for only a few hours, Chancellor Boyd decided, with consent of the jury, to enter a plea of "Not guilty." It was done, and Hessie Gray, still smiling, was allowed to go free. The arraignment of her husband soon followed.

There was practically no case against Thomas Gray. It was proved that at the time of the fire he was 40 miles away, at Madoc. Gray was also pronounced "Not guilty."

The case was closed again without a satisfactory solution, and Hessie and Thomas Gray, who separated soon after the trial, were never again called to explain what they know about the Scollie mystery.

Ford Aids Employees Idle In Gas Shortage

WINDSOR, Feb. 13 — (CP).—Ford of Canada to-day announced a plan for financial assistance to employees who have lost more than 10 days' pay as a result of the three-week-old gas shortage. These employees may apply today for a sum equal to 2 per cent of their total 1947 earnings. The amount is chargeable against the 1948 paid vacation allowances. It is equivalent of about one week's pay. More than half of Ford's 10,800 hourly-rated employees are idle, most of them for the three weeks of the shortage. Application forms were available to-day at the Ford plant.

Say U.S. Marine Dies Prisoner In China

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13—(AP).—The Chinese Communist radio today announced one of five United States marines captured by the Reds in North China died of wounds, and it also charged the United States with active participation in China's civil war.

The broadcast confirmed rumors that one of the marines, Pte. Charles J. Brayton, was wounded fatally.

The broadcast said the five marines had "advanced against a position" of the Communists near a village north of Tsingtao Christmas Day. The United States navy had been asked to "apologize."

On previous occasions, American military personnel taken into custody in Communist territory were released unharmed after a few days. This time, said the broadcast, the four surviving marines would be treated with "clemency" on condition the United States guarantees "no recurrence."

Tries Second Holdup Killed By Police

NEW YORK, Feb. 13—(CP).—A hold-up man identified as the same one who robbed the Trans-Canada Air Lines office here of $150 last Dec. 5 was shot and killed by detectives last night in an attempted holdup of the same office.

The man, tentatively identified as Thomas Kavanaugh, 33, was slain when two detectives, stationed in the back room apparently on advance information, came out firing. One of the detectives, William Murdy, 28, was accidentally shot by his companion, Detective Terence Rogers, 40, in the struggle. He is expected to recover.

Police said the hold-up man "positively" was the same one who had held up air-lines offices in the midtown section at least four times in the last few months.

Lindsay MOH Raps Restaurants

LINDSAY, Feb. 13.—(ENS).—Dr. H. J. Gleeson, MOH, said Thursday night that sanitary conditions in hotels and restaurans in Lindsay are improving. He was speaking at the first 1948 meeting of the Lindsay board of health. Dr. Gleeson said he and Sanitary Inspector T. H. Davies had been checking eating places periodically and proprietors were conscious of the fact they were being watched. "It keeps them on their toes" said chairman Baker. Before these check-ups local restaurant owners were playing fast and loose. Even now there is hardly a decent eating place in Lindsay," he added.

Inspector Davies pointed out that milk should be served in half pint bottles as specified in the recent Provincial Act, rather than in glasses as is now the case in every local restaurant. "Milk is contaminated in the process of pouring," said the inspector, "and the practice must be stopped. The local dairies have the necessary bottles now." He also criticized what he called the unsanitary condition of soft drink dispensers.

"Many farmers say they never use pasteurized milk because they found it too thin in the restaurants," declared Dr. R. E. Lawrence, "and it is too thin. Local restauarnts are serving skim milk and country people naturally believe all pasteurized milk is thin. This is a condition that should be remedied," he concluded.

2 Cows Stage Protest At Toronto University

TORONTO, Feb. 13—(CP). — Two "cows" went to university today as students of Victoria College led the placard-bedecked bovines through the corridors of Burwash Hall residence in protest against the alleged removal of milk from the breakfast table. The cattle carried signs reading "Less Inefficiency—More Milk."

Art Bailey, student chairman of the hall committee, said the demonstration was staged to emphasize committee demands for a "hotel management expert," to re-organize dining hall service to ensure that students obtain "at least one glass of milk every meal."

W. J. Little, college bursar, said he had no comment to offer other than that "there is a proper method for students to register complaints." Grievances should be presented to the college board of regents by the students' committee.

Primate Warns Danger Of Sin

OTTAWA, Feb. 13 — (CP) — Most Rev. George Frederick Kingston, Archbishop of Nova Scotia and Primate of all Canada, continued his Lenten preaching mission yesterday declaring "We should put on the whole armor of God because we are wrestling against world doctrines."

Hundreds of Ottawans crowded into Christ Church Cathedral to hear the Anglican Primate call for a realization of the seriousness of sin.

"It might be evil thoughts, evil words, bad temper," he said "but if people persisted in bad temper or bitterness, then it is sin, and it would be well to correct ourselves in discipline.

"Only one thing will lengthen the distance between ourselves and sin and that is the Cross of Christ."

Archbishop Kingston also attended a gathering of Canadian Army Chaplains at the home of the adjutant-general, Maj.-Gen. E. G. Weeks. Among those present were Lt.-Col. C. G. F. Stone, principal Protestant chaplain, Canadian Army, and Wing Cmdr. R. M. Frayne, principal Protestant Chaplain, RCAF.

The Archbishop leaves tonight for Sault Ste. Marie.

Lakefield To Sell $17,500 Debentures

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 13—(ENS)—The sale of $17,500 village debentures was discussed by council Tuesday. These debentures cover the cost of engineer's fees, new fire engine and the heating system.

Reeve William Grant said it was unfortunate that the local Hydro is not permitted to buy local bonds, but is required to purchase Province of Ontario bonds, while the village has to "peddle" bonds to Toronto firms.

A Toronto broker offered to buy all the debentures, but his offered was not considered as $6,000 of the debentures have already been sold. The council decided that the debentures should first be offered to the local people.

Outlines Road Work

CLINTON, Ont., Feb. 13 — (CP). — Ontario Highways Minister Doucett last night told a Huron provincial by-election campaign meeting that his department last year placed 400 miles of hard surface on provincial roads and treated 2,790 additional miles in other sections.

"Dust roads must go for the health and comfort of our people and as an aid to our tourist business."

STUDIO EXPLOSION—Gloria Frampton surveys the wreckage of the assembly room at the Audio Pictures, Lake Shore Rd., Mimico, following an explosion that caused thousands of dollars damage. Film viewing light which burst was being used on bench at right. Explosion blew off part of the building room, shattered a cement-block wall and caused damage to valuable equipment. Some 30 employees left the building in seconds after alarm was given by girls.

Decline Invitations

LONDON, Feb. 13 — (AP). — Winston Churchill said last night that the British government and the labor party had declined invitations to a meeting of the "United Europe" movement. The conference will be held at The Hague May 7-10.

Carrot Prices Soar Above Normal Rate

TORONTO, Feb. 13 — (CP) — Produce dealers said yesterday that carrots normally quoted at about $1.50 a bushel wholesale, are selling here at $3.50 a bushel. Current retail prices range from three pounds for 25 cents to 10 cents a pound.

Parsnips sold at about 12½ cents a pound retail, as against about 7½ cents a pound normally charged at this time of year.

William Jamieson, fruit and vegetable consultant to the Retail Merchants of Canada, said he believed lack of imported produce had driven up the prices.

Weatherman Gets His Grey Hairs Early Trying To Outguess Meteorological Vagaries

OTTAWA, Feb. 13—(CP)—The weather still is the most unpredictable thing in the world — even the weatherman admits that.

One of the weather forecasters from the meteorological service of the Department of Transport, W. Gilmour Clark of Toronto, explained the weatherman's troubles to the Science Association here last night. And if anyone has a right to grey hairs it's the weatherman.

His troubles, said Mr. Clark, range from the problem of accuracy which forecasters have been trying to solve for years, down to public ignorance of the forecaster's job.

In the mail every morning come derisive letters telling the forecaster he doesn't know what he's talking about. Others seek forecasts weeks in advance—like the honeymoon couple that planned a motorcycle trip and wanted to know if it would rain within the next two weeks in a certain area.

On the more serious side, Mr. Clark said accuracy in forecasting still was the weatherman's hardest scientific nut. But he was improving until now he was correct on an average of eight out of every 10 days.

Fire Destroys Lab

ITHACA, N.Y., Feb. 13 — (CP) — Fire last night destroyed the high voltage laboratory at Cornell University with loss estimated unofficially at "millions" of dollars. The building, constructed in 1941, housed valuable electrical equipment.

Four Wolves Shot In Lindsay Area

LINDSAY, Feb. 13. — Game Warden Fred Walton, who was appointed Wolf Bounty Officer just six weeks ago, has already had four pelts presented for bounty from this area.

Three wolf pelts were turned in from Manvers Township, and one was presented from Somerville Township in the last two weeks. Milton Hicks shot two wolves in Manvers and G. Shea downed the other one. Wm. Sheldon, a veteran trapper from Coboconk shot the fourth wolf in Somerville near Four Mile Lake.

The provincial bounty on wolves amounts to $25, while some Townships pay an additional amount which runs as high as $15.

Says Britain Forced Take Canadian Goods

OTTAWA, Feb. 13 — (CP) — Douglas Ross (PC-Toronto St. Paul's) charged yesterday in the Commons that the only reason that Britain is taking Canadian cattle and dairy products in such large quantities was because they had long-term contracts "shoved down" their throats.

Speaking during debate on the government's foreign exchange conservation bill, Mr. Ross said:

"I submit that the only reason the poor Britons are taking our cattle and dairy products to such an extent is that these contracts were shoved down the throats of the Britons and they had to accept them on that basis in order to get wheat."

Retorted Finance Minister Abbott:

"That is not the case. If the honorable gentleman had been in Britain as I have been, within the last three or four months, he would realize that they are glad to get our bacon and beef and cheese."

Canada Gives Up Butter Imports

OTTAWA, Feb. 13—(CP)—The government has dropped the idea of obtaining butter for Canada this year from New Zealand or Australia, Trade Minister Howe told the Commons yesterday.

Mr. Howe confirmed previous reports that Canada had sounded out the two Antipodean governments on the possibility of augmenting the Dominion's stocks, but said the proposal had been abandoned when it was found the United Kingdom had heavy requirements in that area.

Originally, he said, it had been hoped that Canada could get supplies from Australia-New Zealand in the event of a possible temporary shortage in this country about April.

Mr. Howe, replying ot a question from R. E. Drope (PC Northumberland) did not disclose whether or not the government had turned to any other source.

Ottawa Groups Take Honors

OTTAWA, Feb. 13 — (CP) — Ottawa groups walked off with the acting honors in the Eastern Ontario French drama festival which ended last night as Le Caveau Players took the Challenge Trophy for the best play in the festival.

Two Ottawa performers added to the city's honors—Guy Baulne of Le Caveau winning the award as the best actor and Therese May of La Comedie Ouvelle named the best actress in the festival.

In naming the winners, adjudicator Robert Stuart listed L'Institut Canadien-Francais as the runner-up group, Albert Boucher of La Comedie Nouvelle as the runner-up actor and Mrs. Janine Dube of Le Caveau as runner-up actress.

Le Caveau's production of Regnard's classic comedy "Le Legataare Universal' received hearty praise from the adjudicator, as did Mr. Beaulne, who directed the group, for his work as the leading actor in the play.

Thirnbeck-Westran

A quiet wedding was solemnized Tuesday when Barbara Jean Westran, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Westran, became the bride of Jack Wilson (Mickey) Thirnbeck, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Thirnbeck, all of Peterbocough. Rt. Rev. Monsignor J. J. O'Brien performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a wine gabardine suit with grey accessories and had a corsage of red roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Helene Westran, wearing gray suit with black accessories and red rose corsage. Mr. Walter Bucknell was groomsman.

After a reception at the home of the bride's parents, the couple left on a trip to Toronto and points west. They will live in Peterborough.

Knox Mission Band Gets Silver Star

Nettie McKenzie Mission Band of Knox Church met in the primary room with 29 members present. Joan Dunn, president, conducted the opening ceremony and business period. Mrs. J. Donaldson was pianist.

A story was given by Carol and Christine Douglas.

The band received a large silver star from Peterborough Presbyterial secretary of mission bands, Mrs. A. M. Partridge, for having achieved the standard of recognition in its work for 1947.

As an extra project the boys and girls filled a coin folder with 20 five-cent pieces, which will help to send a Bible to those who have never seen one in their own language.

David Ross, the temperance secretary, read an item, "Make the Right Kind of Choices." Mrs. Donaldson told the story of two African boys, "Bolomba and Impoku Find a Way," from "My Story Book About the Bible." Eileen Wilson conducted the worship service, remembering Miss Margaret Halliday, a missionary in Angola, Africa, in prayer.

Donna Sinclair read the scripture. Lois Williams and Paul Ross took up the offering.

Entertain YPU At Valentine Party

A spirit of friendly comradeship prevailed Tuesday evening when Knox Young People's group entertained a sister organization from Bethel Church at a Valentine party.

The evening commenced with a hearty sing-song, led by Miss Isabel Corveth. After singing old and new favorites, all adjourned to the recreation room for games and competitions, under guidance of Jack Kidd, recreation conveneer. Music was by Mrs. Ruby Downes at the piano.

A tasteful lunch ended the pleasant evening, and was served by Misses Isabel and Beverley Carveth.

During a vote of thanks by Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt, former minister of Knox, now at Bethel Church, memories of past activities were recalled and many amusing anecdotes.

Miss Jean McIntyre replied on behalf of Knox YPU, and a further speech came from Rev. H. G. Douglas. Mr. Earl Guthrie, president of Bethel Young People's, also added thanks and expressed delight that his group had been invited, saying that he hoped to return the invitation in the near future.

Marmora Couple To Live Here

MARMORA, Feb. 13—(ENS).—A quiet wedding took place on Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Tandy, when Doris Louise was united in marriage to Douglas Edward Whan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Whan of Sharbot Lake. Rev. E. M. Cadigan of St. Andrew's United Church officiated.

The bride wore a street-length dress in blue with brown accessories, and a corsage of white chrysanthemums. Her sister, Miss Ella Tandy, was bridesmaid, also wearing blue with brown accessories, and a corsage of red rosebuds.

Mr. Everett Tandy, brother of the bride, was groomsman.

Mr. and Mrs. Whan will live in Peterborough.

CGIT SPEAKER—Miss Elizabeth Kerr of Toronto will be in Peterborough this week-end in connection with special CGIT Week activities. As secretary of the Girls' Work Board affiliated with the Religious Education Council, she will speak to the girls Saturday afternoon in the YWCA where a rally is being held, and for a special Sunday evening service at Trinity Church she will be in the pulpit and her subject will be the CGIT theme, "Here am I, Send me."

Ornamentalists Entertain

Big event of the year at the YWCA Thursday when members of the Ornamental Swimming Club were "at home" to the business girls of Peterborough proved a success beyond expectations. More than 50 guests heartily enjoyed the program. They were welcomed by Mrs. Isabel Crary, president of the club, Miss Leta Brownscombe, YWCA general secretary, Mrs. V. Currie, swimming director, and Miss Annabeth Reidel, girls' work secretary, and Miss Grace Veals, senior secretary, who operated the projector for the showing of two films.

Swimming demonstrations opened with mass formation, and ornamental figures by the girls in costume. Junior members, Marilyn McInroy, Jill Groombridge and Joan Coombes, demonstrated competitive figure diving and speed swimming, Jean Millard showed the work required for Gale trophy entrants.

Girls in flower costumes showed the smooth and gentle manner used in Canadian ornamental swimming. Another group wearing white and red Valentine costumes showed effectively the contrast of faster, noisier American synchronized swimming. Those taking part were Doreen Graham, Norma Gant, Beverley Rumary, Isabel Crary, Connie McKelvie, Margaret Buck, Jill Groombridge, Jean Millard, Mary Heffernan, Betty Dorsett, Marilyn McInroy, Mary Cockeram, Joan Coombes, Betty Mathers, Sally Weese, Joan Patterson and Elaine Humphries. Costumes are by Mrs. J. Young.

Special members of the club, welcomed during the evening, were Mrs. Vera Tasker, recently arrived from England, who is a holder of many swimming trophies and is champion swimmer of Stafford city, and Miss Sylvia Pedak, formerly of Estonia, who majors in swimmin gactivities.

After showing of two films on ornamental swimming in the Mermaid Club of Toronto, refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

The club trophy which will soon be in Dominion inter-club competition centred the tea table, placed on a large mirror, and miniature figures of diving girls, designed by the club manager, N. C. Munro, turned the reflector into a simulated swimming pool. Pouring tea were Mrs. H. C. Sootheran, convener of the YWCA committee, and Mrs. D. MacTavish. Mrs. June Storey, vice president of the Ornamental Club, was tea room hostess, assisted by Mrs. Pansy Forbes, swimming coach.

Ladies Kinsmen's Guests At Annual Dinner-Dance

Peterborough Kinsmen were making every possible effort Thursday evening, at the Kawartha Club, to show their ladies that they do not want them to be "a bunch of drudges." The speaker, Mr. Frank Peppiatt of Toronto, gave convincing enough proof that they certainly didn't look the part, corroborated by glowing compliments bestowed by Dr. Mark Crough as he proposed a toast to the honored guests. Mrs. Barbara Phillips, president of Kinette Club, responded to the tributes.

A resume, in lighter vein, of what he had learned while listening to the daytime "soap operas" and radio advertisements presented specially for housewives, led Mr. Peppiatt to believe that all women are not "naturally" beautiful, and he mentioned a few enlightening discoveries as to how the "fakes" accomplish their deceptions.

With a touch of seriousness he asked the wives to be tolerant of the activities of salesmen husbands who are called upon to be away from home so much, and to realize that no matter what their occupation they are working hard to earn that dollar, of which statistics show, they only spend 15 cents. "Guard your spending well," he warned, "for, directly or indirectly, you ladies spend 85 per cent of the money earned in Canada each year."

More advice was in regard to public relations which cannot be too highly valued. "You never know who you are meeting" is an oft-heard phrase which he demonstrated with a personal example, showing impressions of a man's firm and ability are often given to the world by people distantly associated with a member of that organization. "Ninety per cent of the people in the world are good, and 90 per cent of the other 10 per cent are in jail, so you have a fertile field to work on," said Mr. Peppiatt.

Introducing the speaker who hails from Toronto and is quite well known in this city, Mr. George Bouck spoke of his love for fishing and golfing and also of the courses in salesmanship he conducts regularly. Mr. Vern Selkirk voiced appreciation to Mr. Peppiatt, and presented a gift for his wife, who was unable to be present, in honor of ladies' night.

Mr. Jim King, Kinsmen's new president, was chairman. Presentations to a couple, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McCallum, who are leaving the city shortly, were made by Mrs. Phillips on behalf of the Kinettes, and by Mr. King for the Kinsmen.

Thanks was expressed to members of house committee, Messrs. Harry Tewsley, Harry Huff, Clarence Smith, Walker Jones and Fred Ash, chairman. Also Mrs. Hazel Ash and Mrs. Betty Gilmore for arranging the very attractive Valentine decorations.

Those present:

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ash, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Huff, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Black, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Tewsley, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Boorman, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Elliott, Dr. and Mrs. J N. Perry, Mr. and Mrs C W. Iley, Dr. and Mrs. Harold Worton, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. W. Langan, Mr. and Mrs. Jim King, Mr. and Mrs. Grant G. Morrow, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Kingston, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Langhorne, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McCallum, Mr. and Mrs. Don Loucks, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Gilmore, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Henwood, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wharry, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Putnam, Mr. and Mrs. J. Vingoe, Mr. and Mrs. N. E Elliott, Mr and Mrs Lionel Brown, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Chalmers, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Crough, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Pridham, Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ingram, Dr. and Mrs. Harvie Ball, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wisheart, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. David, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Holt

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Vanstone, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Lister, Mr. and Mrs. Norris Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry McGinness, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Jones, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Bouck, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Mervin, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Selkirk, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Coleman Jr., Mr. and Mrs Stan Hayman, Mr. and Mrs A. H Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Standish, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Doxsee, Mr. and Mrs. H. K Bletcher, Alderman and Mrs Adam Sands, Mr. and Mrs. E F. Sheehy, Mr. Howard Doolittle, Mr. and Mrs. J. A Nornabell, Mr. and Mrs A. R. Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs E. J. Bentley, Mr. and Mrs Max Tyndall, Mr. and Mrs. J. M Donnelly.

Misses Audrey Oliver, Bernadette Flynn, Doreen Sheehy, Margaret Lancaster, Messrs. Jack Lewis, Ed O'Toole, M. T. Sheehy, Bob Buchanan, Harley Weir, Walker Jones, Clarence Smith, A. A. Johnstone.

Before dancing commenced, one of the finest floor shows ever presented in Peterborough entertained the crowd, with George Bouck as M.C. Hal and Renee Marquette with their dancing marionettes, could have held the interest for hours. Their company of "actors" even included a trained seal, bouncing a ball, while perched on a stand, and the "drunken" magician was still able to turn green silk handkerchiefs red right before your eyes. Miss Joan Fairfax entertained with songs, and accompanied herself on the piano accordion.

Highly Successful Tea First Held in Army Temple

First tea to be held in the Salvation Army Temple received such gratifying response from Peterborough ladies that there may be many more such pleasant events put on schedule. Lured by the first bit of mild weather in many days, guests crowded the tea room for the opening hour, taxing facilities for serving to the utmost.

There is a strong possibility, too, that many came hoping to be entertained with the splendid music that seems always associated with Salvation Army gatherings. In this they were not disappointed, and guests artists also assisted with the afternoon's program. Two most pleasing solos were by Mrs. C. Dorrington whose accompanist was Mrs. H. Doig, and Mrs. M. Shadgett sang a sacred number with Mrs. A. B. Smith at the piano. Readings were given by Mrs. Henry Turner. Miss June Hutchinson favored with soft piano selections. Later, Miss Margaret Hooper, soloist, entertained pleasingly and she was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. P. Hooper.

Valentine hearts and cupids were everywhere and hung prettily from streamers draped on the white damask table cloth. Red roses in a silver basket centred the serving table and red tapers were in crystal holders. Presiding before handsome silver tea things at either end were Mrs. R. G. Routley and Mrs. A. B. Smith.

Quartette tables had centre arrangements of lace doilies and red roses and guests were served there by Mrs. M. Shadgett, Mrs. R. Routley, Mrs. J. Craig, Mrs. W. Lowell and Mrs. R. Jones, each wearing a heart-shaped Valentine apron. Replenishing plates were Mrs. E. Hedges, Mrs. W. Butcher, Mrs. G. Thomas, Mrs. W. Rose, Mrs. A. Wilson and Mrs. Jean Day.

At the bazaar table where fancy home baked goodies were on display with knitted articles, potted plants and miscellaneous articles, attendants were Mrs. Murray Thomas and Mrs. Kenneth Bolam, with Mrs. Ralph Braund in charge.

General convener of this event was Mrs. Mendell Braund. Decoration were the works of Mrs. R. G. Routley and assistants. The treasurer for the afternoon was Mrs. W. Jones.

Receiving at the door were Mrs. Major Watt and Mrs. S. J. Richardson.

MARY K. BIRDSALL C.O.E.

Annual meeting of the Mary K. Birdsall, C.O.E. Chapter, was held this week at the home of the regent, Mrs. H. G. Carleton, with 13 members and one guest present.

A summary of all reports read, is as follows: While the Chapter has 16 members, average attendance during the year was 14. Post War Service Fund of $41.43 was entirely spent for materials, wool and nursery bags, with a donation to the Provincial Maintenance Fund.

The general fund, raised by means of rummage sales, a cooking sale, a dance, and donations, totalled $236.87. From this, donations were made to the Shelter for a nursery picture, to the National Institute of the Blind, Princess Elizabeth Gift Fund, milk for adopted family, and for the attendance of six members at the annual convention at Hamilton, last April.

Nine scrapbooks were made and sent to the IODE Hospital for Convalescents near Toronto, to the Isolation Hospital, and to the Old People's Home at Lakefield. For the adopted family, clothing was given, and articles from a shower of tinned food, at the New Year. One layette and 14 knitted garments were completed for headquarters, while 60 garments valued at $120, and 40 items of food were sent to Britain for personal distribution. Fourteen nursery bags were filled, and two girls helped tag for the British Flood Victims.

In their training plan, the following were attended by members: Bell Telephone Open House; Municipal Annual dinner; Annual Convention at Hamilton; Public Dental Health Dinner; Regional Conference, when Provincial President and Educational Secretary were present; Children's Shelter Open House; Concert Association programs.

A conducted tour was made of the Quaker Oats plant; and one member spent three weeks with a French student at her home in Quebec, bringing her back to Peterborough for a similar stay. One member had an entry in the National Essay Contest.

New officers for 1948, are: honorary regent, Mrs. W. A. Turner; regent, Mrs. H. G. Carleton; secretary, Wilma Deyell; treasurer, Wanda Deyell; educational secretary, Mary McRae; standard bearer, Natalie Kollens; press secretary, Eleanor Carleton; 1st vice-regent, Joan Stock; 2nd vice-regent, Marie Adams.

For Empire study an essay on Australia was read. Afterward refreshments were served, and a social time spent.

Choir Banquet Much Enjoyed

Members and friends of Trinity United Church choir enjoyed a banquet and social program Thursday evening in the ladies' parlor of the church. The room was beautifully decorated in Valentine fashion, with individual heart place-cards. Chairman for the evening was choir president, Mr. Gerald Porter. Honorary president, Dr. D. Bruce Gordon, thanked the choir leader and organist, Miss M. Clarry, and the choir as a whole, for faithful service, and spoke of the large part a choir plays in every church.

The social program was under the leadership of the social convener, Miss Margaret Preston, assisted by Mrs. Bruce Gordon and Mr. Warren Stewart. Pianist for the evening was Mrs. H. V. Dobson. A hearty sing-song opened the program, followed by a comedy mixed quartette, consisting of Miss Margaret Preston, Miss Alma Blanchard, Mr. J. Ridyard, and Mr. J. Betts. Following this the group joined in a number of games under leadership of Mrs Gordon and Mr. Stewart.

Servers for the dinner were members of the Living Link Mission Circle of the Church.

Miss Joan Smith moved a vote of thanks on behalf of the Junior Choir for the invitation entended to them.

CGIT Doings

MARK ST UNITED

Members of the WMS and mothers of the girls were guests of CGIT on Wednesday evening. Opening worship, conducted by Carol Lee Ferguson and Margaret McNeely, was on the CGIT week theme, "Here Am I, Send Me." Beryl Aker, president, was in the chair for business.

Main event of the evening was the annual service of affiliation with the WMS. This was in charge of Mrs. A. M. Partridge, with Mrs. Jean Partridge, intermediate leader, Jacqueline Tyndall, Mary Excell, Dolly Starr and Audrey O'Neill taking part. Four girls, Phyllis Currie, Berdene Atchison, Marilyn Pomeroy and Joanne Hawkins, sang a quartette.

Miss Jean DeNure, appointee to 1947 camp council, talked about her experience there and later led the group in games.

Lunch was served by Dolly Starr, Audrey O'Neill, Marilyn Vint and Muriel Rome.

Mrs. G. Eason, senior leader, was pleased to see every girl in uniform and such a fine response to the invitations sent to mothers and WMS members.

Jacqueline Tyndall reported.

✧ ✧ ✧

KNOX UNITED

A sing-song led by Marion Brown, opened the meeting at Knox on Wednesday. The president conducted the worship, assisted by June Drummond, Beatrice Kay and Jean Carveth. The roll call showed 30 girls present.

Plans for attending the city-wide church service Sunday evening and for the sleigh drive next week were completed. The girls continued handiwork with shells.

FREEDOM OF WORSHIP

In Denmark citizens are entitled to congregate for purpose of worship in their own way, but nothing may be taught or done contrary to morality or public order.

IN BENEFIT—Miss Mary Anselim (left) and Miss June McDonald modelling two of the lovely Spring fashions presented at the B'nai B'rith Young Women's Council benefit show in Montreal recently in aid of their Community Chest. Over 500 attended the event with Betty Styran acting as commentator.

Fancy As They Come

Save these desserts for important parties, for they're fancy as a special dessert should be. They're turnabouts, too. The ice cream baked Alaska actually comes out of the oven, while the fluffy chiffon squares "bake" in the refrigerator!

Baked Alaska Supreme

1½ tablespoons butter
¼ cup brown sugar
1½ tablespoons flour tablespoon water
2 cups corn flakes
4 egg whites
2/3 cup granulated sugar
1 brick ice cream (one quart)

Melt butter; stir in combine brown sugar and flour. Add water and cook over low heat, stirring until temperature of 236 degrees F. is reached (cold water test, soft ball). Pour hot syrup mixture over corn flakes, stirring so that each flake is coated. Spread on wooden board, shaping into a rectangle a little larger than brick of ice cream. Beat egg whites until foamy, gradually add sugar and continue beating until stiff. Place brick of ice cream on corn flakes mixture; cover completely with meringue. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 25 minutes or until meringue is browned. Serve immediately.

Yield: 8 servings.

Pumpkin Chiffon Squares

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
2 eggs, separated
½ cup corn syrup
1¼ cups pumpkin
½ cup milk
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
2 tablespoons sugar
1 cup wheat flakes
¼ cup chopped nutmeats
2 tablespoons sugar

Soften gelatine in cold water. Beat egg yolks slightly; add corn syrup, pumpkin, milk, salt and spices. Cook over hot water until mixture coats spoon, stirring constantly; remove from heat. Add gelatine, stirring until dissolved; cool. Beat egg whites until stiff; gradually add 2 tablespoons sugar. Fold into pumpkin mixture when it begins to thicken.

Combine cereal, nutmeats, and 2 tablespoons sugar. Sprinkle ½ of mixture in the bottom of pan. Fill pan with pumpkin mixture and top with remainder of cereal mixture. Chill until firm. Cut into squares and serve with whipped cream.

Yield: 8 servings (8 x 8-inch pan).

Pancakes Make Tasty Dish Either For Breakfast, Supper

BY KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Feb. 13 (CP).—Pancake and maple syrup, pancakes and sausages--whichever way you prefer them they make a tasty dish this chilly weather--either for breakfast or supper.

Home economists suggest a new-form pancake with a modern flavor.

Wheat Germ Pancakes-- ingredients: two cups sifted all-purpose flour or 2¼ cups sifted pastry flour; 1¼ teaspoons baking soda; one-quarter cup wheat germ; one-half teaspoon salt; two tablespoons brown sugar; two cups sour milk; 1½ tablespoons melted fat.

Sift flour, soda and salt together. Add wheat germ and sugar. Add milk slowly, and beat until the batter is smooth, and then add melted fat and mix well. Drop by spoonfuls on to a hot griddle, or lightly greased frying-pan. Cook until bubbles form on top and the edges are done. Flip and cook on the other side, and serve at once. This makes about 18 cakes.

In place of two cups of flour and one-quarter cup wheat germ, 1½ cups flour, and one-half cup whole wheat flour may be used.

One way of making the family arrive for supper on time is by serving a hot main dish that you know they'll like.

Corn and Cheese Souffle--ingredients: four tablespoons fat; four tablespoons flour; one tablespoon salt; few grains pepper; one cup milk; one cup grated cheese; four egg yolks; two cups corn; four egg whites.

Melt fat, add flour, salt and pepper. Add milk gradually, stirring until thick. Add grated cheese and stir until melted. Pour over beaten egg yolks, add corn, and mix well. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into greased casserole. Oven-poach in a moderate oven until set-- about 50 minutes. Serves six.

Shepherd Souffle--ingredients: one cup left-over meat; one teaspoon minced onion; two tablespoons fat; two half-inch slices soft bread; 1½ cups hot milk; two eggs, one-half teaspoon salt; one-quarter teaspoon paprika; one cup thinly sliced cheese; one tablespoon fat; one tablespoon minced parsely.

Put meat and onion through grinder. Panfry for three minutes with two tablespoons fat. Arrange in bottom of baking-dish. Break bread into small pieces. Cut cheese into small thin slices. Combine bread, cheese, beaten egg yolks, and hot milk. Add remaining fat, parsely, salt and paprika. Let stand 20 minutes, or until ready to bake. Then fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into baking dish over meat. Oven poach in a moderate oven until set--about 45 minutes. Services four to five.

DOROTHY DIX . . . .

ROAMING HUSBANDS
Model Mate Falls But Can Be Won Back By Smart Wife

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My husband and I have been an unusually happy married couple and we have three lovely children. For twelve years he has been a wonderful husband and father, but now, without rhyme or reason, he has suddenly decided that he has fallen in love with another woman and lost his love for me. However, he still wants to stay with me for the sake of the children.

Dorothy Dix

All of this has made me miserable and confused, and I don't know what to do. Shall I hold on for a while and try to win him back, or should I make him leave and go to the one he thinks he loves? Do you think there is a chance for me to be happy again?

MRS. A. H.

◇ ◇ ◇

ANSWER: The fact that your husband doesn't ask you for a divorce indicates that he isn't certain enough of his own feelings to want to make a break with you and pass you up for the Other Woman. No doubt he is temporarily infatuated with the charmer, but when he thinks about you and the kids and the comfortable and happy home you have made him and how pleasant you have been to live with, he can't make up his mind to give it all up for the sake of any girl, no matter how young and pretty she is.

When men who have been as domestic as the house cat suddenly take to roaming, their wives think it is because their husbands have ceased to love them, but in the great majority of cases it is not true. It is only that their husbands are fed up on domesticity and want to slip the yoke a little.

Trial Separation

The wife's play in such an emergency is not to break up her home and take the children and go back to Mama, but to refuse her husband a divorce until after they have gone through a trial separation. She should make Friend Husband pack his bags and go to a hotel or boarding house to live. Let him miss the love and care and spoiling and the good cooking to which he has been accustomed, and he will be glad enough to come back to the old wife who has spent her life trying to please him, instead of going to the new wife whom he would have to spend his time and money on trying to please.

The truth is that both husbands and wives need a vacation from each other every now and then, and it would save many a divorce if many a couple, who think they have ceased to love each other, would test out their feelings by going through a trial separation.

◇ ◇ ◇

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been going with a man for about six months with whom I am much in love and I know he loves me, but we are both hot-tempered and I am afraid that that is going to break us up. He has a bad habit of insulting me in public, which hurts me greatly. My bad habit is criticizing everything he does and blaming him for everything that goes wrong.

I don't want to break with him, so will you please tell me how I can get him out of his habits? Also, how I can get rid of my temper? MIMI.

◇ ◇ ◇

ANSWER: Your description of yourself and your fiance does not seem to indicate that you would have a happy and peaceful marriage. On the contrary, it wouldn't take a fortune-teller to prophesy that you would fight your way from the altar to the divorce court. So why mess up your lives by getting married?

Certainly you cannot long love a husband who has so little respect for you and such a small regard for your feelings that he shows off by insulting you in public. Nor is any husband likely to dote on the wife who is always picking on him about little things and blaming him for all the misadventures of life.

Inasmuch as you seem to be perfectly aware of your faults and your fiance's, why not be warned in time that you will not be able to adjust yourselves to each other? It is bad enough when a man and woman are deceived in the characters of those they marry, but it is folly if they know each other's faults and still marry.

As for curing your temper, I can offer no remedy. All the high-tempered people I have ever known personally seem to enjoy getting mad.

USE NEW METHOD — Use of infra-red lamps in a machine invented and constructed by employees of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests will permit the extraction of seeds from evergreen cones in four hours, as compared with the old time of 50 hours. The machine also reduces the possibility of seed injury and provides for a more complete extraction of the seeds. This is important because the department distributes as many as 20 million seedlings a year. On the left, Mary Russell passes a basket of pine cones to Ruth Braffette for dumping into the funnel of the machine. Right shows the cones being conveyed under a battery of lamps, the heat of which opens the cones and permits release of seeds.

Entertaining In February

Theme: Hearts and flowers. Color scheme: Rosy red and white, flowers: Red roses and blue violets. Refreshments Hearty but delicious. Sentiment "Be my Valentine!"

That in a paragraph covers a Valentine's Day Party. Many hostesses streamline their parties to the dessert and beverage variety, but if you are to win your man's heart via the alimentary route, serve some of the foods that are appealing to men.

A buffet supper is probably the choice if you plan to serve a complete meal. Its informality is half its charm and with everyone serving himself, there is no servant problem.

Here are some menus from which you can choose and some recipes which your guests will enjoy:

Valentine's Day Suppers
I
Chilled Cranberry Juice
with Cheese Wafers
Assorted Appetizers
Baked Ham with Cinnamon
Apple Garnish
Escalloped Potatoes
Red Cabbage Slaw
Heart Buttered Rolls
Strawberry Jam Squares
Tea Coffee

II
Chilled Tomato Juice
Salted Wafers
Deviled Crab in Individual
Shells
Potato Chips
Hearted Buttered Rolls
Molded Vegetable Salad
Strawberry Sundae
Angle Food Cake
Tea Coffee

Cheese Wafers
¼ cup butter
2 cups soft cheddar cheese, grated
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
3 drops Tobasco sauce
3 cups oven-popped rice cereal
¾ cup sifted flour
Paprika

Blend butter and cheese thoroughly; add Worcestershire and Tobasco sauce. Roll cereal into fine crumbs, mix with flour and add to cheese mixture. Shape into rolls 1 to 2 inches in diameter; chill in refrigerator for two hours, or until firm. Slice into wafers ⅛ inch thick. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 12 minutes. Sprinkle with paprika. Serve as an appetizer or with salad.

Yield: 60 wafers (1¼ inches in diameter).

The Stars Say . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, February 14

AN exceptionally brilliant and concentrated course of action is seen, in which well-laid-out and organized plans and objectives are aided by innovations, unique ideas. Fresh ways and means of tackling ambitious projects should culminate in the hearty and enthusiastic support of those in high places. These impressed by novelty, cleverness, ingenuity and a show of indomitable "will to win." Courage, persistent efforts and constructive ability in new places should thrive.

For The Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find that a bright and shining idea, put over with zeal and determination, especially in the way of initiative, innovation and concentrated effort with daring in untried creative lines, might attract surprising support from influential sources. The emphasis must be on ingenuity, skill and originality, as well as to make a mark in some very special way for needful collaboration.

A child born on this day is excellently endowed with practical talents and skills, with originality, versatility and courage for winning support and position for an outstanding career in life.

1st St. Andrew's Brownie Pack

"Twinkle twinkle little star, Show the world what Brownies are" so sang the Brownies of 1st St. Andrew's Pack last Saturday as five Brownies were presented with service stars. One year stars were received by Lorraine and Patricia Gunn, Mary Elizabeth Collins and Jane Ovens, while Shirley Dobson received a 3-year star. Attendance of at least 75 per cent of the year's meetings is required before a Brownie can win a service star.

The Brownies spent part of their meeting making little dogs for sale at the Valentine tea and bazaar to be held Saturday and Pow-wow time was spent in practicing the songs the Brownies are going to sing at this event. Katherine Lewis passed the table setting test and has only one test left before she completes all the Golden Bar.

1st St. Andrew's Guide Company

The meeting opened with a warming-up game and marching drill. During Patrol Corners, Gwenneth Blackwell passed her Promise. The Campfire program was in charge of the Canary Patrol who provided many amusing and interesting items.

3rd All Saints' Brownie Pack

Held their regular meeting on Friday night and spent most of the time on test work. The following tests were passed: Darning, Darlene Allen; Flags, Sandra Mitchell, Barbara Mouck, Kathleen Gabbutt, Lenore Gross.

All second class Brownies have now passed the knot test. A new game was played and very much enjoyed during the meeting. Each six was given a nursery rhyme to act out and this proved very entertaining and unearthed a good deal of acting ability.

3rd All Saints' Guide Company

In place of their regular meeting this Company held a jolly sleigh-ride and returned to the Parish Hall for soup and doughnuts. Each Guide brought one girl as a guest for the evening and everyone voted the outing a great success.

The Brownies and Guides of 3rd All Saints' along with the Cubs and Scouts of that church are holding a church parade on Sunday evening to mark the beginning of Boy Scout-Girl Guide Week.

4th Salvation Army Brownie Pack

Congratulations to Brownie Leaders Nina Craig and Nola Smith who received their official warrants recently. We understand that this is the first time in the history of Peterborough Salvation Army that two Brownie leaders have received warrants.

This Pack is holding a sleigh ride on Friday night and the Brownies are asked to meet at the Salvation Army Hall at 6.30 p.m. sharp.

4th Salvation Army Guide Com'y

Before three brightly burning candles Margaret Parnell and Jean Ward made their Promise to Captain and received Guide Pins.

6th St. Luke's Guide Company

At the regular meeting of this Company the following tests were passed: 2nd class nature and 2nd class first aid, Geraldine Williams; Tenderfoot, Eleanor Biddle and Eleanor Watson.

During Campfire the Legend of St. George was read by Lieut. and Brown Owl Frances Legon who was a visitor taught the Guides a new song.

Ways of Helping Community Discussed by Buckhorn WI

BUCKHORN, Feb. 13. — The Buckhorn Women's Institute held its February meeting at the home of Mrs. R. Northey with the 1st vice-president, Mrs. R. Montgomery, presiding and 17 members present. The roll call was, "What can we do to help the community?" and the answers emphasized the importance of friendliness and neighborliness.

A letter from the Children's Aid Society asking permission for a representative to give a ten-minute talk on their work at the March meeting was read. It was left with the secretary to make the necessary arrangements. Mrs B. Hall read a portion from the Handbook on program planning It was decided to send away for two handbooks so that members could study the mand know the rules and regulations of their organization.

The topic was, "Relief and Community Activities." Mrs. McKenty read a paper which stressed the directing of young people to see and love the beautiful so that loving beauty they would make their homes and community beautiful, and by asking young people to help in the activities of the community their interest in it would grow. Mrs. G. Harrison read a portion from the book, "Heart of Gold," by Ruth A. Brown. It told of a widow and her seven children who through the kindly interest of a lame girl and the help of a community organization became conscious of the value of cleanliness and right social conduct, and so became worthy members of their community.

After repeating the institute creed, the hostess and her assistants served a dainty lunch and a social time was spent.

AID THE CHILDREN — If this Chinese boy could be sure of receiving one bowl of rice a day, he would consider himself fortunate. Because of the food lack in China, thousands of children are dying. Millions are diseased. In all of China there are only two hospital to care for children. It is the purpose of the Canadian Appeal for Children to bring food and medical supplies to destitute boys and girls. Canada's quota has been set at $10 million dollars.

Power Ban Continues

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 13—(CP). —Power conservation measures which went into effect in Ontario last October may continue until 1950, H. D. Rothwell, regional director of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, said yesterday. He told a public meeting the curtailment rules probably would be relaxed during the spring and summer and tightened again next fall.

Wheat Board Payment

OTTAWA, Feb. 13 — (CP). — The Canadian Wheat Board has been authorized to make a fixed and final profit participation payment of 50 cents a bushel to producers who have or will deliver commercial flaxseed during the 1947-48 crop year, Trade Minister Howe announced yesterday in the Commons. The payment will inmately $6,000,000 to Canadian producers.

Find Canadian Role In Sicily More Important Than Planned

By ROSS MUNRO.

OTTAWA, Feb. 13 — (CP). — The First Canadian Division in Sicily successfully carried out, in its first campaign, a far more important role than was originally intended.

By making a long left-hook through mountainous central Sicily and then, with the British 78th Division, banging down on the German anchor defences on the south-western slopes of Mt. Etna they broke the last main enemy line. The campaign then rapidly wound up.

Army reports which will probably be made public shortly, support this view.

Fighting with the First Division was the Three Rivers Tank Regiment of the 1st Armored Brigade. The other two regiments in the Brigade—the Calgarys and the Ontarios—were with the British to the east.

In the original plan, the Canadians' role was to be fairly easy. They had not been in battle before and the Eighth Army fitted them into a spot between the main British force and the American Seventh Army.

If everything had gone according to plan, it would have been a somoth and comparativcly painless introduction to war.

But a few days after the Eighth Army, including the Canadians, landed on the Pachina Peninsula on the south-eastern tip of the island, the British forces, fighting their way up the eastern coast, were stopped completely.

Changed Tactics

When the holdup occurred south of Catania, the then General Sir Bernard Montgomery altered his tactics.

He ordered the Canadian Division, commanded by Maj.-Gen. Guy Simonds and at that time making a steady advance through the centre part of Sicily, to hit eastward hard for the Mt. Etna line at Adano.

With this piston-stroke from the west, he hoped to relieve the pressure on the British divisions, in front of which was concentrated the main German force.

Plan Worked

The manoeuvre worked. Once the defence bastion at Adano was shattered the whole front folded up. The Canadians' job was done and they immediately went into rest camps on the Catania Plains.

But the victory had been achieved at considerable cost, considering the original intention to east the Canadians into battle.

The start of the campaign was a near-bloodless affair. The division had sailed from the Clyde in Scotland directly to the Mediterranean and joined the Eighth Army at sea, between Malta and Tripoli.

Then at dawn on July 10, 1943, the Canadians landed on the Pachino Beaches. The chief hazard was the stormy sea which had whipped up suddenly 12 hours before and nearly led to the attack being postponed.

The 1st and 2nd Brigades assaulted the beaches and met only sporadic machine gun fire and some shelling. The 3rd Brigade was in reserve. The Canadians pushed rapidly inland, with the Italian coastal forces breaking up rapidly. There were some skirmishes, but they were not important.

Four or five days later, driving hard inland towards Enna in the heart of Sicily, the division met the Germans for the first time, and from then on the campaign became increasingly tough.

The really rugged and costly fighting started south of Leonforte, where the Canadians switched to the east on the drive to Mount Etna, and from then on each day brought a fierce struggle in the scorching Agira Valley, through towns such as Nissoria, Regalbuto, and Agira.

Englishwomen Like HusbandsWithTemper

LONDON, Feb. 13.—(CP). — Englishwomen like husbands to "show their temper now and then," Mrs. L. J. Norman, London housewife, said in a letter to the Daily Mirror.

"My kind sympathetic neighbors seem to think that because my husband has a temper and lets off steam now and again they should shed a few tears for me.

"On the contrary I admire my husband for having the guts to show he has a temper. I wouldn't like a man who was too afraid of what 'they' may say or think to challenge me.

"I think most Englishwomen are the same."

Glider Expert Killed

ALTON, Hampshire, England, Feb. 13 — (CP). — Sqdn. Ldr. Robert Kronfield, 43, Vienna-born glider expert who helped plan many of Britain's big wartime glider operations, was killed yesterday when a tail-less glider he was piloting overturned and crashed soon after being released from a towing aircraft. A supply ministry observer, flying with him, parachuted to safety.

RUSSIA TALKS — This photo shows a recent meeting of the Allied Control Council in Berlin, attacking the U.S. and Great Britain for their joint administration of their occupation zones of Germany. Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky, military governor of the Soviet zone, warned that the Western Allies would be responsible for "very serious consequences" that might grow out of their attempt to "split" Germany. Sokolovsky is shown at extreme right, facing camera. American military governor Gen. Lucius Clay (arrow) and his advisors are at left. British advisors are in foreground.

Austerity Worries Many U.S. Tourists

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 13 — The impression appears to be spreading in the United States that Canada has adopted an austerity program similar to that in Great Britain, and that American tourists may feel it if they came to Canada this summer on vacations.

W. H. A. Sparling, secretary of the St. Thomas Department of Industry and a director of the Lake Erie International Vacationland Conference, reported today that he found this feeling in Chicago during a business visit there. Business men asked him about Canada's austerity program and how it was affecting living conditions.

The new tariff regulations introduced by the Dominion Government, which have stopped the importation of numerous American products, seems to have given this impression. The St. Thomas Chamber of Commerce is taking up the matter with the view to starting a movement to counteract this false impression through publicity.

Foundry Head W. Harty Dies

MONTREAL, Feb. 13 —(CP)— Funeral service for William Harty, executive vice-president of Canadian Car and Foundry Co., Ltd., who died in hospital yesterday, will be held here tomorrow at St. Patrick's Church. He was 69 years old.

A prominent Montreal sportsman, Mr. Harty was a director of the Montreal Canadiens Hockey Club. He was a holder of the C.B.E., and the Croix de Guerre with Palm.

Son of the late Hon. William Harty and the former Katie Bermingham of Kingston, he received his education at Kingston Collegiate Institute and Royal Military College.

On graduation from R.M.C., he worked two years in the Pittsburgh Locomotive Company shops and then took a postgraduate course in locomotive work at Purdue University.

From 1904 to 1908 he worked in the shops of the Canadian Locomotive Company at his native Kingston and in 1909 was appointed machine shop foreman of that company.

In 1924 he was appointed president of the Locomotive Company.

Mr. Harty, who joined Canadian Car and Foundry in 1941, was chairman of the board, Canadian Locomotive Company, Ltd., and a director of the Wabasso Cotton Co. Ltd., Three Rivers; Quebec Gold Mining Corporation, Foundation Company of Canada Ltd., Montreal; the Foster - Wheeler Corporation of New York, and International Utilities, New York.

Following funeral services here tomorrow morning, the body will be taken to Kingston for funeral service at St. Mary's Cathedral, Monday.

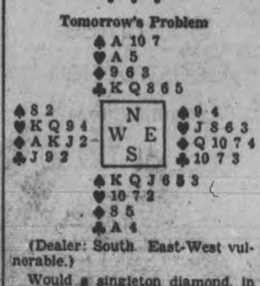
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

YOU MUST HELP HIM

EVEN THOUGH your hand contain nothing but smallish cards, it is incumbent upon you to play them so as to give your partner the best possible guidance in use of his better cards. That ought to be obvious to anyone who would essay such a game as bridge, but in many cases it is not. Especially in a duplicate tournament, a defensive player should try to keep his mind on the target his side should hit—the number of tricks by which the declarer must be set in order to produce a good score in comparison with probable results at other tables.

(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 ♣	2 ♣
3 ♣	Dbl



West's bid of the opponents' suit was of course artificial, a gigantic informative double calling for a takeout and indicating to his partner that he thought the side was sure to have a game in some declaration. North's 3-Clubs call was naturally a barrier bid to impede the strong opponents, and East's double patently called for setting South more points than a game would be worth.

West scored the spade K and A and, getting a low-high from East, did likewise with his diamond tops, on which East again gave a discouraging low-high. Being able to see the dummy, West knew hearts could not be desired by East, so switched to his single club. South then seized his chance. He took that club with the A, also cashed the K, then led the heart 10. West came in with the A and—for a second time—failed to return a diamond. He led the heart Q to knock out the K.

South next brought the heart 7 to the 9, forcing the J. West now held one spade, one heart and two diamonds, all small. He made the execrable return of the heart. South ruffed with dummy's club Q and discarded a diamond. Then he led the club 5 and finessed the 8 against East's 10-7. The J dropped the 10 then and the diamond Q got the last trick. So he was set only two tricks—a bad score for the defense.

Tomorrow's Problem

Would a singleton diamond, in place of the doubleton, be of any value to South on this deal? If so, in what way?

$156,000 OPPORTUNITY
Here are your prospects — Every Building Owner, from a small shed to a giant factory. Amazing product used by Army, Navy and many large companies. Saves up to 75% on essential building repair. Astonishing demonstration gets story across fast—makes selling easy. Average order $110.00—commission 30%. Two average orders a day pay well over $300.00 a week. No wonder C. H. Libbey has made $62,019.51 with us in five years. J. H. Peacock earned $6,220.46 in just five months. Exceptional? Sure— but there's big money for you, too, if you're ambitious. All you do is write the orders — we handle deliveries, collections, and give credit. Just like being in your own business—except no risk and no investment. If you're 30 or over, better get the facts now. Write: The Vice-President, Dept. C-1, P.O. Box 789, Fort Worth 1, Texas.

AN OPPORTUNITY
Established Rural Watkins District available if you are aggressive and between the ages of 25 and 55, have or can secure travel outfit, this is your opportunity to get established in a profitable business of your own. Sees Greater Bloodshed After UN In Palestine

HALIFAX, Feb. 14—(CP).—Arthur Creech Jones, British Colonial Secretary, left here today for Lake Success to discuss Britain's stand on the Palestine question—a question he told reporters here was fraught with danger. A fellow passenger aboard the liner Aquitania, arriving here last night, was Brig. J. V. Allard, CBE, DSO, Canadian military attache at Moscow for the last two years, en route to assume military command at Quebec. The Canadian soldier said his contacts with Russian officials behind the so-called "iron curtain" were few and far between but his movements had not been restricted.

Creech Jones predicted greater bloodshed in Palestine, where 1,161 have died in fighting since announcement of the partition plan in November.

He also expressed opinions on the possibilities of confederation between Canada and Newfoundland and of closer co-operation among British West Indian islands.

Brig. Allard, who arrived at Moscow at the time of the espionage trials in Canada, said there 'was no mention of them to me." Foreign military staffs in Russia had little contact with officials of the foreign department but there were no official restrictions on travel either in Moscow or to any part of Russia.

Creech Jones told reporters:

"We have fully co-operated with U.N. in every possible way and have given them much practical help but the proposed arrival of the Commission in Palestine will be the occasion of fiercer conflict."

Until Britain's withdrawal deadline, Aug. 1, "we will not enforce on Arabs or Jews a policy which one or the other actively resists."

Referring to the Newfoundland convention's rejection of confederation with Canada as a possible future form of government for the old colony, he said any British action in the matter would be "largely conditioned" by the wishes of the people concerned. He declined to comment when a reporter said that more than 49,000 Newfoundlanders have petitioned the British government to insert the question of confederation on a referendum ballot, tentatively scheduled for May.

Two Tornadoes, Blitz U.S. Cities

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—(AP).—Angry elements, lashing out across wide sections of the United States brought death and injury to scores, caused heavy property damage and left thousands homeless today.

Five died in two tornadoes which twisted through East Central Mississippi yesterday. More than a score were injured and 32 homes destroyed.

Thousands fled their homes in the south, in parts of Ohio and West Virginia as turbulent waters from rain and snow-swollen rivers and streams flooded lowlands.

The Red Cross in the south prepared for an emergency in view of the flood peril. National Guards in some States were on the alert. Many communities in the flood belt were virtually isolated.

Rain, sleet, freezing rain and snow fell from the Rockies to the North Atlantic Seaboard. A fresh mass of cold air moved into the Northern Plains and temperatures dropped rapidly—to below zero in some regions.

$100,000 Damage In Montreal Blaze

MONTREAL, Feb. 14—(CP)—Water damage estimated at about $100,000 was caused when fire broke out on the fifth floor of a six-storey building on downtown Acqueduct St. early today. It was the third serious fire within six hours in the Montreal area.

The fire was not a large one and firemen put it out with a single hose but a score of sprinkler heads went off throughout the building, used by several manufacturing companies, and water and smoke caused damage to the basement.

Another blaze damaged a large garage in suburban Ville St. Michel and Montreal firemen had to be called before the flames could be subdued.

Don't Expect To Raise House Rents

Deny 10 Per Cent Increase Likely Effective On May 1

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 — (CP). — High government officials said last night they saw no immediate prospect of an increase being granted in the ceilings on residential rents, although they conceded that this control has come up periodically for review along with other goods and services still being restricted.

However, rentals have not recently been discussed, they added.

The comment was made in connection with reports which circulated yesterday that an increase of around 10 per cent is "likely" in the rental ceilings effective from May 1. Another report said the cases of landlords who heat apartments and duplexes were under consideration.

It was learned, however, that there has ben no discussion on rentals in the cabinet, which might conceivably make the first move towards a jump in the rentals ceiling if that was felt necessary.

One source suggested the reports of a possible increase were in the nature of "sasonal" speculation arising with the approach of the spring moving season.

This official said he thought it unlikely that the government would increase ceilings at a time when there was public clamor against the rising cost of living and a special parliamentary committee was probing the causes of that increase.

Negro Wins Acquittal In Kingston Stabbing

KINGSTON, Feb. 14.—(CP).—Leon Stafford, 24, of Waycross, Ga., was acquitted late yesterday of a murder charge arising from the fatal stabbing of 22-year-old Gerald Harrison of Toronto in a scuffle over raising the odds in a dice game here last August.

The trial was the second for Stafford, a negro who served in the United States navy during the war. A jury disagreed at the first trial last October.

'I consider you a very lucky man," Mr. Justice G. F. McFarland of the Ontario Supreme Court told Stafford after spectators in the crowded court room cheered announcement of the verdict. "I hope you have learned your lesson."

With tears streaming down her cheeks, Stafford's mother, brought here by a group of Kingston citizens who contributed money for her railway fare, thanked the jurors for their verdict and shook hands with several of them. Then she pushed her way through the court room crowd to embrace her smiling son.

Sleet Storm Casualty List

Five in hospital with broken arms or legs, or other injuries.

A 25-minute power interruption caused by a break in the transmission line between Peterborough and Belleville.

City bus service immobilized for two and a half hours.

Inter-urban bus line schedules disrupted, some trips cancelled.

Basketball game at YMCA cancelled—Belleville team did not arrive.

City taxi service suspended for several hours.

Numerous minor injuries sustained by pedestrians who fell on the icy streets, or roads.

Stores, barber shops, restaurants, forced to use candles when power failed.

Ambulance carrying patient pushed across intersection by pedestrians, when ice stalled it.

Several cars abandoned on highways when they skittered into the ditch.

Garages have busy time giving towing service, swamped with calls between five and six o'clock.

Numerous dinged and scraped fenders in downtown traffic jams.

District commuters forced to stay in hotels overnight when busses did not run.

Tire Plant Fire

ST. CATHARINES, Feb. 14 — (CP). — Damage was estimated at $25,000 in an early morning blaze at the Botsford Tire Company vulcanizing plant here today. Discovered by employees of a nearby plant, they laid a line of hose to the flames before city firemen arrived and assisted greatly in keeping damage at a minimum. Only a few of the large stock of tires carried were destroyed. The blaze was believed to have started in a men's washroom.

Softening Ice Delays Skating; Barbara Ahead

DAVOS PLATZ, Switzerland, Feb. 14 — (CP). — Softening ice today forced postponement of the world's figure-skating championships after Barbara Ann Scott took a decisive lead in the compulsory-figures phase of the event.

The thaw came at the lunch interval after the fourth of the six compulsory figures had been skated. At that point Barbara Ann led the British champion, Jeannette Altwegg, with 632.3 points to 622.3 for Miss Altwegg.

The remaining compulsory figures will be skated tomorrow, along with the free-style events.

In third place was Eva Pawlik of Austria with an unofficial 612.6

Toronto's Suzanne Morrow, who came third with Wally Distelmeyer of Toronto in the world pairs event earlier in the week, held eighth place with an unofficial 579.3. But Marilyn Ruth Take of Toronto dropped to 10th place with 565.5. Earlier she had been ninth.

Miss Pawlik shone on the third figure — the bracket - change - bracket — to pass Jirina Nekolova and move into the third spot. Miss Nekolova was fourth with an unofficial 582.8, Shirley Adams of London fifth with 590.3 and Yvonne Sherman of New York sixth with 588.4.

Barbara Ann was defending the world championship she won in Stockholm last winter. She wore the same costume as yesterday — a grey-blue outfit with a white cap and gloves.

Barbara Ann gained her current advantage yesterday immediately after Dick Button of Englewood, NJ, came from behind and won the men's world figure skating crown.

After the men left the ice, two of the six school figures in the women's event were held. Barbara Ann completed these with an unofficial count of 340.3. Jeannette Altwegg of England was next with 336.1.

Button, who won the men's figure-skating title with ease in the Olympic games, staged a flawless display of free-style skating to win the world crown from Switzerland's Hans Gerschwiler, the defending champ.

Planes Drop Leaflets To Save U.S. Marines

SHANGHAI, Feb. 14 (AP). — United States marine planes dropped leaflets today in Chinese Communist areas near Tsingtao in an effort to open negotiations for release of four marines held by the Reds.

A spokesman for the United States embassy said the navy was in contact with the Communists and "is doing everything possible to arrange their release."

The Chinese Communist radio, in a broadcast picked up by the Associated Press in San Francisco, confirmed yesterday that five marines were captured Christmas day and one of them had died of wounds. The Reds charged the marines with aiding government troops in an engagement north of Tsingtao, in North China.

Rain-Maker Here

OTTAWA, Feb. 14—(CP). —A rain-making scientist from "down under" arrived in Ottawa yesterday. Accompanied by his wife, Dr. J. L. Pawsey of Sydney, Australia, came to Ottawa to confer with National Research Council authorities on "rain-making" and other scientific experiments.

Weatherman Says Worse Yet To Come

Report Transportation Badly Disrupted Across Province

TORONTO, Feb. 14 — (CP). — With one motorist dead, transportation systems tied up and power facilities in some places disrupted Ontario today faced prospects of still worse weather as cold winds moved in from the north.

Already the province's highways had been iced-over, and its power lines sheathed with ice by last night's cold rain — a prelude to snow predicted for today.

At Wingham Theatre Manager Rex Ostrander died last night en route to hospital after his automobile crashed into a snowbank.

All inter-city bus schedules were disrupted as a result of the rain-glazed roads. At Peterborough, 200 passengers were stranded overnight. In Toronto weekend bus travellers were sent home after a major bus company announced half its service had been cancelled for the night.

Narrow Escape

Some 1,200 dancers at a night spot just west of here faced the prospect of sleeping on the dance floor until a nearby resident, awakened by noisy automobile horns, sanded a roadway so that they could get the cars onto the highway.

Ice snapped hydro lines at Lindsay and plunged the community in an hour of darkness. Several persons at Brantford escaped serious injury when their car skidded over a 14-foot embankment and in a three-car accident in the same city John Thompson, his wife and daughter suffered minor injuries. Four persons were injured at Barrie and $2,000 damage was caused to a bus in a highway accident.

The highways department broadcast a warning against non-essential travel. Airline flights out of Windsor and Toronto were cancelled.

Canada Speeds Immigration To New Homes

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP)—The speeding up of examination in Europe and the increasing availability of shipping space to the Dominion is finding Canada with a rapidly-increasing immigrant population.

With more than half of its 73,000 total made of people of the British Isles, the 1947 influx swelled into a "new citizens" bumper crop, seeded by most of the European countries as well as the United States.

Excelling its 1947 predecessor will be the 1948 figure, predicts the deputy minister of mines and resources, Dr. H. L. Keenleyside. With emphasis now on the British Isles, two new immigration offices will shortly be opened at Glasgow and Belfast to bring more Scottish and Irish immigrants to Canada and to take the strain from the London and Liverpool offices now functioning.

By May, Canada hopes to have 22,000 displaced persons in the country. About 8,000 of these already have arrived.

Figures released by the department of mines and resources today show that the British Isles accounted for more than half of the number entering the Dominion last year.

While Britain provided Canada with 38,747 immigrants, oddly enough, United States came in second place with 9,440. Total immigration from northern Europe numbered 5,482, including 3,192 Dutch. Other races contributed 10,458 new Canadians, the latest individual group being 2,610 Poles.

Plant Two Bombs

JERUSALEM, Feb. 14 (Reuters)—Covered by automatic rifle fire of Jewish forces, Jewish squads early today planted two bombs beside a house owned by Haj Amin el Husseini, exiled mufti of Jerusalem. The blast demolished one room and damaged the doorway. The nephew of the mufti was in the house at the time of the explosion but was uninjured.

So You're Not Superstitious?

Of course popular apprehension of occasional calendar conjunction and the 13th day of the month is silly superstition, beneath the notice of intelligence.

Certainly there was no occult significance in the strange happenings which befell Peterborough Friday Feb. 13, 1948. Reason asserts that they could have occurred just as naturally on Tuesday the 17th or Thursday the 26. But they didn't, and there's the rub.

People who were abroad late Friday afternoon are not going to be persuaded of any validity its 13th jinx, but many of them are going to remember a long time the inconvenience, the bumps and bruises, a few the fractures that tended to give some clear color of truth to the immemorial warning to watch your step in faring forth, or even staying within the haven of home, on any Friday the 13th.

Any way, it is only the evidence of the weather that may be adduced in support of that notion, and the weather is full of vagaries, capable of prankish tricks in its lighter moods.

Friday afternoon ticked along normally and mildly, and an innocent sleet caused no sense of disturbance in its first appearance. But the sleet froze as it fell, thickened to rain, coated the snow-cleared sidewalks and pavements with the slipperiest of ice, stalled and tangled traffic, halted motor cars and pedestrians, put out the city lights for half an hour, caused hours of business and domestic confusion, delayed or cancelled routine home-comings at the end of the day, and sportively tangled up the whole community show.

Some hundreds of citizens were left stranded down town between 5 and 7 p.m. The buses had winged a wary way to the barns; taxis were hallooed off the street; and pedestrians were left to leg it, to all parts of the city, and in the rain, and in danger of falling at every step.

Few were as calm and philosophic as the musican down in the McKellar neighborhood who brushed off the the hike ahead of him with the remark: "The walk will do me good." Hotel and restaurant kitchens and dining roms were cast into darkness, and not a light was left in the theatres by the power severance. And all the rather comic phenomena of the weather could have happened any day of the week. Still, even the pooh-poohing public may be somewhat inclined to harbor the notion of the Friday the 13th jinx after all the disturbance to routine living in this latest coincidence.

Drivers of all kinds of chainless vehicles put on an impromptu and unstudied show in the rain at every downtown corner, and along the blocks. The traffic lights were blacked out with consequently great caution and circumspection at the intersections. One of the brave stories of the early evening was that of the truck that took an hour and three-quarters to snail its way up town from the Nashua Paper plant. Really, no one greatly blamed the buses for beating it to the barn around six o'clock, but all the same some mild maledictions were heard from groups of dampened pedestrians huddled at street corners as the expected and wonted service passed them by.

"The taxi office might at least answer their telephones," said a girl at 10 p.m., who was wondering what she was going to do for a friend arriving on this morning's early C.P.R. train from Ottawa. "May be the city'll have the streets sanded by then?" she asked, much too hopefully. But, that's like hope, it hangs onto every little peg.

Bread-Baking Industry Probed Across Canada

OTTAWA, Feb. 14—(CP).—The bread-baking industry of eastern and central Canada likely will be investigated by the Commons Price Probe Committee when it launches its inquiry into causes of increased bread prices, it was learned today. It probably will be held at the same time as another inquiry under the Combines Investigation Act is being carried out into the bread-making industry of Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

In this way, information on the whole industry will be gathered, with the committee itself likely looking into the situation in Manitoba later.

Health Minister Martin, committee chairman, said in an interview last night that the western inquiry in no way tied the hands of the committee here. It can go ahead with its probe simultaneously with the combine commissioner's inquiry.

The committee also is considering extending its inquiry into holdings of butter in warehouses and cold storage plants during the last year.

Mr. Martin again has reiterated his contention that the committee probe is no witch hunt.

"We are not out to get anyone—we are out to get the facts," he said.

If the committee finds there is no profiteering or no hoarding which have boosted prices, then that will be fine in his opinion.

The committee does not sit today but meets Monday morning at 11 a.m. EST, with Fred McGregor, commissioner under the Combines Investigation Act, scheduled to be the first witness.

It is likely that Graham Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada, Labor Minister Mitchell and possibly Agriculture Minister Gardiner also will be called.

$85,000 BLAZE

TORONTO — More than 30 residents of three dwellings in west-central Toronto were evacuated from their homes when a two-alarm fire destroyed the Liberty Ornamental Iron works. Damage was $85,000.

German Officials Demand Greater Share of Power

FRANKFURT, Feb. 14—(AP)—The British and American military governors today heard demands from top German officials for more power in running occupied Western Germany.

Leaving a two-hour conference, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American governor, told reporters the demands "had mostly already been taken care of by the progress of events."

He explained that the German proposals, contained in a memorandum written two months ago, were superseded by the reorganization of the combined Anglo-American zones. This expanded the powers of the German administration.

Both he and Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, his British counterpart, appealed to the Germans for greater co-operation.

This apparently referred to growing open criticism of occupation policies by the German leaders.

Clay said the conference centred primarily on "ways and means for simplifying import-export procedure to get imports into Germany."

German and Anglo-American officials will continue joint discussions on coal production and transport next week.

Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Russian commander, yesterday ordered an economic commission set up for his zone in Eastern Germany.

The German note to the west Allies says Germans should be given a bigger part in making decisions on German production and foreign trade.

After Clay and Robertson go over these proposals with the Germans, they are expected to discuss them with their own department heads in Frankfurt.

Cars, Buses Trapped At Rush Hour

Hundreds Stranded As Taxis, Buses Called Off Streets

Winter took one long look at shivering, cowering Peterborough Friday aid decided there must be something else he could find to torment the citizenry, in celebration of Friday the 13th.

He found it.

In mad succession, he unleashed moderating weather, then driving rain, then near-freezing temperature. The effectiveness of the campaign came with a thud —literally—to hundreds of city motorists and pedestrians as they emerged from factories and offices at five o'clock to be met with glaring, treacherous ice forming a sea of glass on streets and sidewalks.

The combination of hard-packed snow and ice base, rain and then the freeze formed an unbeatable line-up of nature at her meanest.

Results: One of the longest power cut-offs in recent years, traffic snarls and accidents galore, injuries to the limbs and dignities of c ns of walkers, disruption any services and transpo , and a thousand-and-one little items to commemorate the "big sleet."

The power cut-off, it is reported, resulted from ice-formation on power lines outside the city. After a few trial "dim-outs" shortly after five o'clock, the blackout—complete even to the street lights—came at 5.45 and lasted until 6.15. Restaurants, hotels and beverage rooms had to operate as best they could by candlelight—or just sit in the dark and wait. Stores were placed in embarassing positions with customers standing next to loaded counters. The scramble for candles, flashlights, matches and lanterns added to the "fun."

Cars Out of Control

On the streets, cars, buses, transports and other vehicles inched their way along, sliding crazily on sloping iced-sides of the main thoroughfares, not daring to attempt any speed for fear of crashing into the rear of the vehicle ahead. Wheels churned helplessly on the velvet-smooth surfaces, while the cars seemed to

Arab Strategy Taking Shape

LAKE SUCCESS, Feb. 14 (AP) —The Arab diplomatic strategy against United Nations partition of Palestine was taking shape here to-day.

The first major test will come in the Security Council, perhaps within a week. The Palestine Partition Commission is completing a special report to the Council on the necessity for military force in splitting the Holy Land. Receipt of that document will open up the long-awaited Council debate.

The first Arab step probably will be to ask the Council to refuse help in carrying out partition on grounds the whole plan is ilegal. Also stressed would be the argument that the Assembly made only a recommendation and the Council is free to accept or reject it.

Send Gale Warnings To Atlantic Shipping

HALIFAX, Feb. 14— (CP). — Shipping, already storm-lashed in the North Atlantic, was warned to-day of gales in the Newfoundland area by the Dominion Public Weather Office at Halifax. In the gale area were two limping freighters, the British Clunepark with deck and propellor damage and the Boston City, with engine trouble. Both hoped to make St. John's before the blow became serious.

All flying at the big Trans-Atlantic air base at Gander, Nfld. was cancelled.

Consider Ban On Entry Of U.S. Reds

Early Cabinet Action Expected To Halt Communist Arrivals

OTTAWA, Feb. 14. (CP)—Possibility of a ban on the entry of Communists from the United States is under study by the Canadian government.

Authoritative quarters said today early cabinet action on such a prohibition hinges on whether administration experts can find authorization for the move in existing legislation.

One well-informed source said an announcement on the Dominion's position might be expected shortly.

The prospective Dominion action came in the wake of reports from the United States that the anti-Red Taft-Hartley labor legislation of that country was forcing Communists in unions to transfer their activities to Canada in large numbers.

Concern of federal officials over Communist domination of several big Canadian unions was reported as sharpened by the new influx—or the threat of one—into labor groups in the Dominion.

Another spur to federal anti-Red action was an apparent decision by the United States immigration authorities to bar suspected Canadian Communists from crossing the border into that country.

Turned Back

While the US has made no announcement of such a policy, it has been known in labor quarters for some time that reputed Reds trying to get from this country to the US—even for such brief excursions as labor conventions—are being turned back at border points.

Within the cabinet, there were reported to be two schools of thought on the question of excluding Communists, and it was understood thtat a definite decision had not yet been reached on the issue.

Some members were known to feel not only that Reds should be excluded from Canada altogether, but that the government had enough authority to keep them out under legislation now on the statutes.

Another view—and that of Resources Minister Glen, in charge of immigration—is that there is some doubt as to whether current legislation provides for the barring of Communists. Legal experts now are exploring this point.

Though possible federal anti-Communist action has been rumored for several weeks, it came into the open only yesterday when Solon Low, Social Credit leader, asked Prime Minister Mackenzie King in the Commons what action the government planned in the light of U.E. reports that the Taft-Hartley measure was driving Communists into Canada.

Mr. King said at first that the matter "will receive attention." Under further questioning by Mr. Low, he went beyond that and said the question of Communists entering Canada "has been under consideration by the department of immigration and also, to a limited extent, by the government."

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Sept. 14 — (CP). — Oats and barley futures showed a better tone yesterday on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, reflecting recoveries in Chicago grain prices and a better appearance on American commodity markets. Liberal selling was in evidence in early trade, but late buying by shippers and processors rallied. Trading was moderately came into the market and prices active, nervous and irregular.

May and July rye futures declined the maximum 10-cents limit in initial trades. Commission house selling contributed to the declines. However, October rye showed some resistance to the downward trend on buying attributed to export accounts.

HEADLINES FOR THE FUTURE—R. A. Farquharson, president of the Canadian Managing Editors' Conference (centre) is caught by the photographer as he opened the first session of the conference's annual three-day meeting in Montreal recently. Mr. Farquharson is managing editor of the Toronto Globe and Mail. At left is Randolph Churchill, secretary of the conference, and managing editor of the London, Ont., Free Press, and at right, vice-president Robert J. Rankin, managing editor of the Halifax Herald and Mail.

Some of the 60 managing editors attending the conference are seen here in a relaxed mood at the first session. Theme of the conference is "Newspaper Improvement." Mr. G. W. Craw, managing editor of The Examiner, is shown front row, second from right.

Mrs. V. Harrison Hurt In Fall

Mrs. Violet Harrison, 2 Manieee Ave., suffered a fractured right arm in a fall on the sidewalk at the corner of Sophia St. and Armour Rd., about 7.15 p.m. Friday. She was removed to Civic Hospital for treatment. Mrs. Harrison lost a one-sided battle with the complications of the weather. She had left the C.G.E. at 4 p.m., arrived up town in good order, purchased groceries and as the buses folded up, she telephoned for a taxi. She waited from 4.40 p.m. until 7 o'clock for some taxi cab to call for her, after numerous calls. Finally, she telephoned home and had several members of the family bring a sleigh over town to take on the groceries. Walking was a constant threat of falling. At length the long way home was almost ended when the fall and injury to Mrs. Harrison occurred within sight of home.

FRANK N. CAVANAGH

After an illness lasting only one day, Frank Norman Cavanagh, farmer of Lot 3, Concession 7, Ennismore, died in St. Joseph's Hospital, Friday, February 13. He was in his 48th year.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Cavanagh, Ennismore, he leaves a widow, Pearl Herlihey, and four brothers: John, Detroit; Roy, Blind River; Gerald and Daniel, Ennismore. A nephew, Laverne Perdue, lived with him at Ennismore.

Frank Cavanagh had lived all his life in Ennismore, and was educated at the local school. He was a member of St. Martin's church and belonged to the Altar Society and the Holy Name Society. The funeral will leave his residence at 9.30 Tuesday morning, February 17, and requiem mass will be held in St. Martin's church at 10 a.m. Burial will be made at Ennismore Cemetery, Father V. J. Gillogly officiating.

PATRICK FINNEGAN

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 14. — (ENS).— Patrick Finnegan died after a short illness at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Thomas Hicks, on Friday, at the age of 89.

Born in Faraday township, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Finnegan, he farmed for many years at Coe Hill and on retirement, about 20 years ago, moved to Campbellford, where his wife, the former Susan Mary Moran, died seven years ago. He was a member of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.

Surviving is one son, Leo, Coe Hill; three daughters, Cecilia Gauy, Montreal, Margaret Hall, Hamilton, and Mrs. Tom (Catherine) Hicks, Campbellford; and two brothers, Jack of Marmora and Simon of Oshawa.

The funeral will be held at Bennett's Funeral Home at 9 a.m. Monday and Rev. J. P. Collins will officitae. Burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

The pallbearers will be Neeil Morrison, Joseph Bailey, Bernard Ralph, Bernard Dailey, Dick Maynard and Joseph Thain.

THEODORE REID

The funeral of the late Theodore Merkison Reid was held from his late residence in Springbrook to Springbrook United Church and thence to Wellman's Cemetery. The service was under the L.O.L. No. 172 of which the deceased had been a member for almost fifty years, with Rev. P. Christianson as minister.

Mr. Reid was born at West Huntingdon in 1866 being the son of John Miles Reid and Deborah Garrison. His life was spent in Huntingdon and Rawdon except for a few years in early manhood when he lived in Seattle, Wash., going there as an engineer at the time of the lumber boom. In 1889 he married Eleanor Hurst of Rawdon who survives him. They were anticipating their fifty-ninth anniversary in April. Of this union six children were born, a son Theodore Hurst predeceased him in infancy and one daughter Gladys in 1926. The surviving daughters are Mrs. Arthur Burkitt (Madeline), Mrs. Louis Green (Ivah), Mrs. Harry Grills (Hilda), Mrs. Hugh Collins (Genevieve), and seventeen grandchildren, all of whom, with one exception were present. There are also fifteen great grandchildren.

Pall-bearers were members of L.O.L. 172 and R.B.P. 747, and were as follows Bros. Walter Scott, Fred King, Ernest White, David Cotten, Wm. Preston and Wm. H Scott.

In religion he was an adherent of the United Church and in politics was a staunch Conservative.

Took Four Hours For 1-Hour Drive

W. A. Davidson of Co-Op Services was four hours coming home from Sunderland Friday evening. Ordinary time for the trip is about an hour.

"I thought I might have to put up at Manilla, as we did in the snow last spring. From Sunderland to Lindsay was as glare as a bottle. All kinds of cars were of the road, but I didn't see a dented fender anywhere. Fellows were driving cautiously any way, and once a car slid off to the side it was a job to get back into the traffic. Near Reaboro the victims included a big truck. This side of Lindsay I followed the course of a tfuck with chains. It had chopped up the ice layer, and it was pretty good going. But, when you had to turn out for traffic, you certainly missed those wide tread marks."

Market Slide Slackens; Experts Stumped

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.— (AP)—Jittery American commodity markets coasted into the final session of the week today with the pace of heir rollicking ride downhill greatly slackened.

But whatever the price break lost in fervor yesterday it gained in bewildering antics.

The grains bounced around so violently that quotation clerks had a hard time keeping up with the changes.

Cotton prices stayed on the slide with most of the grains. Stocks improved generally at New York and they were somewhat higher at London, Singapore and Tokyo.

Another item on the shopper's list bore a lowered price tag today—this time soap.

The housewife has been collecting on the price breaks in the commodity markets for a week. First it was flour and lard. Next it was bacon and shortening. Yesterday butter and beef.

The lower butter prices at the grocery store were an immediate reflection of a violent drop in wholesale prices at both New York and Chicago.

The price of butter fell as much as 6½ cents a pound on the wholesale markets. It fell 6 to 8 cents a pound in some New York chain stores. The latest drop brought it as much as 12 cents a pound below prices prevailing early this week.

Award Damages To 4 Parties In Crash

COBOURG, Feb. 14. — Sittings of Supreme Court will go into next week due to the length of the cases to date. The double-barrelled Jackson vs. Angus case with its involved claim and counterclaim, took the first three days and the damage action of Herron vs. Blackwell lasted until yesterday afternoon. Another jury case is still on the docket, Jurkovitch vs. Jurkovitch.

The jury brought in a verdict finding the plaintiff 35 per cent negligent and the defendant 65 per cent in the Herron vs. Blackwell action, a claim for motor car damages brought by Lloyd Herron of Cobourg and Malcolm Bird, also of Cobourg, driver and owner respectively of a taxicab, against Edward and Marjorie Blackwell, Peterborough.

The case was the result of a collision between the taxi and a car driven by Edward Blackwell at the intersection of George and University Streets. Figuring prominently in the evidence was a battered street-stop sign which Blackwell did not notice as it was dusk.

Herron asked $673.10 damages and the jury awarded him $300. Bird sought $900 damages and received judgment for $600. In the the counterclaim, Edward Blackwell asked $1,036 and received $250 damages and Mrs. Blackwell sued for $1,525 and received $500. The jury recommended that the street sign be replaced.

H. R. S. Ryan of Port Hope acted for plaintiff and Harvey Brent of Cobourg for the defendant.

Lindsay Man Fined Hit Chief's Car

LINDSAY, Feb. 14 — (ENS). — N. J. McClory, Lindsay, was fined $25 and costs on a charge of dangerous driving when he appeared before Magistrate E. A. Gee in police court here Friday.

The charge, to which accused pleaded not guilty, arose out of an accident on No. 7 Highway about four miles east of Lindsay on Jan. 30, when a car driven by McClory collided with one driven by A. L. Williamson of Omemee and owned by Chief Constable R Naylor of that village.

The Naylor auto turned over twice following the collision, and the owner, who was a passenger, suffered three broken ribs. Mr Naylor's son John suffered a torn ligament in his leg, while Williamson and another passenger, Russell Ball of Omemee, escaped without serious injury.

The accident occurred at a point where the highway runs north. Evidence showed McClory, proceeding north, was on the wrong side of the road when the crash took place. Mr. Williamson testified he had observed the McClory car approaching on the wrong side, and said he pulled as far to the side as possible to avoid a head-on crash.

OPP Ray Lawson of Lindsay said damage to the McClory car was estimated at about $400. R. I. Moore, KC, acted on behalf of the accused, who admitted being on the wrong side of the road.

take leave of all sense of direction by turning every way except that in which the wheels were pointed.

On the sidewalks, there were hundreds of encounters which, under normal circumstances, would have led to strong protests of public indiscretion. Total strangers clasped each other madly in frantic attempts to keep unsteady footings — if the other party had the same kind of footing, as in most cases, all concerned sprawled in undignified postures on the ice.

Crossing the streets took a combination of masterful balance and a cool nerve, with a little luck thrown in.

Treacherous sidewalks Friday evening resulted in several minor accidents to pedestrians, four cases of fractures were treated, three at the Civic Hospital and one at St. Joseph's.

Gordon Mann, RR4, Peterborough fell on the glassy sidewalk and fractured his leg. He was admitted to the Civic Hospital. Mrs. Violet Harris, Peterborough also fell while crossing the pavement and fractured her wrist. After treatment she was allowed to go home. Another fractured wrist case was that of Mrs. Frank Merritt, 263 Leslie Avenue. Mrs. Merritt fell on the sidewalk in front of the Clinic. She was able to get immediate treatment and after first aid treatment she was taken to the Civic Hospital for an X-ray. Her wrist suffered a bad fracture and she was kept in the hospital over night. Her condition this morning is reported as satisfactory.

The case taken to St. Joseph's hospital was for a dislocated shoulder. While walking home from work Henry Harvison, Peterborough fell on the sidewalk and dislocated his shoulder. After the shoulder was set Harvison was allowed to proceed

The police station was flooded with telephone calls for rides, when the taxis and buses left the streets. There were even some calls from beverage rooms and, later in the evening, from some thirsty members of the citizenry who wished to partake of the amber fluid.....and that's a record for nerve.

One expectant mother was rushed to hospital by the cruiser —just in the nick of time, according to reports. A number of people were also taken for medical treatment, via the courtesy of the boys in blue.

One of the accident victims in the flood of such incidents was the wife of Police Sgt. Gordon Puffer, veteran officer on the force. About three o'clock Friday afternoon, Sgt. Puffer was driving south on George Street, near Edinburgh Street, when his car skidded across the street while passing parked cars It struck head-on with the northbound car of F. Jobbitt, 448 Monaghan Road. Mrs. Puffer, a passenger, received severe cuts on knee, forehead, and hand. The knee injury required nine stitches to close it. Total damages are estimated at over $100.

Judging by accounts, everyone had seen the largest tie-up in the city. These took place at every intersection. The confused jumble on Park street, near the Sherbrooke intersection was typical, and, to observers the biggest and best (or worst, depending on your sense of humor and your part in it).

Sitting in a bus, hoping to get home to your meal, or being a car driver, it was a bad show. The tie up began immediately after the cars from the CGE started to feel their way up Park street at five o'clock. By 5.20 there were 40 cars jamming Park street from Wolfe to King. Wheels were spinning, men were out pushing, and cars littered the street at all angles. A few were able to sneak by up the soft gutter.

Between Wolfe and King from 5.20 to 5.40 there were six crowded buses stalled. There would have been two more in the mix-up if the drivers hadn't turned off at Wolfe, one going east, one west. But they probably did not get very far. Many of the passengers got out and walked. Finally two buses dumped all the passengers out, in an effort to gain mobility. By six o'clock all cars and buses had somehow become mobile.

Push Bus

The Jackson Park city bus received unusual co-operation. Becoming hoplessly mixed up in the melee at the corner of George and Hunter Sts., the driver found that, unless some powerful pushing force was applied, the vehicle would be there for good. He found that powerful pushing force in his cargo, as the passengers obediently disembarked and lent enthusiastic shoulders to the task at hand.

Transport and passenger systems were seriously affected. The city bus line was paralyzed for several hours, taking all vehicles off the road as it became evident their usefulness was practically nil under the circumstances. By eight o'clock in the evening, however, the buses were all gradually returned to service on the streets.

Transports operating from Peterborough to larger cities reported that their trucks were delayed for some hours on all schedules.

The Board of Works, prepared for the blow by weather forecasts, threw their entire streets staff into the battle. The men, soaked to the skin by the pelting rain during the afternoon, stuck to the job overtime to man the trucks bearing the traction-giving sand to spread it on streets and walks. They worked far into the night on the job, many without supper. Officials pointed out that much of the traffic difficulties could have been avoided if more motorists had been alert enough to watch the weather, too, and prepare for it with chains.

No Travel West

No buses left the city for western destinations, it was reported. Toronto coaches were also cancelled. The Lindsay bus was the only one leaving, and one for the Omemee hockey game. Hockey games were cancelled at several district points.

Police cruisers took over duties of the taxi companies, who suspended operations during the peak of the slide. Emergency calls to hospitals were answered by the department as they zoomed on their way watchers gazed admiringly at the expert handling of the cars through the dangerous streets.

The telephone service struggled under a deluge of calls which was described as being "as bad as the Christmas rush." The calls were due to the cancelled bus schedules, as hundreds rushed to telephones to advise Aunt Mathilda they would be late getting up for the week-end. One operator said that she had 90 calls waiting at one time A two-hour delay was ordered shortly after the rush started on all but emergency calls. It was lifted at 10.15. Driving conditions and cancelled taxi service made it impossible to get extra operators at that hour, and it was necessary for the day shift to remain on overtime duty.

TORONTO, Feb. 14—(CP)—Dr. John Murray Gibbon, Montreal author and historian, said in an address last night that all Canadian history books should be rewritten "to include the actions of women who did two-thirds of the work involved in early colonizing."

Drew Denounces Liquor Critics As Liars

GODERICH, Feb. 14—(CP).—More than 19,000 Huron constituency voters are eligible to cast ballots Monday in the first Ontario by-election since the Drew Progressive Conservative government was elected in 1945.

The campaign in this Western Ontario riding ended last night with Farquhar Oliver, Liberal leader, concluding an intensive campaign and Premier Drew entering the two-party battle for the first time.

The Premier replied to an editorial in the Toronto Daily Star of Feb. 12 which, he said, "conveyed a challenge to me to deny that I and the party I lead are financed by the liquor interests."

He continued: "Let me say with the utmost emphasis that anyone who alleges that I, or those associated with me, are controlled, financed or influenced by the liquor interests is a contemptible and unprincipled liar. I apply that description particularly to Mr. Oliver's main supporter, that evil old man Joseph Atkinson, whose dishonesty is only equalled by his hypocrisy."

(Mr. Atkinson is publisher of The Star).

Had Good Reason

The Premier said he "used the word 'hypocrisy' with good reason."

He added: "That man, who leaves the impression that he regards all money paid by liquor interests as tainted money, was deceitfully filling his pockets with tens of thousands of dollar, paid for advertising in the great publications he controls, by those very interests he pretends to condemn. It would be a matter of very real public interest if he would honestly tell just how much he did put in his coffers in this way before he was smoked out by the disclosures in another newspaper in May, 1946."

Mr. Oliver criticized comparisons made by Opposition campaign speakers between the amount of road work and Hydro extensions done in 1943 and in 1947. Such comparisons between war years and peace years was "pure and unadulterated audacity and grossly unfair to the electors of Huron."

OPEN ROYAL BANK BRANCH IN CAMPBELLFORD

If the opening of a bank in the community indicates a healthy volume of business and prosperity among local farmers, then residents in the Campbellford area may relax for a moment with a contented smile. A branch of the Royal Bank of Canada is scheduled to open there this summer.

The property is own by F. C. Macoun and was formerly occupied by the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Alterations on the leased building will begin about June 1, and it is hoped to open the branch as soon as possible afterwards.

A previous branch of the Royal Bank was doing business there until the middle 'thirties.

WINTER BEAUTY AT BURLEIGH — The most popular "stopping-off" spot in the County for city Sunday drivers and tourists alike is Burleigh Falls where scenic beauty is unsurpassed and fishing excellent. Afternoon "trippers" in winter would be well awarded to drive to the Falls as the above pictures testify and take their dusty cameras out of closets and record some of the beauty. These pictures were made with a very inexpensive camera and film and no "gadgets." The chief requisite is an eye for beauty. Top Left, open water and ice on Lovesick Lake from the Perry Creek bridge. Top Right, sparkling snow and deep blue shadows on a trail east of the canal locks. Lower photo shows a bullrush bay, and footbridge at the rear of a group of cottage buildings just above the dam.

British Liberals Alarmed At Coalitions

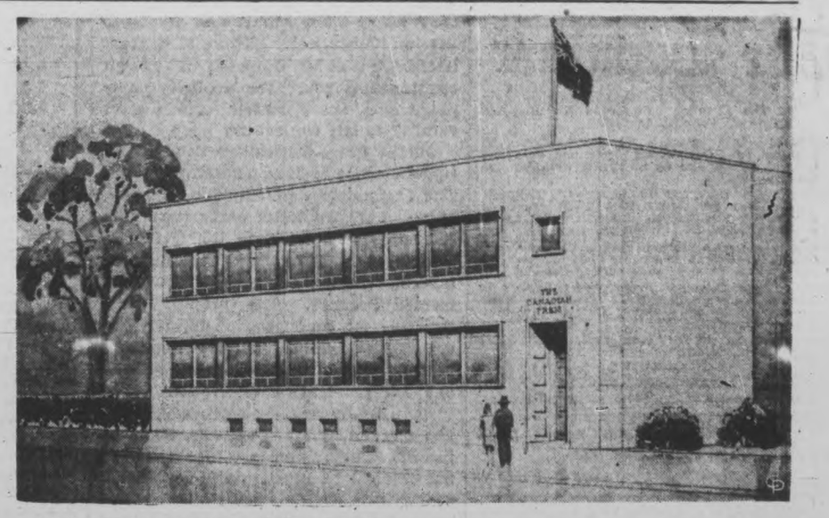
By FRASER WIGHTON

LONDON, Feb. 14 (Reuters).—British Liberals are showing alarm, and Labor quarters uneasiness, at the spread of Conservative-Liberal coalitions against the Labor party in parliamentary constituencies.

Some think this form of anti-government front would result, if extended, in extinction of the Liberal party, now only a small group in the Commons, and the restoration of the Conservatives to power in a future general election.

So far there have been only a handful of cases. Focal point of the issue at present is the by-election in Paisley, near Glasgow, on Feb. 18, where the succession of Socialist Oliver Baldwin to his father's earldom has created a vacancy. The contest will be a straight fight between the Labor candidate and an opponent representing both Conservatives and Liberals.

The resignation of Lady Glen-Coats, chairman of the Paisley Liberal party, in protest at the "arrangement," was evidence of local bitterness. The local Liberal party is, nevertheless, adhering to its pact with the Conservatives.



Abhor Arrangements

The orthodox Liberal party, with 12 seats in Parliament, abhors these local arrangements and has rejected time after time Conservative proposals for a common front to fight Labor.

Many distinguished Liberals have expressed their view that apart from having the worst possible effect on the country, such a plan would mean the end of the Liberal party.

Orthodox Liberals represent the bulk of Britain's floating vote of approximately 3,000,000 electors, which is capable of deciding the issue of a general election either to right or left.

Orthodox Liberals who, just over a quarter of a century ago were the majority party in the government, are still making a desperate stand for independence. They claim that they are the last remaining defence against Socialist "dictatorship."

NEW HEAD OFFICE FOR NEWS ASSOCIATION—The Canadian Press, national news co-operative, has started construction of a new head-office building in Toronto, from which world and Canadian news will flow by wire to daily newspapers and radio stations from coast to coast. Two storeys as pictured above will be completed in August, with provision for two more later. The building, on University Avenue near King Street, will also house the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association and Press News Limited, C.P.'s radio subsidiary. It is designed by Mathers and Haldenby of Toronto under the personal direction of Brigadier Eric Haldenby.

Civil Service Examinations Rigged Says Harkness

OTTAWA, Feb. 14.—(CP).—A charge of 'political interference and finagling with civil service appointments" in the Indian Affairs Department was made in the Commons yesterday by Douglas Harkness (PC-Calgary East).

Mr. Harkness alleged that examinations for the post of chief inspector of agencies were being rigged to permit the appointment of tthe private secretary of Resources Minster Glen, in charge of Indian affairs. He did not name the secretary.

(Mr. Glen's private secretary is W. J. F. Pratt.)

The Calgary member said several Indian affairs officials had applied for the job, along with the secretary. After the first examination, a selection board recommended appointment of Col. E. P. Randle, superintendent of the Six Nations reserve near Brantford.

But he said that recommendation was not accepted, and another competition was announced with the qualifications changed, "apparently to make it easier for one of the other candidates to obtain the appointment." On the second examination, Col. Randle again was chosen, but again the recommendation was not accepted.

"Now I understand another competition is to be held, or has been held," Mr. Harkness said. "For this competition they have changed the title of the job . . . they are going to call it executive assistant. I suppose that gets away from the necessity of having experience."

Wheat Slump On Chicago Mart

By The Canadian Press.

The price pattern on commodity and stock markets this week repeated downward trends of the previous week. After a relatively quiet day Monday, prices broke sharply Tuesday and Wednesday.

Commodities once again led the move with grains at Chicago dropping the daily limit and cotton at New Orleans and New York plunging also for limit losses. Securities everywhere gave way under the pressure.

Thursday, major United States markets were closed for Lincoln's birthday observance, and Canadian markets adopted a wait-and-see policy. Friday, the market steadied as bids improved in the belief that the pendulum was due to swing the other way. The grains at Chicago, however, continued the decline.

Price declines in May wheat and corn at Chicago were the largest in history for such a short period, dealers said. May wheat yesterday was down 74½ cents and May corn 73½ cents from the January 16 gains.

POWER CHAIN SAW
Is Here

There are now over 4,000 users of PRECISION POWER CHAIN SAWS throughout the United States and Canada.

One user wrote us recently as follows:
"My PRECISION SAW has been used continuously for over three years. I have cut over TWO MILLION feet of lumber and 4,000 cords of pulpwood. I can highly recommend the PRECISION SAW."
HERVIE SYLVESTER,
DRUMMONDVILLE, QUE.

Another user in Alberta writes:
"Your PRECISION SAW has been working every day from the day we received it and it has been sawing at an average of 2,000 logs per week, with just one man operating it."
MORO LUMBER CO.,
PEACE RIVER, ALBERTA

Still another operator writes:
"I have investigated every chain saw manufactured on the continent that I could hear of, and after comparing them point by point with "PRECISION," I easily decided in favour of "PRECISION."
W. BRITTEN BOSTON,
PALMYRA, INDIANA

And another user writes:
"I have cut over ONE MILLION feet of lumber in one year with my saw and it is still in good condition and I use it every day cutting lumber. I have seen other kinds of machines working and I still like my machine the "BEST" of any I have seen so far.
I am perfectly satisfied with the 18" Bow Type and I do not think anyone would make any mistake in buying one of these "PRECISION SAWS." They are so easy to handle in any position and very easy to cut down with or saw un.
ARTHUR LEMAY,
AUBURN, MAINE

Another user states:
"Personally speaking, regarding the Precision Bow Saw, which I purchased from you in October, it is an ideal chain saw, for one man or two, and cannot be excelled in performances, either in hardwood or softwood and felling trees—it beats them all. I agree with the title it holds: "KING OF THE WOODS."

Amateur With Cheap Camera Can Get Fine Shots

By NICK NICKELS

There's no doubt but that pretty pictures of pleasant scenes appeal to everyone. They are more appealing than ever when the photos are of familiar scenes. Everyone in the county and thousands of summer tourists know Burleigh Falls, they have driven up there for a spin on a fine Sunday afternoon, many take a picnic lunch, others cast in the swift rapids with great success. Burleigh is probably the most stopped-at place for many miles around and yet, except for residents who live north of or near the Falls, very few people would consider taking a drive up there in winter to see the old familiar landmark. It is a toss-up which season shows it up to the best advantage, summer or winter.

Many people will claim that Autumn is the prettiest month at Burleigh. That, at least, is the season that appeals to local and big city sketch clubs. It is true that there is a riot of colour at that time but winter, too, is very colorful if a person takes time to look at one vista for a few minutes of close scrutiny.

On a bright day the dazzling snow reflects back the color of the sky and makes shadows conform to all shades of blue from very pale to deep cobalt. The sun in its low winter orbit throws patterns of long shadows across open surfaces to break the monotony of white. Where the Burleigh rapids are open by reason of being too swift to freeze, the water is a rich indigo. At the Perry Creek highway bridge, the large volume of rushing water boils around the bend in deep amber and creamy foam. Bare brown trees, with some of the oaks still flying tatters of yellow autumn leaves makes spots of color against the dark greens of the jackpines with their pink-brown trunks.

Box Cameras Good

Not only may all these things be seen but can be put on permanent record at the expense of very cold hands and overshoes full of snow. That old camera in the family "McGee" clothes closet is a much stauncher piece of mechanism than people imagine. The average person may feel that pictures of pretty scenes should be left to the professional photographer with his fast lenses and films and filtering "gadgets." This is not so, for the writer borrowed an inexpensive camera from friends at Burleigh last Sunday, bought a roll of the cheapest film and recorded many of the beautiful scenes from the highway without having to wade in the deep snow. The rule book was thrown aside to see what the limitations of the camera were, such as shooting directly into glaring snowscapes over snow and sparkling water and making pictures in deep shadow areas. The results were very gratifying and proved especially that the old family camera would give a lot of pleasure if their owners would only experiment with it. There are certainly definite rules of picture composition but if you were to take the overall scene that appeals to you, to an advanced "shutter-bug" or professional. He would be glad to point out the portion of the picture that would make the most pleasing enlargement. And enlarging is the secret. It brings out all sorts of hidden detail that are not apparent at all in the small contact print.

It is suggested that you do not become disheartened with your small prints. Get advice on them and you may find that through lack of observation, you are throwing away a masterpiece. There is one thing in your favour. You will find that phptographers cannot rival one another in getting "that good picture." They are an honest lot, artistically, and they will give freely of their advice and experience to anyone that will take the trouble to give private picture-taking a little serious thought.

Let Pupils Cheat Find They Behave

HORSLEY, Staffordshire, Eng., Feb. 14—(CP)—New pupils at Horsley Hall Co-educational School are allowed to cheat at lessons.

But after they've been cheating for a bit and discover nobody cares they get tired of it, says black-bearded Robert Copping, principal.

"I believe that if teachers are strict, children never learn to think for themselves," he said. "So when children arrive here from a strict school, they are allowed to skip classes until they feel like work.

"When they do start they learn more in what is left of the term than they would in a year if we forced them into classes at once."

No Wedding Plans

DAVOS PLATZ, Switzerland, Feb. 14—(AP)—Princess Anne of Bourbon-Parma said to-day nothing is fixed regarding her wedding plans with former King Michael of Romania. The couple came here to watch Barbara Ann Scott of Ottawa defend her world figure skating championship. Questioned about reports that they would marry in Copenhagen in May, the pretty Princess said: "The first we knew of it was in the Danish newspapers."

Have Prices Passed Their Peak?

A group of prominent American business men have told Washington economists that inflation has passed its post-war peak. There was a mild but definite slump on the New York stock market last week. The London stock market took a downward dive too. The business experts say that supplies are equalling or in excess of demand and that business is pursuing a "cautious" purchasing policy. They say, too, that there is a buyers' resistance to high prices which is affecting sales. The Washington economists and President Truman do not agree with these bright forecasts; they are continuing to warn against inflation and a subsequent "crash".

* * *

American markets and prices concern Canadians deeply. Consider our debit balance with the U.S. for the year 1947. It was $918,100,000 which compares frighteningly with the debit balance for the preceding year of $496,700,000. If American prices are really going down, our American dollar problem will become less acute, for it will take fewer American dollars to buy the goods we want and need from the U.S.

* * *

Another result would be the sympathetic decline in some of our domestic prices. Lower prices would be thankfully greeted by Canadians now suffering from a cost-of-living index in the neighbourhood of 150, that is, from prices of basic foods and services 50 per cent. higher than in the years 1935-39. It would be very nice for dairy farmers not to have to pay $3.60 for a hundred pound bag of "dairy ration" (feed) which sold last July for $2.40. It would be very nice not to have to pay, as we do now, 25-30 per cent. more for our gasoline, 75 per cent. more for fuel oil, 70-100 per cent. more for some common foodstuffs.

* * *

The general level of Canadian prices has remained below that of the U.S. and, if Canadian and American prices must eventually stabilize at around the same level, as some economists think, Canadian prices may not show a great or immediate decline. They might hold their present levels while American prices come down. It is too early to say whether the present slump in the stock markets is indicative of a permanent downward trend and it would be unwise to conclude that it will immediately affect our domestic prices. We shall have to wait and see. Meanwhile we can hope that the peak is passed and observe with wary interest the investigations of the Parliamentary Price Committee which began its hearings this week.

Provincial Politics In Quebec

The fundamental factors informing the political atmosphere in the Province of Quebec are first that three-quarters of its 3½ million people are French-speaking, Roman Catholic and native born, and secondly that Montreal is Canada's greatest city and has an important financial thoroughfare best known as St. James Street—not rue St. Jacques. Politicians therefore must make a direct appeal to the cohesive, indigenous majority and keep their heads in urban Montreal in which is centred industry and business (largely under the control of English-speaking owners and managers) and which is the key to the exploitation of the resources of the rich hinterland.

Premier Duplessis plays the game cleverly. He hoists a new Provincial flag of French design over the legislative buildings at Quebec, and the next day is in cahoots with English-speaking industrialists from Montreal—who understand the principles of the game. Many of them probably do not approve of some of Mr. Duplessis' methods of levying tolls — the notorious agents known as "Duplessis men" and the special education tax on industry, for instance—but in the interest of harmony between state, church and profits they adapt their minds and funds to the circumstances. There is a great likelihood that Mr. Duplessis will call an election this year; the publicity campaign from the Provincial offices gives validity to the conjecture.

Quebec has a Legislative Council (an Upper House) of 24 appointed members. The Legislative Assembly has 91 seats, of which Mr. Duplessis' party, the Union Nationale secured 50 in the last election (1944). The official Opposition is Liberal, headed by Adelard Godbout, former Premier. The present party standing is: Union Nationale, 52; Liberal, 33; Nationalist, one; Bloc Populaire (formerly a strong separatist group), one; Independents, three; vacant, one.

Though the ways of a demagogue are not scorned by Mr. Duplessis, he is no fascist. During the last four years he has introduced much useful legislation as, for instance, the "new deal" for education—a process begun by Mr. Godbout who wished French Canadian children to be less isolated from the English language and technical education. Mr. Duplessis' appeal to the French-Canadian electorate is likely to be stronger than Mr. Godbout's, because the latter is more of a Canadian nationalist and less of a Quebec isolationist than Premier Duplessis.

The time is coming when a mere appeal to French-Canadian isolationist sentiment will not be the vote-catcher it now is. The Province is becoming industrialized; children are learning English in the schools, partly because that language is necessary in business and science; formal schooling for children has been made compulsory, so the population will be more literate; thousands of young Quebecois fought beside English-speaking comrades overseas and many caught a vision of national unity. Finally, there are able men like Senator Bouchard and the Abbe Arthur Maheux preaching racial understanding and a united Canada, and English-speaking Canadians are swallowing their most rabid prejudices against their neighbours east of the Ottawa river.

Snow Removal

It is always easier to see work not done than work done. Therefore many Peterborough people have been indignant about the piles of snow which have not been removed from the walks and streets, and fewer have said nice things about the amount of clearing that has been done.

During the last six weeks we have had much snow and an extraordinary amount of zero weather. Nevertheless our principal thoroughfares have been kept remarkably clear and the work immediately after a snowfall has been commendably rapid. We think that, on the whole, the Board of Works, its men and equipment, have done a splendid job. The large show-churner and loader has been efficient and the power gadget for clearing a wide swath on sidewalks (where there is room for it to operate) gives a model performance.

Despite the best human efforts, we must be thankful that as the Lord gives, the Lord takes away—even snow. It would take many man-hours and thousands of dollars to do the job of snow-clearing that Nature did so easily, inexpensively and unnoticeably on Thursday, or so wetly, peevishly and noticeably yesterday afternoon and evening. Until human ingenuity can create as efficient and cheap a system as Nature's, we shall not lack for complaints about snow-removal. To clear snow piecemeal is human; to do it thoroughly is divine. Perhaps it is just as well that we have man-devised snow-removal methods to growl at; there is no fun or psychological benefit (what the ancient Greeks called catharsis) in howling at the methods Nature used yesterday.

NOTE AND COMMENT

"Canada's Shipbuilding Industry Threatened By Peace" says a headline. Don't worry; peace can't last forever.

A quarter of a billion dollars is spent in beauty parlours in the U.S.A. every year. Love may be blind, but there's no point in taking chances.

A headline about the Parliamentary Price Committee's investigation reads: "Begin Search For Butter Hoarders". Surely there can be nothing rancid in the state of Canada in these days of quick-freezing and cold-storage lockers. Maybe the trouble is that butter not prices was put on ice.

The heat was on all last week in Parliament during the prolonged debate on constituting the price spreads committee. Now the committee has been formed and the heat is off—literally in the east block of the Parliament Buildings on Wednesday morning, where the committee was meeting in overcoats. Probably the first of a series of chilly receptions the investigating committee must face.

Diary Of A Mad World

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: Some week-end guests expressed amazement this morning at the size of my breakfast cup; it is an unusually capacious one, and holds sixteen ounces, liquid measure. I drink it twice filled with weak, clear tea every morning of my life and do not feel fit to face the problems of the day without this preparation and fortification. Most of my friends, I find, drink coffee at breakfast and pretend to regard my thirty-two ounces of tea as an extraordinary and deleterious indulgence. But coffee, in my opinion, is a rich, strong beverage, utterly unsuited to the beginning of the day; I would no more think of downing such a bilious brew at breakfast than I would of drinking a cup of hot oil. Coffee numbs and soothes my spirit; tea washes it clear and bright. Coffee is right for the idle hours of the day; it diffuses a fine Arabian langour through the soul; but tea is the tipple for a man who must work with his brains.

◇ ◇ ◇

MONDAY: A reader who was interested in my recent comment on the Kinsey Report, and on my own researches regarding the wearing of the t-ps and b-tt-ms of p-j-m-s writes to me thus: "A curious use of the p-j-m is illustrated by a married couple of my acquaintance; Mrs. A wears the p-j-m t-p and Mr. A wears the b-tt-m and thus they make one pair do. Do you think that this sort of thing is widely prevalent in Ontario?" Frankly, my investigations lead me to believe that anything can happen behind the pressed brick, lace curtains, and phoney leaded glass of an Ontario home. I even know of a case of a poor undergraduate at Toronto university who wore orange silk bloomers belonging to his fiancee's aunt; they were lent to him by his beloved to dull the pinch of his poverty; the aunt never knew. But it just shows you what you can expect to find underneath the drab protective covering of Ontario.

◇ ◇ ◇

TUESDAY: Have received a great many letters relating to a radio broadcast in which I took part a fortnight ago. They all make the same complaint, and I quote from a representative letter, sent to me by an elderly clergyman in Sault Ste. Marie: "There you were, with a national hookup, and what did you do? Talked in a smarmy, Nice Nellie way that nearly made we throw up! Why did you not do what any man of spirit would do if he had a chance to address the whole of Canada—shove your face as near the microphone as possible and shout a dirty word? Such as "——", or "——", or better still "——"? It is such a chance as I have long dreamed of. You had it, and you missed it. —— you!" The others are in much the same vein....But my dear friends, what was I to do? Naturally the idea occurred to me, as it would to any man worthy of the name. But there were a lot of big C.B.C. bullies watching me, and I knew that if I yielded to my impulse I should be dragged from the microphone, beaten with rubber truncheons, and shipped to Ottawa under guard, where I would be forced to wash out my mouth with soap in the office of the Minister of National Revenue. I know that I was weak, but try to understand my position. I am not of the stuff from which martyrs are made.

◇ ◇ ◇

WEDNESDAY: A few weeks ago I saw that an undergraduate in an American university was going to swallow a live mouse. What came of this, I wonder? The picture which the item created in my mind was of a scene which Dante might have drawn: a fear-maddened mouse, in a great vaulted cavern of a stomach, clawing and biting madly as the flood of bile, insulin, hydrochloric acid and whatnot rose higher and higher until, in a last desperate effort, it bit through the umbilicus of the swallower, and escaped to freedom. But the papers are silent on the subject.

◇ ◇ ◇

THURSDAY: I read with interest that agents of the R.C.M.P. have been searching the offices of New Liberty Magazine in search of a manuscript. "They searched the safe", says one report, "but found nothing in it except a stock of stationery". This really shocks me. The R.C.M.P. must really be very badly trained, or they would know that nobody keeps anything valuable in a safe any more, nor has anyone done so since 1910. The vault, or safe of most business offices contains all or some of the following:

(1.) The accountant's rubbers
(2.) Some disused ledgers
(3.) The stick with a nook on it which is used for opening the windows
(4.) Two or three tarnished cups won by the firm's bowling team back in the days when it had a bowling team
(5.) A bottle of ink which has congealed but is too good to throw away
(6.) Vases in which the secretaries put flowers on the rare occasions when anybody gives them flowers.

Valuables are kept in banks. Manuscripts are kept in confused heaps on desks. (R.C.M.P. officials please copy.)

◇ ◇ ◇

FRIDAY: To an entertainment this evening which did not completely hold my attention, with the result that I got cramp in my left knee and gout in my left foot. This always happens when I am not amused, or enthralled. As the seats ahead of me were vacant I hung my left leg over the back of one of them, to ease it, but a lady several rows away gave me a look charged with such a high wattage of disapproval that I at once removed it, and suffered pangs rather like those which are said to follow amputation. The Romans, who were such disgusting people in so many ways, had a few good ideas, and one of them was their custom of watching all entertainments from a recumbent position. I don't ask to be allowed to sprawl, but I insist that it is inhuman to expect people to endure bad music or bad plays trussed up like fowl in a modern theatre seat.

◇ ◇ ◇

SATURDAY: There'll always be an England while there's a U.S.A. Looked through a quantity of American magazines this evening, and was amazed by the number of shaving creams, foods, leather goods and types of booze which are advertised with pictures of Windsor Castle, London clubs, Scotchmen in native dress and similar phenomena, suggestive of Ye Merrie Olde Englande. The more fiercely Clem Attlee and his boys hack at Englysshe Tradition the more avidly do their American cousins embrace it, fake it, and attach it to their consumer goods. In Britain the stately homes are turned into hostels for Labour Youth Cycling Clubs, and the velvet lawns of noble lords are ripped up by miners pretending to search for coal; meanwhile, in Akron, Ohio, Antonio Spigoni shaves himself with a soap which he thinks gives him an Old Etonian appearance, and in South Bend, Indiana, Mrs. Brumhilde Klotz stuffs her friends with Olde Nell Gwynne Tea Biscuits (made in St. Louis, Mo.). A mad world, my masters, and one half of it doesn't know how the other half lives!

WINTER SUN AND SHADOW AT BURLEIGH FALLS

The Hearty Cherub

(NEW YORK TIMES)

A LITTLE fellow with curly hair, a quiver slung over his shoulder, a small bow in his hand, wearing a pair of wings and a bright smile, projected himself into this department the other day and, after accepting the offer of an overcoat to ward off drafts, introduced himself as the advance man for the coming St. Valentine's Day extravaganza, Saturday. Twanging his empty bowstring, in defiance of the best principles of archery, which declare this practice bad for the bow, he confided that he merely was seeking temporary refuge from several fleet-footed gentlemen apparently intent upon enforcing the Child Labour Law.

For Business Reasons

While he was here, he said, it would give him pleasure to hold forth on the merits, past and present, of St. Valentine's Day, and to invite anyone interested to participate in the festivities attendant to same. "I am, for business reasons, interested in keeping the observance of this day alive for ever and ever," he said. "Therefore, this year I hope to promote the return of unabashed sentiment to the custom of exchanging valentines."

With a precocity rare in one so rosily youthful in appearance, he declared: "Until the close of the nineteenth century, the pleasant custom of sending valentines — that is, anonymous love tokens—on St. Valentine's Day—which, by the way, has nothing to do really with the martyred Bishop Valentine of Terni, slain in the reign of Emperor Claudius —was general. The original significance of lace-bedecked billets-doux is fast being lost and, in fact, threatens to become completely vulgarized."

Sentiment Once Prevailed

But valentines once boasted a certain nobility," the young fellow said. "Wasn't it Charles, Duke of Orleans, who, while held in the Tower of London, indited valentines to his love? And John Lydgate—did he not brashly send a valentine to Catherine, wife of King Henry V? Pepys tells of a belle who received from her valentine, the Duke of York, a jewel worth almost a thousand pounds. In Pepys' day, the custom of 'drawing' the name of one's valentine—a throwback to the drawings held by Roman youths and maidens on Lupercalia—was widely observed. Pepys noted in his diary on one occasion that he had drawn his wife as his valentine, and added cheerfully that by so doing 'it would be cheaper.' On another occasion he was less lucky, drawing a Mrs. Martha Batten, who as his valentine cost him a forty-shilling pair of gloves. As is plain to see, the valentine has declined in prestige from the days when Sam Weller won the Ipswich maid's heart with his handwritten declaration of affection.

Matter of Confusion

"The whole business is terribly mixed up," he sighed. "Bishop Valentine and a priest named Valentine, who died at the same time, would be distressed to know that this day bears their names. Centuries ago, you know, 'v' and 'g' were interchanged in popular speech; 'valiant' and 'gallant' sprang from the Latin 'valens.' In old Norman, 'gallatin' meant 'a lover of the fair sex,' and often was written and pronounced as 'valantan' or 'valentin.' Hence some students of the subject conclude that as a result of the similarity of the latter to names of martyrs, confusion arose, especially since the Bishop in question was put to death on a Feb. 14. St. Valentine erroneously thus became the patron saint of lovers.

"'Hail to thy returning festival, old Bishop Valentine!' wrote Charles Lamb. 'Great is thy name in the rubric. Like unto thee, assuredly, there is no other mitred father in the calendar.' Who am I to try to correct the misapprehension at this late date?" asked the little fellow, shrugging a wing. "Let there be 'roses red and violets blue'—that's Spenser —but no comic valentines, please," he said, and popping pink and chubby from the borrowed overcoat he sailed neatly off through the transom.

A BRITISH OPINION

SOMETHING WRONG WITH THE MIRROR

Russia Feared In Europe, Civil Disorders In England World News of 1813

By JEAN STENTON

Relations with Russia stretched taut as a rubber band, marching feet shaking the roads across Europe, civil disorders in England, cries against the curtailment of civil liberties and murders — these are today's headlines in The Peterborough Examiner written in the same bold letters by uneasy pens in The Examiner (London) 1813.

There is one big advantage in reporting events 135 years later—at least the writer has an even chance of being able to prepare his copy in the office. The welcome given The Examiner (London) readers, January 4, 1813, would indicate that editors had their rougher moments:

"We took leave of our readers last year to go to prison; — we now address them in prison; and thank Heaven that in everything which fortune has left in our control, we can still say that we are the same men. Independence was always one of our greatest enjoyments, the companionship of adversity has rendered it one of our dearest friends; and if to forfeit it then would have been foolish, to abandon it now would be insane.

"In the meantime, our Paper has been conducted as well perhaps as could be expected under the circumstances, and in some respects better. Complaints have been made, and we confess not without reason."

Riots in England

The latter part of December, 1812, the good people of Nottingham were roused to a fury over the wanton destruction of property and threat to life by bands of armed, disguised men. No less than eight violent outrages took place in one day around the villages of New Radford, Watnak, Arnole, Mansfield, Beeston and on the south side of the Trent.

The object of these attacks was the destruction of farms. The bandits threatened personal violence if the victims opened their lips. One poor woman who held out against the mob was stabbed and left for dead.

A large meeting of county magistrates took place and the strongest measures were taken to provide against these disorders. The Watch and Warder Bill was invoked immediately and the militia called out.

Severe Hurricane

A bad hurricane which rocked the West Indies in August of that year was vividly related. One-third of the houses were levelled or partly destroyed. Many of the public buildings and Government House were casualties of the storm. Lives were lost and all but two ships were driven ashore or sunk in the harbor.

Two of the typical criminal cases are similar to the shocking crimes which are reported every day now. A young boy, waking in the night, saw his mother murdered before his eyes as his father beat her to death with an iron bar. A small child of four was assaulted by her father and slugged repeatedly over the head with a bellows.

Russia — Friend or Foe?

Opinion was divided on the lesser of two evils of the time — Bonaparte — or the Russians. A strong protest was registered by one reader staunchly supporting "aid to Russia."

"Mr. Editor:

"I am sorry to see your indifference to the cause of European independence and allude to a brief account which you gave of a meeting at the Crown and Anchor for the relief of Russian sufferers. You will excuse me if I express the opinion that you might have found a happier opportunity for exercising your talent of sarcasm.

"You will hardly deny that to reduce the power of Bonaparte was a desirable objective. Nor will you deny that the Russian nation very much slashed his power. You will be equally ready to admit that the people of Russia have suffered most grievously in resisting the invaders. That in particular, the inhabitants of Moscow have been reduced to a most deplorable situation. Admitting all this, you will allow that the people of Russia have some claim on the benevolence of the more favored people of England. Their exertions have materially benefited us."

Taxes High Too

In an editorial which appeared January 18, the writer referred to the phrase of "civilized world" with an air of melancholy burlesque. "Shall we flatter our vanity by calling outselves inhabitants of a civilized world when the most civilized quarter of it is full of nothing but strife and bloodshed — when most thinking people in that quarter are taxed down to their very shoes in order to keep it up."

The Examiner of 1813 was a weekly paper dealing with politics, domestic economy and theatricals. Among its pages appeared much of the bitter struggle to break the monopoly of the East India Company. Lord Granville fought to develop trade with China, without the influence of the company, and jockeying similar to the United Nations was carried on, on a smaller scale. There was much stress on the cultural side of things with numerous concert reviews. The social doings of the Royal family featured many of the "spicier items." The weekly police court news, the list of bankrupts and the agriculture reports rounded out what the well-read man of 1813 should have known. This paper was particularly noted for its Parliamentary reports.

Surrenders Ship

One of the most vivid accounts of a naval battle — which Britain lost to her enemy of 1812 but her ally of today — the United States — was forwarded by the commander of the Macedonian, who finally was forced to surrender his vessel.

"It is with the deepest regret I have to report that His Majesty's late ship Macedonian was captured on December 25 by the United States ship, United States.

"A short time after daylight in the execution of their Lordships' orders, a sail was seen on our beam which I immediately stood for and made her out to be a large frigate under American colors. At 9 o'clock, I closed with her and she commenced in action, which we returned. Because the enemy kept two points off the wind, I was not enabled to get as close to her as I would have wished. After an hour's action, the enemy backed and came to

Outdoors

With PETE McGILLEN

PEOPLE SCOFFED when stylists talked about the "New Look", but they didn't figure on the peculiarities of females, so the so-called "New Look" is apparently here to stay—drat the stylists. When anglers first heard about spinning reels, the diehards said "Nothing can ever surpass the Pfleuger Supreme". Well, I doubt if any reel will, but spinning reels are here to stay too, and you can put this on your cuff, every man who can afford one of these devices will buy one. The average angler will probably own a level wind reel as well, but once he sees a spinning reel in action, and watches open-mouthed as some joker lands a six pound bass or a ten pound muskie on a seven-pound test line, then he's sunk, and if wifie doesn't watch close, he'll be raiding the sugar bowl or teapot and stealing the milk and bread money.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

THE SPINNING REEL so far as can be traced was first invented in 1902 by an Englishman who got the idea by watching the operation of cotton spindles on a spinning frame. If you have ever worked in a textile mill, you know how readily yarn whips off a spindle. Some historians will disagree and say the French have been using this same type reel for 75 years. Who cares? The reels are now being made in the thousands in the States. Joe Bates, Jr., in February issue of "Outdoors" describes the reel nicely, he writes "All true spinning reels operate on the same principle. Each has a non-rotating line drum, so constructed that its axis is in direct line with the direction the cast is to be made. This is why the fine thread line pays off the drum without any appreciable drag or friction. The spool does not rotate, so all the force of the cast is directed to shooting out the line, and none to starting the reel spool in motion. Since the reel spool is not in action during the cast it cannot override, and thus cannot backlash'.'

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

THIS REEL PERMITS unusually long casts with very light lures, and because the reel has a slipping clutch, neither the angler nor the fish can exert greater tension than the line's breaking strength. In short, if the angler is reeling in a fighting fish, the reel continues to pay out line, even as it is being taken in. Reels are mounted under the rod, and the handle is on the left side. This may confuse most fishermen who are used to a right hand wind reel, but there is a way around this wrinkle. Ashaway people have a reel on the market that can be mounted on any standard casting rod. In other words on top of the rod butt. It also has a right hand crank handle. This radical change puts this manufacturer in the lead in manufacture of these reels, because fishermen dislike change in their fishing gear, and the new right hand wind spinning reel should lead the parade. Sportsmen's Shows should have plenty of these new reels on display.

TORONTO SPORTSMEN'S SHOW is from March 13 to March 20, and I am told the Peterborough Fish and Game Club has been allotted 100 tickets to sell. The club makes 35 cents on each ticket, and it is a good way for the sportsmen to get some extra money for club work. Moreover local fishermen and hunters will be tickled to purchase their tickets here without the bother of lining up in Toronto. The show consists of many booths displaying fishing tackle, guns, boats of every description, outboard motors, tents, trailers, furs, live animals, live fish, reforestation and conservation displays in all phases, travel information, and clothing for vacationists and sportsmen. Every afternoon and evening, there will be a 2½ hour vaudeville show in the main auditorium showing trained dogs, trained seals, clowns, fancy diving, trick shooting, archery, and a dozen other unusual and interesting events picked from the cream of the items on other show programs.

HALIBURTON RESORT OWNERS advise that next winter they will be in the ski business in top style. A ski tow will be built, winter accommodation available, and competitive skiing arranged. Last week-end a bus-load of Toronto skiers visited Lagakela Lodge and had a grand time. I am also advised that the Haliburton Resort Association has forwarded a resolution to the Hon. Harold R. Scott asking for an early opening of the bass season. This letter went out Feb. 9, but because the Minister has already declared himself opposed to the change, no action is expected. One thing I feel can be safely forecast and that is, when Haliburton gets geared for the ski business, Huntsville and those other top-ranking northern spots had better look to their laurels. Skiers can motor out of Toronto to Brooklin, north to Lindsay and on to Haliburton in less than four hours. When those Haliburton resort men go after business—they get it.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

BACK IN 1288, by Royal decree in Scotland, the females were given special leap year privileges. It seems that any single gal, could propose to the man she wanted, and if he refused, then he had to cough up a pound sterling, roughly four bucks. Hmm. I can't vouch for the truth of this story, but certainly it seems to have caught on—and expanded. One dimpled lassie with a wolfish look told me the present-day law is, that the man who refuses the proposal must kick in with a new dress. Woe is the poor bachelor. First he has to tolerate the new look, then comes this new swindle. I looked through the blue book of fish and game regulations under predator control, hoping to find a section and a penalty applying to wolves and foxes but there was none. No relief, no comeback, no place to hide with the housing shortage the way it is. And the snow is too deep in the woods to try a get-a-way in that direction. There is a way out though, albeit a dangerous one. If the man can prove he is already betrothed, he goes free—but what if she holds you to your bargain?

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

SOME PEOPLE MAY THINK I am just another writer calling "wolf, wolf" in this conservation crusade. Listen to this from a Conspectus of the Province of Ontario. This conspectus was prepared by the Ontario Bureau of Statistics and Research, so it's not only official, but completely correct—— Under the heading of "Natural Resources", page 36—"All renewable natural resources of Southern Ontario are seriously depleted. Soil is impoverished; water is becoming less available; what water remains is largely polluted; forest cover is decreasing; erosion is increasing, and wild life has diminished in abundance. These unhealthy conditions will not cure themselves; they will get progressively worse unless adequate remedial measures are taken ...." Perhaps such a blunt and straightforward statement will awaken county councils, sportsmen, merchants, service clubs and all others to work together with the present Government officials to get started in restoring a semblance of the former abundance.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

MUSKRAT TRAPPING SEASON in the Peterborough district opens March 20 and ends April 21. These dates also apply to that area in Frontenac, Hastings, Lennox and Addington counties lying south of No. 7 highway. In the counties of Haliburton, Renfrew, and the portions of Hastings, Frontenac, Lennox and Addington lying north of No. 7 highway the season is from March 20 to May 5. Muskrat pelts hit a top of $3.25 last spring and ranged downward to $2.50 and $2.25. At present muskrat coats are selling at prices reminiscent of mink coat prices, and if the market holds, good prices for pelts should be forthcoming. However, the price of muskrat coats is getting beyond the reach of the average buyer, and this might well bring about a decided slump. If it does the price of pelts will be affected. The rat market is also influenced by stock market conditions and other factors prevailing in the United States, but on the whole the picture appears quite bright.

Asphodel Militia Mustered In 1838 One Month After Rebellion Flared
